~ WHAT IS OVER YOUR DOOR POST ~

Most everyone has heard of the great battle between Moses and Pharaoh to keep the Israelites in Egypt. This is one of the greatest stories in the Bible. Finally, in the end Pharaoh had lost it all, his son was dead, his nation was destroyed but the Israelites were untouched. When they were to depart, God told the Israelites in Exodus 12: 12 - 13; ["For I will pass through the land and will strike the land because of all the gods. I will execute judgement. I am the Lord. Now the blood shall be a sign for you on your houses. I will pass over you in the houses where you are and when I see the blood, I will pass over you and the plague shall not be on you when I strike the land."]

Have you ever heard about history repeating itself? It does and this event is going to be played out again. What happens today as God passes by your house for He does much more than you think? What does God see? Is your home holy or occupied by the many gods of this world?

God will not dwell in a home that has cluttered itself with the world's influence and little room for God. There is nothing placed over their door that distinguishes them as belonging to God. And when Jesus comes to complete the final chapter here on earth, there will be many homes searched, places where God was known about but they never trusted Jesus Christ as Lord.

What will God find when He passes near your home? A place He is familiar with or a place familiar with things of the world?

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2013 Camaro SS that's been in storage for two years while I was deployed overseas. There is a good chance that I will again be deployed and must store the car. I probably shouldn't have bought it but not having some family or other bills I felt moved to buy my dream car. When I got back the battery was completely dead, and I have not replaced it. I want to drive it but don't want to hurt anything so is there anything I should do before I start it up? My friends and I listen to your shows on podcast all the time on base. It keeps us going. We often listen to your callers' questions and try to guess what your answers might be.

Thank you,
Jeffrey Marcus in California

Dear Jeffrey,

Thank you for your dedicated service to our country. The beauty of a newer car with a fuel injected engine is that if you properly store it you can return it to normal service easily. When storing it is a must to use a fuel stabilizer in the tank and to keep the battery in good condition use a battery maintainer. Talk with a local mechanic to get complete advice on other things to look out for but unless critters get into it while you are gone you should be able to store it often without having to do too much before driving.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2006 Dodge Durango and I lost the key fob. It's the kind with the remote opener for the doors built-in to the key head. I asked the dealership about a replacement fob and it was just too much, so I tried lock smiths and my local hardware store but neither one had the fob with the remote attached. I settled for a key that would start the vehicle without the remote for the doors attached. Is there anything else I can do besides spend several hundred dollars on the correct key so I can get my remote doors back?

Thank you,
Taylor in Portland Maine

Dear Taylor,

Remote keyless entry fobs can be very expensive. While some fobs are as low as $40, we have seen others in the several hundred-dollar range and then they still need to be programmed to the vehicle. What you might consider since you have already bought a key is to go with an aftermarket system. You can either get a low budget one that just works the door locks or a very high-end system that will hit the basics and remotely start the car. If you have ever wanted a remote start now may be the time.

If you just want basic locks, you may check one of the many online fob resources for an aftermarket remote to hang on your keychain. You still need to program them, but it should save some cash.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have been looking at trucks to be used as both primary transportation and for pulling a camper in the summer. I have a half ton gas powered truck now that is used for about 20,000 miles per year but after upgrading my camper to a larger size this past summer, I don't feel it is safe to use as a pull truck any longer. I am a Ford guy and want to go with a diesel truck in a 3/4 or 1-ton model 4x4 but hear that most of the trucks in my price range are equipped with a 6.0 engine and that they have some inherent problems. What kind of things go wrong with the engine and what can be done to fix them? I may be willing to buy one and make the repairs.

Thank you,
Darrin in White Plains NY

Dear Darrin,

It is smart of you to think safety. You should never pull with a truck that is too small for the job or safety will be compromised. The issues we see with the 6.0 are usually the egr cooler and the engine oil cooler. There are some strong aftermarket parts available to update the engine and once done we have seen greatly improved strength and no repeat failures so far. There are some great deals to be had on the 6.0 and if you find one budget for the upgrades to help prevent major future breakdowns.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

My car is dying. I have been told that it is unsafe to drive due to rust but on the outside, it looks fine. I have a 2000 Grand Prix and they have shown me major rust in the rocker panel area that is covered up by the plastic ground effects. The rocker is gone but it doesn't seem to be supporting anything. I want to drive the car for a few more years but they tell me the rust has severely compromised the structural integrity and the main support structure is weakening so it will be very unsafe in a collision. Are there any repairs that I can make to help get it by for a couple years until I'm ready for a new car?

Thank you,
Mark in Lincoln Nebraska

Dear Mark,

I own one of these cars and I am in your exact situation now. The rockers were a concern a few years ago and I suspect yours were too. I'm afraid our few years have passed and with structural safety compromised the safest thing for us is to replace the car. Once rust has become this bad the cost to repair it usually exceeds the economic value of the vehicle and replacement is a better choice. Daily driving may get us around but if a collision should occur our lives could be at risk, with rust there really is no temporary structural strengthening you can do to get by.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
