~ When God Chooses ~
 Benajah Carroll grew up as a young boy in church in Arkansas and was baptized in his teen, yet struggled in His faith. In the late 1850's he attended Baylor University and became a challenging debater and headed for a promising career as a lawyer when the Civil War broke out.
 He joined the confederate army under McCullough's Rangers. When he had to return home to attend to his dying father he fell in love and married but when Benajah wanted to return to Texas his wife refused to go and broke her marriage vow, and he was granted a divorce. This depressed Benajah so much that he broke his ties with the church, rejected the Bible and re-enlisted in the seventeenth Texas Confederate infantry and became a fierce fighter in every battle until April of 1864 when Benajah was nearly killed when shot in the battle near Mansfield, Louisiana. He was sent back to or die and he began to read scriptures.
 He became overwhelmed as the words of Jesus spoke to his soul and spirit as he read Matthew 11:28. One night Benajah surrendered his life to Christ and to serve him and began to preach the Gospel. He became a very effective minister of the Gospel and a leader of his denomination and eventually founded the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas which has provided thousands of Christian leaders, pastors, and missionaries and still does so today.
 Isn't it an amazing thing how God is so patient with us and will choose the most unlikely people to do the most remarkable things with? God has wonderful plans to make your life whole and meaningful beyond your wildest imagination.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the puzzle. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

My car runs pretty well, and I am not one to bring it in just to have it checked over once in a while. I am more of the kind of person who visits the shop once the car has broken. After listening to your show, I am thinking I may be able to save some money by doing some preventative maintenance instead of waiting for the major breakdowns. Recently my brakes started making some noise, but they don't do it every day. How can I tell the difference between needing brake repairs or if it's just a little noise; and if I wanted to be proactive on brake maintenance how often should they be checked? I have been in before for a squeak and they said they were fine, just a little rusty.

Thank you,
Joanne in Madison Wisconsin

Dear Joanne,

Routine maintenance will save you money on repairs. Regular inspections should be performed on safety items at each oil change and addressed as needed. These inspections are done for free at most shops so check around if yours does not offer this service. Inspect brakes annually and completely check them right away if there is a change in pedal travel or if noise is heard when applying them accompanied by grinding. Damp mornings can cause rust on the braking surfaces resulting in noise. This should go away after a couple of pedal applications and should not be felt in the pedal.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I am a longtime fan of yours and you have saved me countless dollars on repairs by teaching me how to do them myself, and when they are larger than I can handle you have taught me how to look for the best mechanic. I drive a 2001 Ford Explorer and I am getting ready to pull a trailer with it. I have owned it for several years and it has a hitch but no trailer light connector. This will be my first time pulling a trailer with this vehicle. Can I just tap into the taillights to connect my trailer light connector, or do I need something special? I don't want to cause a problem with the vehicle. I have also serviced the transmission and rear end prior to towing as well.

Thank you,
Darren in Port Saint Lucy Florida.

Dear Darren,

Great idea you had on the proactive transmission and rear differential service. Depending on the size of the trailer and load you may think about a transmission cooler if the Explorer is not equipped with one. For the trailer wiring you need to make sure you do not overload the electrical system. On this vehicle and many others, a tow wiring kit is advised. Available at most auto parts stores this kit takes its power from the battery directly and uses relays activated by the vehicles lights to power the trailer lights preventing damage to the vehicles system.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I recently heard you talking about timing belts on your radio show and how everyone with a vehicle should find out if theirs is equipped with one and what the recommended service interval was. I asked my local shop if I had one and they said I do and in fact it was past due by almost 10,000 miles. My vehicle is a 2012 Honda Accord. I have owned it since new and have never had it changed to my knowledge unless it was part of some service package. Is a timing belt something I can do myself at home with basic hand tools? I have changed other belts. If I don't do it the correct way can I damage something or can I just take it to a shop to have them finish it?

Thank you,
Craig in Kittanning Pennsylvania

Dear Craig,

Yes a timing belt can be changed at home on many vehicles but specialty tools are required for some. Before you start any home-project make sure you are very familiar and comfortable with the job ahead of you and follow all safety procedures. A timing belt is a job that requires very close attention to procedure. If the belt comes loose or is not installed correctly and the engine becomes out of time it can spell disaster for the engine. It can even mean having to replace the engine in some cases. Study the job closely before attempting this one.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I'm getting ready to send my son off to college in a used car we found. We had a used car inspection done before we purchased it and a couple items were found that we took care of after the purchase ourselves. My son and I have spent a lot of time together doing small mechanical projects and I think he can take care of the small things that may come up on his own while he is away. For anyone who may be traveling away from home what kinds of items do you suggest to have stored in the vehicle for small emergencies?

Thank you,
Robert in Holdrege Nebraska

Dear Robert,

It you're a well-seasoned mechanic or everyday driver having an emergency kit in the vehicle is a great idea. Even if you don't use it yourself it may come in handy for others you come across. Everyone will have a different idea and some personal choices but here are some basics. Jumper cables for sure, a small (empty) fuel can, to prevent a fire, fire extinguisher and basic hand tools. Keeping a small basic kit does not take up much room and can be used for many repairs. A flashlight with extra batteries and some type of signal to warn people if you are disabled in the dark like an illuminated triangle set. These are all in addition to the vehicles jack and tool kit and any other items that you have found.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
