Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

You guys make it easy for us when we need to repair our cars and I'm hoping you can shed a little light on a purchase question too. I have narrowed down my search to two vehicles that are relatively the same except that one is a Front-wheel drive while the other is All-wheel drive. The AWD drive vehicle has 10,000 more miles but has the extra feature, so it is priced the same. I don't see a lot of snowfalls in my area and until now have managed to get by every season with nothing more than a FWD car. If I go with the All-wheel drive system will fuel mileage suffer significantly, and will the overall maintenance cost be a lot higher?

Thank you,
David in Manhattan Kansas

Dear David,

You will have to make your own decision as you will be the one making the purchase but we can hopefully help you a bit. All-wheel drive vehicles get around better in the snow than their Front-wheel drive counterparts, but if you are in an area that does not see much snow or ice and they plow it quickly, do you really need it? The fuel mileage will be a little lower, there will be slightly faster tire wear, and there are more parts to wear out. While the Front-wheel drive is not as nimble in snow, a lot of people give that up for the savings they gain in other areas.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I recently purchased a 1997 Chevrolet Monte Carlo with about 130k miles on it equipped with the 3.1 engine. The car runs great, but when the engine is cold, I hear a very loud banging or tapping sound until the engine is thoroughly warmed up. The sound is not as pronounced when the temperature is warm outside although it is still there. I have consulted with a few people including GM techs who tell me that this engine is known for this cold start noise which is caused by piston slap and that this is considered normal. Is there something I should or could do to minimize this? Are any engine oil additives that would help this?

Thank you,
Darrin in Brainerd Minnesota

Dear Darrin,

What these technicians have been telling you is correct. These engines tend to make noise upon a cold start, the colder the engine the louder the noise. Some people fear they are going to fly apart because they are so loud. With age they tend to become worse, but we can't recall one that has come apart because of it. As a mechanic and current owner of a vehicle with this engine I've tried everything I can in the way of engine oil additives and haven't found any that make even the slightest difference in the way it sounds so I've learned to live with it as many people with these cars have had to do.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2005 Dodge grand Caravan and the power operated side door doesn't always work. Sometimes when you close the door it will almost move to the full closed position then it reverses and fully opens. If I try it several times it sometimes closes. I have been told by two dealerships that it needs a new ribbon cable and its hundreds of dollars. Is this common?

Thank you,
Margaret in Fargo North Dakota

Dear Margaret,

This is a common problem in many of the vans using a power sliding door system. They have to make a connection between the door and the body and many do it with a cable. The cable moves back and forth every time the door slides and with enough time it can be rubbed through or break one of the wires in the cable. If either of these things happens it can act just like yours is operating. Other issues like programming can be a factor and less expensive than a new cable so make sure that they give it a proper diagnosis and guarantee their work. A good thing to remember is the most expensive repair is always the one you don't need. Make sure that the shop doing the repairs has had experience with the system used on your vehicle. If it is a cable they are expensive to replace mostly due to the time involved for the labor which can take several hours of work.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I listen to Under the Hood Here is Salida Colorado and I drive a Chevy S10 with a manual transmission. Recently the transmission has become hard to put into reverse and also first gear unless the engine is turned off. When I try to engage it the gears grind and if I force it I can get it to go eventually. Once it is in gear it seems to work ok. What can you tell me?

Thank you,
Kelly in Salida Colorado

Dear Kelly,

It sounds like the clutch is not completely disengaging. To smoothly engage without gear clash, the input shaft of the transmission needs to stop moving and this occurs when the clutch is pressed down. Many things can cause it to keep moving like a warped clutch disc or pressure plate or the pilot shaft dragging on the crankshaft but the most common item is worn clutch hydraulics. The vehicle will need to be properly diagnosed to verify which component is the cause before repairs. The one thing to note is that if that if it is being operated in this condition it can cause damage to occur to the transmission very quickly and increase repair costs. The grinding can cause gear wear internally and if the clutch is dragging due to a hydraulic problem then heat will be built up which can burn up clutch friction parts or cause warpage which will mean having to replace the clutch parts.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

~ Choices Have Consequences ~

On August the 2nd you are given the privilege to vote for people that are currently running for office in your county and for your state. Elections produce results though they do not always fix issues. Only God can do that. As I look at this year's candidates there are some that are conservative but not with strong, if any, real Christian morals or solid values.

There are some that are Christians that do hold to Biblical values and then there are those who have little to no desire to follow anything but their own personal agenda.

God has already made the decisions concerning those candidates who He wants in office and how He wants you to vote that will not just affect you but many people.

These candidates will be your representatives on the ballot in November along with other issues.

If you vote for people without seeking God's choice and allow unprincipled people into office, you are in rebellion to God's ways and again choices have consequences.

Seek God's best. Know the candidates and know the issues you'll vote for if you truly want to vote God's way, He will help you to do just that.

Those who take office will rule concerning how you live. What kind of leaders do you want those who follow the principals of morality with proven character that reflects Biblical leadership or those who follow humanistic instincts? Your vote matters on August 2nd to more than just yourself.
