~ Perspective ~

The world offers many distractions, and those that will separate themselves from them and devote themselves to God can be of great use to His kingdom.

What are distractions? They can consist of possessions, personal property, lifestyles or even other people, allowing these things to be like gods over their lives. The Bible says that is spiritual prostitution with the world.

This will cause many to be led away from heaven's door and to the gates of hell. Godly people do not vote for ungodly leadership. Godly people do not participate in ungodly activities. Godly people do not help establish ungodly laws.

But lukewarm people do. Ungodly people will do what best suits them, and the weak in the faith allow them to without ever challenging them with the consequences of their decisions.

Some Christians change their perspective on how they'll serve God when they're faced with personal loss. It is surprising how many Christians say they're a servant of God until they're faced with the options and opportunities the world offers.

We all need to have a personal relationship with Christ and a reflective evaluation of where we truly stand with God if we were to stand before His judgment an hour from now.
