Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

~ No Failures ~

In this world, the future is never certain. It takes hope to look at the future with optimism. It takes courage to risk making decisions in an uncertain future and the mounting challenges of society. It takes real strength to be a good leader in the world we live in. But to be effective in whatever position we hold, you must accept the fact that the future is still unknown. So we need to reduce these uncertainties by fervently seeking God's leading. In a world where Jesus Christ is rarely acknowledged (except maybe in a curse word), taking risks can be mentally taxing. Your- or even someone else's- entire career or future may be riding on the outcome. For the Christian to not be considerate of the consequences of failure would be foolish. But there is an advantage the Christian has that they must remember. Our plans may fail, but God's work will always get done. The final outcome of God's purposes is never in doubt. At times, the world may judge you as a failure, but God uses a different yardstick. God's primary interest is in how we participate in the game of life. God's Kingdom is worth the risk- if you are willing to take it. Because when you try your best for God's Kingdom, you can't fail Him.

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I've got a Nissan Titan and it has a ticking noise in the engine. It has had this for about a year and it doesn't seem to get any louder, but it makes me nervous about taking it on trips far from home. When I have my engine oil changed my shop says it's just lifters and they probably are noisy because I tend to change my engine oil every 10k miles, I know, that's too long between changes. I recently put in an additive that cleans the engine oil system and the noise stopped for two weeks then came back. Should I try two cans at the same time?

Thank you,
Carry in Hills Minnesota

Dear Carry,

NO! That's the best way we can answer that last question. Never use an additive in a way not directed by the manufacturer of said product or you risk permanent damage. Additives have their place and if used as directed sometimes can fix a problem and save you a ton of money, but they are also some of the most abused products out there. With your extended oil changes, you probably clogged up some oil passages and using the cleaner helped restore them. Most of those cleaners are meant to be installed, then the engine oil changed within a few minutes of running. If that works then you may be able to repeat every 1000k miles for a few months and you may save the engine.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hey, what gives with the low tire pressure monitors? I am so sick of these things. It seems like every vehicle I drive has a low tire light on and even when I add the correct amount of air the light still stays on. How do these things work and how can I shut the light off permanently so that I don't have to worry about it.

Thank you,
Derik in Osage Beach Missouri

Dear Derik,

Yikes! It's never any fun having a light come on and taunt you like that. Check Engine lights, ABS lights and Low Tire lights are some of the most annoying things on a car, but they all are there for a reason. They either are trying to save your life or the car's life. In the case of a low tire light, it is the former. Low tire warning systems were made mandatory by the government for safety a while back due to so many accidents caused by tire failure from under inflation. The system uses pressure sensors mounted in the tire usually on the valve stem and they contain batteries and a transmitter to relay the pressure and tire temp to the vehicles computer where it determines if it is a safe pressure and either illuminates the warning lamp or not. The system can't be bypassed, and it would not be legal to do so. Get it diagnosed. Most shops can repair them at a reasonable price.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

My vehicle is starting to rust under the hood on my strut towers and under the back on the rear axle mounts and my shop tells me that in their opinion it is no longer safe to drive. It's a 2005 Dodge Caravan and other than the rust it looks great and only has 105k miles on it so I'm reluctant to part with it. How dangerous can it be and can it be repaired for a reasonable price. If I don't fix it what are my options?

Thank you,
James in Bartlesville Oklahoma

Dear James,

Up here in our home market we see a lot of these vehicles rusting as you describe but don't hear much about them in your condition down by you because there is less road salt and milder temps. When they get so bad that a shop feels that it's dangerous to drive it's time to take a serious look at the van. The strut towers do rust through and if they give way, and they can, you can lose control of the van. The same goes for an axle which breaks its mounts due to rust. Repairs can run thousands of dollars and we don't see many performed. Get the advice of someone local but if it turns out that it is time to remove it from the road for safety, a local auto recycler will be able to help you through the process of recycling your van.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I've got an issue with my fuel gauge in my 2008 Chevy Tahoe. All the other gauges work great, and the fuel gage does for the most part but ever since I had the instrument cluster replaced due to a failed speedometer and oil gauge. The gauge reads one eighth tank, but it runs out of gas at almost the exact time that the low fuel light comes on. I mean I have run out of fuel and ten seconds after the light appears. Once I was driving and saw the light pop on and just a few seconds later it died. I thought when I got the new instrument cluster, I would be done with the gauge issues. It used to turn the light on when I still had one quarter tank left.

Thank you,
Mark in Fort Morgan Colorado

Dear Mark,

The first thing we would do is to not let the tank go below half full. It seems obvious but it would solve the running out of fuel issue. As for the gauge issue we can solve that too. These vehicles have had a history of failed instrument clusters needing to be replaced. They are mass remanufactured and the quality, while very good, is not perfect. It sounds like they got the needle of the fuel gauge installed too high so that it reads fuller than it is. Your mechanic may be able to adjust it down a bit.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
