~ When Evil Meets Truth ~

It is no wonder we are seeing the outright attack today on truth. We have many in leadership positions that are very corrupt.

They are ungodly and unprincipled men and women who have no regard for Biblical morals. The lines in the sands have been moved and are being moved more and more to pacify the evil and immoral desires of people.

Sin never gets enough until it has totally destroyed life. Every time in any place where good and Godly attitudes are trying to be injected, evil is insulted and fights back with lies upon lies to destroy the advancement, if it can, of good intentions.

Truth is truth, but Satan, who is the father of lies- as the Bible says- is infuriated by good, holy and honest actions. Because Satan has only one goal in mind- the total destruction of the human soul. He knows that eternal hell is his destiny.

So he works furiously, instructing his demons to constantly attack everything that has truth tied to it to discredit and blind the hearts of the people. But if you keep your focus on Jesus and walk with Jesus through this life, then the truth will set you free of evil.

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS[®]

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood[®] Show

Dear Motor Medics,

My business purchased a brand-new vehicle and during the delivery at the dealership they told me to bring it back to them for all service to ensure the warranty will remain in effect. They did not tell me directly that the warranty would be void if I had it serviced elsewhere but they strongly implied so. I have been a faithful customer of another dealership for many years, but my company decided to go with this model and being a company supplied vehicle that is free for me to drive I must live with their choice. They do give me the choice of where to have my service work done as I live 80 miles from that dealership. My question to you is, can they void my warranty because I have my general service work done elsewhere? This is my first car I have driven that has had any kind of warranty at all. My personal cars have all been 3-5 years old when I buy them.

Thank you,
Belinda in Friendly Minnesota

Dear Belinda,

The dealership would love to have you back for all your service work. They can assure that you can get all the services that you need to take care of your car, however, so can almost any independent repair facility out there. You could choose to have your non-warranty work performed anywhere if the parts used meet or exceed factory specifications.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I am in need of a third set of intake gaskets on my car in an eight-year period. I now have 150,000 miles in my car and the first set went out at 40,000. I have searched the internet and found countless people with the same engine style in their cars and vans with the same issue. How can the manufacturer have so many failures out there and not have a recall on them? I have owned other cars with recalls for things that weren't even broken, and I could not find anyone else with the issue, these gaskets are almost an epidemic with no recall. Why don't they recall them?

Thank you,
John in Owensboro, KY

Dear John,

I know what you mean. I too own a car that I've had to pay for repairs on myself many times over and I felt the parts should have been designed better. For a recall to be issued complaints must be filed with the government safety office and then they are investigated to determine if they are safety related which could cause consumer harm. Recalls are not usually issued if there is no safety concern. A manufacturer does not have to repair a vehicle out of its warranty period unless a repair is deemed to be a safety hazard and a recall has been started. On occasion, some manufacturers have extended warranty coverage as a good faith measure to retain customers.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

There are so many new things on cars today. How do you keep up with them all? I just bought a new car to me; a 2011 Ford Focus and it has a ton of new stuff on it that I have never heard of, being that I just got out of a much older vehicle. This car has no gas cap on it. I mean it's not supposed to, but I have a message on the dash that says "Check gas cap" so now what?

Thank you,
Seth in Vandalia Missouri

Dear Seth,

Ok Seth, now were on question overload, but we can handle it. 1st, we don't know how we keep up with it all, we just do. That's our number one asked question on our radio show Under The Hood. We have great memories and see a lot of vehicles in our shop which helps. As for the new features, they are coming out of the woodwork for sure. Your car is one of those with the new no fuel cap feature. At least you can't lose the fuel cap. The filler tube now just has a valve and spring to seal the filler neck and if it gets dirty and damaged it can trip the light you have on now. It is very important to keep the area clean, we use a damp cloth, not soaking wet, to clean the area on a regular basis. Good luck with the new car.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a question about your radio show. You have helped me with car repairs on four different occasions and I was able to fix it myself 3 times and saved money and the 4th time you were talking about a recall I didn't even know existed and I was able to have my problem at no charge at my local dealership. I want to know how you know so much about cars and how you guys started doing the show and this column.

Thank you,
Mark in Inwood Iowa

Dear Mark,

We're happy to help and it gives us great pleasure to know we are helping others save money and keep their automotive stress levels down. Mark, we work on cars every day in our own repair shop doing everything you hear on the show and that is a great learning center for us. Russ also has a crazy memory that never lets anything go so he keeps all that knowledge and passes it on to our listeners. Neither Russ nor Shannon uses a computer to answer the questions on the air. We started the show back in 1990 as a half-hour show, never dreaming, we would have a worldwide audience 33 years later. At one point we were answering over 300 emails a day with many being similar, so we started this column to help multiple folks at once with one answer. We are blessed to have such great folks listening.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
