Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

	5	8				6
1	4	7					5	2
						8	3	1
2			3					8
				6	8		4	5
6		4	5
		3	8	1				6
	9			2	6		8	3
		2			7		1

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

~ Who is Afraid of You? ~

A person who says they are a Christian should then behave differently than the world does. If a person looks like, acts like and does most of the things as the world does, then it is a very good possibility that they are worldly.

The major test is how they really align themselves with Biblical standards according to scripture. Jesus said (paraphrased), "I am the vine, and the followers of Christ are to be the branches that attach to the vine."

So if a person is obeying the Bible and following Jesus' example, then that person will do as the Bible says and be like Jesus. But if you decide to make yourself your own branch then you'll have to support yourself- which can't sustain very long.

Now, when Satan sees that a person is really a Christian because they are obedient to God's ways and to God's word, then Satan begins to fear that person because they are a real Christian and can cause Satan all kinds of problems. So by how you live, the question would be: is Satan afraid of you?

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2014 Ford F-150 with 180k miles on her. Her name is Betsy. Lately it seems like at every corner I have to put another thousand bucks in her to keep her on the road. Tires, brakes, struts, and a new transmission all within a year. Overall, she has been a great truck and with new trucks costing what they do I'm way ahead of the game. Last week the truck started to make a noise in the front left area by the tire. I have figured out that when I turn the 4x4 on the noise goes away. The noise is not steady, it comes on slowly after the 4x4 is turned off and growls. Two shops have no clue.

Thank you,
Christopher in Redwood Falls Minnesota

Dear Christopher,

Whenever we hear from someone who names their vehicle, we know they are usually more in-tune to how they run than most. It's more like a family member than a form of transportation so let's get Betsy back to her old self. We see this issue a lot on Ford trucks in this year range. Most often it is caused by a leaking or broken vacuum line on one or both front wheel hubs which control the 4x4. It can also be caused by failing 4x4 solenoids or leaking hubs. Either way, that noise that changes with the 4x4 switch position almost always comes from that area. Start looking there.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have an electrical gremlin in my 2022 GMC Yukon with 70k miles. It is out of warranty, so the dealership is no longer responsible for it and doesn't have a clue what's wrong with it. I've already spent over a thousand dollars with them and five hundred at another shop and neither one can find the issue. If I drive the truck every day it works fine, but if I let it sit for three days or longer it won't shift out of second gear. It shifts from first to second but then won't shift until I turn it off then back on and then it drives perfectly but only if I have let it warm up completely first. Then, if I drive it every day no issues ever.

Thank you,
Ben in Sioux City Iowa

Dear Ben,

We are assuming that these shops spent quite a bit of time trying to duplicate and find this issue as that's a fairly good chunk of diagnostic money spent. Unfortunately, you are no better off. We have never heard of this, ever. We see hundreds of cars in our shop and have seen some that can be duplicated by operating them a certain way and that's what the shop will need to do, know this info, and connect scan equipment to it after it sits those three days then drive it and see what is wrong. It's a lengthy process for a shop.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2008 Jeep Compass and I purchased a simple Bluetooth system that I want to install in it. It's a standalone system that has an FM transmitter so I can play it over the radio. Well, I was trying to install it and my original idea was to wire it to the fuse box with one of those add a circuit connector until I found out that the fuse box is under the hood and not located under the dash. I want to splice it into the vehicle wiring with proper fuses of course but I need one wire that's always hot and one that's hot only when the ignition is on. Any advice will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Steve in Van Nuys California

Dear Steve,

Many people find themselves wanting to add an accessory to their vehicle and nowhere to draw power from. The add a fuse kit you mentioned is one way to do it if the current draw is very low. The second would be to take power from the radio circuit. They have harnesses available to tap into the wires at many car stereo shops. The first thing you will need to do is find out how much current the device will use. Too much of a draw can damage the vehicle. Consulting with the folks at the stereo shop will help you to determine draw as it is something they often must do.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I'm a new listener and column reader and I have a 1993 Ford Ranger with a 4.0 engine. When I first start the engine the hydraulic valve lifters make a lot of noise. The lower the outdoor ambient temperature the worse the noise seems to be. When the engine reaches full operating temperature, the noise goes away. Could this be an issue with the engine oil passages being gummed up? If this was the issue, do you recommend a product that could clean it up?

Thank you,
John in Rapid City South Dakota

Dear John,

Many of the Rangers with the 4.0 engine develop this noise. Some are caused by lifters that are gummed up while others have excessive valve train wear caused by either high miles or lack of proper lubrication due to long oil change intervals or the use of lesser quality oils at some point. Without taking the engine apart for inspect you could eliminate the possibility of the engine sludge issue by cleaning the oil system and using an additive. We use engine oil cleaner than the engine tune up from Justice Brothers. They seem to work very well for us. You need to add the cleaner then run the engine for ten minutes, change the oil, and then add the engine tune up. If it's not an excessive wear issue this should help. You may need to repeat the process down the road if it occurs again.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
