Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

~ Daily Politics ~

The political system in any age at any time can become a very difficult process and sometimes a very ugly force to deal with. Politics bring with it many temptations and a great challenge to one's character, as well as opportunities for compromising that can only be met with the strength of duty to God.

You must have a backbone and not fear people. You must know what you really believe and have a deep faith in what your values are and what you stand for. No one can remain true to justice and maintain integrity on their own without God's help. God is the only true force that causes any citizen to do politics right. The power of the flesh will always wear down. Politics is of the spiritual nature, and most do not have enough deepness of understanding in spiritual warfare to take it on.

The right door to politics starts with a love for people that want to do what is best, not just good. The gate to politics opens up many battlefields, but it is only by strength from God alone that will truly sustain you.

America's first leaders or first politicians knew to fear God above all other things. They understood the truth of respect for one another and the options of defeat if they didn't work together. Then they would lose, and the cost would be disastrous.

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have several vehicles and only one driver in the house, me. 13 vehicles in all plus another five ATVs, 2 Jet Skies and 3 boats. I'm a collector, lover of vehicles, and maybe a number of other things but they all run well, and I enjoy having them around. My question is about batteries. It seems like I am always replacing batteries. I charge each one up using several chargers I have every couple months, but they seem to go dead every year or two. I use the small chargers at one amp and let them charge overnight. A few of the older cars seem to stay fully charged but the newer ones with computers are dead anywhere from three weeks to two months. What can I do to keep them charged longer.

Thank you,
David in Tyler Texas

Dear David,

Dead batteries and keeping them from going dead have been a lifelong pursuit of vehicle owners since the beginning of vehicles. Vehicles with computers will draw more power even if they are shut down than a vehicle without a computer but they all will gradually go dead. Make sure that any charger you use is a battery maintainer, not a trickle charger. Trickle chargers will break down a battery if used too long causing overcharging and damage. Use a maintainer and leave it connected when the vehicle is not being used. They are usually less than $40 each and keep batteries conditioned for many years.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

My questions are about oil changes. I recently had to replace the timing chains on my 2009 GMC Acadia, and I have a 2016 Chrysler Town And Country that has noisy lifters. My mechanic is telling me that my engines both have heavy sludge in them and that I should have changed the engine oil much more often which may have saved them. I only put five thousand miles or so on each one of the vehicles, so I change them both once a year. I don't think that changing the oil every three months is a smart idea with that low mileage.

Thank you,
Reggie in Greenwood Indiana

Dear Reggie,

Your mechanic is correct. The problem is the low miles and short trips on the engines, not that you are not changing the oil sooner. When you drive short trips, the oil does not reach a high enough temperature for a long enough period to burn off all the moisture in the oil which will turn to sludge and leave damaging deposits. Also, using a regular filter instead of an extended drain long life filter leaves a possibility of the cardboard in the filter breaking down and clogging the engine causing major damage.

If you used a better filter and made sure that the engine was running until fully warm each time it is driven your changes may be ok. But as it stands, more frequent changes are what is needed.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I want to buy a truck to pull my boat and camper. I have listened to your radio show for over twenty years and have heard you talk about loading and overloading of vehicles many times but now it's my turn and I didn't pay close attention. My camper is the heaviest and weighs 8500 pounds when loaded with my gear. The passengers and I all add up to about 800 pounds. What should I be looking at for a vehicle.

Thank you,
Bryn in Longview Texas

Dear Bryn,

The Ford F150 and most modern vehicles use what's called coil-on-plug ignition which in simple terms means that the ignition coil is placed directly above the spark plugs and connected by a short rubber boot instead of using a plug wire. Using multiple coils allows the ignition system to work more efficiently when it is working correctly and eliminates spark plugs wires. When they fail they give the symptom you describe and cause poor mileage and rough running and possible power train and exhaust system damage. We often see all ignition coils fail within a short period of time to each other due to age and miles so be prepared to replace the other six coils. Due to the labor cost of working on them we often recommend replacing all at the same time to save labor costs even though the coils are not cheap. In the long run it will save a lot of cash over repeat labor repair costs.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2016 Ram truck with the Cummins engine. This truck is used for pulling by boat and camper and during the week I pull a skid steer loader and an excavator to my construction sites, so it never stops pulling. I bought the truck deleted from another state, both the EGR was removed and the DPFE filter. Recently I had to take the truck in for a recall and they programmed the computer causing a check engine light. I want to put the truck back to stock but want to know if the aftermarket parts are any good as the factory parts are super expensive.

Thank you,
David in Lansing Michigan

Dear David,

We have replaced many emissions system parts in our shop and have used aftermarket parts for some and others have received factory parts. They do make some good quality aftermarket parts that can give you huge cost savings but beware, you get what you pay for in many cases. Check the reviews of the parts before buying and we would also suggest that you look at some real work actual user reviews on YouTube so you can see if those page reviews really line up with what actual users see. Once you have the factory parts installed there are some aftermarket tuners which you can use which can add some decent power to the truck but still keep it in compliance with the federal emissions regulations.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
