Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

		5		1	6
	3		4	6		5
		6			5	1
	4		8
7					9		4

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

~ Who Are You Contributing To? ~

Folks, we have to believe God will bring an all-out assault against the sinfulness that is destroying the people all around us. We are most likely on the edge of the great falling away.

We're very, very near the great catching away of the Christian population. Once the church age is over and the truly born-again Christians are gone, I'm convinced there will be a massive revival. But it will be a painful one.

To become a Christian after the true church is gone will require great sacrifice, a more than true commitment, and great suffering, because Christians are really going to become persecuted and pay a high price to follow Christ.

We need to be fasting and praying, digging into our Bibles, learning more, preparing our heart and soul for a move of God like we never experienced if we really want revival. Then we are going to have to get serious about what we need to be doing to contribute to revival.

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

My name is Clarence I live in Entiat WA, and I listen to your Under The Hood show on podcast. I am rebuilding a 2.0 Liter engine out of a 1976 VW bus. This engine is a solid lifter engine and I've heard I need to use a Zink additive to protect the engine but is there anything other than good oil that will help extend the life of the rebuild? It's an air-cooled engine so it does run a little hotter than your normal car engine. Thanks for the show, I enjoy it very much. I recently found it on radio and I'm half way through the archived podcasts and look forward to my drive to work every day to be able to listen to the show

Thank you,
Clarence in Entiat Washington

Dear Clarence,

Those old VW engines were fun to work on. We still get a fair amount of email and calls about them. You are right on track with the zinc additive or the ZDDP replacement additive. All engines can benefit from the high-pressure wear protection that the ZDDP additive provides but in the case of older engines without roller camshafts like the ones found in this VW and older hot rods and collector cars it is a must or parts like the camshaft will wear quickly and can destroy the engine. The additive found at parts stores and a good quality oil should help it to last.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hello gents. I've been listening to your Under The Hood radio show podcast down here in Australia for a few months now and figured I've got nothing to lose by contacting you. I have a 1997 BMW E36 323i with 172,000km. My problem is I have no hot air from the heater. Only ambient temperature or ice-cold air conditioning. Can you help me? It gets mighty cold down here. Thanks heaps guys!?

Thank you,
Jason in Werribee Victoria Australia

Dear Jason,

Thanks for listening down there! For some reason we here in the states don't always think about how cold it gets in Australia but we're sure you do with no heat. Even though you have a BMW, and the steering wheel is on the other side of the dash, the problem you have is relative to all cars. You need to have hot water running through the heater core and air directed through it without bypassing so that it warms the interior. Our first step is to verify the engine thermostat keeps the engine at proper temp and if not, you must fix that first. Second, make sure the air door opens and closes in the dash. This can take a little you tube research to find and check. Third, the core needs to be clean. You can try to flush it with a garden hose both directions several times and if that helps, it indicates you have a restricted core.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2016 Ram 1500 truck with a small coolant leak on the passenger side head. It appears to be leaking right through the head and not from the gasket surface. Have you seen this before? My local shop tells me that I need to buy a new cylinder head and replace the gasket which will cost over $3000 unless they find something else while working on it. The truck runs perfectly except for using about a half-gallon of coolant a week. What do you suggest for saving money. I don't have more than about $1000 to spend to fix this truck currently and I need to keep it going.

Thank you,
Jeff in Spirit Lake Iowa

Dear Jeff,

If it is leaking through the side of the head and not a gasket area that means the head is cracked. Normally the only fix for this is to replace the entire cylinder head. Replacing a head will solve the issue of a crack but for leaks like this where money is an issue, on short notice we have used a product in our own shop many times called K-Seal. You add the product to your engine coolant and drive it until the leak has stopped. Don't mix it with other leak stop additives and don't flush it out. Just add it and leave it. We have seen some vehicles four years after using it that still don't leak so it may be your solution.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have problems with my 2014 Toyota Tundra with a 5.7 engine and Flex Fuel option and I do use the blended fuel. When I fuel the truck, I will use anywhere from e15 to e85, and I fill it up when I get to about half a tank but sometimes top it off before I start my work week even if its just below the full mark. The dealer says it's the flex fuel alcohol reading in the computer that needs to be reset and I have paid to have it done six times already with a cost of over $150 each time. What's wrong?

Thank you,
Jake in Yankton South Dakota

Dear Jake,

It's not the fuel, it's the truck, but don't go buy a new one just yet. When flex fuel vehicles first came out, a lot of the computers simply watched the oxygen sensors for a major change in the fuel ratio caused by using a different blend of fuel and the computer would adjust accordingly. Then, they started using a special fuel sensor to read the fuel alcohol content directly and that worked well. Today, most vehicles have done away with all that and now just read the o2 sensors after refueling with at least 3 gallons of fuel. If you top off the tank it will skew the reading and lead to this issue every time. Only fill when you need to add 5 gallons or more.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

CLASSIFIED QUICK TIPS WRITING A SUCCESSFUL AD

Prepare. Know what is important to readers shopping in your classified category.

Make Your Copy Complete.

Use ad copy effectively to thoroughly communicate to potential buyer(s). Organize the ad carefully. Space and punctuate, so that the reader can follow the ad and understand its content.

Be Creative Descriptive.

List major selling points (price, color, size, features or options).

Be Factual. Be Helpful.

Include hours of operation, best days and times in which to make contact as well as area code on phone numbers.

Make Your Ad Easily Recognizable.

Choose a main benefit of your merchandise and feature it in a headline. Use art, large type sizes, bolding and best of all, use white space to make your ad visually attractive and so powerful, it's jumping off the page.

Maximize The Amount Of Prospective Buyers/Readers. Multiply insertions help prospective buyers/readers REMEMBER the ad because of repetition. Take advantage of discounted rates available for multiple insertions.

Urge The Reader To Act Now!

Every ad should include a strong bid for action. Stimulate prompt action by using such phrases as "Call Now", "Available Immediately" or "Won't Last".

The Big Nickel hopes these tips will help you, please call 417-624-4100 and our telephone sales representatives will be happy to assist you.
