~ Life Over Death ~

God's intentions toward His people have always been for the whole person to respond to Him, not just part of our lives. A person's outward ways will show the marks of the inner reality of a person's heart, if it is truly God's or if it is divided with worldly ways. In the Bible, the book of Deuteronomy gives us clarity about the way God wants us to live. Here is what it says:

"Return to the Lord your God... Obey the voice of the Lord and follow all His commandments. Set before you is life and death, adversity and evil. Love the Lord your God and live each day in His ways; keep His commandments so that you might live and the Lord will bless you. But if your heart turns away and you will not hear or obey, you will certainly perish. Before you God has set life and death, blessed or cursed. Choose life and live loving the Lord your God, obeying His ways. Hold close to Him, for He is your life and the length of your days."

So the choice is yours. Choose this day whom you will serve, and by that set your destiny forever.

ASK THE MOTOR MEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have been pulling a new boat this year and its about 3000 pounds heavier than my last one. This one is 26 feet long and weighs about 10k pounds. I pull the boat with my 2011 Ford F150 Eco boost which they say is rated to pull over 11k pounds. It pulls hard, but I think that is just because it is close to its load limit. My transmission temp gauge reads about 225 after a half hour of driving and a little more on hills but the engine stays under 230. Is there anything I should do to lower the temps and make it pull easier or is it ok the way it is? I do not use overdrive and keep the RPM at about 2000 rpm just like it would read if I were at a higher speed in overdrive without the boat.

Thank you,
Lewis in Canby MN

Dear Lewis,

That's some good info for us to give you some helpful advice. Sell the truck and buy one properly equipped or get a smaller boat. No other way to get around this one. You may see some listings for your truck showing over 11k pound tow ratings but that is only with the proper gears and tow package otherwise it's much less. The readings you give are high and the rpm description does not indicate the lowest towing gears. Verify with the manufacturer for sure how your truck is equipped before towing again.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

On a trip across country for the holidays this year I had a coolant leak. I purchased a gallon of coolant and made it only 50 miles before the low coolant light came on again. This time I bought 3 gallons of coolant and made it about 100 miles before the light came on, so we stopped for the day, and had it checked out where they found a leaking radiator. The engine also became hot a few times, getting into the red and displaying a message that read stop engine now. Is there any chance of engine damage? It seems to run ok. What are you supposed to do when you are on the road with the family with no place to stop and you have a leak?

Thank you,
Brad in Liberal Kansas

Dear Brad,

Some engines have a better time with overheating than others, but it is never a good thing. The hotter the engine the bigger the chance of damage to it. At this point monitor the engines running and see how it is acting. If it starts to use coolant or runs poorly it may have a problem. When you do have a coolant leak you should stop the engine as soon as possible and tow if needed. KSeal added to a cool engine can help get you to the repair shop but don't forget to carry spare coolant. It won't stop every kind of leak but can be helpful.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I drive a 2015 Subaru Forester with all the options and lately I have been having an issue where all the lights on the dash come on. These are, check engine, ABS, Eye Sight, Service Trac etc. I took it into an auto parts store where they read the codes and they said there were too many to do anything with, so I had to go to a local shop. The shop tried to find out what was wrong and spent a long time on it and they did not charge me, but they said I had to go somewhere else as they could not figure it out. Well, I went back to the same parts store and bought a code reader and connected it to my phone then cleared the codes for the engine, which is all it will let me do, and all the lights went out. Do you think its something serious?

Thank you,
Jerry Carlson in Minot North Dakota

Dear Jerry,

With many cars such as yours, when one code is set by a system like the engine management system, many lights will come on as they all rely on that system to operate. For example. If the Collision avoidance system needs to get a torque signal from the engine management system but there is a fault with it, it will not allow that system to operate and it sets a code. It's time for a trip to the Subaru dealer.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2010 Toyota Tundra with 300k miles on it and body wise it is a perfect condition truck. The truck has zero rust anywhere and is even clean underneath as we had it professionally undercoated by NHOU when it was new and have had it rechecked and touched up every three years since. This is a work truck, and we have it lettered which was expensive and replaced the transmission two years ago which cost a large amount. The engine has now failed. During recent rains our driver ran through some deep water, and it splashed into the air cleaner intake and damaged the engine. The dealership says a new engine is the only option. Cost of repairs is over 10k dollars and to buy another truck just like it with 130k will cost 15K. What do you suggest? We don't want to spend more money but buying someone else's problems does not appeal either.

Thank you,
Marvin in Owatonna Minnesota

Dear Marvin,

This comes up at our shop all the time. It's up to you but what we tell our customers is to see what others just like yours cost and weigh the options. You have done that, and it looks like you can fix it cheaper than buying another. That other one won't have the engine warranty that your new one will so that's also a thought. Check on low mileage used engines with a warranty too.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Mareth Real Estate and Land Auction!

Saturday, October 12th, @ 9:00AM
7125 FR 2057 Monett, MO 65801

Auctioneers' Statement: This will be one of the best auctions of 2024!. SW Auction is honored to be hosting this event on behalf of the Tom Mareth family. The Dairy farm is one of the largest in the Barry County area. The dairy cows have been sold recently however, the dairy is still fully functional with all computer systems still intact. There will be high dollar incentives to increase this operation provided by the NRCS office. The near 1/2 of a million dollar expansion money has already been approved and is transferable to the new buyer. Also if the new buyer chooses not to maintain the dairy (according to the NRCS office) there will be $150,000.00 - $200,000.00 available for lagoon closure. (The new buyer would apply directly with the NRCS office for available funding). SW Auction does not imply nor take any responsibility for NRCS Funding! Also included in this auction: All the machinery, haylage, tools etc. in which there is a lot. We will start the auction at 9:00am with tools & smaller equipment. properties will sell at 12 noon! (Both properties will be auctioned from the Dairy Farm location at 7125 FR 2057 Monett, MO). Visit our website @ WWW.SWAAUCTION.COM we also offer online bidding

LAND OPTION #1: 150+/- Acres and Home: Deer & Turkey Hunting Paradise, Wooded Back South, Pole barn, 1 Bedroom 1 Bath Home has living rights until the resident passes @250.00 rent monthly.

LAND OPTION #2 will be split into 5 tracks and also offered as 1 Lot. 175+/- Acres and Home: Beautiful acres with a 250-stall dairy barn. The property features three ponds, two massive silage bunkers, and several outbuildings. Included a 3,594 sq ft split-level farmhouse, with 5 bedrooms and 3.5 bathrooms, needs some TLC. Engineering plans have already been drawn up and are ready to take the entire operation fully robotic, and the seller will gladly pass these plans on to the new owner. There has been 5 acres deeded out to occupant out of track 3 on the west side. Also included will be a functioning dairy farm. Tom was approved for a 500K expansion, NRCS confirmed buyer of property would be approved for $176K to close the lagoon. Buyer can choose either option, both are transferable. Existing NRCS EQIP contract is for $450K (transferable) and additional $100k for dairy improvements is available through SWCD which is first come first serve in the county. There is currently no contract with SWCD. (if the buyer wants to close the lagoon an application would need to be turned in for EQIP with NRCS to secure funds)
