PUZZLE NO. 1014

PUZZLE SODOKU

JANUARY WEEK 5

HOW TO PLAY:

Fill in the grid so that every row, every column and every 3x3 box contains the numbers 1 through 9 only once.

Each 3x3 box is outlined with a darker line. You already have a few numbers to get you started. Remember: you must not repeat the numbers 1 through 9 in the same line, column or 3x3 box.

HOROSCOPE

WEEK OF FEBRUARY 16 TO 22, 2025

ARIES

It's important to weigh the pros and cons before making a decision. You may also come across tricky questions without clear answers. This could leave you feeling a bit confused.

TAURUS

Get ready to tackle a bunch of important tasks this week, both at work and in your personal life. Once you check off everything on your to-do list, you'll feel deep satisfaction knowing you've taken care of all the responsibilities you've been putting off.

GEMINI

Big household projects are on the horizon. Your love life could be re-charged and take a turn after a deep conversation. A new addition to the family could be on the way!

CANCER

Get ready for an action-packed week! You'll have to put in extra hours at work or handle demanding family responsibilities before you can kick back and relax.

LEO

Whether you're renovating or decorating your home, you'll manage to negotiate advantageous rates that will increase the value of your home. When it comes to your career, don't hesitate to advocate for the raise you deserve.

VIRGO

Unexpected expenses may arise this week. If you need to take out a loan, don't worry. You'll be able to negotiate terms that will benefit you.

LIBRA

This week isn't going to be the peaceful one you were expecting. Instead, it'll be filled with exciting activities and adventures. You'll have a blast!

SCORPIO

Exciting changes are happening in both your professional and personal life. It's important to find ways to unwind and de-stress so you can fully embrace all the amazing opportunities coming your way.

SAGITTARIUS

You'll expand your social circle, both in person and online. You'll find like-minded people to join you at art workshops, yoga sessions or other exciting wellness activities.

CAPRICORN

Your boss will offer you an attractive promotion. Despite being pressed for time, you'll eagerly embrace exciting new projects, whether they're related to work or your personal life.

AQUARIUS

It's time to plan a trip or getaway! You'll be eager to organize a get-together and celebrate with friends. Get ready to explore a new spiritual journey and invest in your personal growth.

PISCES

An unexpected event might shake up your peace. Lean on those close to you for support. They'll help you rediscover the joys of life. Learning to open up and trust more could bring positive changes to your life.

The luckiest signs this week:
CAPRICORN, AQUARIUS AND PISCES

~ Find Out Who You Are ~

In our moments of enjoyment, we feel as if we could do everything. But in times of temptation and discouragement, we think we can do nothing.

But we are deceived alike in both. You should not be disturbed at any distraction that you may experience. The cause of it may be concealed within spiritual matters. Your temperament and habits all contribute to making you active and eager.

Be wary of what would cause you to relish a life away from God. God may take something away so that you see to a place He wants to lead you, or maybe keep you from what's not good for you. He may take something away so we may be made to understand that it does not belong to us; that we in ourselves aren't able to preserve it.

Do not be amazed at finding yourself. We must bear a yoke; we must be made to feel our weakness. So the more clearly our hope is in Christ and not self, we must be tested on our true character while waiting on God's timing so that He might reveal Himself to us.

ASK THE MOTORMEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2020 Ram 1500 with a 5.7 engine, and it has an exhaust leak. This is the second time this has happened. During the warranty period it started leaking and the dealership took care of the problem at no charge. This time my mechanic found that both sides were leaking where last time it was only the passenger side. I was not prepared for how expensive the repair was quoted for and as the job progressed it became more expensive as bolts broke off and had to be drilled and welded to get them extracted. The extra work added four hundred dollars to the bill. I felt like it was a little unfair since they looked at it and told me what it should cost. Is this common to have these manifolds warp and fail so often and what do you think about the added cost?

Thank you,
Mike in Canton South Dakota

Dear Mike,

These manifolds are very common to fail and fail again. They have failed so often that we regularly see these manifolds out of stock, and we must wait to get ahold of them. Repeat failures are common and more so when the vehicle is used for towing or driven hard. Once they fail if left leaking the bolts will become increasingly harder to remove. It is very important to fix them as soon as possible and bolts that don't come out easily are not the mechanics fault.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hi guys, I'm having issues with my tail lamps. One side of my 2009 Chevy Tahoe has no brake, tail, or back up light while the other side has no taillight. I do have working license plate lights. I have checked all the fuses that I can find using my owner's manual and found no blown fuses. I tried using YouTube and found no help. Do you have any ideas about how to fix these lights?

Thank you,
Barry in Michigan

Dear Barry,

Checking any electrical issue is a simple matter of do you have power at the light and good ground or not. If you don't, we start at the fuses and if they are good, we move to the light and work our way back until we find where the power has been lost. The most common issue on this model vehicle is either a broken wire in the taillight harness near the light or corrosion at the connector. The taillight harnesses are readily available at most parts stores and are fairly easy to install. If there is any signs of corrosion or burnt sockets they should be replaced. If the lights still don't work, then work your way back down the lighting harness towards the front. Usually when we are working on these, we find a wire that has been corroded where it was chaffed which caused a failure. We then splice the wire with a waterproof connector.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hey guys, I have a 2021 GMC Yukon with a tow package. I use the vehicle as an everyday driver and a lot of that time is spent towing a trailer. I have a small construction company, and I am always on job sites and picking up nails in my tires. I have become used to the flat tires and all the tire repairs that come with them. I have a bigger concern though. It's my trailer. I have plenty of flat tires on it as well and a few times those have been on the road causing an unsafe condition with the trailer. The truck has a low tire monitor, but the trailer does not. What is the best way to monitor the trailer tires?

Thank you,
Moe in Bowling Green Kentucky

Dear Moe,

When the tire monitors are working correctly, they are a great safety option but so many get neglected, and people end up driving around with a low tire light on. On the new Yukons such as yours and the Silverado trucks equipped with a tow package most have an option to purchase extra tire monitors to be installed in the trailer tires which can be monitored right from the dash screen like the vehicle tires. This makes it very convenient, and you can also program in different trailer profiles. Check with your GMC dealer for information on the sensors and to purchase them. This should greatly help you when trying to make sure that your tires are inflated to a safe pressure.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I'm have six vehicles in our family ranging from two months old to six years that my wife and I drive and our three kids. Two are trucks and four are cars. None of them are showing visible rust yet but they get driven in the Minnesota winters where the roads are heavily salted, which has been the cause of the replacement of all our cars since they were rusted too heavily and deemed unsafe. Is there anything that can be done that actually works to rustproof a vehicle? There are so many coatings around here and electronic devices to prevent rust and we just don't know what would be best. We have never rust-proofed our vehicles before.

Thank you,
Robert in St James Minnesota

Dear Robert,

In our shop we have seen all those products come through with some that appear to be more snake oil than rust preventive. If we had to list them in order of how well they worked by the amount of rust we see on the vehicle we would definitely rate the electronic units in the last place and the oil-based products first. The oil-based products are sprayed on to a clean vehicle covering the entire bottom of the car and frames on trucks. They are typically used on newer vehicles. Find a local applicator for more information.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
