CHEAP!!

If this describes you, GOBOB

Sch 40

Sch 80

See for yourself
Sch 80 is STRONGER!! and CHEAPER!!

EVERYONE would love to have their pens build with new 2 7/8" pipe for their posts and top rail and new 2 3/8" Schedule 40 pipe for their under rails. It would be really strong and would last forever, but it would cost a fortune, and you will not get any more for your cattle when you sell them.

GoBob has a solution that will give you the same strength and longevity FOR LESS THAN HALF THE PRICE.

You're determined and ready to take on new professional and personal challenges. No matter your age, taking care of your children demands your full attention. If you're single, you'll attract many admirers.

GEMINI

Feeling fatigued can make you more susceptible to germs and colds. It's important to take it easy and rest, especially if you've been working overtime.

CANCER

You'll notice that many people around you are feeling disoriented and lost. Sometimes, you need to take a step back to find peace. Consider adopting a spiritual practice to help you relax and regain your sense of balance.

VIRGO

You'll be inspired to plan a trip abroad or explore a new area close to home with your partner or friends. You'll embrace change at home with tasks like rearranging your furniture to refresh your living space.

LIBRA

It may be time to kick certain habits to achieve the professional success you seek. Your life will be filled with abundance after a bit of healthy competition. This will open doors to a position you've been eyeing.

SCORPIO

You must negotiate and compromise to reach a fair agreement. Fortunately, you'll receive legal counsel to help resolve a dispute before it escalates.

SAGITTARIUS

You'll be busy this week! An attractive job offer may come your way from a competing company. Emotionally, you'll feel special and cherished by your partner and those around you.

CAPRICORN

Your knack for lifting spirits and making those around you smile will set you apart this week. Expect a warm round of applause. You may even receive a reward for this ability.

AQUARIUS

You have many little things to do at home or for your family. You'll complete them all and look like a hero to your loved ones. You're a pragmatic person and know how to set your priorities straight.

PISCES

You have a way with words, which will empower you to defend your opinions passionately. You may need to have deep discussions on certain topics, but with the right information, you'll be unchallenged.

~ What Matters ~

God's looking for those that are serious about His plans- people who are searching through His scriptures to learn more about His ways to live a more Godly life.

God's looking for men and women who are more interested in His kingdom than those who are interested in the kingdoms of the world.

It doesn't matter your age, but it does matter about your availability. It doesn't matter your status, but it does matter about your will, your time, your putting aside some things that might not matter if you really took a good look.

The Bible tells us that God is always looking for that person who will stand in the gap for a group of people, that will make a difference in a family situation, a city or some event.

What does God find you doing today? Are you watching or are you doing something else? Are you ready to go or are you sleepy and satisfied with life as it is?

ASK THE MOTORMEDICS[®]

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood[®] Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a two-part question with two cars. I have a 2025 Ford Maverick, and a 2025 Tesla Model S. My questions are about the first-time maintenance needed on these cars. The Maverick is a hybrid and I was told to do the first oil change at 10k miles. This came directly from the dealer as this car was brand new. After that it's also looking like 10k between oil changes which were included in my service plan. I just don't feel right going that long and they don't cover anything on the car after 36k so what would they need me to maintain it better. Does it hurt to change it a lot sooner? On the Tesla, is there anything I need to change as far as fluids on a regular basis?

Thank you,
Dan in Michigan

Dear Dan,

We see some cars coming with a break in oil which is intended to go a longer distance to seat the rings and pistons to prevent oil burning but we are still undecided as to the 10k thing or not. We go 5k on our remanufactured units we install at our shop. Either way, after the first change we go to a much earlier change, usually 3mo or 3k miles but with a full synthetic we sometimes go 5k. You need to talk to your local mechanic to come up with a plan. On the Tesla we are not aware of any fluid changes needed right away.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I want to upgrade my radio and my remote start in my 2021 GMC Yukon. The remote start has a very limited distance for starting range and the radio does not have enough bass for me. What kind of suggestions do you have without paying for a subscription for the remote start app on my phone.

Thank you,
Donald in Worthington Minnesota

Dear Donald,

You got me there. The first thing I was going to suggest was getting a subscription for your phone but if you are like me you don't want to pay that monthly fee. You can get a longer-range remote start installed at aftermarket car stereo shops. They can safely tap into the factory systems and get you a very long-range unit which you can customize to run for more than the factory set ten minutes too. The units even have a temp reading on the remote in many cases so that you can tell how warm or cool the interior is so you don't need to run it any longer than needed. As for the bass in the factory stereo system you have many choices for aftermarket equipment that will easily connect to the factory system. A lot of people add a subwoofer in the cargo area tied to the factory system and that will add as much bass as you want. All you must do is decide what your budget is. The bigger the louder with Bass.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I need to know about difficult to diagnose auto repairs. I have a 2020 Jeep Renegade that has a electrical issue that is not always there. It comes and goes every few days and results in a dead battery. I have taken it into three different shops where they spent a couple days each on it but none of them were able to fix it. One did not make any repairs but charged me over 300.00 for looking at it and the other two said they "had it fixed" and gave me a list of what they did but it still does it. Can I be charged for repairs even though they didn't fix it and why can't they get it figured out?

Thank you,
Clarence in Newark

Dear Clarence,

You will have to figure out the charges part for yourself as we are not that shop. When you have an electrical issues which we see often in our shop, it can be a nightmare. First, the problem must exist as the vehicle is being repaired and it must stay active the entire time. Then, during the repairs each circuit must be isolated one at a time to check for drawing, then once re-activated the car must sit until it goes to sleep. This process is standard and can take hours and if the problem goes away during the test then a shop will charge you even though it did not get fixed.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hi guys, my 2010 Ford F250 Diesel truck has a door ding sound and a door ajar light that comes on and goes off as I drive. When I hit bumps and more so on cold days it seems to be present more often. Sometimes I can always have the light on for several days in a row while on a really hot day it may never come on. My mechanic does not do this kind of work anymore and does not have any advice for me other than to take it to another shop. What kind of things could it be.

Thank you,
John, in Indiana

Dear John,

The door ajar and warning bell are both functions of the door switches but those switches on your truck also communicate with a module. There can be a problem with the switch, the module or the wiring and any one of these can cause your problem. Modules are sometimes affected by temperatures but more often the door switch which is part of the door latch is the issue. When the latch switch starts to fail it gets sticky and won't shut off the warning. Spraying the door latch sometimes offers a temporary fix but accelerates the failure because it makes it attract dirt and makes it worse. If they find that the switch is faulty it is best to replace it instead of trying to lubricate it for a temporary fix.

Take care,
the Motor Medics
