HOROSCOPE

WEEK OF APRIL 6 TO 12, 2025

ARIES
You'll be rewarded for performing a remarkable deed, even if you see it as just lending a listening ear to someone in need. This simple act is heroic.

TAURUS
You'll prioritize your family, home and personal aspects of your life this week. You might even be motivated to start a family business from home.

GEMINI
Summer is fast approaching, and you're getting excited about all the adventures that await you. Well-deserved nature walks and outings promise to be the highlights of the season.

CANCER
Be daring and embrace new adventures that could take you to all four corners of the globe. At work, a position you've always wanted will suddenly open up.

LEO
Dive deeper into your spirituality to achieve personal fulfillment. If you commit to a cause, you may be able to face life's big questions and discover a richer meaning in your life.

VIRGO
You'll have a flood of ingenious ideas that will inspire you to create a masterpiece. You'll be extremely generous with someone close to you.

LIBRA
You'll be under a lot of pressure at work this week. Take a moment to step back and recharge with friends. Fortunately, you'll organize an event that will bring together the people you cherish most.

SCORPIO
A revelation will light your way and guide you toward a career that aligns with your aspirations. You'll face a learning process that will help you navigate and define your goals more clearly.

SAGITTARIUS
Let your dreams guide and inspire you as you plan your summer vacation. Make sure you plan ahead to create memorable getaways with those you love.

CAPRICORN

AQUARIUS
Negotiating with someone you have no emotional connection with is easier. Sometimes, you may be unwilling to be flexible when dealing with those closest to you.

PISCES
You may land an influential position at work. Trust your instincts and organizational skills. They'll help you score a top role within the company.

~ Spiritual Crisis ~

It will be no easy work, the hours, the denying of things that have been important, the long days and sleepless nights, the financial extras, but most of all the time that will have to be invested.

The church of today is in desperate need of revival.
Christianity needs a literal IV injection from God's throne to bring to life a true heaven-sent awakening that leaves little doubt that it is God's handiwork.

The numbers continue to fall every few years in the number of people who say they are part of the Christian faith. As I write this, the latest research shows 6 to 7 percent of Americans qualify as being really born again
according to Biblical standards.

This is a spiritual crisis in America, and we that know how and will better invest more of this precious time into praying and seeking a real revival for America's churches which will then affect others outside the church before time runs out.

ASK THE MOTORMEDICS®

Automotive Advice from the Under The Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a two-part question with two cars. I have a 2025 Ford Maverick, and a 2025 Tesla Model S. My questions are about the first-time maintenance needed on these cars. The Maverick is a hybrid and I was told to do the first oil change at 10k miles. This came directly from the dealer as this car was brand new. After that it's also looking like 10k between oil changes which were included in my service plan. I just don't feel right going that long and they don't cover anything on the car after 36k so what would they need me to maintain it better. Does it hurt to change it a lot sooner? On the Tesla, is there anything I need to change as far as fluids on a regular basis?

Thank you,
Dan in Michigan

Dear Dan,

We see some cars coming with a break in oil which is intended to go a longer distance to seat the rings and pistons to prevent oil burning but we are still undecided as to the 10k thing or not. We go 5k on our remanufactured units we install at our shop. Either way, after the first change we go to a much earlier change, usually 3mo or 3k miles but with a full synthetic we sometimes go 5k. You need to talk to your local mechanic to come up with a plan. On the Tesla we are not aware of any fluid changes needed right away.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I want to upgrade my radio and my remote start in my 2021 GMC Yukon. The remote start has a very limited distance for starting range and the radio does not have enough bass for me. What kind of suggestions do you have without paying for a subscription for the remote start app on my phone.

Thank you,
Donald in Worthington Minnesota

Dear Donald,

You got me there. The first thing I was going to suggest was getting a subscription for your phone but if you are like me you don't want to pay that monthly fee. You can get a longer-range remote start installed at aftermarket car stereo shops. They can safely tap into the factory systems and get you a very long-range unit which you can customize to run for more than the factory set ten minutes too. The units even have a temp reading on the remote in many cases so that you can tell how warm or cool the interior is so you don't need to run it any longer than needed. As for the bass in the factory stereo system you have many choices for aftermarket equipment that will easily connect to the factory system. A lot of people add a subwoofer in the cargo area tied to the factory system and that will add as much bass as you want. All you must do is decide what your budget is. The bigger the louder with Bass.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I need to know about difficult to diagnose auto repairs. I have a 2020 Jeep Renegade that has a electrical issue that is not always there. It comes and goes every few days and results in a dead battery. I have taken it into three different shops where they spent a couple days each on it but none of them were able to fix it. One did not make any repairs but charged me over 300.00 for looking at it and the other two said they "had it fixed" and gave me a list of what they did but it still does it. Can I be charged for repairs even though they didn't fix it and why can't they get it figured out?

Thank you,
Clarence in Newark

Dear Clarence,

You will have to figure out the charges part for yourself as we are not that shop. When you have an electrical issues which we see often in our shop, it can be a nightmare. First, the problem must exist as the vehicle is being repaired and it must stay active the entire time. Then, during the repairs each circuit must be isolated one at a time to check for drawing, then once re-activated the car must sit until it goes to sleep. This process is standard and can take hours and if the problem goes away during the test then a shop will charge you even though it did not get fixed.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

Hi guys, my 2010 Ford F250 Diesel truck has a door ding sound and a door ajar light that comes on and goes off as I drive. When I hit bumps and more so on cold days it seems to be present more often. Sometimes I can always have the light on for several days in a row while on a really hot day it may never come on. My mechanic does not do this kind of work anymore and does not have any advice for me other than to take it to another shop. What kind of things could it be.

Thank you,
John, in Indiana

Dear John,

The door ajar and warning bell are both functions of the door switches but those switches on your truck also communicate with a module. There can be a problem with the switch, the module or the wiring and any one of these can cause your problem. Modules are sometimes affected by temperatures but more often the door switch which is part of the door latch is the issue. When the latch switch starts to fail it gets sticky and won't shut off the warning. Spraying the door latch sometimes offers a temporary fix but accelerates the failure because it makes it attract dirt and makes it worse. If they find that the switch is faulty it is best to replace it instead of trying to lubricate it for a temporary fix.

Take care,
the Motor Medics

ESTATE AUCTION
Saturday April 12th, 2025 • Starting at 10:00 a.m.
Located: 290 5th Street, Welch, OK 74369

Chaotic and overwhelming collection built over years and years of collecting! Hundreds and hundreds of large boxes of hidden treasures! Every room is entirely blocked by mounds of boxed possessions of treasures. Jim and Lynda owned the funeral home in Welch. She bought the house across the street to put her extremely large collection in. When the house got full, she filled the garage and storage shed. The shed is mostly all Christmas, you can see the furniture in the back of the garage. This is going to be a monumental challenge to get it all sold in one auction, but we are.
