Is it the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown?

Roger Golden and his daughter Sophia don't appear to be frightened by the "Great Pumpkin" rising up out of the ground to get them. Sophia said, "He's a friendly monster, not scary." Golden and Josie Popp spent hours collecting branches and vines to create their "friendly monster" so he could greet trick-or-treaters this Halloween who come to their home at the corner of Ash and Mill streets in Buffalo for treats. Golden says he hopes to have a bunch of visitors on Halloween night.

Aldermen face unhappy residents concerning their neighborhood

BY STEVE JOHNSON
stevej@buffaloreflex.com

The Buffalo Board of Aldermen met for its regular monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 12, and heard from concerned Buffalo residents about the ongoing problem of squatters and tents in the northern part of the city on West Marsh Street.

Neighbors of a residence on West Marsh complained about the number of squatters, about 10 people, now residing at that residence in a tent pitched next to the residence with electrical cords running to the tent. They said there were disturbances in the night, such as additional cars parking on the property with people sleeping in the vehicles, people from that residence going through their trash bins set by the street for pickup and attempted break-ins at their own homes. They stated that security for their own home and the safety of their children and elderly neighbors were their biggest concerns.

Mayor Brandon Kenall empathized with their concerns and said he and the aldermen would check into the zoning ordinances to see what could be done about the tenting situation.

'67 Impala has history that is unique to Buffalo

BY STEVE JOHNSON

When Dewey Rumfelt of Fair Play scouted for a 1967 Chevrolet Impala for parts, he said he was surprised and excited to find one in excellent condition.

The blue '67 Impala was located in Fair Grove and had been kept in a garage by the original owner who purchased it new from Davies Chevrolet in Buffalo. The rear bumper even had an original sticker from Davies Chevrolet-Pontiac, Buffalo, that looked like it had just been applied; it was in that good of condition.

The car also had the original wheels and tires, and the odometer showed 6,347 miles.

"The gentleman told me he had bought the car because he wanted the small block 283 V-8 engine with air conditioning and no power steering or power brakes," Rumfelt said.

Rumfelt said he is the envy other Chevy enthusiasts for owning such a pristine vintage vehicle.

"Brian Maupin in Dallas, Texas, who restores old vehicles, told me he had never seen one that nice," Rumfelt said. "Of course he only saw my photographs that I sent him. I plan on hauling it down on a trailer some day soon for Brian to see it in person."

ALDERMEN: Hear from concerned residents

He also shared that the problem had been brought to the attention of the police. They will follow up on the state of affairs as contacts are made with the owners of the property.

Another resident mentioned a brush and weed problem at an unoccupied residence on Locust Street. Kenall confirmed with City Administrator Debby Polston that a letter had been sent to the owner. He said he would talk to the owner and check with the Buffalo GRO committee members to see if they might help with the problem.

Three new business licenses were granted by the aldermen. They were Head 2 Toe (hair & nail salon), Shear Shed (hair salon) and C & T Trading Post (thrift store).

Minutes and bills and department head reports were approved by the aldermen.

Waterline parts, including a new hydrant and shutoff valve costing just over $3,500, were approved for the waterline to the new OACAC Head Start on North Ash Street.

Aldermen also approved the design and location of the new sign at Maple and Ramsey to direct drivers to the Buffalo City Park, swimming pool and O'Bannon Community Center.

Annual appointments were approved, including the following: city clerk — Martha Swearingin, city attorney — Travis Elliott, treasurer — Debby Polston, fire chief — Greg Cunningham, police chief — Rich Wilkinson, and collector of revenue — Talia Nelson.

It was announced that the Shop With a Cop program was awarded a $2,500 grant from Walmart.

The mayor reported that the airport building has new windows and a grant has been secured to finish the airport.

A discussion concerning terms of agreement with a Buffalo business owner that has been neglected by the business owner and how the council would proceed with the issue was the last thing covered. They will approach the issue again at private session.

U.S. Bank in Buffalo will close permanently Jan. 2

BY ANDREW C. JENKINS
andrewj@buffaloreflex.com

Many patrons of the U.S. Bank in Buffalo recently received notifications that the Buffalo bank will close in a few months.

“The closure is part of previously discussed work that kicked off in early 2019 to optimize our branch delivery networks in response to changing customer preferences and behaviors,” said Evan A. Lapiska, vice president of public affairs and corporate communications for U.S. Bank. “Although we are closing some branches, we are continuing to open and enhance others, as well as rapidly enhancing our digital capabilities.”

As a result of this reorganization, U.S. Bank has notified employees and customers that the Buffalo location at 1200 W. Dallas St. will close permanently Jan. 2, Lapiska said.

“We are proud of our history serving the region, and look forward to continuing to serve the local community through our other locations in the area along with our convenient digital and voice offerings,” Lapiska said.

According to Lapiska, impacted employees wishing to stay with the organization will have the opportunity to apply for other openings that might be available, particularly in areas that include U.S. Bank’s mortgage division and customer care centers, where the bank has identified the need for additional support while allowing for flexibility in work location. In addition, a comprehensive severance package and outplacement services will be offered to individuals who elect to move on at the end of their notice period.

Some other U.S. Bank branches in southwest Missouri are reportedly closing, as well.

Some of the various objects torched during the Feb. 7, 1497, Bonfire of the Vanities included mirrors, musical instruments, priceless tapestries, and books about astrology and divination.

Myrtle Ann (Miller) Jones, age 94 years and 16 days was born near Louisburg, MO on September 20th, 1926 to Jesse & Hattie (Hinkle) Miller and passed away on October 6, 2020 at Mercy Hospital in Springfield, MO following a brief illness.

Myrtle was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Archie Jones; one son, Dennis Reed; one sister, Doris Williams; and one brother, Fred Miller.

Left here on earth to cherish her memory are her sister, Naden Umphreys of Buckner, MO; her brother, Frank Miller & wife Ellen of Pittsburg, MO; her daughter, Margaret Reed of Louisburg, MO; her son, Dean Jones & wife Gloria of Nixa, MO; her daughter-in-law, Sherlin Reed of Bolivar, MO; grandsons, Shawn Pantoga of Louisburg, MO, Larry Pantoga of Springdale, AR, Mike Pantoga & wife Amy of Rolla, MO, Brandon Jones of Clever, MO, Jesse Jones & wife Amanda of Clever, MO; one granddaughter, Tammy Baker & husband Craig of Kansas City, MO; eight great-grandchildren; and nine great-great-grandchildren. She also leaves a host of nieces and nephews. And many friends.

Myrtle was raised as a farm girl in Dallas County and helped her parents and brothers and sisters on the family farm. And then moved to Kansas City for a few years. Got enough of the big city and moved back to the farm life west of Louisburg. She enjoyed growing a garden and canning vegetables from it. And jellies and jams from the fruit trees. Just like her Mother did.

Her favorite hobby for several years was quilting. She belonged to a quilt club with several other ladies that loved to quilt. She made quilts for family and friends. Someone would send her a box of quilt pieces and she would put them together in a design and turn out a beautiful quilt. She did some that she charged the people for. She called that her “Mad Money”. Most were passed down to the kids and grandkids.

Myrtle was a long-time member of the Louisburg Baptist Church. Always so proud of the church and her friends that attended with her. Shared many memories with her family about the church and her connection with God. When she couldn’t attend, she still did her Bible study at home.

She greeted everyone with a smile. Never met a stranger. Would strike up a conversation with anyone. Proved that again after moving from her house in Louisburg three years ago to the Villas at Forest Park in Nixa, MO. Where she was living in her own apartment when she passed. There she made another new bunch of friends.

Along with her newest friends in Nixa and all of her friends in the Dallas County area, and extended family she will truly be missed.

Speed limit enforcement runs Oct. 16-18 in state

The Missouri Coalition for Roadway Safety reminds all drivers that a speed limit enforcement will run Oct. 16-18. During this time law enforcement will be actively enforcing Missouri's speed limit laws and reminding drivers of the increased risks associated with higher speeds. Despite the decrease in traffic during the national pandemic, speed-related crashes are on the rise. To date there has been more than an 11 percent increase in traffic crash fatalities over this time last year. In Missouri, speed contributed to nearly 32 percent of the state's 881 roadway fatalities in 2019, continuing an alarming trend related to speed over the past five years.

5 ways to protect hearing every day

The saying “you don’t know what you’ve got till it’s gone” is never more true than in regard to hearing. It’s easy to take hearing for granted, but even momentary hearing loss can highlight how vital it is to protect hearing. People rely on headphones or earbuds to listen to music, stream movies or participate in work-related meetings more than ever before. Having the volume too loud can contribute to hearing loss over time. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says five in 10 young people listen to their music or other audio too loudly. Overall, 48 million people in the United States have trouble hearing in one or both of their ears. Johns Hopkins Medical Center reports about 15 percent of adults 18 years of age or older report some trouble hearing, and the risk of hearing problems increases with age. Once it’s gone, hearing cannot be restored in many cases. To protect hearing and guard against future hearing loss, consider these recommendations.

1. Ask for a baseline hearing test. It’s easier to measure hearing loss if there is a baseline by which it can be measured. During your annual physical, ask for a hearing test or a referral to an audiologist. This can set the course for monitoring progression of any future hearing loss.
2. Wear hearing protection. There are various types of hearing protection that can filter out certain levels of sound. Many earplugs, like the ones musicians wear or those worn when attending rock concerts, can reduce the sound by about 25 decibels. Custom-fit earplugs provide more noise reduction, upward of 35 to 40 decibels. They are optimal for high-noise environments, such as when mowing lawns or operating machinery, according to the hearing loss resource Hearts for Hearing.

METRO CREATIVE CONNECTION

3. Turn down the volume. Experts recommend adhering to the 60/60 rule when enjoying audio through headphones. This suggestion is to listen with the headphones at no more than 60 percent volume for no more than 60 minutes a day. Earbuds fit directly next to the eardrum and can be harmful to your hearing. If possible, choose over-the-ear headphones instead.
4. Have custom molds made. Rather than turning up the volume, people can have custom ear molds made for use with earphones, suggests Johns Hopkins. The custom ear molds will block outside noise, allowing for higher-quality listening.
5. Keep your ears dry. Moisture in the ear can cause bacteria to grow and potentially lead to infections. Towel-dry ears gently after showering or swimming. Avoid the temptation to use cotton swabs to dry the ears. For the most part, ears are self-cleaning, and using a cotton swab can push wax and cause it to become compacted in the ear canal. In addition to these tips, discussing hearing health with a doctor is a wise idea.

Buffalo Area Chamber plans for annual Christmas Parade

The Buffalo Area Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, Oct. 7, via Zoom video conference. Guest speakers at the meeting were Jessica Nyberg, American Family Insurance, and Buffalo Kiwanis President Lea Keith. Nyberg shared that American Family Insurance has transitioned from Dave Willingham as head agent to herself as head agent since Willingham's official retirement date of Sept. 30. She said she and her staff will continue to offer the same customer service and clients may feel free to call if they have any questions. Keith shared some background information about Kiwanis, such as the organization was founded in Detroit, Mich., in 1915 and began accepting women into the club in 1987. The organization's motto is “Serving children of our world.” The Kiwanis-sponsored Parktacular was canceled this year for safety precautions regarding the coronavirus. Proceeds that the club gains, go toward the Kiwanis-sponsored book event that gifts one free book to every Dallas County R-1 School District student in kindergarten through fourth grade. The chamber is still planning for the Buffalo Christmas Parade to take place Dec. 12. The chamber auction is currently in the process of accepting items for the online auction that will go live Oct. 25 and run through Oct. 31. The October Reflex Faithful Members are NRO and Suzie Adams, author. The Chamber Spotlight for October is Mad-dux Realty.

Getting plenty of sleep

BY NICK WARE

I recommend sleep, and it might be basic, but sleep is one of the most important things your body needs, and it doesn't matter if you finish the third season of "Stranger Things." Most adults should have seven to nine hours, and children need nine to 14 hours so they can grow nice and healthy. The reason why you need sleep is because it's good for you mental health.

There were experiments/studies on the effects of staying awake like back in 1959. Peter Tripp stayed up for 201 hours or eight days straight. Peter Tripp sat in a glass box where scientists examined him, and he was pretty happy until the third day where he was cursing out people and hallucinating. After the experiment, Peter said he fully recovered, but his family disagreed with that statement, saying that he still suffered the effects of no sleep.

These are the reasons I recommend sleep unless you want to go through the same pain and suffering as Peter Tripp, because after the experiment he got divorced and lost his job. This is why you should try to get sleep every day to stay healthy.

The open house will take place at 926 W. Dallas St., Buffalo. There will be refreshments and a sign-up for door prizes.

Online-only auction will benefit Buffalo chamber of commerce

A radio auction used to take place every year to benefit the Buffalo Area Chamber of Commerce. This tradition helped raise important funds for the annual expenses of the chamber. This year the chamber is starting a new tradition.

The chamber has teamed up with R&R Auction Service to do an online-only Internet auction the last week of October from Oct. 25-31. Someone from the R&R Auction Service staff might contact area business during the next couple weeks for a donation. This online-only auction on the R&R Auction website is linked and run through HiBid, a worldwide auction platform that will promote businesses to the fullest. Area businesses are asked to think about what they would like to do for this very important fundraising event.

To contact someone directly about making donations for the auction, call the R&R Auction office at (417) 345-4140. This is a very important fundraiser for the chamber, so businesses are asked to pick quality items that will represent their business and promote their products to many new potential customers.

For more information about the chamber, contact Tanya Watson, chamber executive director, at (417) 345-2852 or buffalo chamber@gmail.com.

CLUB NEWS

Buffalo Garden Club

BY JANET K. WOOD,
Buffalo Garden Club president

The Buffalo Garden Club held its September meeting Thursday, Sept. 24, at the O'Bannon Bank Community Room. Those attending were Diana Arendt, Cecilia Dixon, Darlene Dufek, Shirley Hyatt, Mary Krause, Thelma Kurtz, Pam Meyer, Debbie Miles, Liz Van Dee and Janet Wood.

The roll call question was, "What was the best garden-related gift you've ever given or received?" There was a wide variety of answers, such as prunes, garden gloves, yard ornaments and garden wagons.

Janet introduced our guests, Donna Zeller, our district director, and Carol Stephenson, our assistant district director. We also welcomed a new member, Judy Sharpe and her husband, Ralph.

Cecilia presented our treasurer's report. We had a successful plant sale Sept. 12. We want to give a thank you to everyone who helped at it and to everyone who came and made it such a success.

Liz presented her report on the display gardens and our Blue Star Memorial. Because of our lack of rain, Liz is planning a watering schedule for the gardens and for the shrubs in the planters along the walking trail. The "Plant it Pink" garden at the Blue Star Memorial is looking very good. We need to plan for a wet spring and how we can divert all the water from the garden during a rainy spring. Liz will begin to prep the display gardens for winter.

Liz reported on the Sept. 12 plant sale. Because of COVID-19, we decided to hold the sale outside. Calvary Chapel offered us the use of the covered pavilion. This location was perfect, and we had a very successful sale. We want to thank all those who donated plants to the club to sell, as well as all those who came and purchased plants.

Janet introduced our guests Donna Zeller, our district director, and Carol Stephenson, our assistant district director. Donna presented Janet with awards for the club, also the selected posters from the Smokey Bear/Woodsy Owl poster contest. Donna also gave us the dates for special meetings for 2021.

After a short break, we had our annual seed exchange. Our members brought a variety of their seeds to share. We had seeds from hibiscus plants and iris, also echinacea and Shasta daisy. We always look forward to this meeting, as it expands our gardens. We also benefited from the end-of-the-season garden produce from our member Diana.

Thelma presented the bird report on the dark-eyed junco. It is a fascinating bird that shows up only at winter, and it is some of our ground feeders. A small bird, it is similar to the chickadee. The junco can be seen under our feeders in small flocks. The junco doesn't nest in Missouri. In winter the whole flock will roost in a tree, often a conifer for protection from the weather.

Debbie presented the plant report on the "walking iris" (Neomarica), also known as the Twelve Apostles. This is a beardless iris that blooms off and on from spring to fall. It prefers to grow in partially shady areas with four to six hours of direct morning sun. They are not drought-tolerant and want a uniformly moist soil. A lovely addition to any garden.

Garden tips:

- Stuff dog hair down a mole or vole hole. They hate the smell and should leave the area. Will need to replenish after a heavy rain.
- Mix sand and a little oil (WD-40) or a cheap cooking oil, put mixture in a container and shove your cleaned yard and garden tools in it for the winter to prevent rust and damage.

Addendum: In a precautionary move, the garden club will not meet in October. We will be back in January 2021. Thank you to everyone for their support.

‘Buy Missouri Week’ is recognized Oct. 10-17

For the third consecutive year, Lt. Gov. Mike Kehoe will promote “Buy Missouri Week” throughout the state Oct. 10-17. As designated by the legislature, Buy Missouri Week is designed to encourage residents to purchase Missouri-made products in support of local producers and manufacturers.

“Buy Missouri Week promotes products manufactured right here in Missouri,” Kehoe said. “When we buy Missouri-made products, we support our friends, family and neighbors who work at and own these businesses. One of the most important lessons we have learned during this challenging time is that Missouri must be resilient and self-reliant, which is why it is important to continue promoting and growing the Buy Missouri program.”

Gov. Mike Parson pioneered the Buy Missouri initiative as lieutenant governor in 2017. While in the Senate, Kehoe sponsored Senate Bill 891, establishing the Buy Missouri program and Buy Missouri Week. It was signed into law, having received overwhelming bipartisan support in both legislative chambers.

Missouri History through the Art of Our State Capitol

Written by Bob Priddy

Civil War

“This means war.”

Three words that took two seconds or less to say by Union Brigadier General Nathaniel Lyon ended a June 11, 1861, conference in St. Louis with Missouri Governor Claiborne F. Jackson and his military aide, former governor Sterling Price. The two had hoped to convince Lyon to withdraw United States troops from Missouri. In return, Jackson promised to disband his state militia.

But Jackson had advocated Missouri joining with southern states that were forming a confederacy, and Lyon knew Jackson’s proposal would not leave Missouri as neutral territory but would instead allow “secret and subtle measures” supporting the South. Lyon refused to let the state dictate conditions to the federal government.

Jackson and Price returned to Jefferson City that evening. That night, Jackson called for thousands of soldiers to repel an invasion of Missouri by the federal government and left Jefferson City, never to return.

A few days later, Union troops moved into Jefferson City and occupied it for the rest of the war. Remaining members of a special convention called to decide if Missouri should secede — the convention saw no reason to do so — re-convened, declared the governor’s office vacant and appointed Hamilton Gamble as acting governor. Lyon’s union forces overwhelmed the confederate state militia at Boonville and pursued the southern troops as they headed toward Arkansas.

The first major battle of the Civil War west of the Mississippi was at Wilson’s Creek, south of Springfield, on Aug. 10, 1861, the 40th anniversary of Missouri statehood. Price’s troops, supplemented by confederate soldiers from Arkansas, outnumbered Lyon’s troops two-to-one. The fierce six-hour battle cost Lyon his life and left 2,500 soldiers from both sides killed, wounded or missing. Although the Confederates won the battle, they were left so weakened they could not follow the Union army’s retreat.

The Confederate troops marched north and captured Lexington but had to retreat in the face of a large union army sent out from St. Louis. By 1862, Jackson and Price were in Arkansas, running a government in exile. Jackson died in 1862, and the Confederate capital of Missouri eventually was in Texas.

The South never could regain control of Missouri after those early successes. The Confederate cause for most of the remaining years of the war was carried by guerrillas, or “bushwhackers” as they were called, such as William Clarke Quantrill, “Bloody Bill” Anderson and George Todd, who led raids known for their brutality. Union soldiers countered with brutal responses. Towns were burned, civilians and soldiers alike were massacred. The last organized Confederate effort to reclaim Missouri ended with the Battle of Westport in 1864.

Missourians served with the Confederate Army, an estimated 5,000 of whom died in battle.

Missouri counted more than 1,200 battles and skirmishes. Only Virginia and Tennessee had more. The war’s end did not end the killing in Missouri. Bushwhackers and outlaws who had tasted violence for the first time during the war wrote bloody new chapters in our history for more than two decades afterwards.

Many of those battle sites are state or national historic sites today, peaceful reminders that once there was a time when Missouri was a terrible killing ground.

Some numbers tell part of the story of Missouri’s division and Missouri’s suffering. Sixty percent of the Missouri men eligible for military service fought for one side or the other, a figure unmatched by any other state. Missouri sent 110,000 troops to the United States Army, of which 14,000 were killed. Forty-thousand

Portrait of a friend will hang in place of honor

Wiley Ross paints a tribute to Nick Hostler

BY STEVE JOHNSON
stevej@buffaloreflex.com

Grandmothers like to brag. Just ask Rosie Troutman of Buffalo. She is proud of the part her grandson, Wiley Ross, played in the recent dedication to his schoolmate and friend, the late Nick Hostler.

Ross participated in a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new Mr. Nick’s Inclusive Playground at McBride Elementary School in Springfield on Oct. 7. A large portrait of Hostler, painted by Ross, was unveiled at the event. The painting will be displayed at McBride Elementary for a term and then will hang in a special place of honor at Hostler’s parents’ home.

“The likeness of Nick in Wiley’s painting is remarkable,” Jody (Troutman) Ross said. “It looks just like him, the way we remember him.”

Hostler was only 35 when he died of a heart attack in 2018. He was a special education teacher at McBride and lived with the dream of a special playground that started out with an inclusive swing for his students.

After Nick died, his parents, Gil and Mary Kay Hostler, decided to make his dream a reality. The Springfield community raised more than $400,000 for the project. The inclusive playground features easy-access ramps and equipment for children of all abilities — such as zip line swings and a ground-level merry-go-round.

Another way that Nick Hostler’s legacy will live on is through the life-like portrait that his friend Wiley Ross painted for Nick’s parents.

Ross and Hostler became instant friends when they were 5-year-olds taking gymnastics together. They remained friends all through their school years. Ross included some of his memories of their high school days together in the background of the portrait.

Ross, who was born and raised in Springfield, now lives in Austin, Texas, with his daughter Veda. He is the son of Buffalo High School alumna Jody (Troutman) Ross and the grandson of Rosie and the late Herb Troutman of Buffalo. Ross’ talents extend beyond his visual art abilities of painting murals and portraits; he is also a musician and songwriter.

Once a member of the band Street Light Suzie, the guitarist left the band not wanting to spend so much time on the road away from home touring. His mom said he has penned several new songs since the beginning of the CO-VID-19 pandemic.

Ross also creates one-of-a-kind bleached T-shirts. Some of his huge murals adorn the sides of buildings in Austin and have been featured on television, such as the one he painted of Willie Nelson that appeared as the background for a televised concert. To view some of Ross’ murals and paintings, go to his website at wileycross.com.

Painting the portrait of his friend Nick Hostler was a project that had special meaning to Ross.

“For Nick to have a playground for children of all abilities named after him, says a lot about the person he was,” Ross said. “He was the kind of person who had a way of making everyone feel special. I’m glad I got to honor such a great person with a special portrait for his family.”

Both Elliott and Matthews were wearing seat belts.

Early childhood center is named in honor of Mallory

Springfield Public Schools held a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially celebrate the naming of the Mallory Early Childhood Center on Oct. 2. Since opening almost 10 years ago, the facility had been known as Shining Stars Early Childhood Center.

When naming the newly constructed Adah Fulbright Early Childhood Center, the SPS School Board agreed it would be appropriate to change the name of Shining Stars and formally recognize another education advocate. That leader was Dr. Arthur Mallory, formerly of Buffalo.

Mallory served as Missouri commissioner of education for 18 years. During his tenure, Missouri developed and implemented an early childhood education program that served as a model for other states. In addition, he oversaw the creation and concept of Parents as Teachers, and he guided the development of special education legislation in Missouri.

Outside the main doors to the facility bearing his name, he spoke fondly of his work in education throughout his life and the promises that education provides.

“When I look at a school building, I see a promise ... that in that building the children and young people attending will have a safe and clean place to go to school,” Mallory said. “We also promise that in that building, we will provide an educational program to suit the needs of all the children of all the people. It is a promise that when a child enters our schools, they are going to find care.”

Longtime friend of Mallory and Springfield School Board member Gerry Lee spoke at the ceremony, reflecting on the board of education’s priority to expand services to Springfield’s youngest learners.

“We have tried to demonstrate that commitment by allocating funds and resources for expanding early childhood education,” Lee said. “We hope that this building, bearing Dr. Mallory’s name, will stand as a reminder to each of us to continue this important work.”

Lady Bison defeat Warsaw, lose to El Do and Strafford

Buffalo’s volleyball team defeated Warsaw 25-16, 25-19, 25-22 Thursday, Oct. 8 in a Ozark Highlands Conference match.

“We played well against Warsaw,” said Coach Carmen Smith. “This was our second match up with them, and the girls knew going in they were going to have to show up to play and that Warsaw would not give up easily.”

She emphasized that the team passed well and got its offense working.

“We were very pleased with the efforts on the court by everyone,” Smith said.

Caitlyn Dugan and Andrea Brown led the attack with eight kills each and Kyra Jacobs had four kills and 13 digs. Elizabeth registered 11 assists, six kills and seven digs. Brooke Jacobs led in assists with 18 while also compiling seven digs and five ace serves. Serenity Gann racked up 18 digs and Anna Wolf had three kills.

On the previous Tuesday the Lady Bison hosted El Dorado Springs, one of the best teams in the area, in a conference match. Buffalo lost 11-25, 16-25, 20-25.

“El Dorado Springs has a tough team,” Smith said. “They are tall and have a few great hitters. We played well, even if the score doesn’t represent that. I was very proud of the girls; we got better each set, and that is all we ask for.”

Brown had six kills and one dig, Western seven kills, five assists and 12 digs, and Dugan three kills and four digs. Gann amassed 17 digs and Kyra Jacobs added two kills and six digs. Brooke Jacobs racked up 13 assists, 10 digs and one ace serve. Caity Mankey added three digs.

On Monday of this week the Lady Bison lost to Strafford 18-25, 18-25, 19-25. Stats had not been compiled at press time.

“Strafford is scrappy and has great hitters,” Smith said. “We played very well, just seem to hit a wall around the 15-point mark each game. We had a hard time finishing points and giving them too many chances to hit at us without putting up a solid block.”

She added that the Buffalo defense got sucked in too many times and left big holes at the end of each set.

“They are a smart team and put the ball where it needed to go,” Smith said. “We had some great moments in each set, and I am proud of the girls. We just have to learn to be extra aggressive sometimes instead of trying to play safe.”

The Lady Bison were scheduled to play at Bolivar last night (Tuesday) and will host Butler on Monday, Oct. 19 in a conference match.

the tourney, losing only to Pleasant Hope by two points in each set.

Fair Grove started pool play with a 25-14, 25-16 victory over Lockwood, then pounded Diamond 25-13, 25-16. The Lady Eagles split a pair of matches with Crane, losing 21-25 and winning 25-21.

In bracket play Fair Grove defeated Conway 25-21, 27-25 and in the semifinals lost to Pleasant Hope 26-28, 23-25. In the third-place contest Fair Grove beat Crane 25-17, 25-21.

Kameron Green amassed 45 kills during the tourney and Macee McAtee had 69 assists. Chloe Reynaud had 49 digs and Lauren Kennard had four blocks. Sarah Beals racked up 15 ace serves.

The Lady Eagles hosted Strafford Thursday in a Mid-Lakes Conference match and lost 22-25, 21-25, 17-25. Hannah Maxwell had seven kills and four aces; McAtee had 15 assists; Beals had 11 digs and Kennard had one block.

Fair Grove was scheduled to play at Bolivar on Tuesday, Oct. 6, but the Bolivar team was under quarantine, so the match was postponed. It will be played this Thursday, Oct. 15. The Lady Eagles also were scheduled to play at New Covenant last night (Tuesday).

Fair Grove’s next home match will be Monday, Oct. 19 against Clever in a MLC contest.

Macks Creek baseball team picks up first win of the season

It's also the last game of the fall season

Macks Creek's fall baseball team struggled through 13 straight losses, but finished the season on a good note with a 11-9 win at Crocker on Friday. Crocker also was winless going into the game and finished 0-12.

The game was tied 1-1 at the end of the first inning, but the Pirates broke loose with four runs in the top of the second. Preston Borgmeyer and Hunter Harris each singled to right field, and Keith Edelman hit a ball to the shortstop, whose throw to third base was dropped, loading the bases.

A strikeout combined with a wild pitch resulted in Borgmeyer scoring and Harris moving to third. Grant English then smacked his second single of the game to score Harris. Olivier Sanchez then got his first varsity hit, a single scoring Edelman. English later scored on Tanner Smith's fly ball to centerfield that was dropped. Sanchez was gunned down at home plate trying to score, but Macks Creek led 5-1.

In the top of the third Borgmeyer led off the inning with a double to right center and eventually came around to score on Edleman's two-out single to center, giving the Pirates a 6-1 advantage.

Crocker closed the gap to 6-4 in the bottom of the third.

Macks Creek answered with two more runs in the fourth. Sanchez reached second on an error by the shortstop. Tanner Smith's double with one out moved Sanchez to third before Ethan English's ground out scored Sanchez. Smith later scored on Borgmeyer's third hit, a single to left center, which increased Macks Creek's lead to 8-4.

Crocker scored one run in the bottom of the fourth, but Macks Creek came right back with a run in the top of the fifth. Grant English tripled under the glove of a diving left fielder and scored on a double by Tanner Smith.

The Lions responded with three runs in the bottom of the fifth, but the Pirates still led 9-8. In the top of the sixth Harris singled to right with one out and moved to second when Edelman's slow roller up the third baseline was misplayed by the pitcher. A wild pitch moved both runners up a base before Grant English's single brought Harris home for a 10-8 lead.

Crocker tallied a run in the bottom of the sixth to make it 10-9, but Macks Creek scored an insurance run in the top of the seventh on an RBI infield hit by Ethan English to make it 11-9.

Crocker loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh, but relief pitcher Sanchez worked his way out of a jam with two strikeouts and a pop up, so Macks Creek won 11-9. Tanner Smith was the winning pitcher and Sanchez got the save.

"It's been a long fall and we've seen progress as a group," said Macks Creek coach Jason Trusty. "Our goal was to build through this season in preparation for the spring. We now head into the off-season with a little momentum and will look at things we can do to make our unit better."

Fair Grove's Luke Buescher takes eighth at Pleasant Hope

Fair Grove freshman Luke Buescher placed eighth among 90 runners at the Pleasant Hope Invitational Cross Country Meet (5,000 meters) Oct. 6 with a time of 19:16.54. The winning time of 16:43.14 was posted by Spokane's Sam Shuman.

Fair Grove's Braden Booth finished 38th and teammate Hunter Lambeth came in 49th.

There were 55 runners in the girls division, and Fair Grove's highest finisher was Caitlyn Wilson at 38th.

In the boys middle school race (2,400 meters), the Eagles' Nolen Geitz placed third among 46 runners with a time of 10:28.32. The winning time of 9:54.50 was posted by Carson Smith of Willow Springs.

Atticus Brandes of Fair Grove finished 10th and teammate Macklen Johnson came in 15th. Wes Buescher placed 28th.

In the girls race that included 56 runners, Fair Grove's top finisher was Willow Buescher at 18th, and Elizabeth Taylor was 33rd,

Lighthouse Christian tests Skyline, but Tigers come out on top 40-27

Team next travels to Warsaw on Friday

BY ANDREW C. JENKINS
andrewj@buffaloreflex.com

As opposed to several runaway games the Skyline football team has had earlier this year, the Tigers were tested by Lighthouse Christian on Friday, Oct. 9, at Skyline. The teams were neck-and-neck through most of the first half, until in the last 30 seconds of the second quarter, Ricky Woodhouse scored a touchdown on a 78-yard kickoff return, allowing Skyline to pull away from a 20-20 tie.

This last-minute touchdown was just the infusion of energy Skyline needed, and the Tigers came back from halftime with an added pep in their step, ultimately claiming a 40-27 victory.

Lighthouse Christian struck first in the first quarter on the Chargers first possession. With a little less than nine minutes left in the first, the Chargers scored on a 7-yard run and then followed that up with a successful extra-point kick. This put Lighthouse Christian ahead 7-0.

Skyline answered during the Tigers' next possession. The Tigers started out at their own 20-yard line, and from there, runs by Trey Swearingin, and passes from quarterback Lawson Beem to Jaytin DeFreece, Zack Williams and Antonio Irizarry advanced Skyline all the way to the Chargers' 7. Beem connected with Williams again on an 7-yard touchdown pass. With three minutes left in the first quarter, Skyline was behind just one point at 7-6.

Lighthouse Christian's quarterback was adept at zigzagging past Skyline's defense down the field, but the Tigers defense — such as Seth Cox, Sam Fillipi, Ty Pinon, DeFreece, Mason Butler, Woodhouse, Mason Beck, Brylie Turner, Irizarry, Williams, Kourt Cheek and Cameron Adams — banded together to hamper the Chargers as much as possible.

In the second quarter, after a Lighthouse Christian punt set the Tigers up at the Chargers' 41-yard line, passes from Beem to DeFreece and Woodhouse, as well as a run by Woodhouse, helped put Skyline within just 11 yards of another touchdown. Woodhouse did the honors with a jaunt to the end zone, and with that, the Tigers were up 12-7 with a little more than six minutes remaining in the second.

Just three minutes later, Lighthouse Christian answered with another touchdown run. This gave the Chargers a 13-12 advantage with about three minutes remaining in the quarter.

With a minute and a half left in the first half, Skyline scored another touchdown, after an earlier run by Swearingin and a pass from Beem to Williams helped advance the Tigers to the Chargers' 23-yard line. Beem connected with Irizarry for a touchdown, and then Beem threw to Williams for the two-point conversion, which was good. This gave Skyline a 20-13 advantage.

With just 35 seconds left in the game, the Chargers managed a touchdown pass and a successful extra-point kick, tying things up at 20 all.

Thirty seconds was plenty of time for the Tigers to score again, however, before the first half ended. Woodhouse caught Lighthouse Christian's kickoff and returned the ball 78 yards for another touchdown. Maryn Curnett's extra-point kick was good, and the Tigers had a 27-20 advantage going into halftime.

This seemed to give Skyline a morale boost, and about halfway through the third quarter, the Tigers scored again. Passes from Beem to Bradyn Porter, Irizarry and Williams, and a run by Swearingin moved the line of scrimmage from the Tigers' own 26-yard line to the Chargers' 29. From there, Swearingin scored on a touchdown run. With a little less than seven minutes left in the third, Skyline pulled further ahead 33-20.

The teams kept each other stalled for the last part of the third and the first part of the fourth quarter, but Skyline padded its lead with about six and a half minutes remaining in the game. A lousy punt by Lighthouse Christian put the Tigers just 16 yards from the end zone. Swearingin ran the ball up to the Chargers' 8-yard line, and from there, Swearingin then pushed through the defense to score again. Curnett added another extra-point kick in, and Skyline was up 40-20.

The Chargers managed to score once more in the game with a little less than four minutes remaining, which put them behind 40-27, with the extra-point kick. However, Skyline hung on for the win.

On offense, Beem passed for 251 yards and two touchdowns. Swearingin rushed for 148 yards, Woodhouse for 34 yards, and Beem for 26 yards. Williams made 10 receptions for 128 yards, DeFreece had five receptions for 42 yards, Porter and Irizarry each had three receptions for 37 yards, and Woodhouse had one reception for 7 yards.

On defense, DeFreece had seven and a half tackles and one sack; Williams, six and a half tackles; Woodhouse, five tackles; Irizarry, four and a half tackles and one sack; Fillipi, three tackles; Swearingin and Cheek, two and a half tackles each; Turner, two and a half tackles and 2 sacks; Pinon and Cox, two tackles each; Mason Butler and Azlen Metscher, one and a half tackles each; Beck, one tackle and two sacks; and Adams, one tackle.

Skyline (6-1) next travels to Warsaw (3-0) on Friday, Oct. 16. Several of Warsaw's earlier games this season were canceled.

The Bison are back

Buffalo defeats Eagles 44-30, Central is next

BY PAUL CAMPBELL
paulc@buffaloreflex.com

Jamen Smith is easily the most publicized Buffalo football player in history, and his prominence is well deserved. But Friday night his brother, Jaren, seemed to be saying, “I’m pretty darned good, too.”

Indeed, Smith the younger ran the ball nine times for 99 yards and a touchdown, intercepted two passes and had eight tackles on defense in helping propel Buffalo to a 44-30 win at Fair Grove. The Bison, 5-2, halted a two-game losing skid while at the same time ending Fair Grove’s three-game winning streak. The Eagles are now 4-3.

“Jaren is really a smart player who is fast and tough,” Buffalo coach Ed Phillips said. “He has great vision when he is running the ball.”

Meanwhile, Cameron Portis seemed to be saying, “Hey, I ain’t too bad either.” The speedy junior ran the ball eight times for 109 yards, including a brilliant 66-yard TD run. He also picked off one Fair Grove pass and registered five tackles.

Bode Abraham was ... well, the usual Bode Abraham, catching two passes for 52 yards and two touchdowns, kicking a 27-yard field goal, being flawless on PAT kicks and registering five tackles, including one for a loss.

Exciting highlights for Fair Grove included a kickoff return for a touchdown by Logan Daniels, his second of the season. Quarterback Kody Stacye put up good numbers, completing 21 of 33 passes for 182 yards and rushing 17 times for 81 yards. But the Bison picked off three of his passes, which accounted for three of the Eagles’ five turnovers.

“It’s difficult to beat a good team like Buffalo when you have five turnovers,” Voorhis said.

Phillips emphasized that he was proud of the Bison for overcoming adversity early in the contest. After leading 7-0, the Eagles got a safety, then Daniels had the kickoff runback for an 8-7 lead. This was followed by a fumble recovery by Fair Grove.

Buffalo’s defense also played well after giving lackluster performances the prior two weeks.

“Our defensive linemen and linebackers really improved,” Phillips said. “We challenged them all week.” Linebacker Logan Horn led the team in tackles with 10, including one for loss, and another linebacker, Michael McDaniel, had nine tackles.

Buffalo’s offense struck first, spurred by a good kickoff return by Jaren Smith to the 49-yard line. Two plays later Jaren got loose for a 46-yard touchdown run, and Abraham’s PAT kick gave the Bison a 7-0 lead less than a minute into the game.

Fair Grove moved the ball on its first possession, but was forced to punt. Stacye’s kick was a beauty, downed at the Buffalo one-yard line. There was a fumble on the next play, and Jamen Smith was able to get off a pass. However, he was cited for intentional grounding, and a safety was awarded to the Eagles, making the score 7-2 with 8:07 remaining in the first quarter.

Following the safety, the Bison had to kick off from their 20, and Daniels promptly ran through the Buffalo defense to the end zone. The two-point conversion failed, so Fair Grove was in front 8-7 with 7:56 left in the first.

On the first play from scrimmage at the 48 following the ensuing short kickoff, the Bison fumbled again and Cooper Roy recovered for the Eagles. The fumble was caused by Sam Sublett. Stacye immediately ran the ball wide left 26 yards to the Bison 20. Two plays later, though, Portis intercepted a pass at the 18 for Buffalo.

At this point the Bison put together a steady, 15-play, 82-yard drive that carried over into the second quarter. Buffalo kept the ball on the ground the whole time, using nearly eight minutes of clock time. Caleb Bennett ultimately scored on a 14-yard run, and Abraham’s PAT kick made it 14-8 with 11:11 remaining in the half. The drive included a fourth-and-one conversion by Jamen Smith at the Bison 44.

The Eagles promptly answered with an equally impressive long drive, traveling 63 yards in 13 plays. Zeke Schaffitzel scored from seven yards out, and the two-point conversion failed, leaving the game tied 14-14 at the 7:31 mark.

Fair Grove was facing a third-and-four situation at its own 22 later in the quarter when Jaren Smith intercepted an Eagles pass and returned it to the 12. The Bison were unable to convert this into a touchdown, but Abraham was good on a 27-yard field goal to give Buffalo a 17-14 advantage with 3:33 remaining in the half. The score remained that way at halftime.

“The first half was the worst our offense has played in several games,” Voorhis said, “and we were still down by only three points.”

The Eagles had turnover problems again early in the second half when Abraham recovered a fumble at the Fair Grove 35.

Portis had a 15-yard jaunt to the 20, and three plays later Jamen Smith scored on an 11-yard dash. With Abraham’s successful kick, the Bison led 24-14 with 7:56 left in the third quarter.

Fair Grove moved the ball well on its next possession and had a touchdown pass called back because of a holding penalty. But with four minutes left in the third, Buffalo took over on downs at its 31. On second down, Portis charged into the left side of the defensive line, looked liked he was going to be tackled, managed to get outside, avoided one tackler and raced down the sideline 66 yards to the end zone.

“Portis has great power and speed,” Phillips said. “If he gets into the secondary there aren’t many people who can catch him.” This touchdown at the 3:09 mark of the third quarter gave Buffalo a 31-14 lead.

On Fair Grove’s next possession the Eagles ran nine plays that covered 53 yards, climaxed by Matt Sutherland’s 10-yard TD run on a reverse. Stacye ran wide left for the two-point conversion. He fumbled, but Schaffitzel recovered in the end zone to make the score 31-22 just 14 seconds into the final quarter.

Fair Grove tried an onside kickoff, but Buffalo recovered at the 50. The Eagles obviously keyed on Jamen Smith, but Jamen still managed to throw two touchdown passes in the fourth quarter. The first one was a 37-yard pass play to Abraham, and Abraham’s PAT kick made the score 38-22 with 10 minutes left.

A roughing-the-passer penalty resulted in Buffalo kicking off from the Fair Grove 45, and Abraham booted it into the end zone. Three plays later Gabe Glor hit Stacye as he threw, which resulted in Jaren Smith’s second interception of the night.

Jamen Smith and Abraham combined again on a 15-yard TD pass play, with Abraham making a great catch barely in bounds in the corner of the end zone. The short drive was aided by a couple of good runs by Portis and a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against the Eagles. The two-point conversion attempt failed, so Buffalo was in front 44-22 with 5:59 left on the clock.

“I thought our offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage most of the time during the second half,” Phillips said.

Kade Gallion ran the ball 14 times for 65 yards and caught seven passes for 71 yards against Buffalo.

For the second straight time, Abraham was able to kick off from the Fair Grove 45 because of a 15-yard penalty. This one was because of a dead-ball foul after the two-point conversion attempt was over. Again, Abraham sailed the ball into the end zone.

The Eagles managed to put more points on the board before the final horn sounded, traveling 80 yards in 13 plays. Schaffitzel ultimately scored from the one-yard line and Stacye passed to Tanner Lumley for the two-point conversion to make the final score 44-30.

There were some outstanding plays during the drive, including when Stacye converted a fourth-and-six play at the 50 with a 22-yard pass play to Lumley to the Bison 28. A long pass to Sublett down the left sideline netted 24 yards to the one.

Tempers flared somewhat during the game, but Phillips was pleased overall how well the Bison kept their composure.

As mentioned, the Eagles keyed on Jamen Smith, but others stepped up to take pressure off of him. Jamen completed four of eight passes for 70 yards and two touchdowns and ran six times for 27 yards and a TD.

Jaren Smith caught one pass for six yards, and Portis also grabbed one pass for 12 yards. Bennett rushed seven times for 30 yards and a TD.

Aside from those already mentioned, Jamen Smith had two solo tackles and Colton White had five assisted. John Jenkins had two solos and four assists and Alex Richardson had six assists. Glor had four solos and five assists, Landon Parker had three assists and Bennet had one solo and four assists.

For Fair Grove, Kade Gallion ran the ball 14 times for 65 yards and caught seven passes for 71 yards. Schaffitzel rushed nine times for 64 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, Sublett caused two fumbles.

Buffalo’s and Fair Grove’s opponents this week have a combined total of one win this season, but both coaches remain cautious because just about anybody can beat anybody on a given night.

Just ask LSU.

The Bison are at home against winless Springfield Central, but Phillips points out that Central is a big school and its team always has a lot of speed.

The Eagles travel to Clever, which is in its first year of varsity football as former Bison coach Jeff Stone has put together the program there. Voorhis emphasized that Clever is much improved and the Blue Jays picked up their first victory last week over Stockton 35-32. Three weeks ago the Blue Jays lost to Pierce City by only four points, 35-31.

“Clever also will be having its first football homecoming game,” Voorhis said.

MDC advises scouting and habitat key for quail and pheasant hunting

With quail and pheasant-hunting season starting Nov. 1, the Missouri Department of Conservation advises hunters that quail production appears higher than this past year while pheasant production appears lower than this past year.

Each August, MDC conservation agents record the numbers of quail and pheasants they see while driving a 30-mile route — called the roadside index. A total of 110 routes are completed across the state. These numbers are then tallied and grouped by eight geographic areas of production — called zoogeographic regions.

“It represents the best way we have to track quail and pheasant populations on a statewide basis,” said MDC resource scientist Beth Emmerich, who manages the August roadside survey. “The survey does a good job of tracking large-scale population changes and is a good barometer for how more localized populations may also be doing from year to year.”

According to MDC, this year’s statewide average roadside index of 2.4 quail per route is 33 percent higher than this past year’s index of 1.8 quail per route. An average of 0.2 pheasants was recorded per route, down 33 percent from this past year’s index of 0.3 pheasants per route.

“Most areas of the state showed moderate increases in quail numbers this year,” Emmerich said. “The bootheel counties (Mississippi Lowlands) were down quite a bit this year, and the Northern Riverbreaks had a slight decline this year, while the six other regions showed decent increases in quail numbers.”

Pheasant numbers were highest in the Northeast Riverbreaks zoogeographic region with 0.5 pheasants recorded per route, followed by the Northern Riverbreaks with 0.3 pheasants per route. The Northwest Prairie region did not record any pheasants this year, compared with 0.3 pheasants per route in 2019.

“Overall mild winter conditions in early 2020 likely contributed to better overwinter survival for birds,” Emmerich said. “While spring began with cool, wet conditions, drier weather prevailed during the nesting season.”

She added that scouting areas for bird hunting is important and habitat is still the key for finding good numbers.

“Quail tend to be in areas with diverse plantings, such as native grasses and forbs with plenty of shrubby cover.”

Hunting seasons for quail and pheasants is Nov. 1 through Jan. 15, 2021. Youth seasons for both quail and pheasant are Oct. 24-25. The daily bag limit for quail is eight with a possession limit of 16. The daily bag limit for pheasant is two male pheasants with a possession limit of four.

Bennett Spring to host owls program Oct. 17

The public is invited to attend a live owl program, presented by the World Bird Sanctuary, at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 17, at Bennett Spring State Park. This program will take place in Shelter B and last about one hour. Attendees will get an up-close view of live owls and learn more about this predator that works the night shift controlling the mouse, rat and frog populations.

Bennett Spring State Park is the home of barred owls that people might hear when camping. This bird of prey has huge eyes unlike any other bird. It can actually view an object from two angles, allowing three-dimensional perception. Although most believe the cute tufts on the owl’s head are functional ears, an owl’s ear opening is actually beneath its downy feathers.

For protection of the birds, no dogs are allowed near the area.

The public is strongly encouraged to follow social-distancing guidelines and be proactive in protecting themselves and others amid ongoing public health concerns. Come prepared with hand sanitizer and bottled water, avoid large and congested crowds, and stay home if sick. Face coverings are encouraged and might be required by local order.

Bennett Spring State Park is at 26250 Highway 64A in Lebanon. For more information about the event, call the nature center at (417) 532-3925.

PAUL CAMPBELL

Joe Biden’s unprecedented, unpredictable rise to the top

In one of the most remarkable and unpredictable political stories in memory, Joe Biden, who at one point was not taken seriously as a presidential candidate, has been leading an incumbent president in the polls for months. Right now it looks as if he is going to be our next president. If you believe the polls.

Frankly, I’ve been totally stunned all along that the Democrats nominated Biden. More often than not, the party nominates a young, charismatic candidate, such as John F. Kennedy, Jimmy Carter, Bill Clinton or Barack Obama.

In 2016 they unsuccessfully nominated an “old guard” candidate and this time they nominated a 77-year-old man who would be the oldest person to enter the presidency. What’s worse, the primary race came down to an over-the-hill “gaaffe machine” and a cranky 76-year-old self-described Democratic Socialist.

The “party of diversity” passed over six women and five people of color in favor of the least articulate candidate in decades. I mean, did you watch Biden during the Democratic debates? If he gets past one sentence, his answers make no sense. Come on, man!

He also can’t draw crowds, and there is zero enthusiasm for him although there is a lot of enthusiasm for defeating President Trump.

Former President Obama and other party leaders convinced Democrats to nominate Biden because they were afraid Bernie Sanders would cause huge losses not only in the U.S. House of Representatives but in state legislatures and local governments across the country. This was before COVID-19 had hit our country hard, and with a 3 1/2 percent unemployment rate and a booming economy, I think the Democratic hierarchy didn’t really expect to win the presidential race.

Presidential candidates usually move toward the middle, policy-wise, after they nail down the nomination, but not Biden. Since winning the prize he has agreed with just about everything on the far-left agenda, and Sanders, AOC and other socialists have been bragging about that fact. He has apologized for his legislative achievements of the past and was even forced to apologize to the leftists for saying Mike Pence is a nice guy.

When COVID began to hit the country hard, Biden’s handlers’ avowed strategy was for the candidate to hide in his basement, not make many public appearances and don’t hold any news conferences or rallies. The overall Democratic Party strategy has been to attack Trump, blame him for COVID deaths, and to remain silent or be vague on most issues.

Remarkably, the strategy has worked! Apparently it is still working; Biden remains ahead in virtually every poll. I really haven’t heard or seen anything that shows what Democrats would have done differently if they had been in charge when COVID hit, but that doesn’t seem to matter.

Biden’s “plan” to fight COVID if he is elected is remarkably similar to what Trump has already done. The main difference is that Biden wants to have some kind of mask mandate across the country. He has said something like, “We can’t get the economy moving again until we get the coronavirus under control.”

What does he actually mean by this? Is he saying Democrats are going to lock down the country? Currently, states that are still basically in lockdown have the highest unemployment rates in the nation and the worst economic growth. Should this situation be imposed on the rest of us?

Trump can’t seem to make any headway when it comes the polls, as there seem to be a lot of people who are plainly tired of him. His poor performance in the debate with Biden didn’t help.

Trump supporters shouldn’t give up, however, because of what happened in 2016 when he won an upset victory. All of the so-called “battlefield” or “swing” state polls seem to be close, and you only have to win a state by one vote to capture all of its electoral votes.

He also has been endorsed by most of the police unions and law enforcement organizations across the country. In addition, I would be surprised if Trump doesn’t do better in areas that have been affected by the riots. He might receive 20 percent or more of the African-American vote.

The Democrats’ increasingly anti-Christian and anti-Semitic stances related to the coronavirus could and should come into play. In-your-face restrictions on religious services (no more than 10 people can gather in a church or synagogue in New York City) are unfair, hypocritical and a violation of religious liberty.

Finally, Republicans don’t trust the mainstream press or polls, so how many are hanging up their phones when the pollsters call? It’s hard to imagine that total being more than 1 or 2 percent of GOP voters, but if the race tightens during the next couple of weeks, that might be enough.

As baseball great Yogi Berra always said, “It ain’t over till it’s over.”

JAMEY HONEYCUTT – GUEST COMMENTARY

A time for choosing ...

Fifty-six years ago, my hero and great American Ronald Reagan delivered a historic speech drawing a clear delineation between conservatism and liberalism at the 1964 Republican Convention in California.

That was back when California would allow any conservative talk south of Yuba City.

Soon after, Reagan would become governor based largely on his introduction through the convention and his speech, “A Time for Choosing,” known popularly as “The Speech.”

I urge you all to watch it as it is preserved, as everything is, on YouTube. It is 29 minutes long, but there are shorter versions that hit the high points if you are time-strapped.

To me it is the clearest contrast between what has become our two-party political system, and it rings just as true today as it did half a century ago. As we approach what I consider the most consequential presidential election since Reagan defeated Carter in 1980, I ask anyone still undecided to watch this speech and then look at the options we are faced with and decide which one most embodies Ronaldus Magnus and his wise words.

Reagan realized that our country was headed for a crossroads back then and painted a clear picture between the two parties as the Cold War raged and America was struggling to define itself in the face of civil rights, the Viet Nam war and a generation gap that divided many in our country.

For that reason, there are many examples why this time in our history is very similar to the mid-’60s and early ’70s. There is division, and our country is split between the conservative views of Reagan and Trump, or the leftist, socialist doctrine of Biden, Harris and their ilk.

It truly is a time for choosing, and there is no place for “fence sitters” or those hiding on the sidelines.

I love this country and truly believe it was founded divinely through our Creator who used the founding fathers as a conduit to establish the most perfect union on the face of the earth. I believe that with all of her flaws, the United States continues to be the last best hope for the survival of the planet and freedom-loving people everywhere.

We have done the most with our power to advance the human condition and have abused that power less than any other country before us in history. Reagan recognized that and pointed it out eloquently in his speech.

The test I flunked

Up until this week, I had never flunked a test. I was one of those kids in high school who poured herself into preparation because I didn’t want to disappoint myself, the teacher or my parents.

That academic devotion helped me get a scholarship to college, the first in my family to get there. I ramped up the dedication level even more once I moved to campus because I knew I had to maintain a high grade-point average to keep that scholarship. During the week of final exams, my mother would often ship me a care package containing snacks, magazines and games along with a note begging me not to overdo it and push myself too hard. She knew my fear of failure could keep me up all night with my nose in a textbook, and she was worried I wouldn’t rest.

So, it’s more than a little ironic that, all these years later, the first test I ever flunked was one designed to measure how well I’m resting at night. Yesterday I got a letter from a sleep specialist who said I flunked my recent “sleep study,” which is an overnight test designed to figure out how many times you briefly stop breathing during the night. The letter said I stopped more than 100 times in one night, which means I really bombed this thing even though I wasn’t even conscious for any of it.

To be honest, the results weren’t a total surprise. Tom has been nagging me for years to do a sleep study, but I always found reasons not to do it. Then our daughter slept in my bed one night during a recent illness so I could take care of her if she woke up sick. But the next morning, it was me she was concerned about.

“Um, Mom ... this is going to sound weird, but I think you might have choked during the night.”

“Really?”

“Yes, that’s what it sounded like.”

“That’s probably not good.”

She shook her head. “Probably not.”

Sometimes it takes a comment from your 13-year-old daughter to persuade you to stop stalling and just admit that you sound like a buzzsaw on the fritz.

I didn’t want to face the ugly truth. I wanted to pretend I’m just like the beautiful women in movies who look like a modern-day Sleeping Beauty, snoozing serenely while the leading man looks on with adoration. Snoring is only supposed to happen to lumberjacks and burly truck drivers, right?

But there was no denying that, for most of the past year, I’ve been waking up in the morning feeling so tired that the first thought that crosses my

Slogans like “America first” and “American Exceptionalism” have been criticized by the left as arrogant and even racist, but Reagan and Trump understood their meaning and the good that a strong and resilient America provides to a world yearning for leadership.

Obama attempted to transition the country into a new world order and an era of globalism where America assumed a diminished role. With the Democrat party sliding further and further to the left under the pressure of self-avowed socialists Bernie Sanders, AOC, Ilhan Omar and Rashida Tlaib, it appears Nancy Pelosi, Chuck Schumer and your father’s Democrat party have little hope of retaining control moving forward.

I know that we are bombarded by fake news and false claims during these heated political times, but I simply ask you to look at what both parties stand for and have accomplished when in power, and then go back and listen to Reagan’s powerful speech.

Whichever appeals to you and the country you want to leave for your children and grandchildren, I encourage you to support.

For me and my family, it is a time for choosing and the choice is crystal-clear.

mind is whether I have time for a nap.

And according to the doctor, sleep apnea can be genetic (both my parents have it), and it can also be caused by a small airway, which my dental hygienist often mentions when she has to use kid-sized tools to clean my teeth. Complicating things further, the doctor says women are more likely to develop worsening sleep apnea as they age, even more so than men (which I say is supremely unfair).

But whether I like it or not, tomorrow I’ll go pick up the air machine the doctor prescribed, with the warning that it might take six months to get used to wearing it at night. I’m not looking forward to looking like I’m making out with a vacuum hose from the car wash. It won’t be attractive.

But these dark circles under my eyes aren’t so cute either. Neither is feeling bone-tired after a full night of sleep or worrying about what that cumulative lack of deep sleep might do to my long-term health.

So maybe if I do my homework and learn how to use the air machine (or find a different treatment that works), I can improve my dismal performance on the flunked test. Because I’d love to get an “A” for “awake” (and rested). Sweet dreams.

OZARKS RFD: JIM HAMILTON

Too few steps to the kitchen

Some folks forced to work from home during this COVID pandemic have discovered it’s not all bad being shut in the house.

For those who can accomplish most of their tasks on a computer or telephone, it’s pretty nice to be able to show up at the “office” in sweatpants, workout T’s and running shoes.

Granted, it can be a mite distracting if the kids are home, and Zoom staff meetings just aren’t quite the same as being in the same room (possibly a good or a bad thing). But, overall, the adjustments are a fair trade for missing morning and evening traffic and travel time to work.

Being retired, though, and with no kids at home, I don’t notice much difference in my work routine under COVID-19.

I’ve been working from home for several years as a freelance writer, and I confess I’ve become pretty used to setting my own routine — or having none at all. It’s called “retirement,” which isn’t quite the same as doing nothing. It is a comfort, though, to have retirement income — even something so meager as a Social Security check — rather than face trying to keep a job or business going during this pandemic.

I know for the majority of the workforce, working at home is not an option. Even we writers can’t entirely hide at home. We have to go places and talk to people to have anything to write about. But, thanks to today’s computer technology, more folks than ever are able to work at home, and many may find it makes them even more productive than going into an office every day.

I, for one, have no desire to ever again punch a time clock on an office wall. This so-called “retirement” has ruined me.

But, I have discovered one unanticipated pitfall to working at home — I’m way too close to the kitchen and all the comforts it provides. I don’t need a break to get coffee, last night’s apple pie is still on the counter, chocolate chip cookies are just as handy, lunchtime doesn’t have to wait for the noon whistle — or even come only once a day.

And writing takes more energy than you might imagine. Frequent fortification is often required to restore waning literary inspiration. Or, as a sailor might put it, “Any port in a storm,” and for me that port is too few steps from my desk.

To exacerbate the temptations, under COVID-19, many public eating places have been closed, and even if open far less attractive with the threat of contracting the virus. On rare occasions these past few months, we have ordered takeout just to get something we can’t do as well at home — like Dairy Queen’s onion rings, for example. But, as a rule, we’re cooking every day.

So, as the pandemic has evolved, every day I’m planning lunch and supper. I wake up thinking about what I need to thaw out for supper, how I might fix it and when to start it.

That’s not really a new thing. Before finding a newspaper career, I cooked and managed in four different restaurants, from a steak house to a country club. I’m quite comfortable in the kitchen, but to paraphrase a fellow I saw on a TV barbecue competition, “I’m not a chef nor a pitmaster; I’m just a guy who learned how to not burn everything.”

So, how is that a problem?

The trouble is I have tons of accumulated essays and stories I should be compiling and polishing for publications. I have new stories I want to write, files I need to organize and closets I need to purge. I’m supposed to be a writer.

But, I’m also a pretty decent meat and potatoes cook, and stewing an old rooster can be as intriguing as writing a farm feature — and the reward much more immediate.

Not only do I like to cook, I like to eat what I cook, and I’d be healthier if I didn’t.

Winter’s coming on, looks like we’re going to be locked down by COVID for the duration, and I’ll not be getting nearly as much exercise with no grass to mow or green beans to hoe.

You see where this is going.

Could be it has nothing at all to do with COVID or retirement.

I’ve long been plagued by too few steps to the kitchen.

Reckon I always will be.

Macks Creek

BY PAT STOUFER

There are many in our area who are ill. I hope everyone gets to feeling better. There are many people in the Macks Creek area being tested for COVID-19. I have not been told how the tests came out. There was no church at the First Baptist Church Macks Creek the past two Sundays. Jeannie Dawson had surgery Sept. 28; she’s back home. Jeannie and Lavon Dawson’s great-grandson celebrated his first birthday recently.

Fall weather is wonderful, with the changing colors of all the leaves. It looks like God has taken his wonderful paintbrush and painted the fall in. Many people think fall is the best time of the seasons; I think spring is the best. I like to see the trees, flowers and things come alive. I think fall is the things dying.

Last Sunday, 75-year-old Rocky Evans and his wife, Hanna Evans, walked into the Branch Assembly of God Church. They are from Arizona. Rocky’s uncle, the Rev. Bill Evans, started the church many years ago. Today, I had them over for a sandwich lunch and was able to visit to get their story. They used to live in Idaho, then Arizona. They sold their home in Arizona and started east to find a small place they could put their motor home on. They continued east until they arrived in Camdenton and parked their motor home. They are looking for a place to buy.

Along the way, they are meeting cousins, second cousins and other family members. He knew from his birth certificate that he was born in Branch, Mo. When Rocky was 3 months old, his parents took the family of three girls and two boys and went to Washington state. I met Rocky and Hanna last week when he was driving by my sister’s home on West Branch Road. He said he was born at Branch, Mo. I said, yes, I remember seeing you when you were just a few days old. I was a friend to his older two sisters. I explained where I thought he was born. Well, today I showed him the house where he was born. It was as he said: “Mom said it was a white house on top of the hill.” We visited, and they both said God must have been the reason they kept driving east, to Branch, Mo. Oh yes, Branch once had three grocery stores, a post office, a church on West Branch Road. The old saying many old-timers I knew as a girl would have said, “The chickens have come home to roost.”

Tonight, the Branch Assembly of God Church was praying as they did last Sunday night for God to send them a minister; they need to be able to fill the church again. God has a plan for each of our lives.

On Oct. 17, the third Saturday of the month, the Good Samaritan Center will be open until noon.

Good news from Leesa Davis — Davis Baskets has sold. The buyers’ first project will be turning the Dari Den into a bait and tackle shop, with many other good things to follow — a restaurant, antique mall, wood-working shop, etc. Davis Baskets will continue to be open Sunday, Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 3, selling everything at 50 percent off. The main building must be vacated in six months.

Ballparks National is having a Grand Opening Fall Festival on Saturday, Oct. 17, from 4 to 10 p.m., and on Sunday, Oct. 18, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 480 Kissick Way, just east of Macks Creek on U.S. 54. On Saturday, the Ribbon Cutting Ceremony is at 5 p.m., and starting at 5:30 p.m., there will be Palasota’s Place barbecue, the beer garden opens and bonfire for s’mores. After dark, there will be fireworks and a DJ — Matt from Bear Bottom Resort. On Sunday there will be face painters, balloon artist, tricycle races, corn pit, bounce houses, giant slide, hayride, pumpkin painting, vendors booths, Palasota’s Place barbecue and more. This is a free event, open to the public and teams. Bring your lawn chairs.

Happy birthday to Tucker Pippen, Barbara (Parrack) Keltner, Trace Hicks, Josh Phillips, Lisa Wert, Taylor Rich, Amanda Hanson, Lovetta Bartell, Leon Dawson, Rowan Summers, Wendell Smith and Cecily Wilkensen. Happy anniversary to Wally and Cindy Churbonneau.

The weatherman says this is the last pretty week. Do you have all your outside work done, such as draining hoses, getting stoves ready for heat, etc.? If not, work hard to get ahead of the weather.

Rader

BY DIANE WHITWER

This was a week for visitors in the Rader area. Phil Timmerman, Dixie Leonard and Shirley Reid were all at the home of Leona Medlock during this past week. Kourtney Burnett was at the Larry and Kathryn Langdon home, and Lenny and Drake Proctor came from Washington state to visit Jim and Diane Whitwer.

Leona Medlock, Bertha Terry and Marjorie Welch had quite a fright when they went to the Morgan Store on Saturday. It seems Penny decorated for Halloween, and some of those decorations were a bit scary.

Saturday was the day of the annual Tractor Drive. Farmers on their tractors went from Conway to Rader, over to Morgan on Orchid Road, and then back to Conway. It is quite a sight to see.

The Lutheran Women’s Fall Rally will be Saturday at St. Paul’s Lutheran Church in Marshfield starting at 9:30. There will be a short business session, speakers from each organization, and donations will be accepted for the Pregnancy Center in Marshfield. A salad and dessert lunch will be served at noon.

Eureka Methodist will have its trunk or treat night on Oct. 17 starting at 4:30, and Immanuel Lutheran will have its hayride starting at 4:30 on Oct. 25. The hayride will be followed by roasting hot dogs, a costume parade and then trunk or treat in the church parking lot.

The quarterly voters meeting at Immanuel will be immediately after the morning service at Immanuel on Oct. 18.

The Helping Hand quilters will have their calendars available for sale the first week of November. Call Leona Medlock if you wish to have one reserved for you. They are $5 each.

Please add Lewis Rader to your prayer list as he recovers from eye surgery, and Barb Medlock remains in Cox Hospital. There are several others who are recovering from a 24-hour flu bug, and the fall weather is bringing sniffles, allergies and the old-fashioned colds to the area.

May God richly bless each of you this week.

MARILYN SMITH — A TALE OR TWO

Cashew chicken memories

David Wing Yin Leong, renowned inventor of Springfield-style cashew chicken, passed away July 21, 2020. Shortly after his death, several tributes were published about this very nice man.

I frequented both Leongs locations, the earlier one on Sunshine and the current one on Republic Road. I only ate at The Grove one time, and did not have cashew chicken, I wish I had. If I had, I would have been addicted much sooner.

His cashew chicken is the best. I have his recipe. I obtained it way back 50-plus years ago from a cousin, who got it from his daughter (I believe) while they were attending SMS (now MSU). I make my sauces a bit different, but my chicken pieces are coated and fried the same as he does or did. I'll share the recipes a bit later.

I definitely remember the first time I made it. We were living in the house on Highway 125. Before that meal was complete, every dish and pan in my kitchen was dirty. But oh, was the meal delicious.

I fixed cashew chicken, sweet and sour chicken, fried rice and hot tea for the entire Smith relatives one time. They, of course, enjoyed it, but man oh man it was nerve-racking. I've even got two sets of Chinese teacups with tea pots to match. I'm telling you, I did it up right.

In the mid- to late 1960s to the early 1970s, I worked at Guaranty Federal, on the corner of Jefferson and Walnut. Me and a couple or three girls went to Leongs for lunch quite often. One time, Carol Guard Clark and I decided to have a mixed drink with our meal. When we got ready to head back to work, Carol, driving a little Volkswagen, asked if I thought she could drive through the signposts.

I said, "I don't know, let's try it," thinking she really wasn't serious. She drove right through those posts, and let me tell you they were pretty close together. Another time, she was driving us ladies back to work, and we were on Fremont where cars were parked along both sides, resulting in a narrow passageway. She joked about not having on her glasses. We didn't think too much about it, but we found out later she was required to wear glasses while driving.

One of the times the three of us ladies were at Leongs, Joe Hayes, one of our customers, bought our lunch. He was a nice fellow.

Mary West, one of the ladies we worked with, retired in Arizona. She couldn't get egg drop soup or cashew chicken where she lived. In fact, she ordered what the menu said was cashew chicken, and what came was slimy chicken. But she made sure we girls went out to lunch with her on visits back here, to Leongs, of course. She developed a shaky hand, and the last time we ate together, one of the other ladies fed her the bowl of soup. Oh, what memories.

My mother and sister Carol Ann also liked to eat there. It was our habit to treat whoever was having a birthday. Most often, when asked what restaurant, it was Leongs.

The following recipes are in my cookbook, "Ozarks Recipes, Momma's Mine and Others'."

Cashew Chicken: 2 whole chicken breast, flour, milk, egg, peanut oil, chopped green onions and cashews. Bone and remove skin from chicken breast, to be used in making a rich broth for sauce. Cut the raw breast meat into bite-sized pieces. Dry roll in alternate dishes of flour, milk and egg, ending with a final coating of flour. Deep fry until golden brown in peanut oil. Place in warm oven set at 250 degrees for approximately 15 minutes. The last 5 minutes, sprinkle with chopped green onions and cashews. Immediately upon removal from oven, drizzle with the following sauce.

Sauce for Cashew Chicken: 1 cup rich chicken broth, salt and pepper to taste, 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1/4 cup cold water and 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Put chicken broth in saucepan and season with salt and pepper. Add soy sauce (it should be a rich golden-brown color). Bring to a boil and add the cornstarch that has been dissolved in cold water, continue cooking until thick and clear.

Sauce for Sweet and Sour Chicken: 1 cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, bite-size pieces of green bell pepper, bite-size pieces of red bell pepper, pineapple chunks, maraschino cherries, Chinese sliced carrots and Chinese sliced celery. Mix the cold pineapple juice with the cornstarch until dissolved. Add brown sugar, vinegar and soy sauce. Put the above mixture in a nonstick saucepan and bring to a boil, reduce heat and continue cooking until thick and clear. Add remaining ingredients and bring to a bubbly hot stage — cooking only to the "almost" done stage, then pour over cooked chicken. When making sweet and sour chicken, omit green onions and cashews.

Fried Rice: 1 cup long grain rice, cold chicken broth (in place of water for cooking rice), 1 teaspoon salt, 6 or 8 slices bacon, fried and crumbled, 1/2 cup diced green bell pepper, 1/2 cup diced red bell pepper, 1/2 cup diced carrots, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup diced green onions, 1 cup diced cooked chicken, and soy sauce. Combine rice, broth and salt in a fairly heavy 2-quart pan. Cook rice according to package directions. Put small amount of bacon grease in wok or large nonstick skillet, and add all remaining ingredients. Stir fry until heated through sufficiently, and vegetables are done to perfection. Drizzle soy sauce over until entire mixture turns a light brown. Serve immediately for best results.

Or go to Leongs, and let them do the cooking, serving and dishwashing.

Buffalo Reflex wins 3 state-level awards

This week in Dallas County history as recorded in the Buffalo Reflex.

Oct. 13, 1960

The appointment of Lawrence L. Holt, of the Holt Monument Co., Buffalo, to the President's Council of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce was announced. State Chamber of Commerce President John P. Miller stated in appointing Holt to membership on the council that the "Key Man Organization" was created to marshal the best thinking of top business leaders in every county in the state and to provide a two-way channel of communication between the officers of the state chamber and the members of the state.

Area deaths included George E. Jennings, Uly Roy, Mable Price, John W. Franklin and Albert R. Porter.

Oct. 15, 1970

A mail referendum on 1971 crop wheat marketing quotas was announced by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin. In the absence of new legislation for the 1972 wheat crop, the law required that the referendum be held. However, a second congressional action could take place at any time prior to the start of the referendum Oct. 12. Individual allotment notices were mailed to about 1.6 million people holding an interest in established farm wheat allotments. Signed ballots needed to be mailed or delivered to the county offices by Oct. 15, 1970. Preliminary results of the referendum were to be compiled and announced Oct. 20.

Area deaths included Flossie Thompson, Clyde Gann, Leslie Woodall, Mrs. Russell Shaffer, Katie E. Franklin and Chester M. Huffman.

Oct. 16, 1980

The Buffalo Reflex was the recipient of three state-level awards at the Missouri Press Association's awards luncheon in St. Louis. The awards were presented for entries in the editorial page, agricultural news and general excellence categories of the 1980 Better Newspaper Contest. Buffalo Reflex editor Jim Hamilton attended the luncheon, where he was presented the awards by Missouri Press Association President Rogers Hewitt of Shelbyville. Competing in a field of 26 entries, the Reflex earned third place in the "Best Editorial Page — Weeklies" competition.

Area deaths included Alfred C. Johnson and Alva Garrison.

Oct. 17, 1990

A pie supper to raise funds to aid in the restoration of the Thorpe Church was planned for 7 p.m. at the church. Gospel and bluegrass music were on tap for the event, as well as coffee, tea and desserts. The Thorpe Church and cemetery were on Webster County Farm Road 654 about a mile west of Route W, on the Dallas and Webster counties line.

Area deaths included Harmon E. Sutton, Mabel R. Williams, Neita A. Strafford and Ernie M. Gump.

Oct. 18, 2000

Fair skies and good winds were in order at Stockton for the Lake Stockton Yacht Club's annual Governor's Cup sailing regatta. Ron Plymate, owner of Orleans Trail Marina, where the event was headquartered, said about 30 to 35 boats were expected to participate in the five races scheduled in cruising and spinnaker classes. The regatta, which began in 1974 with the dedication of the lake, usually drew sailors from Perry, Clinton, Ozark and even Oklahoma.

Area deaths included Rolla E. Anderson, Marjorie V. Barnes, Halie R. Bennett, Luther H. Cline and Gladys E. Minnick.

Oct. 13, 2010

Jess Stafford wanted the city of Buffalo to lower the speed limit on a section of Maple Street that might or might not have been in the city limits, depending on who was talked to. "It's just too dangerous for a street inside the city limits to have a 55-miles-per-hour speed limit," said Stafford, whose house and part of his property on the former Mo. 73 were recently annexed into the city. "Kids are using that stretch to drag race late at night," he said. When the connecting road between Mo. 73 and U.S. 65 was made, the agreement was that 73 would become Maple Street.

Area deaths included Dale L. Elkins Sr., Ida Mabel Kimberling, Mary Ellen Letterman, Dora L. North, Franklin R. Stackhouse, Naomi Strafford and Huber M. Stout.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

God bless the caretakers

DEAR EDITOR,

I want to tell a story about two women from the mean streets of Hogeys, Mo. One is my daughter-in-law, Christina Torrey, and the other is Shannon Gronniger.

Besides being awesome mothers, both girls are caretakers, good wives to their husbands, and they watch out for their families by helping when needed. They are both the “give more than they take” kind of people.

I thank the Lord for the two of them. As a matter of fact, I want to thank these two for all their work as caretakers.

Remember Psalm 91 and “Keep on Keeping On.”

God bless Christina and Shannon and all the caretakers.

Thank you!
Edd Torrey

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Missouri

General Election to be held on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 2020.

CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT NO. 1

[Proposed by the 100th General Assembly (First Regular Session) SS SCS SJR 14 & 9]

OFFICIAL BALLOT
TITLE:

Do you want to amend the Missouri Constitution to extend the two term restriction that currently applies to the Governor and Treasurer to the Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor and the Attorney General?

State and local governmental entities estimate no costs or savings from this proposal.

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment to article VII of the Constitution of Missouri, by adding thereto one new section relating to the limitation of terms served by certain elected officers.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 2020, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article VII of the Constitution of the state of Missouri:

CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT NO. 3

[Proposed by the 100th General Assembly (Second Regular Session) SS 3 SJR 38]

OFFICIAL BALLOT
TITLE:

Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to:

- Ban gifts from paid lobbyists to legislators and their employees;
- Reduce legislative campaign contribution limits;
- Change the redistricting process voters approved in 2018 by: (i) transferring responsibility for drawing state legislative districts from the Nonpartisan State Demographer to Governor-appointed bipartisan commissions; (ii) modifying and reordering the redistricting criteria.

State governmental entities expect no cost or savings. Individual local governmental entities expect significant decreased revenues of a total unknown amount.

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing sections 2, 3, and 7 of article III of the Constitution of Missouri, and adopting three new sections in lieu thereof relating to regulating the legislature to limit the influence of partisan or other special interests.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 2020, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article III of the Constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section A. Sections 2, 3, and 7, article III, Constitution of Missouri, are repealed and three new sections adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 2, 3, and 7, to read as follows:

Section 2. (a) After December 6, 2018, no person serving as a member of or employed by the general assembly shall act or serve as a paid lobbyist, register as a paid lobbyist, or solicit prospective employers or clients to represent as a paid lobbyist during the time of such service until the expiration of two calendar years after the conclusion of the session of the general assembly in which the member or employee last served and where such service was after December 6, 2018.

(b) No person serving as a member of or employed by the general assembly shall accept directly or indirectly a gift of any tangible or intangible item, service, or thing of value from any paid lobbyist or lobbyist principal [in excess of five dollars per occurrence]. This Article shall not prevent candidates for the general assembly, including candidates for reelection, or candidates for offices within the senate or house from accepting campaign contributions consistent with this Article and applicable campaign finance law. Nothing in this section shall prevent individuals from receiving gifts, family support or anything of value from those related to them within the fourth degree by blood or marriage. [The dollar limitations of this section shall be increased or decreased each year by the percentage of increase or decrease from the end of the previous calendar year of the Consumer Price Index, or successor index as published by the U.S. Department of Labor, or its successor agency, and rounded to the nearest dollar amount.]

(c) The general assembly shall make no law authorizing unlimited campaign contributions to candidates for the general assembly, nor any law that circumvents the contribution limits contained in this Constitution. In addition to other campaign contribution limitations or restrictions provided for by law, the amount of contributions made to or accepted by any candidate or candidate committee from any person other than the candidate in any one election [for the general assembly] to the office of state representative or state senator shall not exceed the following:

(1) To elect an individual to the office of state senator, two thousand [five] four hundred dollars; and

(2) To elect an individual to the office of state representative, two thousand dollars.

The contribution limits and other restrictions of this section shall also apply to any person exploring a candidacy for [a public office listed in this subsection] the office of state representative or state senator.

[For purposes of this subsection, "base year amount" shall be the contribution limits prescribed in this section. Contribution limits set forth herein shall be adjusted on the first day of January in each even-numbered year hereafter by multiplying the base year amount by the cumulative Consumer Price Index and rounded to the nearest dollar amount, for all years after 2018.]

(d) No contribution to a candidate for legislative office shall be made or accepted, directly or indirectly, in a fictitious name, in the name of another person, or by or through another person in such a manner as to, or with the intent to, conceal the identity of the actual source of the contribution. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that a contribution to a candidate for public office is made or accepted with the intent to circumvent the limitations on contributions imposed in this section when a contribution is received from a committee or organization that is primarily funded by a single person, individual, or other committee that has already reached its contribution limit under any law relating to contribution limitations. A committee or organization shall be deemed to be primarily funded by a single person, individual, or other committee when the committee or organization receives more than fifty percent of its annual funding from that single person, individual, or other committee.

(e) In no circumstance shall a candidate be found to have violated limits on acceptance of contributions if the Missouri ethics commission, its successor agency, or a court determines that a candidate has taken no action to indicate acceptance of or acquiescence to the making of an expenditure that is deemed a contribution pursuant to this section.

(f) No candidate shall accept contributions from any federal political action committee unless the committee has filed the same financial disclosure reports that would be required of a Missouri political action committee.

Section 3. (a) [There is hereby established the post of "Nonpartisan State Demographer". The nonpartisan state demographer shall acquire appropriate information to develop procedures in preparation for drawing legislative redistricting maps on the basis of each federal census for presentation to the house apportionment commission and the senatorial apportionment commission.]

(b) The nonpartisan state demographer shall be selected through the following process. First, state residents may apply for selection to the state auditor using an application developed by the state auditor to determine an applicant's qualifications and expertise relevant to the position. Second, the state auditor shall deliver to the majority leader and minority leader of the senate a list of at least three applicants with sufficient expertise and qualifications, as determined by the state auditor, to perform the duties of the nonpartisan state demographer. Third, if the majority leader and minority leader of the senate together agree that a specific applicant should be selected to be the nonpartisan state demographer, that applicant shall be selected and the selection process shall cease. Fourth, if the majority leader and minority leader of the senate cannot together agree on an applicant, they may each remove a number of applicants on the state auditor's list equal to one-third of the total number of applicants on that list, rounded down to the next integer, and the state auditor shall then conduct a random lottery of the applicants remaining after removal to select the nonpartisan state demographer. The state auditor shall prescribe a time frame and deadlines for this application and selection process that both encourages numerous qualified applicants and avoids delay in selection. The nonpartisan state demographer shall serve a term of five years and may be reappointed. To be eligible for the nonpartisan state demographer position, an individual shall not have served in a partisan, elected position for four years prior to the appointment. The nonpartisan state demographer shall be disqualified from holding office as a member of the general assembly for four years following the date of the presentation of his or her most recent legislative redistricting map to the house apportionment commission or the senatorial apportionment commission.

(c) [The house of representatives shall consist of one hundred sixty-three members elected at each general election and [apportioned] redistricted as provided in this section.]

(1) (b) [Within ten days after the population of this state is reported to the President for each decennial census of the United States or, in the event that a reapportionment has been invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, within ten days after such a ruling has been made, the nonpartisan state demographer] The house independent bipartisan citizens commission shall [begin the preparation of legislative districting plans and maps] redistrict the house of representatives using the following methods, listed in order of priority:

[a.] (1) Districts shall be [established on the basis of the nonpartisan state total] as nearly equal as practicable in population]. Legislative districts shall each have a total population vote shifts by one percent, two to the ideal population for such districts, determined by dividing the number of districts to be established into the total population of the state reported in the federal decennial census], and shall be drawn on the basis of one person, one vote. Districts are as nearly equal as practicable in population if no district deviates by more than one percent from the ideal population of the district, as measured by dividing the number of districts into the statewide population data being used, except that a district may deviate by up to three percent if necessary to follow political subdivision lines consistent with subdivision (4) of this subsection;

[b.] (2) Districts shall be established in a manner so as to comply with all requirements of the United States Constitution and applicable federal laws, including, but not limited to, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (as amended). [Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article, districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminishing their ability to elect representatives of their choice, whether by themselves or by voting in concert with other persons.] The following principles shall take precedence over any other part of this constitution: no district shall be drawn in a manner which results in a denial or abridgment of the right of any citizen of the United States to vote on account of race or color; and no district shall be drawn such that members of any community of citizens protected by the preceding clause have less opportunity than other members of the electorate to participate in elect representatives of their choice;

[Districts shall be designed in a manner that achieves both partisan fairness and, secondarily, competitiveness. "Partisan fairness" means that parties shall be able to translate their popular support into legislative representation with approximately equal efficiency. "Competitiveness" means that parties' legislative representation shall be substantially and similarly responsive to shifts in the electorate's preferences.

To promote competitiveness, the nonpartisan state demographer shall use the electoral performance index to simulate elections in which the hypothetical statewide vote shifts by one percent, two percent, three percent, four percent, and five percent in favor of each party. The vote in each individual district shall be assumed to shift by the same amount as the statewide vote. The nonpartisan state demographer shall ensure that, in each of these simulated elections, the difference between the two parties' total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, is as close to zero as practicable;

[c.] (3) Subject to the requirements of [paragraphs a. and b. of this subdivision] subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, districts shall be composed of contiguous territory as compact as may be. Areas which meet only at the points of adjoining corners are not contiguous. In general, compact districts are those which are square, rectangular, or hexagonal in shape to the extent permitted by natural or political boundaries;

[d.] (4) To the extent consistent with [paragraphs a. to c. of this subdivision, district boundaries shall coincide with the boundaries of political subdivisions of the state. The number of counties and cities divided among more than one district shall be as small as possible. When there is a choice between dividing local political subdivisions, the more populous subdivisions shall be divided before the less populous, but this preference shall not apply to a legislative district boundary drawn along a county line which passes through a city that lies in more than one county] subdivisions (1) to (3) of this subsection, communities shall be preserved. Districts shall satisfy this requirement if district lines follow political subdivision lines to the extent possible, using the following criteria, in order of priority. First, each county shall wholly contain as many districts as its population allows. Second, if a county wholly contains one or more districts, the remaining population shall be wholly joined in a single district made up of population from outside the county. If a county does not wholly contain a district, then no more than two segments of a county shall be combined with an adjoining county. Third, split counties and county segments, defined as any part of the county that is in a district not wholly within that county, shall each be as few as possible. Fourth, as few municipal lines shall be crossed as possible;

[e. Preference shall be that districts are compact in form, but the standards established by paragraphs a. to d. of this subdivision take precedence over compactness where a conflict arises between compactness and these standards. In general, compact districts are those which are square, rectangular, or hexagonal in shape to the extent permitted by natural or political boundaries.]

To this end, the nonpartisan state demographer shall calculate the average electoral performance of the two parties receiving the most votes in the three preceding elections for governor, for United States Senate, and for President of the United States. This index shall be defined as the total votes received by each party in the three preceding elections for governor, for United States Senate, and for President of the United States, divided by the total votes cast for both parties in these elections. Using this index, the nonpartisan state demographer shall calculate the total number of wasted votes for each party, summing across all of the districts in the plan. "Wasted votes" are votes cast for a losing candidate or for a winning candidate in excess of the fifty percent threshold needed for victory. In any plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts submitted to the respective apportionment commission, the nonpartisan state demographer shall ensure the difference between the two parties' total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, is as close to zero as practicable.

(5) Districts shall be drawn in a manner that achieves both partisan fairness and, secondarily, competitiveness, but the standards established by subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection shall take precedence over partisan fairness and competitiveness. "Partisan fairness" means that parties shall be able to translate their popular support into legislative representation with approximately equal efficiency. "Competitiveness" means that parties' legislative representation shall be substantially and similarly responsive to shifts in the electorate's preferences.

To this end, the average electoral performance of the two political parties receiving the most votes in the three preceding general

percent, three percent, four percent, and five percent in favor of each party. The vote in each individual district shall be assumed to shift by the same amount as the statewide vote. The nonpartisan state demographer shall ensure that, in each of these simulated elections, the difference between the two parties' total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, is as close to zero as practicable;

[c.] (3) Subject to the requirements of [paragraphs a. and b. of this subdivision] subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, districts shall be composed of contiguous territory as compact as may be. Areas which meet only at the points of adjoining corners are not contiguous. In general, compact districts are those which are square, rectangular, or hexagonal in shape to the extent permitted by natural or political boundaries;

To this end, the nonpartisan state demographer shall calculate the average electoral performance of the two parties receiving the most votes in the three preceding elections for governor, for United States Senate, and for President of the United States. This index shall be defined as the total votes received by each party in the three preceding elections for governor, for United States Senate, and for President of the United States, divided by the total votes cast for both parties in these elections. Using this index, the nonpartisan state demographer shall calculate the total number of wasted votes for each party, summing across all of the districts in the plan. "Wasted votes" are votes cast for a losing candidate or for a winning candidate in excess of the fifty percent threshold needed for victory. In any plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts submitted to the respective apportionment commission, the nonpartisan state demographer shall ensure the difference between the two parties' total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, is as close to zero as practicable.

(5) Districts shall be drawn in a manner that achieves both partisan fairness and, secondarily, competitiveness, but the standards established by subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection shall take precedence over partisan fairness and competitiveness. "Partisan fairness" means that parties shall be able to translate their popular support into legislative representation with approximately equal efficiency. "Competitiveness" means that parties' legislative representation shall be substantially and similarly responsive to shifts in the electorate's preferences.

To this end, the average electoral performance of the two political parties receiving the most votes in the three preceding general elections for governor, for list, provided that in the case of a congressional district committee failing to submit a list, the person appointed to the commission by the governor shall reside in the congressional district of such general elections for committee, governor, for United States Senate, and for President of the United States, divided by the total votes cast for both parties in these elections. Using this index, the total number of wasted votes for each party, summing across all of the districts in the plan shall be calculated. “Wasted votes” are votes cast for a losing candidate or for a winning candidate in excess of the threshold needed for victory. In any redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts, the difference between the two parties’ total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, shall not exceed fifteen percent.

To promote competitiveness, the electoral performance index shall be used to simulate elections in which the hypothetical statewide vote shifts by one percent, two percent, three percent, four percent, and five percent in favor of each party. The vote in each individual district shall be assumed to shift by the same amount as the statewide vote. In each of these simulated elections, the difference between the two parties’ total wasted votes, divided by the total votes cast for the two parties, shall not exceed fifteen percent.

[(2)] (c) Within sixty days after the population of this state is reported to the President for each decennial census of the United States or, in the event that a [reapportionment] redistricting plan has been invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, within sixty days that such a ruling has been made, the state committee and the congressional district committees of each of the two political parties casting the highest vote for governor at the last preceding general election shall meet and the members of [the] each committee shall nominate, by a majority vote of the elected members of the committee present, provided that a majority of the elected members is present, [two] members of their party, residents in that district, in the case of a congressional district committee, as nominees for [reapportionment] the house independent bipartisan citizens commission. [Neither] No party shall select more than one nominee from any one state legislative district. The congressional district committees shall each submit to the governor their list of five elected nominees. Within thirty days thereafter, the governor shall appoint a house independent bipartisan citizens commission consisting of one [name] nominee from each list submitted by each congressional district committee and two nominees from each list submitted by each state committee to [reapportion] redistrict the state into one hundred and sixty-three representative districts and to establish the numbers and boundaries of said districts. No person shall be appointed to both the house independent bipartisan citizens commission and the senate independent bipartisan citizens commission during the same redistricting cycle.

If any [of the congressional committees] committee fails to submit a list within such time, the governor shall appoint a member of his or her own choice [from that district and] from the political party of the committee failing to [make the appointment] submit a commission shall file with the secretary of state a tentative redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts and during the ensuing fifteen days shall hold such public hearings as may be necessary to hear objections or testimony of interested persons. The commission shall make public the tentative redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts, as well as all demographic and partisan data used in the creation of the plan and map.

Members of the commission shall be disqualified from holding office as members of the general assembly for four years following the date of the filing by the commission of its final [statement of apportionment] redistricting plan.

For the purposes of this Article, the term congressional district committee or congressional district committee refers to the congressional district committee or the congressional district from which a congressman was last elected, or, in the event members of congress from this state have been elected at large, the term congressional district committee refers to those persons who last served as the congressional district committee for those districts from which congressmen were last elected, and the term congressional district refers to those districts from which congressmen were last elected. Any action pursuant to this section by the congressional district committee shall take place only at duly called meetings, shall be recorded in their official minutes and only members present in person shall be permitted to vote.

[(3)] Within six months after the population of this state is reported to the President for each decennial census of the United States or, in the event that a reapportionment has been invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, within six months after such a ruling has been made, the nonpartisan state demographer shall make public and file with the secretary of state and with the house apportionment commission a tentative plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts, as well as all demographic and partisan data used in the creation of the plan and map.]

(d) The commissioners so selected shall, [within ten days of receiving the tentative plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts,] on the fifteenth day, excluding Sundays and state holidays, after all members have been appointed, meet in the capitol building and proceed to organize by electing from their number a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. The commission shall adopt an agenda establishing at least three hearing dates on which hearings open to the public shall be held to hear objections or testimony from interested persons. A copy of the agenda shall be filed with the secretary of the senate within twenty-four hours after its adoption. Executive meetings may be scheduled and held as often as the commission deems advisable. [The commission may make changes to the tentative plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts received from the nonpartisan state demographer provided that such changes are consistent with this section and the methods and criteria required by Section 3 of this Article for the establishment of districts for the house of representatives and approved by a vote of at least seven-tenths of the commissioners. If no changes are made or approved as provided for in this subsection, the tentative plan of apportionment and map of proposed districts shall become final. Not later than two months after receiving the tentative plan of apportionment and map of the proposed districts, the commission shall file with the secretary of state a final statement of the numbers and the boundaries of the districts together with a map of the districts.]

(c) The senate independent bipartisan citizens commission shall redistrict the senate using the same methods and criteria as those required by subsection (b), section 3 of this article for the redistricting of the house of representatives.

(d) Not later than five months after the appointment of the senate independent bipartisan citizens commission, the commission shall file with the secretary of state a tentative redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts and during the ensuing fifteen days shall hold such public hearings as may be necessary to hear objections or testimony of interested persons. The commission shall make public the tentative redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts, as well as all demographic and partisan data used in the creation of the plan and map.

(e) Not later than six months after the appointment of the commission, the commission shall file with the secretary of state a final statement of the numbers and the boundaries of the districts together with a map of the districts, and no statement shall be valid unless approved by at least seven-tenths of the members.

(f) After the final statement is filed, senators shall be elected according to such districts until a new redistricting plan is made as provided in this section, except that if the final statement is not filed within six months of the time fixed for the appointment of the commission, the commission shall stand discharged and the senate shall be redistricted using the same methods and criteria as described in subsection (b) of section 3 of this article by a commission of six members appointed from among the judges of the appellate courts of the state of Missouri by the state supreme court, a majority of whom shall sign and file its redistricting plan and map with the secretary of state within ninety days of the date of the discharge of the senate independent bipartisan citizens commission. The judicial commission shall make public the tentative redistricting plan and map of the proposed districts, as well as all demographic and partisan data used in the creation of the plan and map. Thereafter, senators shall be elected according to such districts until a redistricting plan is made as provided in this section.

(g) Each member of the commission shall receive as compensation fifteen dollars a day for each day the commission is in session, but not more than one thousand dollars, and, in addition, shall be reimbursed for his or her actual and necessary expenses incurred while serving as a member of the commission.

(h) No [reapportionment] redistricting plan shall be subject to the referendum.

(i) Any action expressly or implicitly alleging that a redistricting plan violates this Constitution, federal law, or the United States Constitution shall be filed in the circuit court of Cole County and shall name the body that approved the challenged redistricting plan as a defendant. Only an eligible Missouri voter who sustains an individual injury by virtue of residing in a district that exhibits the alleged violation, and whose injury is remedied by a differently drawn district, shall have standing. If the court renders a judgment in which it finds that a completed redistricting plan exhibits the alleged violation, its judgment shall adjust only those districts, and only those parts of district boundaries, necessary to bring the map into compliance. The supreme court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction upon the filing of a notice of appeal within ten days after the judgment has become final.

Troublesome Pasture Plant of the Week — broom sedge

BY TERRY HALLERAN,
University of Missouri Extension regional agronomy field specialist

Fall is the time of the year when broom sedge is quite noticeable. This tall orange-brown stemmed grass stands in contrast to the new green growth we desire to see in the fall. When broom sedge gets to this stage, the nutritional value is essentially zero.

Broom sedge is an invasive, perennial, warm-season grass frequently found in our pastures and hayfields fields, as well as along roadsides and openings in and around standing timber. It can be easily distinguished from other grasses by the flattened leaf sheaths that have obvious leaf hairs. The leaves have a folded vernation, which arises from the basal crown. They are sharp-pointed and flat, with hair near the base. It will have a smooth to rough edge and hair along it as well. The ligule type is membranous, which comes to a sharp point, showing sparse hairs along its edge. The collar is divided with hairs on the edges. Immature plants are bluish-green, however mature leaves turn light brown/orange as it appears to dry. These old upright leaves remain standing throughout the year.

Even if the nutritional value was great, it wouldn't matter because livestock don't usually consume mature broom sedge. Because this plant is just in the way and takes the place of more desirable grasses, controlling it is necessary. Mowing, raking and baling this is a common practice of removing it from the field but will not control it. Broom sedge at this stage has little to no feed value and is a losing proposition as a hay crop. Do not purchase this as a cheap hay/feed source.

Broom sedge is an indicator plant, meaning it is a symptom of a larger problem. That problem is typically poor fertility. Usually, broom sedge thrives in areas where phosphorus is low, and/or the soil is so acidic that phosphorus is tied up and can't be used by the plant. This condition usually occurs when pastureland and hayfields are repeatedly hayed without replacing the fertility taken off each year. You might have heard that broom sedge means the soil needs liming. That might be true because lime is added to lower the acidity of the soil and make phosphorus and other nutrients more available.

However, because the problem could also be related to the soil being deficient in phosphorus to begin with, a soil test should be done before lime or fertilizer is added. Unfortunately, adding lime and/or phosphorus doesn't mean all the broom sedge will be gone next year. Fertilizer and lime do not kill the broom sedge; instead they create an environment that is more favorable for desirable grasses, such as tall fescue and orchard grass, to succeed.

Grazing management is another component of controlling broom sedge in pastures. Grazing tall fescue pastures more heavily when the broom sedge is small and still green can weaken a stand of broom sedge. Cattle will actively graze broom sedge when it is producing young vegetative growth, and as it is a warm-season grass, continued defoliation at this stage will help decrease plant vigor. After the plant reaches a height of 10 to 12 inches, most cattle will leave it for other choices.

Mechanical control practices, such as brushhogging, have little value in controlling broom sedge. Herbicides are not a great option in controlling broom sedge, either, because there are no labeled products that will kill the broom sedge without killing the desired grasses. A selective application (spot-spraying, weed-wiping) of glyphosate, which targets the broom sedge but is not applied to the desirable forages, might be an option for heavy infestations. However, if you spray without treating the cause of the problem (low fertility), you are treating the symptom and not the disease, and broom sedge will come back.

Fields don't normally become heavily infested overnight and won't be cured overnight. In one experiment in Missouri, it took four to five years for broom sedge to be nearly eliminated through proper fertilization based on soil tests. Patience is required, but changes to fertility and grazing management will eventually be rewarded by a better stand of forage and a decrease of broom sedge and other weeds.

The nutrition drawing winner for Week 1 was Brenda B. A random drawing was held among participants who drank 48 ounces of water at least four days during Week 1.

The DCHD also had an optional tobacco survey in the Shape Up registration packets, and the winner of that gift card drawing was Terri R.

The aforementioned Shape Up prizes can be picked up at the Dallas County Health Department in Buffalo.
