4 DOC officers indicted

For failing to act to prevent 2019 suicide attempt at Rikers

BY KAREN MATTHEWS

Two current and two former DOC officers have been indicted for failing to intervene in an inmate's suicide attempt until it was too late to save the teenager from serious brain damage, authorities announced.

The correction captain and three correction officers waited nearly eight minutes before providing any assistance to 18-year-old Nicholas Feliciano at the Rikers Island jail complex on Nov. 27, 2019, Bronx District Attorney Darcel Clark said Monday.

Prosecutors said the officers can be seen on surveillance video walking past Feliciano and taking no action for seven minutes and 51 seconds.

"The defendants ignored their duty as correction officers to maintain custody, care and control of the person incarcerated, by allegedly waiting nearly eight minutes until they rendered assistance to the inmate whom they saw hanging," Clark said. "The young man is now living with extensive brain damage."

Correction Captain Terry Henry and Officers Daniel Fullerton, Kenneth Hood and Mark Wilson were arraigned Monday on charges of first- and second-degree reckless endangerment and official misconduct. They were released without bail and are due back in court on Sept. 15.

A DOC spokesperson said Fullerton and Wilson resigned from the department in February. Hood has been suspended and Henry is on modified duty.

'Politics and not facts'

Benny Boscio, the president of the Correction Officers' Benevolent Association,

Corrections officers patrolled an enhanced supervision housing unit on Rikers Island. Two current and two former DOC officers have been indicted for failing to intervene in an inmate's suicide attempt until it was too late to save the teenager from serious brain damage.

said the union would defend the officers vigorously. "Today's indictment of our officers, stemming from an incident that occurred over three years ago, is further evidence that this case is being driven more by politics than by facts," Boscio Boscio said the district attorney's office should prosecute "the nearly 800 inmates who've committed vicious crimes in jail, including the slashing and stabbing of inmates and officers.

The charges against the four officers come as federal authorities are considering a takeover of the troubled Rikers Island complex to institute reforms.

David B. Rankin, an attorney for Feliciano, said the indictments are "another example of the festering sore that is Rikers Island." He said Rikers "is a disgrace to our city and needs to be shut down immediately.

Feliciano has been in a hospital brain injury unit since the suicide attempt.

"Every day I see Nicholas fighting and it's been traumatic seeing the pain of him even trying to breath, eat, talk, and to learn how to live again," Feliciano's grandmother, Madeline Feliciano, said in a statement. She said the officers who failed to help her grandson "need to be held accountable for their actions.'

Off-duty DOC officer charged in fatal shooting

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A city correction officer faces murder charges in connection with the fatal shooting of an 18-year-old man in the Bronx, an episode that may have involved

Officer Dion Middleton, 45, was arrested July 21 in the shooting of Raymond Chaluisant earlier that day, the NYPD said in a statement.

Chaluisant was shot in the face around 1:30 a.m., police said. He was taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Middleton was arrested hours later after he reported to work, according to the state attorney general's office, which is prosecuting the case because Middleton is a law enforcement officer.

Police said a toy gun that shoots water-filled gel beads was found near the shooting scene. It was not clear whether Chaluisant had fired the toy, called a gel blaster or bead blaster. The attorney general's office said that Middleton had shot at a car in which Chaluisant was a passenger.

The police department later tweeted that bead blasters, considered a type of air rifle, are illegal in New York City.

Benny Boscio, the president of the Correction Officers' Benevolent Association, said in a statement that Middleton fired a single shot after feeling something hit him in the back. He said the officer "felt his life was in immediate danger."

Boscio said toy guns that don't look like toys "remain an ongoing threat to public safety." He added, "We will provide Officer Middleton with the best possible representation to ensure that his legal rights are protected."

Middleton was arraigned on charges of first-degree murder and first- and second-degree manslaughter before Judge Jeffrey Zimmerman. Bail was set at $1 million.

Department of Correction Commissioner Louis Molina said in a statement that Middleton would be suspended without pay, "and if the charges are true, he will face the full consequences of the law and be terminated."
