Public comments on livestock in city limits

By Zach Killian

Whether to allow livestock in the Warren city limits or not was the hot topic of discussion at the Warren City Council meeting on Tuesday, October 10.

The city council heard from several members of the public. Jana Mann spoke before the city council saying she lives on Pennington Road and sees both sides of the livestock issue. She lives in the city limits but not in the city. Mann stated she had livestock and there hadn't been any problems. She said the community shouldn't be punished for something when they have livestock and keep them the right way.

Seth Jolley also spoke about livestock in the city limits. He said he has cows and has never had issues or complaints from neighbors.

Jerry West also spoke saying he has horses in the city limits.

Billy Smith told the city council he has cows on his land inside the city limits and had no complaints with neighbors about the cows. He said it's not fair to ban livestock when most everyone is doing it right.

Clinton Webb said he has horses on his property and not everyone should suffer for someone else's trouble.

No action was taken on the issue. The council members said they would continue to look into it and work on it.

In Mayor Gregg Reep's report, he said he was contacted by LSI Proposal, which is a private for-profit company that helps cities apply for grants. Mayor Reep said he didn't think it was needed currently.

The council passed a resolution stating the city council is committed to the Interstate 530 Project to the Arkansas Highway Commission.

The city council approved Warren Police Chief Shaun Hildreth's request to sell the 2009 Chevy Impala at the next public auction.

The city council passed an ordinance to consolidate the Local Police and Fire Retirement System, or LOPFI, to the state due to the reduced number of members in Bradley County.

Alderwoman Memory Burks-Frazer, who is the chair of the police committee, reported they were looking for an animal control truck to purchase for the Warren Police Department. She stated there were issues with RV Parking in the city and they would look at the current ordinance. She also said there were issues with cars parking on streets at Elm Street. They voted to install a "No Parking" sign on Elm Street due to the road being narrow.

Warren Fire Department Chief Chuck Moore reported the fire department responded to 13 calls in September. The ladders they use were tested and passed inspection. Matthew Meeks and Richard O'Neil were hired as volunteer firefighters.

Sanitation Manager and Building Official Rob Johnson reported they were $30,000 ahead in permit fees this year than last year. He said that means people are building.

Johnson went through the property clean-up complaint list which includes South Myrtle Street Partial #716.8000, 1007 Phillips Street, 504 Rock Street, 407 Turner Street, and 108 West Central Street.

Alderwoman Dorothy Henderson and chairwoman of the Ways and Means Committee said they had about $829,000 left from the American Rescue Plan funds to spend and it had to be spent before a certain date otherwise the city would lose it.

The city council approved the IT contract with El Dorado Printing for $1,683.93 per month.

Parks and Recreation Director Kyle Wagnon presented his report to the city council. He said AHF Products Manufacturing volunteered to redo the bridge at the Warren City Park and make it a metal bridge. They told Wagnon they would do it free of charge. The city would only have to pay for the materials, which would be around $10,000. The city council requested to see a presentation from AHF about the bridge project first.

The city council approved another resolution to apply for a grant to help with repairs to the Warren Cultural Center.

The annual Fall Festival will be Saturday, October 28 at the tomato shed. The annual Christmas Parade will be at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 9.

The next Warren City Council meeting will be at 5:30 p.m. on Monday, November 13 at the Warren Municipal Building in the municipal courtroom.

Log a Load for Kids holds event in Warren

Special to The Eagle

The Bradley County chapter of the Arkansas Log a Load for Kids program invite the public to their catfish dinner & auction fundraiser at Immanuel Baptist Church in Warren on Saturday, October 21 to help raise funds for Arkansas Children's Heart Institute.

Since 1993, Arkansas Log a Load for Kids has raised money for various endowment projects at Arkansas Children's, which include support for Angel One Transport and endowed chairs in Congenital Heart Disorders and Emergency Medicine/Trauma. During that time, the group has raised over $10 million with the help of generous donations from communities around the state. This year, four chapters consisting of volunteers from the forestry sector have held events to raise funds for the Heart Institute.

The Bradley County chapter of the program continues their 2023 fundraising with a catfish dinner and auction. Doors to the event open at 5:00 p.m. with a log auction to follow 15 minutes later. Dinner will be served at 6:00 p.m. and guests will be able to purchase a $25 ticket at the door for a plate from Eat My Catfish. A live and silent auction containing various donated items will follow. All proceeds from this event will help fund Arkansas Children's Organized in 1947, the Arkansas Forestry Association is the only private, nonprofit organization representing the entire forestry community in Arkansas.

AFA has over 1,200 members who join in AFA's mission of advocating for the sustainable use and sound stewardship of Arkansas's forests and related resources to benefit members of the state's forestry community and all Arkansans today and in the future.

Lumberjacks slay Dewitt Dragons 39-23

AJ Jordan does some tough running after his catch. AJ scored one touchdown through the air, and two running touchdowns.

By Zach Killian

After a tense game and some drama Friday night, the Warren Lumberjacks defeated the DeWitt Dragons 39-23.

"It was a tough environment, a tough place to play," said Head Coach Bo Hembree. "Our kids just kept fighting. They overcame a lot of circumstances. They fought and fought and found a way to win."

The Dragons started the game kicking off to the Lumberjacks. It was caught by Tramond Miller at the 30-yard line.

The Lumberjacks scored a touchdown early in the game at 10:33. The Lumberjacks' offense made it down to the 21-yard line. Quarterback Jackson Denton passed to Neon'dre Thomas who ran 10 yards to the end zone. The extra point by Allen Juarez's kick was good giving the Lumberjacks the lead 7-0.

The Lumberjacks' defense held their ground, but the Dragons' offense made their way down the field.

The Dragons were at the 21-yard line. The Lumberjacks held strong forcing them to punt. However, the kick went through the goal post for a field goal for a touchdown, giving the Dragons three points.

At the kickoff, Thomas caught the ball again and ran his way around the Dragons to their 40-yard line.

At 4:03 in the first quarter, Denton performed a handoff to Treyton Jackson from the 35-yard line, who ran to the 20-yard line before making a fumble. The fumble was recovered by the Dragons.

The Lumberjacks went into the second quarter in the lead with 7-3.

At 10:35, the Lumberjacks offense was at their 25-yard line. Jackson had the ball and was picked up and slammed on the ground by a Dragon player resulting in a penalty against the Dragons.

The Lumberjacks made it to the two-yard line where Antonio Jordan made it across the line for a touchdown. Juarez's kick was blocked by the Dragons preventing the extra point. The Lumberjacks led 13-3.

The Dragons' offense continued to slowly make their way down to the 11-yard line. With 39 seconds left in the second quarter, the Dragons pushed through to the end zone for a touchdown. Their extra point was good making the score 13-10.

PREPARING FOR DEATH REQUIRES A RE-BIRTH

The prayer of the child that many of us prayed long ago is most appropriate:

Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep, If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take.

Too simplistic, you think? Not necessarily. Jesus said we approach the Gospel with the faith of a child. In doing so, we can gain peace of mind concerning death, yes, even our own death.

The key to this matter is your own personal preparation for death. It is the depth of foolishness to fail to be prepared for it. First of all, you must put your soul in order. I would want to be a Christian if there were no heaven or hell, no resurrection of the dead, no soul that never dies. I enjoy being a Christian. I appreciate the peace that comes with this life. It is truly a wonderful way to live.

Jesus said to a very religious man named Nicodemus, "Marvel not that I say unto you, ye must be born again" (John 3:7). This phrase "be born again" has been bandied around in recent years until it has become virtually meaningless. A baseball pitcher who develops a different delivery of the ball tells sports writers he has been "born again". A politician comes out of obscurity and says he has been "born again".

Being spiritually "born again" means exactly what it says. A person is born physically as he comes into the world. A subsequent spiritual birth is necessary in order to have eternal life with God. The most important step you can ever take to prepare for death is to be born again.

How does that come about? By repenting of our sins and asking God's forgiveness. And then, we invite Christ to live and dwell within us. By faith, we accept. As we faithfully pursue our Lord's will, we find that somehow have acquired a new spiritual energy source, one we have never had before.

"It is appointed unto man once to die" (Hebrews 9:27). We may die before we wake. Frightening? No, of course not - not if we are prepared. So, sleep well because you are ready to die!

Aren't you?

Oldtimer's Notebook

By Robert L. Newton

The publishers of The Eagle Democrat have chosen to publish articles from the past Oldtimer's Notebook in memory of Robert L. Newton. This article was first published September 12, 2001.

Ross Adams writes from California that he WAS in Warren for the tomato festival, accompanied by his wife, Rita.

Says he: "We went to the Lions Club's pancake breakfast. Clint Huey invited us to watch the parade from his office on Myrtle. It was the first time I had attended the tomato festival. Enjoyed it all except for the heat and the humidity. We even enjoyed standing in the rain Friday night on the courtsquare watching the show. Our numbers are small from the WHS Class of 1946 but we had a fun class reunion (the 55th)."

Adams has retired from work in public relations in California, but stays active in the First Southern Baptist Church of Los Angeles.

Plus, he is a past district governor of Lions International.

Adams' comments remind this particular elderly one that a 55th reunion of the Class of 1947 COULD be scheduled for 2002.

We ran into Ross Adams' younger brother the other day. The retired Russellville educator says his class of 1951 at Warren High is having a reunion here this fall.

...Travis Adams, that younger brother, is a former district governor of Rotary International.

Our good friend, Jann Williams Woodard, once of the Cross Roads community but now of Benton, give us some interesting info on John M. Bradley, Bradley County pioneer.

Mr. Bradley published the Warren DEMOCRAT NEWS but left here and moved to Arkadelphia where he practiced law, returning in retirement to Warren, then Hermitage.

Mr. Bradley was some kind of character. In 1874, he was called before the Methodist conference in Camden because of his drinking problem. CAMDEN JOURNAL published the following about Attorney Bradley's run-in with the Methodists: "Colonel John M. Bradley took the ground that the action of the prodigal son was the result of ill training on the part of the parents and that the straitened circumstances to which he was reduced was the result of dissipation and/or intemperance winding up with a glowing and fitting eulogy on the women who every day are doing so much for the reformation of men in their present attempt to sing and pray the devil-dealing, stomach-burning and wife-killing beverage, WHISKEY, from the face of the earth."

Those people called Methodist apparently took mercy on Col. Bradley and his overpowering thirst. The Colonel lived 13 more years and died, not from the over-indulgence of the booze, but from what was called a cutaneous disease "very similar to leprosy". Doctors all over the area were said to be baffled.

Back in our days at THE EAGLE DEMOCRAT, concluded almost three and a half years ago now, one of the people we could count on seeing each Wednesday morning was Jack Turner, who'd come by to get a copy of the newspaper.

We'd first known Jack as a teenage worker at the one-time Firestone Store on Main Street, opened during World War II by the late Earnest Hankins (Craig O'Neill's grandfather).

Jack was working at the Bradley Lumber Company's auto and truck maintenance facility: he'd come by and purchase batteries for vehicles.

Was his dad, Mr. Augustus Turner, planning mill foreman at Bradley once?

Jack and his brother, Will, worked at the lumbering facility: was not their brother Charles the highway construction success at Forrest City? And was not Jessie Mae (Tot) Tadlock their sister?

Mrs. Tadlock produced two fine sons, Charles and Larry.

Wasn't Miss Jessie Turner, the longtime educator here, Jack's aunt?

Jack Turner was a find gentleman, a good friend.

Pleased to note a number of memorials to Jack for the YMCA Foundation.

Every penny paid to the foundation, established years ago by that tireless YMCA partisan, G.W. Botts, Jr. remains in the foundation... only the interest produced goes to help support this most unique Warren institution, the Warren YMCA.

Kudos to the Danny Cook family, publishers of this Great Family Journal, for publishing the names of those to whom these memorials are made.

And at no charge to the YMCA.

Re-New-ing Edinburg receives bricks for local veterans park

Special to The Eagle
 Roger McClellan, President, called the meeting to order and stated that the minutes of the August meeting were previously emailed to members. A correction to those minutes were that the Cleveland County Rodeo is September 29-30 rather than the stated October 29-30. Motion was made by Larry Waldrop, seconded by Don Triplett to accept minutes with the correction. Motion passed. The financial statement was presented, discussed and will be filed for audit.
 Roger informed the group that he had received eight bricks for the veteran's park plus another seven on order. Once the seven are received and the weather cools down, all fifteen will be installed. He also purchased a 5'x8' American flag for the park plus a 30' expandable pole which will be used to untangle the flag from the Eagle. Motion was made and seconded to reimburse him $170.24 for those expenditures.
 The group was reminded that the All-School Reunion has been scheduled for April 27, 2024 with a possible menu of fish, chicken, fries, hushpuppies, coleslaw, tea, water plus condiments for approximately 125-175. Roger contacted Dorey's Catfish Catering, Abe's Old Feed House and Leon's Catfish for prices to cater the reunion. Motion was made to accept Dorey's which was the better value for the meal. Motion passed.

 Thanks were expressed to all who participated in making the August 18th game night a success. With the fall season so busy for the group, another game night was not scheduled.
 The group will begin participating in the Great American cleanup October 1 through October 31. Garbage bags and t-shirts should be received shortly and will be passed out once received.
 The Great South AR Junk Hunt will be held October 12, 13, and 14. Motion was made and seconded to schedule a workday for Thursday, October 5 at 8 a.m. Motion passed.
 Roger thanked everyone who participated or served as a fair superintendent for the Cleveland County Fair. Exhibitors and exhibits were slightly up over last year, however, he encouraged everyone to participate next year as the fair association is working to get back to the number of exhibitors/exhibits as the years prior to the COVID.
 The New Edinburg Community Center barbecue fundraiser will be held September 30 at 5:00 p.m. Melody Spears said that Tim Taylor, who sings country and gospel music, will be performing. If weather permits, the event will be held outside so everyone is encouraged to bring a lawn chair.
 Roger reminded the group that the Cleveland County Veterans appreciation luncheon will be held October 28 at noon with guest speaker, MG John Stubbs, The Adjunct General of the Arkansas National Guard. A veteran plus one guest is free and anyone else can purchase a plate for $15. Since Dorey's Catfish is catering the event, it would be a good way for members to eat plus observe and taste Dorey's catering prior to the All-School Reunion.

 Also, on October 28 from 6 to 7:30 p.m., the Fall Festival Candy event will be held at the NE Community Center. Discussion was held concerning the event.
 The Kickstart Cleveland County group is requesting each group to donate $50 to the East Lab at the Rison School. The East Lab is volunteering to assist all county groups with promotional flyers, videos, printing, etc. Motion was made by Martha Talono, seconded by Larry Waldrop, to donate the $50. Motion passed.
 Patricia McClellan passed out the promotional brochures for the Camden Expedition and made a motion that the group purchase 200 at $.30 each. Larry Waldrop seconded the motion and the motion passed.
 The Johnny & June Cash chili supper will be held at Kingsland on October 28. Don Triplett made a motion to adjourn, seconded by David Kemp. Motion passed. The next meeting will be held October 17 at 6 p.m.

Arkansas History Minute

by
Dr. Kenneth Bridges

On Oct. 7, Israel was attacked by Hamas terrorists from the Gaza Strip. It was an act that horrified the world. Gunmen gunned down unarmed dozens at an outdoor concert, murdered elderly Holocaust survivors, broke into homes to murder and kidnap civilians. The long list of atrocities committed cannot be repeated in a family newspaper. Hundreds of unarmed civilians were killed, including more than a dozen Americans. Once again, Israel has become the focus of violence in the Middle East as it launches its response in an effort to defend itself.

Israel's history in the region dates back more than 3,000 years. It had long been at the mercy of rampaging armies, but the people used their faith, heritage, and sense of community to stand against the tide. The tales surrounding life in ancient Israel recorded in the Old Testament have since become favorites around the world and reminders of the importance of faith and integrity. After the Roman destruction of the Second Temple after the uprisings of the first century AD, the Jewish population began to spread out from the area. The diaspora eventually led most of the Jewish population to reside in Europe.

Israel's position as the center of the Jewish faith and the birthplace of Christianity made it a focal point for religious pilgrimages from Europe as early as the Middle Ages. By the nineteenth century, after facing generations of discrimination, lynchings, and segregation, many European Jews were attracted to the growing movement of Zionism to return to their ancestral homelands. Thousands eventually moved to what was once Israel, now a land occupied by the Ottoman Turks and dominated by Muslims.

In 1917, the British, who would take control of the area after World War I, promised to re-establish a Jewish state in the region. After the Holocaust during World War II, this took on a new urgency after horrific acts of genocide by Nazi Germany left six million Jews dead. The new United Nations in 1947 proposed that the area, now called Palestine, would be divided between a state dominated by the Jews and an area dominated by the Muslim Palestinians. The Arab states, however, refused to accept this. They demanded that no Jewish state exist and prepared to attack.

Events moved so quickly that Israel initially could not decide on a name, debating between Judah and Israel before making Israel official. Immediately upon the departure of the British and Israel's declaration of independence on May 14, 1948, the combined armies of Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Egypt, and Iraq attacked the new state from all sides. The Arabs ordered the Palestinians to leave the area, swearing they would destroy absolutely everything and everyone to annihilate the Israelis. The Israelis were hurled back initially. After weeks of intense fighting, Israel began gaining the upper hand. By the following January, the badly outnumbered Israelis had managed to expel all four armies and had actually increased its holdings by almost 50%. At the end of the War of Independence, Jordan had annexed the Arab-held West Bank of the Jordan River and East Jerusalem, and Egypt held the Gaza Strip.

Israel was a young democracy surrounded by hostile enemies in a very unstable part of the world. Egypt continued to antagonize Israel by inciting terrorist attacks from Gaza and blocking Israeli access to the nearby Suez Canal. This led to an armed confrontation in 1956 that drew in the British. It ended after one week of fighting.

In 1967, Egypt and Syria prepared to strike again. The Israelis realized they were about to be attacked, and in a pre-emptive move, struck Syria and Egypt. Jordan then attacked Israel in response. In six days, Israel hurled back all three armies and seized the Golan Heights of Syria near the Sea of Galilee, the West Bank, East Jerusalem, the Gaza Strip, and the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula. Terrorist attacks on Israel escalated in the ensuing years.

After the humiliation of the Six-Day War, Anwar Sadat became the Egyptian president and swore revenge. In 1973, on the Jewish holy day of Yom Kippur, the Jewish new year, Egypt and Syria launched a sneak attack on Israel. For 35 years, Israel had been building a military prepared for such attacks and launched a massive response. The Yom Kippur War ended with a United Nations cease-fire 17 days later as Israeli forces approach Damascus and recovered from Egyptian attacks near the Suez Canal. By 1978, Egypt signed a peace treaty with Israel, the Camp David Accords, a treaty that has held since that time. In 1994, Jordan signed a peace treaty with Israel.

Since Israel's victory in the Yom Kippur War, no Arab army has attacked Israel. However, the Arab states continued to escalate their rhetoric against Israel, calling for its total annihilation. Instead of direct confrontation, terrorist groups are funded by Iran and various individuals and organizations to attack Israeli targets.

The Palestine Liberation Organization was one such group, founded in 1964, was one such organization, launching blistering attacks on Israel into the 1980s. Israel faced many difficulties protecting its population as terrorists would launch attacks from the West Bank and Gaza, hiding in residential areas while at the same time infiltrating the Israeli population to launch attacks on women and children.

Hamas was founded in 1987, splitting off from the radical Muslim Brotherhood because it would not participate in violence in Israel. It began launching attacks on Israel in 1989, including bombings and kidnappings. Hundreds of people were killed, and Israel responded with force to defend itself. After years of peace negotiations, Israel left Gaza in 2005 and granted autonomy to the area and portions of the West Bank.

Hamas fashioned itself as a political organization. Focusing the frustrations of Palestinians still in the West Bank and especially Gaza against Israel, they won a majority of seats in the Palestinian legislature in 2007. Instead of building a state and addressing the problems of Gaza, they continued to focus their energies on attacks on Israel and assumed full control of Gaza. In spite of Israeli responses, Hamas continued to attack.

While spending decades under threat by its neighbors, Israel built a prosperous technical and agricultural society. Israel today is a nation of 9.7 million people. Throughout its entire existence as a modern state, it has had the difficult problem of balancing security and freedom. It has built a powerful military and an efficient intelligence service. As one Israeli official told NPR recently about the difference between the United States and Israel, "Your enemies are 7,000 miles away. Our enemies are 7,000 feet away."

Since last year enrollment has gone up at most of the publicly supported institutions of higher education in Arkansas.

The academic year began about a month ago and headcounts for this year are based on enrollment as of the 11th day of class.

The largest campus in the state is the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, which last year had more than 30,000 students enrolled for the first time ever. This year the university has more than 32,000 students.

The chancellor said that the university could have admitted 8,000 freshman but chose not to because of a lack of capacity. No deserving in-state students were denied, only those from out of state, he said. Commenting on the rapid growth at the Fayetteville campus, he said that he remembers in the 1990s when enrollment was about 15,000 students.

Arkansas State University at Jonesboro has a record number of students this semester, with 14,903. That is six percent more than last year.

The ASU system has increased enrollment throughout its system, with a total of 26,197 students. Henderson State University at Arkadelphia was the only one campus in the ASU system with a decline. It was a 15 percent drop, to 2,139 students.

The five two-year institutions in the ASU system at Beebe, Mid-South in West Memphis, Mountain Home, Newport and Three Rivers in Malvern, all had increases. Three Rivers had the greatest increase with 15.1 percent.

Southern Arkansas University in Magnolia set a record for enrollment last year, but this year's increase was more modest. SAU has 5,128 students.

The University of Central Arkansas at Conway saw its attendance drop slightly. The campus has 9,790 students, which is 1.3 percent fewer than last year.

Arkansas Tech University at Russellville has a total enrollment of 9,397, which is about 1 percent less than last year. Enrollment was down at Russellville and up at the Ozark campus.

Enrollment at the University of Arkansas at Fort Smith is up 2.5 percent since last year. The total number of students is 5,514.

The University of Arkansas at Monticello has 2,578 students this fall, an increase of 2 percent over last year.

Attendance went down again at the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, dropping 11 percent to 2,117 students.

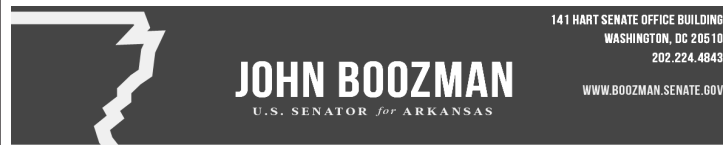

The University of Arkansas at Little Rock saw its number of students drop by about 1 percent, to 7,147 students. Due to an increase in full-time students combined with a decrease in part-time students, UALR has an increase of one percent in semester credit hours being taught.

The University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences has 3,275 students, up from 3,240 last year. Of its total, 356 students are at the UAMS campus in northwest Arkansas.

The University of Arkansas system's online institution, UA Grantham, has 4,651 students. That is an increase of more than 200 students since last year.

Attendance at the UA Community College at Hope-Texas is up 9 percent. At Phillips Community College of the University of Arkansas, enrollment is up 13 percent. At the UA Community College in Morrilton enrollment is up 18 percent. At UA Rich Mountain in Mena it is up 6 percent. At Cossatot Community College enrollment is up 5 percent and at the UA Community College at Batesville it's up 13 percent. UA Pulaski Technical College dropped by 1 percent.

In Arkansas we are blessed with an abundance of water resources that factor into our everyday lives, from clean drinking water to irrigation for crops and ideal settings for outdoor recreation. Whether it's the Mississippi River or the Ouachita River, or other bodies of water like DeGray or Norfolk Lake, a diverse range of opportunities and challenges are at stake with our waterways and groundwater.

It is important to remember the vital role the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) plays in the management of these resources within our state.

There is great respect for the task the Corps must carry out and its impact on the average Arkansan's life. I have worked closely with Corps leaders on many projects to benefit The Natural State. With three Corps Districts managing Arkansas land and water – Vicksburg, Little Rock and Mississippi Valley – there is ongoing collaboration for the sake of efficiency and maximum utilization in addressing our transportation, energy, conservation, recreation and agriculture needs.

The Arkansas and Mississippi Rivers' ability to support freight transport is a key tool for our state's farmers, ranchers and producers. On the Arkansas River alone, roughly 11 million tons of commodities are shipped annually up and down the McClellan-Kerr Arkansas River Navigation System (MKARNS) that begins at the confluence of the White and Mississippi Rivers and runs to Oklahoma.

The MKARNS is the Corps' largest public works project. For more than 50 years, it has helped enable enhanced navigation, flood control, power generation, habitat conservation and economic development in our state and beyond.

Having direct access to this transportation artery, and others throughout Arkansas that amount to more than 1,000 miles of navigable waterways, gives our state's agriculture industry access to ports across the country and the world.

That's why we work closely with the Corps to ensure the MKARNS continues to meet these needs. I've been a longtime champion of deepening the channel to increase capacity for river barges and welcome the significant investment the Little Rock District recently received for the 12-foot channel deepening project.

The Corps also plays an important role in managing safety and environmental issues for our waterways and related structures. As a member of the Senate Environment and Public Works (EPW) Committee, I proudly support these efforts and am committed to advocating measures to provide the funding and resources necessary for it to carry out that essential work.

Congress routinely makes updates to these policies by crafting a new Water Resources Development Act (WRDA), usually every other year. Through this legislation we authorize investments in new or existing ports and inland waterways, mitigate flood risk and improve Corps programs.

Recently the EPW Committee started the process of writing the 2024 WRDA bill. I have helped improve and advance this legislation in the past and will continue to do so.

We can be very proud of the work of the Corps does to support our waterways. This summer Vicksburg District celebrated its 150th anniversary and I was pleased to recognize this milestone in a statement to the congressional record.

Ensuring the Corps has the funding and resources to support its mission to maintain the underpinning of our country, our waterways, is vital. Through oversight of the Corps, I have the ability to confirm the agency is intentional in its decision-making to preserve and protect the waters in Arkansas. I look forward to further opportunities to do just that in the short-term and beyond.

 Exodus 35-36

Moses assembled the people of Israel and told them that the Lord had commanded that they were to take an offering for the Lord from what they had. "Everyone who is willing is to bring to the Lord an offering.....", he told them. Moses continued, "All who are skilled among you are to come and make everything the Lord has commanded: the tabernacle with it's tent and ....."

The whole Israelite community withdrew from Moses' presence and everyone who was willing and whose heart moved him came and brought an offering to the Lord for the work on the Tent of Meeting.

Moses summoned Bezalel and Oholiab and every skilled person to whom the Lord had given ability and who was willing to come and do the work. They received from Moses all the offerings the Israelites had brought. The people continued to bring freewill offerings morning after morning. The workmen said to Moses, "The people are bringing more than enough for doing the work the Lord commanded to be done." Moses sent word throughout the camp that no more offerings were to be made because they already had more than enough.

The Board of Directors of Hermitage School District No. 12 of Bradley County, Arkansas, in compliance with the requirements of Amendments No. 40 and No. 74 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas and of Ark. Code Ann. § 6-13-622 has prepared, approved and hereby makes public the proposed budget of expenditures, together with the tax rate, as follows:

1. Salary Fund Expenditures	$	1,969,000
2. Instructional Expense	$	1,234,000
3. Maintenance & Operation Expense	$	503,000
4. Dedicated M & O Expense	$	0
5. Pupil Transportation Expense	$	301,000
6. Other Operating Expense	$	156,000
7. Non-Bonded Debt Payment	$	0

To provide for the foregoing proposed budget of expenditures, the Board of Directors proposes a total school tax rate (state and local) of 41.5 mills on the dollar of the assessed value of taxable property located in this School District. The proposed tax includes the uniform rate of tax (the "Statewide Uniform Rate") to be collected on all taxable property in the State and remitted by the State Treasurer pursuant to Amendment No. 74 to the Arkansas Constitution to be used solely for maintenance and operation of schools in the State. As provided in Amendment No. 74, the Statewide Uniform Rate replaces a portion of the existing rate of tax levied by this School District and available for maintenance and operation of schools in this District. The total proposed school tax levy of 41.5 mills includes 25.0 mills specifically voted for general maintenance and operation and 16.5 mills voted for debt service previously voted as a continuing levy pledged for the retirement of existing bonded indebtedness. The surplus revenues produced each year by debt service millage may be used by the District for other school purposes.

The total proposed school tax levy of 41.5 mills represents the same rate presently being levied.

GIVEN this 9th day of October, 2023.

However, a flag was thrown on the play penalizing the Lumberjacks.

Denton threw the pass to Thomas who was close to the end zone but didn't make it before getting tackled and ending the first half.

The Lumberjacks continued to lead after halftime. Juarez kicked off to the Dragons at their 19-yard line.

During the third quarter, Coach Hembree was ejected from the game, though it is unclear for the reason.

At 8:03, the Dragons attempted a pass at the end zone, but Thomas jumped and intercepted it.

At 7:24, the Lumberjacks' offense was at the 15-yard line. Denton passed to Tramond Miller who dodged his way around the Dragons to the end zone scoring a touchdown. The Lumberjacks attempted a two-point conversion, but there was a flag on the play. The Lumberjacks were moved to the 18-yard line where Juarez's kick was blocked. The Lumberjacks led with 19-10.

The Dragons offense made it to the 36-yard line and were able to score a touchdown at 5:57. The score was close 19-17.

At 4:49, the Lumberjacks were at the 49-yard line where the ball was intercepted by the Dragons who were able to run around the Lumberjacks' defense to the end zone. Their extra point was no good, but they were in the lead 23-19.

At 3:28, the Lumberjacks were at the 39-yard line. Denton threw an incredible pass caught by Jordan at the one-yard line. At the next play, Jordan rushed through the defense crossing the end zone line for a touchdown. The Lumberjacks' attempt at a two-point conversion was no good, but the Lumberjacks were back in the lead 25-23 going into the fourth quarter.

The Dragons were forced to punt at the 45-yard line putting the Lumberjacks offense at the 22-yard line.
