Quorum Court receives updates on county building projects

By Zach Killian

The Bradley County Quorum Court met on Monday to discuss various business.

The quorum court received updates from the Bradley County Medical Center. The hospital is working on getting the Delta Regional grant. They are hoping to grow outpatient services by 10 percent. The hospital is also looking to improve revenue cycle. It was also mentioned that Ashley County had lost their OB services at the hospital.

Bradley County Judge Klay McKinney reported a new roof was up on the search and rescue building. The county is working on chip seal projects for the roads, but the judge said it is hard to find a contractor for it.

The foundation work at the Emergency Services building was finished on Smith Road. Construction continues. Judge McKinney said he wanted the building to be completed before the next election in 2024 so it can be used as a voting center.

Judge McKinney told the quorum court they were still waiting to hear from the governor's office who will replace the vacancy left by the late Eddie Wayne Parnell, Sr.

The next meeting will be at 6 p.m. on Monday, November 20.

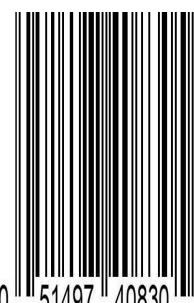

The foundation work has been completed on the soon-to-be emergency services building.

CONSCIENCE THE GREATEST PREACHER

You can stir a lively debate among churchgoers everywhere with this leading question. Who is the greatest preacher who ever lived? Every church has searched for the perfect preacher. You will be interested to know that after hundreds of years a model preacher has been found to suit everyone. He preaches exactly 20 minutes and then sits down. He condemns sin but never hurts anyone's feelings. He works from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. in every type of work from preaching to taxi services. He makes 60 dollars a week, wears good clothes, buys good books regularly, has a nice family, drives a good car and gives 30 dollars a week to the church. He also stands ready to contribute to every good work that comes along. He is 26 years old and has been preaching for 30 years. He is tall and short, thin and heavy set, plain looking, but handsome. He has one brown eye and one blue, hair parted in the middle, left side straight and dark, the other side wavy and blonde. He has a burning desire to work with teenagers and spends all his time with the older folks. He smiles all the time with a straight face, because he has a sense of humor that keeps him seriously dedicated to his work. He makes 15 calls a day on church members, spends all his time evangelizing the unchurched and is never out of his office. He is a truly remarkable person – and he does not exist!

The preacher I am talking about today is an instrument in the hands of God in whom there is no fault at all. I submit to you that he is the greatest preacher in history and that you have heard him preach many times.
His pulpit has been the world! He has never played favorites. He ministers with an unprejudiced outlook. His first sermon was preached in the Garden of Eden. Cain heard his cries in the night after Abel's blood was spilled on the rock. Jacob hears his voice constantly. David shook when he preached in the palace. He is still preaching, more fervently, with more anointing than ever before.

You ask, "who in the world are you talking about?" I am talking about Conscience. His congregation has included every person who has walked this planet. You can walk past the open door of churches but you cannot get away from this preacher. He gets his message across in such a way that you have to make a choice.
Jesus Christ is the only one who can turn your conscience from your pursuer into your friend. He is the only way. Jesus offers you mercy and forgiveness of sins. He is the only way to eternal life in Heaven.
Your conscience is valiantly striving to bring you to Jesus. You consider him your tormentor. The truth of the matter is this: conscience is not only the greatest preacher who ever lived; he is also the best friend you have ever had.

Oldtimer's Notebook

By Robert L. Newton

The publishers of The Eagle Democrat have chosen to publish articles from the past Oldtimer's Notebook in memory of Robert L. Newton. This article was first published September 19, 2001.
Bradley County area's lost two of its distinctive figures as the year 2001 slips slowly into fall and toward the end of perplexing time.
These are, alphabetically James O. Cuthbertson and Judge Charles Rex Vick.
Cuthbertson was a son of Grace and C.C. Cuthbertson, who helped establish the Warren YMCA just after World War I. Mrs. Cuthbertson was the longtime nurse and office assistant to Dr. Rufus Martin.
James was, among other things, one of the last survivors of Warren's great State Championship basketball team of 1931. This was Coach Ray Neal's team; it included Cuthbertson, J. C. Whitaker, Ennis Davis, and the Downey brothers, Victor and Vernon, more commonly known as "Big Downey" and "Little Downey".
This basketball team was not overladen with skill, but it was powerfully-overlaid with desire to win as taught by Ray Neal and exemplified by James Cuthbertson: Warren has never, in memory, athletically, had a single man or woman with a stronger desire to win than James Cuthbertson (the Rev. Paul Akin, longtime minister of the First Baptist Church, had that same burning desire on the basketball court).
James later went to what was then Arkansas A&M College, playing with a team that included James Monk of Carlisle and Floyd Richardson of the Ebenezer Community south of Fordyce in Calhoun County. The three later went to Hermitage with Cuthbertson as school superintendent and the others as teachers.

The Works Progress Administration had completed a wooden basketball gym on the Hermitage Main Street: here the school teams played but also an "independent team" under the sponsorship of the Bradley Lumber of Arkansas that featured Cuthbertson, Monk, and Richardson as mainstays.
Cuthbertson left education later and worked for the Southern Lumber Company in the fading years of the 'thirties, years when Warrenites wondered if Southern would survive (Cuthbertson confided in friends that he'd often, as office manager, have to go with other officials to Carl Hollis at the Merchants and Planters Bank to borrow money to meet the weekly payroll).
But Southern survived; so did James Cuthbertson, moving into lumber manufacture with a mill established by Leslie K. Pomeroy at Wilmar and then into woodtreating and timber management. James managed lots of the land of the descendants of Ira E. Moore, Rison, who once owned thousands of acres of timber in the area. Cuthbertson's second son, John, now handles the timber management activities established by his father.
James married Miss Kathleen Creed, Hermitage, a sister to that greatest athlete ever produced in central Bradley County, Travis (Pete) Creed, high school all America cager of almost 3/4 of a century ago.
The Cuthbertsons had four sons and a daughter. Three of the sons were recognized with the Deno Nichols Trophy as Warren High's top athlete of their graduating class.

The fourth son, Chuck, never completed athletically. He has been a longtime resident of the Human Development Center of Arkadelphia.
Finally, full of years, James succumbed.
One would assume, knowing him "not without a fight".
Charles Rex Vick went to the Warren Schools and, like many a youth of his time, joined the navy. He happened to be stationed at the great base, Pearl Harbor, in December, 1941.
He survived the attack, of course, as did another Pearl Harbor Navy veteran, A.J. McFarland of Banks (Mr. McFarland was reported "Missing". His mother, the late Hattie Smith McFarland, never doubted he'd be found; he was).
Judge Vick came home on leave after the attack, married a lovely young woman named Merle, and went ahead to serve his country.
He was one of that youthful group of veterans who sought, and achieved, public office after The War, becoming first, county clerk, and later county judge.
Rex Vick could not be beaten on a Bradley County ballot. Reason for this is that Judge Vick was some kind of politician (that is the use of the word "politician" in a praise-worthy manner).
Here's another: the long-time Myrtle Street resident of Garland R. Blankinship. It had fallen on bad days: when "Mr. Garland" had the house, it was always in top shape, and as the late Mayme Stevens Hollensworth once reported in a feature article, it had a front porch light the Blankinships never extinguished, day or night.
Garland Blankinship was a Cleveland County native who worked briefly in his youth as a conductor on a street car in Pine Bluff: later he came to Warren and became prosperous first in logging and then, with the purchase of the Ford dealership from Perry Lambert, a car and truck dealer.
He lost his first wife and was the widower father to four sons: Voy, Dick, Fred, and Curtis.
Later, of course, he struggled with bad health, but he was a mover and a shaker in Warren and Bradley County life, ever-quietly, ever-discreetly, ever-effectively.

WHS band director speaks to Warren Rotary Club

Special to The Eagle
The Rotary Club of Warren met for its weekly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 17 at First Methodist Church. He was able to get a job with his hometown band at Magnolia High School but is now in his first year as Warren High School's Band Director. Rep. Wardlaw announces candidacy for re-election

Special to The Eagle

“I want to thank the people for allowing me to represent them in the House of Representatives for the past 14 years. It has been a privilege to serve. I am pleased with what we have accomplished but know there is more to do to keep our area of the state viable and headed on a positive economic path. I am excited about the initiatives we are taking concerning education. Having six children I realize the importance of education and worked hard to get additional funding for our universities in Monticello and McGehee. It is imperative we have good health care for our communities. I worked hard to help our hospitals get extra funding in the last legislative session. I hope you will give me the opportunity to continue work on behalf of the people of southeast Arkansas.” said Jeff Wardlaw as he announced he would seek another term as State Representative. The legislative district covers Drew County and parts of Bradley and Desha Counties.

Arkansas History Minute

by
Dr. Kenneth Bridges

In the 1870s, medicine was in a miserable state in Arkansas. Few doctors were available and the remote locations of many farmsteads and small towns made it difficult for doctors to reach patients. Worse still, there were no means to train new doctors in Arkansas. Two Little Rock medical partners, Dr. Philo Hooper and Dr. Augustus Breysacher, decided it was time for this to change. Together with a team of other respected physicians, they launched what is now one of the most respected medical schools in the South, the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences.

Dr. Hooper himself knew the difficulties young doctors in Arkansas faced. Even growing up in Little Rock, there was little education available for someone interested in medicine. He attended college in Tennessee and apprenticed in Arkansas under Dr. Lorenzo Gibson, learning what he could until he gained admission to a medical school in Pennsylvania, graduating at age 23. Dr. Breysacher had been born in Ohio and earned his medical degree in Missouri in 1859. In 1873, he teamed up with Hooper to form their popular medical practice.

The two saw the great difficulties education faced in the state. In the early 1870s, some politicians still fought the establishment of the University of Arkansas. Doctors had fought legislators in 1873 to even get legal permission to dissect cadavers. While such dissections were essential tools for young medical students to understand the workings of the human body, the practice disgusted laymen who did not understand its use. Other doctors expressed their concerns as well and formed the Arkansas Medical Society in 1875 in order to help each other learn the latest developments in medicine and establish professional standards for Arkansas doctors.

Hooper and Breysacher met with six other Little Rock-area physicians and discussed the need for improved medical education in the state. The eight had all served as surgeons in the Civil War, in both Union and Confederate armies, and had all seen how incompetent medical care had cost countless lives. The eight, all successful and wealthy men, decided it was time to invest in the future of the health of the people. Contributing $625 each, they established the state's first medical school in 1879. However, this $625 would be worth $19,000 in modern dollars.

The school would be housed in an old hotel they had bought, which was next door to a hardware store that also had a medical dispensary students would also work in. All eight co-founders would serve as professors in addition to their regular medical practices. Twenty-two students were admitted for the fall 1879 session, with the first graduate in 1880.

Though the early years of the medical school were difficult, today UAMS houses more than three thousand students and more than 1,400 professors, in addition to 787 resident physicians who provide expert care in communities across the state. Here, the state's first bone marrow transplant and liver transplants were performed and millions of dollars are poured into research into cancer and geriatrics. More than 500,000 square feet of the UAMS facility in Little Rock is dedicated to research. The college itself generates $5 billion for Arkansas each year. All from the vision of two partners dedicated to saving medicine in Arkansas.

Senate Week in Review from Ben Gilmore Senator

One of the ongoing developments in state government over the past six months has been the efforts of the Human Services Department to reduce the number of people on Medicaid.

The goal is to return the health coverage program to levels more closely resembling those prior to the Covid-19 pandemic. During the pandemic the federal government issued emergency regulations that prohibit the state from dropping people on Medicaid, regardless of whether or not their financial circumstances changed.

In April, when the federal government announced the expiration of its emergency orders, the Arkansas Medicaid program was able to restore its traditional criteria for determining whether or not a family was eligible to receive services.

Since then the Department has been conducting an extensive process to redetermine the eligibility of all people on Medicaid. Department officials are calling this a period of "unwinding." Standards for determining eligibility in normal times are also set by the federal government.

In the six months since Arkansas has been "unwinding" its Medicaid rolls, the department has determined that 427,459 people are no longer eligible for services.

The Arkansas Secretary of Human Services said that she was proud of the department's staff who did the work of "unwinding" the Medicaid rolls, because it is important that the program has the resources to serve the people who truly need health coverage.

If you believe the department mistakenly dropped you from Medicaid, you can get information about re-applying at this website address: ar.gov/cover

You also can call 855-372-1084 from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday through Saturday, or go to your local DHS office.

In August, enrollment in Arkansas Medicaid had decreased to 915,926 people. That compares to pre-pandemic levels, such as in March, 2020, when enrollment was 921,066 people.

Since the legislature adjourned its regular session in April, another ongoing issue has been the legal battle over the LEARNS Act. It is a broad reform of public schools proposed by the governor and enacted by the legislature that was challenged in the courts soon after it was signed.

The state Supreme Court, in a 6-to-1 ruling, dismissed the challenges of plaintiffs who argued that the legislature had failed to properly vote on the act's emergency clause.

The act creates Education Freedom Accounts that provide funding to families who send eligible students to private schools. This year 4,795 students in 94 schools are benefiting from the program.

Most of the families will receive $6,672, although families of 628 students who had been getting Succeed Scholarships will receive $7,413.

According to a report to legislators from the Education Secretary, 59 percent of the students live in central Arkansas and 16 percent live in northwest Arkansas.

Students with a disability make up 44 percent and first-time kindergarteners make up 31 percent of the recipients.

The Education Department received 5,660 applications. The reason for most of the rejected applications was lack of documentation or clarification. Education officials estimate that the state will distribute $32.5 million this school year to families of eligible students.

FEATURES FROM THE BIBLE
TRUTH IN SCRIPTURE
SPIES TO the Promised Land
Numbers 13 and Deuteronomy 1

Moses sent 12 spies to check out the land of Canaan, the land to which they were going. One was selected from each tribe: Shammua from the tribe of Reuben, Shaphat from the tribe of Simeon, Caleb from the tribe of Judah, Igal from the tribe of Issachar, Hoshea (Joshua) from the tribe of Ephraim (a tribe of Joseph), Palti from the tribe of Benjamin, Gaddiel from the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddi from the tribe of Manasseh (a tribe of Joseph), Ammiel from the tribe of Dan, Sethur from the tribe of Asher, Nahbi from the tribe of Naphtali, Geuel from the tribe of Gad.

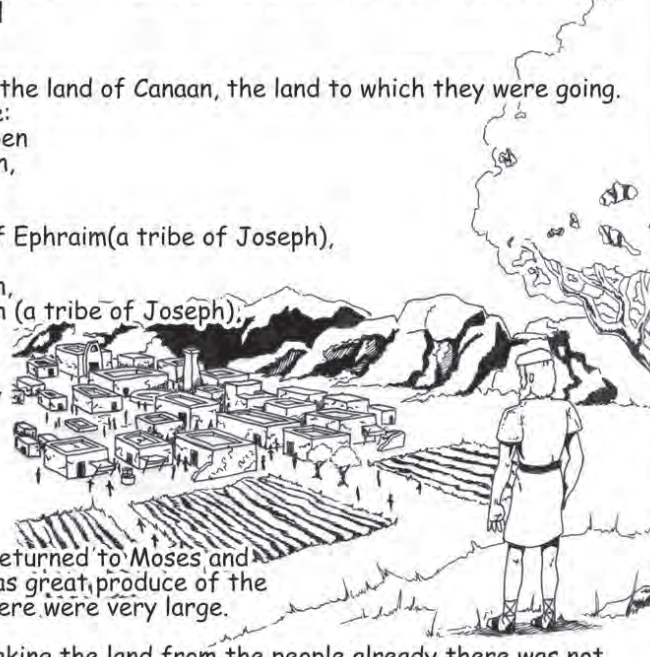

After searching out the land the spies were to report to Moses what they had found.

At the end of 40 days the spies returned to Moses and Aaron and reported that there was great produce of the land, but that the people living there were very large.

10 of the spies said the task of taking the land from the people already there was not possible.

Joshua and Caleb said that the land was exceedingly good. They said that if the Lord was pleased with the Israelites He would lead them into the land and give it to them. "...do not rebel against the Lord. And do not be afraid of the people of the land, because we will swallow them up. Their protection is gone, but the Lord is with us. Do not be afraid of them," they plead before the entire assembly of the Israelites. Numbers 14: 9.

HERMITAGE SCHOOL DISTRICT FALL FESTIVAL 2023 A SMALL TOWN NIGHT TO REMEMBER

Special to The Eagle

On October 19, 2023, Hermit Field came alive for the annual Fall Festival hosted by the Hermitage School District. The aroma of popcorn filled the air as citizens of Bradley County poured onto the field. Various local churches, Bradley County officials, local and affiliated businesses, and organizations set up booths to support the Hermits featuring games and fun for all ages. The Fall Festival was an undeniable success with many memories made. We cannot thank our community enough for the continued support they show our district.

Saline River Shootout Trophy stays in Warren

By Zach Killian

The Union Bank Saline River Shootout trophy stayed in Warren after their victory against the Monticello Billies 42-21.

"Early we didn't play well offensively I thought we sputtered a little bit," said Head Lumberjack Coach Bo Hembree. "They had two weeks to get ready for us and you could tell. I thought we settled down in the second half outside the first drive. We started running the football and just said 'hey if they are going to line up that way then we'll just pound it' and we were able to do that."

Before the game, there was a community pep rally and tailgate party sponsored by the Bradley County Medical Center. The Warren High School Band and cheerleaders kept the crowd excited for the game.

The seniors for the Lumberjack football team, band, and cheerleaders were also recognized.

The Billies opened the game with a kickoff to the Lumberjacks. A flag was thrown on the play, forcing a redo. The ball was caught by Tramond Miller at the 40-yard line. He was able to run it to the Billies' 42-yard line.

At the next play, Kam Davis ran the ball to the 17-yard line. Treyton Jackson grabbed the ball and ran it to the two-yard line.

At 9:58, Jordyn Ingram grabbed the ball and ran it to the end zone for the first touchdown. The extra point by kicker Allan Juarez was good, giving the Lumberjacks 7-0.

The Lumberjacks defense forced the Billies to punt at the 30-yard line.

At 3:14, the Billies' wide receiver fumbled the ball and rolled out of bounds putting the Lumberjacks back on offense.

With 26 seconds left in the first quarter, the Lumberjacks had a fourth down at the seven-yard line. Coach Hembree called a timeout.

Quarterback Jackson Denton threw a pass at the end zone, but it was intercepted by the Billies, putting their first and ten at their 20-yard line.

The Lumberjacks led going into the second quarter with 7-0.

The Lumberjacks were forced to punt at the 43-yard line at 7:12.

Later, the Billies fumbled the ball rolling out of bounds at the 50-yard line. The Lumberjacks' offense got the ball at their 26-yard line.

At 3:44, the Billies intercepted the ball from Denton and ran to the end zone for a touchdown, tying the game 7-7 after their extra point.

The Billies punted at their 40-yard line which was caught by Davis for an 11-yard run at the Billies' 37-yard line.

Denton connected with Neon'dre Thomas at the 15-yard line. Thomas ran the ball to the end zone for a touchdown. Juarez was tackled before he could make the kick, preventing the Lumberjacks from getting the extra point. The score was then 13-7 breaking the tie.

At 1:27, the Billies made a 38-yard run before being tackled at the one-yard line. The Billies called timeout.

The Billies were able to score for a one-yard play. Their extra point put them in the lead 14-13.

Jordan scored a touchdown putting the Lumberjacks back in the lead. The Lumberjacks performed a successful two-point conversion ending the first half with 21-14.

At 9:43, the Billies punted at the 18-yard line.

At 8:35, the Lumberjacks punted at the 40-yard line.

Jordyn Ingram hit the hole for his first touchdown.

The Billies' quarterback pass to their wide receiver ran to the Lumberjacks' 25-yard line. The Billies pushed to the three-yard line and were able to score a touchdown at 4:54.

Their extra point was good making another tie with 21-21.

The Lumberjacks were at the 10-yard line. Antonio Jordan ran the ball to the end zone. However, a flag was thrown against the Lumberjacks for holding. The penalty made the touchdown not count.

With 46 seconds left in the third quarter, Jordan burst through the Billies' defense for a successful touchdown. The kick by Juarez was good, breaking the tie 28-21.

The Lumberjack went into the fourth quarter in the lead. At 9:37, the Billies punted at the 32-yard line. It was caught by Jordan before running out of bounds at the 42-yard line.

At 4:07, Ingram scored a touchdown with an 11-yard run. The kick by Juarez was good making the final score 42-21 for the Lumberjacks.

The Lumberjacks will travel to Helena on Friday. The Lumberjacks continue their undefeated streak in the season.

Weevils lose Pink Out game to the Reddies

Special to The Eagle

The University of Arkansas at Monticello football team played their eighth game of the 2023 season on Saturday afternoon when the Boll Weevils hosted Great American Conference member Henderson State University. UAM came out of the contest with a 42-14 loss to the Reddies.

Henderson State was the first to score and held on to the lead for the remainder of the game, seeing their offense grow a big lead over UAM before the Boll Weevils began to put points of their own on the board. The Arkansas-Monticello offense would put up only 251 total offensive yards in the match-up. Jordan Mansfield contributed the lone offensive touchdown on the game for the Weevils, scoring on a 42-yard reception in the fourth quarter.

Buddy Taylor gave a 14-32 performance with 234 passing yards. Arlie Lee led UAM in receiving for three receptions and 92 total yards, with the longest being a 34-yarder. Jordan Mansfield was close behind with five receptions for 82 total yards. On the ground, Tristan Smith once again led the Boll Weevils, having nine carries for a net total of 34 yards.

Defensively, Jakerrias Scott stood above the rest with six total tackles and three solo stops on the game.

Zachary Grisotti led the day in extra point attempts, going 2-2.

Post Game

Boll Weevil Head Coach Hud Jackson had this to say after the game: "Played hard. Got to bounce back. This team understands where we are at. We have to keep our focus and perform at a level that gives us a chance. We will fight!! Eat'em up!"

How it Happened

First Quarter

06:01 - HSU | Elijah Jordan pulled in an 18-yard pass to give Henderson State the first points of the game.

Second Quarter

08:16 - HSU | Andrew Edwards rushed two yards into the Boll Weevil endzone.

00:39 - HSU | Fredrick O'Donald extends the Reddie lead with a 13-yard reception to head into the half with a 28-0 advantage.

00:41 - HSU | Korien Burrell gave Henderson State a final touchdown, rushing three yards into the Boll Weevil Endzone.
