Warren dominates Pocahontas in playoff victory

By EAGLE STAFF

The Warren Lumberjacks put on a commanding performance in their playoff opener, cruising to a 35-0 victory over the Pocahontas Redskins. From the very first possession, Warren's offense was firing on all cylinders, stifling Pocahontas at every turn. The victory advances Warren to the next round of the playoffs, where they will look to continue their postseason run.

The game began with Warren winning the coin toss and electing to receive the opening kickoff. Starting at their own 42-yard line, the Lumberjacks wasted no time. Quarterback Cam Burks connected on a quick pass to Antonio Jordan, setting up a first down on the Pocahontas 38-yard line. Despite a brief setback with an incomplete pass, Warren kept moving the chains. On a crucial third-and-15, Burks found Tramond Miller for a big gain, and Jordan ran for the first down on the next play to put Warren inside the Pocahontas 30-yard line.

On the very next play, Jordan rushed for another solid gain, setting up a first down at the Pocahontas 11-yard line. Burks then kept the ball himself, scrambling to the 8-yard line before Jordan punched it in for a touchdown with 9:14 left in the first quarter. The extra point was good, and Warren led 7-0 early.

Pocahontas responded by starting their first possession from their own 34-yard line, but they couldn't get anything going. Quarterback D.J. Coffee is under constant pressure from Warren's defense, and on third-and-three, a strong stop by linebacker Kam Davis forced a punt. Warren took over at the Pocahontas 40-yard line, and their offense picked up right where it left off. Aaron Davis broke a 15-yard run to put the Lumberjacks inside the Pocahontas 30-yard line, and Burks connected with Josiah Steen for a first-and-goal.

GAMMEL SELECTED AS BCMC'S EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

BCMC's Hailey Gammel has won the November Employee of the Month award. Gammel, of the BCMC Outpatient Therapy Department, was nominated by a very special patient, Charlotte Ruthe Wilkerson, along with her mom Elise. Charlotte Ruthe did not want to be in her walker in the beginning, but is now running everywhere in her walker thanks to the help of Gammel, who has worked with her since March. Wilkerson is grateful for the dedication Gammel has shown Charlotte Ruthe. Congratulations Hailey!

Passin' the Faith Along
 By REV. JIM BALES

COME ... LET US REASON

I love that word "reason." It appeals to everything within me. The apostle Peter used that word: "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you" (1 Peter 3:15). Our faith is not the product of some addled witch doctor. Nor is it the superstitious hocus-pocus of the snake handler. Think of it, my friend! The God of the Universe invites you and me: "Come, let us reason together!" What a superb invitation! What an opportunity! I have long believed that the gospel message must be delivered to the whole man. Far too much of it today is geared only to emotion. Of course, there is emotion to the gospel, and I will touch on that subject in a moment. But many today know only the rhythmic beat of the song or the ecstasy of the manifestation. And the rest of the gospel goes by the boards. No, the gospel message is for the whole man, not just that part of him that is most easily moved. May I say to you that any good preaching should appeal to your intellect. God engineered our brains for a better purpose than to just keep our ears apart. We are to be thinking creatures, the ability which sets us apart from the brute of the wild. God has given us the gift of reason. As I pour through the pages of the Bible, my mind races about, needing the discipline of the Master Teacher, the Holy Spirit. Christ gave us the marvelous

Spirit that we might better learn — not just feel. So the gospel appeals to my mind. And it appeals to my emotions. But it also appeals to my will! Somewhere along the line, God expects some commitment from me. I cannot remain passive. The Word of God makes it clear to God's way and I must do something about it. Now! Let me ask you today: Have you been straddling the fence? Undecided about your eternal life? Uncommitted to God? How long do you realistically think you can continue to do that? Genesis 6:3 is a staggering verse. Have you ever read it? It says, "My [God's] Spirit shall not always strive with man." That ought to knock you off your fence right now!

A person can only come to God as the Holy Spirit draws him. You cannot come just any time you decide. The Spirit of God must draw you just as He is doing right now. And it is a dangerous thing to presume that His drawing will continue for you another minute. Now is the accepted time! Today is the day of salvation. God is appealing to you will, as well as to your mind and emotions. Will you do something about the Lord today? What will you do with Jesus? Oh — one more thing! The gospel appeals to man's conscience! When I read the Word of God, it brings me under a conviction for my sin. The Holy Spirit brings each passage to bear upon my sense of morality. That's what happened when Isaiah had a revelation of God. It drove him to his knees. He cried out, "Woe is me! for I am undone: because I am a man of unclean lips, and I will dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts" (Isaiah 6:5). So God says to you, "Come! Let us reason together. If your life is fouled by sin, I will make you clean. I will give you a fresh start. And you will have such sweet peace and joy. But if you do not come to Me, then Satan will finish his work and destroy you. Come — reason it out. Think it through. And then choose the right way."

Oldtimer's Notebook

The publishers of The Eagle Democrat have chosen to publish articles from the past Oldtimer's Notebook in memory of Robert L. Newton. This article was first published November 17, 1999.

We were in Fayetteville for the Tennessee game last weekend, thus missing the Buck Fever processes at Banks. We would have had a better time in Clay Township, come to think of it; less-expensive, too. Old Gary McFarland and his crowd do a grand job with that festivity at Banks.

Rock Island built its railroad line from Tinsman to a point in the middle of the big woods in western Ashley County where Iowa investors decided to build a sawmill. They called the place Crossett.

The railroad caused several spots to be set up as new towns under Rock Island sponsorship: Tinsman, Banks, Craney (it never got off the ground), Hermitage, Vick, Ingalls, Stillions, etc. Hermitage and Banks survive, as does Tinsman, to a lesser extent.

The old school stands at Tinsman where Mrs. Virgie Erwin taught. She brought along her toddler daughter, Cherie, who sat at a little table and chair next to her desk. Hence, when it was time for Cherie to start school at Banks when she was six, she started in the third grade. Cherie Bradford is a retired teacher here in the city and a pillar in the choir of First Presbyterian Church.

At Tinsman, you'll see the little store building where people like Lon B. Stell, David Fort, and, of course, Vester Johnson, conducted a grocery business at the corner of Gannaway and Church here in town.

The little wooden building was moved to Tinsman to make way for the current offices of Bradley Medical Center's home health services (originally built as a supermarket by the James V. Hargis Estate; that's another story.)

Mention of Banks reminds us of a letter that came the other day from Mary Clare Brummett Putman of Gallatin, Tenn.

When we were young, back in the fading shades of antiquity, we used to go park on the lamented North Steel Bridge and dance as a car radio brought us music under the sponsorship either of Sterling Pilsner Beer or the Randy Record

Shop of Gallatin. This all worked out fine: a car or truck would come along about every half an hour and we'd get out of the way.

Everything worked well as long as you didn't run the car battery down by playing the radio. Charlie Harrison did that once. We had an AWFUL time getting Mr. Gordon Harrison's big old car started . . . automatic drive, dead battery, and no jumper cables.

Mary Clare was the granddaughter of the pioneer merchant/businessman, R. F. Powers. One of his daughters married Laurence Hurley and the other married H. G. Brummett.

Mr. Brummett was a car dealer. His establishment was situated on Attorney Blake Marsh's parking lot at Cedar and Myrtle. The Brummetts had a daughter and a son, Bob. Mrs. Brummett succumbed in the flu epidemic of World War I, old-timers tell us, and the Laurence Hurleys took over raising Mary Clare and her brother.

Mary Clare was (is) an attractive lady who taught school at Banks with the likes of our valued old friend, Dr. J. Walter Jones. Mrs. Putman taught for a year at Banks. Says she: "There was so much musical talent out there! Abbie Gibbe Abernathy, the Hottle girls, and our wonderful boys' quartet, and our chorus too. We won prizes at the state contest. That's how I got a job teaching at Crossett. Mr. Hastings, superintendent there then, came to me after the competition and recruited me to teach music there. At Crossett, of course, I met my husband, who had just graduated from Northwestern University and was learning the lumber-treating business there."

Memories that bless and burn; mostly bless.

We can guarantee Mrs. Putman that her teaching at Banks proved to be a blessing and remains thus in her student, Abbie Gibbe.

Mrs. Putman also tells about representing the Warren YMCA in a swim meet at Little Rock. The Warren Y was strong in swimming back then too, with people like Mary Clare, the brothers McFarland, Ned and Jerry, and, of course, the best, Louis Gene "Deno" Nichols. Deno Nichols was Warren's most gifted all-around athlete of pre-war years.

So far, Jerry Watts, has been the most gifted one in the years that followed. He could do everything; all State in football and basketball and salutatorian of his class, just for starters . . .

We left you with Dr. Rufus Martin and his cache of Yellowstone last week as we continued memory's tour of downtown Warren of the 30s.

Next door was Will Appleton's drugstore and next to that was John McCaskill's; he of the wandering soda fountain.

Later, Mr. Aubert Pirtle came into business with Mr. McCaskill. Mr. Aubert and his wife moved to Camden in the late 30s. They had a house on Bradley, across from the site of the new hospital. When they moved to Camden, they stored all their furniture in the front bedroom and rented the house to Harold Creed, who had come to Warren from Hermitage to work at Moseley Furniture and Hardware.

The Creeds had a son, Charles, one of the noblest of the Romans, who has practiced his dental arts in East Texas just about forever.

On to the south was the little barber shop still operating. Back then the late Ray Roberts plus the late Horace Ashcraft practiced their tonsorial arts on the site.

Note: neither would speak to you when you entered the building (they apparently looked upon that expression of cordiality as a solicitation for their individual services.)

Next door was Mr. Aubert Davis' drugstore. He was a successor to his father, Dr. Davis, who built the house on North Myrtle currently being restored by the younger daughter of the Austin Williamses, Brenda, wife of a longtime Ouachita County school administrator. Our friends, Willie Laster and Berry Haire, are doing the work.

Mr. Aubert Davis married Miss Linnie Mae Barnett, and they resided in a house at Shields and Turner that was later removed and made the site of two small brick homes. One was occupied by our friend Beede Johnson.

Later, of course, Mr. McCaskill and Mr. Pirtle agreed to dissolve their relationship and Mr. McCaskill put in a drugstore where Owens Shoes and Clothing later operated and then State Representative Marian Owens Ingram's real estate activities were headquartered.

Next door to the south was a business operated by a Mr. Bryan who worked on radios and, who, amazingly, had a TV in his window in the late 40s showing flickering images from WMC of Memphis.
Everybody thought that was amazing; wasn't his name Dudley Eugene Bryan?

In the neighborhood, too, was the Nu-Way Cleaners and offices of the insurance activities of Kim Hedrick.
Mr. Hedrick ran the cleaners with the assistance of Ernest and Gerard Sangster's elegant, French war bride mother, Carmen.
Well, we'll wander down Main some more later.

the following play, as a touchdown run by Jordan was called back due to a personal foul penalty, but it didn't matter. The Lumberjacks quickly made up for it, with Burks finding Steen again for a touchdown from 14 yards out. The extra point made it 14-0 with 5:57 left in the first quarter.
Pocahontas had no answer for Warren's high-powered offense, and their second drive ended in a turnover on downs after they failed to convert a critical fourth-and-one. Warren took over at the Pocahontas 31-yard line and needed just a few plays to add to their lead. Aaron Davis broke off a 46-yard touchdown run, powering his way into the end zone with 4:23 left in the first half. The extra point was good, making it 35-0.

The Redskins' offense never found a rhythm. A fumble recovery by Warren's defense after a loose ball on a second-and-one run by Pocahontas gave the Lumberjacks another chance to extend their lead, but the first half ended with Warren up 35-0. The Redskins' struggles continued into the second half, where the mercy rule was put into effect, meaning the clock continued to run even when no plays were happening.

With the clock running continuously due to the mercy rule, Warren continued to dominate both sides of the ball. After a fumble recovery on a Pocahontas kickoff return, the Lumberjacks were back in business at the Pocahontas 31-yard line. But the Lumberjacks failed to score on the drive, turning the ball over on downs with 5:39 left in the third quarter.
Pocahontas did manage to get on the scoreboard late in the third quarter with a touchdown, but it was far too little, too late. Their attempt at a two-point conversion was no good, as the pass was incomplete. That touchdown was the only positive moment for the Redskins on the night, and it did little to change the course of the game.

Warren's offense was explosive, with multiple players contributing to the big win. Burks passed efficiently, while Aaron Davis and Antonio Jordan provided a dynamic rushing attack. Meanwhile, the defense was relentless, with players like Kam

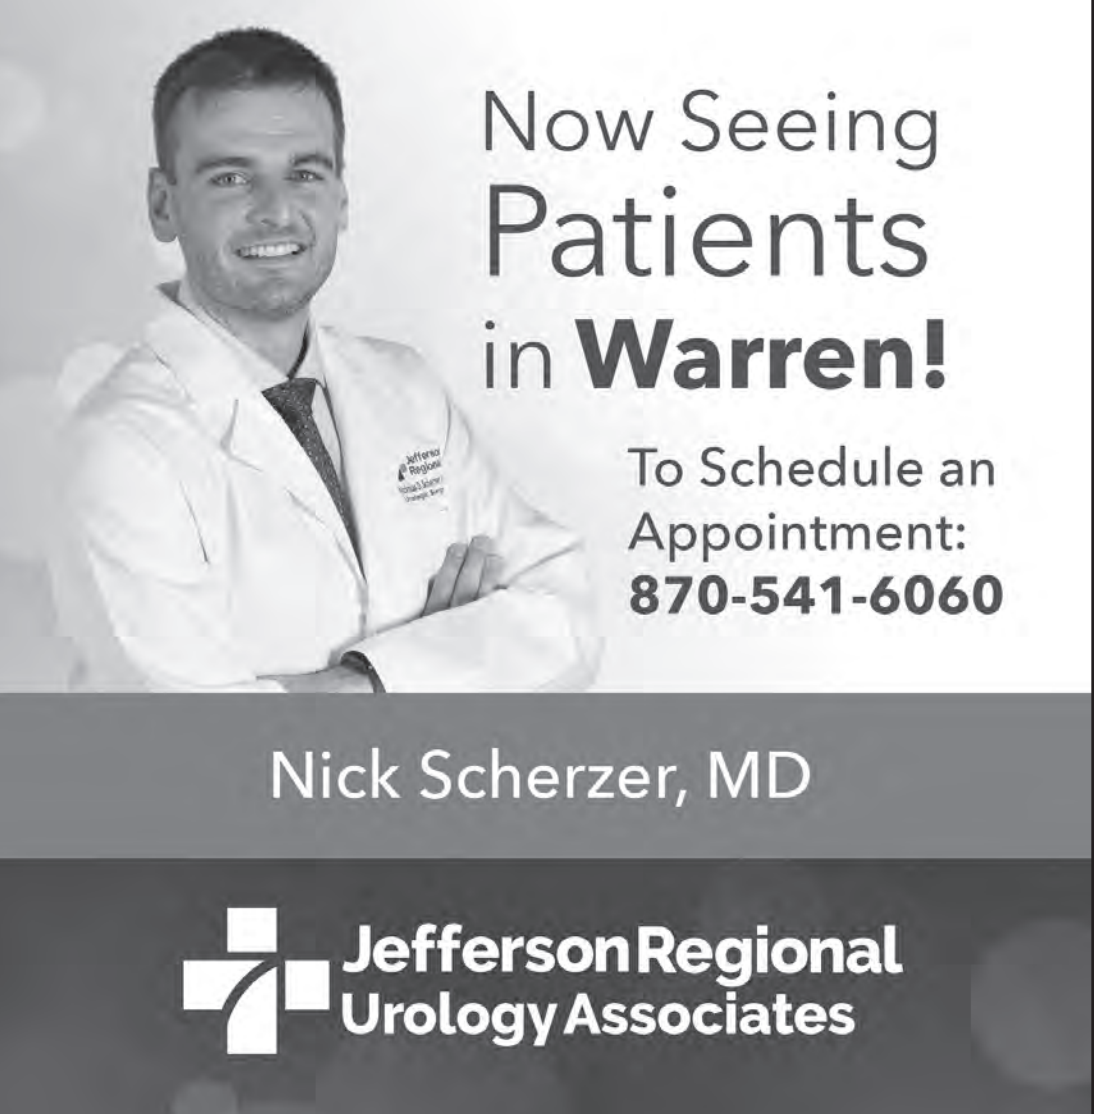

Davis and Braxton Hembree making key stops. The Lumberjacks' dominant first-half performance set the tone for the rest of the game, and they never looked back.
As the clock ticked down in the third quarter, it became clear that the Lumberjacks were in full control, and the game ended with Warren's 35-0 shut-out victory. With their dominant win, Warren advances to the next round of the playoffs, where they will face a tougher challenge, but if they continue to play like this, they will be a force to be reckoned with.

Warren's dominant performance was a testament to their skill, depth, and preparation, and they will be a team to watch as they continue their playoff run.

Arkansas House Report

Jeff Wardlaw
Ark. State Representative

This week, members elected to serve in the 95th General Assembly gathered in the House Chamber for an Organizational Meeting. Members chose their seats and committees, and incoming freshmen drew numbers for seniority. You can find the seniority list and lists of committee memberships at arkansashouse.org.

As we move forward, members have begun filing bills that will be considered during the upcoming 2025 Regular Session. More than 50 bills have been filed so far in the House. The proposed legislation addresses topics from maternal health coverage to voter registration. Our website also includes a link to the recently filed legislation.

There was another big development this week at the Capitol as Governor Sanders presented her balanced budget proposal to members. The governor's proposal calls for a 2.89 percent increase in spending. The governor says her proposal prioritizes education, maternal health, public safety, and government efficiency.

As Education Freedom Accounts will be available to any student in the state next year, the governor said she is proposing $90 million in additional funding, plus an additional $90 million in set aside funding to create a reserve for the program.

The proposed budget also includes $13 million in new Medicaid funding for proposals created by the Strategic Committee on Maternal Health. The proposal includes $100 million for Medicaid sustainability.

The proposal includes $3.15 million in new funding for the proposed state employee pay plan and nearly $50 million for the Department of Corrections.

This proposal will be considered by the 95th General Assembly during the 2025 Regular Session. The session begins on January 13, 2025.

A cranberry conundrum

By JOANNA POOLE
reporter@theeagledemocrat.com

This time of year, most people are gearing up to spend time with their loved ones. Their menus are planned and their guests list is set. By now, most people have been given expectations on what to bring. Grocery lines are long, last minute stops are being made, and parking spots are becoming harder to find. My favorite holiday, Thanksgiving is days away.

But I have always had one question when it comes to a certain holiday staple. A few years ago I noticed that the label on cans of cranberry sauce is upside down. Have you noticed? Is this a defect on a particular brand? The answer to the last question is no. It doesn't matter what brand you go with; the label will always be upside down.

Immediately I went to the Google and did some research. Despite deep research, I found nothing. I think I probably searched for an hour. Survey says that it was a waste of time.

Fast-forward three or four years and I can say I have found a legitimate answer. However, before I get to why, I want to talk about a debate that goes on every single year. Canned or fresh. Do you eat the canned cranberry sauce or are you a "make it yourself from scratch" type? If you eat the canned sauce, are you a berries or no berries sort?

I have an uncle that recently passed away and I will always think of him because that was our constant argument. Of course, it was always argued in good spirits. He opted for cranberry sauce from scratch every year. He couldn't stand the jiggy stuff.

"Jelly belongs at the breakfast table," said Wayne. "Not with my

Senate Week in Review from Ben Gilmore Senator

The governor proposed a balanced budget for legislators to consider during the 2025 session when they set spending levels for state government agencies.

Arkansas operates under a balanced budget, but the governor's proposal is important because it outlines her spending priorities for Fiscal Year 2026. We are now in the middle of Fiscal Year 2025, which ends on June 30, 2025.

Under the governor's proposal, state government would grow 2.89 percent next fiscal year. The governor listed her priorities as education, maternal health, public safety and government efficiency.

Next year all Arkansas students will be eligible for Education Freedom Accounts, which were created by the legislature in 2023 when it approved the LEARNS Act. The EFA program helps families pay tuition at private schools.

Because of high interest in the EFA program, the governor said, her budget proposal includes $90 million in additional funding to accommodate new students. Another $90 million in one time "set aside" money would be available in case demand exceeds expectations.

The Public School Fund would be almost $2.5 billion. Institutions of higher education would receive $777 million in state aid.

About $50 million would be added to the budget of state prisons, bringing the total to about $483 million.

The Department of Human Services (DHS) would receive almost $1.9 billion in state funds. Its total budget is much larger because it receives federal matching funds. The agency's total budget is more than $11 billion.

The Division of Youth Services would receive an increase in state funding of $4.3 million, raising its budget to $53.4 million.

Legislators questioned whether the Division of Developmental Disabilities Services would get a budget increase. Administration officials said that employees within the division would qualify for raises under the governor's proposed pay plan.

The governor has announced a proposed pay plan for state employees that would pay for salary increases for frontline workers.

The governor's proposal includes $13 million in new Medicaid funding to pay for improvements in maternal health care recommended by the Strategic Committee on Maternal Health. The division that administers Medicaid is slated to receive about $1.4 billion in state funding. Federal funding accounts for about 71 percent of Medicaid spending in Arkansas, which totaled more than $9 billion last fiscal year.

Under the state Constitution the legislature has ultimate authority to approve budgets for state government. Arkansas operates under a balanced budget law known as the Revenue Stabilization Act, which prioritizes state agency spending requests.

The state's general revenue budget comes mostly from sales taxes, individual income taxes and corporate income taxes. Under the governor's proposal, next year's general revenue budget will be an estimated $6.8 billion, with a surplus of almost $300 million.

Setting budgets is one of the legislature's most time-consuming duties. During the legislative session that begins January 13, the Joint Budget Committee and its subcommittees will meet more often than any other committees.

Health care is an increasingly complex landscape to navigate, but that is even more true when access to medical care is scarce, as is the case in so many rural areas of Arkansas and across our country.

We know there is no substitute for a readily available supply of doctors, nurses and other providers in our own community. The opportunity to receive convenient primary care, as well as specialized services and even acute treatment, is increasingly becoming a privilege for many Americans. This reality is leading to new challenges in the delivery of medical care.

Yet it also puts an even greater focus on the organizations and personnel serving the 61 million people nationwide, including hundreds of thousands in Arkansas, considered to live in rural areas.

During November, we designate a day to express our appreciation for them and remind ourselves of the importance of health care access in less populated communities. This year, National Rural Health Day occurred on Thursday, November 21. I know many Arkansans joined me in sharing tremendous thanks with our doctors, nurses, EMS personnel and health care workers living and working outside more populated regions.

In Congress, I have been working to bolster the health care network in rural America to better support residents and providers.

To help curb the trend of hospital closures in these localities, my colleagues and I introduced the Save Rural Hospitals Act to ensure hospitals are fairly reimbursed for their services by the federal government. This bipartisan measure would help preserve access to quality and affordable health care at a time when hospitals in less urban settings are struggling to stay operational.

Mental health support is another resource rural residents are seeking more and more frequently. In fact, rural residents can be nearly overlooked when it comes to the need for mental health services. One important step to provide this vital care would be to expand the availability of grants that enable virtual mental health care, which legislation I joined - the Home-Based Telemental Health Care Act - would do. I am also leading work to reauthorize the Farm and Ranch Stress Assistance Network (FRSAN), a program that connects the agriculture community to stress management programs and resources.

Telehealth is transforming the practice of medicine and represents a key tool in helping rural Americans stay connected to their physicians and medical teams. I have long championed the adoption of this innovative technology to close the emerging geographic divide that can keep routine, quality care out of reach.

That's why I strongly advocate for policies to permanently extend pandemic-era virtual care flexibilities to improve health outcomes and better enable patients to connect with their doctors. The Creating Opportunities Now for Necessary and Effective Care Technologies (CONNECT) for Health Act, Telehealth Modernization Act and Expanded Telehealth Access Act would all boost rural and underserved populations' ability to receive treatment from health care providers no matter where they live.

Another critical source of care for those in rural areas comes from community health centers (CHC), which have long earned my support because of the basic primary care they deliver to vulnerable Arkansans. In our state alone, 230 CHC facilities serve nearly 300,000 people with preventative and comprehensive services that help keep residents healthy and productive.

Rural America has changed considerably in most Americans' lifetimes. One thing that has not changed is the desire among the men and women who call it home to help and serve each other. We can support them as well, including through efforts to enhance the health care and treatment options available to them.

I look forward to continuing to advocate for those needs in the Senate.

Arkansas History Minute

by Dr. Kenneth Bridges

In what has most certainly been one of the most unusual years in memory, the nation will mark Thanksgiving once again on this Fourth Thursday in November. It is part of a long tradition that has spanned many generations.

One of the most well-known and one of the earliest Thanksgiving feasts was that of the Pilgrims at the Plymouth Colony on November 22, 1621. It had been a difficult year for the English settlers who had arrived in Massachusetts the previous November. The Wampanoag tribe, which controlled most of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, made offers of friendship to the Pilgrims, sharing their food as the colonists struggled through the winter and then taught them about farming in the completely new environment.

After a bountiful harvest that fall, the Pilgrims decided to organize a feast to give thanks to God for their good fortune. In the spirit of gratitude, the Wampanoags were invited to join them in what became a three-day feast. The meal was quite different than the usual fare seen on American tables today. Using what was available locally, they ate swans, seals, deer, fish, and lobsters.

Such celebrations to give thanks to God were not unusual among Europeans in general during that time period. By the time of the famous 1621 Thanksgiving at the Plymouth Colony, other feasts to give thanks had occurred already in other parts of the nation. In 1565, Spanish conquistadores led by Pedro Menendez de Avile at the settlement of St. Augustine, Florida, held a special Roman Catholic mass and later a feast to give thanks to God for their safe arrival. They invited members of the local Timucua tribe to join them. In 1598, more than 500 Spanish colonists led by Don Juan de Onate arrived at San Elizario, near modern-day El Paso, and had a special day to give thanks for their own good fortune. On December 4, 1619, English settlers arriving in eastern Virginia at Berkeley Hundred had a feast to give thanks to God for their safe passage. However, regular Thanksgiving observances did not continue in these areas. Though each community claims to be the site of the first Thanksgiving, the modern holiday stems from the tradition that began at Plymouth.

The Plymouth colonists and the tribes did not repeat the occasion in 1622. In 1623, after a difficult year of droughts that threatened the crops, late rains rescued the harvest. As it proved to be much more

Shelba Jean Herring

Shelba Jean Glosson Cox Herring, 86, of Warren, passed away on Saturday, November 16. She spent her final time surrounded by friends and family, wrapped in love. Shelba was preceded by two husbands: Benjamin Leon Cox, J.D. (Johnathan David) Herring, one son, one daughter, and two grandchildren. She is survived by four children: Leon Neal Cox, Timothy Cox, Susan White, and Johnathan David Herring, II, her 11 grandchildren, and 21 great-grandchildren. Shelba was a well-known and respected member of the Warren community and a beloved pillar of her family. If asked to describe Shelba, most would say she was an ornery, stubborn, no-nonsense woman who did not shy away from saying exactly what was on her mind. You could always count on knowing exactly where you stood with her and if asked, she would give you the truth no matter good or bad. Little known to most, the rough and tough southern lady persona protected a heart that was overflowing with love and affection for the people she cared about. Her capacity for love and acceptance let her see no line between blood ties and family of the heart. There was no difference to her and her love for her family changed Shelba in the most wonderful ways. These changes affected her family in the most profound ways, and through her they learned to love just as fiercely. One of her favorite stories to tell was about getting pulled over in her 1971 Thunderbird, and it tickled her pink when the officer said, "Lady some birds were meant to fly, but this ain't one of 'em". Now she can fly as fast and high as she wants with her mom who was her angel. Shelba was a horse riding, book loving, gun toting country woman who will never be replaced and will be forever missed by all who truly knew her. Fly fast Shelba and be at peace. Arrangements by Frazer's Funeral Home.

Lyle Douglas Sullivan

Lyle Douglas Sullivan, adoringly known as Paw to his grandchildren, age 66, went home to be with his Lord and Savior on November 20, 2024. He peacefully passed away at home, holding the hand of his loving and devoted wife.

He was born January 21, 1958 to the late Loyce Eugene and Janice Sullivan. He was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church and often fondly reminisced about his younger days teaching the boys' Sunday school class. Doug was the proud owner of Sullivan Construction where he excelled as a skilled carpenter and contractor. He found great joy in building homes and undertaking renovations of courthouses, banks, and other large-scale projects. Doug was an avid hunter who found joy in sharing his love for the outdoors. He treasured his family and had a zest for life. He was known for his big personality and always being the life of the party.

Doug was preceded in death by his father, Loyce Eugene Sullivan on August 15, 2015.

He leaves behind to cherish his memories, his wife Gena, who he married April 18, 2003, his children, who will forever value the profound impact he made on their lives, Skye Clanton (Randy), Emily Vickers (Ethan), Randy Burt (Stacia), Wesley Hollingsworth (Kaina); his beloved grandchildren, who were the pride of his life, Rhett Douglas Clanton, Westin Clanton, Casen Clanton, Nolan Vickers, Madison Vickers, Bentley Burt, Sophie Burt, Stella Burt, and Maggie Burt; his loving mother Janice, and two brothers, Tony (Phyllis) and Bruce Sullivan, with whom he shared a childhood full of mischievous adventures and unforgettable memories. Doug also leaves behind his extended family, including his in-laws, Olga and Kenneth Trussell, Gerald and Rita Bickers, brother and sisters-in-law, nieces and nephews, whom he always kept laughing, and a host of friends, as he never met a stranger. His friendships extended far and wide.

Funeral services were held Saturday, November 23, 2024 at Frazer's Funeral Home. Burial was at Oakland Cemetery by Frazer's Funeral Home. Active pallbearers were Melvin Mills, Wesley Hollingsworth, Kip Reep, Kay Reep, Noe Martinez, Manuel Martinez, Gary Thornton, and Lucas Vickers. Honorary pallbearers were Elbert Miller, Freddie Mobley, Tim West, Jerry West, Hugh Allen Quimby, Klay McKinney, Tony Sullivan, Bruce Sullivan, Kenny Trussell, Richard Bickers, Little Randy Clanton, Randy Burt, and Ethan Vickers.

James Ronald Perry

(Paid obituary)
James Ronald Perry, 76, of Conway, died November 16. Born August 31, 1948, to the late Jessie Walter and Mittie Faye.

Survivors: wife, Jane; sons; Jayson, Keith; daughter, Rhonda; grandchildren; Desiree, Heidi; great-grandchildren, Evelyn, Tobias, Catherine; sisters, Linda, Peggy.

Graveside was November 22, at Pleasant Valley Cemetery by Frazer's.

EDITORIAL

As you've probably already guessed, I like the jelly from the can without the berries. If it doesn't have the can markings on it, I don't want it. If I'm coming to your Thanksgiving celebration, I'm bringing a couple of cans of Ocean Spray. The fact is that if I don't have it, I'm probably not eating dressing. I like canned cranberry sauce so much that I picked the cranberry sauce Christmas ornament at Hobby

Lobby. Another question one might have is how in the world cranberry sauce became a Thanksgiving tradition. Native Americans were the first to use cranberries, both as food and for medicinal purposes. They taught European settlers how to use them in cooking, especially in combination with meat, which led to their inclusion in early Thanksgiving feasts. Cranberries were originally used as a garnish or side dish rather than as a sweetened sauce. As the United States industrialized, food preservation methods like canning became more common. Cranberries, which were plentiful in certain regions, became widely available and were eventually marketed in canned form by companies like Ocean Spray, founded in 1930. The canned cranberry sauce became a convenient option, and its tartness paired well with the rich flavors of turkey. Now back to the original question...why are the labels upside down? Due to settling, the can is filled and labeled upside down so an air bubble forms at the top. Reason number two is because it allows the person opening the can to easily slide a in a knife, freeing the blob, allowing it to keep its shape. Well there you go. No you don't have to wonder anymore, if you did at all. I have given you useless information and you can pull it from the recesses of your brain if you need a conversation topic. Have a happy Thanksgiving. Enjoy your loved one whether they're the family you're born with or the one you choose. Tell others what your thankful for. And for Pete's sake, make sure you find a comfortable place for that Thanksgiving nap!

HISTORY

bountiful than expected, the colonists again had a celebration to give thanks that November. Tragically, relations with the Wampanoag tribe deteriorated in the ensuing decades with the initial gestures of friendship forgotten and the tribe shattered by war. Nevertheless, New England residents would continue to have periodic Thanksgiving observances in the years afterward, often organized by the local churches. In spite of a few instances of Thanksgiving observances in the South, it did not catch on as an annual observance as it did in New England. The tradition, however, spread northward into the British colonies in Canada, where observances remained mostly local until the late 1800s. It was established as an official national holiday in Canada in 1957, and because of Canada's shorter growing season, on the second Monday in October. New York became the first state to declare Thanksgiving a holiday, starting in 1817. Efforts were made to make it a national holiday in the 1820s, led by noted writer and educator Sarah Josepha Hale of New Hampshire. Up until the Civil War, the date of Thanksgiving was left to the states and made more of a local observance. Dates for Thanksgiving ranged from early October through the end of December. In 1863, Secretary of State William H. Seward convinced President Abraham Lincoln to make it a national holiday on the last Thursday in November. Lincoln announced the holiday as a day to give thanks to God for the blessings the nation had and added that all Americans should remember the widows and orphans the war created. In 1941, the holiday officially became the fourth Thursday in November from that point onward. President Harry Truman started the tradition of pardoning one turkey for Thanksgiving in 1947. Other nations have also adopted Thanksgiving, inspired by the American example. Liberia, which was founded by former American slaves, marks Thanksgiving as the first Thursday in November, dating back to 1821. Brazil made the fourth Thursday in November its Thanksgiving holiday in 1966 after their ambassador to the United States saw the American holiday firsthand. In honor of the Pilgrims, who had come to The Netherlands before embarking on their voyage to Plymouth, many churches have Thanksgiving celebrations in that same spirit of thanks. Turkey sales have topped $1 billion annually in the past few years with tens of millions traveling to meet friends and loved ones. Many churches and communities still continue with the initial spirit of Thanksgiving by reaching out to the poor and homeless with food drives and community Thanksgiving meals prepared and served by volunteers. Though the coronavirus pandemic may dampen many travel plans and gatherings out of precautions for public health, millions of Americans, wherever they are, will still pause to consider what they are thankful for.

FEATURES FROM THE BIBLE
 TRUTH IN SCRIPTURE
 King David's Last Words
 II Samuel 23

These are the last words of David:
 "The Spirit of the LORD spoke through me; his word was on my tongue. The God of Israel spoke, the Rock of Israel said to me: 'When one rules over men in righteousness, when he rules in the fear of God, he is like the light of morning at sunrise on a cloudless morning, like the brightness after rain that brings the grass from the earth.' "Is not my house right with God? Has he not made with me an everlasting covenant, arranged and secured in every part? Will he not bring to fruition my salvation and grant me my every desire? But evil men are all to be cast aside like thorns, which are not gathered with the hand. Whoever touches thorns uses a tool of iron or the shaft of a spear; they are burned up where they lie."

Recipe: Take a dip into flavor

Charcuterie boards have become more popular in recent years. People often make entire meals out of the finger foods and snack-like items that are included in these offerings — which may include anything from sliced cheeses to olives, crackers, vegetables, and cured meats. Fresh dips also may be included, and hummus is a favorite for its flavor and versatility.

Traditional hummus is made from chickpeas, also called garbanzo beans. However, many different beans and legumes can be used to make hummus, depending on the desired texture and flavor profile. This recipe for "Lima Bean Hummus" from "Southern Appetizers" (Chronicle Books) by Denise Gee is one such variation on the traditional hummus recipe. It's fresh and light and can be served with toasted pita bread or naan.

Lima Bean Hummus

Serves 8 to 10

- 1 16-ounce package frozen lima beans
- 1 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- ¼ cup tahini paste
- 2 to 3 garlic cloves
- 2 teaspoons lemon zest, plus more for garnish, plus 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon sea salt
- ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- Paprika for garnish (optional)

2 to 3 garlic cloves
2 teaspoons lemon zest, plus more for garnish, plus 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice

1 teaspoon sea salt
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
Paprika for garnish (optional)

Directions:

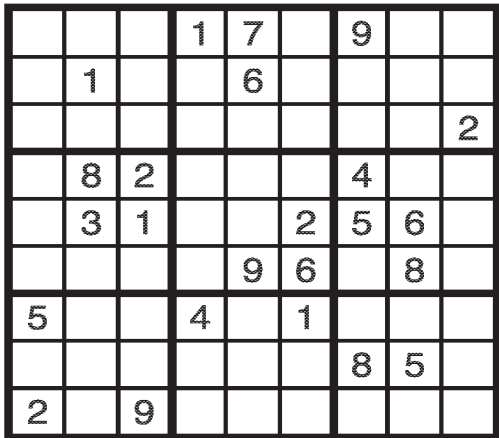

In a medium saucepan, bring 1 cup water to a boil. Add the lima beans to the boiling water and, when the water returns to a boil, cover the pan, turn the heat to low, and cook the beans until they are just tender; 10 to 12 minutes. Drain the beans and let cool. Set aside 5 or 6 whole lima beans for garnish.

In the bowl of a food processor, combine ½ cup of the olive oil, the tahini paste, garlic, lemon zest, lemon juice, salt, and cayenne. Mix until blended. Add the cooked lima beans in small batches, slowly adding the remaining ½ cup oil (or more) and scraping down the sides of the bowl to ensure even blending, until the mixture is smooth and creamy. Garnish with the reserved beans, lemon zest and paprika, if desired, before serving.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HOMETOWN Heroes 2024

Hometown hero: Joey Cathey

By JOANNA POOLE
reporter@theeagledemocrat.com

In a world where selflessness and community dedication often feel like rare commodities, Joey Cathey stands as a shining example of both. Born and raised in Warren, Arkansas, Cathey embodies what it means to be deeply rooted in a community, not just in proximity but through action, intention, and love.

Joey's story is one of a life centered on faith, family, and service. A proud graduate of Warren High School's class of 2001, Cathey and his family are true Lumberjacks to the core. His wife, Cassidy, who also attended and graduated from Warren schools, is not only his high school sweetheart but his partner in a shared mission to nurture their community. Married for 18 years, they are raising three remarkable sons: Jude-17, Luke-14, and Jase-9, who continue the Lumberjack legacy as students in the same district that shaped their parents.

Faith anchors the Cathey family. As active members of Immanuel Baptist Church, Joey serves as a deacon, and both he and Cassidy teach Sunday School for children in grades 1-5. Their shared belief in giving more than they take extends beyond the pews.

Joey's impact is most evident in his tireless support of the Warren School District. As president of the school board, Joey is not only a leader but also a hands-on participant. Whether reading to students in classrooms during Dr. Seuss Week, running the shot clock at basketball games, or volunteering on the "chain gang" at football games, Joey's presence is felt in every arena. His creation of the Lumberjack Baseball Booster Club and leadership as its president further demonstrate his commitment to enriching the student experience.

One example of how Cathey supports the Lumberjacks is sponsoring a weekly award called the State Farm Lumberjack of the Week. Athletes are picked by coaches and Cathey presents them with a game ball and their achievement is posted to social media.

"I do Lumberjack and Ladyjack of the week," said Cathey. "I try to make it go throughout the year. I got into that about 15 years ago and the kids actually get something. It's not just naming them player of the game. We give them a football, or baseball, or basketball."

State Farm Lumberjack of the week isn't just about recognition; it's about celebrating the hard work of young athletes in a tangible way.

Beyond the school, Cathey's generosity extends to numerous organizations, from the Y.M.C.A. to Hope Place, and the Bradley County Livestock Premium Sale. Whether coaching his sons' teams or sponsoring local sports, Cathey's philosophy remains consistent.

"I feel like you should give more than you take," said Cathey.

For Cathey, giving isn't just a duty; it's an extension of his values. At the center of it all is his unwavering faith in God.

When asked if there was anything at the center of his marriage he answered without hesitation.

"Hands down, God," responded Cathey. "My priorities are God, my family, and then my community. We don't have a perfect family, but Cassidy and I are very intentional in what we do, especially with our kids."

This hierarchy of values guides every decision he makes, from how he raises his children to how he serves his neighbors.

Joey Cathey is a reminder that the best way to grow strong roots is by investing in the soil of your own community. For Joey, Cassidy, and their family, that soil is Bradley County, and their harvest is a legacy of love, service, and faith.

Here's to Joey Cathey—a Lumberjack through and through, a heart that beats for Bradley County, and our Hometown Hero.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT said several tracts, lots or parts of lots, will be held as delinquent for a one-year period from this date and then certified to the State of Arkansas, Commissioner of State Lands, for collection or to be sold, unless the delinquent taxes, penalties, and costs are paid before the end of the one-year period.

November 27, 2024
/s/Herschel Tillman
Sheriff & Collector

Publication cost of $1,617.00 is to be paid by the Bradley County Collector's Office.

Publisher's Note: The actual cost of publication is paid for by the delinquent tax payers in the form of an additional charge added by the collector when the delinquent taxes are paid or the property is sold for back taxes. Arkansas Code (26-37-107) in part: (2) The fee ($1.50 per track) shall be added as costs of forfeiture...

STATE OF ARKANSAS
COUNTY OF BRADLEY

I, Herschel Tillman, Collector of Revenue within and for Bradley County in the State of Arkansas, do hereby certify that the Personal Tax Books of Bradley County reflect the foregoing list of Personal Property to be delinquent for nonpayment of taxes for the year 2023.

Witness my hand this 27th day of November, 2024.
Collector for Bradley County, Arkansas
/s/Herschel Tillman

Publication cost of $1,667.50 is paid by the Bradley County Tax Collectors Office.

Publisher's Note: The actual cost of publication is not paid for by the County but is paid for by the delinquent tax payers in the form of an additional charge added by the collector when the delinquent taxes are paid. Arkansas Code (26-36-203) in part: (c)(1) The newspaper publishing this list shall receive as publication cost the sum of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per name, per insertion, which sum, together with fifty cents (.50) per name for the county collector preparing and furnishing the list, shall be charged to the delinquent taxpayer and shall be paid by the county collector from any moneys in the county collector's possession derived from payment of personal property taxes.
