Diseases, heat & drought are among major concerns

BY JEFF OSBORNE
SENIOR WRITER & EDITOR

COVID-19, monkeypox and water shortages resulting from sizzling weather and drought were all topics addressed by Coryell County Emergency Management Coordinator Bob Harrell during a recent meeting of the Coryell County Commissioners Court.

After more than two years on the scene, the COVID-19 virus continues to make its presence felt, with three variants responsible for the majority of infections locally and nationwide.

Harrell gave an update on COVID-19 and other concerns during the July 26 meeting of the Coryell County Commissioners Court.

"We've had an uptick in Texas and in Coryell County," Harrell said. "There are three main variants that are responsible for this. Vaccines are said to result in a milder case and lessen the frequency of people having to be hospitalized."

As of July 26, there have been a total of 15,923 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Coryell County (since the virus was first diagnosed in spring 2020) out of a population of about 78,000, Harrell said. He added that he thinks the number of cases is "underreported, I'm quite sure" since not everyone who has had COVID-19 has sought medical help. Also, with some mild cases, those infected might not even be aware that they have had COVID.

The population that is the most vaccinated countywide is people who are age 65 and older, Harrell said. He noted that 86% of senior citizens have had at least one dose of the vaccine, while just over 78% are considered to be "fully vaccinated."

Another disease that is generating attention and concern is monkeypox. The World Health Organization has labeled the disease a global health emergency. Nationwide, 2,500 cases of monkeypox have been reported.

"There are 200 cases in the state of Texas and they are starting to test in Houston, Dallas, Austin and other areas," Harrell said. "They are pushing out vaccines to at-risk populations."

Monkeypox has historically been more prevalent in Africa and has been much more rare in Europe and North America.

According to the Centers of Disease Control and Prevention, monkeypox infections typically last two to four weeks and symptoms are similar to the flu - a fever, muscle aches, headaches, chills, exhaustion and swollen lymph nodes. A rash with red raised bumps which turns into blisters is another symptom. The severity of the infection varies from person to person.

The CDC notes that only five deaths have been reported as a result of monkeypox worldwide, although it can be painful and discomforting.

The primary means of infection is skin-to-skin contact with someone who is infected with monkeypox.

Another recent and much more widespread concern in

Dixon, Graham honored for their positive impact on students

BY JEFF OSBORNE
SENIOR WRITER & EDITOR

Two former Gatesville Independent School District educators - Sue Dixon and Linda Graham - were recognized as Hornet Legends for their positive impact on local students during the July meeting of the GISD Board of Trustees.

Dixon began her career as a teacher in 1972 and she continued working until 1976 in other districts before taking time off to raise two daughters. She began teaching at GISD in 1987 and retired in 2002. She mainly taught high school science, including physical science, chemistry and Advanced Placement chemistry.

According to the school board packet, "Despite the tough content of these subjects, Mrs. Dixon's patient and caring attitude toward her students helped them excel. Her supervisors noticed additional strengths that Sue brought to teaching."

Among the comments about Dixon were from Mike Barr, who said, "No one works harder to prepare for class than Mrs. Dixon." Larry Anderson said, "(There was) excellent rapport between Mrs. Dixon and her students. It was obvious that students enjoyed the class and were having fun while learning difficult material."

Roland Lambert said of Dixon, "You have again developed excellent rapport with your students. There is always a good climate of teaching and learning in your classes."

During the meeting, Dixon thanked the district for recognizing her, and said she did not feel worthy of such recognition.

Graham started teaching in 1967 at the Gatesville State School for Boys. She joined Gatesville ISD in January 1971, and she taught several different classes and subjects in grades 3, 5, 6 and 7, as well as art.

"However, it was primarily sixth grade ELAR (English, language arts and reading) that Mrs. Graham would teach until her

Disaster preparedness highlighted during recent presentation

BY DAVID SCOTT
STAFF WRITER

Coryell County Emergency Management Coordinator Bob Harrell recently presented a program on "Coryell County Summer 2022 Preparedness" to give county residents some tips and ideas on how to prepare for emergencies such as the recent wildfires facing the drought-ridden county.

Harrell addressed the group using an outline containing four different categories: Threat and Risks, Mitigation Strategies for Homeowners, Family Preparedness, and Potential Problems Going Forward.

Harrell first addressed the extreme drought situation and the wildfires that have been raging in Coryell County. Following the governor declaring a drought disaster in Texas, Harrell said, "We've had drought since just after Christmas and the number of days that we've had rain, we're on track to be the third driest year going back at least 70 years and that's pretty bad."

Harrell also mentioned the problems ranchers were having due to the lack of hay and grass. "A lot of our ranchers are having to sell cattle off, some of them not getting a cutting on their hay." In addition to the drought conditions, Harrell spoke of the outbreak of wildfires, recent water shortages and heat injuries. "I can't say enough good about our volunteer fire departments, they are doing a great job."

Due to the recent wildfires, Harrell recommended that property owners remove foliage from around their house area and consider alternative exit strategies from their property for inhabitants and livestock. "When there is no way of getting out, make sure you have a place where you can cut a fence [to exit] to stay alive," he said.

Regarding preparedness, Harrell suggested that instead of the recommended three days of supplies, individuals should have at least one week of self-sustaining supplies such as water, food, pet food, generators, first aid supplies, emergency weather radios, and medication. "I recommend at least one week of supplies, and I highly recommend keeping your vehicle at least three-quarters topped off with fuel."

Harrell also spoke about the potential problems going forward including the rise in cases of COVID 19, supply chain delays (availability of supplies) and fuel shortages.

In addressing the high fuel costs, Harrell said, "The fuel costs for our volunteer fire departments have doubled since last year."

The CodeRED system was also presented to those in attendance. The CodeRED system provides individuals and businesses the ability to add their own phone numbers directly into the database which will allow them to be notified about evacuation notices, bio-terrorism alerts, boil water notices and missing child reports.

Communities covered include all residents and businesses located inside counties of Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam, Mills, and San Saba (the Central Texas Council of Governments region). A link to register for the CodeRED system can be found by visiting www.coryellcounty.org and searching the Emergency Management page.

CONCERNS

Coryell County is the heat and accompanying drought, which was elevated when an equipment failure impacted Gatesville water customers.

The problem was resolved within hours as parts were obtained from Houston to fix the concern, and welders worked to provide a protective seal.

Harrell was able to arrange for cases of water to be delivered to the Gatesville Fire Department for local residents, through the efforts of the Texas Department of Emergency Management and the fire department.

Harrell thanked Gatesville Fire Chief Billy Vaden for his efforts in helping to coordinate the water giveaway.

Gatesville was not the only area municipality to suffer an equipment malfunction in its water treatment. Harrell said there was another water main break north of Hamilton that impacted that area as well as Multi-County Water Supply, which serves several Coryell County residents.

Harrell said there is a concern that there will be more problems with water systems as hot dry weather continues.

"We can anticipate more of this if we don't get more rain soon," Harrell said. "The shifting ground due to dry weather is causing cracks."

The commissioners court voted to continue the burn ban to help reduce local fire hazards.

County Judge Roger Miller said the ban will remain in place as long as the county continues to endure "severe drought conditions. It's just bad right now - hot and dry."

He said the Texas Department of Emergency Management (TDEM) has selected Coryell County as a location for a liaison who would be permanently stationed here.

"TDEM is implementing a program to put more people in cities and counties, and Coryell County has been selected to have a liaison officer to respond to, prevent and help mitigate disasters," Miller said. "David Shaw is the regional director, but this would give us someone (from TDEM) in Coryell County full-time."

There will be no cost to the county, Miller said, other than office space either in Gatesville or Copperas Cove for the liaison.

retirement from GISD in May 1999," according to the board packet. "Linda would teach a generation of Gatesville youth basics in reading, writing and grammar. Her witty humor and willingness to always help students made her very well liked."

Those appraising her teaching efforts were impressed with what they observed.

Greg Hines said, "Your courtesy and encouragement bring out the best in students." James Baize said, "Mrs. Graham effectively captured and held student attention. She was patient and supportive of her students." Don Edwards said, "Mrs. Graham does an excellent job in the classroom. She relates well with her students and has a great working relationship with their parents. She is a real asset to our school system."

Like Dixon, Graham said she felt unworthy of the recognition. She said that years after her retirement, she was walking in a Hamilton antique store when a man approached her and asked if she was Mrs. Graham who had taught in Gatesville. Graham said she was.

"He said he always felt special in my class - like he mattered. I hope that I gave students that feeling."

During the school year, the GISD board recognizes outstanding students and staff. However, during the summer months, it takes time to honor former GISD instructors as Hornet Legends.

FROM MY FRONT PORCH

Some lessons learned are not as painful as others

SAM HOUSTON
Sam Houston is a syndicated columnist and newspaper executive. He is also an author, actor, playwright, and entertainment producer/promoter.

Though for generations my family have been farmers/ranchers, I was raised in a metropolitan area and thus never had the opportunity to be around horses. I would go to my grandfather's for a week or so in the summer but other than when I visited, it was simply impractical for me to have many horse experiences.

I had always wanted to be a cowboy. When my mom passed, I found where she had saved my cowboy handkerchief that I had used in grade school. I would tie it like a bandana around my neck so I could look western. Even when I got past the little boy stage, I never lost the desire to be a cowboy.

Once I graduated from college and began my career, I set my mind to buying a horse. I went through quite a bit of research, did my homework and learned the proper way to take care of an equine. I then secured a location where I could keep my new amigo.

After a lot of searching, I bought Dan. He was a 16-hand bay ranch gelding who had worked hard on a cattle ranch nearly every day in his life. He was 17 years old and was broke to do just about anything a ranch hand would ever ask. While still sound, Dan had gotten to the point in his life where he simply could not work hard every single day. But as an occasional riding horse for me, he was perfect. He was "bomb" proof safe, meaning he had no buck in him at all and was easy to catch and saddle. He was smart, good looking and friendly.

I had taken riding lessons, but an old cowboy friend told me the best way to become a good rider was to create a lot of wet saddle blankets: that is, ride regularly. So, almost every night after work, I would drive out to where I kept Dan, saddle him up and take off. There was a neighbor who had given me permission to ride in his 640-acre pasture. Dan and I would open the gate, ride in and then go wherever we took a notion to.

Riding was tremendously relaxing for me. The smell of the saddle, the creaking of the leather, the feel of the horse and the sound of his hooves hitting the ground, created a sensory intake which caused my heart to swell and my face to smile. We would walk, run, or trot, all over every inch of those 640 acres. Many nights, I would ride up to the gas station on the highway and get something to drink before putting Dan back in his pen. Over time, the owner of the station set a hitching post for me to tie Dan to when I was in the store. There were not many nights that we missed riding.

One late afternoon, I received a call from a neighbor that his cows had gotten out.

He wondered if I would get my horse and come help get the cows back in to where they belonged. I was so excited I could not control myself! I practically ran out of my office, drove to where Dan was located and began to get him saddled. This was going to be a chance to really "cowboy."

I quickly got Dan and when I finished getting him saddled, I jumped up on his back, shouted something about "let's go get those cows, Dan," and then sunk a little spur in his flank to speed him up. That's when I learned my lesson. Dan took two steps forward and then dropped his front shoulders and kicked up his hips. It wasn't really a buck, but it was enough to make a novice like me to come off the horse, falling straight down Dan's neck. I hit with a thud, but still holding onto the reins. Nothing was hurt but my pride, and while sitting on the ground, I could feel Dan staring at me.

In my entire life, my father never scolded me as much as Dan did that day. He looked down at me with those big soft brown eyes and stared right through me. I could hear his subconscious say, "Look here son, I have caught more cows than you have ever ate hamburgers. Get your behind back up here and I will go catch them up for you, but I am too old for any of that 'yippee ki ya' stuff."

Believe me, his message was very clear. I slowly and humbly got back on Dan, and we headed off to work. We helped others get in the escaped cows, and fortunately, we did not let my lack of experience make things more difficult for the others. Dan carried me through it.

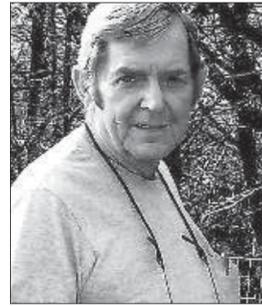

I had a lot of great rides with Dan. He never, ever, threw me off again. And I never, ever, considered sinking another spur into him. I like to think we were both better off after our little teaching session.

Thought for the day: The only thing more painful than learning from experience is not learning from experience.

Until next time.

Texas sales tax holiday is Aug. 5-7

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar is reminding shoppers they can save money on clothes and school supplies during the state's sales tax holiday on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5-7.

State law exempts sales tax on qualified items - such as clothing, footwear, school supplies and backpacks - priced below $100, saving shoppers about $8 on every $100 they spend. The dates of the sales tax holiday and list of tax-exempt items are set by the Texas Legislature.

The Comptroller's office estimates that shoppers will save $112 million in state and local sales tax during this sales tax holiday.

Apparel and school supplies that may be purchased tax-free are listed on the Comptroller's website at TexasTaxHoliday.org.

During the annual sales tax holiday, qualifying items can be purchased tax free online or by telephone, mail, custom order, or any other means (including in-store purchases) when either:

the item is both delivered to, and paid for by, the customer during the exemption period; or, the customer orders and pays for the item, and the seller accepts the order during the exemption period for immediate shipment, even if delivery is made after the exemption period ends.

Texas' sales tax holiday weekend has been an annual event since 1999.

The Least of Your Brothers

It can be tempting to judge ourselves by how we respond to those who treat us well. It's easy to be kind to those who are kind to us. But perhaps a more accurate moral assessment can be made by looking at how we respond to those who treat us poorly. There are many ways in which people can mistreat us, from lying to us, to insulting us, to ignoring us, to stealing from us, and even to abusing us physically or emotionally. How we respond to these insults is probably the best measure of our character. How we behave in times of health and prosperity says very little about us. How we behave in times of sickness and adversity speaks volumes about our character. Courage stands out on the battlefield when bullets are flying and not during target practice. So perhaps at the end of each day we should reflect on how we treated those difficult co-workers or clients, and how we dealt with the people we consider unworthy of our kindness. Thank God for the opportunity to test your mettle by giving you difficult people in your daily life. They truly are the least of your brothers. - Christopher Simon

Seniors take center stage

SE'VETTE EARLY | THE GATESVILLE MESSENGER

GHS tennis squad looks to build on success

Under the direction of Coach Wendell Jones, the Gatesville High School tennis program has established itself as a powerhouse, with competitors winning both team and individual honors for the Hornets.

As the 2022-23 season unfolds, Gatesville is led by five seniors who are returning to pace the team: Preslee Edmond, Slone Early, Carlo Martinez, Alex Scott and Ty Warren.

The Hornets opened the season on July 28 by hosting the Robinson Rockets.

Following an Aug. 2 visit to face the Taylor Ducks, the Hornets will host a tri-match against the Temple Wildcats and Copperas Cove Bulldogs on Aug. 4. After an Aug. 6 home contest vs. Waco Midway, the Hornets will host a tri-match on Aug. 9 against China Spring and Waco University.

Area fishing report

Belton
GOOD. Water lightly stained; 85 degrees; 7.18 feet low. The strong all-morning white bass topwater bite which ran for a solid two weeks is over. Some light topwater is still happening at dawn and dusk. Otherwise, fish must now be found with sonar. Downrigging with #12 and #13 Pet Spoons is an excellent search tactic. Once fish are found, anglers can capitalize by working MAL Dense Lures (white body/chartreuse tail) vertically or horizontally. Doing so with Garmin LiveScope is particularly effective. Report by Bob Maindelle, Holding the Line Guide Service. Largemouth bass are good early morning on topwaters. As the day progresses they are moving to the drops and to the treetops in 15-20 feet of water. Wacky worms and Texas rigs are working well. The night bite continues to stay good with jigs being the best. Report by Cord Zahn, Belton tournament organizer. Crappie are good in 18-25 feet of water off points and brush with Dan's jigs tipped with minnows. Report by Zach Minnix, Jig N Jerk Guide Service.

Stillhouse
GOOD. Water lightly stained; 85 degrees; 7.27 feet low. A very consistent morning white bass bite is taking place on Stillhouse. Fish are typically found in the greatest numbers between 35-45 feet of water. Downrigging with #12 and #13 Pet Spoons is an excellent search tactic. Once fish are found, anglers can capitalize by working MAL Dense Lures, with a white body and chartreuse tail, vertically or horizontally. Doing so with Garmin LiveScope is particularly effective. Largemouth bass continue to school sporadically on topwater over open water, feeding on shad. This typically kicks off around 7:30 a.m. and wanes around 9:30 a.m. Small, clear baits, like soft plastic grubs are working well when thrown fast and accurately while the fish are still near the surface disturbance created. Larger bass continue to haunt the deep hydrilla edge around 22-24 feet of water with dark soft plastics presented with Texas or Carolina rigs. Report by Bob Maindelle, Holding the Line Guide Service.

Whitney
GOOD. Water lightly stained; 82 degrees; 6.85 feet low. Stripers and sand bass are moving fast. Catch them shallow early in the morning, but once the sun rises fish in deeper water. Striped bass are great on live bait, crankbaits, swimbaits and jiggling spoons from mid lake south towards the dam on flats and near the shallow edge of the river channel. White bass are good on live bait, jigging spoons and Alabama rigs. Look for schooling fish then anchor outside of the school and cast into them. They are moving fast.

Hunter offers GHS football preview

BY JEFF OSBORNE
SENIOR WRITER & EDITOR

Brimming with enthusiasm and looking forward to his first campaign as head coach of his alma mater, Gatesville High School head football coach Aaron Hunter offered a preview of the upcoming football season during a meeting of the Gatesville Lions Club on July 27.

Hunter joined the GHS coaching staff as defensive coordinator in 2020, and was named head coach in January when Luke Howard resigned after three seasons. Hunter is a 2007 GHS graduate and a 2011 graduate of the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor.

"Thank you for caring for our school, kids and football program," he told the Lions. "I love developing kids and I'm really looking forward to turning the tide. It was a crazy spring. I came here to work with Coach Howard and we grew up together and graduated together."

"We are working hard to change things. Gatesville football was not where it needed to be. Luckily I got picked as head coach and it is a privilege - it is my dream job. I'm home. We've had a rough couple of years but made the playoffs the last two years. We're working to turn the tide."

Hunter said there were 85 students participating in football in grades 9-12 two years ago, and those numbers have increased to more than 120.

"The program has really grown," he said. "The kids are excited. I'm a young coach but I'm very energetic."

Hunter said the Hornets will have to replace seven starters on defense and five on offense.

"We have young guys who are stepping up," he said. "The biggest thing we're trying to do is not just have success on Friday night but when they walk across that stage and graduate."

A motto for the team will be OTA - On the Anvil. He said that refers to a piece of metal being heated and placed on an anvil and being changed from rusty iron to a sharp sword.

"Our players will strive through difficult situations on the field just like people face adversity in life," Hunter said. "Life is hard. Being a husband, wife or parent is hard. You're going to face hardship and adversity. There are important life lessons these kids can get through football, to keep going when things are tough in life. You have to rally through on the anvil."

Hunter said he learned the phrase from a coach he worked for in New Caney, in the Houston area.

"I was privileged to work for a coach who did the right thing all the time. He did what was best for the kids and for everyone involved every time," Hunter said. "Some people will talk about doing the right thing, but he really did it. I learned a lot from him, and I want to help kids learn to be successful adults. That's when we win. Obviously we're going to try to win a lot of games on Friday, too. We'll give it our best shot."

The Hornets, who remain in Class 4A Division II, are in a new district. State champion China Spring has moved to another district and is in the larger Class 4A Division I. Returning as district foes are Connally, Salado and Robinson. Former district opponent Jarrell has been replaced with Madisonville.

Most teams have a bye - or week to rest - during the season, but the Hornets will play for 10 straight weeks, not getting their bye until after the last game of the regular season.

The team opens the season on the road against Taylor on Aug. 26 and plays six non-district games. On Sept. 2, the Hornets will host Glen Rose, will travel to McGregor on Sept. 9 and then travel to Mexia on Sept. 16. Following a Sept. 23 home game against Godley, the Hornets will travel to Mineral Wells on Sept. 30 for the final non-district game.

District play begins Oct. 7 at home against Connally, followed by an Oct. 14 game in Salado, an Oct. 21 home game against Madisonville and the final district game - on the road against Robinson.

"It's going to be a grind for our kids, it really is," Hunter said. "But we're excited about a chance to turn the corner if we can stay healthy."

After competing against East Texas schools in round one of the playoffs in previous years, the Hornets are now shifting to see teams from the South Texas area as part of a new region.

"We're excited about that," Hunter said. "It's good for us."

One Lions Club member asked what could be learned from past mistakes or shortcomings in order to help Gatesville achieve its athletic goals.

"You have to build the program in junior high and then get them to cross the street into high school," Hunter said. "Winning helps. When you are winning a lot more kids want to play."

"You control what you can, and I am not only the kids' football coach but I will help them be successful in the classroom and in life."

The Hornets' glory days reached the pinnacle in 2000, when the team won a state championship.

Hunter said he moved to Gatesville that year and was in sixth grade.

"I remember how fun that year was," he said. "The whole community was excited and the whole town was turned upside down."

He said for years, Gatesville football has been considered mediocre - certainly not among the worst but also not among those schools that are perennial powerhouses.

"My goal is to have the winningest 10-year stretch we've ever had," Hunter said. "We want to build to the level where when people look at the G on helmets, they won't wonder where that is - they'll know where Gatesville is."

Enthusiasm is already apparent among the students, he said.

"We had 95 kids in grades 7-9 at the football camp this week and that's the most we've had since I've been here," Hunter said. He asked Coach Graig Keeton (who has worked for Gatesville ISD for 19 years) and said he was told that was the highest number Keeton recalls at a camp as well.

Hunter said he is excited about the addition of new defensive coordinator Jose Aguirre, who previously coached at Georgetown, Round Rock and Salado.

"We were blessed to get him - he's a great person and football coach," Hunter said.

He also talked about changes in football from the past where the goal was to line up and run over people, and now it's to spread the field and attempt to get people to miss tackles.

Asked about replacing Wesley Brown at quarterback - who set the school record with seven rushing touchdowns against Jarrell - Hunter said it will be tough to fill that spot but two juniors are competing for the starting spot with promising sophomore and freshman quarterbacks waiting in the wings - as well as some talented ones for the future in the junior high ranks.

"These days, you have to develop quarterbacks a lot earlier because so much is placed on them."

Asked about size, Hunter said that is another area the Hornets have been working hard to improve.

"When I got here, we didn't have a single player who squatted 500 pounds," he said. "Historically, Gatesville always had big strong linemen but for a few years we didn't have that size. Now we have two on the offensive line who are over 300 pounds, and they squat 525 pounds and bench press 315."

"There are two or three sophomores who have grown a lot over the summer, so we are starting to get size covered. They are working hard in the weight room to get stronger."

Hunter said he looks forward to showing the athletes strongly that the community is behind them.

"I want the kids to know the community supports them, and we are going to try to give you something to be proud of on the football field."

Summer Sweat to prepare for the Autumn Spotlight

Members of the Gatesville High School Dazzlers dance team and the GHS marching band are all spending plenty of time working in the summer heat as they practice routines which they will perform for the community during halftime of football games. The first home game is Sept. 2.
