Area Fishing Report

Belton

GOOD. Water lightly stained; 85 degrees; 8.04 feet low. The white bass fishing on Lake Belton continues to be very tough and difficult to pattern. These nomadic fish are chasing the abundant young of the year shad in small schools above the thermocline here, there, and everywhere, only occasionally showing themselves for just seconds at a time as they burst to the surface to feed on shad, and then disappear again. Best chances are to look for brief topwater action at first light and last light, and anticipate this activity to be short-lived. MAL Original Lures work well when white bass are feeding on mature shad, but the #13 Pet Spoons cast on light braid or mono with a fully-spoiled spinning reel work well when fish are feeding on young of the year shad. Downrigging will produce bonus fish in the first three hours of the morning and the last 90 minutes of the day. Report by Bob Maindelle, Holding the Line Guide Service.

Stillhouse Hollow

GOOD. Water lightly stained; 85 degrees; 8.05 feet low. The white bass fishing on Stillhouse is strong, but technical. Quality sonar and the ability to read it are a must as fish are found in small tight schools at, or near, the bottom in up to 52 feet of water. Once fish are found, primarily using side-imaging, hover on top of the fish with Spot-Lock and work MAL Dense Lures with chartreuse tails vertically. Large-mouth bass are good working soft plastics in dark, natural hues along the deep edge of hydrilla in 22-26 feet of water. Quantities of smaller fish can be caught by sight-casting in the first three hours of the morning using small, clear soft plastics like grubs and small fluke-style baits. Report by Bob Maindelle, Holding the Line Guide Service.
