Aldermen Discuss City Trash Collection

ADAM PARKS
Staff Writer

The Gainesboro Board of Aldermen met on Thursday and in addition to their regular business, they discussed the possibility of trash pick-up in city limits.

Alderman Ricky Head opened up a conversation about city garbage pick up.

“I’ve been thinking about trying to get a trash pick up for the people who live in the city,” Head said. “Obviously, we wouldn’t be able to do it for the businesses but for the home owners and people who live in the city...”

Head explained that the city could have some of their employees pick up trash from residents in Gainesboro and drop it off at the county dump.

Alderman Travis Agee and Alderman Wayne Strong informed that payment would be required to use the county dump, driving up the cost of the entire operation.

“Personally I think it would be a good thing, but I think that the individual who does it now... would be cheaper than anything we could get,” Agee said.

The conversation left unsettled, with the implication that Head will be further investigating other opportunities involving city trash collection.

In other business, the board approved the funding for a sign for the new Bicentennial Park in Gainsboro. The sign was listed at approximately $1,000.

Following approval of the sign funding, Brenda Spivey announced that there was an available grant from the Tennessee Department of Transportation for $250,000 that would

Jackson County Man Arrested

Special Agents from the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation have arrested and charged a Jackson County man accused of sexually assaulting a minor.

Dylan Martin

At the request of 15th District Attorney General Tommy Thompson, TBI Agents began investigating Dylan Martin, 26, a volunteer with the Jackson County Anti-Drug Coalition. During the investigation, Agents developed information Martin sexually assaulted a child he met through the organization.

On Monday, Nov. 2, agents arrested Martin and charged him with one count of Especially Aggravated Sexual Exploitation of a Minor. Additional charges could follow as the investigation continues, and the TBI encourages anyone with information about the case to call 1-800-TBI-FIND. At the time of this release, Martin remained in the custody of the Jackson County Jail without bond.

Jackson Voters Go For Trump

staff writer

Voter turnout for the 2020 election has exceeded all expectations for Jackson County election officials, breaking records this election cycle.

“This is the most I’ve voted through and I’ve been here for seven years,” Election Administrator Clay Thaxton said.

He says not including provisional votes, a total of 5,340 people cast ballots in this year’s election.

While everything ran smoothly, he informed there was a minor glitch on the website that did not show the entire number within one of the result boxes.

“The box that shows the Absentee and Early votes cut off the end of one of the numbers and we had to talk to our website people about that, and they’re getting it fixed,” he said. “You can download the PDF file and see the entire document. It doesn’t have that mistake if you view it that way.”

Thaxton said that aside from that minor glitch, everything went smoothly.

“I’d like to thank all of the poll workers as well as the voters of Jackson County,” Thaxton added. “With COVID-19, I had a great crew that helped with this election and I wouldn’t have been able to do this without them.”

Jackson County voters agreed with the rest of the state as they gave the majority of their votes in the presidential election to Republican incumbent President Donald J. Trump, while at the same time choosing the unopposed Democrat John Mark Windle for the 41st District in the TN House of Representatives.

Trump tallied more than nearly 73% percent of the vote in the county, garnering 4,106 votes to 1,133 votes for Joe Biden.

In the race for the 41st District seat, Tennessee House of Representatives, the unopposed incumbent Windle received a total of 2,423 votes.

Jackson County also was in agreement with the rest of the state in voting for Republican Candidate Bill Hargerty to replace long-time congressman Lamar Alexander. Hagerty garnered 3,838 votes to 986 votes for Democratic candidate Marquita Bradshaw.

The Election Commission now has to certify the results of the election. In Jackson County, the certification will take place on Nov. 20

In other election news, the state of Tennessee garnered more than 10,000 votes for Kanye West—the most acquired by him in a single state.

While the state has finished counting its votes, ballots are still being counted in other parts of the country. However the Associated Press is projecting former Vice President Joe Biden as the winner.

State Park Honored For Excellence

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) has recognized Cummins Falls State Park for excellence in innovation as part of the 2020 Tennessee State Parks Awards of Excellence.

“The staff at Cummins Falls has faced challenges and has met them head-on,” TDEC Deputy Commissioner Jim Bryson said. “They have demonstrated a commitment to the best possible management and service to park visitors. The staff is very worthy of this recognition.”

The park has adapted as situations have developed at the park, seeking to be proactive and meeting challenges that arise. The most recent adaptation is issuing gorge access permits to enable the staff to control the number of people and enhance the guest experience for those who take a route along the river onto the base of the Cummins Falls waterfall.

The park is an idyllic but rugged 282-acre day-use park nine miles north of Cookeville on the Blackburn Fork State Scenic River on the Eastern Highland Rim. Located in the Cordell Hull Watershed, the area has been a scenic spot and swimming hole for more than 100 years. Cummins Falls is Tennessee’s eighth largest waterfall in volume of water and is 75 feet high.

The 2020 Tennessee State Parks Awards of Excellence were awarded on Sept. 29 at Montgomery Bell State Park as part of an in-person and virtual annual park management meeting. Managers had an option of attending in person with social distancing or participating virtually.

Other winners included Frozen Head State Park as Park of the Year; Norris Dam State Park for community engagement; Montgomery Bell State Park for facilities management; Booker T. Washington State Park for interpretation; Fall Creek Falls State Park for resource management; and Warriors’ Path State Park for sustainability.

The Gospel Is For All

The church has several responsibilities, but none of them are more important than sharing God's word. Hebrews 11:6 teaches us that without faith it is impossible to please God and Romans 10:17 says that faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. These two verses let us know that people we share the Bible with will have the chance to develop a faith that pleases God. With this in mind, we at the Gipson Avenue Church of Christ are trying to get the Bible in your hands. We have begun sending packages throughout Gainesboro that contain a copy of the Bible along with some things to help you study. We have mailed out nearly 500 Bibles to addresses from the Gainesboro phone book. This approach doesn't capture all of the people who read this paper, so if you did not receive a Bible, we would be happy to send you one. You can send your address and request to PO Box 503 Gainesboro, TN 38563. We would also be happy to give you one in person at the Gipson Avenue Church of Christ. We have our services on Sunday between 9 a.m. and noon and on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

We undertook this project because we believe the Bible is the inspired word of God and that it is through obedience to the Bible that we can be saved from our sins. We are blessed to live in a time when God's word is readily available, and we are without excuse if we neglect the Bible. Consider the words of Hebrew 2:1-3:

1. Therefore we must give the more earnest heed to the things we have heard, lest we drift away.
2. For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just reward,
3. how shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed to us by those who heard Him,

Passages like this are why we take the study of God's word so seriously. We do not follow the ever-changing ideas of men but stick to the unchanging words of God. It may seem like a difficult task but just remember, God won't ask you to do something you are not capable of doing. If you make an effort to study the Bible you can understand it. We would love to help you with this task. We would love to have you join us at the Gipson Avenue Church of Christ.

In addition to the 500 Bible packages we have already sent out, we will be sending out an additional 500 packages to new addresses in the upcoming days.

How To Give Safely During The Pandemic

Donations are the lifeblood of many charitable organizations. Unfortunately, donations also can be the lifeblood of criminal operations designed to scam would-be donors.

The potential for charity scams could be even greater in 2020. Charities accept donations year-round, but the spirit of giving that prevails during the holiday season makes the weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas especially popular times to donate to charity. In addition to being on the lookout for the usual scams, the Office of the Attorney General for the District of Columbia warns prospective donors to beware of potential scams involving the COVID-19 virus.

Recognizing the challenges people in their communities have faced as a result of the economic fallout of the pandemic, donors may be more inclined to donate to charities purporting to help laid off workers, small businesses or others adversely affected by the outbreak. That's admirable, but prospective donors must recognize that their eagerness to support COVID-related charities may make them vulnerable to criminals looking to exploit their charitable nature. In recognition of that, the OAGDC offers these tips to men and women who are considering donating to charity OAGDC in 2020.

Be Wary Of Recently Launched Operations

Operations that were formed in response to the pandemic may be viable, but the OAGDC also warns that many have been formed by scammers looking to exploit the outbreak for their own gain. Be especially wary of crowdfunding campaigns.

Ask Questions

The OAGDC says that any charity, even those formed in response to the COVID-19 outbreak, should be able to provide you with the same information as charities that have been around for years. Prior to donating, ask for the charity's name, address, telephone number, and mission. In addition, don't feel skittish about asking how your donation will be used and the percentage of each donation that goes to programs that directly help the people you're trying to assist.

Be Vigilant Before

Donating Via Peer-To-Peer Social Networking Websites

It's especially difficult to verify how donations made via texts or websites are ultimately used. While these can be convenient ways to donate, the OAGDC urges donors to be especially vigilant about vetting before donating to charities through these channels.

Never Donate Using Cash, Gift Cards Or Wire Transfers

Reputable charities do not ask for donations to be made in this way. The OAGDC advises donors to use credit cards whenever possible.

The Terms "COVID-19" Or "Coronavirus" Do Not Authenticate A Charity

A reputable name or logo does not mean the charity is actually reputable. Prior to donating, donors can confirm a charity is legitimate by contacting organizations such as Charity Navigator, the BBB Wise Giving Alliance or the National Center for Charitable Statistics.

Scammers will no doubt try to exploit the pandemic to take advantage of donors during the upcoming giving season. Savvy donors can employ various strategies to ensure their charitable donations end up in the right hands.

MORE WOMENS LID IN THE BIBLE!
THE MAIDEN WHO KILLED A GENERAL....

ALTHOUGH WOMEN, IN BIBLICAL TIMES, WERE TREATED AS CHATTELS OF THEIR HUSBANDS—OWNED OUTRIGHT JUST LIKE SHEEP, CAMELS, AND OTHER PROPERTY—MANY TIMES THEY ACTED INDEPENDENTLY, LIKE DEBORAH, QUEEN ESTHER, AND MOSES' SISTER, MIRIAM. SUCH A ONE, ALSO, WAS JUDITH, HEROINE OF THE BOOK OF JUDITH, ONE OF THE APOCRYPHAL BOOKS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

THE ASSYRIAN GENERAL, HOLOFERNES, ATTACKED THE JEWS, BESIEGING THE TOWN OF BETHULIA, WHERE THE PEOPLE DESPAIRED OF EVER BEING SAVED. JUDITH TOOK IT UPON HERSELF TO VISIT HOLOFERNES IN HIS CAMP, WHERE HE WAS IMMEDIATELY SMITTEN WITH HER BEAUTY! AFTER ENTERTAINING HIM FOR THREE DAYS AND NIGHTS IN HIS TENT, JUDITH, AT THE FIRST OPPORTUNITY, CUT OFF THE GENERAL'S HEAD AS HE SLEPT!

AS A RESULT, THE ASSYRIANS FLED—CUSTOMARY IN THOSE DAYS, WHEN AN ARMY LOST ITS LEADER—AND JUDITH WAS PROCLAIMED, FROM THAT DAY ON, THE FINEST EXAMPLE OF A PATRIOT BY THE ENTIRE JEWISH NATION.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchanged the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

People Of The Past: I.T. Rhea Sinks In Cumberland

By Jack Roberts
(Jackson County Sentinel, 1974)

The river here was respected by the American Indians as being a great source of power and was used as a means of transportation and trade for the early white man.

In a quite spot on the Cumberland River, about one mile above where the Clement Bridge is now located, lies the remains of the I.T. Rhea, in about 50 feet of water. She was a steamboat that ran from Burnside, K in the late 1800's.

The boat's hull and cargo decks were constructed of white oak. The cabins were made of yellow poplar. Her width was about 36 feet and her length 90 feet. She rose approximately 50 feet from the water level to the top of the smokestack.

On an early morning in April of 1890, she set out from the port of Gainesboro with a cargo of an undetermined number of sheep, hogs, horses and grain. There were several passengers, among them were Dr. Fowler, a practicing physician of Jackson County and some women and children.

The Rhea proceeded down river in the early spring tide with a heavy gust of southerly wind. As she approached the lower end of the Freestate Community, above Brooks Island, a gust of wind caught the front of the boat, throwing her into a huge boulder lying on the bluff, ripping a massive hole in her stern. Hanging fast on the bluff, her paddle wheel failed to unlodge her and her backside swung out toward the Freestate bank toward what is now the L.R. Dudley farm. Her steam whistle was blown constantly as in any emergency.

A deck hand jumped into the river with a line and pulled a cable to the Freestate side of the bank and tied her to a sycamore tree.

A temporary gangplank was placed to the bank and women and children and the men were taken off the boat. Then came the livestock. There were no injuries or deaths to either passengers or the livestock.

When the whistle was blown it could be heard for several miles around. A young boy, George West Sr., who lived in the Poor House Hollow, first began to hear the whistle around 9 a.m. Knowing something was wrong, he ran the two miles from the head of the Poor House Hollow to the Freestate about two miles.

As he approached the site, he saw the huge steamboat lipping to one side. The crew, knowing the damage to the hull, salvaged what cargo they could and proceeded to cut the captain's cabin off with an ax.

Someone suggested that if they cut the rope to the disabled boat, she could float free and swing into the Freestate side of the bank. They cut the rope with a sharp ax, and the boat began to sing down stream back around to the bluff.

She slid off the rock and slowly went to her resting place in a deep hole, which later became known as the Rhea hole. This was the last time she was seen.

The captain's living quarters floated free with the furniture and part of it floating off downstream. R.T. Dowell caught some of the furniture downstream at Granville.

In 1968 some interest was shown in salvaging this historical boat. Divers went down before Cordell Hull Lake was impounded and located the I.T. Rhea. They brought up some artifacts from the boat and a piece of the paddle wheel.

Jackson County has a great amount of fascinating historical resources that could be developed further and made useful to our future generations, the I.T. Rhea is one example.

I.T. Rhea – Pictured is the I.T. Rhea sometime before it sank in April 1890.

The Election Is Not Rigged

Just Thinking...

Megan
Reagan

President Donald J. Trump and his lawyers have profusely made and are continuing to make claims that this election is rigged and people believe him.

I am going to say something many people do not want to hear and that is: It. Is. Not. Rigged.

Since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, there has been a major push for mail-in or absentee voting to help mitigate COVID-19 spread. Because of this, it has been widely known and accepted that the Election would not be over at the end of Election Day.

With that push for accessibility for mail-in and absentee voting, there was a tremendous surge in requests for absentee ballots—breaking records in nearly every state, with more than 92 million ballots sent to voters across the entire country and the District of Columbia (which is Washington, D.C. for those who do not know their American geography.)

While there was a major push for absentee voting, one candidate in particular tried his hardest to discourage voters from using that medium to vote—therefore, his voters would not use that medium.

The other candidate encouraged all to vote in any way they could and any way they felt comfortable in doing so—encouraging his voters to vote through that medium.

Because of those two facts, common sense says that when the president discredits mail in voting, use of this system by his followers will wain because of it.

It makes sense that the majority of mail-in ballots counted were in Joe Biden's favor—because he encouraged the use of this system.

It was expected months ago that this is the way the election would go.

After President Donald Trump claimed a false victory, he held a press conference, stating that millions of votes have been cast and a “very sad group of people is trying to disenfranchise that group of people.” Although he is talking about his voters in particular, there is a group of people trying to disenfranchise the other—and it is not the group he is referencing.

Many of his supporters are encouraging actions to “Stop The Count,” and that would suppress every voter's voice that expects their vote to be counted. It is said that voting is the greatest form of protest, and that is what is happening.

All voices matter. Every vote should be counted.

Transportation Director Announces Retirement

In the late 1980s, the Upper Cumberland Human Resource Agency operated approximately 60 buses total within the 14-county region. Destination offerings were few, save for the occasional Cookeville or Nashville trip twice per week and the budget hovered at $800,000 with an empty fund balance.

Today, the agency’s transportation department has approximately $10 million in funding and another $2 million fund balance.

“We are currently providing more transit trips and receiving more funding than any other rural system in the state,” said Rebecca Harris, Transportation Services Director/UCHRA Deputy Director.

Harris recently announced her plans to retire at the end of the current calendar year.

“After 35 years at UCHRA it seemed like the right time to retire,” she explained. “Transportation is constantly evolving and Cookeville possibly will be facing some changes in transit service with urbanization in the next two to three years. It seemed like the right time for the agency to transition prior to these changes. This will give the new director time to get familiar with all the services we provide as we move into the next phase of UCHRA public transportation.”

When she first joined the agency in 1985, Harris started as a clerk in the workforce division before moving to the Community Services department. In 1989 she was named the County Coordinator of White and Van Buren counties and became involved in transportation. In September 2001, Harris was named the Transportation Services Director.

“Over the last 19 years as the transit director I have seen a lot of changes,” she said. “Today, we go to Nashville five times a day, sometimes more. We have gone from 40 drivers to 140 and (from) 60 buses to 110.”

Harris says that the majority of her role consists of working two, three, and five years out. Some of those plans include new partnerships to bring unique service offerings to the region.

Recently, UCHRA was named part of a unique partnership with Tennessee Tech University and others to develop an electrical vehicle testbed in the 14-county Upper Cumberland region of Tennessee. An all-electric E-450 shuttle bus will be operated by UCHRA as part of that project; the first all-electric vehicle in the agency’s public transportation fleet. That vehicle will first serve the campus of TTU and downtown Cookeville before moving out into the 14-county region.

Harris says she feels like UCHRA’s transportation program has a solid foundation and the new director will be poised to focus primarily on providing new and innovative transit services to the Upper Cumberland.

“There is a good team here,” Harris added.

Meanwhile, Harris says she’s looking forward to exploring other interests, spending time with family — her husband and children, Caitlin and husband Brandon; grandchildren, Annie and Owen; her mom, Shirley; sister, Melodie; and brother, Ronnie — and making lots of memories.

“I have been so blessed to have worked with so many good people at UCHRA,” she said. “I have made so many friends at and through the UCHRA over the last 35 years. My fondest memory though, (that) I will always cherish and be grateful for, is that I met the love of my life here; my husband, Tim Harris.”

“Rebecca has been a great asset to the Upper Cumberland region,” said Mark Farley, UCHRA Executive Director. “Her vision for public transportation has not only transformed this program but will have a positive effect on the citizens that we serve for years to come. Her experience and knowledge will be hard to replace.”

Harris will retire from the agency at the end of the current calendar year.
