TDOE Announces New Partnership

Today, the Tennessee Department of Education announced the 48 districts selected to participate in the optional, Pre-K-12 Literacy Implementation Networks, part of the state's Reading 360 initiative to help boost strong reading skills amongst Tennessee students.

As part of Reading 360, eight regional implementation networks will consist of 48 districts with the overarching goal of supporting the implementation of high-quality English Language Arts (ELA) instructional materials for Pre-K-12 students through competitive grants over the next five years.

"Over the next five years, the regional Pre-K-12 Literacy Implementation Networks will foster opportunity for districts to learn from each other and to form unique partnerships to support high-quality literacy instruction to build strong readers, which ultimately promotes success for our students and our state," said Commissioner Penny Schwinn.

The district partnerships will help ensure teachers have the resources and support necessary to offer high-quality learning experiences for all children. Additionally, the networks will provide free coaching support for the training and use of Tennessee Instructional Practice Guides.

The Mentor District is Trousdale County Schools. Participating Districts include Clay county Schools and Jackson County Schools.

Scary Time During The Ice Storm of 2021

DARLENE DEAN
Staff Writer

The ice storm of 2021 will not soon be forgotten for most of the citizens of Jackson County. It proved to be far worse than anyone had expected. With freezing rain starting on Sunday night the 14 of February coating the trees and power lines, the weight was too much and trees, branches and power lines started to break.

One citizen of Jackson County who lost power on that Monday called the Sheriff's office and ask for help. A deputy was there in a short time. Rosie Lawson knew that she could possibly freeze to death if someone didn't come out and build a fire in her woodstove. Lawson can't walk and uses a wheelchair to get around. That prevented her from going downstairs and starting a fire.

Deputy Shane Stanton was dispatched to her house to assist her and get a fire started. When he arrived at her house he noted that the house was already getting cold. He started the fire and made sure that after he left other deputies would continue checking on her throughout their shifts to ensure that her fire continued to burn.

Her son and caregiver, Michael Lawson, was unable to reach her. Between the ice and snow this was the first time in 26 years that he was unable to leave his house. He went on Sunday before the storm and had cleaned out the stove and brought in firewood in anticipation of the storm. He was going to go back first thing Monday morning to check on his mother and possibly start a fire. However, the ice was just too bad for him to make it. He appreciates the Sheriff's department for being able to make it to his mother's home and make sure that a fire was started and stayed burning.

Lawson will never forget the Sheriff's department and the deputies that came to her rescue. They are truly gentlemen. She would like to thank the Sheriff for allowing them to come to her rescue. She is 87 years young, with a birthday coming up on April 2.

Douglas to Close Plant Here
All five plants operated by the Douglas Aircraft Company Division in the Upper Cumberland area of Middle Tennessee will be closed gradually in the next two to three months, the McDonnell-Douglas Corporation announced last week in St. Louis.
The announcement brought reaction of disappointment but not complete surprise to officials of Sparta, Carthage, Monterey, Smithville and Gainesboro where the aircraft sub-assembly plants are located.
Both License Tags Must Be Displayed On Auto Tennessee Highway Patrol Officers warn the motoring public that automobile owners face citations for violation of the registration law if they fail to display the new license tags on both the rear and front of their vehicles.

Officers said there appear to be numerous instances where persons are buying one set of license plates and then "splitting them up" between two vehicles, displaying the tags only on the rear.
Children Must Have Immunization Shots
Parents of children entering school or kindergarten for the first time should certainly see that their child's immunizations are complete, officials of the Jackson County Health Department said this week.
School Supt. Edd Meadows Smith is hopeful that all parents will take advantage of this free service. "In so doing," Smith said, "this will help them to get started in school without as much problem as to register the child and then, after it is in school, have to go for immunizations."

Three Techniques To Rid Your Yard Of Mosquitoes

A backyard retreat can be even more enjoyable when homeowners find ways to keep mosquitoes at bay.

The value of a retreat-like backyard was never more apparent than in 2020. Over the last year-plus, much of the world has been forced to stay home as a global pandemic has claimed millions of lives while countless others have had to fight to survive in hospitals. It's no surprise people have looked for a respite from the harsh realities of living during a deadly pandemic, and many turned their attention to their own backyards to provide such an escape.

The online home remodeling platform Houzz reported a 58% annual increase in project leads for home professionals in June 2020. Contractors who specialize in outdoor spaces saw the biggest increase in demand. A revamped outdoor space can provide the perfect retreat for homeowners who want to get away from it all. But one winged, unwelcome guest can quickly transform an oasis into an uninviting space.

Mosquitoes make their presence felt in many areas each summer. These pesky, often hungry insects can carry disease, and their bites can be painful and itchy. Homeowners can try these three techniques to keep mosquitoes out of their backyards.

Remove Standing Water

Standing water is a breeding ground for mosquitoes, who don't even need a lot of water to successfully breed. A daily walk around the property may uncover kids' toys, empty flower pots or other small receptacles that can collect water. Even clogged gutters can lead to the accumulation of a small amount of water, and that can be enough for mosquitoes to breed. Remove these potential breeding grounds when you find them, and do so each day, as mosquitoes mature from eggs to nymphs in roughly four days.

Mow Regularly

Mowing the lawn so the grass never gets too high is another way to make a backyard less hospitable to mosquitoes. The pest experts at Terminix® note that mosquitoes seek tall grass to protect them from the elements, including wind and hot summer sun. Mowing enough so grass never gets too high in summer can make backyards less inviting to mosquitoes.

Plant With Mosquitoes In Mind

The home remodeling experts at HGTV note that plants can be part of homeowners' strategy to repel mosquitoes. Various plants have mosquito-repellant qualities. For example, bee balm releases a fragrance as it grows, and mosquitoes don't like that fragrance. Homeowners can speak with a local lawn and garden professional for recommendations about plants that can thrive in their region and repel mosquitoes at the same time.

Mosquitoes can make it hard to enjoy a backyard oasis. But various strategies can help homeowners keep these unwanted guests out of their backyards.

Mosquitoes – A backyard retreat can be even more enjoyable when homeowners find ways to keep mosquitoes at bay.

Facts About The BIBLE

BY JOHN LEHTI

MELCHIZEDEK -- MAN OF MYSTERY!

IF EVER THERE WAS A MYSTERY, A PUZZLE IN THE BIBLE, IT WOULD HAVE TO BE THE PRIEST-KING, MELCHIZEDEK, THE KING OF SALEM. IN THE ONE MEETING ABRAHAM HAD WITH MELCHIZEDEK, HE IMMEDIATELY RECOGNIZED HIM AS SUPERIOR TO HIMSELF IN THE EYES OF GOD! MELCHIZEDEK BROUGHT TO ABRAHAM BREAD AND WINE, AND BLESSED HIM. THROUGHOUT THE SCRIPTURES HE IS REFERRED TO AS THE HIGH PRIEST OF GOD, COMING NOT FROM A FATHER OR A MOTHER, HAVING NO END TO HIS LIFE AND NO BEGINNING. STUDENTS AND AUTHORITIES ON THE BIBLE HAVE SPECULATED ENDLESSLY ON THIS PRIEST-KING; SOME HAVE ARGUED THAT HE WAS A SURVIVOR OF THE FLOOD, THE PATRIARCH SHEM, OTHERS THAT HE WAS AN ANGEL OF GOD—ONE JEWISH TRADITION IS THAT HE WAS THE MESSIAH; SOME SAY THAT SALEM, WHERE HE RULED, LATER BECAME JERUSALEM—BUT ONE THING IS CERTAIN, WHOMEVER MELCHIZEDEK WAS, HE CERTAINLY AROUSED THE CURIOSITY OF SCHOLARS DOWN THROUGH THE AGES!

by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

Points Of View

Minimum Wage, Maximum Discrimination

Institute For Faith & Freedom

Since the days of Adam Smith, economists have sought a set of social institutions which permit “neither dominion, nor discrimination,” to use Nobel Prize-winning economist James Buchanan’s phrase. In this, economists are joined by all people of goodwill—including those in the Biden administration, which has enshrined equity and inclusion as cornerstones of how they’ll govern.

What separates the economist from other social do-gooders, however, is an unflinching focus on the means used to achieve noble goals. It’s therefore with alarm that I consider the Biden administration’s dual focus on “diversity and equity” and it’s doubling down on the “fight for $15.” I’m alarmed because the minimum wage impedes our ability to foster a society genuinely built on “diversity and equity.”

Here’s the straight talk on the minimum wage that you probably didn’t learn in school: The minimum wage has been a powerful weapon in the arsenal of racists and bigots. Economists have illuminated the devastating effects of the minimum wage on minorities with empirical evidence and entire books on the subject, but to see one reason why the policy targets minorities, first consider a little basic economics.

Consider the demand side of the labor market. Firms will hire fewer workers if the government criminalizes voluntary agreements to work for less than $15 per hour. This is an uncontroversial point to make about virtually any other market. If the price of apples doubles, people buy fewer apples. They buy more oranges instead. Employers do the same thing. Under the minimum wage, they start buying more machinery, like the kiosks you see in Panera. The upshot: Fewer jobs.

Now let’s consider the supply side of the labor market, where the higher minimum wage attracts new workers into the labor market—those, who like college students, might have sat on the sidelines otherwise. The upshot: More jobseekers.

Fewer jobs plus more jobseekers means that more people will be searching for jobs than there are jobs available—a labor surplus. In other words, the minimum wage creates a “buyer’s market” in labor because it causes jobseekers to line up in front of employers who have limited jobs to offer.

Suppose an employer receives 100 applicants for a job opening. How does he choose who to hire? Without the minimum wage, whoever wants the job most will outcompete other jobseekers by offering to work for less.

With a minimum wage, the employer can’t say: “Who will work for $14.95?” If he does, he’s a criminal; he literally violates the law. Since he can’t just pick the most eager jobseekers, he needs some alternative way to select from his 100 applicants. When you have a surplus of labor in a market with a minimum wage, prices aren’t allowed to adjust, so the employer picks from that surplus based on personal preferences. These may include race, sex, gender, religion, or other personal characteristics that have little to do with productivity. In fact, in the past, it has included just that. Faced with more jobseekers than there are jobs available, a bigoted employer bears little cost when he refuses to hire a member of a group he dislikes. He knows someone else in the applicant pool will be from his preferred group.

In a market without minimum wage, when an employer turns down an applicant to satisfy his bigoted tastes, he doesn’t have 99 other jobseekers to choose from. There’s no labor surplus. If he chooses to indulge his bigoted tastes, the job remains unfilled for longer, which means less money for our racist employer. Consider that, in the United States, the African-American teenage male unemployment rate was lower than the white teenage male unemployment rate through the late 1940s. The 1950s saw the single largest increase (in percentage terms) of the minimum wage. The reasoning I just gave explains why the African-American teen joblessness rate then soared above whites. That gap remains to the present day.

Like Adam Smith, James Buchanan, and the Biden administration, I too desire a society where the power of bad people to exercise “dominion or discrimination” against their fellow man is constrained, even eliminated. The fact that nearly two-thirds of them (and 89% of liberals) support a $15/hr. minimum wage is therefore troubling. My fellow citizens should consider whether this policy facilitates or impedes the ability of bad men to do harm. Economics says it facilitates.

So does history. As Princeton’s Thomas Leonard has demonstrated in his book, Illiberal Reformers: Race, Eugenics, and American Economics in the Progressive Era, the early minimum-wage advocates saw it as a prime tool to exercise “dominion and discrimination” over those they deemed ill-suited to reproduction. The minimum wage was well-suited to perform the Progressives’ dirty work of discriminating against (what they considered) the least productive by making them unemployable.

It has been over 100 years since the Progressive Era. But the laws of economics haven’t changed. The only question is: Have we?

Editor’s Note: Dr. Caleb Fuller is assistant professor of economics at Grove City College. He has published or has forthcoming papers in the European Journal of Law and Economics, the Journal of Business Venturing Insights, the Review of Austrian Economics, the Journal of Entrepreneurship and Public Policy, the Independent Review, and others.

More Good News On Debt Repayments

by Freddy Groves

The Department of Veterans Affairs, which recently announced an extension of home loan forbearance (delaying collections until June 30), has now added to the list of available financial help. Due to the pandemic, debt collection of VA benefits overpayments and medical copayments has been suspended until Sept. 30 for those debts incurred after April 1, 2020.

The VA will notify veterans of the status of their debt, as well as any options, but while you wait on that communication from the VA, the particulars can be found online. Go to www.va.gov/manage-va-debt/ and sign in with your DS Logon, My HealtheVet or ID.me accounts. If you don’t have an ID.me, you can create one right there on the page.

Once logged in, you’ll be able to check on debts for GI Bill or other education benefits, disability compensation or veteran pension. (Family members cannot use this tool.) You’ll find information on the amount and status of the debt, what you can do about it and any letters the VA has sent you.

Once the payment suspension is lifted at the end of September, repayment will be made as painless as possible. You’ll have four choices: 1) monthly offsets (they hold back a certain amount of your benefits), 2) small monthly payments (if you don’t get benefits), 3) you make a compromise offer and pay a smaller amount, or 4) the debt is waived. For the last two, you’ll need to fill out a Financial Status Report (VA Form 5655).

When you visit the debt management page, be sure to click the plus (+) signs. They open up much more information under each question.

If you need help from the Debt Management Center, call them weekdays at 800-827-0648, 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. ET. They’re apparently slammed with calls and suggest you call Tuesday through Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to noon, or from 2:15 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. ET.

Blast From The Past

Making Way For The New Road – The old grainery building, located between Gainesboro and Fox Elementary Schools and in front of the Jackson County Hospital, is being torn down by workmen to make room for the new north-south highway which will meander around the East side of Gainesboro. The old facility, which has been used by numerous businesses in the past, including A & W Manufacturing Company and XL Plastics, has even been used as a classroom for band practice in recent years. Most of the Gainesboro citizenry seem pleased to see the old landmark go, but the hundreds of pigeons which have made it their home for many years will surely regret destruction. (From the Jackson County - Gainesboro Times April 21, 1972)

That the World May Believe

Sponsored By: Burrstown • Cubb Creek • Flynn's Creek • Shiloh • New Salem • McCoinsville • North Spring • Richmond Chapel • Zion • Bagdad • Hurricane • Union Hill • Stone Church of Christ

Perhaps the Bible's greatest enemy is preaching: preaching that makes the Bible appear to be a book of conflicting, contradictory doctrines. Robert Owen, the notorious atheist, said in controversy with Alexander Campbell that the reason he was an atheist was because he had read so many conflicting doctrines all of which claimed the Bible as their source, so he decided the Bible was no good.

Jesus prayed that all his disciples would be one as he and the Father are one, so that the world would believe that God sent him into the world. Adding human creeds and doctrines to the Bible is fatal: not only fatal to those who do the adding, but fatal to those deceived by false teachings. The Bible does not teach many of the doctrines which men say it teaches. Jesus prayed that all his disciples would be one, though the word of the inspired apostles (John 17:20). But the word of the apostles is God's word (John 17:8,14). Therefore, those who reject the word of the apostles, reject God's word.

One reason there are atheists, infidels, and skeptics is because multitudes of preachers have left the impression that God's word contains all the conflicting doctrines taught in the religious world. But God's word does not contradict itself; God's word teaches just the truth on any subject. If it is not handled right it may be wrested into meaning that which it does not actually say.

We in the Church of Christ are pleading for people to exile, burn, bury, destroy the human doctrines that divide men, and which the Bible does not teach, so that people will respect the Bible for what it is. It is a book of harmonious truth and contains the soul-saving gospel which if obeyed by all, nothing more, nothing less, will bring about the oneness Jesus prayed for, and will cause the world to realize that God sent Jesus to save sinners.
