LMU-DCOM Adds LRH As Clinical Training Site

Lincoln Memorial University-DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine (LMU-DCOM) is pleased to announce its affiliation with Livingston Regional Hospital (LRH), as a core rotation site to provide clinical training to third- and fourth-year medical students. Seven students from LMU-DCOM will begin their clinical rotations on July 19 at Livingston Regional Hospital.

"We strive to provide our students with the best educational opportunities possible to prepare them to be outstanding doctors of osteopathic medicine," said Assistant Dean of Clinical Affairs Anya Cope, DO, FACOI. "The addition of Livingston Regional Hospital as a core site will help us prepare future clinicians to serve the community with high quality patient-centered health care."

LMU-DCOM students in their third and fourth year of medical school complete their medical training in a clinical environment that includes hospital and office-based settings. Students are assigned to their clinical sites after finishing the first two years of medical school. Students typically live in the community where they are training and often return to practice in that community once their training is completed. Third-year medical students have the opportunity to train in Behavioral Health, Internal Medicine, General Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Pediatrics, Family Medicine and Primary Care. Fourth-year rotations include Emergency Medicine, Rural Outpatient, Medical Selective, and 7-8 months of electives, which the students use to explore their interests and gain exposure to residency training programs.

"We are excited to be partnering with LMU-DCOM in this endeavor, which provides us an opportunity to assist in the education of medical students who are in pursuit of becoming doctors," stated Timothy McGill, CEO for Livingston Regional Hospital. "On behalf of the over 20 physicians representing the medical staff of LRH, serving as preceptors, we are looking forward to this new beginning, this partnership, and this being a vehicle to train physicians that may return here for their medical practice."

Located in Livingston, Tennessee, LRH is a 114-bed facility providing a continuum of care covering all aspects of health care, from 24-hour emergency services to rehabilitative services on both an inpatient and outpatient basis, Level II-A neonatal nursery, a 16-bed geropsych unit and many other services. The hospital serves the residents of Overton, Clay, Pickett, Fentress, and Jackson Counties and surrounding communities. LRH is affiliated with LifePoint Health, one of the nation's largest health care companies. LRH is accredited by The Joint Commission and is a designated Chest Pain Center through The American College of Cardiology.

"The medical staff and hospital administration at Livingston Regional Hospital have been very supportive and we look forward to working with them to continue expanding our clinical training," said Cope.

The DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine is located on the campus of Lincoln Memorial University in Harrogate, Tennessee. LMU-DCOM is an integral part of LMU's values-based learning community and is dedicated to preparing the next generation of osteopathic physicians to provide health care in the often underserved region of Appalachia and beyond. West Announcers Candidacy For UCEMC

Bradley West has informed the Jackson County Sentinel that he is a candidate for election to the office of the Upper Cumberland Electric Membership Board of Directors for District 1. His statement is as follows:

I, Bradley West, would like to announce my candidacy for Upper Cumberland Electric Membership Corporation Board of Directors for District 1.

I, along with my wife, Amber, and our two children, Mattie and Rob, have always called Smith County home. Both of our families are deeply rooted in the Riddleton Community.

My parents, David (Brad) and Ann Hood West, instilled in me the value of hard work and service to our community. My longtime desire to serve on the UCEMC Board of Directors originated from my father's successful career at Upper Cumberland Electric.

A lifetime of working with the public has given me the opportunity to develop relationships with many wonderful people over the UCEMC area. As a teenager I started my work journey as an employee of Smith County Commission Company, the stockyard in Carthage, working for my wife's grandparents, Billy and Grace Gregory. I graduated from Smith County High School and Tennessee College of Applied Technology. My work careers at Lee Company, Dekalb Telephone Cooperative and Farm Bureau of Tennessee taught me many valuable skills, which lead me to start my own business, West Construction. We do residential and small business construction serving Middle Tennessee.

I have a very personal connection to UCEMC as it provided for my family as a child. My father, David (Brad) West, and my mother-in-law, Melissa Gregory, both worked at and retired from UCEMC. My plan for UCEMC is very simple-to make decisions that I feel are best for the employees, members, and the cooperative.

I respectfully ask for your vote and support for UCEMC Board of Directors for District 1. Please cast your vote on August 27 and 28 in Carthage, Cookeville, Gainesboro or Livingston.

Men Graduate Maranatha Ministry

Men's Maranatha Ministry Celebrates – On July 12, during the evening at the Jackson County Jail, the Men's Maranatha Ministry had a celebration for the inmates that finished the "Love and Accepting Myself" Bible based course. Thanks to Tami Ryan, the Jackson County Sheriff and the Correctional Officers, without their support none of this could happen. They enjoyed pizzas, cake and cookies. They had class on Monday nights and it took about 16 classes to complete the course so there was a significant commitment on the part of the graduates. Their next class is based on the book written by Laura Henry Harris entitled "The No Shame Zone", an account of true stories and real people dealing with shame and guilt. The teacher of this class was Chuck Chitwood.

If The Dead Could Speak

DR. JAMES THRASHER
Institute for Faith and Freedom

Upon arriving back from visiting my parents’ gravesite, many soul-searching thoughts have swirled in my mind. I was starkly reminded that the length of our earthly life is a grain of sand in a pile of sand a mile wide and a mile high as compared to eternity. This life is short. I also recalled that my collegiate teaching mentor would encourage me to remember that we are sojourners and aliens on this earth on our way to the Celestial City. This is not our home. My mind has been preoccupied, considering more seriously than ever before the most significant matters of life.

If this life is really just the blink of an eye, then why are we here, and what’s the point? Thinking deeply about what this life is all about is an essential endeavor. Oh, the great truths that would come forth from the grave. This all led me to a contemplative and reflective question that I cannot get out of my head.

If the dead could speak, what would they say? No, actually, what piercing shout of absolute wisdom would come forth from beneath the marble headstones?

The answer: Please, please, listen carefully! Do not be tempted and misled by the hollow cravings of earthly life. Beware, for the cares, counterfeit desires, and selfishness of life are deceiving! Identify the many meaningless things that capture your heart and affections that result in misplaced worship and allegiance and, in the end, may result in the possibility of eternal separation from God.

Yes, I think that those would be the first things they would say to us because the dead truly know the truth, right? They have lived it—or you might say, died it.

Jason Flatt Act Passed In 21st State

Rhode Island Governor Daniel J. McKee signed H5353, also known as the Nathan Bruno and Jason Flatt Act, into law on July 2.

The new law requires that all public school personnel within the state receive training in suicide awareness and prevention each year.

This marks the 21st state to pass the Jason Flatt Act, or a bill directly modeled after it.

In 2007, The Jason Flatt Act was passed in Tennessee and became the nation’s most inclusive and mandatory youth suicide awareness and prevention legislation pertaining to teacher in-service training. It requires all educators in the state to complete two hours of youth suicide awareness and prevention training each year to be licensed to teach in Tennessee.

The National Strategy for Suicide Prevention details the importance that educators can play in the prevention of youth suicide. An educator’s role in suicide prevention is not found in counseling young people but being better able to identify and assist students who may be struggling with thoughts of suicide.

Currently, suicide is the 2nd leading cause of death for ages 10-24. (CDC WISQARS) According to the 2019 Youth Risk Behavioral Survey in the past 12 months, almost 1 out of every 11 high school students reported they had attempted suicide (8.9%).

Four out of five people contemplating suicide ex-

The Scriptures tell us that our primary calling in this life is to know Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior and to live for and worship Him alone. With no rivals in sight, absolute fidelity is to be given only to Christ. Through a personal relationship with Christ, we are extended grace, the forgiveness of our sins, and eternal life. Grace is a free gift. Jesus shares with us that the pursuit of life, our very sole purpose, is to love the Lord our God with all of our heart, with all of our soul, and all of our mind.

What a challenge, with all the elements of life that clamor for our devotion! What is it for you? Is it pleasure, material possessions, money, sex, fame, personal fitness, prestige, a hobby, or a comfortable life? With eternity in view, what is accomplished by chasing these things? If we are honest with ourselves, they ultimately deliver very temporary and unsatisfying happiness. There are so many idols that grab our attention and loyalty.

All that we do, say, and think are to honor Christ, as we live our lives before the throne. God, and those calling out from the grave, want us to do a candid and transparent look in the mirror. Are we “in love” with Christ? Does this single love drive the essence of who we are and our daily priorities? A pastor once said that our greatest fear should be being successful in life at things that don’t really matter.

The message from Christ and a reminder from the grave is clear: this life is not about you or me. We must decrease, and Christ must increase. Christ says in Matthew 10:39 that “whoever finds his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.”

Listen carefully: the dead speak.
Dr. Jim Thrasher is the Senior Advisor to the Vice President for Student Recruitment and the coordinator of the Institute for Faith & Freedom’s working group on calling.

hibit clear warning signs, verbally or behaviorally. It is imperative that educators know how to recognize signs of concern of at-risk youth and are prepared to react should they see these signs.

The Jason Foundation (JFI) is a non-profit organization dedicated to fighting the “silent epidemic” of youth suicide through educational programs for young people, educators, parents, and other community groups. JFI, headquartered in Hendersonville, TN, was founded in 1997 after the tragic death of Jason Flatt, the 16-year-old son of Clark Flatt. The Jason Foundation has never charged a school, organization, or community for the use of its programs or materials. For more information, visit JFI’s website, www.jasonfoundation.com.

The VA’s Fourth Mission

by Freddy Groves

The Department of Veteran’s Affairs has been busy. It was recently announced that it has completed 150 Fourth Mission assignments across the country.

Fourth Mission’s goal is to improve preparedness for response to war and national emergencies by developing plans and taking actions to support service to veterans as well as national efforts. In other words, when a need is there, so is help. (The first three VA Missions are health care, benefits and national cemeteries.)

If you ever doubted that the COVID pandemic has been a true emergency, you only need to look at the very long list of Fourth Mission humanitarian efforts to back up the nation’s health care system.

Here are a few examples of what the VA’s Fourth Mission has accomplished in all 50 states plus territories:

-- Provided 935,000 pieces of Personal Protective Equipment.

-- Admitted 488 non-veteran citizens to VA medical centers for treatment.

ical centers for treatment.

-- Deployed over 5,000 medical personnel to 1,215 state VA homes, 980 community nursing homes and 94 non-VA hospitals. In Arizona alone, they provided staffing for six civilian hospitals. In Florida, they worked with over 8,000 long-term-care patients at 82 facilities. In Virginia, it was 852 long-term-care facilities.

There were untold thousands of COVID tests given and results processed. When the vaccines came out, VA personnel were there across the country to administer them.

The efforts weren’t limited to hands-on medical staff. Truck drivers were sent to multiple states to deliver supplies and vaccines. Pharmacists were sent to numerous locations, including federal prisons. VA personnel fed 250 veteran families every month in Georgia, along with 150 homebound VA patients. They held town hall and state meetings with civilian authorities to coordinate how to contain the spread of COVID.

I’m impressed by this massive effort. To the thousands of VA personnel who volunteered to go, thank you.

How School Shopping Has Changed In The Pandemic Era

Back-to-school shopping sales have long been indicators that the summer vacation season is coming to a close. Students and their parents may visit area stores or browse online looking for items to make the coming school year a success. Those lists have looked similar for decades, but shopping for school supplies in the pandemic era may prove to be a unique experience.

Though hundreds of millions of adults and adolescents have now been vaccinated against COVID-19, there figures to be some lingering effects of the pandemic during the upcoming school year. That could affect which school supplies families buy in the weeks to come. Here's a look at some of the latest trends.

A Shift From Physical Stores

According to data from IBM's U.S. Retail Index, the pandemic has accelerated a shift away from physical stores to digital shopping by about five years. It's likely that school shoppers will turn to the internet for their supplies, which means local brick and mortar shops should increase their web presence and digital shopping capabilities to reach online shoppers. This includes omnichannel fulfillment, such as buy online and pickup in store (BOPIS) options.

Reassessment Of What's Essential

The pandemic may have changed which items consumers consider essential. For example, clothing became less significant as a greater number of students were enrolled in virtual learning. Back-to-school shoppers may purchase less clothing and focus more on tech items, among others.

Traditional Supplies Become Less Necessary

In 2020, Deloitte forecasted that a shift in preferences and intentions would result in parents buying fewer traditional supplies, such as notebooks and office supplies, as they chose to invest in digital resources to supplement children's education. That shift likely will continue into this school year.

Support For Local Retailers

Community spirit grew in the early days of the pandemic and continues now. Many people prefer to shop in locally owned stores. Eighty percent of customers surveyed feel more or as connected to their communities, according to the business industry consultant company Accenture.

Customers Are Trying

New Brands And Products

Shoppers are trying new products out of curiosity as well as necessity. Back-to-school shopping may include novel brands and other items that may not have been readily purchased in years past. Back-to-school shopping may continue to look a bit different than in previous years, spawning trends that may ultimately become the new normal.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

Truly, these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men everywhere to repent, because He has appointed a day on which He will judge the world in righteousness by the Man whom He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by raising Him from the dead.

Facts About The BIBLE

BY JOHN LEHTI

HOW THE BIBLE VIEWS OLD AGE

WHEREVER ONE COMES ACROSS A MENTION OF OLD AGE IN THE BIBLE, IT IS TREATED WITH GREAT RESPECT. TO BIBLICAL PEOPLE, ADVANCED AGE MEANT THE GAINING OF WISDOM "...ASK THY FATHER AND HE WILL SHOW THEE, THY ELDER'S AND THEY WILL TELL THEE." (DEUT. 32:7). TO THESE PEOPLE AGE WAS ALSO CONSIDERED BEAUTIFUL. "THE BEAUTY OF OLD MEN IS THEIR GRAY HEAD." (PROV. 20:29) AND OF COURSE....

... MOSES HIMSELF THUNDERED DOWN FROM THE MOUNT, THUS SAID THE LORD... "HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER THAT THY DAYS MAY BE LONG IN THE LAND WHICH THE LORD THY GOD GIVETH THEE." (EXODUS 20:12)

Blast From The Past

Neilsen Moulding Company donated a C.P.R. Training doll to the Jackson County Rescue Squad. Members of the Rescue Squad will use the doll to provide first aid training to all members of the community, as well as employees of Neilsen Moulding. Denson extended the organization's appreciation to the Rotary Club for its donations to Neilsen Moulding for this generous contribution. LEGACY

Sponsored By: Burrstown • Cubb Creek • Flynn's Creek • Shiloh • New Salem • McCoinsville • North Spring • Richmond Chapel • Zion • Bagdad • Hurricane • Union Hill • Stone Church of Christ

Many of our former presidents have desired to pass down to the American public a legacy from their time in office. Most often this has been in the form of a library containing letters, photographs, speeches and events of their years in office. However, it could also be a legacy of legislation they wanted, treaties they helped establish and national goals they championed.

Most parents also want to pass down a legacy to their children. It could be a monetary gift, a skill, a family business, a type of behavior or simply their DNA. Their desire and hope is to equip their kids with the tools that they considered important and that will hopefully make their lives better and easier. One would hope that this would include morals, manners and methods. Perhaps the best legacy is the memories they have of shared experiences, sacrifices and love.

Christians certainly have received a wonderful spiritual legacy from the Godhead. Every day we benefit from their gifts to us. One of the most obvious is the breath of life itself and the right to bear the very image of the Godhead (Gen 1:26-27) (Ge 2:7). Another is the new life we receive at immersion into Christ (Jo 3:3-5) (Acts 2:38).

Our legacy is also enhanced by the wisdom which the Holy Spirit inspired in the written scriptures (2 Tim 3: 16-17) (2 Pe 1: 21). In these scriptures we read how a person can grow more and more towards the model that Jesus Christ left us (2 Pe 3: 18) (Col 1:10). If we follow his model, we will be examples to those around us. We will exude kindness, humility, empathy, endurance, caring, forgiveness, sacrifice and a host of other traits that formed his life. Quite a legacy indeed! Our task is to pass those Christ-like qualities on to the next generations (2 Cor 1:3-4).

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

PUBLIC NOTICE

INFORMATIONAL MEETING

ESSER 3.0 GRANT FUNDS

The American Rescue Plan (ARP) Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund (ESSER 3.0) provided funding to the state of Tennessee and school districts to address COVID-19 recovery. Jackson County Schools will receive a portion of these funds but they do come with strict guidelines for how they can be used.

ESSER 3.0 funding is available to help safely reopen schools and address the impact of the pandemic on students' academic, social, emotional and mental health needs, including interventions to address "learning loss"—delays in students' academic progress related to the pandemic—and support equity with services and supports for student populations that have disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.

The district is seeking feedback from all stakeholders, such as parents, students, employees, and community members to assist in developing its required plan and, specifically, the use of these funds. Stakeholders who wish to attend an informational meeting to learn about ESSER 3.0 and/or express an opinion about how funds should be spent can attend a Public Information/Feedback meeting on Monday, July 26, 2021, at 5:00 p.m. at the Jackson County Board of Education, 711 School Drive, Gainesboro, TN 38562.
