on multiple drug charges following the discovery of a stolen motorcycle. According to the department, Detective Kamron Johnston and Deputy Daniel Cummings discovered Troy Pharris at a house on Shepherdsville Highway, who proceeded to flee into a wooded area. The officers then discovered a motorcycle Pharris was riding had been reported stolen in White County.

While searching the motorcycle, Johnston and Cummings recovered "a substantial amount of methamphetamine", along with a loaded handgun, ammunition, marijuana, buprenorphine, drug paraphernalia.

Inside the residence, the officers discovered two individuals, along with a substance identified as heroin and more drug paraphernalia. They arrested Tara Rodgers and Timmy Rodgers for possession of schedule I narcotic and possession of the paraphernalia.

During his investigation, Johnston discovered where Pharris had fled to. He, along with Detective Jesse Wade and Deputy Josh Ford, worked with Putnam County Deputies to apprehend Pharris without incident at a home in Putnam County.

Pharris is charged with possession of methamphetamine for resale, driving while in possession of methamphetamine, possession of Schedule III buprenorphine, driving on a suspended license, possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony, felony theft, evading arrest, possession of schedule VI marijuana, possession of a firearm as a convicted felon, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Jackson Schools Pass Pay Increase

BRIAN WILMOTH
Editor

The Jackson County Board of Education approved its 2022-2023 budget last week which includes a pay raise for school employees.

The pay increase passed Thursday amounts to the largest rise in teacher salary in some 20 years. According to Director of Schools Kristy

Brown, certified teachers should see an increase of around $2,000 per year under the new budget.

Also, all faculty and staff will receive a $700 retention bonus that the board previously approved in March. That bonus is funded with a Best for All District award the district received from the state for investing COVID funds into student achieve-

The budget also includes a raise of around $1 per hour to other staff members, which would add an additional $1,400 of pay depending on how many hours are worked. In addition, bus drivers would receive an additional $5 per day, raised base pay to $75, with the bus driver cap being raised from $77 to $90 per day.

Brown said that due to an increase in students, Jackson County Schools should see around $665,000 of additional BEP funds, raise the total fund balance to over $26 million.

The system has several large projects expected in the next year. They include a new CTE building, roof projects, and safety enhancements for schools.

GARRISON FOR ROAD SUPERINTENDENT

I am Daniel Garrison and I am running for the office of Road Superintendent. I have lived in Jackson County my entire life and reside in the Shiloh community. I am married to Christie Mahaney Garrison and together we have three children Jesse, Jake, and Layla. My parents are Danny and the late Joann Hopkins Garrison.

I have over 20 years experience in various construction fields. I am currently employed with the City of Cookeville Public Works/Road department. While employed there, I have served as the leader of a road crew consisting of operators, truck drivers, and laborers. I have had direct oversight of the crew on road construction and maintenance. I have completed routine road maintenance, determined appropriate equipment and actions for road projects, as well as investigated complaints from the public regarding hazardous road conditions and drainage issues.

Before working at the City of Cookeville, I was self employed for several years. During these years, I had to maintain accurate records, establish and maintain effective working relationships, estimate the costs of needed materials for special projects, and direct others on their responsibilities.

I am qualified for the job and confident in my ability to serve the citizens of Jackson County. I will work hard to make the most out of every penny in the budget. I will monitor the budget and analyze the expenses to ensure funds are being used efficiently and try to implement strategies to improve road conditions. I will communicate budget objectives and provide accurate information about the budget status and allocations. If elected, I will identify potential expenses, determine how to use funds to get the most out of every penny, and manage resources effectively. I will also apply for any grants that can help our roads and structures. I will be available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to listen to any concerns or issues and will make it my personal goal to resolve any issues in a timely manner. I humbly ask for your consideration and vote for road superintendent this coming election on August 4, 2022.

Water Bill Assistance Program

The Upper Cumberland Human Resource Agency (UCHRA) has announced the rollout of a new temporary emergency program aimed at helping low-income families pay overdue water and wastewater bills.

The Low-Income Home Water Assistance Program, or LIHWAP, is a grant that families do not have to repay. Families do not need to have a past due water bill, do not have to be on public assistance, and can rent or own their own home in order to qualify for assistance.

LIHWAP helps families pay the cost of water and sewer services including water, wastewater, sewer, and septic waste. The one-time payment is sent directly to the water and wastewater utility company and will be credited to the applicant's bill.

Assistance is based on household size and income. Priority assistance will be made available to households who have had their water services disconnected or are in jeopardy of water services being disconnected.

To apply, the applicant must provide a copy of their government issued ID, Social Security number and verification for all eligible household members or birth certificate for children under 12 months of age, proof of gross income for the past 30 days for all household members 18 years or older or completion of the Zero Income Form if no income, one month history of home water/wastewater bill, and a copy of the most recent water utility bill or termination notice if applicable.

Households that are within 60 percent of the state median income guidelines can receive assistance.

To inquire about assistance through LIHWAP, Upper Cumberland residents should contact their local UCHRA office. Contact information for each county office can be found at www.uchra.org or by calling (931) 528-1127.

Applications will be accepted through Sept. 30, 2023, pending available funding, and families can be served one time during the application period.

Let’s All Stay Out Of Russia

GLENN MOLLETTE
special to the Sentinel

Brittney Griner is an American basketball star on trial in a courtroom outside of Moscow. She is a prisoner of Russia and is facing a possible prison sentence on drug charges. Griner recently pled guilty after Russian authorities accused her of having a vape cartridge with hashish oil in her luggage at an airport near Moscow on February 17, 2022. The guilty plea could potentially accelerate her case’s conclusion, clearing a path for either a deal with the United States to free her or, perhaps, a request for clemency. The harshest outcome could be a 10-year sentence in a Russian penal colony despite the contention by Griner’s lawyers that she packed the smoking cartridges by mistake.

Brittney Griner is an American professional basketball player for the Phoenix Mercury of the Women’s National Basketball Association, WNBA. She played College basketball for the Baylor Lady Bears in Waco Texas. She is the only NCAA basketball player to both score 2,000 points and block 500 shots. In 2012, the three-time All American was named the AP Player of the Year and the Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four. In 2009, Griner was named the nation’s No. 1 high school women’s basketball player by Rivals.com. In 2013, Griner signed an endorsement deal with Nike. She is 6 ft 9 inches tall and wears a men’s U.S. size 17 shoe. Griner was on the United States women’s Olympic team in 2016, and led them to victory at the Rio Olympics. In 2020, Griner protested the Star-Spangled Banner and stated she wouldn’t be on the court while the national anthem was played during game openers. In 2021, Griner was named to the United States women’s national team for the 2020 Olympics where she won her second gold medal. (Wikipedia) Griner is one of 11 women to receive an Olympic gold medal, an NCAA championship, a FIBA World Cup gold medal and a WNBA championship. In February 2022, Griner was detained by Russian Customs after cartridges containing hashish was found in her luggage. She had been entering Russia to play with the Russia Premier League during the WNBA offseason. Her trial began on July 1, and she pled guilty to the charges. Paul Whelan is another American citizen currently held as a prisoner in Russia. On June 15, 2020 he received a 16-year prison sentence with the possibility of time in a labor camp. He is described as a corporate security director. There is conversation that a prisoner swap could be a possibility for freeing Griner and Whelan. Most Americans are not excited about releasing a dangerous criminal. However, we are prayerful that something will be worked out for Griner and Whelan’s release. I would hope all Americans might consider staying out of Russia. The prospects of any financial reward or seeing new geography are not worth the consequences. *Contact Glenn at GMollette@aol.com. ## $240 Million Worth Of Fraud

by Freddy Groves

The owner of several construction companies has been nailed for fraud. His crime: Defrauding the Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses (SDVOSB) program for the purpose of grabbing up government contracts that he wasn’t eligible for. The scam went on from 2004 to 2017 and netted the thieves $240 million in contracts over the years. Unfortunately, one of the scammers was a veteran. He was talked into pretending that he, a service-disabled veteran, was the majority owner (at least 51%) of the company for the purposes of qualifying for the contracts. The head criminal in this venture is going to have a good long time to think about it. Depending on how the sentencing turns out, he could be looking at 20 years for each of six counts of wire fraud, not to mention the $250,000 fine for each one. One of the co-crooks pleaded guilty to his part in the long-running theft. He’s since lost his money to bankruptcy and his wife to divorce. The disabled veteran also has himself in a world of hurt. He lied about the company as well as everything else, even signing the documents stating that he was the majority owner. At least he manned up when they were caught and pleaded guilty, not bothering with a trial. One thing that stands out for all three of the criminals: TITLE: None of them was lacking in skills or talent. One of them, for example, was a local shining star in developing low-cost housing out of defunct properties and was seemingly well regarded. If you know of similar fraud that’s happening, taking money away from legitimate small business veterans in the Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB) and/or Veteran-Owned Small Business (VOSB) programs, you can report it by calling the Veterans Affairs Office of Inspector General at 800-488-8244. For more information on reporting fraud, go online to www.va.gov/oig/hotline/default.asp. Click on the FAQ page to learn what types of complaints the OIG doesn’t normally handle. You’ll find a long directory of resources there. (c) 2022 King Features Synd., Inc.

Not All Ivy League Professors Want To Gut IPs

WOLFGANG KLIETMANN
special to the Sentinel

Some Ivy League academics recently laid out ways in which they think the Biden administration can intervene, under existing law, to cut prescription drug costs. All Team Biden has to do is ignore the plain meaning, text, and legislative history of the law at issue, as well as numerous court rulings running explicitly counter to the view the professors espouse. Oh, one more thing. President Biden will have to unilaterally gut America’s patent system. What could go wrong? Activists have been touting the letter as something like holy writ -- the combined judgment of two of America’s most prestigious institutions of higher education, Harvard and Yale. As a former lecturer at Harvard Medical School myself, I can assure you the letter is no such thing. The authors are speaking only for themselves. Nor is the substance of the letter new. Exactly the same argument has been making the rounds for 20 years by now, rejected by administrations of both parties. The importance of patent protection has been well understood in this country since its founding. Article 1, section 8 of the Constitution empowers Congress “To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries.” Congress has done just that. One such landmark piece of legislation is the 1980 Bayh-Dole Act. Prior to Bayh-Dole, the patent rights to any inventions supported by taxpayer money became the property of the federal government. But the government isn’t in the business of developing commercial applications for scientific discoveries. Nearly 30,000 government-patented discoveries were sitting idle before Bayh-Dole. Bayh-Dole solved this problem by letting universities hold the patents, allowing them to license their discoveries for commercial development -- a powerful incentive that has opened a floodgate of innovation. The law has a protective proviso, however, designed to ensure patented discoveries are made available to the public. If they aren’t, the government reserves the right to “march-in” and issue a patent license to a third-party who will make the product available.

That’s the point at which the Ivy League professors themselves come marching in. They want the government to use this provision to license cheap generic copies whenever officials deem the price of a medication to be too high -- especially in cases where the government has made even a minuscule funding contribution to the preliminary research. This gross misreading makes a mockery of the law’s intent. Senators Birch Bayh and Bob Dole, the authors of the legislation, wrote in 2002 that “Bayh-Dole did not intend that the government set prices on resulting products.” But what would they know? Legal debates aside, twisting Bayh-Dole to achieve the admittedly popular political goal of lower drug prices would be a disaster for future innovation.

This is not a speculative conclusion. In 1989, the National Institutes of Health tried imposing a “reasonable pricing” rule for products resulting from public-private cooperation. As soon as the rule took effect, collaboration between private developers and the government collapsed. NIH repealed the rule in 1995. One year later, such collaborations were going strong again. Bayh-Dole alone has spurred approximately $1.7 trillion in additional economic output and fostered the creation of more than 15,000 startups. These advances would be wiped out if the federal government heeds the advice of the professors. *Dr. Wolfgang Klietmann is a former clinical pathologist and medical microbiologist at Harvard Medical School. # How To Help Student Athletes Navigate Social Media

Scholastic sports participation benefits student athletes in myriad ways. Competitive sports teaches students how to cope with the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, while providing firsthand experience that emphasizes the value of working with others in pursuit of a common goal. Student athletes often apply these lessons long after their playing days have ended, benefitting from their experiences in competitive sports throughout their lives. Athletes of all ages can relate to some of the common experiences of competitive sports. At one point or another, all competitive athletes must learn to handle losing. But modern student athletes have a relatively recent phenomenon to contend with that was not around when their parents played sports: social media. Social media can connect people in ways that were previously unimaginable, but it also poses unique challenges to modern student athletes. Parents and coaches can help student athletes navigate social media so it does not adversely affect their scholastic sports experiences.

Consider Shuttering Accounts During The Season

In recent years, numerous professional athletes have bravely acknowledged their mental health struggles. For example, NBA All-Star Kevin Love has shared tales of his struggles with anxiety and depression. These issues confound many athletes and can be exacerbated by negative comments on social media, particularly after a loss. Student athletes can avoid the negative aspects of social media by avoiding it during the season.

Emphasize The Potential Effects Of Athletes' Own Comments On Social Media

It's not just negative thoughts from disgruntled spectators that can make social media a minefield for young athletes. Student athletes' own negative comments can have some lasting and unfortunate effects as well. A 2017 survey from the American Association of Collegiate Registrars found that 11 percent of respondents indicated they had denied admissions to an applicant based on social media content. Furthermore, an additional 7 percent acknowledged rescinding offers due to social media content. Fair or unfair, these decisions highlight the very real effects that comments made on social media can have on young people's futures. Sports often generates highly emotional responses, and parents and coaches can urge student athletes to avoid voicing negative or knee-jerk reactions about opponents, officials or even games they're not involved in via social media. Such commentary could have unforeseen consequences that adversely affect student athletes for years to come.

Highlight How Student Athletes Can Use Social Media To Their Benefit

Social media can be a minefield, but it also presents opportunities for student athletes to showcase themselves in a positive light. Parents and coaches can emphasize how student athletes can use social media to show good sportsmanship. Win or lose, urge athletes to praise their teammates and opponents after a big game. Positive commentary on social media can be just as beneficial to student athletes as negative commentary can be harmful. Student athletes who showcase their maturity and sportsmanship on social media can improve their standing among college coaches and admissions officers.

Student athletes who learn to successfully navigate social media can reap the rewards of those efforts for years to come.

Facts About The BIBLE
BY JOHN LEHTI

WE DO IT EVERY NIGHT OF OUR LIVES, WITHOUT EVEN THINKING ABOUT IT—BUT, IN BIBLICAL TIMES, IT COULD HAVE A VERY SERIOUS CONNOTATION!

THE TAKING OFF OF A SHOE IN BIBLICAL TIMES WAS THE SIGN A MAN USED TO SHOW THAT HE WAS NOT WILLING TO MAKE A DEAD BROTHER'S WIDOW HIS WIFE—THIS WAS A LEVIRATE DUTY WHICH ENABLED THE DEAD MAN'S NAME TO BE KEPT ALIVE IN ISRAEL, FOR THE FIRST SON OF THIS UNION WOULD BE COUNTED AS THE DEAD MAN'S SON AND WOULD RECEIVE HIS INHERITANCE. BOAZ, A NEAR-KINSMAN OF THE WIDOW RUTH (RUTH 4:1-14) WISHED TO MARRY HER BUT THERE WAS A NEARER KINSMAN TO WHOM THE PRIVILEGE BELONGED. HOWEVER, THIS MAN WAS UNWILLING AND, IN THE PRESENCE OF TEN ELDERS AS WITNESSES, HE TOOK OFF HIS SHOE AND GAVE IT TO BOAZ, SHOWING HE DIDN'T WISH TO "STAND IN THE SHOES OF THE DEAD MAN," THUS BOAZ WAS FREE TO MARRY RUTH AS NEXT OF KIN, WHICH RESOLVED THE MATTER HAPPILY—HOWEVER ....

...IT DIDN'T ALWAYS WORK OUT AS EASILY AS THAT! THE LAW, AS STATED IN DEUT. 25:5-10, HELD THAT A BROTHER OR NEAREST OF KIN WAS DUTY-BOUND TO TAKE HIS BROTHER'S WIDOW TO WIFE IF THE BROTHER DIED CHILDLESS (IF THE WIDOW HAD CHILDREN, THEY HAD TO CARE FOR HER IN HER OLD AGE). NOW, IF A MAN REFUSED TO TAKE HIS BROTHER'S CHILDLESS WIDOW AS A WIFE, THEN, BEFORE THE ASSEMBLY OF THE TRIBE SHE WOULD "LOOSE HIS SHOE FROM OFF HIS FOOT, AND SPIT IN HIS FACE," BECAUSE THE CULPRIT WOULDN'T DO HIS DUTY TO HIS DEAD BROTHER BY GIVING HIM A LIVING SON! HIS NAME WOULD THEN BE KNOWN THROUGHOUT ISRAEL AS "THE HOUSE OF HIM THAT HATH HIS SHOE LOOSED," SO TO REFUSE THIS DUTY WAS A MARK OF SHAME TO THESE ANCIENT PEOPLE—BEFORE A MAN DID THAT, HE'D BE BETTER TO—IN THE JARGON OF TODAY'S YOUNG PEOPLE—"COOL IT WITH THAT SHOE, MAN!"

Prepare Livestock For Extreme Heat

Summer temperatures in Tennessee remain uncomfortably high, and that extreme heat can create risks for livestock.

“Excessive heat can lead to poor health or even death of livestock,” State Veterinarian Dr. Samantha Beaty said. “Producers should take extra precautions during the summer to reduce stress and support hydration for animals in their care.”

It’s critical to provide livestock with access to cool, clean drinking water year-round. However, animals require more water during hot weather. Consider adding additional water sources and make sure water delivery systems are working properly.

Shade is important, too. Livestock is susceptible to sunburn particularly on their ears, nose, and areas of pink skin. Trees or buildings can offer shade and, if livestock is housed indoors, ventilation can be improved by installing fans, opening windows, or adding roof vents.

During excessive temperatures, additional safeguards for livestock include:

- * Utilizing water sprinklers to keep animals cool
- * Controlling insects by running fans, eliminating standing water, and using bug spray
- * Planning for potential power outages
- * Feeding later in the day
- * Avoiding confinement
- * Limiting handling and transportation

“In addition to preventative measures, livestock producers should familiarize themselves with the signs of heat-related illness,” Dr. Beaty added. “Animals should be regularly monitored for signs of possible dehydration and heat stress.”

Symptoms may include increased breathing rate, panting or open-mouthed breathing, and drooling. Muscle weakness and lethargy can also signal serious health issues.

If you notice signs of heat stress in your livestock, contact your veterinarian immediately. Move the animal or animals to a cool, shaded area and provide access to water. Overheated animals can be cooled off by applying cool water with a hose.

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture’s Animal Health Division is responsible for promoting animal health in Tennessee. The state veterinarian’s office seeks to prevent the spread of disease through import and movement requirements, livestock traceability, disaster mitigation, and the services of the C.E. Kord Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory.

Disease Affecting Cattle Detected In Tennessee

The state veterinarian is announcing detection of Theileria orientalis in a herd of cattle in Middle Tennessee.

Theileria is a tickborne parasite that infects red and white blood cells and causes severe anemia in cattle. There is no vaccine to prevent the illness or effective treatment. Once an animal is infected, it is a carrier for life.

The affected herd in Maury County showed signs of illness and lethargy, and despite veterinary attention and antibiotic treatments, ultimately some animals died.

Theileria is not a threat to human health. Humans cannot become sick from contact with affected cattle, and consuming meat from affected cattle is safe provided the meat has been cooked to an appropriate temperature.

“The Asian longhorned tick is a common vector for this illness,” State Veterinarian Dr. Samantha Beaty said. “Although we have not yet confirmed the presence of ALT in Maury County, we know it’s already taken hold in several other Tennessee counties and will continue to spread. Cattle producers should take steps to protect their herds.”

Producers can minimize risk by keeping cattle out of wooded areas and keeping pastures mowed short, particularly pastures that border woods. Producers should also regularly inspect cattle for ticks, use varying types of acaricides (ear tags, pours, back rubbers, etc.), use a clean needle for every injection, and notify a veterinarian if cattle show signs of lethargy or illness.

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture’s Animal Health Division is responsible for promoting animal health in Tennessee. The state veterinarian’s office seeks to prevent the spread of disease through import and movement requirements, livestock traceability, disaster mitigation, and the services of the C.E. Kord Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory. The division collaborates with other health-related stakeholders, academic institutions, and extension services to support One Health, an initiative to improve health for people and animals.

UTIA Professor Serving On Climate Change Subcommittee

Andrew Muhammad, professor and Blasingame Chair of Excellence in Agricultural Policy at the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture, has been tapped by the Board for International Food and Agricultural Development (BIFAD) to serve on its Subcommittee on Systemic Solutions for Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation in Agricultural, Nutrition and Food Systems.

The climate change subcommittee is comprised of 13 individuals strategically chosen to provide expanded transdisciplinary expertise, diverse views and organizational perspectives to address systemic risks brought about by climate change. The team will engage experts from around the world and guide implementation of a commissioned study to inform their work. The subcommittee will determine evidence-based recommendations to advise the board.

Appointed by President Biden, BIFAD is a seven-member federal advisory board that will ultimately deliver the subcommittee’s independent recommendations to the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) to optimize and accelerate climate change programming. The subcommittee’s recommendations will be expeditiously reached to equip USAID and the U.S. government with recommendations or preliminary recommendations for participation in the 27th United Nations Climate Change Conference of the Parties in November 2022.

“I look forward to serving on the BIFAD subcommittee, working with industry leaders, scientists and academics to deliver applicable solutions to climate and environmental issues affecting agriculture and food systems globally,” said Muhammad. “It is an honor to have been selected, and I am excited about this opportunity.”

Carrie Castille, the UT Institute of Agriculture’s recently appointed senior vice chancellor and senior vice president, holds a Ph.D. in renewable natural resources and environmental and public policy, and she recognizes the importance of Muhammad’s new role and the influence the BIFAD subcommittee’s recommendations may have across Tennessee, the United States and globally. “UTIA and other land-grant institutions will look to the subcommittee for guidance on how to tailor future research and education efforts on behalf of our stakeholders,” she said.

A renowned agricultural trade expert, Muhammad joined the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics in 2018. He assists state and national agricultural decision makers in the evaluation of policies and programs dealing with agricultural commodities, food and international trade, as well as advocating for state and regional agricultural opportunities. His current research focuses on agricultural trade and trade policy, effects of trade on developing countries, and global food demand. He currently serves on USDA’s Agricultural Policy Advisory Committee where he advises national leaders on international agricultural trade issues, including the enforcement of existing trade agreements, as well as negotiating objectives for new trade agreements. He has garnered funding in excess of $4 million for teaching and research and has written more than 60 journal articles and 40 reports on agricultural trade and policy issues.

He previously served as associate director of the Market and Trade Economics Division and as chief of the International Demand and Trade Branch at USDA’s Economic Research Service.

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

The Garden Bug
Pencil cactus

Also known as a “milk bush,” this plant is a native to tropical Africa and India. It requires little water, thus it is often sold as a kind of cactus; but it is actually a succulent. It can grow up to 30 feet tall outside and well over 6 feet indoors. The toxicity of its milky sap is so intense that even a small drop of it can cause severe irritation, redness and burning sensations, and contact with or near the eyes can cause profound pain and temporary blindness.

RECIPES of the WEEK

Sweet Potato Pie

Ingredients:
Dough for single-crust pie
2 medium sweet potatoes (about 1-1/2 pounds), peeled and cubed
1/3 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup sugar
2 large eggs, room temperature, lightly beaten
3/4 cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt

Directions:
Preheat oven to 425°. On a lightly floured surface, roll dough to a 1/8-in.-thick circle; transfer to a 9-in. pie plate. Trim crust to 1/2 in. beyond rim of plate; flute edge. Refrigerate while preparing filling Place sweet potatoes in a medium saucepan; add water to cover. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cook, uncovered, until tender, 13-15 minutes. Drain potatoes; return to pan. Mash until very smooth; cool to room temperature.

In a bowl, cream butter and sugar. Add eggs; mix well. Add milk, 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes, vanilla, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt; mix well. Pour into crust. Bake for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350°; bake until set or a knife inserted in the center comes out clean, 35-40 minutes. Cool on a wire rack. Refrigerate leftover.

“This election isn’t personal, it’s about doing the right thing for our district and for Tennessee. For too long we have sent our hard earned tax dollars to Nashville, only to be left out of important projects that would benefit our communities. I am not a career politician, I am a conservative Republican who will get things done for our district.”

This election is about people and getting things done for Tennessee, and unfortunately, Terri Lynn Weaver’s record shows that she isn’t.

The Weaver Record:
Tax Relief for Tennesseans:
At a time when we are facing increasing costs at the grocery store and record high gas prices and the State of Tennessee having a $3 Billion surplus, Terri Lynn Weaver didn’t introduce one bill this year to reduce taxes on hard working Tennesseans.(1)

Education Funding:
TISA-HB2143 – This legislation changed an outdated 30 year-old funding formula to a new student-based funding formula where dollars are allocated to districts based upon the specific needs of their students. It also added $1 Billion to Education in Tennessee which includes millions more for House District 40, and dedicated funding to teacher raises. Rep. Terri Lynn Weaver voted against it.(2)

Roads, Bridges, and Highway Interchanges:
Out of $519 Million allocated for highways and interchanges in 2022 in Tennessee, none of the projects are in House District 40, despite the tremendous need at exit 258 in Smith County, among other projects.(3)

The two bridge projects that were completed in DeKalb County, Hurricane and Sligo Bridges, Rep. Weaver voted against the funding of both HB2390.(4)

Bill Dance Signature Lakes:
Tennessee invested $15 Million in Bill Dance Signature Lakes. No money was allocated for House District 40, despite Center Hill Lake, the Caney Fork River, Cordell Hull Lake and the Cumberland River being located in this district and contributing a significant economic and tourism impact to the area.(5)
