Marble Tourney Returns Saturday

BRIAN WILMOTH
Editor

The “Super Bowl of Marbles” is returning to Standing Stone State Park this weekend.

The 39th Annual National Rolley Hole Marbles Championship and Festival will kick off at 8 a.m. Saturday morning for a day full of competition and entertainment in the park outside of Hilham in Overton County.

Last year’s event was named one of four winners in the folklife heritage category of the Tennessee Governor’s Arts Awards. In addition to the marble tournament, this year’s event will include marble making exhibits and demonstrations, marble vendors, a swap meet, kids marble games, food, and a music festival. Admission is free.

The main marble tournament normally draws in some of the best players in the country, attracting people from different states and several countries, as well. Last year’s winners were Kinzie Adams of Celina and Andrew Walker of Union Hill.

The Tennessee Arts Commission describes the event as “as the living culmination of one of the most successful and sustained folklife preservation projects in the United States.”

Originally played in four counties along the Kentucky-Tennessee border, Rolley Hole is similar to the game of croquet. The National Championship has helped establish a standard system of play, combining the various community rules and customs that have traditionally surrounded the game.

Teams of two people play on a cleared, 40’ by 25’ dirt yard of sifted loam soil with three holes ten feet apart. The goal is for each player to put their marble through a course of twelve holes, and the game ends when both partners finish the course. During the match, players must also hinder the progress of their opponents by shooting their marbles out of the way.

The Arts Commission said that the festival has been instrumental in reviving the tradition. When it began in 1983, only one active marble yard remained in Tennessee. With the renewed interest the tournament brought, over twenty marble yards were rehabilitated, and children began playing marbles again.

In 1986, the Smithsonian’s Festival of American Folklife in Washington, D.C., featured the Rolley Hole tradition, with Tennessee players and marble makers offering demonstrations on the National Mall to visitors from around the world.

“The National Rolley Hole Marbles Championship is a one-of-a-kind event, unique to Tennessee,” stated David W. Salyers, Tennessee Commissioner of Environment and Conservation. “The event is an extraordinary model for how park staff can help preserve a rich cultural heritage through interpretation and thoughtful resource management. The Rolley Hole tournament and tradition is a great source of pride for us and all Tennesseans, and we hope it will continue to be a source of pride and wonder for years to come.”

Standing Stone Park Ranger Shawn Hughes currently oversees the tournament.

“There is no other event like this in the world,” Hughes said. “The day has something for everybody, and we invite anyone who wants to have a good time to come and enjoy it.”

Standing Stone State Park is located 10 miles northeast of Livingston, off of Highway 52 near Celina.

For more information about the festival and Standing Stone State Park, call (931) 823-6347 or visit Standing Stone State Park online.

Suicide Prevention Month Kicks Off

BRIAN WILMOTH
Editor

With over 45,000 suicides annually in the United States, September is set aside as a month to bring awareness to the crisis.

“It’s important to bring awareness to suicide prevention because suicide is truly preventable,” said Matthew Parriott, Director of Communication for the Tennessee Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse. “It’s ok to talk about suicide. If you’re concerned about a loved one or friend, don’t hide from it. Ask directly and be prepared to listen. It’s also important to learn the warning signs and how you can make a positive intervention.”

Anne Stamps is the Director of Plateau Mental Health Center. She echoed the need to look for warning signs.

“Untreated depression is the number one cause of suicide,” Stamps said. “So it’s very important that we know the signs, not just for ourselves but in order to help our friends and neighbors.”

According to Stamps, the warning signs can look very different from person-to-person.

“Obviously if someone is threatening to harm themselves or kill themselves,” Stamps said. “If they’re talking about that or writing about that. If they’re just plain hopeless or helpless. If they’re feeling overwhelmed. If they express feelings of being trapped, no way out, or if they feel like they are in a corner. If they are withdrawing from family or friends. If they are exhibiting more anxiety or depression than they normally have. If maybe there’s some disturbance in their sleeping habits. If they’re not going to work or not going to school. Maybe their work performance or their school performance is a little bit off. If they are giving

County Funds Will Help Build Water Plant

BRIAN WILMOTH
Editor

Jackson County is providing around $1.5 million to help fund the building of a new water treatment plant in Gainesboro.

The town’s Board of Aldermen voted last week to accept part of the county’s American Rescue Plan funds that are earmarked for water projects. When the Jackson County Commission approved a resolution in May to begin water line extensions to underserved areas of the county, it stipulated that the leftover funds could be used to assist Gainesboro with some of its projects.

With an estimated cost of $10.5 million, Gainesboro Mayor Lloyd Williams said that the county funds would be helpful.

“Right now, we’ve got 21% of it paid for already, and we’re looking for more grants, but you talk about getting us on the way, it kind of helped us in making the decision to go ahead with it,” Williams said. “Without that money, it would have been really difficult for us.”

The goal, Williams said, was to get around half of the project funded through grants. In addition, more ARP funds may become available in December as local governments have to turn in any leftover funds.

Outside of grant funding, there is the possibility that water bills could gradually increase.

Williams said a new treatment plant could help expand Gainesboro’s coverage area and generate more customers.

In addition to getting water to underserved parts of the county, Jackson County is also partnering with Putnam County to get water to a part of that county that has no service. In all, Jackson County received around $3.4 million from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation to use on water-related projects.

away prize possessions. And if they have had a history of previous suicide attempts, they are at risk.”

Parriott said mental health needs have increased as the Covid-19 pandemic continues to rage for a second year.

“Since the pandemic started, symptoms of self-reported depression and anxiety have jumped dramatically,” Parriott said. “Looking at data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, self-reported symptoms of depression and anxiety among Tennesseans peaked above 40%. In a normal year, that would be about 20%. While the most recent number from the survey is 33%, that’s still well above normal, so the need for services has definitely increased.”

The Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network (TSPN) is the statewide grassroots public-private organization working to reduce the number of Tennesseans lost to suicide. According to them, three to four Tennesseans are lost to suicide every day.

“In 2019 – the latest year for which state-specific figures are available – there were 1,220 recorded suicide deaths in Tennessee,” a TSPN statement said. “Though health officials are unsure of the impact that COVID-19 has had on our state’s suicide rate, we do know that mental health concerns have been and continue to be at the forefront of nationwide conversations surrounding the pandemic

The Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network will hold several events across the state in observance of National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month this September. In addition to a statewide event, TSPN is also hosting several regional events throughout the state, both virtually and in person. A calendar of events, event details and more can be found online at tspsn.org.

Parriott said the state is also offering a free suicide prevention training called Be the One. He said it’s designed specifically to empower people to help their coworkers.

“For anyone considering suicide or experiencing a mental health crisis, please make a call or text first,” Parriott said. “Our Statewide Crisis Line 855-CRISIS-1 (855-274-7471) and the Crisis Text Line – Text “TN” to 741-741 – are always available.”

Stamps said, locally, there are multiple crisis options available. The crisis service number for adults in the Upper Cumberland is 800-704-2651. The number for children and youth is 866-791-9223. Plateau Mental Health also has a Crisis Stabilization Unit located at 1200 S. Willow Ave. in Cookeville.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

A message/invitation from the Jackson County Democrat Party
Sept. 15, 2022 Meeting.
We have been gifted. It did not fall out of the sky. Our fathers, our mothers, our grandfathers, our grandmothers, generations on generations have fought and argued amongst themselves to “form a more perfect union”: America the Beautiful; and, we, for generations, have defended our dream against all enemies-foreign and domestic.
But that dream of America the Beautiful-is threatened; to keep it alive, requires devotion, requires sacrifice. The price has to be paid. If you do not do your part, that dream can be swept away from you and from the next generation, and the next.
Social organization, government, justice, the economy, taxation, the Conservation of the Earth are matters of vital importance to all of us; therefore, our elected officials have got to be trustworthy and competent.
Commit to do your part. See that it is done with honor; not selfishly. You might not get anything out of it; but knowing that you did your part is adequate satisfaction.
Come to the next regular meeting of the Jackson County Democrat Party, set for 6pm Thurs. 15 Sept. 2022 main courtroom, Jackson County Courthouse. Subject: GET OUT THE VOTE.
For more information on what you can do to keep America the Beautiful go to our website: jacksoncotndems.org and check us out on Facebook.

Social Security Expands

The Social Security Administration has announced 12 new Compassionate Allowances conditions: Angioimmunoblastic T-cell Lymphoma, Blastic Plasmacytoid Dendritic Cell Neoplasm, Gerstmann-Straussler-Scheinker Disease, Microvillus Inclusion Disease – Child, Mowat-Wilson Syndrome, Myelodysplastic Syndrome with Excess Blasts, NUT Carcinoma, Pfeiffer Syndrome - Types II and III, Pontocerebellar Hypoplasia, Posterior Cortical Atrophy, Renal Amyloidosis – AL Type, and Sarcomatoid Mesothelioma.

The Compassionate Allowances program quickly identifies claims where the applicant’s condition or disease clearly meets Social Security’s statutory standard for disability. Due to the severe nature of many of these conditions, these claims are often allowed based on medical confirmation of the diagnosis alone. To date, more than 800,000 people with severe disabilities have been approved through this accelerated, policy-compliant disability process, which has grown to a total of 266 conditions.

“The Social Security Administration is committed to reducing barriers and ensuring people who are eligible for benefits receive them,” said Acting Commissioner Kijakazi. “Our Compassionate Allowances program allows us to strengthen that commitment by accelerating the disability application process for people with the most severe disabilities.”

When a person applies for disability benefits, Social Security must obtain medical records in order to make an accurate determination. The agency incorporates leading technology to identify potential Compassionate Allowances cases and make quick decisions. Social Security’s Health IT brings the speed and efficiency of electronic medical records to the disability determination process. With electronic records transmission, Social Security can quickly obtain a claimant’s medical information, review it, and make a fast determination.

For more information about the program, including a list of all Compassionate Allowances conditions, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/compassionateallowances.

To learn more about Social Security’s Health IT program, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/hit.

People may apply online for disability benefits by visiting www.socialsecurity.gov.

The VA OIG Strikes Again

by Freddy Groves

I have the utmost respect for the VA Office of Inspector General and even more respect now. It appears they’ll go after anyone breaking the law, bending the rules, doing wrong ... even one of their own.

In this case it came to their attention that a senior OIG employee was still carrying an OIG-issued firearm and credentials after no longer being eligible to do so. Having been transferred out of one position into another one where carrying the firearm was not authorized, the individual should have turned the firearm in when he switched jobs. Didn’t happen. Further, others knew of this and didn’t speak up ... for six months.

Enter the OIG investigators.

They unearthed a tangle of job classification language that revealed that nobody was reading the fine print nor filling out the correct forms, even the ones who should have done so. And nobody stepped forward to take the firearm away from the employee, even the ones who knew he wasn’t authorized to have it.

Eventually word reached two people in the organization who knew instantly that the employee was not authorized to carry an OIG-issued firearm and credentials, and acted pronto to retrieve both the firearm and the credentials.

The end result is a thing of beauty. The employee in question retired. Two senior executives are no longer employed by the OIG, having resigned during the investigation. Another employee received a letter of reprimand. And the two employees who were in charge of the firearms program are no longer in charge of the firearms program.

If you suspect something is wrong in either the VA programs or operation, contact the VA OIG hotline at 800-488-8244. You also can go online to www.va.gov/oig/hotline. If you need to submit a complaint about violations, abuse, fraud, mismanagement or other problems, that’s where you do it. They don’t take regular email submissions. To see the OIG’s reports, go to www.va.gov/oig.

Spending four or five hours a day watching what everyone else is doing is a waste of your time.

There are programs you enjoy and news events that grab our attention. There are a few people you enjoy keeping up with via social media. After this, get a life. Do you want to spend the rest of your life with your head bent down starring at a tablet or a cell phone? You might get to a point where all you can do is sit in your chair and stare at the television. I’ve seen many good people who at the end of their lives who could do nothing but watch television or stare into space. Often our bodies get to where that’s all we can do. Is this all you can do now? Consider your daily options.

Stop throwing your life away doing nothing. Have verbal conversations with people on the telephone. You can overdo this as well but it’s at least human interaction. Keep moving, stretching and exerting yourself. Plan your meals and eat as healthy as possible and don’t overeat. Save some for your next meal. You’ll live till the next one.

Go somewhere when you can. Going someplace is better than no place. A change of pace and being outdoors is mentally good for you. Your travel may be across the street but the key is to move and get out.

You will get depressed if all you are doing is eating, starring at your cell phone and flipping television channels. If you are physically able, work ten to twenty hours a week. Somebody will hire you.

Everyone needs something to do, someone to talk to and something to look forward to doing. You also need someone to love and first you always have God. God loves you now and if you’ll open your heart, he will fill your life with his love. There are people to love. Love your family, love friends, love people at work and church. Love the people with whom you socially gather. Some people aren’t easy to love and some are impossible. Keep in mind that all things with God are possible. Keep your heart filled with God’s love. Love yourself. You can’t love others very well if you don’t love yourself. Forgive and take care of yourself. You’ll then have something you can give others, love and kindness.

It’s sad to be around bitter people who have never resolved life’s issues and embraced their own lives. Everyone has potential to excel and achieve. Too often people get bogged down with failures and are totally destroyed. Some failures are just events in your life in which you will learn about you and others. You can use failure to grow, reposition and redevelop your life.

You know what the political candidates are saying. You don’t have to spend hours watching political ads, unless you are bored stiff.

Enjoy the season. Make this next one a great one.

How To Furnish Your Dining Area

Modern homes look a bit different than those of generations past. Rather than several small rooms divided by walls, modern homes offer open-concept floor plans. That means the boundaries between spaces are not so defined, allowing rooms and activities to blend into one another.

Formal dining rooms may or may not be part of the current home layout with regard to new construction. Many homeowners now gravitate toward kitchens with adjacent breakfast nooks that utilize large islands with stool seating that open up to family rooms. These layouts can make it more challenging for homeowners to figure out how to furnish their dining areas - however casual or formal they may be. Individuals can use these tips as a springboard for selecting the right pieces in their homes, no matter where they enjoy their meals.

Consider the scope of the room

Is it a dining room or a dining area? This will help determine decor and the formality of the pieces of furniture needed to outfit the room, according to The Spruce, a home renovation resource. If the room is a multi-purpose space, consider furniture that can serve different purposes, such as a table that has fold-down portions to change its size depending on the number of people dining at a particular time. You may want to include an armoire to store linens and stash away pens and note pads for making shopping lists.

Dining table

The dining table is the foundation of a dining area. After all, people need to have somewhere to sit and eat. Remember to measure the dimensions of the room carefully, as furniture can look much smaller in warehouse stores or furniture showrooms than in a home.

Consider a round or square dining table, which tend fit into rooms more easily than rectangular tables. Plus, these shapes are more conducive to conversation. Rectangular tables often leave people at the ends out of the chat.

Seating

Seating can affect the ability to move around the room. If space is at a premium, some narrow-profile chairs are a better option than larger, upholstered wingbacks. Homeowners may consider a wooden or upholstered bench on one side of the dining table to maximize seating during family events.

Lighting

Pottery Barn suggests using a mix of lighting sources to create the right lighting needs in the space. Floor lamps, an overhead chandelier, wall fixtures, and natural light need to blend and be adjusted as needed. Also, choose an overhead chandelier that complements the shape of the dining table. For example, a round fixture will look best above a round table.

Rug

An area rug can help define the dining space and set it apart from other areas in an open-concept home. An area rug also adds warmth and color when a wood table meets a wood floor; otherwise, it may look too stark.

Homeowners must take various factors into consideration when decorating a dining room. Size, purpose and style are just some of the things that merit ample consideration before furnishing a dining space.

Facts About TheBIBLEBY JOHN LEHTI

THE NEAR-EAST'S BALANCE OF POWER IS OF WORLD-WIDE CONCERN TODAY. EGYPT AND ISRAEL FENCE, DIPLOMATICALLY, EACH HOPING TO GAIN A MORE STRATEGIC POSITION. TO THE NORTH, SYRIA, LEBANON, AND TO THE EAST, JORDAN—NOT TO MENTION OTHER ARAB COALITIONS—ALL WATCH NERVOUSLY, MAKING THEIR OWN ALLIANCES AGAINST THE DAY WHEN TOTAL WAR MAY STILL BREAK OUT...AND SCHOLARS OF ANCIENT HISTORY SMILE RUEFULLY SHAKING THEIR HEADS—NOTHING'S CHANGED IN 2,500 YEARS! THE SAME POLITICAL SITUATIONS, THE SAME COUNTRIES, SAME PLANS!

ISAIAH THE PROPHET (CIRCA 780-700 B.C.), IN TEMPESTUOUS ANCIENT TIMES, PREACHED RELIANCE ON GOD, ADVISING AGAINST POLITICAL ALLIANCE WITH NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES. SO SINCERE WAS HE, THAT HE STRIPPED AND, FOR THREE YEARS, WALKED ABOUT BAREFOOTED, WEARING ONLY A LOIN CLOTH TO POINT UP HOW BAD OFF EVERYONE WAS GOING TO BE IF THEY DIDN'T HEED HIS WORDS! BUT THE KINGDOM OF JUDAH WAS IN A VERY DANGEROUS SITUATION....

...IN THE NORTH, SYRIA AND ISRAEL (SEPARATE FROM THE KINGDOM OF JUDAH AND JERUSALEM) HAD FORMED AN ALLIANCE AGAINST THE THREAT OF A TERRIBLE FOE TO THE EAST, ASSYRIA—THEN AT ITS HEIGHT AS A CONQUERING NATION, LOOTING AND DESPOILING ALL KINGDOMS IN ITS PATH TO WORLD POWER! SYRIA AND ISRAEL INTENDED TO ATTACK JUDAH FOR NOT JOINING THEM BUT, BEFORE THEY COULD, THEY WERE CONQUERED BY ASSYRIA, WHOSE KING, SENNACHERIB, THEN FOCUSED ON JERUSALEM, DEMANDING ITS TOTAL SURRENDER! KING HEZEKIAH SOUGHT ISAIAH'S ADVICE—WHEN HE WAS IN TROUBLE, THEN AND THEN ONLY, DID HE TURN TO GOD AND THE PROPHETS—WHEN EVERYTHING WAS FINE, HEZEKIAH DID AS HE PARM WELL PLEASED! ISAIAH TOLD HEZEKIAH TO ACT LIKE A REAL KING, FOR ONCE, AND DEFEAT ASSYRIA! A HARD THING TO DO WHEN, ALL AROUND HIM, KINGDOMS WERE TOPPLING LIKE TEN-PINS...SO HEZEKIAH STRIPPED HIS TREASURY OF ITS GOLD AND SILVER TO GIVE TO SENNACHERIB, HOPING HE'D GO AWAY! AT THIS TIME, EGYPT TO THE SOUTHWEST, FEARING FOR ITS OWN SAFETY, GOT INTO THE FIGHT AND, EVEN AS ISAIAH SHOULDED DEFIANCE FROM JERUSALEM'S WALLS, SENNACHERIB, WITH NEWS OF A SERIOUS REVOLT IN HIS OWN COUNTRY, HIS ARMY DECIMATED BY SOME SUDDEN PLAGUE OF ILLNESS WHICH KILLED THOUSANDS OF HIS TROOPS OVERNIGHT, LEFT FOR HOME! INSTEAD OF GOING TO THE TEMPLE TO THANK GOD, THE PEOPLE OF JERUSALEM CELEBRATED IN A SERIES OF WILD ORGIES! ISAIAH'S WORDS FAIRLY DRIPPED SARCASTICALLY, AS HE WATCHED...“EAT, DRINK AND BE MERRY,” SAID HE, “FOR TOMORROW,” CAME HIS DIRE PREDICTION, “WE DIE!” ISAIAH SAW WHAT THE FUTURE HELD FOR A PEOPLE WHO TURNED TO RIOTOUS REVELS AT THE SLIGHTEST EXCUSE—AND HE WAS RIGHT! IN LESS THAN TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, NEBUCHADNEZZAR WAS TO COME OUT OF THE EAST AND END FOREVER “THE POWER AND THE GLORY THAT WAS JERUSALEM.”

NEXT WEEK: SIX-HUNDRED “LEFTIES”!

Grow Sweet Potatoes For Fun

HOLLY JONES
Horticulturist, U.T. Gardens,
Knoxville

Delicious, nutritious and easy to grow, sweet potatoes (Ipomoea batatas) are a good choice for Tennessee gardeners with a sunny space and the desire to “grow your own.” The long, humid days of summer in the Southeast are perfect for this vigorously vining root crop that features edible leaves and charming funnel-shaped flowers that come in shades of pink and purple.

Sweet potatoes grow so well in Tennessee, in fact, that Weakley County in West Tennessee is central to the crop’s production across the United States. In the 1950s and 60s, five companies in the county produced more than 10 million sweet potato slips. Slips are the rooted cuttings from which sweet potatoes are generally grown. Today while only the Steele Plant Company remains, this family-owned and operated company shipped more than 3 million slips this year to locations throughout the continental U.S. Another fun fact to know is the town of Gleason, Tennessee, is known as Tater Town and annually hosts a festival called the Tater Town Special on Labor Day weekend.

So how do you produce taters of your own? Whether you purchase them from a local grower, get them from your neighbor or order them online, the ideal planting time is between May and June, which allows for a 3-5 month growing period before cool weather sets in. Slips planted later in the season may still produce, but the yield will be smaller. Plants that are put in the ground too early may suffer from cool soil temperatures. While no special soil preparation is required in the average garden, the tubers will be larger and more perfectly shaped if the soil is deep and well drained with a moderate level of fertility. Side dress with a general all-purpose fertilizer about a month after planting if desired.

Harvest at the end of the growing season before the first deep frost by cutting back the vines and lifting the roots out of the ground with a small shovel, potato fork or your hands. At the UT Gardens, Knoxville, we do our best to find children to help with this part. Harvesting the sweet potato patch is like digging for gold! Kids love it. Once all the tuberous roots have been found it’s important to start the curing process. This is a process that increases the sugar content and gives the sweet potatoes a longer storage life. After brushing off most of the soil, store them in a dark area at 80-85 degrees Fahrenheit and 90% humidity for about a week. After this they should be stored in a low humidity area between 50-60 degrees Fahrenheit.

For detailed information on growing sweet potatoes in Tennessee, please see UT Extension Publication D71 “Sweet Potatoes for the Tennessee Vegetable Garden.” The publication is available online.

There are thousands of different kinds of sweet potatoes from which to choose. Common varieties like ‘Beauregard’ and ‘Jewel’ will grow rapidly, sending vines out as long as 16 feet in one season. If space is an issue, try growing them up a trellis, regularly trim back the vines to keep the plants in check or choose a bush variety such as ‘Vardaman’. Treasure Island is a new series commercially available from Burpee that includes three varieties with deep purple or chartreuse leaves. We are experimenting with the purple-leaved ‘Manihi’ at the UT Gardens, Knoxville, this summer with great success so far. You can see them growing outside the Kitchen Garden.

The UT Gardens includes plant collections located in Knoxville, Crossville and Jackson. Designated as the official botanical garden for the State of Tennessee, the collections are part of the UT Institute of Agriculture. The Gardens’ mission is to foster appreciation, education and stewardship of plants through garden displays, educational programs and research trials. The Gardens are open during all seasons and free to the public.

Solar – Powered Focused Field Day To Be Held

Jason Garrett

Extension Agent

Anderson farms in Alpine has developed a new, innovative way to disperse water to their cattle at various locations on their farm: a solar powered water system.

This has to be one of the neatest creations on a farm I have ever seen. If you would like to see this in person, please join Overton Extension and Overton NRCS at a field day September 15 at 5 p.m. on location at Anderson Farms, 594 Winton Lane, Alpine 38543.

There we will discuss solar watering, NRCS cost share on water projects, water quality for livestock, spring development and other production topics.

Please call Overton Extension at 823-2735 to register, and UT Extension offers equal opportunities in programs and employment.

Late Summer- Early Fall Lawn Seeding

Thinking about overseeding your lawn? Aug. 20 to Oct. 1 is the correct time to be applying fescue seed to lawns. Correctly establishing fescue in the correct timeframe as well as applying the recommended nutrients to the soil will result in a nice lawn come Spring. Here are the steps to follow:

- Soil test- It’s probably a little late to do this if planning on overseeding soon, but this is the number one thing that needs done. It will explain fertilizer needs and, also, if lime is needed. If you haven’t soil tested use 12-24-24 or 6-12-12 to jump start the seed and build up healthy roots for the grass. 150-200 lb. per acre depending on blend.
- Plug or aerate the lawn- Grass seed establishment needs soil contact. One must plug or aerate the lawn to establish holes the seed will fall in. Get as many holes as possible.

• Broadcast seed- This practice can be done by a hand spreader or pull type applicator.

• Apply fertilizer and lime

Remember one can correctly overseed a lawn and not get the results they are after. Lack of topsoil, shallow soil depth, water issues, shade, pets, and waiting to long to remove leaves are a few problems that can restrict desired results. Please call Jason at Overton Extension at 823-2735 for all your lawn questions and UT Extension offers equal opportunities in programs and employment.
