'Evans House,' once owned by Civil War vet, receives local landmark designation

The walls can't talk, but that won't stop the Chastain family from speaking on their behalf.

Nate and Nichelle Chastain purchased the house on 1003 E. Illinois Street last year after Nichelle was accepted to A.T. Still University.

Nichelle wasn't that new to the city, having graduated from Truman in 2015. But if they were going to live in Kirkville, they wanted to do it the right way. That led them to the charming, turn-of-the-20th-century house previously owned and rehabilitated by the Mikel family.

"Part of the reason why we bought the house in the first place was, obviously, it's a very beautiful house, but also the historic element to it," Nate said. "It's a beautiful landmark and it was important for us to see a piece of history preserved. It's really a living time capsule that we saw, and there are lots of stories behind the house."

According to a Kirksville Crier article from 1989, known property records for the land date back to 1847. Construction of the home likely occurred sometime between 1886 and 1900. Griffith Evans, a Corporal with the Union during the Civil War, purchased the property in 1899 with his wife, Jane. Griffith died in 1920 at the age of 77 and is buried at Forest Llewellyn Cemetery. Jane died in 1923 at age 82.

From there, ownership of the home moved to William Frank, a Schuyler County native who went on to become Police Judge and City Attorney for Kirksville. He later became the Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court. Frank’s son William moved into the home with his wife, Phyllis, after Frank died in 1938. They remained at the house into the 1960s before ownership bounced around several times.

The home was vacant for several years before Randy and Peggy Mikel bought it in 1988. They renovated Nate, Nichelle and Otto Chastain pose alongside Bob Giovannini, chair of the Kirksville Historic Preservation Commission, and Kirksville Mayor Zac Burden. The Chastain’s home at 1003 E. many aspects of the Queen Anne-style residence to turn it into the looker it has been over the last 30-plus years. As they told the Chastains about all the history the house has seen, the Chastains felt obligated to get a historic landmark designation for it.

So last October, Nate reached out to the city to see what options there were. He was pointed toward the application to receive landmark status, which begins with the Kirksville Historic Preservation Commission. If approved by that group, it then goes to the Planning and Zoning Commission, then, finally, to the City Council.

The City Council approved the designation in February. City staff presented a plaque to the Chastains and the home on Friday, May 13.

“We feel it’s very important to recognize and document all of that (history),” said Bob Giovannini, chair of the Kirksville Historic Preservation Commission. “... Obviously, this is a beautiful house. We just want to make sure they get the recognition that they are due.”

“I think that recognition of the legacy is really important because we’re trying to balance two different things that are happening in Kirksville,” said Mayor Zac Burden. “One, we’re really proud of growth and development that’s happening, whether that’s commercial or residential. But it’s also important to hang on to our roots. Events like this, where we recognize historic properties and the people who are working to preserve those, help us balance both sides of that mission that we have.”

Thus far, the Chastains haven’t changed much with the home. They’ve done some painting inside, just updating some color schemes. They also replaced the roof and might give the outside a new coat of paint this summer. But they love so much of what was already there.

“I’ve always just had an affinity and love for old homes,” Nichelle said. “There’s just so much depth and character to them that naturally draws me to want to know what the history is.”

With roughly 3,700

square feet between the house itself and its large yard, there’s plenty of room for their son, Otto, 2, to run around and play.

Nate said one of the best parts of learning about the house’s history was how much that made him feel like a part of Kirksville. To come from Kansas City and then live in a home that has witnessed so much of the city’s history, he felt welcomed.

“That was the really fun part about it,” Nate said. “Being new to town, people came out of the woodwork to say, ‘Hey, this is a really cool home.’ I reached out to the Adair County Historical Society and they were helpful in trying to find resources for me. The folks on the City Council were really excited about it, too. It’s fun to move here and then feel like I immediately connected with people who really care about it.”

This home is the 12th building in the city to receive landmark designation. With the city developing an app-guided tour of historic sites, it will be featured there once that project is completed.

It’s not only important to highlight and recognize buildings that have overseen Kirksville’s growth but to also make that history easy to find.

“Buildings like this are markers back to that past,” Burden said. “They allow us to picture a time that is no longer here. We don’t have as many around our community as I would like, so I think it’s incredibly important that we hang on to them as much as we can.”

The Chastains feel fortunate to be the next part of the home’s storyline, the eighth owners of the property. Though having their belongings in the house makes it feel more up-to-date, the house still shows its age from time to time.

But those are the endearing charms that make it special.

“You know the floors are going to creak,” Nichelle said. “You know on the second story, a little bit of this one room slants just a teeny bit. Doors stick. Things like that. You know it’s an old home.

“It’s funny. All these little quirks, but you like them. It’s not like they annoy you at all. It’s because I like living in an old home. That’s what comes with it.”

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Put greater emphasis on health and emotional well-being -- schedule time for relaxation, creative endeavors, personal growth and fitness. Surround yourself with people who put a smile on your face. Call the shots, set the stage for a year filled with self-improvements that make you feel and look your best, and achieve a healthy lifestyle. Romance is on the rise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- Consider what others expect of you and address your responsibilities head-on. Leave nothing to chance or up to others to complete. Keep your money, important papers and passwords safe.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- You can make a difference if you speak up and offer concrete solutions. Don't trust anyone promising the impossible or delivering vague responses. Show your willingness to work hard.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- Put on a happy face, even if you find someone irritating. It's amazing what a positive attitude can do. Pitch in, keep busy and show compassion, and you'll make a difference.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Choose your associates wisely. Listen carefully and be resourceful. Follow through and get the facts. Take responsibility for your actions and words, and live up to your promises.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Open your mind and learn. A change of attitude will give you a new take on an old situation or relationship. Pick up the pace and say what's on your mind. Beware of someone with a vendetta.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Bring up topics of conversation that need addressing. Show compassion, but don't let anyone take advantage of you. Keep your money and possessions safe. Change things around at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- Call the shots and do things your way. Don't waste time trying to convince others to follow your lead. If someone doesn't like your decisions, give them the freedom to take a different path.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Distance yourself from people who take you for granted. Put more time and effort into domestic responsibilities and personal growth. Make improvements to your surroundings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- Be secretive regarding finances, contracts or medical issues. Focus on changes that improve your lifestyle, or drum up worthy connections at networking events. Take better care of your health.

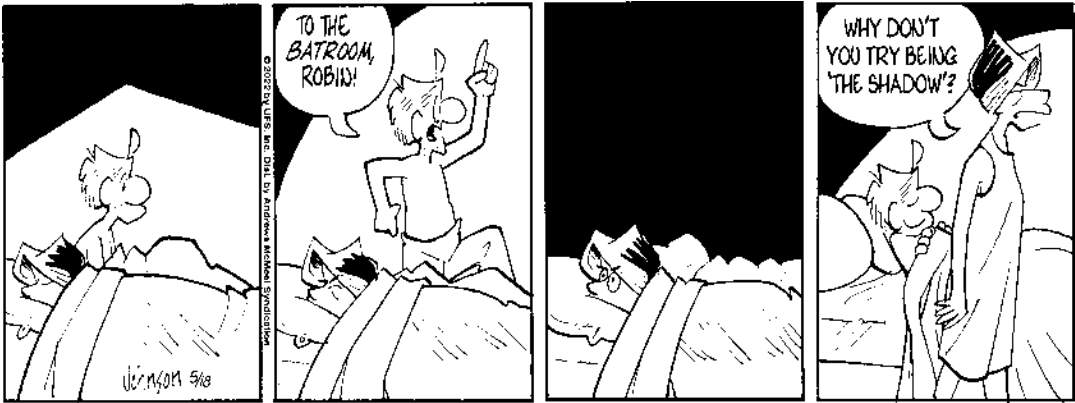

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- You'll attract unique people and opportunities, but before you decide to change your life, do your research. If you act on hype alone, disappointment will follow. Know what you are up against.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) -- Be careful not to offend someone. Choose your words wisely and concentrate on doing what's right. Control your emotions, work on yourself and don't try to change others.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Invest in your future. Supplement your qualifications, update your look and prepare to promote what you want to do next. Don't limit what you can do; follow through with your plans.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Budget wisely and keep your possessions and assets protected. Avoid joint ventures and giving others too much personal information. Concentrate on taking care of business and using common sense to help you get what you want. Consistency and moderation will help you ward off anyone who tries to get in your way. Make yourself clear to avoid mistakes.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- Take care of details personally. Don't let anyone meddle in your affairs. A pick-me-up will help you put things in perspective. How you handle responsibilities will be noted.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- Someone will take advantage of you if you aren't careful. Know when to say no, and back away from anyone trying to manipulate you. Put your responsibilities first to ease stress.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- Learn as you go, and make a splash that others remember. An innovative approach to your responsibilities will pay off if you don't go overboard physically or financially.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Overreacting will invite opposition. A stubborn attitude will cause grief. The best way to get things done is to do them yourself or get others to do them by offering kindness and incentives.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Keep life simple and stay within budget. You have plenty to gain if you adjust to the world around you and make the most of what you have. Don't give in to pressure or emotional manipulation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Be careful what you wish for when dealing with domestic matters. Disagreements will leave you unsettled. Do your best to resolve issues quickly and to practice kindness and consideration.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- You'll come up with good ideas, and your resourcefulness will lead you to the winner's circle. Bask in the glory and enjoy the moment. Share your joy and good fortune with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Practicality will win out, so don't take a risk or believe everything you hear. Keep an eye on someone who tends to exaggerate. Do your due diligence regarding a proposal.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- A simple, modest attitude will carry you further than a risky venture. Look at the logistics of anyone's offer before making a move. Put more time and effort into taking care of your home and family.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- Trust the facts, not what someone wants you to believe. Focus on your health and physical well-being. Healthy eating and a fitness routine will build confidence and courage. Romance is favored.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) -- Stick to the truth and avoid being scrutinized. Don't get involved in someone's plan or in activities that can lead to overindulgence or wrongdoing. Choose your words wisely to avoid problems.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Keep your feelings to yourself. A problem will surface if you are overindulgent. Gauge your time and use your tools, skills and experience to get to your destination.

MO residents scramble to get State Silver Bank Rolls

Once Missouri residents got wind that Missouri State Bank Rolls filled with Silver Walking Liberties dating back to the early 1900's were being handed over, there was a mad dash to get them. That's because they are the only Bank Rolls known to exist with the exclusive State Restricted Design.

"The phones will be ringing off the hook. That's because everyone will be trying to get them while they still can," according to officials at the National Mint and Treasury who say they can barely keep up with all the orders.

In fact, they had to impose a strict limit of 4 Missouri State Bank Rolls. So, if you get the chance to get your hands on these State Bank Rolls you better hurry because hundreds of Missouri residents already have and you don't want to miss out.

You see, the U.S. Gov't stopped minting these Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars in 1947 and there can never be any more which moves them into the collectible coin status.

And here's the best part. The rolls are unsearched so there's no telling how much they could be worth in collector value.

That's why the state minimum set by National Mint and Treasury of just $39 per Silver Walking Liberty, which is just $585 for the full Bank Roll is a deal too good to pass up.

But you better hurry because these Missouri State Bank Rolls themselves have been marked State Restricted by price which means the state minimum set by National Mint and Treasury is restricted to Missouri residents and non-state residents must pay full price if any remain.

That's because they make amazing gifts for children, grandchildren and loved ones. Just imagine the look on their face when you hand them one of the State Bank Rolls — they'll tell everyone they know what you did for them.

Missouri residents get first dibs on Sealed Bank Rolls loaded with U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties dating back to the early 1900's some worth up to 100 times their face value starting at 7:30 am today

► STATE DISTRIBUTION: A strict limit of 4 Missouri State Bank Rolls per MO resident has been imposed

"Missouri residents get first dibs. That's why Hotline Operators are bracing for the flood of calls," said Laura Lynne, U.S. Coin and Currency Director for the National Mint and Treasury.

Beginning at precisely 7:30 am this morning State of Missouri Sealed Bank Rolls loaded with rarely seen U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars are actually being handed over to Missouri residents who call the State Toll-Free Hotlines listed in today's newspaper publication.

"National Mint and Treasury recently spoke with its Chief Professional Numismatist who said 'Very few people have ever actually saw one of these rarely seen Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars issued by the U.S. Gov't back in the early 1900's. But to actually find them sealed away in State Bank Rolls is like finding buried treasure. So anyone lucky enough to get their hands on these Bank Rolls had better hold on to them,'" Lynne said.

"But here's the good news. The Bank Rolls themselves have been marked State Restricted by price which means the state minimum set by National Mint and Treasury is restricted to Missouri residents only and non-state residents must pay full price if any Bank Rolls remain," Lynne confirmed

This is important to note. "These are the only Missouri State Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls known to exist. You can't get them at banks or credit unions or the Government since they do not produce State Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls. In fact, you can only get them bearing the exclusive State Restricted Design and rolled this way directly from National Mint and Treasury," Lynne explained.

"Now that the State of Missouri Sealed Bank Rolls are being offered up we won't be surprised if thousands of Missouri residents claim the maximum limit allowed of 4 Bank Rolls per resident while they still can," said Lynne.

"That's because after the Bank Rolls were loaded with 15 U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties, each verified to meet a minimum collector grade of very good or above, the dates and mint marks of the Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars found inside the Bank Rolls have never been searched. But, we do know that some of these coins date clear back to the early 1900's and are 90% pure silver so Missouri residents who get their hands on them will be glad they did," Lynne went on to say.

And here's the best part. If you are a resident of the state of Missouri you cover only the $39 per coin state minimum set by the National Mint and Treasury, that's 15 U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars worth up to 100 times their face value for just $585 which is a real steal because state residents who miss the deadline and non state residents must pay $118 per coin which totals $1,770 if any coins remain after the 2-day deadline.

"U.S. Gov't issued coins like these are 90% pure silver and a favorite of dealers, collectors and the like," Lynne said.

"We know the phones will be ringing off the hook. So the only thing readers need to do is make sure they are a resident of the state of Missouri and call the State Toll-Free Hotlines printed in today's publication," Lynne said. ■

■ GOT 'EM: Residents all across Missouri who get their hands on these State Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls are definitely showing them off. That's because they are the only ones known to exist with the exclusive State Restricted Design. And here's the best part, these Bank Rolls are loaded with U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars some dating back to the early 1900's so everyone who wants them better hurry.

HOW TO CLAIM THE MISSOURI STATE BANK ROLLS
If you are a Missouri State Resident read the important information below about claiming the State Silver Bank Rolls, then call the State Toll-Free Hotline at 8:30 am: 1-800-979-3771 EXT: RWB4741

Are these Silver Walking Liberties worth more than other half dollars:

Yes. These U.S. Gov't issued Silver Walking Liberties were minted in the early 1900's and will never be minted again. That makes them collectible. The vast majority of half dollars minted after 1970 have no silver content at all and these Walking Liberty Half Dollars were one of the last silver coins minted for circulation. So there's no telling how much they could be worth in collector value someday.

How much are State Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls worth:

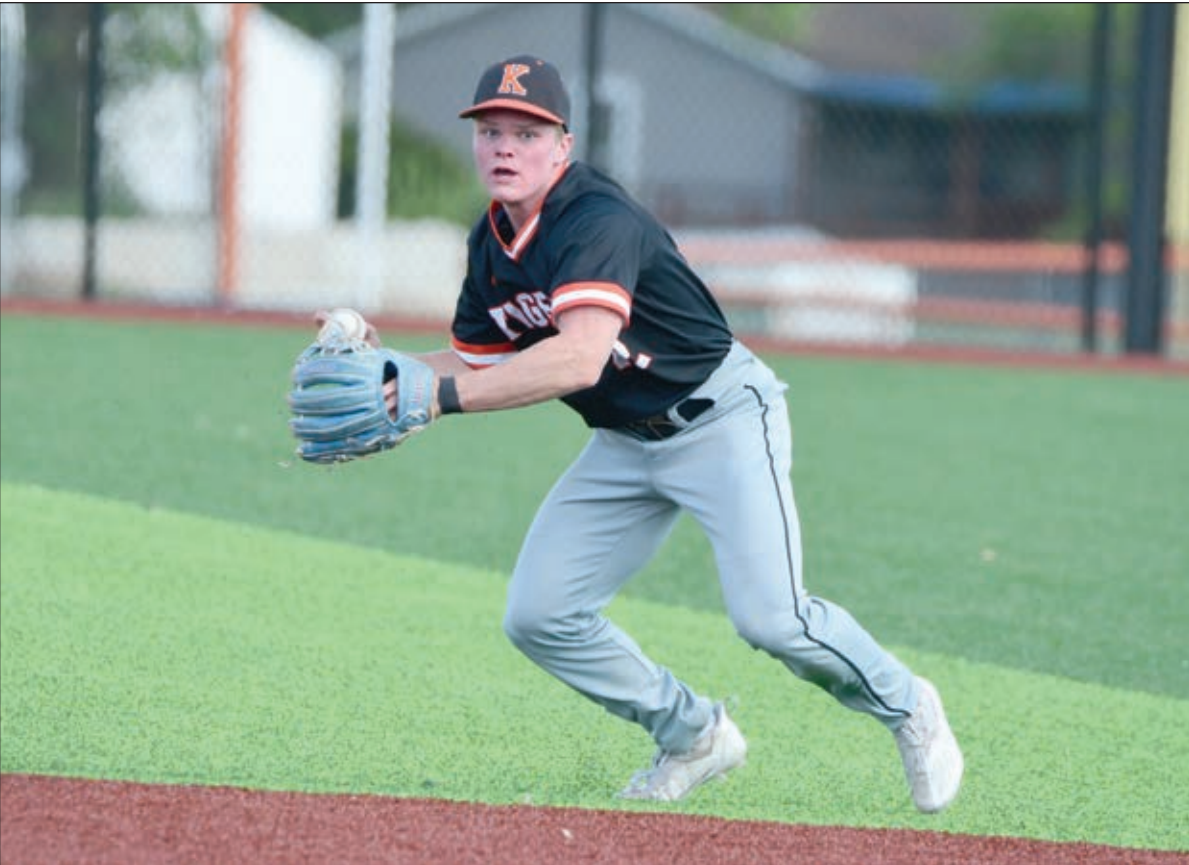

It's impossible to say, but some of these U.S Gov't issued Walking Liberty Half Dollars date back to the early 1900's and there are 15 in each Bank Roll so you better hurry if you want to get your hands on them. Collector values always fluctuate and there are never any guarantees. But we do know Walking Liberties are collectible so anyone lucky enough to get their hands on these Silver Bank Rolls should hold onto them because there's no telling how much they could be worth in collector value someday.

Why are so many Missouri residents claiming them:

Because they are the only Missouri State Walking Liberty Silver Bank Rolls known to exist with the exclusive State Restricted Design, everyone who wants their share better call the State Toll-Free Hotlines printed in today's publication. Each Bank Roll contains a whopping 15 Silver Walking Liberty Half Dollars dating back to the early 1900's. Best of all the Bank Rolls have been marked State Restricted by price which means the state minimum set by National Mint and Treasury is restricted to Missouri residents who beat the deadline only. That means Missouri residents cover only $39 per Silver Walking Liberty, which is just $585 for the full Bank Rolls for the next 2 days.

How do I get the State Silver Walking Liberty Bank Rolls:

Missouri residents are authorized to claim up to the limit of 4 Missouri State Walking Liberty Silver Bank Rolls by calling the State Toll Free Hotline at 1-800-979-3771 Ext. RWB4741 starting at precisely 8:30 am this morning. Everyone who does is getting the only Missouri State Walking Liberty Silver Bank Rolls known to exist with the exclusive State Restricted Design. That's a full Bank Roll containing 15 Silver Walking Liberties from the early 1900's some worth up to 100 times their face value for just the state minimum set by the National Mint and Treasury of just $39 per Silver Walking Liberty, which is just $585 for the full Bank Rolls and that's a real steal because non state residents must pay $1,770 for each Missouri State Walking Liberty Silver Bank Roll if any remain.

Macon erupts late to aid district win over Kirksville

By Austin Miller
Daily Express

It was a close game through 5.5 innings, the kind of battle you expect in playoff baseball. Then it wasn't. After holding close to a 5-4 lead against Kirksville into the home half of the sixth inning, Macon sought some padding before the seventh. Macon got more than it needed, scoring six runs in the inning to secure an 11-4 win and stay alive in Class 4 District 7. Macon's Chrisjen Riekeberg started the party with a leadoff single. Tanner Nelson followed with a walk. Macon coach Kyle Robuck thought about having MyKel Linear bunt, but let him swing with a runner already in scoring position. That was the right choice as Linear belted an RBI double into left-center. Three straight walks — one intentional to load the bases — an RBI fielder's choice, an RBI single and then a wild pitch gave Macon (19-4) all the breathing room it could want. "That's the mentality: lay off the bad pitches and be aggressive on the good pitches," Robuck said. "We were doing that. Going the third, fourth time through the lineup there, you should be squaring it up at that point. Guys were ready to hit, put good swings on it and got good results." Macon finished with 13 hits and six walks drawn — a night of offense that bodes well in the postseason. Alex Alton, Linear, Jakeb Swallow and Logan Petre all had doubles on the night. Riekeberg had a solo homer in the third after Kirksville took a brief lead. Macon had seven guys get a hit and all nine reach base. Alton went 3-for-5 with two RBI. Hayden Burns went 2-for-3 with two RBI. "We kind of just stuck together as a team, fought through adversity even though they were putting up runs," Linear said. "We still got through it. Even though we made (five) errors, we still kept each other up and kept playing." For Kirksville (10-19), Monday was a tough end of the line. The Tigers were inconsistent across the season, with Monday being another example. Kirksville took a 2-1 lead in the top of the third on a sacrifice from Jalen Kent and double from Dominic Cahalan. Kirksville loaded the bases to open the fourth inning, with senior catcher Hunter Tarr earning an RBI the hard way after getting hit by a pitch. But Macon starter Gage Lewis fanned Kirksville's next three batters to end the rally. "We got back to playing some small ball and just putting pressure on defenses," said Kirksville coach Heath Schneider. "The thing that's hurt us all year is we got bases loaded so many times this year, and we seldomly have got the big hit. I don't know if it's focus or discipline, but Hunter took one for us and got us a run in a bases-loaded situation. Drew (Chrisman) had a big hit for us, and it was just struggles for us. I guess you can blame me for that." Monday was likely Schneider's last game leading Kirksville, saying he hasn't been retained for next season. Schneider took over in 2015 and the Tigers won a district title and made it to the state quarterfinals. He then had five straight winning seasons (though no 2020 season). This year was Schneider's first losing season. Now Macon finds itself right where it wanted to be: playing for a district title at home. After the program won its first district trophy last spring, it seeks a repeat on Wednesday. "It's a veteran group and we wanted to be the in that championship game," Robuck said. "We're there, now we have a chance to win it, so we have to show up and play a good game on Wednesday."

Buescher departing La Plata for principal job in Illinois

By Austin Miller
Daily Express

A hall of fame coach is the departing the area after this school year. Greg Buescher, who has coached boys basketball and softball team at La Plata since 2016, has accepted a new job across the Mississippi River. He will be the principal at Payson-Seymour High School in Payson, Ill. He said there are no immediate plans to coach at that school. "I will take with me many positive memories from La Plata," said Buescher in a statement to the Daily Express. "A lot of wins in basketball and a district championship. Four district championships and two Final Four appearances in softball. But mostly I'll take with me memories and many positive relationships I had with the players and the assistant coaches. But I am looking forward to having a more wide ranging positive impact on students and teachers alike in my new position as 7-12 Principal at Payson-Seymour High School in Payson, Ill." Buescher was selected for the Missouri Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 2020. He accumulated more than 500 career wins on the basketball court across stops in Griggsville-Perry (Illinois), Clark County, Moberly, Glasgow, Southeastern, Trenton, Sturgeon, Mexico and La Plata. His 2010 Sturgeon team went 32-0 and won the Class 2 state title. He went 106-78 at La Plata with a district title in 2020. He also led a decorated softball run for the Bulldogs. He won four district titles with the Bulldogs and had Final Four teams in 2020 and 2021. The 2020 squad took third and the 2021 team was the runner up in Class 1. La Plata was 115-42 under Buescher and never had a losing season.

Plenty of returning medalists qualify for Class 1, 2 state meet

By Austin Miller
Daily Express

It's like Christmas — only much hotter and longer. The Missouri State High School Activities Association State Track Championships will be underway this weekend for Classes 1 and 2. After no season in 2020 and condensed, one-day meets last year due to the pandemic, state track is back to its usual two-day format this year. The first two classes will begin the festivities on Friday, with the next three classes scheduled for next weekend. This area had a huge showing at state last spring with 58 medals won and 10 state titles. Many of those athletes return season gunning for more. So here's a look at who qualified in Class 1 and 2, along with some notes on returning medalists or key performances.

Class 1

Atlanta — Boys 4x100 (Sawyer Nelson, Cayden Berry, Anton Zamora, Landon Gilliland); Landon Gilliland (long jump, triple jump); Anton Zamora (pole vault); Kyley Magers (high jump, long jump, triple jump). Kyley Magers and Landon Gilliland are returning medalists from last spring. Magers won three medals: fifth in high jump, second in long jump and second in triple jump. Just missing gold in those jumping events means she should be right back in contention this weekend. Gilliland took eighth in long jump last season but has been jumping better marks this year. Long jump is always full of tough competitors, but he should give Green City's Asher Buggs-Tipton a test for first. Brashear — Nate Triplett (discus).

Triplett, a sophomore, will make his first appearance at the state track meet. Green City — Aaron Peavler (100m, high jump); Asher Buggs-Tipton (110m hurdles, 300m hurdles, long jump, triple jump) boys 4x100m (Laydon Fields, Xander Salas, Thaydon Forest, Aaron Peavler); Tristin Harrison (pole vault); Laydon Fields (javelin); Ketch Hamar (shot put); Meranda Lewis (100m, 200m, long jump, triple jump); girls 4x800m (Britney Jeffries, Alexa Lee, Maddie Lunsford, Mia Ortega). The Gophers have lofty expectations with the huge run they had at state last year. Asher Buggs-Tipton is out to defend his four golds from last year in long jump, triple jump, 110m hurdles and 300m hurdles. He had considered swapping out the triple jump for a different event but ended up sticking with it. He has been on another dominant string of meets this season, setting him up for another huge state meet. Meranda Lewis is also a returning champion in the 200m, though has followed through on part of her goal of qualifying in the long jump and triple jump. The rest of that goal includes her winning those events, too, which she now has a chance at. Aaron Peavler took second in the 100-meter dash last year, and after an ankle injury during baseball season, is ready for another run in the dash. Knox County — Jacob Becker (400m, high jump); boys 4x200m (Austin Jansen, Branson Miller, Keaton Strange, Tanner Gillaspay); boys 4x400m (Jacob Becker, Tanner Gillaspay, Branson Miller, Nelson Shinkle); boys 4x800m (Tanner Gillaspay, Collin Hayes, Nelson Shinkle, Jacob Becker); girls

Royals fire hitting coach Bradshaw, promote Zumwalt to job

By DAVE SKRETTA
Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The Kansas City Royals fired hitting coach Terry Bradshaw and promoted Alex Zumwalt to fill his role Monday in a shakeup of the coaching staff that they hope will wake up one of the worst offenses in the majors this season.

The Royals have scored 118 runs through their first 32 games, better only than the Tigers, Orioles and White Sox, and their 21 home runs trail only the Tigers and Red Sox for the worst total in the big leagues.

The Royals began the day 12-20 and 6 1/2 games behind the Twins in the AL Central.

“Baseball is constantly shifting and we have to continue to self-evaluate and make sure we’re giving our players everything they need to be successful at the highest levels,” Royals general manager JJ Picollo said in a statement. “Our results so far haven’t matched what we’re capable of, and we all share accountability in that.”

Zumwalt was hired as a scout in 2011 but more recently has spearheaded a shift in hitting development within the Royals’ minor league program. The results last season were evident in Bobby Witt Jr. earning the Minor League Player of the Year award from Baseball American and MJ Melendez taking the Joe Bauman Award as the minor league home run champ.

Both of those players are with the big league club this season.

Keoni DeRenne will remain the assistant hitting coach and Mike Tosar the special assignment hitting coach.

“Changes like this are never easy and I’m grateful to Terry for his friendship and all he’s done for me personally and for our team,” Royals manager Mike Matheny said before opening a four-day, five-game set against the White Sox. “We can all do better, and that includes me. I’m confident that better days are ahead, and that Alec, Keoni and Mike will help us get there.”

Bradshaw had been with the Royals system since 2000 and helped to usher to the majors Mike Moustakas and Eric Hosmer, two of the cornerstones of their 2015 championship team. He also helped Whit Merrifield lead the American League in hits twice and Jorge Soler break the club’s single-season home run record, which Salvador Perez matched last year.

“Terry is one of the finest men I’ve known in baseball,” Royals president Dayton Moore said. “The Royals are a better franchise with and because of men like Terry. We thank him and his family for all they’ve done.”

Rangers-Canes, Battle of Alberta up next in NHL playoffs

By STEPHEN WHYNO
AP Hockey Writer

A few minutes after his New York Rangers moved on to the second round of the NHL playoffs by beating the Pittsburgh Penguins, Gerard Gallant had not mentally moved on to what’s next.

“I don’t even know who we play,” Gallant said with a chuckle.

It’s the Carolina Hurricanes, coach. Game 1 is Wednesday night. Shortly after, the Calgary Flames host the Edmonton Oilers in the first playoff rendition of the Battle of Alberta in 31 years.

Carolina and New York last met in the postseason in the best-of-five opening round of the 24-team expanded bubble playoffs in 2020. The fifth-seeded Hurricanes swept the 12th-seeded Rangers.

Before the Rangers beat the Penguins, Carolina captain Jordan Staal said either team would present a major challenge.

New York advanced to the second round for the first time since 2017 by beating the Penguins 4-3 in overtime in Game 7 Sunday night. It was the third consecutive comeback win for the Rangers, who trailed 3-1 in the series.

“We’re not done,” Rangers center Mika Zibanejad said.

OILERS-FLAMES

Connor McDavid carried Edmonton past Los Angeles with 14 points in the hard-fought seven-game series. The previous time the Oilers and Flames met in the playoffs was almost six years before he was born.

Despite playing two seasons for Calgary, Oilers goaltender Mike Smith’s response Saturday night to who he’d rather play was a simple, “I don’t really care.”

The hockey community will gladly take the first Flames-Oilers series since 1991. A year after the creation of the North Division guaranteed a Canada-based team in the final four, the same will happen with one from Alberta.

Montour is far from the only player who wasn’t part of the series last year. The Panthers added forward Sam Reinhart last summer and acquired defenseman Ben Chiarot and longtime Philadelphia Flyers captain Claude Giroux at the trade deadline, while the Lightning signed Corey Perry and Pierre-Edouard Bellemare and brought back defenseman Zach Bogosian before the season before getting deeper at forward in March with Nick Paul and Brandon Hagel.

“These were the kind of matchups that I was excited about making the move down here,” Reinhart said. “It brings out the best and the intensity out of both teams.”

BLUES-AVALANCHE

This was the first matchup of the second round to get locked in after Colorado swept Nashville and St. Louis beat Minnesota in six. It also could be the feistieth, especially in the aftermath of Avalanche center Nazem Kadri concussing Blues defenseman Justin Faulk with an illegal check to the head in the series last year that prompted an eight-game suspension.

Kadri is having a career season, the Blues have already dealt with a series of injuries on their blue line and no one has forgotten that hit or the lopsided nature of the series.

“I think it’s in the back of guys’ minds, for sure — they were not too happy about it, as was nobody in the organization,” Blues coach Craig Berube told reporters Saturday. “We’ve got to focus on now. Yeah there’s motivation, for sure, but you’re in the playoffs. You’re trying to win. What more motivation do you need?”

There are some similarities to the Wild in style of play, but Minnesota didn’t have Norris Finalist Cale Makar or skilled top-end forwards as big as Nathan MacKinnon, Mikko Rantanen and Gabriel Landeskog.

“That’s the difference,” Berube said. “You’re talking 230-, 225-pound guys that are really good skaters, they’re strong guys. ... You want to be physical on them, but there’s going to be times where you’re outmatched physically at times.”

Berube said his team would need to defend hard and also score some goals. The Avalanche know the Blues have plenty of depth offensively.

“It’s a different attack because it’s not just one line that you really have to focus on,” Colorado defenseman Devon Toews said. “They’ve got a full 12 forwards up there that can really score. It’s going to take all four of our lines and all six of our D to stop that and slow it down and then create our offense off of it.”

Spoelstra, Udoka have Heat and Celtics ready for East finals

By TIM REYNOLDS
AP Basketball Writer

MIAMI — He grew up in Portland, basketball in his blood. Wasn’t exactly a big-time recruit before eventually playing some college ball in the West Coast Conference. Took a circuitous route into coaching, guided along the way by one of the game’s legendary sideline bosses. And last summer, he was part of the brain trust that helped USA Basketball win Olympic gold.

That is Erik Spoelstra’s story.

That is also Ime Udoka’s story.

There is enormous respect between those men, who have known one another for decades and have deep ties. Spoelstra coaches the Miami Heat, Udoka is in his first season coaching the Boston Celtics, and one of them will be representing the Eastern Conference in the NBA Finals. Game 1 of the East title series is Tuesday night, the top-seeded Heat playing host to the second-seeded Celtics.

“We have great respect for what they’ve done during the regular season, to develop the right habits,” said Spoelstra, now in his 14th season after taking over as Miami coach for Hall of Famer Pat Riley. “And like I said, this is the way it should be — the two teams that played most consistently at the top of the East for most of the year, and we’re meeting

The Heat needed five games to get past Atlanta in Round 1, then six games to oust Philadelphia in the East semifinals. Boston swept Brooklyn in Round 1, then ended Milwaukee’s reign as NBA champions by finishing off a seven-game series win in the other East semi that ended Sunday.

It’s a rematch of the 2020 East finals, held in the restart bubble at Walt Disney World, when Miami topped Boston 4-2 to earn a berth in the NBA Finals. That was the third East finals loss in a four-year span for members of the Celtics — and many of the players from some of or all those defeats, like Jayson Tatum, Jaylen Brown and Marcus Smart, are Boston’s core today.

“This is the group I feel like is poised enough to get it done,” Brown said. “I feel like everything that we’ve overcome — all these battles and challenges and adversity we’ve been through this season, as well as the challenge that we just had overcoming the defending champions — I think that we are prepared. I think we’re ready to take that next step. We’ve just got to go out and take it.”

For its part, Miami — seeking a seventh trip to the NBA Finals and what would be a sixth in the last 12 seasons — isn’t looking back at the bubble win or much of anything else, All-Star forward Jimmy Butler insisted.

“We just want to focus in on today, right now, the group of guys that we get to go to war with every single day,” Butler said.

So, players might not look back.

It’s a little different for the coaches.

Udoka remembers meeting Spoelstra when he was a kid — at 44, Udoka is seven years younger than Spoelstra — and watching him play in pro-am runs alongside other Portland basketball legends like Damon Stoudemire. Udoka played against Spoelstra-coached Heat teams four times before becoming a coach, spending the bulk of his years as an assistant under Gregg Popovich in San Antonio.

Hence, the Olympic ties they share: Popovich was USA Basketball’s coach in the last Olympic cycle, and asked Udoka and Spoelstra to be part of his circle of confidants for that journey.

“He’s always had success,” Udoka said of Spoelstra. “One of the best coaches in the league, in my opinion. It’ll be a task for us because he has his team well-prepared, hard-fought, Heat Culture mentality. I got to know him on a more personal level in that time spent in Tokyo in preparations for the Olympics, but I’ve known Erik for a while.”

They’ll know each other a little better after the next couple weeks.

After Game 7 win, Mavericks will enjoy, prepare for Warriors

By DAVID BRANDT

PHOENIX — Coach Jason Kidd made it clear during an interview before Game 7 of the Western Conference semifinals that no matter what happened on Sunday night, the Dallas Mavericks should consider this a successful season.

A few hours later, it became even more special.

Luka Doncic scored 35 points, Spencer Dinwiddie added 30 and the Mavericks overwhelmed the top-seeded Phoenix Suns 123-90 in a Game 7 that will be remembered for the Mavericks’ dominance and the Suns’ disappearance.

“Amazing,” Doncic said in the postgame afterglow. “I don’t know what to say.”

Now the Mavs are off to the Western Conference finals for the fifth time in franchise history and the first time since 2011. They travel to face the Golden State Warriors in Game 1 on Wednesday.

It’s another difficult task for the Mavericks: The Warriors are battle-tested and still have the core of a dynasty that includes Stephen Curry, Klay Thompson and Draymond Green.

Then again, Dallas just beat the NBA’s best team during the regular season on the road by 33 points in Game 7.

At this point, anything seems possible.

“Why would you want to put a ceiling on somebody or a team?” Kidd said. “We believe. It showed today. We’ve got to go through this journey. I hate when we label or cap something. “We don’t know how far this can go.”

It’s been a stellar run for the Mavericks, who underwent a midseason transformation after adding Dinwiddie and Davis Bertans in a trade that sent 7-foot-3 Kristaps Porzingis to the Wizards. Dallas emerged from the trade with less size, but also with more shooting.

Dinwiddie was spectacular off the bench on Sunday, making 11 of 15 shots, including 5 of 7 3-pointers. Doncic might be the team’s unquestioned star — he’s averaging more than 31 points per game in these playoffs — but it’s always nice to have help.

Guys like Dinwiddie, Jalen Brunson and Maxi Kleber have provided it. Brunson had 24 points on Sunday and is averaging nearly 23 points per game in the playoffs. Kidd — who is in his first season as the team’s coach — has made it all work at the perfect time.

“We’re going to have our work cut out for us,” Dinwiddie said. “We’re looking forward to heading to the Bay. It’s the Western Conference finals. It’s what you dream of.”

The Mavericks were an offensive machine in Game 7, shooting 57% from the field and 49% from 3-point range. Those numbers might be hard to attain on a nightly basis, but there’s little doubt that when this Mavs team is rolling, they have a pretty good chance against just about any opponent.

Golden State’s really good and has the titles to prove it. Dallas isn’t bad, either.

“We’re still learning each other, we’re still finding ways to get better,” Kidd said. “We’re playing a very special team in the Warriors, when you talk about dynasties and one of the best coaches to ever do it.

“We’ll celebrate this, enjoy it today, then close the book and get ready for Golden State.”

4x400m (Jen Hinkle, Elainia Pulliam, Agnes Reel, Marilyn Mercer); Abigail Becker (discus); Jen Hinkle (javelin, shot put); Cassidy Goodwin (shot put).

The Eagles graduated half of the members of their boys 4x400m state title team from last year and added new guys to get them back to state. But Jacob Becker is the only remaining member of the relay as Austin Jansen moved to the 4x200m. Tanner Gillaspay, Branson Miller and Nelson Shinkle have 4x400m in good standing heading into the weekend.

And Becker has a strong chance to medal in his individual events.

After breaking out in javelin last spring, Jen Hinkle has been on a mission for gold. She dominated the area in the regular season, only to keep throwing farther and farther in the postseason as weather improved. She finished fourth in javelin last season but should be well above this time around.

La Plata — Boys 4x200m (Landyn Jones, Reese Mesecher, Cutter St. Clair, Baylin Roberts); Neil Green (pole vault); Brooklyn Carvajal (1600m, 3200m); girls 4x400m (Paige Carvajal, Presley Miranda, Claire Coy, Brooklyn Carvajal); Lucy Lindsey (pole vault).

The La Plata girls are back with a state-qualifying 4x400m team, though one new member from last year’s group that took seventh. Freshman Presley

Miranda has joined the fray in the quest for another medal.

Class 2

Milan — Boys 4x800m (Ahmet Niasse, Nathan Keck, Jose Garcia, Carlos Cotto); Amy Pickering (200m); Jeremy Bennett (long jump and triple jump); Chekh Niasse (triple jump), Cady Pauley (shot put, discus, javelin).

After winning the Class 2 shot put title last year, Cady Pauley gets to defend her crown in Jefferson City after winning her sectional event last weekend. And she’ll get the chance for two more medals after qualifying in discus and javelin. She has been eager to claim gold in discus after taking second in that event last year.

Jeremy Bennett took third in triple jump last season, with the opportunity at three total medals this weekend.

Freshman Amy Pickering advanced to state in her first try this year in the 200-meter dash.

Putnam County — Boys 4x200m (Nico Lopez, Elijah Jones, Chase Tomlin, Blaine Perkins); Blaine Perkins (high jump); Jake Rouse (pole vault); Adeline Dickerson (100m, 200m, triple jump); Girls 4x100m (Albany Wood, Jesslyn Knowles, Sofia Valencia, Adeline Dickerson).

Putnam doesn’t have any returning medalists from last year, so this large group of Midgets can secure their first state medals.

Adeline Dickerson has been on a strong run in the postseason, taking first in the 100m and 200m at both districts and sectionals. After qualifying last year in the triple jump, she qualified in four events this season.

Blaine Perkins has had a huge season in high jump, winning most local events this season and coming away with district and sectional titles.

Schuyler County — Kait Hatfield (shot put and discus); Jacie Morris (400m); Greyson Van Wye (discus); Hayden Dixon (shot put).

All four Rams are back at state after medals last season. Hatfield took fourth and sixth in shot put and javelin last year, swapping out javelin for discus in her return trip. Morris finished fourth in the 400m, Dixon took third in shot put, and Van Wye took eighth in discus.

Dixon, Van Wye and Hatfield (discus) all won sectional titles in their events over the weekend, giving them strong momentum into this week.

Scotland County — Hayden Long (300m hurdles, discus, javelin); Alex Long (shot put).

Scotland’s twin brothers Hayden Long and Alex Long head into state with a chance to add more medals to their collection. Alex won medals in the 100m and 200m last spring, with Hayden medaling in discus and triple jump.

Alex took second in shot put last year, a place he would love to advance on. Hayden took second in discus, so he was also in range of gold in an event. But he also has two other events he has been strong in all season.
