Red Barn Arts & Crafts Festival fills downtown with visitors

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

The 47th Annual Red Barn Arts & Crafts Festival was held Saturday, Sept. 24 at the downtown square. The downtown area was filled with over 100 local and non-local artists and crafters, as well as a wide variety of food vendors and entertainment. The event, which attracted thousands of visitors, was put on by the Kirksville Arts Association.

Larry Evans talks about the Salisbury School on Hwy. K, named for Christopher Columbus Salisbury (1816-1871), who owned a large amount of land in the area. The school was first built of logs in 1865 and used until 1954, when the Novinger School building was finished. Evans co-wrote a pair of books on Adair County rural schools that are available at the Adair County Historical Society.

Novinger Renewal holds Mostly Ghost Towns Car Cruise

Novinger Renewal held a "Mostly Ghost Towns Car Cruise" on Sunday, Sept. 25. Around 30 participants in about 15 cars traveled from the Novinger Community Center first to the site of the Salisbury School on Hwy. K, where they heard from presenters Glenna Daniels-Young and Larry Evans about the history of the school as well as the Riverside Mine, which was down the hill from the school. Presentations were also made at the site of the former Baiotto/#11/Simler Bluff Mine, the former towns of Nefy and Boot Jack.

Kirksville mayor's vote delays rezoning decision for another week

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

Kirksville Mayor Zac Burden put a halt for another week to plans to rezone a property on the north side of the 1800 to 2100 blocks of Illinois Street from R-5 planned mobile home park to C-1, local business. The property is cornered by Hwy. 63 and the rezoning request was made by Hannibal Regional Healthcare System, which wants to build medical facilities on the property as well as other commercial ventures.

While the council voted 3-1 to approve the project with Councilmember John Gardner abstaining, because more than 30 percent of the neighboring property owners had protested the zoning change, it required a super majority vote (four) to pass.

Last week, on the recommendation of Burden, the council tabled a vote on the rezoning in order to shrink the number of acres that would be commercialized as a means to acquiesce neighboring landowners who wish for the majority acres to remain residential.

On Monday, City Manager

Mari Macomber presented a plan to the council to remove 54 acres from the zoning change, leaving 187 acres to be rezoned. Macomber noted that city staff had recommended against rezoning any of the land due to its non-conformance with the city's future land use map. The city's planning and zoning commission also voted against the rezoning.

Burden said that his principal concerns last week, was to find a pathway for him to be able to vote yes on the rezoning but in a way that was responsible to the community and the existing neighbors in that area.

"My concern still is the 53 acres is simply not enough," Burden said, noting that he had met with the neighboring property owners who agreed the acreage reduction was too small. "I don't think that we have successfully met those needs yet."

Burden said that he would gladly vote in favor of a measure that was much more conservative in the rezoning.

"I think we heard similar things from many members of the planning and zoning commission and we've definitely heard that from a lot of the neighbors," he said, noting that he had had an opportunity to sit with some of the neighbors this weekend and talk about those concerns.

"They would like to see this facility come in as would I," he said, Burden then told the council that it was their responsibility to create responsible zoning moving forward.

"So unless there's an opportunity at this juncture for someone to come forward and offer to change that to a smaller parcel, I would have serious reservations about voting in favor of this amendment and the entire bill, but we'd like to see a path forward that allows for this to happen," he said. "I don't believe that's out of the question at this point."

Councilmember Kabir Bansal said that the council had already decided last week to reduce the acreage, which was the amendment before them, and that he was concerned that if the council continued to kick a decision further down the road, it would take longer to come to a conclusion.

Kirksville Police warn, 'Look before you park'

By Kirksville Police Department

The Kirksville Police Department would like to remind citizens to look around the area before they park to ensure they are not parking in a restricted area. There are many events going on in downtown Kirksville over the next couple of months. These events include parades and festivals for which the city restricts parking temporarily to allow for the events. Kirksville Police ask that before you park, look around for signs and/or traffic cones that will alert you to parking restrictions. Keep in mind that just because there may not be a "NO PARKING" sign directly in front of the parking space you choose, does not mean it may not be restricted. Looks at the adjacent parking stops for yellow or orange colored signs or cones that will give you more information.

Police typically begin working to contact the owners of cars parked in violation of these temporary signs in advance of the event, however, if police cannot locate an owner in time, the vehicle can be towed at the owner's expense. The Kirksville Police Department would also like to remind citizens that tampering, moving or damaging any traffic control devices, including temporary signs, is a violation of city ordinance and you could be cited or arrested (38-531).

Meeting about bridge replacement project to be held at Novinger Fire Station, Oct. 6

By MoDOT

Individuals are invited to a public informational meeting that will share information about a future bridge replacement project on Missouri Route 6 in Adair County. The bridge over the Chariton River, approximately one mile east of Missouri Route 149 near Novinger, will be replaced next year, and the road will have to be closed at the bridge two separate times during the project.

The meeting is planned for Thursday, Oct. 6, from 5:30-7 p.m. at the Novinger Fire Station, located at 100 Front St, in Novinger. Details about the project, including a schedule and the closures, will be shared at the meeting through displays and discussions with Missouri Department of Transportation engineers. The meeting is open-house style, so there is no formal presentation; attendees can come anytime between 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Included in this project is the removal of the railroad bridge over the abandoned Norfolk Southern Railway on Missouri Route 136, 1.2 miles west of Route 63 in Schuyler County. Information will be available at the public meeting about this project, as well.

“We encourage individuals to come and learn what will be taking place and ask questions,” said MoDOT Area Engineer Amy Crawford. She said the new bridge will be 34 feet wide which is 8 feet wider than the existing bridge.

All information available at the public meeting will be made available online on Thursday, Oct. 6. Should anyone interested in the project require language translation, please call 573-248-2517.

Kirksville City Council approves resolution in support of housing tax credits

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

The Kirksville City Council, at their regular meeting on Sept. 19, voted to approve a resolution in support of the TerraVest Development Corporation's application to the Missouri Housing Development Commission for housing tax credits and financing for the Parkview Terrace Phase II housing project.

According to Assistant City Manager Ashley Young's staff report, TerraVest Development Corporation representatives have asked for the city's support towards their application before the Missouri Housing Development Commission (MHDC) for the project to be located on East Mill Street, across from the Aquatic Center, and immediately east of Parkview Terrace Phase I (currently under construction).

"Parkview Terrace Phase II is a proposed 48-unit apartment complex to provide affordable family housing in Kirksville," Young wrote in his report. "The project will be restricted to families, who satisfy annual income restrictions. The units will be two, three, and four-bedroom units."

Young wrote that there will again be a community area, and a playground constructed as part of the development. He said that the city had supported their request for tax credits for the Phase I project.

"As with Parkview Terrace Phase I, City staff have again requested that TerraVest provide an easement to allow the construction of a trail along the southern edge of the development that would allow connectivity from East Mill Street to Library Lane," Young wrote in his report. He said that there would be no direct fiscal impact on the city.

"We need all kinds of housing going forward in our community and I'm glad to see this as a project," said Mayor Zac Burden. "Moving forward, I look forward to voting in support of it there. We need to make sure that we are addressing all housing needs in our community if we're going to add the kind of growth that I think this council in the city tonight expressed they're interested in."

In response to a question from Councilmember John Gardner, Jay

Burchfield of Travis Development Corp. said that they have been hit with supply chain delays, labor and material shortages, they expect to finish the current phase in June or July and that's when Phase II would start.

"It's not ideal," Burchfield said.

"It's not an ideal time to build stuff," Gardner said.

"Yes, exactly," Burchfield responded.

The resolution passed unanimously.

"How much more are we going to take out of the existing acreage where it may cut into what their long range plan is for Hannibal," Bansal said. "I don't want to see us keep moving this down further and further and further until it doesn't become a viable option. I think the amendment provides good faith that, hey, we can come to a resolution."

Burden said that he didn't disagree with wanting to move it along but he also wanted to make sure the council didn't abandon their responsibility simply because this is something that they want to see happen.

"I think there are pathways forward," Burden said. "I don't want us to rush to something that isn't in our widest interests and, again, most importantly for me, we all have to think about being those neighbors."

Councilmember Rick Steele said that at last week's meeting, everyone on the council agreed to the number of acres that the zoning would be reduced by.

"That was exactly what I was told and now we're trying to change it again," Steele said.

"And since then, we have heard from the homeowners again," Burden responded.

"I have heard from the senior citizens a lot this weekend and they certainly want this to happen," Steele said.

Burden said that he hadn't heard from anyone new since last week that didn't want the rezoning to happen, but he'd heard from people that want it done in a responsible way.

Steele reiterated that the council, last week, had agreed to the numbers and now they were being changed again.

"Oh, we agreed to it, now we don't agree to it," Steele said. "I can also do that all the time on your council if that's the way you're gonna do it, but I think we agreed to it, we agreed to these numbers and these changes and that's what I was told exactly. And now all of a sudden, we're changing everything again."

Burden said that Steele had received the same letter he had from the homeowners and asked what his response would be to their position that their concerns had not been adequately met.

"I think it's been adequately met by this council," Steele said. "And that would be your answer to those homeowners," Burden questioned.

"Yes, it is," Steele said. "And I haven't talked with them."

Burden said he would disagree with Steele and that hearing from the homeowners, he had to rethink where he was at.

Bansal spoke again, stating that he feared more delays would result in the city losing the project.

"...I can't speak for the rest of the council but I can tell you so many people would love to have this here in this community for just diversified medical options, being able to stay in home locally," Bansal said. "I don't want us to lose that by kicking this down the road."

Burden said that neither he nor the homeowners wanted to miss out on the opportunity but as a zoning issue, the council had a responsibility to look at this particular zoning perspective and explore the options.

Based on the acreage of Northeast Regional Hospital, Burden offered options he felt could work and described research he had done that might afford a way for Hannibal Regional to locate their facilities on smaller acreage.

Todd Ahrens, president and CEO of Hannibal Regional, who was hearing Burden's ideas for the first time, said that he wasn't capable of making a decision on the fly of what would work for Hannibal Regional based on what Burden had suggested. He questioned as to whether the property might end up landlocked and noted that property had been deeded to the city in 2002 with the city's plan to extend Jamison Street through the land.

"Are you going to build that road?" Ahrens asked, noting that MoDOT was not going to build a road giving them access on Hwy. 63. "Is the city going to construct a road there that's going to allow access into the land to the east of that and pick up that cost?"

Ahrens, noting that what had been agreed upon at the previous meeting last Monday had been drastically changed, asked Burden what exactly it was that he and the neighboring property owners wanted so he could formulate a plan.

"I need to know what you need," Ahrens said. "You know, if you tell me that, you know, the 53 and the northern most 20 acres of the 80 would make you guys comfortable with it, then that's something I can work with. But I got to have the goalposts set and put in concrete somewhere so that I can figure out if I can work with a seller to come up with that deal."

Burden suggested going through and properly preparing for a subdivision process so that they would have everybody on board with the rezoning before it went through.

"I mean that's going to be tough to do when you still gotta get surveyors and everything, everybody else involved," Ahrens said. "So I mean, tell me, you know, I know I'm asking you to prejudice us, but what do you need? Let's kind of make everybody happy. I mean, I'm trying to be, you know, a partner with the city on resolution, you know, bringing some development I think everybody agrees would be good for the community. Tell me what you need. Let me see if I can get there."

Burden proposed a meeting with Ahrens, the current landowner and the neighboring property owners this week in order to come to an agreement on precisely which parcels would be rezoned.

Macomber suggested that Burden meet with just the property owner and Hannibal Regional as the issue is just between the city, what Hannibal Regional wants to do and what the property owner is willing to accept.

"You already know what the adjoining property owners would like to see," Macomber told Burden. "So I'm just suggesting that it not be branched out because then you're just opening up the door for a lot of conversation — a potential not to resolve."

"Appreciate that perspective," Burden said.

Burden, Ahrens and the property owner are expected to meet this week to see if they can resolve the issues and the rezoning will be brought up again at the council's next meeting on Monday, Oct. 3 at 6 p.m.

Glik's to celebrate 125th Anniversary

By Press Release

Glik's, the 14th oldest retailer in the United States, announced today that the company is celebrating its 125th Year Anniversary the week of Oct. 3-9. To say thank you to their customers, the company released a video celebrating their 125th year in business on YouTube.

"Our 125th Anniversary is a dream come true," said President/CEO Jeff Glik. "As a young child I gained a passion for the business from my father who talked almost every night about his exciting day at Glik's. At a young age, it was a gift to know what business path I wanted to pursue."

"While I haven't been around for all 125 years of our history, joining the family business has been my dream since I was a child," said Jeremy Glik, Women's Buyer. "I didn't answer "fireman" or "astronaut" when asked 'what do you want to be when you grow up?' I always answered 'I want to be a buyer at Glik's.' Fast forward many years and today, I feel an immense gratitude for being able to join this business, family by my side."

"I am incredibly honored to be a part of the 5th generation to work in the family business alongside my cousin and each of our fathers," said Elliot Glik, Young Men's Buyer. "Here at Glik's everyone is a part of the family, and we have a great team that is ready to take this company far beyond 125 years."

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statics (BLS), only 25 percent of all businesses ever make it past 15 years. Even more rare is to see a family business that continues to thrive. Glik's has defied all the odds as their 5th generation family members joined the company in 2020 and 2021.

"Less than 3 percent of fourth generation businesses survive," said Jeff Glik. "Yes, a 97 percent chance of failure. Well, the fourth generation, and now the fifth generation join the great people at Glik's to 'beat the odds'. Our company is full of energy, excitement, and passion and we are excited to celebrate 125 years and many more down the road."

The Glik family has grown the company from a horse drawn wagon, to one of the first strip mall stores, to over 70 brick and mortar locations as well as an online store.

"Over my last 40 years I have seen so much change in our business and being able to change with the trends has been exciting," Jim Glik, vice president and 4th generation family member, said. "Our business has grown because we have been flexible within our core business."

In order to celebrate this historic milestone, Glik's is pulling out all the stops. Included in the celebrations are the following:

Oct 3-9 — 25 percent off the entire store (some exclusions apply).

Oct 3-9 — Each store will be raffling off a tote bag filled with popular products. Sign up for a chance to win at your local store. Winner will be

August 2022 Missouri Monthly Jobs Report

By Missouri Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development

Missouri non-farm payroll employment decreased by 5,700 jobs from July 2022 to August 2022, and the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remained unchanged at 2.5 percent. Private industry employment decreased by 3,800 jobs and government employment decreased by 1,900 jobs. The state's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 2.5 percent in August 2022, remaining unchanged from July 2022. Over the year, there was an increase of 55,600 jobs from August 2021 to August 2022, and the unemployment rate decreased by 1.6 percentage points, from 4.1 percent in August 2021 to 2.5 percent in August 2022.

While the data is preliminary and subject to revision, the preliminary August 2022 unemployment rate of 2.5 percent is the lowest recorded seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in Missouri since the data series began in 1976. This matches the previous low of 2.5 percent in July 2022. There was a decrease of more than 4,100 in the civilian labor force, with both the number of employed and the number of unemployed down over the month. The labor force participation rate and employment-to-population ratios declined by one-tenth of a percentage point each as well.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Missouri's smoothed seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was unchanged in August 2022 at 2.5 percent. The August 2022 rate was 1.6 percent lower than the August 2021 rate of 4.1 percent. The estimated number of unemployed Missourians was 76,134 in August 2022, down by 1,789 from July.

The national unemployment rate increased from 3.5 in July 2022 to 3.7 in August 2022. Missouri's unemployment rate has been at or below the national rate for the last five years.

The state's not-seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate increased in August 2022, rising by one-tenth of a percentage point to 3.0 percent from the July 2022 not-seasonally-adjusted rate of 2.9 percent. A year ago, the not-seasonally-adjusted rate was 4.4 percent. The corresponding not-seasonally-adjusted national rate for August 2022 was 3.8 percent.

Missouri's labor force participation rate was 62.4 percent in August 2022, down one-tenth of a percentage point compared to July, and tied with the national rate. Missouri's employment-population ratio was 60.8 percent in August 2022, down one-tenth of a percentage point from July, and seven-tenths of a percentage point higher than the national rate of 60.1 percent.

EMPLOYMENT

Missouri's non-farm payroll employment was 2,922,200 in August 2022, down by 5,700 from the revised July 2022 figure. The July 2022 total was revised upward from the preliminary estimate with an increase of 700 jobs.

Goods-producing industries decreased by 2,600 jobs over the month, with manufacturing losing 1,200 jobs and mining, logging, & construction losing 1,400 jobs. Private service-providing industries decreased by 1,200 jobs between July 2022 and August 2022. Employment in private service-providing industries decreased in leisure & hospitality (-1,700 jobs); other services (-1,600 jobs); information (-600 jobs); professional & business services (-200 jobs); and financial activities (-100 jobs). Employment increased in educational & health services (1,900 jobs) and trade, transportation, & utilities (1,100 jobs). Government employment decreased by 1,900 jobs over the month with losses in local government (-2,000 jobs) and federal government (-300 jobs).

Over the year, total payroll employment increased by 55,600 jobs from August 2021 to August 2022. The major private-sector industry groups that shared in the increase were professional & business services (20,600 jobs); leisure & hospitality (11,100 jobs); mining, logging, & construction (7,800 jobs); other services (5,600 jobs); educational & health services (4,100 jobs); manufacturing (4,000 jobs); trade, transportation, & utilities (3,700 jobs); and information (100 jobs). Employment decreased in financial activities (-2,200 jobs). Government employment increased over the year, with a gain of 800 jobs. The largest governmental employment increase was in state government (2,200 jobs) and local government (1,300 jobs). Employment decreased over the year in federal government (-2,700 jobs).

SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loans available to Missouri Small Businesses

By SBA

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Small nonfarm businesses in 15 Missouri counties and neighboring counties in Kansas are now eligible to apply for low-interest federal disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration, announced Director Tanya N. Garfield of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center-West. These loans offset economic losses because of reduced revenues caused by drought in the following primary counties that began July 19, 2022.

Primary Missouri counties: Jackson, Johnson, Lafayette, Pettis and Saline;

Neighboring Missouri counties: Benton, Carroll, Cass, Chariton, Clay, Cooper, Henry, Howard, Morgan and Ray; Neighboring Kansas counties: Johnson and Wyandotte.

"SBA eligibility covers both the economic impacts on businesses dependent on farmers and ranchers that have suffered agricultural production losses caused by the disaster and businesses directly impacted by the disaster," Garfield said.

Small nonfarm businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture and most private nonprofit organizations of any size may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans of up to $2 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred.

"Eligibility for these loans is based on the financial impact of the disaster only and not on any actual property damage. These loans have an interest rate of 2.935 percent for businesses and 1.875 percent for private nonprofit organizations, a maximum term of 30 years and are available to small businesses and most private nonprofits without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship," Garfield said.

By law, SBA makes Economic Injury Disaster Loans available when the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture designates an agricultural disaster. The Secretary declared this disaster on Sept. 9, 2022.

Businesses primarily engaged in farming or ranching are not eligible for SBA disaster assistance. Agricultural enterprises should contact the Farm Services Agency about the U.S. Department of Agriculture assistance made available by the Secretary's declaration. However, nurseries are eligible for SBA disaster assistance in drought disasters.

Applicants may apply online, receive additional disaster assistance information and download applications at <https://disasterloanassistance.sba.gov/>. Applicants may also call SBA's Customer Service Center at (800) 659-2955 or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov for more information on SBA disaster assistance. For people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have a speech disability, please dial 7-1-1 to access telecommunications relay services. Completed applications should be mailed to U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingsport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

The deadline to apply for economic injury is May 9, 2023.

Turn over a new leaf - give blood this fall

Donors have chance at VIP racing experience and more as new season begins

By Red Cross

COLUMBIA, Mo. — On the first day of fall, the American Red Cross is asking the public to start the season off with a life-saving blood donation. While the leaves turn, the need for blood never changes. Those who give this fall play an important role in keeping the blood supply high enough to help patients counting on blood products for care—especially ahead of the busy holiday season. Book a time to give blood by using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or by calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

As a thank-you, the Red Cross is offering these exciting opportunities for donors:

All who come to give through Sept. 30 will be automatically entered for a chance to win a VIP NASCAR racing experience, including two tickets to a 2023 Sport Clips Haircuts-sponsored race of the winner's choice, round-trip airfare for two, up to a three-night hotel stay, and entry to a Sport Clips racetrack hospitality tent, if available, plus a $750 gift card, thanks to Sport Clips.

Those who come to give in September will also receive a coupon for a free haircut by email, also thanks to Sport Clips. Details are available at rcblood.org/racetogive.

All who come to give Oct. 1-31, 2022, will receive a $5 e-Gift Card by email to a merchant of choice.

Upcoming blood donation opportunities Sept. 26-Oct. 15:

Adair

Kirksville

Sept. 28: 1 p.m. — 5 p.m., Faith Lutheran School, 1820 S Baltimore

Oct. 4: 11 a.m. — 3 p.m., Preferred Family Health Care, 900 E LaHarpe

Oct. 6: 10 a.m. — 3 p.m., Scotland County Hospital, 450 E Sigler Street, Parking Lot B

How to donate blood

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enable the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states (16 with parental consent where allowed by state law), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood and platelet donors can save time at their next donation by using RapidPass® to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, before arriving at the blood drive. To get started, follow the instructions at RedCrossBlood.org/RapidPass or use the Blood Donor App.

Missouri to receive $34.8 million in grants to combat opioids

By U.S. Senator Roy Blunt

WASHINGTON — Today, U.S. Senator Roy Blunt (Mo), the top Republican on the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies (Labor/HHS), announced that Missouri will receive $34.8 million in grant funding through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to help communities throughout Missouri combat the opioid epidemic.

"More than 1,500 Missourians lost their lives to an opioid-related overdose last year," said Blunt. "It is a public health crisis that is devastating families and communities. These grants will help expand access to opioid prevention, treatment, and recovery programs across the state — especially in areas that need it the most. Our subcommittee has worked in a bipartisan way to support life-saving programs to combat the opioid epidemic, and we need to continue making it a priority as we move forward."

Blunt secured a total of $4.28 billion, an increase of $299 million, for opioid programs in the FY2022 Labor/HHS appropriations bill. Under Blunt's leadership, funding for health-related opioid programs has increased by $4 billion.

Specifically, HHS announced that Missouri will receive:

$25.3 Million in State Opioid Response Grants: Missouri will receive $25.3 million in state opioid response grant funding. State opioid response grants provide flexible funding to states to implement opioid use disorder interventions in the best way that fits their needs.

$9.5 Million in Rural Communities Opioid Response Program Grants: HHS will provide $9.5 million to nine Missouri health providers to expand access to substance use disorder treatment and prevention services in rural areas. Blunt started the program in the FY2018 Labor/HHS bill. Missouri grant recipients for the Medication Assisted Treatment Access Program can be found here, and the Behavioral Health Program here.

Graves introduces Bill to protect low-volume, Medicare-dependent rural hospitals

By Press Release

WASHINGTON, DC — Congressman Sam Graves, (MO-06) introduced H.R. 8565, the Rural Hospital Extensions for Low-volume Programs (HELP) Act, to permanently extend two critical programs our rural hospitals rely on—the low-volume Medicare adjustment for small rural prospective payment system hospitals and the Medicare-Dependent Hospital Program.

Congressman Sam Graves, (MO-06)

"Our rural hospitals are a lifeline for our communities," Graves said. "Not only do we depend on them to cure the sick, heal the injured, and care for our families, many times they're one of the largest employers in the area. When a rural hospital closes, it doesn't just force rural Americans to travel further for the care they need, it can spell the death of a small town. That's why it's critically important we do everything we can to protect the programs our rural hospitals depend on and keep them serving small town America."

The low-volume Medicare adjustment helps to level the playing field for rural hospitals whose operating costs often exceed their revenues, while the Medicare-Dependent Hospital program which ensures the eligible rural hospitals are reimbursed for the full cost of caring for older Americans. 634 hospitals nationwide utilize the low-volume hospital adjustment and 174 hospitals are eligible for the Medicare-Dependent Hospital Program. Both programs have been critical for keeping the doors open at rural hospitals across the country and protecting access to vital care in our rural communities.

"Our estimates suggest it would cost us approximately $850K annually in a time when we, and rural hospitals across the state, are struggling to break-even (and, in some cases, stay open). The MLV reduction would have a significant impact likely forcing us to consider a reduction in services and/or staff and negatively impacting our ability to provide critical care to the communities we are entrusted to serve," said Nate Blackford, President of Mosaic Maryville

Joseph F. Abrutz, Jr., Cameron Regional Medical Center Administrator said, "Cameron Regional Medical Center is currently experiencing an inflation factor well over 20 percent. This is due to the ongoing shortage of labor, supply chain issues, and increasing energy, food, and general operating costs. It is imperative that Cameron Regional retain the Medicare Low Volume adjustment in order to continue providing necessary health care services to the residents of northwest Missouri."

"Most rural hospitals serve a disproportionately large number of Medicare beneficiaries," said Jon D. Doolittle, Missouri Hospital Association President and CEO. "Programs that help hospitals reduce the losses of low Medicare reimbursements create stability, allowing rural and low-volume hospitals to remain viable community-supporting institutions."

"Extension of these programs is essential to the health of the hospitals the programs support, as well as the health of the patients and communities these hospitals serve. The Rural HELP Act would continue enhanced Medicare Low Volume Adjustment and extend the Medicare Dependent Hospital program. Extending these essential payments to qualifying Missouri hospitals would save them from annual Medicare reductions of approximately $15.9 million. MHA appreciates Rep. Graves leadership in support of rural hospitals and health care."

Graves also introduced the Save America's Rural Hospitals Act earlier this year, which protects these programs, eliminates Medicare sequestration for rural hospitals, and extends increased Medicare payments for rural ground ambulance services.

Missouri team named a Healthy People 2030 Champion

By Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH & SENIOR SERVICES

JEFFERSON CITY, MO — Missouri collaborating organizations were recognized by the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as a Healthy People 2030 Champion.

Through the Healthy People initiative, public and private organizations work as Healthy People Champions to improve the health and well-being of citizens across the nation. The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services' (DHSS) Comprehensive Cancer Control Program, DHSS Show-Me Healthy Women and the University of Missouri Cancer Registry and Research Center are included in this honor.

"ODPHP recognizes DHSS' Comprehensive Cancer Control Program, Show-Me Healthy Women and Missouri Cancer Registry for their work to support the Healthy People 2030 vision," says RADM Paul Reed, MD, ODPHP director. "Only by collaborating with partners nationwide can we achieve our overarching goals and objectives."

As Healthy People 2030 Champions, these organizations have demonstrated commitments to helping people achieve their full potential for health and well-being across their lifespan. ODPHP recognizes the Missouri DHSS Comprehensive Cancer Control Program, Show-Me Healthy Women and Missouri Cancer Registry, along with other Healthy People 2030 Champions, as part of a growing network of organizations collaborating with ODPHP to improve health and well-being at the local, state, and tribal level.

Healthy People 2030 is the fifth iteration of the Healthy People initiative, which sets 10-year national objectives to improve health and well-being nationwide. Healthy People 2030 Champions are public and private organizations that are working to help achieve Healthy People objectives. They receive official support and recognition from ODPHP.

For more information on Healthy People 2030, please visit Health.gov/healthy-people.

Healthy People 2030 Champion is a service mark of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Used with permission. Participation by the Missouri DHSS Comprehensive Cancer Control Program, SMHW and the Missouri Cancer Registry does not imply endorsement by HHS/ODPHP.

Help Our Health Page!

For our Health page, we know there are a lot of medical clinics and affiliated healthcare providers in the local area that have a message that they wish to share with the public. Whether it's the findings of local research, ways to promote a healthy diet or lifestyle, or the best treatments for common ailments, we're sure that the local medical community has a lot to share with the people of our community. Same as with our business page, we would also like stories about new training that your staff has received, a new hire with an exclusive area of expertise, a promotion of a staff member or the attendance at an important conference by clinic staff. Whatever is important to you, it's important to us and we want to provide you the recognition you deserve.

Husband's fantasies have opposite effect for wife

DEAR ABBY: I have been married 30 years. Our marriage has been a happy one. My husband supports me through everything. Our problems come up in the bedroom. A few years ago, he wanted to add "spice" to our relationship with a threesome. I agreed to try it if it would make him happy. Now every time we make love he wants to talk about another man being in our bed. I have tried explaining that I do not enjoy this all the time. It has reached the point that I no longer get turned on. He can start out beautifully. I am turned on and we start. Then he wants me to talk to him about another man being there, and I shut down. When I try to explain it to him, he gets angry or frustrated. How do I keep my marriage going without losing my husband to a younger woman, and add some spice to my marriage bed without talking about threesomes? I love him and I don't want to lose a marriage we have fought to keep together through thick and thin. Please, help me keep my marriage together. -- LOST AND FRUSTRATED

JEANNE PHILLIPS

DEAR LOST AND FRUSTRATED: If ever I heard about a couple who need to talk to a licensed marriage and family therapist -- as well as a sex therapist -- it's the two of you. Sex is supposed to be enjoyable for both partners, not just one. Many straight men's fantasies involve another woman in the marriage bed. That your husband cannot be aroused without having you talk about another man raises questions about the nature of his sexual fantasies that I cannot address. *Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. NEWS OF THE WEIRD...

Awesome!

Adele Hankey of Park River, North Dakota, was born on April 21, 1926. As such, she shared her birthday with Queen Elizabeth II, who passed away two weeks ago. But she shared more than the date, KFVR-TV reported. When Elizabeth was crowned in 1952, Hankey wrote her a letter -- and the queen responded by sending Hankey a birthday card. "I could have jumped out of my shoes," Hankey said of the unexpected greeting. Over the past 70 years, the two have exchanged handwritten cards every year. Hankey said she'll miss the regular communication: "Oh, absolutely. You miss your pen pals."

News That Sounds Like a Joke

Beyond Meat COO Doug Ramsey is in the soup after a recent incident at a University of Arkansas vs. Missouri State football game, the Associated Press reported. On Sept. 17, as fans jockeyed their cars out of the parking lot following the game, Ramsey, 53, became enraged when another car made contact with his SUV's wheel. According to police, Ramsey left his car and "punched through the back windshield" of the other car; when the driver jumped out, Ramsey "pulled him in close and started punching his body," then "bit the owner's nose, ripping the flesh on the tip of the nose." Ramsey was also heard threatening to kill the other driver. He was charged with felony battery and making a terroristic threat.

Not the Reason I Was Expecting

On June 6, Klynn Chambers, 32, used bright red spray paint to deface a bronze statue of the character Samantha from the 1960s TV show "Bewitched" in Salem, Massachusetts. On Sept. 20, he was sentenced to 18 months' probation in the incident, which oddly had nothing to do with witchcraft. Rather, Chambers, who is currently homeless, told prosecutors he "wanted to do something to get arrested." The Salem News reported. The statue was erected in 2005 by the TV Land cable channel in the city famous for the witch trials of 1692.

Wait, What?

Neighbors of Mercedes New (aka Shawty Dred) in Atlanta have taken to walking in front of their building with umbrellas raised, rain or shine. Why? Because New was allegedly in the habit of strolling around on his high-rise balcony naked and urinating through the bars onto the street below. New, who sports distinctive yellow dreadlocks, was arrested on Sept. 21; neighbors shared video of him in the act with WSB-TV. But New insisted it wasn't him: "I'm famous! I'm on TV, bruh. I didn't do this, man. No. I'm innocent. I promise I didn't do this." He was held at the Fulton County jail.

Kirksville girls golf team wins 4th-straight conference title

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

The NCMC girls golf championship plaque will remain in town for the fourth-straight year. The Kirksville girls golf team once again won the conference tournament on Monday, finishing 19 strokes ahead of Hannibal to clinch the title.

The conference title comes in a season with high expectations, with most of the roster returning from last season's third-place finish in the Class 2 State Tournament. The Tigers seem to have picked up where they left off, anchored by seniors Morgan Lunsford and Maya McKiver.

Lunsford says that it was a special feeling to have been on a conference championship team for four-straight years.

"It feels great," Lunsford said. "Considering we've won it four years in a row, all four years of high school, is really cool."

Lunsford placed 12th individually while shooting a 103 and was named All-Conference.

McKiver, who also earned All-Conference honors with a third-place finish and a score of 92, said that she thinks the team is in a good place to make a run in the district tournament, which begins Oct. 10.

"The team that got third-place at state, we're all returners," McKiver said. "We've got a really good group going, and it's also been really nice because a lot of the underclassmen have been working really hard in the offseason and they've improved a lot, so they're now also a vital part of the team."

In addition to Lunsford and McKiver, junior Anna Jenkins shot a 96 to place seventh while sophomore Addison Davis placed first with a 71, eight strokes ahead of second place. It was the second-straight individual conference title for Davis in her first two seasons as she and Jenkins also earned All-Conference honors.

Head coach Emily Powell said that the team has done a good job throughout the season so far at setting lofty goals while also putting in the work to achieve them.

"I think they had put a lot of pressure on themselves to win it for four years in a row coming in with their mindset, and that's a good goal, but being able to balance that with your expectations once you're out there playing and just control what you can, and I think there were a few times where we had to bounce back on shots and holes, and they did that today," Powell said. "It was just a lot of hard work over the course of the season, and even prior to that."

Powell said that one element that allowed the team to remain focused and manage their high expectations was the bond among teammates.

"I think one thing that speaks volumes is just the sisterhood," Powell said. "I think they do a really good job of picking each other up and keeping each other focused, but also keeping it fun."

Before the team moves on to district, there are still several more dates on the schedule. Powell said that these provide some good opportunities to tune up before district against some strong opponents.

"In past weeks, sometimes that week is dead before district and that's not what you want from a competitive mindset, so it's good that we still can go play," Powell said. "We'll see Boonville at their tournament, so that'll be kind of a gauge. Eldon is one of the top teams in our district looking at scores, and we've seen them once, but we don't control what other people do. We're going to come in and be real specific in our practice and our approach to what's left in this season. The next shot, the next meet, those are the most important things."

The next meet on the schedule for Kirksville is the Brookfield Invitational on Thursday.

Truman State executes 2-point conversion in OT, beats Tiffin 18-17

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

Football is often called a game of inches, and that was certainly the case Saturday as Truman State beat a tough Tiffin squad 18-17 in overtime at Stokes Stadium.

After forcing overtime with a late field goal, Truman found itself down 17-10 after Tiffin scored to open the extra period. After Truman running back Shamar Griffith then scored on a 6-yard run to make the score 17-16, the Bulldogs went for the two-point conversion.

Quarterback Nolan Hair connected with receiver Zach Zerwig, who caught the ball on the one-yard line before fighting through a tackle, spinning and reaching the ball just over the plane to pick up the conversion and earn the walkoff win for the Bulldogs. Truman is now 3-1 on the season.

Zerwig said that once the ball was in his hands, there was only one thing on his mind.

"Just get across the goal line," he said. "Just cross the goal line, nothing else matters."

Gregg Nesbitt said that the moment Griffith got in the endzone, the decision to go for the win was made.

"As soon as we scored, I asked (offensive coordinator Jason Killday) if he had a play," Nesbitt said. "We had a tired defense. They battled. Let's come up with one play, let the offense win it. We can do it. We were fortunate, it was tight coverage, we got the call. We thought it was a clear call. But nice throw and catch into tight coverage, Zach Zerwig with a big play for us for the game winner."

As Nesbitt mentioned, the defense was on the field for a long time in the game as Tiffin's offense was on the field for over 34 minutes. The Dragons ran 24 more offensive plays than the Bulldogs and put up 399 yards of offense compared to Truman's 221 total yards.

But the defense was able to limit the damage, keeping the score close even as the offense struggled to move the ball. They were just 1-of-11 on third down in the game, but were able to execute late and make plays to win the game.

"They were a frustrated group, no question," Nesbitt said. "You've got to learn from failure then immediately flush it... So many players and coaches hang on to it, the mistake, but it's always the next play that's important. I thought our guys really demonstrated mental resilience, mental toughness, and our offensive unit epitomized that."

Hair was 19-of-33 passing for 156 yards and an interception, but made a pair of big plays at the end of the game. In addition to the game-winner to Zerwig, Hair set up the game-tying field goal by hitting Chris Kerr for a 39-yard gain on fourth and 10, putting the Bulldogs in field-goal range. Grant Ross hit a 39-yarder four plays later with 50 seconds left, sending the game to overtime.

Griffith ran for 75 yards and a touchdown. Freshman running back Denim Cook had just two carries for six yards, but one of them was a two-yard touchdown that put Truman on the board.

But it was the play of the defense that seemed really pivotal in the game. They were in bend-not-break mode early on, allowing 207 yards in the first half while Tiffin converted 8-of-11 third downs. Even while allowing yards and conversions, the Bulldog defense still made stands.

Macon remains unbeaten with 45-6 home win over Highland

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

The Macon football team is now beyond the midway point of the season without having suffered a loss. The Tigers beat Highland 45-6 at home Friday night, their highest margin of victory so far this season, to improve to 5-0 on the year.

Macon came out strong, successfully converting an onside kick to open the game and then scoring on the ensuing drive. The Tigers put 21 points on the board in the first quarter, all coming before Highland picked up its first down of the game. They scored on all five possessions in the first half to lead 33-0 at the break.

As a result, they were able to easily overcome a sluggish start to the second half and hold on for the win.

Macon senior Bryant Carpenter runs up the field after catching a pass against Highland on Sept. 23.

Head coach Van Vanatta said he was happy about the win, although there were some issues throughout the game that he said the team will need to tighten up if they want to remain strong through the rest of the season.

"We shot ourselves in the foot early," he said. "Too many penalties, and it's starting to frustrate me. It's just mental focus penalties. That's something that we've got to fix, because especially moving forward, our run here real soon is going to be tough."

In addition to some early-game penalties that Vanatta mentioned, the Tigers came out slow to start the third quarter, going three-and-out on their first two possessions before scoring a touchdown on their third.

The defense was able to force consecutive three-and-outs to open the half as well, so any potential damage was limited.

Vanatta said that the issues to start the half were caused by a lack of focus from the players, something that he said needs to get better.

"It was focus," he said. "It wasn't effort, it was focus. That's where we've got to keep these kids on track."

That the Tigers sometimes lost focus or made some mental mistakes and were still able to pick up a win in dominant fashion speaks to the talent on the roster.

touchdown passes and ran for another. Senior Bryant Carpenter was on the receiving end of one of those touchdown passes, while also having several long receptions to set up short touchdown runs from junior Mickey Martie, who ran for four touchdowns in the game all from within five yards.

"We've got a lot of weapons, and we're still utilizing and putting some stuff together to try and utilize those weapons. You can't just try to key in on one of our players because we've got enough athletes out there to be able to do some different things. Like I said, in the first half we were able to do whatever we needed to do. Our kids executed."

Macon will be back at home for its next game against a 2-3 Brookfield team. After that, a tough final stretch looms with games against South Shelby, Monroe City and Centralia. Those teams are 4-1, 5-0 and 4-1 respectively this season.

Local high school football results for Sept. 23

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

The 2022 high school football season is right around the midway point, and three local teams picked up wins Friday.

The biggest win of the week belonged to Macon. The Tigers beat Highland 45-6 at home to improve to 5-0 on the season. Over the last two games, Macon has outscored its opponents 94-20. Kirksville also picked up its second road win in as many games to improve to 3-2. The Tigers set a new season high in points, beating Marshall 41-17.

Putnam County bounced back from its first loss of the season in week four, heading on the road to beat Princeton 40-16. The Midgets are now 4-1 on the season.

Milan faced a tough test on the road against an unbeaten Trenton team, falling to the Bulldogs 21-7. Milan is now 2-3 this season.

Scotland County also faced off against an unbeaten opponent, hosting Russellville for homecoming. Scotland County set a new season high in points, but lost to the Indians 42-13 to fall to 0-5.

Both local eight-man teams played unbeaten teams as well. Knox County lost 62-20 at home against North Shelby while Schuyler County lost on the road against Kansas City East Christian by a score of 84-26. Knox County is now 1-4 and Schuyler County is 2-3.

The matchup for the final games of September are as follows:

- Kirksville vs. Hannibal
- Knox County at Worth County
- Macon vs. Brookfield
- Milan vs. Gallatin
- Putnam County vs. North Harrison
- Schuyler County vs. Braymer
- Scotland County at Westran

NFL ends Pro Bowl; skills competitions, flag game instead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pro Bowl got a major makeover.

The NFL has eliminated its full-contact all-star game and is replacing it with weeklong skills competitions and a flag football game.

The new event will be renamed "The Pro Bowl Games" and will feature AFC and NFC players showcasing their football and non-football skills in challenges over several days.

The 2023 Games will be held in Las Vegas, and the flag football game at Allegiant Stadium is Sunday, Feb. 5. That is one week before the Super Bowl in Arizona.

"Maybe a different format could bring a little juice, a little more energy," said New Orleans Saints running back Mark Ingram, a three-time Pro Bowl participant.

Peyton Manning and his Omaha Productions company will help shape programming and promote the event's content throughout the week. Manning, a 14-time Pro Bowl pick during his Hall of Fame career, will provide his perspective and will also be a part of the coaching staff for flag game.

"The Pro Bowl is something that we've been looking at for a while, really continuing to evolve," NFL executive Peter O'Reilly told The Associated Press. "Coming out of last year's game, we really made the decision based on a lot of internal conversations, getting feedback from GMs and coaches, getting a lot of feedback from players. We think there's a real opportunity to do something wholly different here and move away from the traditional tackle football game. We decided the goal is to celebrate 88 of the biggest stars in the NFL in a really positive, fun, yet competitive way.

"The feedback very directly from guys who had been in the Pro Bowl recently was to keep the construct of the week, make sure you're having that multi-day element. It was overwhelmingly positive both from players as well as from clubs."

The Pro Bowl debuted in January 1951 in Los Angeles and stayed there for 21 seasons before the game moved to different cities from 1972-80.

Hawaii hosted from 1980-2009, and the game has had several homes in the years since, including Miami, Phoenix, Orlando and Las Vegas.

"The game was kind of silly, I guess," Saints two-time Pro Bowl offensive lineman Ryan Ramczyk said. "Guys weren't out there playing true football. Hopefully, there'll be a lot of interactions with the fans and guys will get their opportunity to go out there and show some skills. I could see that being a good change."

On the first possession of the game, Tiffin was down inside the 10-yard line after a lengthy drive and seemed poised to score a touchdown. It seemed like Truman forced a fourth down at the five-yard line, but a favorable spot gave the Dragons a first down. But the Bulldogs held strong, stopping a run for no gain before forcing consecutive incomplete passes and making Tiffin settle for a field goal.

After the Dragons scored a touchdown on their next drive, the Truman defense allowed no more for the remainder of regulation. They held Tiffin to 3-of-8 on third downs in the second half and made plays when they needed to.

Nesbitt said that the defensive unit, which has been strong all season, showed something special on Saturday.

"Well they've been rock solid, but today they showed you, me and our fans their heart," he said. "It was a tough-minded, competitive unit. Just battled all day, and it started with the first drive where we got the stop, made them kick a field goal. Just as simple as that, defending every blade of grass."

The defense was led by linebacker Isaiah Estes with 10 total tackles and defensive back Ryan Olivas with nine total tackles and an interception.

Zerwig said that the win was a result of the team's total effort in all phases of the game.

"I think we just kept on fighting the entire game," he said. "Offense, even special teams, fought the entire game. And when we needed it most we all came together and put the ball in the endzone to win it."

Truman is off next week and will return to action on Oct. 8 at home against Missouri S&T. It will be homecoming for the Bulldogs as well as the start of conference play.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

"We've got a new chef. Use lots of ketchup."

ASTROGRAPH BY EUGENIA LAST

Put excessive spending to rest this year, and focus on saving for something special. Rethink your life strategy and what's important to you, and you'll devise a plan that will encourage you to update your skills and learn something that makes you feel good about yourself and your future. Put your best foot forward and work hard.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Consider where you put your energy and the returns you get for your hard work, and you'll get a clear picture of the changes you can make to improve your life. Action will be key.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- Let situations play out. It's best not to show your emotions or give anyone ammunition to disrupt your life. Listen carefully and gather information. You'll find helpful clues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- A last-minute change someone makes will give you a reason to take note and make compensations that better suit your needs and lifestyle. Don't believe everything you hear.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- You'll get an inside view of something that will prompt you to shift how you do your job or the type of work you pursue. A change that entails a learning curve will pay off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- Revisit how you feel about your relationships. Maintaining peace will be necessary if you want to avoid emotional instability. Pay attention to money matters and shared expenses.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) -- A financial change is apparent. Do everything by the book, or you may end up owing money. Don't let an outsider represent you. Follow the rules and be transparent in everything you do.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Look at the broader scope of a situation, and you'll gain perspective on what you can do to improve things. Rethink your connections and direction, and you'll discover whom you can trust.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- Pay attention to partnerships. Don't neglect those who have an impact on your life and plans. Be accommodating and offer common-sense solutions that will buy you time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- Pull things together, do the work yourself and take the credit you deserve for your achievements. Get together with people who stimulate you mentally and encourage you to focus on self-improvement.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- A pick-me-up will be illuminating. Book a spa day or plan to engage in something that brightens your surroundings or makes your place comfortable. Romance is on the rise.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- If you look for opportunities, you will find something that interests you. Get involved in a conversation that can offer insight into the pros and cons of something you want to pursue.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- A unique relationship approach is favored. Your input will make a difference and change how someone feels about you. Take control if you want to have a say in things. Stand up and be counted.

SHOP SMALL SEASON

Shop Small Season is here. From November 26th until December 31st, spend $10 or more at participating locations, & you will receive a Shopped Small Ticket. Fill the ticket out, and drop it in their Spend $10 Box near the register. You then are entered to be a SHOP SMALL THIS FALL WINNER! It is that easy!

Let's take a look at what you could win:

Grand Prize is a Large Gift Basket made up of items donated by participating locations. Each item is worth at least $10.00 or more in value. Pretty cool, right? Second and Third Prize winners will also win smaller gift baskets of donated items and gift cards. The business name on the winning shopped small tickets will win $25.00 in Kirk$ville Ca$h.

During Shop Small Season, participating businesses will offer special deals. From discounts on items and gift cards to BOGO sales.

Are ready to save money on all of your holiday needs?

In early January, we will collect the boxes containing entries and combine all of the tickets into one big drawing. On January 6th, we will pull three shopped small tickets out that will be declared our Shopped Small Winners. If you are interested in being involved, please visit: www.kirkvillechamber.com/shop-small, or scan the QR Code.

The Cost of Starting A Business
By: Anastasia Tiedemann

How much will you need to start your business? Let's talk about it! Grab some paper and a calculator and we can do some ballpark estimates.

First, list all of the things you will need to start your business. This could include equipment, machinery, inventory, maybe a computer, printer, paper, etc. Remember subscriptions like accounting software, maybe a Point of Sale system. And don't forget – displays! If you have a retail gift boutique for example, you will need fixtures to display your items. Do some research and assign a cost to everything you will need to buy. These are the start-up costs – usually one-time costs. Sometimes you can get a loan for them, but many times startup businesses are self-funded.

Second, list all overhead or reoccurring costs in a separate list. If you do business outside of your home, you will have to factor in the costs like rent, utilities, insurance, internet, phone, etc. Maybe travel? List all of the bills that you will have to pay every month. Include charges that might be only a few times a year, like an accountant to assist with taxes, or someone to cut the lawn or shovel snow. If you are a store with inventory, you'll have to estimate how much new inventory per month you will have to purchase.

Connecting with your clients is important – don't forget advertising! Business cards, signage, flyers, or maybe a magnet on your car – what do those costs look like?

Now, take the monthly charges and multiply by 3 to 6 months. That's how much cash flow you should have on hand. Add that to your list, Did you cover everything? Is there something you need to adjust/eliminate/add?

Take a look at your totals. Shocking isn't it! Think about how much product you will have to sell to cover the monthly costs PLUS paying yourself or another employee.

The bottom line: Do the numbers work?
For assistance in mapping out all this math, feel free to reach out! I'd be happy to discuss! 660-665-3348.
