Adair County Historical Society and Museum holds annual banquet

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

The Adair County Historical Society held their annual banquet on Nov. 5 at the Truman State University Student Union. The fund-raising event had been canceled the previous three years due to the Covid pandemic.

Society President Blytha Ellis moderated the dinner program, which was themed on Dr. A.T. Still, founder of the medical school in Kirksville that bears his name. Dr. Patrick Lobert performed as Dr. A.T. Still at the banquet, in an excerpt of his much longer one-man show, “Dr. A.T. Still Tells Osteopathy’s Story.”

Ellis gave a rundown of the progress the historical society and museum have achieved in the last three years. She said that the museum had inherited the Kirksville Daily Express archives, with newspapers dating back to 1906, upon the newspaper’s sale of its longtime, historic downtown building. She said that newspapers from the 1950s, ‘60s and ‘70s were missing though. Her husband, Donald, oversaw the moving of the books to their new home and also took down the shelves the books were stored on at the Daily Express offices and rebuilt them at the museum. She invited the community to drop by the museum and explore the old newspapers.

“They’re not as easy as looking on microfilm but it’s more fun to see them,” she said.

Ellis said that through grants and donations, the museum was able to improve the infrastructure of the building, including wiring, lighting and adding a new water heater. With another grant, they were able to attain a microfilm machine that made it possible for them to use many of the reels of microfilm they have and that due to that acquisition, they have been able to post a few of Kirksville High School reunions.

She said that the museum has become the home of the Missouri National Guard, which will honor the inductees until they get a building of their own. She spoke of her and fellow historian Larry Evans’ columns that run Saturdays in the Kirksville Daily Express, Ellis writes on Adair County history from the beginning days of white settlements and Native American tragedies, while Evans’ offers a recap of Kirksville newspaper stories that ran in the past, some over 100 years ago.

Birthday Blessings to hold Thanksgiving Donor Match Campaign Nov. 15-18

By Birthday Blessings

Birthday Blessings, a nonprofit that provides resources to nearly 120 foster kids in Adair County, will be having a Thanksgiving Donor Match Campaign. The event is sponsored by Vickie Witthaus of Hannibal, who will match up to $10,500 in total donations made Nov. 15-18.

“In addition to higher operating costs due to inflation, we are also seeing an increase in requests for services,” said Shannon VonAllmen, executive director of Birthday Blessings. “This donor match event is a wonderful opportunity to double your impact in the foster community.”

The charity partners with Children’s Divisions and other agencies to support kids in care. Their programs target physical and emotional needs of the children. Meeting a child’s basic needs allows them to focus on important tasks like getting an education or improving social skills.

“We work with a very vulnerable population of kids, they typically have significant trauma to deal with,” she said. “Everything we do is designed to uplift the kids. Sometimes a gift as simple as a pillow helps them cope. People might not think giving a kid their very own pillow means much. Foster kids move a lot. Imagine living in a half dozen unfamiliar places in a year and a half. In a situation like that, a familiar pillow becomes a source of stability in an ever-changing environment.”

Donations can be made through their website at www.birthday-blessings.org or checks can be mailed to Birthday Blessings, 429 Aid Ave, West Plains MO 65775. Checks postmarked during the event or with ‘Thanksgiving Match’ written in the memo line will be counted. For more information about the organization, email through their website or call 417-372-5306.

TMN website wins fifth place in national Best of Show Awards

By Truman State University

In the Associated Collegiate Press Best of Show Awards, Truman Media Network placed fifth for Best Website among four-year universities with 15,000 or less students. “I am very grateful to our staff for creating a website that can place so highly in a large division,” said Genevieve Tlustos, Index editor-in-chief. “Many people, especially our digital director, have worked to make this website a great resource that includes all three outlets, and I’m glad that effort is being recognized.” The awards ceremony took place at the conclusion of MediaFest 22 in Washington, D.C. Two media advisers and two members each from both the Index and KTRM-FM attended the conference. “The honor of being named one of the top student media websites in the country is the result of a lot of hard work and dedication by the staff,” said Don Krause, Index and TMN website adviser. “It is always rewarding to be recognized by others for that hard work.” The conference featured training sessions on multiple aspects of student media, from legal issues to social media. In addition to the sessions, multiple journalists, including Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, spoke at the conference. TMN website can be viewed at tmn.truman.edu.

Free drive-through testing for four viruses

By Adair County Health Dept.

The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has teamed up with Dynamic DNA Laboratories to offer free testing in Kirksville for four prevalent illnesses. With a single nasal swab, people throughout northeast Missouri can be tested for Influenza A, Influenza B, Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV), and Covid-19.

The testing will be performed at a drive-through event Friday, Nov. 11, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the Truman State University campus. Those tested will receive results by email or phone the next day.

“The symptoms particularly of the flu and Covid-19 are extremely similar, and the symptoms of RSV are like the common cold” said Jim LeBaron, Adair County Health Department administrator. “Community testing opportunities like this help us understand how prevalent these viral infections are right now. Plus, the quick turnaround for results helps those who test positive for any of the four viruses to take precautions right away to avoid spreading it to others.”

The elderly are at greatest risk of experiencing severe and life-threatening symptoms of all four viral infections. Children under the age of one are at high risk of severe or life-threatening symptoms if infected with RSV. There are vaccines to protect against Influenza A and B and Covid-19. No vaccines have been approved to date for use against RSV, although some are in clinical trials.

“If you are suffering any cold or flu-like symptoms or you think you might have been exposed to the flu, RSV, or Covid-19, getting tested is a good idea,” LeBaron said. “But even if you aren’t, you should take advantage of this opportunity to be tested. It greatly helps in the disease surveillance efforts of DHSS and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.”

Pre-registration for Friday’s drive-through testing is not required. However, it is recommended. To pre-register online, visit dynd.gettested.me. Click on “Schedule Test” and select the Kirksville site.

To enter the vehicle line for the test, drive west on Patterson Street and turn north on First Street. Then, turn right on Randolph Street and follow the signs.

HISTORY OF JEFFERSON HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION SHARED AT KIRKSVILLE ROTARY CLUB MEETING

At the Nov. 2 Rotary Club of Kirksville meeting, District 6000 (Iowa) Past District Governor Loring Miller, pictured with President Marie Murphree, spoke about the historic Jefferson Highway. In 1915, the Jefferson Highway Association was organized to promote its development. The highway ran from Winnipeg to New Orleans covering over 2,300 miles and going through seven states located in the territory of the Louisiana Purchase. Miller is on the Jefferson Highway Association Board of Directors promoting the highways influence to early transportation history. The state of Missouri was a significant contributor to Jefferson development and it is the only state on the original route that has two separate roadbeds. The Association will work with local communities and businesses to promote the highway as a tourism destination by installing historic route signs. KIRKSVILLE ROTARY CLUB

New SBA program to provide a path forward for Veteran Small Business Certification Program

By U.S. Small Business Administration

WASHINGTON – During National Veterans Small Business Week (NVSBW), Administrator Isabella Casillas Guzman, head of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) announced consequential updates to the planned launch of SBA's new Veteran Small Business Certification Program—including her intention to grant a one-year extension to firms verified by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA)'s Vets First Verification Program through the Center for Verification and Evaluation (CVE) as of the Jan. 1, 2023 transfer date.

“As we celebrate National Veterans Small Business Week, I am proud that the SBA is designing its new Veteran Small Business Certification Program to be the gold standard in customer experience and support to ensure we grow our base of veteran federal contractors,” said Guzman. “Adding this certification to SBA's portfolio of capital, bonding, and contracting programs will enable us to better serve our veteran entrepreneurs and help them grow their businesses through federal procurement opportunities.”

Scheduled to officially begin operations and accept new applications in January 2023, the Veteran Small Business Certification Program will be the Agency's primary vehicle for handling certification for veteran-owned small businesses (VOSBs) and service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses (SDVOSBs)—important classifications that enable those businesses to qualify for sole-source and set-aside federal contracting awards.

Guzman also shared much-anticipated news that she intends to grant a one-time, one-year extension to current veteran-owned small businesses verified by the VA's Center for Verification and Evaluation (CVE) as of the transfer date on Jan. 1, 2023.

On that one-year extension, Guzman added, “Our team is committed to supporting a smooth and seamless transition for our veteran customers and will be providing a one-time, one-year certification extension for VA certified veteran-owned firms, making it as easy as we can for them to continue their entrepreneurial journey.”

“The decision to extend the certification will make a real difference for our nation's veteran business owners as we move forward with transitioning this certification from the Department of Veterans Affairs,” said Larry Stubblefield, Associate Administrator for the SBA's Office of Veterans Business Development. “In addition to supporting a smooth transition for currently certified firms, we will be able to focus on certifying new entrants and growing our base of certified firms.”

“We have been working closely with the SBA for a long time supporting the transfer of this certification program to the SBA and are glad to see it come to fruition,” said Chairman Jay Bowen, Veterans Employment and Education Commission at the American Legion. “We know that the veteran community will be well-served by this move and that the SBA will make the transition from the VA as smooth as possible. The announcement of the one-year extension for both veteran and service-disabled veteran small business owners further demonstrates the SBA's dedication to helping the veteran small business community succeed and thrive.”

“NVSBC is pleased to see veteran certification moving to the SBA and being applied across all the federal government agencies,” said Scott Jensen, Executive Director at the National Veteran Small Business Coalition (NVSBC). We applaud the SBA's leadership in driving a process focused on success and supporting veteran-owned businesses and are excited to see the implementation. We also applaud for firms verified by VA as of Jan. 1, 2023.

Updates in the new program will include:

- Firms verified by the VA Center for Verification and Evaluation (CVE) as of January 1, 2023 will be automatically granted certification by SBA for the remainder of the firm's eligibility period.
- All firms verified by VA as of the Jan. 1, 2023 transfer date will receive a one-year extension to their eligibility giving veterans an extra year to get re-certified under the new SBA system.

The extension will allow SBA to process applications from new entrants into the program and grow the base of certified firms.

New applicants certified by SBA after Jan. 1, 2023, will receive the standard three-year certification period.

Along with the recertification extension, the 2021 National Defense Authorization Act grants a one-year grace period for self-certified SDVOSBs until January 1, 2024.

During the grace period, businesses have one year to file an application for SDVOSB certification and may continue to rely on their self-certification to compete for non-VA SDVOSB set-asides.

Self-certified SDVOSBs that apply before the expiration of the one-year grace period will maintain eligibility until the SBA makes a final eligibility decision.

Beginning Jan. 1, 2024, both veteran and service-disabled veteran small business owners will need to be certified to compete for federal contracting set-asides, unless an application from a self-certified firm is pending an SBA decision.

For the latest information on the Veteran Small Business Certification program, visit www.sba.gov/federal-contracting/contracting-assistance-programs/veteran-assistance-programs or email cvttransfer@sba.gov.

She was especially animated when talking about the Historical Society and Museum's magazine, The Adair Historian, which she said was the organizations “biggest success.”

“Although they're quite expensive to produce and to mail, they brought us revenue in the form of lots of new members,” she said, noting that at last count, the museum has 572 patrons that they mail to all over the United States. “And over the past three years our magazine has taken us on quite a ride — hopefully you were on board.”

Ellis recounted many of the stories the quarterly magazine has published since January of 2020, talking of people and places and the stable of writers the organization has attracted. Afterward, she recognized the board members and volunteers who have advanced the agenda of the historical society and museum.

Board members for next year include Mary Kay Crnic, vice-president, Claire Lloyd, secretary, Denise Treasure, treasurer, Pam Sylvara, biographer, Linda Boultinghouse, proofreader, Linda Hudnall, writer, Larry Evans, writer, and Debi Boughton, writer. Ellis will remain on as president.

Long Covid in workers could be a challenge for Missouri employers

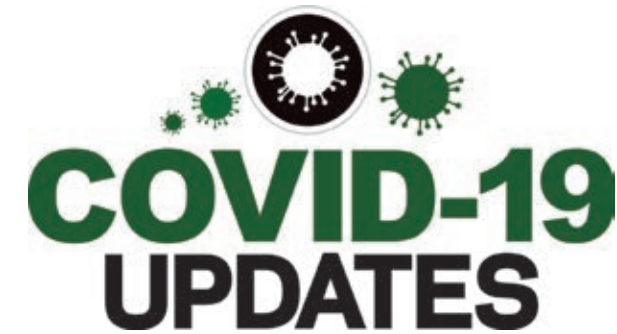

By University of Missouri Extension

COLUMBIA — Missourians report higher rates of disability and long Covid than the U.S. average, according to a study brief by University of Missouri Extension. Long Covid — ongoing health problems that last months or more following infection with the Covid-19 virus — could be keeping two million to four million U.S. workers out of the workforce. The brief, “Covid-19 and Paid Leave,” is available for download at the University of Missouri Extension website. The share of U.S. workers who have a disability grew 19 percent in the past two years. Lingering effects of Covid-19 infections could be contributing to this increase, said the brief. According to data from the U.S. Census Bureau’s most recent Current Population Survey, the percentage of Missourians reporting difficulty remembering or making decisions — “brain fog” — is up 15 percent from pre-pandemic levels and is three percentage points higher than the U.S. average. Of Missourians who previously had Covid, 37.4 percent reported symptoms lasting three months or longer, compared with 33.2 percent of all Americans. “These findings suggest that the impact of Covid-19 on Missouri’s workforce will continue to be felt for quite some time,” said Luke Dietterle, MU Extension specialist for Exceed — Regional Economic and Entrepreneurial Development (extension.missouri.edu/exceed).

As long Covid cases continue to rise, employer-provided paid leave programs can reduce the related economic burden, said the report. Of working Missourians, 7.5 percent need paid sick leave and 5.9 percent need paid family leave. Dietterle said these are workers who need leave and lack access to paid leave through their employers. Employees younger than 30 and those who work for firms with fewer than 50 employees tend to have a greater need for paid sick leave and paid family leave. Occupations with the highest need for paid sick leave include service occupations (14 percent); production (9 percent); installation, maintenance and repair (8%); and sales (8 percent). “This paid leave report highlights the impact that seasonal infectious diseases, beyond Covid, can have on both Missouri’s workforce and businesses through absenteeism and ‘presenteeism’ — that is, showing up to work while sick,” said MU associate extension professor Adrienne Ohler, who co-authored the brief with Dietterle. “Covid-19 and Paid Leave” is part of Exceed’s Missouri Economy Indicators series.

Adair County Covid cases continue downward trend

By Adair County Health Department

The number of Covid-19 cases reported to the Adair County Health Department during the seven-day period, Oct. 25-31, fell for the second week, from 27 to 24. Although the decrease is not as great as the 10-case decline for the prior period, the trend is moving in the right direction.

The Adair County Health Department continues to administer Covid-19 vaccines and boosters for residents ages 12 and older. Clinic dates are November 8, 15 and 29, from 2-4 p.m. To schedule a Covid-19 vaccine, call the Health Department at 660-665-8491. Parents of residents under age 12 should contact their child’s doctor or pharmacy about vaccines.

Virtual program offers help for caregivers to ‘Find Joy in the Holidays’

By Alzheimer’s Association’s Greater Missouri

ST. LOUIS — The holidays evoke memories of childhood and traditions, but what happens to those seasonal celebrations when the person who helped build those memories can no longer participate the way they used to? The Alzheimer’s Association’s Greater Missouri Chapter is offering a virtual program for caregivers on “Finding Joy in the Holidays.” The free programs will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10 and again at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 12. Individuals can register by visiting www.alz.org/greatermojoy. The program includes strategies on modifying holiday celebrations, making new holiday traditions, supporting the caregiver, improving communication, responding to new behaviors, and taking Covid into planning considerations. Alzheimer’s Association Community Program Manager Jeremy Koerber said that for families living with Alzheimer’s and other dementias, the holidays can be bittersweet and challenging. Caregivers can be overwhelmed trying to maintain holiday traditions while providing care and gatherings can become stressful and uncomfortable, he said. “With planning and adjusted expectations, seasonal celebrations can still be happy and meaningful,” Koerber said. There may have been a lot of changes in the person since friends and family saw them last, Koerber said, so the most important thing for caregivers is that they communicate before the holidays about what the family can expect. Those who are traveling and visiting relatives who are caregivers can help ease the burden by offering to run errands, sit with the relative, or just have a conversation with the caregiver and offer support. “Caregiving can be an isolating experience, and that isolation is magnified during the holidays,” Koerber said. “Offering support can be as simple as asking questions and letting that person know that they are being heard.” When it comes to the person with dementia, avoid decorations that can be disorientating, such as blinking lights, and be mindful of safety issues such as cords in walking paths. Holidays can be a great time to bring out old photo albums and use them in conversations. Use the photos to spark conversations around “we used to,” rather than “do you remember,” which can confuse or agitate someone who can’t remember, Koerber said. Caregivers needing immediate support can call the Alzheimer’s Association 24/7 Helpline at 1-800-272-3900.

Old-fashioned custom is still the best way to say 'thanks!'

DEAR ABBY: I was taught to write handwritten thank-you notes when I received a gift. Over the last few years, my gifts have been acknowledged with a brief text, Facebook post, a photo or not at all. I enjoy giving gifts, but the lack of response I receive from today's younger folks leaves me feeling frustrated and dismissed. Must I adapt my expectations to a new normal in etiquette? -- MANNERLY MISTER IN TENNESSEE

DEAR MANNERLY MISTER: The topic of thank-you notes is one of the most common complaints I get from readers. While there's no excuse for not acknowledging a gift, you may be judging those writers harshly. Although handwritten thank-you notes are the "gold standard," many folks today opt to take a shortcut by using technology that didn't exist before the quill and inkwell.

While texts may seem cold or terse, they are better than no acknowledgment at all. A common misapprehension is that thank-you notes must be long or flowery. In fact, short and to the point is more effective. Many people don't send thank-you notes because they don't know what to say or are afraid they'll say the wrong thing. I advise readers to keep a notebook handy when they open gifts and jot down the first words that come to mind when they see what's inside. Do they like the color? The style? Is it something they have been wanting? Write it down and use it for inspiration!

JEANNE PHILLIPS

My booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions" contains samples of thank-you letters for birthday gifts, shower gifts, wedding gifts and those that arrive at holiday time. It also contains sample letters of congratulations, as well as ones of difficult subjects such as the loss of a parent, spouse or a child.

It can be ordered by sending your name and mailing address plus a check or money order for $8 (U.S. funds), to: Dear Abby Letters Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. Shipping and handling are included in the price.

With the holiday season just around the corner, this is the perfect time to reply with a handwritten letter, or a well-written email. Because letter composition is not always taught in the schools, my booklet can serve as a helpful tutorial -- not only a valuable tool for parents to use in teaching their children to write using proper etiquette, but also a handy guide for anyone who puts off writing because they don't know what to say.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Contact Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD...

The Entrepreneurial Spirit

Michael Sherwood and his son, Kyle, of Cleveland come from a long line of morticians. So a few years back, when a friend wondered how he might have his tattoos preserved after he passes away, the two came up with an idea, Oddity Central reported. They figured out a method for removing and preserving tattoos, then started a business called Save My Ink Forever. "Some of these things really are pieces of art," Kyle said. "Instead of having just the remains or the burial ... (families) have actually a piece of their loved one." The Sherwoods say their technique is proprietary, but it takes roughly three or four months. Families are left with a parchmentlike piece of art. "We are trying to do this in the most dignified manner possible," Kyle added.

Dastardly Deed

Jerome Ellis, a Dollar General employee in DeLand, Florida, allegedly got into an argument with a co-worker on Oct. 24, which prompted him to a retaliatory move that could have been deadly, Fox35-TV reported. On Oct. 25, the victim set down a can of Pepsi and went to the restroom. When he returned, he took a drink of the soda and noticed it tasted like cleaning supplies. Sure enough, video surveillance cameras revealed that Ellis had poured bleach into the Pepsi can, wiped it off, then spit in it. Cameras also caught Ellis trying to unplug the surveillance system. He told investigators that he put cleaning solution in the drink to get back at the co-worker, who he said was difficult to work with.

Inexplicable

A female lion at the Topeka Zoo in Kansas has grown a mane, The Topeka Capitol-Journal reported on Oct. 23. Zuri, 18, who lost her mate, Avus, in 2020, started producing more testosterone after his death, which has resulted in the butch look. "It's nothing like the mane you would see on a fully sexually mature male lion," said Zuri's curator, Shanna Simpson. "She looks like a teenaged male lion." Zookeepers said along with the mane, Zuri has become more feisty -- growling, snarling and roaring more than before. "She feels like she needs to protect her pride, so her testosterone increases," Simpson said.

Truman blows out McKendree 52-7 for 8th-straight win

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

The Truman State football team kept its winning streak alive in dominating fashion against McKendree, running for 423 yards and shutting down one of the nation's top offenses en route to a 52-7 win on Saturday at Stokes Stadium.

The Bulldogs have now won eight games in a row, their longest winning streak in nearly three decades, and improved to 8-1 on the season and 5-0 in conference play, setting up a huge road game next week against Indianapolis, the winner of which will take the GLVC title. Indianapolis moved to 8-1 and 5-0 in conference play with a commanding 48-14 win over William Jewell.

Truman moved up a spot in the AFCA Coaches Poll with the win and are now ranks 20th in the nation. Indianapolis currently holds the No. 15 spot.

Truman grabbed the lead early, jumping ahead 24-0 in the first quarter and increasing the lead to 45-0 by halftime. The Bulldogs led 52-0 into the final minute of the game, before McKendree's usually high-scoring offense finally got into the end zone with just 30 seconds remaining.

Truman head coach Gregg Nesbitt said the team was able to execute in all three phases starting right away, and that readiness translated to quick success.

"I thought all three phases really did a good job of getting themselves prepared, and that was evident early on," he said. "Offensively we took care of business with our offensive line, our run game, controlling the clock. But I thought as balanced as the team effort was today, our defense today was really, really good. They were outstanding against a very, very good offense."

McKendree entered the game averaging nearly 40 points per game this season while quarterback Turner Pullen led the nation with 3,063 passing yards and an average of 340.3 passing yards per game.

Pullen had just 16 passing yards prior to the Bearcats' final drive of the first half, which began with 1:30 to go in the second quarter and saw Pullen throw for 44 more yards. The drive ultimately ended with a missed field goal as time expired.

Truman defensive backs Ben Watson (2) and Ryan Olivas bring down a McKendree ballcarrier in the game on Nov. 5.

Truman defensive end Blake Weakley (57) celebrates after sacking McKendree quarterback Turner Pullen (15) in the game Nov. 5.

Pullen was limited to just 192 passing yards in the game, nearly 100 yards behind his previous low on the season and his lowest yardage output since Oct. 9 of last year. He also threw a touchdown and was intercepted twice, which was a season high. McKendree only had 32 rushing yards in the game.

Gusting winds throughout the game and early rain likely put a dent in McKendree's normally deadly passing game, but Nesbitt said that Truman's defense, which was the top ranked unit in the conference coming into the game, continued to play at a very high level.

Putnam County, Schuyler County stay alive in district football tournaments

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

Only the Putnam County and Schuyler County football teams are still alive after the second round of district tournaments on Friday with both looking to continue successful seasons after struggling the last several years. The other five area teams have been eliminated in the last two weeks including four on Friday.

Putnam County kept its resurgent season alive with a 26-0 win over Milan in the Class 1 District 7 semifinals. This was the only local matchup of the week.

The Midgets moved to 9-2 on the season with the win while Milan ended the season at 6-5. Milan had won its last four games coming into the semifinals, including a thrilling 22-20 win in double overtime against Maysville in the quarterfinals.

Putnam County quarterback Trace Riediger scrambles in the game against King City on Sept. 16.

Putnam County has won its first two games in the district tournament by a combined score of 70-14 and has now won four games in a row.

The Midgets are now looking for payback in the district finals against the top-seeded Gallatin Bulldogs, who beat Putnam County 35-20 on Oct. 7. Gallatin is 10-0 so far this season and beat Brookfield 42-6 in the semifinals after receiving a bye for the first round.

Rams' third season at that level, but they are now 5-5 after winning just one game total their first two years.

They beat Santa Fe 44-24 after receiving a bye in the first round. Schuyler County has now won three games in a row by a combined score of 170-32. They will now face the top seed St. Paul Lutheran, who are coming off a 13-0 forfeit win over Knox County.

Knox County's season ends with a record of 3-8. The Eagles had beaten Northwest 48-6 in the opening round to snap a short two-game winning streak.

Kirksville was among the other three teams to see its season come to an end on Friday. The Tigers traveled to the capital to play Jefferson City, losing to the second-seeded Jays 43-21. The Tigers had won the opening game of the tournament 59-0 over Winfield. Jefferson City had won two in a row to close out the regular season and will face top seed Hannibal in the championship.

Macon saw its strong season come to an end in the semifinals as well. The Tigers played Richmond in a matchup of 9-1 teams but ultimately came up short, losing 18-6. Macon was the three seed while Richmond was seeded second. Macon ends with its most wins in a season since 2016.

The schedule for Friday is as follows:

Putnam County at Gallatin, 7 p.m.

Schuyler County at St. Paul Lutheran, 7 p.m.

Mahomes helps Chiefs rally past Titans 20-17 in overtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Patrick Mahomes was probably having flashbacks Sunday night to his days at Texas Tech, when he would scramble around like a kid playing sandlot football while routinely throwing the ball 60-plus times in a game.

The Chiefs needed all of it — every run, every throw, every yard — to rally past the Tennessee Titans.

Mahomes finished 43 of 68 for 446 yards and a touchdown, and he ran for the tying score and 2-point conversion late in the fourth quarter, before Harrison Butker atoned for two earlier misses by drilling the go-ahead field goal in overtime and lifting the Chiefs to the 20-17 victory.

“I did not know I threw that many,” Mahomes said with a smile, “but yeah, Texas Tech, I threw a couple, so I’m able to do it.”

Chiefs coach Andy Reid improved to 21-3 coming off a bye by beating a franchise that has long been his nemesis. He was just 2-9 against the Titans — heck, Reid has three wins against the Chiefs — including a 27-3 loss in Nashville last year.

It was only the second win for Kansas City (6-2) in its last seven games against the Titans.

“You have to be able to win a game like that,” Reid said, “where everything isn’t just perfect, and your emotions are up and down and you have to fight through. We were so close on so many plays. Step up and let’s go.”

Things were spiraling toward another disappointment the way Derrick Henry was chewing up yardage against the Kansas City defense, and the way the Titans (5-3) were shutting down Mahomes and Co. into the fourth quarter.

Indeed, the Chiefs were trailing 17-9 and time was running out when they took over at their own 7-yard line. But in vintage Mahomes fashion, he willed his team downfield. His 20-yard scramble on third-and-17 kept the drive going, and his third-and-9 touchdown scramble along with his 2-point conversion run knotted the game with 2:56 to go.

After the Chiefs won the overtime coin toss, the Titans nearly stopped them, only for Noah Gray to make a nifty third-down catch. Then, Mahomes hit JuJu Smith-Schuster on fourth down to keep the drive alive — and the clock moving.

Butker drilled his 28-yarder to give Kansas City the lead with 4:04 left in overtime.

The Chiefs proceeded to stuff Henry, then sacked Titans rookie Malik Willis on back-to-back plays, before batting down his fourth-down throw to end the game and send fireworks flying into the sky above Arrowhead Stadium.

“When you get to those end of the game situations,” Mahomes said, “you have to try to go out there and make it happen.”

Henry finished with 115 yards rushing and two touchdowns for the Titans. But he didn’t get a whole lot of help from Willis, who got his second start in place of the injured Ryan Tannehill, and was just 5 of 16 for 80 yards.

“I’m very disappointed. I feel terrible for the players,” Titans coach Mike Vrabel said. “They compete, and put so much into this, and play through pain and discomfort and any situation. I’m lucky to coach them. They fight.”

The Chiefs figured the best way to shut down Henry, who had run for 219 yards and two touchdowns last week against Houston, was to keep him off the field. They opened the game with a 15-play march that took up 8 1/2 minutes and ended in a field goal, then forced a punt and went 79 yards with Mahomes finding Hardman for the touchdown.

All told, the Chiefs held the ball nearly 13 of the 15 minutes in the first quarter.

The Titans finally got going in the second, and it was Willis using his legs to get Kansas City off balance. The fleet-footed rookie twice scrambled for good yardage before Henry turned a direct snap into a 4-yard TD run.

After forcing a punt, Henry went to work again. He slipped through the line untouched and was finally dragged down 56 yards later. Then, the 247-pound running back pounded into the end zone to give the Titans a 14-9 lead.

It was Henry’s 74th career touchdown run, moving him past Earl Campbell for the most in franchise history.

The Chiefs, meanwhile, were incapable of running the ball.

And with the Titans no longer worried about stopping the rush, they began to relentlessly pressure Mahomes. Denico Auriy’s first sack forced a punt, then his second on third-and-1 near midfield prevented Kansas City from getting points just before halftime.

The Titans eventually extended the lead when Mahomes was picked off by rookie Roger McCreary, setting up Randy Bullock’s 44-yard field goal. But their own offense started to fizzle, and despite Butker’s missed field goal — he also missed an earlier extra point — the Chiefs managed to get the late touchdown they needed to force overtime.

“It was a struggle,” Reid said. “We were up and down and the guys hung together.”

TRUMAN

“I thought our guys understood the plan,” he said. “Our defense has been pretty good for, not just this year, but for several years. They’ve got their own culture and their own pride, so they were perhaps tired of hearing about McKendree’s offense and very anxious to see what McKendree could do against the Truman defense.”

The Bulldogs were led by linebacker Isaiah Estes on defense, whose seven total tackles and 2.5 tackles for loss both led the team. He also had an interception and was named GLVC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts. The other interception for Truman went to Zach Jacobson, who was playing for the first time this season.

The running game for Truman has been steadily improving throughout the season and after Saturday’s explosive performance are now averaging 197.1 rushing yards per game. That average has been an incredible 282 yards per game over the last four games.

Shamar Griffith once again led the team in rushing with 165 yards and three touchdowns. He opened the scoring with a 67-yard run on the first play from scrimmage for Truman and also had touchdown runs of 37 yards and two yards. All three scores came in the first half.

Quarterback Collin Sutton continued to be productive running wildcat plays, running for a season-high 84 yards including a 36 yard touchdown. Freshman Denim Cook added 75 yards on 12 carries while starting quarterback Nolan Hair ran for 27 yards and a touchdown.

Mason Huskey carried the ball four times for 30 yards and Tim Johnson Jr. had two carries for 27 yards and a touchdown.

Nesbitt said that the running game’s success has been a result of the continued improvement of the offensive line, as well as having more players contribute on the ground.

“The offensive line has really continued to gel, and it’s really the running backs getting used to the linemen,” he said. “Settling on Denim Cook as a number two guy has been big. I think our two quarterback system, I think (Sutton) has really affected the run game coming in, and it’s much more than being able to run it. He can play quarterback. He’s been a big piece of it as well. A lot of good moving parts and they have gotten better over the last four, five, six weeks.”

Hair only had to throw eight times in the game, completing five of those passes for 44 yards, a touchdown and an interception. Backup quarterback Chad Briden entered the game late and completed his lone pass attempt for nine yards.

Matt Hall had a majority of the teams receiving yards with 35 on three catches, including a touchdown.

Truman tight end Matt Hall (10) runs ahead of receiver Tate Crane against McKendree on Nov. 5.

Truman quarterback Nolan Hair prepares to release a throw on the run against McKendree on Nov. 5.

Truman running back Denim Cook runs toward the sideline against McKendree on Nov. 5.

Heading into this week’s big showdown with Indianapolis, Nesbitt said that the team is working on preparing for what will certainly be a tough game.

“Right now we’re just getting our bodies back on a short week and going and having a really good week of preparation and getting ready to play a really good football team,” he said.

Truman is 1-8 all-time against Indianapolis and has lost the last five matchups. The game is scheduled to kick off at 2 p.m. Eastern from Key Stadium.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- A friendly approach will help you get ahead. Mixing business with pleasure will allow you to build a solid reputation and connect with people who have something to contribute.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Note the changes occurring around you. Help those who cannot help themselves. Don't let your responsibilities slip, and don't put up with those more interested in overindulgence than in doing what's right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Refuse to let a relationship stand between you and your goals. Pay attention to your work and what superiors expect of you. Hone your skills. Self-improvement is favored.
