Robotic assisted surgery now available at Northeast Regional Medical Center

By Northeast Regional Medical Center

Northeast Regional Medical Center is taking minimally invasive surgery to the next level with the addition of new robotic equipment. Minimally invasive techniques are advanced through the use of robotic assisted equipment, allowing surgeons to perform more complex procedures.

The new equipment features a magnified 3D high-definition vision system and tiny wristed instruments that bend and rotate far greater than the human hand. The robotic assisted technology allows surgeons to operate using the tiniest incisions — with greater vision, precision and control.

“We are excited to offer this technology to Kirksville and the surrounding communities,” NRMC Interim Chief Executive Officer Dwayne Blaylock said. “With the new robot, surgeons trained in this surgical instrumentation are now able to provide a number of minimally invasive surgical procedures vs. a traditional laparoscopic surgical approach.”

Dr. Steven Lyons, general surgeon at NRMC, is trained in this highly specialized surgical robotics approach.

“Robotic surgery can offer a faster recovery for patients as opposed to traditional open or laparoscopic surgery,” Dr. Lyons said. “It is our goal to provide safe and compassionate care. Patients typically experience a shorter recuperation period with less intense pain and many can usually return to their normal routine in a shorter period of time. In some instances we are actually able to have better visualization to perform safe surgery and it allows us to do some parts of surgeries more effectively.”

While not all patients are good candidates for robotic surgery, those that are good candidates are given the option of utilizing this advanced technology vs. a more traditional surgical approach. Examples of surgical procedures that have benefitted from robotic surgery include, but are not limited to: Inguinal hernia, Ventral hernia, Umbilical hernia, Incisional hernia, Hiatal hernia repair, urologic (prostate) surgery, general laparoscopic surgery, gynecologic surgery such as hysterectomies and ovary removal for benign conditions, certain thoracic procedures, gallbladder removal and early stage (T1 or T2) cancers.

By Adam Tumino

The 9th Annual Kirksville Area Chamber of Commerce Art Walk was held around the downtown Courthouse Square on Friday, June 2. The walk showcased artists of all persuasions, including painters, craftsmen and musicians.

Attendees walked throughout downtown, mingled with artists, listened to several different musical performances and browsed in local businesses during the event. At total of 25 businesses and more than 30 artists took part.

Some rain at the start of the event caused some changes, but attendees and artists still populated the Art Walk and led into the first Summer in the Square concert of the year, performed by the band Deadwood. The group Pumpdown from Ellston, Iowa, will perform at the next concert on June 9.

MSHP completes 2023 annual school bus inspections

By Missouri State Highway Patrol

Colonel Eric T. Olson, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, announces the results of the Driver and Vehicle Safety Division's 2023 annual school bus inspection program.

Missouri's 2023 school bus inspection results are as follows:

School buses rated as “approved” upon initial inspection — 9,995

School buses rated as “defective” upon initial inspection — 1,088

School buses rated as “out-of-service” upon initial inspection — 381

Buses with identified defective components require repair within 10 days. Buses placed out-of-service require correction of the component(s), and reinspection and a return to service by Patrol personnel prior to further usage in transporting passengers.

A total of 256 Missouri school districts earned the Patrol's Total Fleet Excellence award for 2023. During the 2023-2024 school year, 4,769 buses in these award-winning fleets are eligible to display the Patrol's Total Fleet Excellence sticker in the lower corner of the first window on the passenger entry side of the bus.

“Everyone wants to keep our children safe as they travel to and from school. To that end, the Missouri State Highway Patrol personnel, in partnership with pupil transportation professionals statewide, inspected 11,464 school buses in accordance with Missouri revised state statutes,” said Colonel Olson.

Missouri school bus inspection results are a matter of public record. Individual school district results for 2023 are available at <https://apps.mshp.dps.mo.gov/MSHPWeb/PatrolDivisions/DVSD/MVI/documents/2023AnnualSchoolBusInspectionResults.pdf>.

Celebrate Women's Health Care Month

By Northeast Regional Medical Center

May is a great month to celebrate women. While powerful and compassionate, we sometimes forget to make time for ourselves or think of ourselves last. So, commit to taking better care of yourself this month—including your mental and physical health. Not only do you deserve it, but the unfortunate reality is that there are conditions women are at higher risk of developing, such as:

Alzheimer's. Of the six million people in the United States with Alzheimer's, four million are women. While researchers aren't sure why there's such a disparity, it's believed that more women suffer from the disease because they tend to live longer than men. And as we all know, Alzheimer's is usually associated with aging.

Anxiety. Women are twice as likely as men to be diagnosed with general anxiety, panic, obsessive-compulsive and post-traumatic stress disorders. It is believed that differences in women's brain chemistry and hormones can cause these issues, especially during times of flux, such as pregnancy and menopause.

Autoimmune diseases. Of those battling conditions like lupus, multiple sclerosis, thyroid disease, rheumatoid arthritis and psoriasis, 80 percent are women. In fact, autoimmune diseases are one of the leading causes of death and disability in women ages 65 and younger. Though autoimmune diseases tend to run in families, women are thought to be more susceptible due to higher fluctuating hormone levels.

Migraines. Experts believe that electrical activity starts in the brain's vision center, explaining why nearly 30 percent of migraine sufferers experience "auras" (e.g., jagged lines, sparkling lights, blind spots). Though migraines are hereditary and can be triggered by one's environment, such as sounds, light, smells and food allergies, women are three times more likely than men to develop these headaches due to estrogen fluctuations during menstruation, pregnancy, menopause and after giving birth.

Stroke. The CDC reports that strokes are the fifth leading cause of death for women, and one in five American women between 55 and 75 will have a stroke. Since stroke risk increases with age, and women typically live longer than men, more women have strokes in their lifetimes. Women also are at higher risk due to having high blood pressure during pregnancy, taking birth control medicines, smoking and having higher rates of depression.

So, what can you do to prevent these conditions? Though they don't seem to have a lot of commonalities, you can decrease your risk for developing these problems with the same approaches:

- Eat a balanced diet rich in fruits, veggies, whole grains, lean protein and healthy fats.
- Get at least 7 to 8 hours of sleep per night.
- Manage your stress, as it contributes to disease.
- Monitor your blood pressure and cholesterol levels.
- Quit smoking and reduce alcohol consumption.
- Regularly see your doctor for check-ups.
- Exercise your body and mind regularly.

So, go on, superwoman. Get your good health on.

MU Career Accelerator: New paths to build employee skills, workforce participation

By University of Missouri Extension

COLUMBIA — Missouri needs more workforce training opportunities to be competitive in attracting and retaining employees and growing economic investment, say state and educational leaders.

To help meet this need, the University of Missouri Career Accelerator provides noncredit offerings, including industry-driven online bootcamps, certifications and customized workforce trainings. A partnership between the MU Office of the Provost and MU Extension, the Career Accelerator was officially introduced at a May 18 event in Columbia.

The Career Accelerator was developed with support from a Missouri Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development MoExcels grant, said Sarah Traub, MU interim associate vice chancellor for extension and engagement.

“As the half-life of knowledge continues to shrink, we must stand ready to help our citizens and serve the workforce needs of our state,” said MU Provost Latha Ramchand. “The Career Accelerator is a bold new initiative that was developed thanks to support from the governor’s office via a MoExcels grant.”

Missouri’s labor force growth lags that of many surrounding states and the U.S. as a whole. The MU Career Accelerator aims to grow workforce participation and educational attainment to help the state attract and retain business, says Rob Russell, MU Extension business and community senior program director. MICHAEL HICKS

The initiative is an outgrowth of MU’s participation in the Adult Learner Network, a consortium of private and public educational partners convened to address the state’s workforce development needs, and specifically to meet two goals by 2030:

- Increase the percentage of the state labor force having some kind of degree or certificate from its current 50.5 percent to 60 percent, with an additional focus on increasing educational attainment for Black, Hispanic and rural workers.

- Increase labor force participation from 63 percent to 70 percent, with an additional equity focus.

Missouri’s workforce has grown at an average rate of 0.69 percent over the last 15 years—slower than the U.S. average and that of several surrounding states, said Rob Russell, MU Extension business and community senior program director. “How do we get more people, and more people of prime working age, into the labor force, and how do we train our current workforce in new needed skills?”

According to Mark Bauer, special assistant with the Missouri Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development, the Career Accelerator does this by aligning worker skill sets with business practices, “making the MU Career Accelerator an important partner in supporting Missouri’s economy. The Missouri Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development is a committed partner towards these efforts.”

Riley Burke, workforce development associate with EquipmentShare, tests out a virtual reality recruitment game, developed by Mizzou Engineering faculty, at the May 18 MU Career Accelerator kickoff. MICHAEL HICKS

The Accelerator’s current offerings grew out of a needs assessment of central Missouri industries and businesses. An advisory board of business and industry leaders will meet quarterly to make sure courses and resources are responsive to the changing needs of employers and adult learners, said Sarah Rielley, senior coordinator for the MU Extension business and community program.

“Our people strategy is to align our people and culture with our long-term growth strategy,” said advisory board member Arturo Del Rio, vice president of human resources and chief people officer for American

Outdoor Brands. “A key component of this alignment is workforce success. This partnership with the Career Accelerator provides knowledge and experience in building the right programs to accelerate talent readiness within American Outdoor brands.”

Self-paced online courses offer paths to noncredit certification in construction management, supply chain management and clinical engineering areas based on regional workforce needs. Shorter “bootcamps” include coding, digital technology and supervisory certification, Rielley said. Accelerator faculty and staff also work with individual businesses to design customized training and workforce development opportunities.

The online hub also provides a connection to MU’s noncredit continuing education offerings through Continuing Education for Health Professions, the Law Enforcement Training Institute, Fire and Rescue Training Institute, Veterinary Extension and the Missouri Training Institute.

The MU Career Accelerator is one initiative to emerge from the UM System Extension and Engagement Week 2020 focus on workforce development.

How to navigate a remote interview

By Special to The Express

Not so long ago, job interviews were conducted almost exclusively in person. Hiring managers were able to assess candidates during these interviews, getting an idea about everything from the applicant’s skill set to how he or she affected the energy in the room to body language and the confidence of a handshake.

Today a growing number of interviews are virtual. Many are conducted via popular video conferencing apps like Zoom. In a recent survey of talent leaders and recruiters conducted by the tech firm Talview, 80 percent of respondents said their hiring process is now fully remote. There are many advantages to remote/virtual interviews. They tend to be more convenient for screening applicants for remote positions because the applicant pool may be coming from anywhere around the world. Remote interviews also can be less time-consuming.

As useful as they can be, remote interviews are not foolproof. Technical snarls or uncooperative conditions at home can affect remote interviews. Virtual interviews also may not give candidates an accurate idea of the culture at a given firm. But remote interviews are likely here to stay, so here’s how candidates can put their best (virtual) foot forward.

Test the technology

Open the conferencing app and test links to make sure that you can get on the service and understand how it functions. Log in early, even if it means sitting in a virtual waiting room until the meeting organizer arrives. At least you’ll be ensured of being on time.

Have a cheat sheet at the ready

A remote interview gives candidates a distinct advantage, as they can utilize notes without it being obvious. Place them just above the device camera or off to the side slightly so you can refer to them like one may read a teleprompter or cue cards on television.

Use your space wisely

If you’ll be on video, set up your space and your appearance so that it is professional but engaging.

Use your home office environment to make a strong impression. Keep background clutter to a minimum. If necessary, use a virtual office backdrop, which was preferred by 97 percent of the 513 recruiters that Harvard Business Review observed and interviewed over an eight-month period in 2020.

Engage with the interviewer and avoid distractions

Distractions can knock you off of your game and make you come across as less engaging to recruiters. Ask housemates to make themselves scarce during the interview and lock pets out of the room. Silence your phone (if it isn’t the device being used for the interview) and look into the camera while speaking. Maintaining eye contact is a sign of respect and confidence. If the interviewer is speaking at length, utilize the mute button on your phone or conferencing app to silence ambient noise.

Remote interviews are a large part of modern working environments. Mastering an ability to interview remotely can help candidates ace their next interview.

Highlights, recaps from Truman Athletics' 2022-23 seasons

By Adam Tumino
Daily Express

The 2022-23 school year was an eventful one for Truman State athletes and teams. Let's go back to August and highlight some of the top moments of the year for the Bulldogs.

BASEBALL

The Truman baseball team may have finished with a 9-23 conference record, but there were still plenty of highlights and notable moments. Head coach Dan Davis reached a milestone with his 239th as Truman's coach back on March 7, becoming the program's all-time wins leader. That was not the only program record to fall this year.

Senior Holden Missey became Truman's all-time home run leader on April 22, hitting his 34th career home run in the game. He hit one before the season's end to finish his career with 35. He was also named second-team All-GLVC after the season. He started every game for the Bulldogs as a pitcher and hitter, finishing with an OPS of 1.034, leading the team, and pitching 55.1 innings, the second-most on the team.

BASKETBALL

The Truman basketball teams finished on opposite ends of the standings, with the women's team finishing third and the men's team placing 11th. There were of course ups and downs for both teams.

The women's team got off to a hot start, winning nine of their first 10 conference games. The Bulldogs closed out the regular season going 6-4 in their final 10 conference games and finished at 15-5, posting their most conference wins since the 2019-20 season.

A blowout win over Maryville opened the GLVC Tournament for Truman, but a loss to Lewis in the semifinals ended the season. Senior Hannah Belanger had a stellar final season, cementing her place as one of the top players in program history.

She was named an WBCA All-American for the second time, becoming the first Truman player to receive that honor twice. She also broke the program's single-season and career three-point records this season, tied the school mark for points in a season, moved into third place on the program's all-time scoring list and was the first Truman player to be named GLVC Player of the Year. She finished her Truman career with 1,882 points. Belanger will play next season as a graduate transfer at Iowa State.

The men's team started conference season 1-7 before a three-game winning streak saw them climb a bit in the conference standings. They then suffered a three-point loss to Maryville before earning an upset win over Missouri-St. Louis on Jan. 28. Missouri-St. Louis was ranked No. 17 in the nation at the time. The Bulldogs went 2-5 to close out conference season. Their 7-13 conference record saw them fall short of a conference tournament berth. Senior Elijah Hazekamp finished off his Truman career in style, averaging 15 points and 7.5 rebounds per game, leading the team in both categories. He was named first-team All-GLVC.

CROSS COUNTRY

The men's team finished in seventh place and the women's team placed fifth in the conference last season. In the Midwest Regional, the men placed 20th out of 30 teams and the women placed 18th out of 33.

Senior Nathan Key was named All-GLVC for the men's team. The women's team had three all-conference honorees in Addie Mathis, Breanna Mathes and Kate Yates. Mathes was also named GLVC Freshman of the Year.

FOOTBALL

The Bulldogs had a strong season from start to finish, with plenty of success during the year and recognition once the season ended. After a season-opening loss to a strong Davenport team got things started, but Truman would not lose again for over two months.

Over the course of an eight-game winning streak, the Bulldogs allowed an average of 16.3 points per game and scored 35 per game. They scored a season-high 59 points against Quincy on Oct. 29 and followed it up with 52 on Nov. 5 against McKendree.

This set up a season finale against Indianapolis with both teams entering the game with 5-0 conference records and 8-1 overall records. Indianapolis took the game and won the GLVC, but Truman's season was not finished. They returned to the America's Crossroads Bowl and won it for the third-straight time.

Truman finished the season at 9-2, with both of its losses coming to teams that finished the season ranked in the top 25. Truman was also ranked to end the year, coming in at No. 25 in the AFCA Poll. They also had 18 players named to All-GLVC teams and head coach Gregg Nesbitt was named the Co-Coach of the Year.

GOLF

The women's golf team had some mixed results throughout the season. They had high team finishes early on in the Kansas City Cup on Sept. 26 and 27, placing first out of six teams, and the Virginia McCoy Invite on Oct. 10 and 11, placing second out of six teams.

They participated in the GLVC Championships starting on April 21, and finished in 10th out of 11 teams. Senior Kara Hunt was the highest finisher for the Bulldogs, tying for 24th. In the second round, her score of 75 was tied for the lowest in the round as she finished her Truman career strong.

SOCCER

The men's soccer team punched their first-ever ticket to the GLVC Tournament with a 200 fly at the championships. He placed 21st in the free with a time of 1:37.52 and 23rd in the fly with a time of 1:49.47.

Adelaide Reaser had a remarkable freshman season for the Bulldogs. She competed in four events at nationals. Her time of 10:15.21 in the 1000 free put her in 18th place and her time of 4:20.68 in the 400 individual medley put her 19th. She ramped it up in the 500 free, placing 14th with a time of 4:56.94 and earning honorable mention All-American honors. She was even better in the 1650 free, posting a time of 16:59.01 to finish seventh and earn All-American honors.

TENNIS

The women's tennis team posted an 11-11 record last season, but an 0-5 mark in conference matches. The team had some strong performers throughout the year.

Freshman Sydney Dial had the team's best record in singles play at 14-6. She saw most of her action playing at No. 5, where she was 10-3. The top doubles pair was senior Julia Fangman and junior Samantha Seggerman. The pair went 7-11, going 4-8 at No. 1 and 3-1 and No. 2. A lot of the team's results were close, with the Bulldogs posting a record of 61-68 overall in singles play and 30-33 in doubles play.

TRACK AND FIELD

The track and field season wound up recently with a group of Truman athletes competing at the NCAA Division II Championships. Seniors Ellie Weltha and Natalie Telep and junior Jacob Morris were the qualifiers.

Weltha placed ninth in the shot put with a season high of 14.93 meters. She was named a second team All-American. Telep competed in the javelin with a throw 39.89, finished in 18th place. The throw fell short of her season high of 44.6 meters set on May 11 in the Harding Last Chance Meet. Her career high remains 45.24 meters in the Truman State Twilight Meet on April 22, 2021.

Morris competed in the hammer throw and discus. He placed 13th in the hammer throw and eight in the discus and was given All-American honors to join Weltha.

VOLLEYBALL

The Truman volleyball team placed last in the GLVC with a 1-11 record as they still look to start heading in the right direction. They have three conference wins over the last two seasons. A strong freshman class from this past season should help anchor the team as they look to improve.

There were still positives this season, with the team's lone conference win coming in dramatic fashion at home over McKendree on Sept. 30. Truman took the first two sets with relative ease before McKendree came back to force a decisive fifth set. The Bulldogs were up 14-10 and needed just one more point to win, but McKendree tied the score at 14. Truman took the final two points to win.

The team was led by freshman Jessica Prosenyak with 2.45 kills per set. Freshman setter Emma Baierl led the team with 6.75 assists per set and freshman Lexi Arnel led the team with 3.78 digs per set.

Biden says Chiefs 'building a dynasty' as he hosts Kansas City Super Bowl champs at White House

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — President Joe Biden said the Kansas City Chiefs are “building a dynasty” as he hosted the team at the White House Monday to mark their Super Bowl victory in February.

Speaking on the South Lawn, Biden praised the team for playing with “the real joy of the game and love for each other and the great city you represent.” He also praised the team for their charitable work off the field, saying, “as these guys know about football, they know about life and how to use their platform to make a difference.”

Biden joked that first lady Jill Biden, a “rabid” Philadelphia fan, is still not over the dramatic end to the game, which included a controversial holding penalty against the Eagles that set the Chiefs up for their game-winning field goal. The president added, “I have to be careful what I say today,” even though his wife was out of the country.

Biden led the crowd in a moment of silence to mark the death Sunday of Norma Hunt, wife of the late team founder Lamar Hunt, saying he was sending “our condolences to the entire Hunt family.”

Quarterback Patrick Mahomes, the game’s most valuable player, and tight end Travis Kelce presented Biden with a personalized Kansas City Chiefs jersey before posing for a team photo with the president.

Before the ceremony, the team was given a tour of the White House.

Arraez lifts average to .399, Marlins overcome 4-run deficit in 9-6 win over Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI — Luis Arraez had three hits to raise his major league-leading batting average to .399, and the Miami Marlins beat the Kansas City Royals 9-6 on Monday night.

Arraez drove in two runs for the Marlins, who erased an early four-run deficit and won their fourth straight game. Bryan De La Cruz hit his eighth homer, while Jon Berti, Nick Fortes and Joey Wendle had two hits apiece.

After going hitless in four at-bats Friday against Oakland, Arraez is 10 for 13 over the last three games.

“It’s huge,” he said of his current average. “I have worked hard for this. But this is just starting. I am not complacent. I want to accomplish more.”

No big league player has batted .400 for a season since Ted Williams hit .406 in 1941.

Braxton Garrett (2-2) overcame a difficult start and completed five innings of four-run ball. The left-hander gave up six hits and struck out six.

Arraez’s RBI single capped a four-run fourth and put Miami ahead 6-4. Berti hit a two-run triple and Jonathan Davis followed with an RBI double as the Marlins got five consecutive hits against reliever Mike Mayers with two outs.

Miami increased its lead to 9-4 on De La Cruz’s two-run drive against Josh Staumont in the sixth.

“Our offense always feels like they’re in the game,” Marlins manager Skip Schumaker said. “When you’re getting length out of the lineup from top to bottom, you feel really good about every single inning, whether it starts with Arraez at the top or whoever the six- or seven-hole hitter is at the bottom.”

The Royals narrowed the gap to 9-6 on Drew Waters’ run-scoring single off Steven Okert in the ninth. Dylan Floro relieved Okert with one out and retired Bobby Witt Jr. on a double-play grounder for his seventh save.

Carlos Hernández opened for the Royals and retired six straight. Mayers (1-1) took over in the third and allowed Davis’ RBI grounder and Arraez’s run-scoring double.

“The first couple of innings didn’t go too well for us,” Berti said. “To be able to string some things together was just big.”

Mayers, who pitched six scoreless innings of relief and carried a combined perfect game into the seventh against St. Louis in his previous appearance May 29, gave up seven runs and nine hits over three innings.

“I thought I made some quality pitched there early,” Mayers said. “They put the barrel to the ball and had a good approach against me.”

Kansas City struck quickly on MJ Melendez’s RBI single and Salvador Pérez’s run-scoring single in the first.

Nick Pratto’s solo shot and Melendez’s second run-scoring single in the third made it 4-0.

TIME CHANGE

The start time of the series finale Wednesday night has been moved up 30 minutes to 6:10 p.m. With the Miami Heat playing their first home game of the NBA Finals against the Denver Nuggets later that night, Marlins management sought to reduce the window of both events coinciding.

BONDING EXPERIENCE

The Royals renewed their annual “Fathers Trip” during series stops in Miami and Baltimore. Fathers, fathers-in-law, and brothers of current Royals players and staff travel with the group. They stay in the team hotel and have the option of riding on chartered buses. The trip became a Royals tradition until it was interrupted in 2020 because of the pandemic.

“It’s eye-opening to me. I’ve never been part of something like this,” Kansas City manager Matt Quatraro said. “I think it’s really cool. To share that with them is really special.”

TRAINER’S ROOM

Royals: 1B Vinnie Pasquantino got the night off but was available to pinch-hit.

Marlins: OF Jazz Chisholm Jr. (turf toe) is scheduled to visit a foot specialist on Wednesday to determine his progression. ... LHP A.J. Puk (elbow nerve irritation) was in the clubhouse before the game but has not been activated after one-inning rehab appearances with Double-A Pensacola on Friday and Saturday.

UP NEXT

Royals RHP Zack Greinke (1-5, 4.19 ERA) starts the middle game of the series Tuesday. Greinke is 7-0 against the Marlins. LHP Jesús Luzardo (4-4, 4.05) pitches for Miami.

Norma Hunt, wife of late Chiefs founder and only woman to attend every Super Bowl, dies at 85

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Norma Hunt, the second wife of the late Kansas City Chiefs founder Lamar Hunt and the only woman to attend every Super Bowl, has died. She was 85.

The Hunt family, which still owns the franchise, announced the passing of the Chiefs’ matriarch in a statement released by the team Sunday night. No cause of death was given.

Norma Hunt was among the few to have attended every Super Bowl when she was present for the Chiefs’ 38-35 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles on Feb. 12 in Glendale, Arizona.

Lamar Hunt, one of the founders of the AFL and a force behind its 1970 merger with the NFL, died in 2006.

Norma Hunt had two sons, Clark and Daniel, and was closely linked to the Chiefs franchise through her charitable work. Clark Hunt became the chairman of the franchise after his father’s death and has become a leading voice in NFL ownership.

“Mom was steadfastly devoted to her family and fiercely passionate about her family’s sports teams,” the Hunt family said. “She was by our father Lamar’s side every step of the way — from the merger of the AFL and the NFL to the formation of Major League Soccer, World Championship Tennis, the North American Soccer League, and their founding investment in the Chicago Bulls.

“She was the only person we knew who rivaled his love of sports. The two of them found such joy together, whether at home, or in stadium stands around the world.”

NFL commissioner Roger Goodell, who knew Norma Hunt for almost four decades, called her “a significant presence in the NFL.”

“Norma’s sense of family extended to the Chiefs’ organization, which she greatly adored,” Goodell said. “Norma was one of the most passionate fans of the Chiefs and the NFL, and understood and enjoyed every aspect of the game. She loved being around the team and referred to the players as ‘real-life superheroes.’ Norma attended every Super Bowl ever played, including the two recent Chiefs’ victories, and was the only woman to do so.”

Chiefs quarterback Patrick Mahomes, who also had grown close to Hunt the past few years, posted on social media: “Mrs. Norma was the best. Glad to be a part of this special organization she helped build. She will be missed!”

The team had yet to announce memorial details Sunday night.

"How do you say, 'take your job and shove it' with poinsettias?"

ASTROGRAPH BY EUGENIA LAST

Pick up the pace and shoot for the stars. Set meaningful goals and adjust your schedule to suit your demands. Keep things simple and stick to your plans. Take a step back from people who drag you down or tempt you to waste time. Learn through observation and experience, and avoid mistakes.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- An energetic approach will bring attention and valuable input from experts. Speak from the heart, and follow through with action. Stick to a budget you can afford.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- Your consistency will make a difference today. Get your facts straight before you pass along information, and find out what things cost before you make a commitment. Put a budget in place.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Keep things in perspective. You'll feel the need to overdo it or embellish information. Listen to reason when dealing with health or personal issues. Make the nurturing of partnerships a priority.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Determine what you must do to reach your goal. Emphasize educational pursuits, practice and conversations with people who can help you further your objective.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Focus on situations that require your attention. The more familiar you are with what it will cost to reach your goal, the easier it will be to negotiate. Seek out help if you need it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- A reflective approach will help you take care of business. Refuse to let your emotions get out of control. A simple solution is favored. Calm precision will be necessary.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Put your finances in order before you take on additional expenses. Don't be fooled by someone who tends to embellish situations. Pay attention to how others treat you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- Change begins with you. Entertain the possibilities and connect with people who can offer expert advice to eliminate any uncertainty you have regarding your next move.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- Follow through with your plans. Refuse to let others stand between you and happiness. Fight for what you want. A lifestyle change will enhance your life. Romance is favored.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) -- Don't let fear limit what you can achieve. Trust and believe in yourself, and manage your time and money to fit your long-term plans. Think about making some financial changes.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Direct your energy wisely. Don't take on so much that you can't focus on what's meaningful. Call on those with a good track record for help. Romance is in the stars.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- Be passionate, say what's on your mind and finish things on time. Don't let others slow you down. Change whatever you aren't satisfied with, and you'll eliminate frustration.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Wife's ability to trust her husband takes a hit

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our early 70s. We have been married seven years. I was celibate before we met and thrilled to have a partner I respected and was attracted to. Our sex life seemed normal and exciting with lots of kisses and hugs throughout the day.

Recently, I caught him on a phone sex call and then discovered he visits sex chat rooms. I'm devastated. I feel betrayed and angry that my trust has been violated. After several attempts to lie, he finally admitted the truth, but said it was a "recent" thing -- which was even more insulting!

My therapist says men don't suddenly take up phone sex and pornography in their 70s. When I shared that with my husband, he revealed it wasn't "as often" in the past. He swears he loves me and will get help, but I can't imagine how I can trust him again.

He doesn't seem to want to talk about it any further, other than taking some online classes dealing with porn addiction. Our relationship has always been cordial and friendly and that continues, though I'm no longer willing to have sex at this time. My impulse is to bolt. I'm too old to deal with this nonsense, and I just want to live the rest of my life in peace. What do you think? -- THROWN IN KANSAS respect and are attracted to -- with the bonus of kisses and hugs throughout the day. Your husband isn't having physical contact with anyone on the "hotline."

JEANNE PHILLIPS
DEAR ABBY

If your therapist hasn't told you, many thousands of individuals of both sexes consider porn to be erotica and helpful, and many couples use it to enhance their sex lives. Rather than sacrifice what has been a successful marriage, you and your husband would be better off scheduling some appointments with a marriage and family therapist, and possibly one who specializes in sex therapy to help you overcome your emotional issue on this highly personal subject.

DEAR ABBY: My former husband of 28 years cheated on me for the last 15 years of our marriage. For the last six years, I have been in a healthy and happy relationship. I went to counseling for five years and, per the counselor, I don't need to go anymore.

My 36-year-old daughter wants me to attend family gatherings with my ex and his wife (his third mistress). I have gone to two of them, but I really have no desire to do it any longer. My daughter is telling me I still have "issues that I need to heal" and has been lecturing me about this for years. Must I sacrifice my feelings for hers? -- CLEAN BREAK IN NEW ENGLAND

DEAR CLEAN BREAK: No, you have suffered enough. I see no reason why you must continue to expose yourself to the company of two people you neither like nor respect. If your daughter cannot accept this, then perhaps SHE needs counseling to understand it.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD...

Compelling Explanation

When Ocala, Florida, police officers questioned 37-year-old Daniel Robert Dinkins about a nearby burglary on May 13, he responded, "That may have been me." Earlier, officers had been called to a home where someone had thrown a brick through a window where a baby was sleeping inside, then left a book on the front porch. Dinkins said he wanted to swim in the neighbors' backyard pool and "wanted to share the book with them," Ocala News reported. He also told police he was a "time traveler" and was trying to "save the baby from something way in the future when the child is much older." Strangely, Dinkins said he wasn't aware there was a baby sleeping inside. He faces a felony burglary charge.

Government in Action

A central India food inspector, Rajesh Vishwas, lost more than his phone on May 21, NBC News reported. While snapping a vacation selfie at Kherkatta Dam, Vishwas dropped his phone into the water. According to him, his device contained sensitive governmental information, so he ordered the reservoir to be drained. Vishwas said he got permission from R.C. Dhivar, a local water resources official, but Dhivar argued that he'd given permission to drain only 3 or 4 feet of water. Instead, "They had emptied the water up to 10 feet." It took three days to drain the 530,000 gallons of water, but in the end, it was all for naught: Vishwas' phone was unusable. As was he: He was suspended from his job pending an investigation.

That Rule Doesn't Apply to Me

An unnamed woman in Tacoma, Washington, was arrested and detained in a negative pressure room at the Pierce County jail on June 1 after refusing for more than a year to get treatment for tuberculosis, KOMO-TV reported. A judge issued 17 orders for her to be involuntarily detained before police caught up with her. "We believe she was trying to avoid being captured," said Sgt. Darren Moss. Officers surveilled her while she was still at home and observed her riding a city bus to a casino. "The health department had asked her to just do it on her own ... now she's going to have to do it in our facility, unfortunately," Moss said. He said TB was once common in the jail, hence the negative pressure rooms, which "isolate the air within the room so it doesn't infect the rest of the rooms within the facility."

Rude

New York attorney Anthony Orlich is probably tearing his hair out in the wake of an incident in late May, the New York Post reported. Orlich allegedly snatched the wig off the head of Brooklyn singer Lizzy Ashleigh while walking along a city street at night; Ashleigh captured the aftermath on her cellphone and posted a video to TikTok, which garnered hundreds of thousands of views. In the video, Ashleigh yells at Orlich: "Sir! For what reason did you take my wig off? What makes you think that that's OK?" Orlich refused to apologize, even with his friends encouraging him to. Ashleigh has said she plans to take legal action, but Orlich is already in trouble: His firm, Leader Berkon Colao & Silverstein LLP, has fired him, according to a LinkedIn post.

Cheesy

Delaney Irving, 19, of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, said of her May 28 victory in a cheese-rolling contest in Gloucester, England: "It feels great!" That's in spite of the fact that she woke up in the medical tent after taking a fall and hitting her head, The Guardian reported. "I remember running, then bumping my head ... I still don't really believe it," she said. The contest involves rolling a 7-pound wheel of cheese down the almost-vertical Coopers Hill, and Irving wasn't the only contestant who lost their footing.
