Kirksville celebrates 4th of July

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

Thousands of people packed the city's streets on Friday and Saturday for the annual Red, White and Blue festivities. The events began on Friday with the Kirksville Community Band and No Apology performing as part of the Kirksville Arts Association's Summer on the Square concert series.

In between shows the United Way of Northeast Missouri held their annual Pie Contest and Auction fundraiser. On Saturday, July 1, many events filled downtown with people. The Kiwanis Farmers Market, the service clubs' annual Pancake Breakfast, the Red, White and Blue Classic Car Show, the 7th Annual FLATS Uncle Sam 5K race and the Red, White and Blue Parade.

The fun moved to North Park later that evening with kids' games and concessions, the band Boot Cut performed then a fireworks show was held to end the busy day.

Teen arrested on felony property damage charges

Kirksville teen arrested on felony property damage charges in case of vandalized trees

By Kirksville Police Department

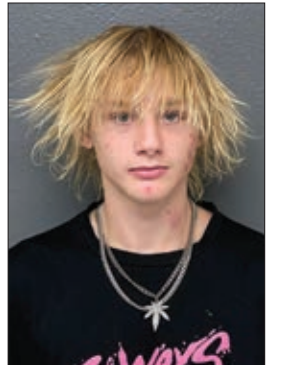

The Kirksville Police Department has made an arrest in connection to damaged trees in Memorial Park and Downtown Kirksville. Ross A. Evans, 18, of Kirksville, was arrested on June 29 on charges of felony property damage based on the cost of replacing the damaged trees.

On June 29, the Kirksville police took a report from Kirksville Parks and Recreation Department employees in reference to three young trees damaged in Memorial Park. The trees were broken off at the ground, and two of them appeared like someone tried to burn them. It was later discovered that another city-owned tree on the 100 block of West Washington Street was damaged in a similar fashion.

Police located video of the damage to the downtown tree and developed Evans as a suspect. A Kirksville Police Department detective made contact with the suspect and obtained a confession for the damage to the trees at Memorial Park and downtown.

A criminal charge is merely an accusation and a defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

Anyone with information regarding this press release or any suspicious activity is encouraged to contact the Kirksville Police Department at 660-785-6945, Central Dispatch at 660-665-5621, Adair County Sheriff's Office at 660-665-4600 or anonymously at 660-627-BUST (2878) or email police@kirksvillecity.com.

Now Open: U.S. Route 136 in Schuyler County

U.S. Route 136 is now open, located 1.2 miles west of U.S. Route 63, near Lancaster in Schuyler County. The roadway reopened to motorists on June 23.

Resurfacing Project Begins in Knox, Lewis and Macon Counties

As early as July 5, weather permitting, a resurfacing project is set to begin on Missouri Route 156 from Missouri Route 149 in Macon County to Route 6 at Ewing in Lewis County. The total length of improvement is 52.5 miles and spans across Knox, Lewis and Macon counties. This project is anticipated to be completed by late fall. Traffic will be reduced to one lane during the day at the location where crews are actively working for the duration of the project. Flaggers and a pilot car will direct motorists through the work zone. Workers will be present during daylight hours, Monday through Friday, weather permitting. A 10-foot width restriction will be in place for the duration of the project. All work is weather dependent and schedules are subject to change.

KIRKSVILLE AREA NEWS BRIEFS

Plant treatment to close Hazel Creek Lake for two days in July and August

Hazel Creek Lake will be temporarily closed for all recreational activities on July 17-18 and Aug. 7-8 — weather permitting — to allow the city to treat the American Lotus plant. Boating, fishing, and all other activity on or in Hazel Creek Lake will be prohibited during this time period and the boat ramp will be closed. While this treatment process has been deemed safe for recreational activities, time is still needed to allow the treatment process to take place. If this process must be postponed due to weather, adequate notice will be provided to the public and all affected parties. Hazel Creek Lake is a drinking source lake that provides water for all Adair County residents. This program for treatment of lotus has been approved by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. The city will draw water from Forest Lake — the city's other drinking source lake — during this treatment process. For more information, contact the Public Works Department at 660-627-1291.

"Thank You for Your Service Exhibit"

For a second year the Kirksville Arts Association is honoring area men and women, who have served in the military with a photography exhibit at the Sue Ross Arts Center, located at 215 S. Franklin in Kirksville. The exhibit opened June 28th and will run through Aug. 26. The exhibit includes 40 former military members from Adair, Macon, Schuyler, Sullivan and Putnam counties. The exhibit includes photographs of the veterans holding a photograph of when they were in the service. At the close of the show the photographs will be given to the participants. The exhibit was sponsored by the Bank of Kirksville and the Missouri Arts Council. A closing reception will be held Thursday, Aug. 24 from 5:30 -7 p.m. and will include a presentation of five quilts by the Hands of Friendship Quilt Guild. This is the second year the arts association and the quilt guild have collaborated on this event. The quilts will be on display at the arts center until the evening of the reception. The Sue Ross Arts Center is open Monday through Friday 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There is no charge to view the exhibit. Any former military member who is interested in participating in a future exhibit by the Kirksville Arts Association should call 660-665-0500 or email kirksvilleart@gmail.com.

Police asking for help in stolen sign investigation

Kirksville Police are seeking the public's help in locating and recovering several stolen street signs. On the afternoon of Sunday, June 25, a KPD officer was patrolling the Kingsridge subdivision and noticed multiple street signs were missing from the neighborhood. In total, street marker signs had been stolen from Bishop Drive, Pawn Drive, Rook Drive, Castle Drive, Knight Drive, Kings Road and Queens Road, along with a Yield sign. These signs were mounted atop stop signs at the north and south ends of these streets, which indicates the suspect(s) would have climbed a ladder or something else to remove the signs from an elevated position. This creates a potential safety issue as first responders, delivery drivers and others use these signs to navigate city streets. Missing signs may delay response to addresses in that neighborhood. Police would like to get the signs returned and save the cost of replacing them. Anyone with information about this can contact the Kirksville Police Department at 660-785-6945 or anonymously at 660-627-BUST (2878), or email police@kirksvillecity.com.

Indoor walking activity for seniors at the Crossing Church

The RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Persons) office sponsors a walking activity five days a week during winter months for seniors to walk inside the Crossing Church location on Shepard Street from 9:30 a.m. until noon, Monday through Friday. This is only for senior citizens — 55 or older. They have volunteers "manning" the location and seniors are welcome any time during that time period. They ask that you sign in. There is no charge and you may come any or all days. If the schools are closed, they are not open because of weather. As of April 1, the Crossing will only be open on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week. It will be rain free, wind free, and cool on hot days. Citizens above 55 years of age.

Free legal consultations for veterans offered in Kirksville on July 6

The University of Missouri School of Law Veterans Clinic, through its Tigers for Troops program, will offer free legal consultations to veterans regarding United States Department of Veterans Affairs ("VA") disability benefits, discharge upgrades, and VA healthcare at the Kirksville Arts Association at 215 S Franklin Street, Kirksville, on July 6, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Veterans can register for an appointment at <https://bit.ly/KirkvilleTFT> or call (573) 882-7630.

The Veterans Clinic is located in the University of Missouri's School of Law. Under the supervision of experienced attorneys, law students help veterans, at no charge, with their claims in front of the Department of Veterans Affairs. The Tigers for Troops program was created by the clinic to remedy unmet legal needs of rural veterans in Missouri. Under the program, the clinic partners with Mizzou Extension to travel to rural parts of Missouri to reach veterans without access to veteran's services. The Veterans Clinic also assists veterans in receiving discharge upgrades, helps train attorneys to help veterans navigate the VA system, holds annual symposiums highlighting the stories of veterans and developments within veterans' law, and contributes to amicus briefs and other advocacy projects in support of veterans. Since the clinic's inception just seven years ago, it has secured over $13 million in benefits for veterans in Missouri and has helped more than 1,300 veterans.

New online Master Gardener training begins Aug. 14

A new session of online Master Gardener training begins Aug. 14. MU Extension horticulture specialists teach the 14 online sessions. Classes are delivered through the Canvas learning management system as a series of scripted and narrated video presentations. Students work at their own pace. A composite score of 70 percent on chapter quizzes is needed to pass the course. Topics include basic botany, soils and plant nutrition, vegetable gardening, fruit production, landscape design, woody ornamental plants, herbaceous ornamental plants, turf management, insect and disease management and pesticide safety. Core training is the first step toward certification as an MU Extension Master Gardener. Trainees must also complete at least 30 hours of volunteer service. Local Master Gardener coordinators can help online trainees find volunteer opportunities to meet the service hour requirements. The deadline to register for the fall session is Aug. 13. SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HERMAN

"You the guy who said the soup burned your mouth?"

ASTROGRAPH BY EUGENIA LAST

Don't take on too much. Say no to those trying to separate you from your money, and avoid people trying to make you work for their benefit. A pragmatic approach to life, love, and happiness, and a strong belief in yourself and your skills will carry you to a place that you find comfortable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- Impulsive spending won't solve your problems. Do your best to simplify your life and stick to people who offer encouragement and common sense. Experience is an excellent teacher. Don't make the same mistake twice.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Simplify your life. Channel your energy into personal growth, increasing your savings and maximizing how you can use your skills to reflect trends. It's up to you to make a big impression.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Communication, education and quality people will be crucial. Don't shy away from someone different from you; together, you can contribute to each other's success. Mix business with pleasure.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Offer a cause a helping hand rather than a cash donation. Take a unique approach to work and money and how you invest your time, and you'll discover how you can come out ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- Listen, communicate and sort through any differences you have with a friend, relative or colleague. Take better care of your reputation and health. Overindulgence will take its toll on your bank account and your body.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Save for what you want instead of going into debt. Peace of mind will impact your health and reputation. Be good to yourself and channel your energy into personal gain.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- Discuss your thoughts and intentions before pulling out your credit card. Get input from loved ones before taking a potential risk. Don't let your emotions override your discipline.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- Be observant and outsmart whoever tries to exploit you. A snap decision will lead to regret. Don't buy into the hype; instead, focus on personal growth. Nurture meaningful relationships.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) -- Keep your money and possessions safe. Investigate something interesting, and you'll discover how to use your attributes to gain ground. Learn all you can and believe in yourself.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Do something you enjoy. Take care of your health or physical needs. Refuse to let anyone play games with you or challenge you to a debate or no-win situation. Get things done!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- What others do will show you who they are and what they want. An unexpected change will leave you in a vulnerable position. Don't get involved in events or activities you can't afford.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- Listen, evaluate and fact-check before you make a move. Show some discipline; it will help you avoid ending up in a vulnerable position. Spend time taking care of yourself.

12 local athletes from 5 schools earn All-State baseball honors

By Adam Tumino

When the 2023 All-State baseball teams were announced last month, there was plenty of representation to be found for local schools. Five area high schools had players receive All-State honors, with a total of 12 athletes being recognized.

At Class 1, Green City had four players named to All-State teams. Senior Aaron Peavler was named first team All-American as an infielder, an honor he also received as a sophomore. Senior catcher Grant O'Haver was also a repeat recipient of All-State honors. He was named second team this year, the same as his sophomore year. He was an honorable mention All-State catcher last season.

Green City also had two first-time honorees. Sophomore infielder Ty Hall was named to the second team and sophomore pitcher Jaden O'Haver was given honorable mention honors.

These four helped lead the Gophers to their second-straight 16-win season and fifth district title. Green City finished the season 16-7 and advanced to the state quarterfinals before losing by a single run to South Nodaway.

At Class 2, four schools had players honored. Putnam County and Knox County led the way with three athletes each while Scotland County and Milan each had one player honored.

was named an honorable mention All-State pitcher. McReynolds was named to the second team as a junior and was an honorable mention as a sophomore. Morris and Jones were first-time honorees.

They helped Putnam County to a 21-8 record and third-straight district title. The Midgets advanced to the state quarterfinals before losing to Salisbury.

Knox County had junior catcher Robert Dooley receive first-team All-State honors. He was an honorable mention at the DH/utility spot last season. Senior Braxton McCurren was a first-time honoree and was named an honorable mention infielder.

Senior Rylan Roberts was an honorable mention as a pitcher. He was an honorable mention infielder as a junior.

Knox County posted its third-straight winning season thanks in part to this trio, going 17-8 on the season. The Eagles had their season come to an end with a loss to Putnam County in the Class 2 District 6 Tournament.

Scotland County catcher Ian Wilson joined Knox County's Dooley with first-team honors. It was the first time Wilson received All-State honors/ Milan sophomore Keaton Weter also received All-State honors for the first time, being named to the second team

ESPN layoffs signal a bleak future for sports media

The landscape of sports media changed drastically and negatively recently. ESPN, the so-called "Worldwide Leader in Sports," laid off scores of on-air personalities. Some of those laid off were beloved figures at the network and many had been there for over a decade.

Some of them were among the network's most notable figures. Suzy Kolber had been a staple of ESPN's NFL coverage for years and was at ESPN for 27 years. Even her high-profile position and longevity could not save her from these cuts.

The network's NBA coverage will also look vastly different. Analyst Jalen Rose was also let go, despite being prominently featured in NBA pre and post game shows as well as frequent appearances on other shows. Color commentator Jeff Van Gundy, an integral part of ESPN's excellent NBA announcing crew, was also cut loose.

Van Gundy was one of ESPN's most entertaining personalities, often dropping unexpected and hilarious sound bites during games, while also providing insightful commentary. His relationship with play-by-play announcer Mike Breen and fellow commentator Mark Jackson made for one of the most listenable broadcasts in sports.

Other faces, including those of Max Kellerman, Todd McShay and Keyshawn Johnson, will no longer be seen on ESPN.

The layoffs were handled in an unsavory way as well. ESPN released a statement announcing layoffs, but not naming those affected. Instead the names came out throughout the day, each one seemingly affecting a big name than the last.

It is safe to assume that those who were laid off were alerted ahead of time, but I am sure it was still a shock for many of them who appeared to have job security. After these layoffs, how can any employee at ESPN feel secure? It seems that no one is safe long term. If people like Kolber and Van Gundy were not untouchable, who is?

One of the most depressing details about these layoffs and other cost-cutting moves is that there is no good reason for them to be happening. ESPN is owned by Disney for god's sake. Why does any Disney company need to cut costs? How can Disney not afford to pay everyone it wants?

Disney reported that its operating profits rose by 56% in 2022, according to CNN. That is more than $12 billion. Jeff Van Gundy must have been making hundreds of millions of dollars if cutting his salary made a significant impact.

It does not bode well for our society if a company that saw profits rise by over 50% just last year feels the need to cut costs. The emphasis on continuous growth has ruined many companies. God forbid a company can just be marginally successful for decades and pay all their employees. Nope, if you fall short of some arbitrary benchmark or your profits increase, but not by quite enough, it is apparently time to clear house.

ESPN has been the face of sports media for decades now. The network has been responsible for getting generations of fans interested in sports. Well, the network has not been responsible for that, the people at the network have.

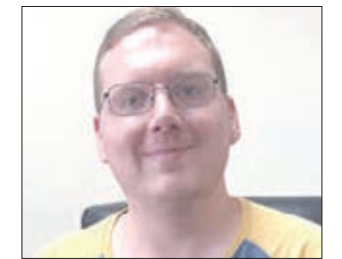

ESPN built its credibility on the faces and voices of many of the people it laid off. Viewers liked and trusted these people. But now that cuts have reached this level, there will likely be more in the future.

I fear that ESPN will soon be a hollow shell of its former self. This has already happened to Sports Illustrated. The pillars of sports media are crumbling instead of being repaired or maintained, and that is a shame.

The entire reason for ESPN's existence is to televise sports. That is what made the network as powerful and successful as it is. If ESPN feels it can no longer afford to televise sports at the same level it has been, why should people continue to watch?

And people are watching. People are watching more sports than ever before. Ratings keep climbing for the most popular sports and some of the sports that have previously drawn fewer eyes are growing.

Women's college basketball has seen viewership increase explosively in recent years. ESPN+, the network's streaming service, has been a massive success and allowed fans to watch more sports from across the country and world.

So if Disney's profits are increasing and viewership is increasing, why is ESPN's payroll shrinking? It simply does not make sense. Reward your employees, reward your viewers. Is continuous success not enough any more?

Hopefully ESPN will be able to rebound from these losses. It is likely that the quality of their coverage will slip for a while, but surely new faces will emerge and take over significant roles. Then after decades of adoration and unmitigated success, they will be ruthlessly fired to save Disney some money. It's the American Dream.
