Special Calf & Yearling Sale

1,121 head were sold at the February 15th Special Calf & Yearling Sale. Compared to the sharp upswing two weeks ago, steers and heifers sold 5.00 to 7.00 lower, with some 5 wt calves managing to hold steady money. Slaughter cows steady. Some good quality on offer this week, just shorter numbers which maybe wasn't such a bad thing with some winter weather in the forecast Wednesday night and Thursday.

The Importance of Online Reviews

By: Anastasia Tiedemann, SBDC, MERIC

When visiting a new place, you may rely on a local search engine like Google to search for a place to eat or local shopping places to visit. A list will come up, but how will you make your decision?

Nearly nine out of ten (88%) of consumers worldwide consult reviews before purchasing from a local business. Not only are reviews an integral part of the purchase process, but it indicates that purchasers have a high level of confidence in the opinions of others who have purchased from the business. In fact, 49% of buyers trust the reviews they read online (Source: Oberlo) as much as they trust personal recommendations. And most purchasers will read at least four reviews before buying a product.

So, who is writing these reviews? BrightLocal found that about 74% of consumers have left a review of a local business in the past year – and more post a positive review than a negative one. Service is the most reviewed factor.

The biggest reason why a small business should be concerned about reviews is because good reviews drive sales.

Google is the most popular online review platform (Source: Bizrate Insights, 2021), followed by Amazon. Facebook, Yelp, and the Better Business Bureau (BBB) also encourage customer reviews, as well as other industry-specific organizations such as TripAdvisor. It's crucial to diversify where your customers read reviews.

And it's also important that as a business owner, you interact with those leaving the review, especially if the review was a negative one. Reviewers see it as good customer service, and it's a way you can turn an angry customer into a happy one, thus retaining customer loyalty.

So, as a business owner, what do your reviews look like? Encourage your customers to post their experience. And as a customer, do you write reviews? To support your local businesses, you should!

For more information on resources for small businesses, contact your Northeast MO Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at 660-665-3348.
