2023 Kirksville Football Hall of Fame Inductees:

Tim Williams

Tim Williams was a force on the defensive side of the ball for the Tigers in the 1985 campaign. For his outstanding efforts that season, Williams was recognized as 1st Team All-State, 1st Team All-District, and All-Conference as a defensive back.

Following Kirksville High School, Williams attended Columbia College and entered the United States Air Force ROTC program. He graduated in 1993 with a degree in Education and was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. After his last assignment as the Chief of Combat Operations at the 601st Air Operations Center, Williams retired with the rank of colonel. He and his wife, Maria, live in Panama City Fla. They have two sons and one grandson.

Shane Western

Shane Western was named 1st Team All-Conference on both offense and defense as a senior in the 1984 season. Western scored a record five touchdowns against the Macon Tigers, a record which stood alone for 29 years. He also set a rushing record in his junior year, rushing for 245 yards against the Highland Cougars.

Western will have the distinct honor of being both an individual and team Hall of Fame member as he was inducted into the KHS Football Hall of Fame in 2019 as part of the 1984 KHS Tiger Football Team.

Western recently retired from a 31-year career in leadership at Kraft Foods. He has embarked on a second career with the Missouri Dept. of Conservation.

He and his wife, Shelley have four children and three grandchildren.

Jacob Lamp

Jacob Lamp did it all for the Tigers in 2009, contributing in all three aspects of the game; offense, defense and most notably in the kicking game. His efforts on the field earned him 1st team All-State Punter, 1st Team All-District Punter, 1st team All-Conference Punter, 1st Team Kirksville Daily Express on both sides of the ball, wide receiver, and punter. He was also voted the Tigers special teams MVP.

Nate Rueckert and the map of the United States he created from worn out baseballs.

Truman State grad finds a unique route to Cooperstown

By Truman State University

Like many kids, Nate Rueckert ('03) was obsessed with baseball. He played countless hours of catch with his father, went to see his hometown heroes at Busch Stadium and even tried to emulate them on the field during little league games. He was talented enough to play at the collegiate level and did so for three seasons while pursuing his Bachelor of Science degree in accounting at Truman. It is rare to be included in the Baseball Hall of Fame without a day spent in the majors, but Rueckert found a way to make it happen.

A labor of love has evolved into a profitable side business for Rueckert, and it earned him a spot in the sport's most hallowed halls. In 2017, a five-foot wide map of the United States he crafted entirely from used baseballs debuted in Cooperstown.

"There's just something awesome about taking something tattered, torn, used, forgotten – these baseballs that have definitely seen better days, ones that most coaches would just throw away – and just turning them into beautiful pieces of art," he said.

Being an artist was never really part of the plan for Rueckert. Indeed, his day job remains far more analytical. After working in public accounting at Ernst & Young, Rueckert and his wife, Micaela ('05), are raising their three daughters in Sioux Falls, S.D., where he is a senior external financial reporting consultant for Wells Fargo Advisors. He works four days a week with the fifth day dedicated to his business, the Baseball Seams Co., which he started in 2001 while he was still a student.

Inspiration can come from a variety of places, and for the Baseball Seams Co., its origin is rooted in the wake of tragedy. Rueckert remembers vividly the events of 9/11. He skipped his classes and was glued to the television, trying to comprehend the news of the day. Like so many other Americans, he felt hopeful the following month when he saw the president throw out the first pitch during the World Series.

By Marty Bachman
Daily Express

The Kirksville Professional Firefighters Local 2952 will be holding their 3rd Annual Ranch Rodeo & Barrel Race on Saturday, Sept. 16 at the NEMO Fairgrounds. Admission to the event is free.

According to Kirksville Fire Lt. Tyler Davis, the ranch rodeo is being held as a fundraiser for the Kirksville Firefighters Community Outreach Fund, which is used for community outreach as in providing fire prevention materials to the public as well as other purchases such as battery exchanges for AED defibrillators used in local businesses and other public venues. Davis said that the Kirksville Fire Department is constantly receiving calls asking how to change the batteries after their life span has expired.

"Hopefully we can raise enough money so that we can try to support that because they are used in life or death situations and are very important to have around," Davis said.

Pearls of Production celebrates 10 years with event in Kirksville

By University of Missouri Extension

Pearls of Production, taught by University of Missouri Extension women specialists to women producers, is celebrating its 10th year and offering a one-day event in Kirksville on Sept. 30.

Pearls began in 2013 to offer women hands-on training in agriculture production practices.

"With two events in different regions of the state this year, we are hoping to reach a larger audience," said Heather Conrow, MU Extension livestock field specialist. "For some women it's a struggle to get away from home and the farm to attend an overnight conference, so we're hoping these one-day events closer to their homes will accommodate more women."

The Kirksville event is from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 30, at Truman State University.

Topics include:

- * Feeding livestock in a forage shortage.
- * Internal parasite control.
- * Practical biosecurity updates for the farm.

"We want to meet women where they are by bringing the learning close to their farms," said Reagan Bluel, MU Extension dairy specialist. "Pearls of Production is about helping women who want to get their hands dirty learn how to produce food."

The number of women involved in agriculture in Missouri and across the U.S. continues to increase, and more women own and operate farms and ranches, Conrow said.

"Women are also increasingly playing larger roles in livestock production, as nearly half of our country's women-operated farms specialize in livestock production," she said.

Conrow says women offer a unique perspective on ag. Through programs like Pearls of Production, they can learn and share new ideas on raising livestock that can benefit one another.

"It's imperative for women producers to learn these skills in a safe, non-stressful environment where they can understand and practice hands-on techniques," she said. "That's what we are happy to provide at Pearls of Production."

Register at <https://extension.missouri.edu/events/pearls-of-production-in-the-field>. Cost is $40 per event.

For more information, contact Reagan Bluel at BluelRJ@missouri.edu or 417-847-3161.

REALTORS® provide $100k in storm relief to Knox, Adair, and Bollinger Counties

By Northeast Central Association of REALTORS®

In collaboration with the National Association of REALTORS® Relief Fund, Missouri REALTORS®, the Northeast Central Association of REALTORS® (NECAR), and Southeast Missouri REALTORS® (SEMAR) will make $100,000 in funds available to Missourians impacted by a tornado that hit Knox County and flooding that occurred in Adair County on Aug. 4, as well as flooding in Bollinger County on Aug. 13.

“The devastation to our community has been heartbreaking” said Erick Hanson, 2023 President of the Northeast Central Missouri Association of REALTORS®. “As REALTORS®, we know the importance of having a safe and secure place to live and are honored to provide financial assistance to cover mortgage payments or temporary shelter for those whose homes impacted by these disasters,”

Through Oct. 27, residents who were displaced from or are dealing with severe damage to their primary residence may be eligible for a grant of up to $1,000. These funds are meant to assist with one month’s mortgage payment, temporary rental costs, or hotel expenses, for those displaced from their home as a result of the storm. More details about this grant program, including an application with required documentation, are available at missourirealtor.org.

Kesha Drury, 2023 President of Southeast Missouri REALTORS® noted, “We have encouraged REALTORS® across our respective regions to connect with their friends, family, and clients to let everyone know these funds are available to hopefully help ease some of the financial burden created by these storms.”

For those who would like to contribute to this grant program, visit missourirealtor.org for details. “The REALTORS® Relief Foundation was established in 2001 by then-President Richard Mendenhall, from Columbia, to respond to disasters like the tornado in Knox County and the flooding in Adair County. Since then, REALTORS® have contributed more than $35 million to communities across the country, including those impacted by the Joplin tornadoes in 2011, the floods in St. Louis last year, and a tornado in Bollinger County just a few months ago,” said Andrea Sheridan, 2023 President of Missouri REALTORS®.

The Northeast Central Association of Realtors advocates for real property rights, for the communities in which we serve, delivers educational and risk management programs and connects our members through various media and events.

FESTIVAL

According to Blytha Ellis’ history column in the Daily Express, a long time rumor has it that in 1841, Jesse Kirk, who owned a tavern in town and for whom the city of Kirksville was named after, got that honor by bribing the town’s surveyors with a turkey dinner and whiskey. Ellis reported suggested that the surveyors had no authority to name the town and the name wasn’t given until 1842 when the surveyors were long gone. A more likely scenario is that the county judges named it Kirksville due to their holding meetings at Kirk’s Tavern. But the rumor persists and now Kirksville has an annual festival celebrating it.

Lamp went on to play football for the Truman State University Bulldogs. He was a two-time

All-Conference punter and a one-time All-American punter. He currently still holds a Truman record for the highest punting average of 40.5 yards.

Lamp currently lives in Kansas City with his wife Ashley and their 2-year-old son, Griffin. He works in the financial services industry and enjoys spending time with his family and following the St. Louis Cardinals and the Green Bay Packers.

RUECKERT

“For me, it was a moment that transcended sports,” he said. “For whatever reason, the idea to make an American flag out of old, tattered baseballs popped into my head.”

Rueckert has been making original works of art using baseballs as his medium ever since. The project that was displayed in the Baseball Hall of Fame was actually a two-year undertaking that evolved into a book.

After crowdfunding more than $30,000 through Kickstarter and sponsorships, Rueckert worked with a baseball writer to interview individuals from each state and share their inspirational stories. Baseballs they donated were used to create the map, and their stories were paired with artistic photos and compiled in a hardback coffee table book available on the company website, as well as the Baseball Hall of Fame museum shop.

BaseballSeamsCo.com is far from any run-of-the-mill sports page. It is equal parts art, nostalgia and patriotism. Over the years Rueckert has learned the true value of the game. It is more than statistics or championships. It is something so simple children can play it in the backyard, yet meaningful enough it can help heal a nation in a time of crisis. It is America’s pastime and, for many, a way of life. Rueckert’s company is less about a paycheck and more about staying connected to something he loves while using it as a backdrop to share values he feels are important.

“The memories you have in your childhood – it brings out the love you have for your country, the love you have for your faith,” he said. “That’s what I try to convey in my artwork – connecting baseball to something else that you really feel passionate about.”

RODEO

Money will also be donated to the Adam Bruner Memorial Scholarship, which was founded by the Adair County Ambulance District and honors the former paramedic who passed away in 2021. The scholarship is to support students that want to go into EMT and paramedic programs. The Adair County Ambulance District is providing labor and other assistance at the food stand this year, so a portion of the food sales will go toward their scholarship program.

Davis said that the Firefighters Local wants to also develop their own scholarship fund for students at surrounding area schools.

“It will be focused around people or kids who are wanting to move into fire, EMS, public service, nursing or some sort of related field,” he said.

Davis said that people often get confused about the differences between a ranch rodeo versus a regular rodeo.

“We’re not gonna have the bull riding, the saddle bronc, or any of that kind of stuff,” he said, noting that the team competitions are ranch-based in that they need to capture the cows, head it, heel it and put it on the ground. Instead of actually branding the cow once under control, they will mark it with baby powder or something similar to signify the branding.

“So it’s more like your ranch based or like real life event stuff, just kind of in a rodeo format,” he said.

The rodeo will include exhibition barrels and barrel racing at 3 p.m., with registration opening at noon and closing when the first horse runs ($5 Exhibition Barrels from 1-3 p.m.)

Mutton starts at 5 p.m. with 50 spots available (First come, first serve, 65 pounds or less). Check-in will be announced.

The Ranch Rodeo follows at 6 p.m., with four events consisting of four-man teams.

The events include team doctoring, team sorting, team mugging and team penning. Registration will open at noon and close when the first team begins. All registration will be the day of the event.

A custom buckle is given to the overall winning team and the top barrel racer. The fastest time in each event will get a payout. The firefighters are hopeful to be able to provide a mutton busting for children under 65 pounds again and are working with sponsors to find livestock for the event.

A negative Coggins is required for all horses. Stalls are not available this year.

For questions, contact Derek Johnson at 660-342-7521, Chelsea Burkhisser at 660-341-2082 or Tyler Davis at 660-956-2565.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Local high school football teams struggle in week 3 matchups

By Adam Tumino

Week three was a tough one for the seven local high school football teams. Milan was the only team to pick up a win in week three, as the other six teams were 0-6, including Milan's opponent Putnam County. Week four will feature bounceback attempts for these teams, so let's take a look at what happened Friday and what is coming up this week.

Kirksville 0, Savannah 42

After a tough loss in week to against Chillicothe, Kirksville had tough task with a week three road game against Savannah. The Savages improved to 2-1 with a shutout win over the Tigers for the second-straight season, dropping Kirksville to 1-2 on the year.

Things don't get much easier for Kirksville in week four, although they will be back at home. The Tigers will host a 3-0 Moberly team that is looking to start 4-0 for the first time since the 2020 season. Kirksville won this matchup 34-14 in Moberly last season.

Knox County 22, Bishop LeBlond 56

The Eagles fell to 0-3 with their road loss at Bishop LeBlond and scored a new season low with 22 points. All three of Knox County's losses this season have come against teams that currently have winning records.

The Eagles will be back at home for week four for the third time this season, playing host to a 2-1 Southwest (Livingston County) team. The Wildcats are coming off a 56-14 road win over Sante Fe.

Macon 0, Clark County 51

The Tigers allowed their most points since Oct. 8, 2021, in their week three game against a strong Clark County team, now 3-0. The Indians have won their three games this season by a combined score of 124-6.

Macon has already surpassed its loss total from last season, but will have a chance to bounce back and pick up a much-needed win when they host Palmyra, also 3-0, in week four. Macon has won the last two matchups with Palmyra and seven of the last 10.

Milan 36, Putnam County 6

After a season-opening loss to South Shelby, Milan has now won two games in a row to match Schuyler County for the best record among local teams at 2-1. Putnam County, much like Macon, is now 0-3 after winning nine games in 2022.

Milan has a chance to jump to 3-1 when they play a 1-2 Harrisburg team on the road. Milan has won three of the four matchups between these teams over the last four seasons, with Harrisburg notching a 28-26 win in 2021. Putnam County has a tougher matchup against a 3-0 Trenton team. It will be the 10th matchup between these teams, with Putnam County going 1-8 in the first nine. Trenton won last season's game 42-20.

Schuyler County 68, Plattsburg 92

Schuyler County fell to 2-1 despite setting a new season high in points with 68. Unfortunately, the 92 points allowed were the most by the Rams in their three-plus seasons in eight-man football. Plattsburg is emerging as a force in its first season as an eight-man team, putting up 78, 78 and now 92 points in its first three games, all wins.

The Rams will return home to host North Shelby in week four. The Raiders are 1-2 on the season, including a season opening loss to Bishop LeBlond, which Schuyler County beat 52-28 in week two.

Scotland County 35, Fayette 36

The Tigers took a big leap forward in week three, scoring their most points in a game since Oct. 22, 2021, but came up short in a heartbreaking loss to Fayette. They are now 0-3 on the season. It was the first one-point loss for Scotland County since the 2021 season opener against Marcelline.

The Tigers have lost their last two games by just nine combined points after a 38-0 loss in the opener against Clark County, and will look to pick up their first win of the season at home against Salisbury in week four. The Panthers are 1-2 on the season.

Truman pulls ahead late, holds on for win in home opener

By Adam Tumino

The Truman State football team hosted South Dakota Mines for their home opener on Saturday, looking to start the season 2-0. After battling from behind for much of the game, the Bulldogs took a lead late in the fourth quarter and held on for a 28-24 win over the Hardrockers.

The Truman defense, after allowing the Hardrockers' star quarterback Jayden Johannsen to throw for nearly 200 yards in the first half, buckled down in the second half while the Bulldogs' running game, led by Mason Huskey, propelled Truman to the victory.

After a Huskey touchdown run gave the Bulldogs a 28-24 lead with 4:36 left in the game, the defense forced a punt just over a minute later. With all their timeouts remaining, South Dakota Mines just needed to stop Truman three times in a row. Truman was faced with a second and 15, on which Huskey ran for nine yards. Then on third and six, quarterback Nolan Hair ran up the middle for seven yards and what was basically a game-sealing first down. For good measure, he ran for another first down three plays later and the Bulldogs ran out the clock from there.

Truman head coach Gregg Nesbitt said that he liked the improved defensive play in the second half and the offense's ability to drive for the lead and finish the game with the ball in their hands.

"Their quarterback, particularly on third down, had his way with us in the first half," he said. "I thought we did a much better job in the second half, kind of broke his rhythm a little bit. I thought the defense played better, and I thought the offense was good all day. Huge job coming out in the second half, coming from behind to take the lead and then finishing the game on their terms with a four-minute drive and the first down. Really good play call by [offensive coordinator] Jason Killday on the third down with the quarterback zone right there, and Nolan made him a good coach, picked up the first."

Truman had a long path to victory on Saturday. South Dakota Mines opened the game with an 83-yard drive that ate nearly half of the first quarter, finishing it with a 13 yard touchdown run from Jalen Frye.

Truman responded on offense, going 81 yards on the ensuing drive before Huskey scored from one yard out to tie the score 7-7. The Hardrockers went back up 14-7 on their next drive when Johannsen hit his top target Ben Noland for a 10-yard touchdown on the first play of the second quarter.

Neither offense had much else going for the next nine minutes or so of the second, but Truman managed to mount another drive, going 61 yards in seven plays and scoring on the first career touchdown from freshman quarterback, and Nolan Hair's brother, Dylan Hair, who ran in from three yards out.

South Dakota Mines threatened to score another touchdown heading into the half, but settled for a 21-yard field goal as time expired, carrying a 17-14 lead into the half.

Johannsen threw for 194 yards in the first half, and the Hardrockers gained a total of 256 yards in the first two quarters. Johannsen was held to just 82 passing yards in the second half, and Truman's defense allowed just 117 total yards after halftime.

Nesbitt said that once the defense was able to get a handle on the Hardrockers' passing game, they were able to hold Johannsen in check.

Truman quarterback Nolan Hair looks to evade a tackler in the game against South Dakota Mines on Sept. 9. ADAM TUMINO

"He's a heck of a player," Nesbitt said. "When you do what we do on defense, it's all about rhythm. Once you break the rhythm, can they get back in it? We couldn't get it broke in the first half. Finally we got one, and he fought good enough to get back into it but never found that sweet spot again."

Truman tallied the first score of the second half with 4:35 left in the third quarter when Nolan Hair wrapped up a 12 play, 81 yard drive with a touchdown on a quarterback sneak from less than a yard out. Truman held its first lead of the day at 21-17, but it would not last long.

Johannsen found Noland in the end zone again with 10:25 left in the game, but Truman would possess the ball for all but one minute and seven seconds of that remaining time with the two drives that ended with Huskey's second touchdown run and Nolan Hair's clutch first down runs.

Truman, thanks to its second-half surge, ended the game with 387 total yards of offense to South Dakota Mines' 373. The Bulldogs obtained the Hardrockers by just over 100 yards on the ground 198 to 97.

Huskey finished the game with 111 rushing yards and two touchdowns on 15 carries while also catching three passes for 66 yards. Tim Johnson Jr. added 10 carries for 61 yards. The Hairs added their pair of rushing touchdowns as well.

Nesbitt said that a successful running game starts up front with blocking, but Huskey and Johnson have continued to emerge as legitimate threats out of the backfield, especially with the absence preseason No. 1 Denim Cook, who missed the game with an injury suffered in week one.

"Well I think our offensive line has played pretty well both weeks, and obviously they played good today against a good front," Nesbitt said. "But our running backs today were better. They're improving quickly. That was probably the most pleasing thing in this game. I thought both those kids belonged, Mason and Tim. We also have a lot of confidence in Jack Butchko, and Gerry Marteen is an accident waiting to happen with his speed for defenses. It's a really good stable of backs right now."

Nolan Hair finished the game 17-of-26 passing for 189 yards while crucially not turning the ball over after throwing a pair of interceptions in week one. Wide receiver Tate Crane had a team high six catches and tied Huskey for the team lead with 66 yards.

Defensively, linebacker Ulysses Ross led the team with 13 total tackles and nine solo tackles while also tying for the team lead with two pass breakups. Thomas Spaulding led the team with two tackles for loss and had the Bulldogs' lone sack of Johannsen on the day.

Truman's next game will be at home against Saginaw Valley State. It will be family day for the Bulldogs and kickoff will be at 2 p.m. Saginaw Valley is off to a 2-0 start with wins of 34-24 and 31-8.

It is another tough non-conference opponent for the Bulldogs, and Nesbitt said going into the season that the team knew its non-conference schedule would be challenging. They have taken things one game at a time so far, and will look to do the same in week three.

"We're pretty simple, and it's an old cliché, but we're just trying to be 1-0," Nesbitt said. "We could be 0-2, we could be 1-1, and we're sitting here 2-0. Hats off to our kids and their preparation."

Milan dominates 2nd half in 36-6 home win over Putnam County

By Adam Tumino

After a relatively close first half, Milan pulled away from rival Putnam County in the second half of the teams' matchup on Friday night. The Wildcats ran their way to a 36-6 win over the Midgets, improving to 2-1 on the season. Putnam County fell to 0-3 with the loss.

Milan head coach Mark Cole said that the team and coaches of course feel good about the result Friday, as they were able to play a sound game on both sides of the ball.

"Any time you can get a 30-point win over your arch rival it's a good day, no matter who you are," he said. "I thought we played really solid football. We weren't perfect, but we played pretty solid football."

On the other side, Putnam County head coach Adam Huse gave credit to Milan's execution and that his team hopes to have a chance to return the favor later on.

"Milan played really, really well," Huse said. "Hopefully we get an opportunity to see these guys again in districts and we're going to hope for a better outcome. But they sure handed it to us tonight."

For much of the first half, however, Putnam County was able to stay well within striking distance.

The Midget defense managed to force a turnover on downs on Milan's first possession, put the offense was held in check on the ensuing drive, which ended in a punt.

Milan took over at their own 19-yard line, and then mounted an 81-yard drive in just over three and a half

Milan quarterback Hunter Reed looks to escape a Putnam County defender in the game on Sept. 8. ADAM TUMINO minutes to take the lead. Quarterback Hunter Reed brought the Wildcats into the red zone with a 28-yard run down to the 16, where Carlos Cotto scored from on the very next play. An offside call against Putnam County on the extra point attempt allowed Milan's Ahmet Niasse to punch the ball into the end zone for the two-point conversion.

Putnam County's offense was able to execute a big play of their own on the first play of their next drive, moving from their own 28-yard line to the Milan 26. Running back Jude Watt scored several plays later, but the two-point try was unsuccessful as Milan held on to an 8-6 lead through the end of the first quarter.

Putnam County got the ball back on an interception early in the second quarter, but had their drive end in a punt. Milan mounted another touchdown drive after that, ending in a 10-yard run from Niasse and taking a 15-6 lead. That would be the score heading into halftime.

Putnam County had the ball to open the second half, but faced with a fourth down and four from their own 28, went for it rather than punting. Milan forced a turnover on downs and scored a few minutes later with another touchdown run from Niasse, this time from nine yards out.

Huse said that the decision to go for it rather than punt was one he regrets, as it allowed Milan to extend their lead to 22-6 and seize the momentum for good.

"I made a really stupid play call," he said. "We should not have gone for it on fourth down there, we should've punted it when it was a close game. Once that kind of momentum shift happened there, we never recovered from it."

Putnam had four more possessions in the game which ended in a punt, turnover on downs and punt before the clock ran out on their final drive of the game.

Milan did not score after the first Putnam County punt, but responded to the turnover on downs with a 31-yard catch and run from Reed to Niasse, who scored his third touchdown of the day to put Milan up 29-6.

Milan took over one more time after the next punt from the Midgets with just over five minutes left in the game. After running about three and a half minutes off the clock, Cheppe Ayala scored from six yard out to put an end to the game's scoring.

Cole praised the performances of his running backs after the game, who had put together an impressive collection of physical plays.

"They're tough kids," he said. "Ahmet Niasse, Cheppe Ayala, Carlos Cotto, Jerson Lopez, they're tough-minded, physical guys. They run that way and they play football that way, and that's why we run hard."

This group often finished off runs by pushing through contact and fighting and churning for extra yards. Huse said that his team had trouble dealing with these runs throughout the game, and bad tackling made trying to win the game a tall task.

"We tackled very poorly," he said. "We were tackling like a junior high football game, and you're not going to win varsity football games when you tackle like junior high kids."

The Midgets will have another challenge ahead in week four when they travel to play Trenton in the second of four-straight road games. Putnam County's first three opponents now have a combined record of 7-2, and Trenton is 3-0 so far.

The Midgets went 9-2 last year, starting 3-0 themselves before falling to Trenton. Huse said that while last year's team managed to find success, this year's team is still looking to fill some gaps and get back to that level.

"Every year is a new year," he said. "We know people are going to be gunning for us because we had a great season last year, but we lost 11 seniors or 12 seniors. Most of these guys, they were part of that team, but they weren't key contributors. Now they have to be key contributors and we've got to get more out of them as coaches. We've got to do a better job to figure out what we can do to get more out of them."

Milan will be looking to get off to a 3-1 start after starting 2-2 each of the last two seasons. After 41-point loss to a strong South Shelby team in the season opener, the Wildcats have now won the last two games by a combined score of 79-12.

Cole said that the team knew the opener would be tough, and since then they have been able to bounce back and take care of business.

"South Shelby is just such a tall mountain to climb, we really kind of thought if we could come out of there healthy it's a positive," he said. "We felt like week two was winnable, and that this was a big game, and if we could get here and be 2-1, healthy, we really would have something going."

Milan will now be working to prepare for a road matchup against a Harrisburg team that should prove to be a tough opponent. The Bulldogs lost their first two games against Cabool and Clark County, both of which are now 3-0 on the season, before beating a winless Marceline team 28-20.

Cole said that Harrisburg's size will be something to prepare for, especially on the offensive line.

"We'll continue to improve our blocking up front and our consistency because Harrisburg is a really big football team," he said. "They've only got 19 on the roster, but they're enormous young men, so that's going to be a challenge."
