REDLINE HARROWS

Redline Harrows have proven the most effective tool in management of a variety of field and surface options such as:
Hay and Pasture Land Management:

Mechanically stimulating hay, pasture and forage land is a proven, cost effective method to improve growth and strength of plant production. Use of the harrow to stimulate the ground will cover open seeds, speeding germination and establishment of new plants. This method is also effective for circulating dead thatch, important for decomposition and increasing speed at which nutrients are released into the soil. Use of a Redline Harrow will maximize the fertilizer benefits of existing droppings by promoting decomposition, aerating the soil, spreading nutrients, and leveling rodent mounds.
