Iola collection heads to museum

IOLA – An Iola resident is bringing his hobby to a Michigan museum later this year.

Bill Lund's display of replicas of military vessels will be featured at the Holland Museum in Holland from Aug. 17 through Sept. 23.

"If you dream it, you can build it," said Lund, a history buff and retired science teacher. "You start with an idea, find something of interest and you're on your way."

He begins with a diagram, blows it up to see how things have to be, scales it and cuts the pieces out of light plywood to make hulls and other parts.

"You just cut away everything that doesn't look like a boat," he said. "After all the pieces are cut out, I put the motor system in."

Batteries are used to power the engines. For some boats, Lund uses a conventional direct current motor designed to run windshield wipers on Chevrolet trucks.

"They are easy and simple and I have used some of them," he said. "The newer motors are out-runner motors. They get you a lot more power."

The building process begins with the use of wood and plastic pieces.

"All of the ships I build have a place in history: the USS Sims, which was the first destroyer lost during the battle at Coral Sea, a LCV landing ship, a World War I sub chaser, Eagle boats, the first ships built by Ford and the USS Ward," Lund said.

His favorite is the Sea Mule.

"It is ugly and not made for speed, but it is grossly powerful," he said.

Each ship is made to scale and is detailed to make it as authentic as possible.

"I use a 3-D printer to create just about anything you can imagine," Lund said. "If you're going to have a cannon, you have to have the ammunition box by the cannon."

More students learn English as second language in Waupaca

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

WAUPACA – A growing number of students in the Waupaca School District are learning to speak English for the first time.

Mark Flaten, the district's director of teaching and learning, spoke to the Waupaca School Board at its Feb. 14 meeting.

Flaten said enrollment has increased between the first student count in September 2022 and the second count in January 2023.

At Waupaca Learning Center, 22 students are English learners (EL). Since September 2022, 15 new students are EL.

At Waupaca Middle School, nine students are EL, with six of them joining the district since September 2022.

Only two EL students attend Waupaca High School and one EL student entered the district since September 2022.

Board member Betty Manion asked if the district could anticipate more EL students attending school in Waupaca.

Steven Thomaschfsky, director of technology and CTE coordinator, said Waupaca will most likely continue to see an increase in EL students.

Thomaschfsky noted that the city has approved a request to build a 96-unit residential facility off State Highway 54, near Waupaca Foundry's Plant 2.

CLINTONVILLE – Excavation work on the aqua park that will be created in Clintonville began on Feb. 20.

The excavation work also included the removal of several stumps on the property.

Justin Mc Auly, director of the Parks & Recreation Department for the city of Clintonville updated the Clintonville City Council on the project at the Feb. 14 council meeting.

At the meeting, he said the estimated completion date for the project is the end of July.

"As long as the weather cooperates," Mc Auly said. "They hope to be done earlier but right now, roughly the end of July is the end date."

Ald. Tammy Strey-Hirt asked if the aqua park would be opened in July after the work is completed.

Mc Auly said the first usage of the park would for ice skating in the winter of 2023-24.

"We'll have a grand opening for swimming in June 2024," Mc Auly said.

Hatten Park proposed to National Register

Committee talks historic designation

BY SCOTT BELLILE
CORRESPONDENT

NEW LONDON – A proposal to submit Hatten Park to the National Register of Historic Places could help secure grants and tax credits for the city's largest outdoor recreation space.

New London Parks Director Ginger Sowle on Feb. 7 encouraged the Parks and Recreation Committee to pursue the National Park Service's honorific designation.

"I think this is really timely right now," Sowle said at the meeting, pointing to upcoming projects to improve Hatten Park's historic stone fence, stadium and shelter restrooms.

City Hall would work with New London Public Museum to apply, presenting research on Hatten Park's history to the State Historic Preservation Officer.

Then the Wisconsin Historic Preservation Review Board would determine whether the site is historically significant enough to advance to the National Park Service for further review.

If successful, Hatten Park would become eligible for state and federal tax credits and grants to be applied toward property repairs and renovations, according to Elizabeth Hilton, National Register coordinator for the Wisconsin Historical Society.

"The work does require pre-approval from the SHPO and the Park Service before the work starts, so all work must meet the Secretary of the Interior's standards, which are just design-sensitive guidelines to help guide you so you can fix up your building in a historic manner," Hilton told the committee.

"Substantial changes" that affect a National Register property's historical character or disturb ground—for example, etching words into stone walls or removing tennis courts—require approval from a compliance officer, Hilton said.

Despite the prospect of such oversight, city council members in attendance appeared receptive to trying for a spot on the National Register.

"It sounds like it's moving New London forward," BaLynda Croy said.

The 120-acre Hatten Park opened in 1936. President Franklin Roosevelt's Work Projects Administration funded the construction project as an employment opportunity for local men during the Great Depression. The estate of local lumberman William Hatten donated $10,000 to the undertaking.

"Not every town has a distinctive park ... from the '30s and '40s," Hilton said.

"You know, it really adds a lot to the character of your town, and it helps to preserve your community's history."

The committee took no action but will revisit the topic if the Hatten Stadium Foundation votes to join City Hall in the effort.

Sites named to the register are eligible for more financial benefits when a nonprofit organization partners with a municipal government than if that government goes at it alone.

New London does not have a site on the National Register yet, but the Park Service is slated to announce its decision on Thern Farm's application this summer.

Let the guessing begin

New London Fish and Game Club members Nick DeShaney and Roger Krueger pull Pete and Joe onto the weakening Wolf River ice Monday, Feb. 20 during an afternoon snow squall. The two manikins in the boat have been New London's official ice out ambassadors for nearly 70 years. When the boat floats out a string pulls a clock and records the official ice out time. Hundreds of locals begin making their guesses as soon as Pete and Joe are out. DeShaney, who put a foot through the ice during Monday's excursion picked an ice out date of March 6. "Definitely in the a.m.," he said as he changed his wet boots. John Faucher Photo

Once complete, the vessels are sealed four times on the inside and out and given three coats of paint.

Several pounds of BBs are placed inside the ships to keep them balanced in the water.

"I have been doing this since 2014 and I haven't been able to stop," Lund said. "It's all about problem solving. You go from a lined drawn picture to a real object that looks like the real thing."

Playing with these ships is just as fun as making them and Lund is looking forward to displaying them at the museum.

"It's one thing to go out to Sunset Lake and play around with them or let a kid play with one, but it is really something to share with a lot more people," he said. "I get to share my stuff. I get to share history."

The display includes a book for most of his ships, artwork and an explanation so people can see where each boat comes from.

Lund also hopes to bring his fleet to the U.S.

Coast Guard Station near Holland.

"I know they will be on duty, but I am sure they would have a ball with them and find it very interesting," he said.

Lund believes this is a way of presenting history so people can understand what happened and the incredible bravery of some of the people that manned these vessels.

"There is a lot of cool history out there and a lot of respect for those people who put their butts on the line in the name of keeping freedom free," he said.

"We'll probably see temporary workers continued," he said.

Laurie Schmidt, the district's director of student services, said Waupaca does not have the numbers of EL students yet where the district will need to offer a dual language program or a teacher who would just teach Spanish-speaking students.

"We would provide supports to those students to really focus on core academic vocabulary," Schmidt said.

Schmidt said the district has compiled a list of bilingual speakers in the community who can help with home visits or transcribing, translating or interpreting any communications that teachers or administrators send home.

Waupaca schools also work with a company out of Clintonville called Bridging Language Barriers.

"They come in and provide support to our families for parent-teacher conferences or IEP meetings," Schmidt said.

Schools also have e-books and software for translating conversations. There's a 3-5 second delay. "It's like we're all in the UN," Schmidt said.

School librarians in Waupaca are ordering bilingual and Spanish books.

The district is also working with Rural virtual

Academy, which provides 30 minutes a day of English as a second language curriculum.

Schmidt said the district is working with Fox Valley Technical College to provide Spanish courses for professionals, as well as English courses for Spanish speakers.

Schmidt said students in Spanish 5 are helping out, as are some of the bilingual students.

Thomaschefskey added that Infinite Campus messages are sent out in English and Spanish.

"We make sure our families feel welcome and supported, that basic needs are met and then we are going to focus on educational services," Schmidt said.

PUBLISHER'S LETTER
Be The Joy

Dear Reader,
Today I want to share just one thought: Be the Joy. It can make the difference in almost everything.

You can spread joy around. You can receive joy. To me, that means putting a smile on your face and going out of your way to say hello to someone. It means putting a spring in your step when you go somewhere. It means having a "giddy up and go get 'em" kind of day. It means looking for the best and the light in everyone. It means seizing each moment with a positive outlook for whatever may come.

Joy. That's something we all want in our lives. But to have it, we've got to live it. So, be the Joy!

Greenway Commission seeks projects

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

COUNTY – The Waupaca County Greenway Commission is looking to provide grants to local efforts that promote silent sports.

The group provides grants for hiking and biking trails and entry or exit sites for canoes or kayaks.

County Planning and Zoning Director Ryan Brown chairs the commission.

Brown said the purpose of the Greenway Commission is to implement recommendations made in the 2018 Waupaca County Bicycle and Pedestrian Plan.

The 43-page plan examined local safety issues for pedestrians and cyclists and how walking and biking routes can attract tourists and new residents.

The commission's grants cover 25% of project costs.

In the past, groups were required to pay for everything in advance, then the county would reimburse them.

Now, the municipality or civic group that is sponsoring the project no longer needs to pay for the entire project in advance.

For a $10,000 project, an organization only needs to pay $7,500.

Brown described the application process as easy and simple.

An online application form is available at Waupaca County's website under Planning and Zoning/Greenway Commission.

Applicants can be government entities or private organizations.

Funded projects include a trail at Whispering Pines and trails and launches in Marion, Weyauwega and Waupaca.

Because its goal is providing a network of trails throughout the county, the commission gives priority to projects that are connected to other trails.

"We try to spread out our awards as best as we possibly can," Brown said.

In 2021, the commission gave $25,929 in grants to four projects.

In addition to the online application, groups will need to make a presentation to the commission, which meets almost monthly.

The commission will start accepting applications on April 3 with a deadline of April 28.

Organizations will present their proposals to the commission in early May.

WAUPACA – The Creative Escape Crafting Retreat House is a new business in Waupaca that offers a clean and quiet place for crafters to get their work done.

It is similar to an artist's or writer's retreat that works as a getaway to finish a painting or to start the first draft of a novel.

In this case, it is for quilters, stitchers, sewers, embroiderers, weavers, knitters, scrapbook makers and other crafters.

The retreat house is owned and operated by Abby Weisenberger of Fremont. She closed on the 1307 Royalton property on Dec. 27, 2022.

It is a brick-exterior house that was built in 1947 and is a block away from Lakemen Field. She said the previous owner took excellent care of the property and very little remodeling was needed.

One key upgrade was electrical. More outlets were added for sewing machines and also more lighting was added, so much lighting that it raised the eyebrows of the electrician.

Weisenberger was adamant: good lighting is essential for a great crafting experience.

Last year her husband was thinking about buying an investment property.

"Well, have I got the idea for you. I brought out my business plan that I put together 15 years ago and said this is what I think we need to do," said Weisenberger.

think much of it but after asking around and talking to other people he realized crafting retreats were a big thing for many people.

Weisenberger has been to several crafting retreats in Wabeno, Black River Falls and in Indiana when she previously lived in southern Wisconsin.

The appeal of a crafting retreat is making peaceful and undisturbed progress on projects as opposed to the start-and-stop interruptions while working at home.

"I've been doing craft activities for over 20 years. I've gone to a lot of retreats in that time. I just absolutely loved it. I would see projects that I like at quilt stores and pretty soon I would have a pile taller than I am. We would go to retreats and that pile would come down. You get energy with other people. If you're here and you're getting tired and you see that other person across from you is still going strong you get a second wind," said Weisenberger.

Accommodation is for eight guests. There are eight beds and eight workstations. Each workstation has a spacious utility table, office chairs, side trays, caddies for drinks and small tools and trash cans underneath for tossing scraps. There is a steam iron and ironing board, a cutting table and design boards.

Guests bring their own materials and tools like sewing machines and knitting hooks.

Weisenberger said she will keep a few basic items on hand for late-night emergencies so guests won't get slowed down because of a snapped needle.

Guests bring their own food and drinks and have use of a fully operational kitchen. No clean up is needed other than running a dishwasher. Wi-Fi is available. Guests are close to downtown for dining and shopping and most importantly, Sew N'Sew, Waupaca's headquarters for sewing and crafting supplies.

There is a patio and a fire pit in the backyard and in the spring they will add some outdoor furniture. They will build a ramp at one doorway so guests can wheel in their crafting supplies. They will also add some more parking spots. Currently there is some parking in front of the detached garage on Stewart Street.

There are rates for weekend rental and for single weekday rental. Also, Creative Escape will host open craft days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for $20 per person. These will be scheduled depending on availability.

No holiday pay for city hall closure

Council changes policy

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – Employees of the city of Clintonville will no longer receive holiday pay when there is an emergency closure of city hall due to inclement weather.

The Clintonville City Council approved re-writing city policy regarding emergency closures to eliminate holiday pay when it met Feb. 14. Ald. Brandon Braden and Ald. Brad Rokus voted against the policy changes.

The policy had been scrutinized by the Clintonville Personnel Committee at its last two meetings. The committee recommended that the council change the policy to exclude holiday pay.

At the Feb. 14 council meeting, City Administrator Caz Muske said after the last closure of city hall in December due to weather, there were concerns about the financial impact because of the policy including holiday pay for city employees.

“Working with department heads, we came together with a common consensus, we then proposed to Personnel (Committee) to clarify and make sure we’re not putting the city in a bad financial position,” Muske said.

Braden said the policy was fairly new, as it was adopted after the massive snowstorm in April 2018.

He said the concern that at that time was city employees were told they couldn’t come to work because city hall was closed.

“Then they were forced, if they wanted to get paid for the day, to use their vacation or personal time, and that sort of thing,” Braden said.

He added that the policy was written so city employees would not have to use their vacation or personal time to get paid when city hall is closed because of inclement weather.

“I’m just a little concerned that we’re now, not even four years later, going to take it out,” Braden said.

Muske said that is a concern, and that it was discussed.

“There was some concern with internal disgruntledness, you could say, with those that did not have to come into work were still getting holiday pay,” Muske said. “So, that was the main concern, was those that had to respond for ice, for snow removal. And then there were those that didn’t have to come in at all, but yet they were still considered holiday (pay).”

Clintonville Utility Manager Dave Tichinel said after talking with his staff, they indicated they wanted to come to work that day.

“They didn’t want to be at home,” Tichinel said. “They knew they could get in. They wanted to come in. And they wanted to work.”

New Clintonville Utility building planned

Armory building to be razed

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – The city of Clintonville and Clintonville Utility have a plan to demolish the Armory building on 12th Street and construct a new building for Clintonville Utility.

At its Feb. 14 meeting, the council gave unanimous approval for the city to sell the property to Clintonville Utility for $30,000 with the stipulation that the Utility is responsible for the cost to raze the Armory.

The council also approved hiring Keller Inc. to do engineering work for the new building with the cost not to exceed $400,000. This approval was also unanimous.

Dave Tichinel, manager of Clintonville Utility, said it will be a “lengthy” process to build a new building.

“I got about a 200-page PSC application that they have to approve for the Utilities to build this,” Tichinel said. “That’s about a six-to-eight-month process. We’ll be starting that after tonight.”

Because of the approvals needed, Tichinel said there isn’t an exact timeline for the construction project.

Tichinel said the skatepark currently located on the property will need to be relocated.

City Administrator Caz Muske told the council that the city will work with the Clintonville Lions Club to find an alternative site for the skatepark.

“We have a couple of ideas that we’re going to continue working closely (with the Lions) because they were a big donor, facilitator of that park for the city, so we’re going to make sure we work closely with them to make sure that we continue that facility, just in a different location,” Muske said.

Demolition of Armory

Tichinel said it will cost roughly $200,000 to demolish and remove the Armory.

He added that an asbestos study will need to be conducted to determine how much asbestos is in the building and how to remove it properly.

The cost to remove the Armory is figured into the amount of the loan Clintonville Utility will obtain for the new building project. Tichinel said 60% of the project will be funded by the electric utility and 40% by the water utility.

Building specifications

When the new building is constructed, Tichinel said it will be reinforced because the goal is to add a solar system to the building in the future to cut the cost of electric power the utility has to purchase from itself.

“The goal of this entire project is to centralize the utility into a single location to help efficiencies and the safety within the facility,” Devin Flanigan, construction manager for Keller Inc., told the council.

Flanigan said the building will be built in a way that if the city grows, there is room for expansion in the building for the city’s utilities.

“I would say this is a very efficient, cost-effective building,” Flanigan said.

It will be a single-story building, but will have a mezzanine to be used for storage.

The new building will be a steel structure with a metal roof.

Once the building is constructed, Clintonville Utility employees will continue to utilize the parking lot at its current building, which is across the street from where the new building will be constructed, Tichinel said.

“As you can see at the other building, we do have a parking lot already,” Tichinel said. “And even in the front there are a couple spots. That parking lot will not go away. The workers will still keep parking there.”

Once the construction of the new building is completed, the current Utility building will be used for cold storage.

Tichinel said the design is meant to make the building as “maintenance friendly” as possible. To help with this, there are only two main doors for the building.

Since the building will be constructed in a residential area, Tichinel said he is concerned about the building’s outside appearance.

“I want it to look good in that neighborhood,” Tichinel said. “I want the residents around there to be proud of what they’re seeing.”

Real estate transaction

For Clintonville Utility to obtain financing for building on the site of the Armory, the Utility needs to own the property. The council approved the transfer of $30,000 from Clintonville Utility to the city of Clintonville for the Utility to purchase the property.

At the Feb. 13 Clintonville Finance Committee meeting, Ald. Tammy Strey-Hirt asked how the value of the property was determined.

Muske said Tichinel worked with Joe O’Connor and the city’s assessor regarding the assessment value of the property.

“We just got the assessment for the building, knowing it had to be torn down, we actually got an assessment of what that property would be worth,” Tichinel said. “The way they did it, is what the building would be worth if the city sold it on the open market, and that’s what they came up with.”

Engineering services

The council also approved hiring Keller Inc. for engineering services, with the cost not to exceed $400,000.

Ald. Jim Supanich said engineering drawings need to be submitted to the PSC as part of the approval process.

The engineering services would be paid for with proceeds from the sale of revenue bonds.

Muske reminded the council that the city worked with Keller for the initial study for a new utility building.

“We are moving forward with the engineering at the council’s discretion, and once we get to the construction portion, it will be bid out,” Muske said. “I want to clarify that, that we will do competitive bidding for that portion.”

Waste drop-off could cost residents

BY SCOTT BELLILE
CORRESPONDENT

NEW LONDON – A fee to dispose of yard waste at the city drop-off site may be needed to crack down on non-residents dumping illegally, New London Public Works Director Robert Garske said.

The Board of Public Works failed to reach a consensus on implementing an annual cost and tabled the matter Feb. 6.

Garske proposed charging $10 the first year for a sticker registered to a vehicle and a key card to the gate on Werner-Allen Road, then $5 in subsequent years to renew. This two-step verification system would make sharing access with nonpayers challenging, he said.

Access could be free to all residents following a major storm, Garske said.

Locally, Greenville, Little Chute and Kimberly charge annual fees, according to Garske.

“I’m not out to make and create a bunch of revenue for this site,” Garske said. “I’m just finding a way to curb some of the costs of trying to monitor it and keep the influx of material coming from outside the city.”

Shutting out nonresidents is necessary because the city pays a contractor, DTAK, at least $70,000 per year to haul away truckloads of waste, Garske said. The cost climbs the more non-taxpayers use the drop-off site.

“I think at some point in time we have to try to curb this ... and if we aren’t going to raise taxes or something, we’re going to have to cut [free usage] down to provide that service to the people,” Board Chair Mike Barrington said.

“I think this is going to be a real pain in the butt, and we’re going to take a lot of flak from it,” board member Tim Roberts said of the proposal.

He said first try more cameras and signage threatening tickets to nonresidents, then charge next year if the issue persists.

Enforcement is tough because city staff must review security footage and get the police involved, City Administrator Chad Hoerth said.

Hoping to curb abuse, the city had moved the drop-off site to the wastewater treatment plant from Floral Hill Cemetery.

“We had a camera up there, and we couldn’t control it, and so we went to one central location that can be more watched and eliminate some problems,” Mayor Mark Hertler said, “but we know we still have an overuse problem.”

How a membership system would affect town of Mukwa residents would be determined. Mukwa contracts with New London for its residents to legally use the site. That contract is up for renewal.

NEW LONDON - The 53rd Annual Mid-Winter Art Show at Crystal Falls on Feb. 11-12 exhibited 330 pieces of artwork, up 90 from last year.

Professional, non-professional, and student artists submitted pieces in three categories: 2-dimensional, 3-dimensional and photography. Budding Artists under the age of 10 had their own display area.

More than 400 people attended the show each day. They viewed the making of an ice sculpture, glass blowing, wool spinning and wood carving at the show.

Students perform “Clue” this weekend

WEYAUWEGA - The 1985 cult film “Clue” will be presented on stage this weekend at the Weyauwega-Fremont High School Performing Arts Center.

Based on the Paramount film and the Hasbro board game, the stage show is adapted from the screenplay.

The Weyauwega-Fremont Drama Department will present “Clue: On Stage” at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24-25, and 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 26.

The show is described as a “murder-mystery comedy thriller” that follows six guests at a dinner party where they find themselves implicated as murder suspects when their host turns up dead.

Wadsworth, the butler, leads Mrs. Peacock, Mr. Green, Colonel Mustard, and other guests attempt to find the killer as the body count builds.

Following in the footsteps of the film, the project bills itself as a “comedy whodunit.”

“Our students have been working so hard on this production. A lot of them have been pushed out of their comfort zones and are really growing theatrically,” said director Molly Suehs.

Tickets are $7 and may be purchased at the door or by calling (920) 867-8965 or going to <https://our.show/wfsd/clue>.

National FFA Week

National FFA Week is Feb. 18-25. Each year, FFA chapters across the country celebrate National FFA Week. It’s a time to share what FFA is and the impact it has on members and the community every day.

The WF FFA plans to celebrate Tuesday through Friday as Monday there is no school because of President’s Day. The students have various dress-up days planned, a pizza party and a teacher and staff appreciation party with ice cream.

11 students inducted into NHS

The Weyauwega-Fremont Chapter of the National Honor Society held its induction ceremony for new members at 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 30 in the W-F Performing Arts Center.

Selection was based on scholarship, service, leadership and character.

of some famous landmarks and found the secret door to the Milwaukee Safe House. Once inside they had dinner in the Newsroom, the headquarters of the Milwaukee Press Club.

Quiz Bowl team to defend title

The Quiz Bowl team is heading to the championships for the second year in a row. They will take on Manawa on March 1 to defend their title.

Last year, the team had an undefeated season and won the CWC championships. The team is undefeated again this year but will take on Manawa who is also undefeated.

“This is going to be one great match,” said coach Molly Suehs. “These kids are seriously amazing; I don’t know how they know some of these questions.”

The team has one more regular season match against Iola-Scandinavia, but regardless of the outcome Weyauwega-Fremont will continue to the finals which will be hosted by Weyauwega.

FFA speakers move to sectionals

On Feb. 6, Weyauwega-Fremont FFA members participated in leadership development events at Oshkosh North High School and competed in the district speaking contests. The categories were in prepared speaking, parliamentary procedure, creed speaking, extemporaneous, job interview and discussion.

Four candidate seek three spots on Iola Village Board

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – Four candidates will face off for three seats on the Iola Village Board.

On the ballot for the Tuesday, April 4, election are incumbents Jim Rasmussen and Rick Meyers; Shannon Dane; and Aaron Messier. Pamela Parks is not seeking re-election.

Rasmussen

Rasmussen has served on the board for 26 years and is the chairman of the Personnel Committee. He also serves on the Finance, Police, Board of Review, Planning Commission/Zoning committees; the Library Board; and the Community Development Authority Board.

Increasing the quality of life for village residents is the biggest problem the board faces, Rasmussen said.

“Over the past 15 years, the state-shared revenue has dropped about 15%, making residents pay a great portion of the tax bill,” he said. “The State of Wisconsin must at least keep up with inflation with shared revenue. I will be contacting Rep. Kevin Petersen regarding this issue.”

Rasmussen feels he is the best person for the job.

“I have enjoyed the years I have served on the board,” he said. “We have a number of issues to deal with in the future. I would like to be a part of that future. I have always tried to do what is best for Village of Iola residents and will continue to do so if re-elected.”

Rasmussen is retired. He and his wife Barb have one son and two grandchildren.

Meyers

Meyers has lived in Iola for six years.

“I have been on the village board about two years,” he said. “I serve on the Park Committee, Ordinance Committee and Dog Park Committee.”

The biggest issue facing the board is the changing times, according to Meyers.

“We as a country seem to be split,” he said. “We all have to be more open minded to residents’ ideas. I can help by listening to both sides and coming to an equitable solution. I want to work hard to finish projects we started like the dog park,” he said.

Meyers is retired and does lawn care and handyman work.

Dane

Dane moved to Iola in 2016, along with her husband Dan and their son and she has taken the time to get to know the community.

“I have been the chief inspector for elections since 2020 and have had the privilege to meet and get to know the people in our community,” she said.

“In my time with the Iola Library, I created a ‘public square’ of ideas, concerns and interests to be heard and voiced.”

Dane said her greatest asset is to listen to people to create an informed ability to promote their wants, desires and needs to the board.

“There are many areas of concern that our village board is facing, including single-issue challenges of the sand mine and updating our ordinances,” she said. “In conjunction with the Lake Authority, the use/utilization of the mill pond, enhancing infrastructure to support a potential gig economy, increasing our tax base while maintaining our identity of what makes Iola an attractive place to live, creating a vitalized community that goes beyond ‘car show’ and Independence Day activities and supporting our current local businesses without over-interference from the government.”

Dane said her ability to understand the will of the people and effectively express that will is how she will help the board solve these problems.

“The key to governing is doing so with the consent of the people,” she said. “I intend to do just that.”

Dane said she and her family are invested in the Iola community.

“I care deeply about this community or I would not be seeking the support of the residents to be their voice and represent them on the Board,” she said. “I have an analytical and creative mind allowing me to problem solve effectively and efficiently. My empathy to promote the passion of our community and its people allows me to be a very effective representative. I have no agenda other than what is best for us now and in the future.”

Messier

Messier and his wife have lived in Iola for two years. He currently works at Skyward in Stevens Point, where he is a customer success representative.

“It has really given me a lot of leadership skills, problem-solving skills and presentation skills,” he said. “I deal with our customers each day over the phone and sometimes in person, so it has really helped me develop strong people skills. Using these skills, I am able to listen to a concern and carefully evaluate a problem in order to help come up with solutions.”

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point with a double major in political science and public administration, Messier said his educational background in how policies are made, how municipalities of various sizes operate and how local government works is his greatest asset.

“Although I may not have practical experience in a position like this, I think this background could really help to bring something new to the table,” he said.

He said the board should engage the community more.

“I would like to see more residents attending village board meetings and have a chance to be involved in the process,” Messier said. “In the event that we are not getting feedback from the residents on certain topics, I would like to be able to explore, as a group, how we can better get community engagement on a topic.”

“I will do my best to engage with community members that I meet and encourage them to attend the meetings so that they can be aware of what is happening,” he said. “I feel it’s important that the community has a voice in what is going on.”

If elected, Messier said he will bring forward a lot of fresh ideas and perspectives that he hopes will really help stimulate conversations that will be ongoing.

It’s Rib Fest time again

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – The Iola-Scandinavia softball team will host its 18th annual Rib Fest dinner.

Meals will be served from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, March 5, at Silver Lake Lanes in Scandinavia.

Dine-in and carry-out dinners will be available. The cost is $30 for a full rack.

“Unfortunately, we again had to raise our dinner price due to overall price increases in all our dinner supplies,” coach Tom Anderson said. “We again will use the same rib we used last year: a precooked smoked St. Louis-style pork spare rib. The response we got from last year’s ribs were excellent.”

All dinners will be served in to-go containers. Besides a full rack of ribs, the menu also includes a baked potato, baked beans, coleslaw, fresh bread and a chocolate brownie dessert.

“We would highly recommend purchasing your tickets in advance,” Anderson said. “We served just over 400 dinners each of the past few years, which is very close to selling out.”

Tickets can be purchased from any softball player or coach or at Silver Lake Lanes. Tickets are also available by calling 715-445-2411, ext. 5000, and leaving a message or by emailing Anderson at andersont@iola.k12.wi.us.

Money raised will help fund the team’s spring training trip to Disney World this year.

“This trip has proven to be a fantastic opportunity to practice, play games and build team chemistry at first-rate athletic fields and amusement park facilities in sunny, warm weather,” Anderson said. “We greatly appreciate the support the communities of Iola and Scandinavia and the surrounding areas have shown to our Rib Fest dinner and to our softball program.”

Lions seeking donations for I-S post-prom party

IOLA – The Iola Lions Club has begun preparations for the 27th annual Iola-Scandinavia Post-Prom Party.

This year’s party will be held after prom on Saturday, May 6, through early morning on Sunday, May 7.

“Each year, we sponsor a safe, fun, alcohol-free event to give our young people a safe alternative to other post-prom activities,” organizer Diana Jones said. “We hire entertainment, serve refreshments, provide games and fun and give away over 100 prizes ranging from a television, laptop, headphones or tablets to movie rentals and gift certificates.”

More than 120 students attend the event each year.

Students stay until the end of the event at 3:30 a.m. because they have the chance to win prizes. “We are convinced that this activity helps keep our young people away from parties where alcohol may be served and that it provides a safe alternative our students truly enjoy,” Jones said.

The club is seeking donations for prizes for the 2023 event.

“Cash donations, gift certificates and/or coupons are very much appreciated,” Jones said. “If you have a product that teenagers are interested in, we would be happy to include your product among the prizes. The

Comedy show coming to Manawa

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA – Fish Sticks Comedy will perform at 6 p.m. Thursday, March 2, at St. Paul Lutheran School in Manawa to celebrate Lutheran Schools Week.

The performance will be held in the gymnasium at the school, located at 750 Depot St.

“We celebrate Lutheran Schools Week at St. Paul every year during the first week in March,” Principal Brian Elmhorst said.

“St. Paul is a wonderful family-oriented school that strives to provide children with a well-rounded education that supports them mentally, emotionally and spiritually.”

Fish Sticks Comedy is one of the largest, always-all-age-appropriate improv comedy teams in the United States, according to Elmhorst.

“Their commitment to doing squeaky-clean improv has been a constant,” he said. “This never-cross-the-line, all-age-appropriate, high-energy, improvisational approach has led them to broaden their base to corporate workshops, events, clubs and much more.”

Everyone is welcome and admission is free.

“I hope that the audience will have a wonderful evening with their families enjoying an entertaining, family-friendly environment,” Elmhorst said. “Laughing is good for everyone.”

Okreglicki, Jozef

Jozef Okreglicki, 88 of Stevens Point, WI died peacefully on February 15, 2023 at Aspirus Hospital in Stevens Point, WI surrounded by his family.

Jozef was born on February 28, 1934, in Lodz, Poland. While in Poland, Jozef attended college, was a soldier in the Polish military and worked as a Coal Mine engineer.

Jozef married the love of his life, Teresa Konopacki in September, 1960 and within a few years, he received sponsorship allowing him to travel to the US. He left his family and beloved Poland behind to chase the American dream. After four years of working and saving, he was able to bring his wife and two children to America, immigrating and settling in Chicago, IL.

While in the United States, Jozef worked diligently, arriving with almost nothing in his pockets, and with no grasp of the English language. He set forth to work any job that he could get and little by little, he and his wife saved enough to purchase houses and restore them to habitable condition.

Jozef and Teresa traveled to WI and fell in love with the Waupaca community, moving to Sheridan, WI in 1972. He worked happily at Worzalla Publishing, where he was surrounded by Polish speaking coworkers. In 1996, they moved to Stevens Point, WI to be near their son, Jerzy (George) and his family until his death.

Jozef was very involved in the Stevens Point Dozynki celebration through the years, often seen carrying the Polish flag and wearing the traditional Polish National attire. He and Teresa would encourage their family and others with Polish heritage to join in and share the pride of Poland. One of his proudest moments was having four generations clothed in Polish attire at the altar of St Stephen Church during the Dozynki Polka mass. As members of St. Peter Catholic Church, you would often see Jozef and Teresa carry the vessels for Holy Communion. Jozef enjoyed attending the local Panacea each year, loved Polka music, wearing colorful Hawaiian shirts and shorts, watching soccer, and especially loved the Green Bay Packers.

Jozef and Teresa spent numerous years making fun memories camping and fishing with their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren as well as traveling to Canada, FL, IL and MN. He loved it when family and friends would visit and always had a contagious smile on his face. He will be greatly missed.

Jozef is preceded in death by his parents, Stanislaw and Helena, two brothers and son Marusch. He is survived by his loving wife Teresa of 63 years, daughter Basia, (Barbara) Napiwocki and Scott Nelson, Prior Lake, MN, son Krzysztof Janusz and Cheryl Okreglicki, Chenoa, IL/Stevens Point, WI and son Jerzy (George) and Heidi Okreglicki, Waupaca/Fremont, WI. Seven Grandchildren, Nicole (Tyler) Geraghty, Alex Napiwocki, Corissa (Tyler) Clark, Jennifer (Nick Hibbard) Okreglicki, Katherine, Ashlyn and Amber Okreglicki. Seven Great Grandchildren, Teegan, Remington, Ben, Kaidyn, Caspyan, Everleigh and Huxleigh. Jozef is also survived by his brother Marion in Poland.

Jozef, "Odpocznij z Jezusem" (Rest with Jesus) Mass of Christian Burial for Jozef will be at 10:30 A.M. Monday, February 27, 2023 at St. Peter's Catholic Church. Rev. Arul Joseph Visvasam officiating. Burial will follow in the Guardian Angel Cemetery. Visitation will be from 9:00 A.M. Monday morning at the St. Faustina Room of St. Peter's Church until the time for Mass.

Coulter, George

George Coulter, age 88, passed away sleeping peacefully at Our House Senior Living Facility, in Cambridge, WI, on February 16, 2023. He was born in Chicago on October 17, 1934, the son of the late Eugene and Janie / Jennie (Harden) Coulter. On January 14, 1954, he married his wife of 69 years, Shirley Denham.

George lived with his mother his first 2 year of life. After she died in 1936, he lived with his oldest sister Lillian for two years before becoming a ward of Cook County, Illinois where he lived for nearly four years at the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society Orphanage. When George was nearly eight years old he moved to the Glenwood School for Boys until he graduated Bloom Township High School in 1953. At the Glenwood School for Boys, George won the coveted White Bible due to his extensive knowledge of the Bible. He was, according to his telling, the person responsible for the sinking of the Sunken Garden on the Boy School grounds.

George went into the Army in 1954 and was eventually stationed in Tokyo, Japan, in the 29th Engineer Battalion as a Specialist 4 in 1955. When George was discharged from the army he enrolled in the Illinois State Teachers College. Eventually he moved the family to Holbrook, IL, where he served on the volunteer fire department. George became a science teacher and principal at the Thornton, Illinois School District before moving to Glenwood, Illinois. In 1968 they all moved to New London, WI, where he taught 9th grade science until retirement in 1992.

During his time as a science teacher he made science accessible and fun with experiments such as his annual egg drop off the top of Washington Junior High and the possibly not quite legal launching of a weather balloon as an all school project. After retiring, he and Shirley co-authored a series of science books for children, gave science shows called "Flash, Bang, and a puff of Smoke" at elementary schools, and taught teachers how to make science classes fun at the Wisconsin Academy System. He and Shirley moved to Cambridge, WI, in 2001 where George relaxed by painting landscapes, wood carving, playing with his dog Pepper, hiking, and reading.

George is survived by his wife, Shirley; children: Holly (Dan), Mark (Marcia), Brian, and Victoria; grandchildren: Ann, Patrick, Jason, and Jarrod; great grandchildren: Sage, Indigo, Finnley, Olive, Kade, Madelyn, Malia and Riley. He was preceded in death by his parents; brothers and sisters: Eugene, Lillian, Joseph, Paul, Warren, Ruth, Jewell, Charles, James, and Frank; and great grandson Sierra.

A visitation will be held at Nitary Funeral Home in Cambridge, WI, on February 28, 2023, from 11:00am to 1:00pm. In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to Cambridge Public Library, Dane County Humane Society, or the charity of your choice.

The family expresses a special thank you to the staff at Our House Assisted Living in Cambridge, Wisconsin, and to all the wonderful people at Promedica Hospice.

JOINT SCHOOL DISTRICT OF WAUPACA BOARD OF EDUCATION AND CHAIN EXPLORATION CENTER GOVERNANCE COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES February 1, 2023 – 5:30 p.m. Pursuant to the regulations, a joint meeting of the School District of Waupaca Board of Education and Chain Exploration Center Governance Council was held on the above date in the Waupaca High School Community Room and live streamed via YouTube. The purpose of the Board Meeting Minutes is to capture the essence of discussions through the actions voted on. These minutes should not be interpreted to represent a transcription of the meeting. To watch a recording of this meeting, please click here. Call to Order: The meeting was called to order by School Board President Stephen Johnson at 5:30 p.m. Present in the WHS Community Room: Stephen Johnson, Dale Feldt, Steve Klismet, Molly McDonald, Patrick Phair, Betty Manion, and Ron Brooks. Also Present: Present in the WHS Community Room: Ron Saari, Saari Lucas, Mark Flaten, Carrie Naparalla, and Chain Exploration Center Governance Council members Megan Sanders, Sandy Robinson, and Terra Morris. Approval of Agenda: A motion was made by Dale Feldt and seconded by Steve Klismet to approve the agenda as presented. The motion carried unanimously on a voice vote. Review of SDW Board Meeting Norms: The Board reviewed their collective commitments. Schedule Future Meetings: Board President Stephen Johnson advised that we will begin with scheduling future meetings. He added we also need to determine how to structure the group – do we want it to be the full Board and full Governance Council (GC) or representatives of both on a committee. He reminded everyone that per the motion that was passed, we have an existing contract for a year while we work on a new one so there is no absolute timeline, but we are to meet at least twice a month. He also emphasized that these will be open meetings so anyone who wants to attend can do so whether or not they're on the committee. Several Board and GC members suggested that we don't schedule any meetings on Wednesday nights, and Board member Dale Feldt advised he cannot attend Tuesdays before 3 p.m. It was also suggested that a consistent day and time be set. Mr. Johnson advised that if we meet as a Board as a whole, some Board members work during the day so the meetings would have to be at 5:30 p.m. or later, however, if we form a committee, the meetings may be held earlier. The GC advised that meetings during the day would work best for most of their members as they have children in school. Several Board members felt that forming a committee would move things along faster, and that this group would then report to their respective Board/Council. The GC was asked if they have a charter school that they look up to as being the gold standard. They advised that they have found that there are a lot of pieces from several different schools that they like, but they don't have one in particular. CEC Principal Carrie Naparalla added that she is now encouraging staff to visit other charter schools to see how they compare. Board member Steve Klismet recommended that a committee of four members each from the Board and GC be formed. Board President Johnson then advised we will proceed with appointment of a committee unless there are any objections – there were none. He added that we will attempt to keep the meetings to an hour and a half at the most, but cautioned that depending on the subject matter of the discussion happening at the time, the meeting could go longer. A suggestion was made that perhaps one of the monthly meetings could be held just prior to the Board's regular monthly meetings on the second Tuesday of every month at 3:45 p.m., and perhaps the second monthly meeting could be held on Fridays around the GC's regular monthly meetings. Much discussion then ensued regarding possible meeting days and times. It was suggested that since the Board is a little more flexible with scheduling and could probably work around the GC's availability, the GC will take this back to their members for further discussion. It was also suggested that perhaps it would be best to determine first who was going to be on the committee and then determine meeting days/times. Board members Betty Manion, Dale Feldt, and Steve Klismet expressed their interest in serving on the committee, with Stephen Johnson attending as Board President, along with District Administrator Ron Saari and Director of Teaching and Learning Mark Flaten. Mr. Klismet requested that Dale Feldt be appointed the leader of the committee and there were no objections. However, it was pointed out that Mr. Feldt may have a possible conflict of interest. But Mr. Feldt advised that based on his discussions with Mr. Johnson and Mr. Saari, it was determined that there was none, although he may have to recuse himself from certain topics of discussion on occasion. The GC advised they will get back to the Board with their committee candidates. The committee will present a report at the regular monthly Board meetings just like any other committee, and the committee meetings will be posted as usual so anyone can attend. Board member Betty Manion advised she will provide a link to all the Board members of the NACSA Principles and Standards for their review as authorizer. The Board and GC members ultimately determined that the next meeting with the committee members from both groups will be scheduled for 3:45 p.m. on Tuesday, February 14, 2023, in the WHS Community Room (just prior to the Board's regular monthly meeting). At that time, the GC will advise of its committee members and possible meeting days/times. Board President Johnson then advised that the other items on tonight's agenda should be determined by the newly-formed committee members. Adjournment: A motion was made by Dale Feldt and seconded by Steve Klismet to adjourn the meeting at 6:14 p.m. The motion carried unanimously on a voice vote. Communications:

Mr. Saari advised that this week is Adult School Crossing Guard Recognition Week.
District Administrator's Report:
Mr. Saari provided the timetable and calendar of events related to the facility safety projects.
To support our students with autism, Mr. Saari advised that a new special education teacher (emphasis in autism) position has been created and posted on WECAN. This new position has not been budgeted for so it will be coming before the Personnel Committee at its upcoming meeting. Director of Student Services Laurie Schmidt fielded questions and added that this position will require cross categorical licensure in special education and will support the increasing number of K-4 students at the WLC who are on the autism spectrum with significant needs such as communication, academics, and self regulation.
Mr. Saari reminded the Board of the upcoming WABS Convention next week in Milwaukee and advised he will be attending one of the pre-convention workshops. He advised there is also a convention guide and an app that they can download as well. In addition, he shared that the Board has been invited to attend a dinner Wednesday evening which is being hosted by several vendors, and he inquired if they would also want to get together informally Thursday evening.
Mr. Saari advised that the Board will need to complete the WABS School Perceptions annual board self-evaluation this year. Finally, he advised there were no changes from last month's update from the Grant Writer.
Monitoring:
School District of Waupaca Financial Audit:
David Minch from the independent audit firm of KerberRose CPAs advised that they reviewed the financial statements, practices, and procedures of the District. The District received a clear opinion, which is the highest level they can provide, adding that they had no concerns regarding the required supplemental or other supplemental information provided.
Mr. Minch then went through and highlighted certain areas of the audit report. He commented that the Balance Sheet is basically how the District budgets throughout the year and it indicates that overall the District had a very strong year. In addition, the General Fund is in a strong financial position, and Fund 50 also had a strong year.
Mr. Minch shared the management letter which indicates corrected and uncorrected misstatements this year. This included a reminder that the District has to have an actuary study done (which is required every two years). There were no other matters of concern. He also commented that the DPI encourages districts to spend down Fund 50, which can be done by purchasing equipment.
Mr. Minch advised the Board that, in his opinion, the District is in a very strong financial position, has no debt, and everything is budgeted for. He added that the last few pages of the audit report are required to be reported - that the District contracts with the auditor and the audit is completed to be sure that the District is consistent with government accounting standards. He also advised that they will work with the District to lower the number of journal entries, and that they did not find any noncompliances.
Chain Exploration Center Financial Audit:
Mr. Minch then summarized the financial statements of the CEC. It also has a clear, unmodified opinion and no proposed corrected misstatements. He stated that the CEC had a consistent year.
Mr. Minch advised that the School District of Waupaca and Chain Exploration Center audits were automatically submitted to the state.
Budget Update/Review, including Grants:
Director of Business Services Assistant/Accountant Carol Beyer-Makuski provided a budget update indicating where we are at currently regarding Fund 10 expenses compared with prior years. She also shared a listing of the various grants that will be used to supplement the budget, some of which are new this year. She also advised that with the exception of the ESSER III grant, everything will be claimed in full. The remaining funds in the ESSER III grant will be used to cover the second year of the two year contracts for two interventionists, one data analyst, and one high school dean of students.
Food Service Update:
Food Service Director Dar Pflugardt provided a financial comparison of the past few years of Fund 50, noting that the correct balance for 2022-2023 to date is $359,234. She also shared a comparison of the meal reimbursement amounts for the last few years and noted that this year we have received approximately half of what we received last year. She advised that the Food Service Department is doing better than years previous to Covid and the supply chain issues are improving.
Ms. Pflugardt advised that the first step in calculating meals per labor hour (MPLH) is to determine meal equivalency. MPLH is used to evaluate the program and is an industry standard of measuring success. She then shared the MPLH for the District as a whole as well as for each school. She noted that the MPLH does not include any administrative hours. Ms. Pflugardt advised that the District is within industry standards at all of the schools except the CEC, but the CEC is OK. Knowing that we need to spend down Fund 50, Ms. Pflugardt advised that they could use two new dishwashers (one at both the CEC and WLC). She would also like a 6 burner gas range and blenders are needed as well. But she cautioned that the fund balance can drop quickly.
Administration:
Rural Virtual Academy Continuation:
Director of Teaching and Learning Mark Flaten reminded the Board that we are currently an Affiliate Partner of the Rural Virtual Academy (RVA) and that Administration is recommending that the District become an Invested Partner beginning with the 2023-2024 school year and continuing through the 2027-2028 school year. He added that belonging to the RVA benefits our students by providing them with more course options. He further advised that being an Invested Partner lowers our costs through a longer term commitment, and provides us some flexibility which helps us to retain staff FTE, especially in light of declining enrollment.
Mr. Flaten advised that we currently have 13 students enrolled in RVA full time and another 60 students taking individual classes. The 60 students work through their school counselors and are taking classes more aligned with their academic and career plans. Currently, as an Affiliate Partner, the District spends approximately $6,400 per full time open enrolled out student and as an Invested Partner it would be approximately $3,379.

A motion was made by Dale Feldt and seconded by Ron Brooks to approve the School District of Waupaca becoming an Invested Partner with Rural Virtual Academy as presented. The motion carried unanimously on a roll call vote.
Open Enrollment Limits:
Director of Student Services, Laurie Schmidt, advised that this is a standardized report which is required in January setting forth the limits for open enrollment which begins the first week in February. She shared the District's availability of space in each of the grade levels/schools for the 2023-2024 school year.
Ms. Schmidt advised that the District has sufficient spaces in regular education to accommodate non-resident open enrollment applications for regular education programs for the 2023-2024 school year. She also advised that based on the current number of students and caseloads of staff in special education, the District is full and there are no spaces available for non-resident open enrollment applications for special education programs for the 2023-2024 school year.
A motion was made by Patrick Phair and seconded by Betty Manion to approve the recommendation regarding spaces available for non-resident open enrollment applications for the 2023-2024 school year for regular education as presented. The motion carried unanimously on a roll call vote.

A motion was made by Dale Feldt and seconded by Steve Klismet to approve the agenda as presented. The motion carried unanimously on a voice vote.
Discussion of the "Chain Exploration Center Charter School Contract":
Board President Stephen Johnson

advised that the purpose of this meeting is to determine whether we are moving forward or not moving forward with a contract for the Chain Exploration Center (CEC). As previously advised by CEC Principal Carrie Naparalla, they need a determination from the Board because enrollment notices go out soon to families. If we decide to move forward, we will look for next steps, but will not be getting into the specifics of the contract at this time.
Board member Dale Feldt then read a statement he had prepared stressing the importance of the need for trust among the School Board, Administrative team staff, and the community. He added we need to build positive relationships, in particular between the Administrative team and the Governance Council; it takes time and effort from everyone. Mr. Feldt proposed that we continue to operate the CEC under the current contract for one year. During this time we will meet a minimum of at least twice a month to develop a new contract that is a collaborative work with the School Board of Waupaca, the Governance Council, and the Superintendent of the School District. Upon completion of this contract, the School Board will grant the CEC Governance Council with a two year rolling contract.
Mr. Feldt made it clear that he does not support shutting down the CEC. He advised that it is important that the Governance Council, the Administrative team, and the School Board work out any differences and create a contract that is not rushed. While working on this contract together we can build a working relationship for years to come that is built on collaboration, communication, compassion, clarity, competency, commitment, contribution, and connections. We must intentionally work together to build this trust. Therefore, our teachers won't have to worry if they will have a job and our community will know that the school will exist.
A motion was made by Dale Feldt and seconded by Steve Klismet to continue to operate the CEC for one year under the current contract. During this time, we will meet a minimum of at least twice a month to develop a new contract that is a collaborative work with the School Board of Waupaca, the Governance Council of the CEC, and the Superintendent of the School District. But it cannot go more than a year. If it gets done earlier, then we can at that point issue a new contract. Thereafter, the School Board will grant the CEC Governance Council with a two year rolling contract.
Much discussion then ensued. Many of the Board members liked Mr. Feldt's motion, adding that they really liked the idea of a rolling contract because it alleviates the staff from being fearful of losing their jobs.
Board member Patrick Phair suggested amending the motion regarding meeting twice a month for a year to twice a month until a contract is reached in case there is an agreement reached earlier. Board member Ron Brooks wants to see the grooming of the next generation of Governance Council members so when their kids leave the CEC we don't lose the structure there.
Board member Betty Manion suggested that a one year contract could cause some enrollment concerns as families would be fearful of the school closing. But Mr. Feldt reiterated that it is one year under the current contract, and upon completion of the new contract, it would become a two year rolling contract, for a total of three years. Mr. Phair added that the staff, families, and community should not be fearful because we are looking at the CEC as a long-term venture. Ms. Manion was also assured that the CEC would continue as a charter school and not become a project based learning school within the District.
Then Ms. Manion inquired about getting a third party to come in to write the new contract. But Board President Johnson advised that that would have to be a separate motion and would come into play only because of the time involved to write a contract. It was originally suggested to aid in revising the existing contract, rather than extending the current contract as Mr. Feldt's motion proposes. He added that we would also have a school law attorney look at the contract prior to the Board's final review and approval.
Board President Johnson asked CEC Principal Carrie Naparalla and CECGc President Megan Sanders if they felt that, if the Board approves Mr. Feldt's motion, it would provide a level of security to the families. Ms. Naparalla advised that three years is OK knowing that as the years roll through we can discuss things as they progress, but she would prefer four years. She inquired what happens during the second year. Mr. Johnson advised that every year the contract would renew for two years, so there would always be two years out in the contract, subject to cancellation. So he asked, knowing that the renewal would be two years out, are people going to know of the Board's commitment further out - that we are here to stay? Or will they not feel as secure?
Ms. Sanders thought it would work, but it will take education of the families and community. A rolling contract could provide sustainability, particularly knowing how we operate now has changed and people here have changed since the original contract was created. But she added that a rolling contract doesn't afford as much confidence in the program.
Mr. Brooks argued that a rolling contract provides more stability because you never have to deal with the contract ending - you're not always faced with the deadline approaching. This provides more continuity and is better for sustainability and stability and should provide confidence to the parents. Ms. Manion advised that she wants to give everyone the stability that they need and suggested that we give a three year contract now and then make it a two year rolling contract. Board President Johnson commented that it is a pending one year contract because there are differences that we need to come to an agreement on. Mr. Feldt reiterated that we have one year or less to get it done, then it is a two year rolling contract.
Board members Steve Klismet and Molly McDonald commented that the Board is very supportive of the CEC, and reminded everyone that the District is investing money into the CEC building. Mr. Phair added that to be fiscally responsible, it would be difficult for the Board to go beyond three years. Board President Johnson commented that we will need to look at the timing of transitioning to a new contract. He's not sure if we can amend the contract in the middle of the year if it gets completed early. However, if perhaps we get a new contract completed by June 30th, then it would become a two year rolling contract at that time.
Ms. Sanders then brought it to the Board's attention that the current contract does not meet all of the DPI's current benchmarks so some modifications to the contract will need to be made now.
Director of Teaching and Learning Mark Flaten reiterated that we all need to maintain conversations and they must be ongoing to build a better relationship. Board President Johnson then asked Mr. Feldt to read his motion again:
Motion that we continue to operate the CEC for one year under the current contract. During this time, we will meet a minimum of at least twice a month to develop a new contract that is a collaborative work with the School Board of Waupaca, the Governance Council of the CEC, and the Superintendent of the School District. But it cannot go more than a year. If it gets done earlier, then we can at that point issue a new contract. Upon completion of this contract, the School Board will grant the CEC Governance Council with a two year rolling contract. Board President Johnson asked Mr. Feldt if he was willing to amend his motion to reflect the need to have some revisions made now to the contract to bring the benchmarks up to the current DPI required standards. And Mr. Phair reiterated his suggested amendment that we meet twice a month until the contract is completed (rather than for a year). Board members Feldt and Klismet both agreed to amend their motion and second. So the motion now reads:
Motion to continue to operate the CEC for one year under the current contract with modifications made relating to the DPI benchmarks. During this time (or until the contract is completed), we will meet a minimum of at least twice a month to develop a new contract that is a collaborative work with the School Board of Waupaca, the Governance Council of the CEC, and the Superintendent of the School District. But it cannot go more than a year. If it gets done earlier, then we can at that point issue a new contract. Thereafter, the School Board will grant the CEC Governance Council with a two year rolling contract.

The motion carried unanimously on a roll call vote.
Adjournment:
A motion was made by Ron Brooks and seconded by Steve Klismet to adjourn the meeting at 6:40 p.m. The motion carried unanimously on a voice vote.

REGION – The season will continue for nine area wrestlers that qualified for the WIAA State Individual Wrestling Championships.

The tournament, for boys and girls in three divisions, kicks off Thursday, Feb. 23, and continues through Saturday, Feb. 25, at the Kohl Center in Madison.

Area qualifiers on the boys' side are Weyauwega-Fremont's Vanden Hoffman and Manawa's Cash Botting (Division 3); New London's Wyatt Magolski (Division 2); and Hortonville's Wyatt Skebba, Nolan Skebba and Henry Niebauer (Division 1).

Qualifying girls include New London's Hailie Krueger, Clintonville's Keela Deering and Hortonville's Mackenzie Schiedermayer.

Division 3 Bonduel Sectional

SEYMOUR – Botting and Hoffman pinned all three of their opponents to win the 120- and 220-pound championships at Seymour High School.

Botting, a freshman, pinned Oconto's Tyler Beekman in 1:53, Lena's Dylan Comins in 3:02 and Crandon's Brayden Madl in 4:54 in the final to earn his first trip to state.

Hoffman, a junior, is returning to state for a second time after pinning Lena's Dylan Urbaneck in 29 seconds, Kewaunee's Ezra Ducat in 1:23 and Coleman's Devin Otto in 51 seconds in the final.

Weyauwega-Fremont's Riley Scherg and Aiden Marquette missed out on a trip to state by falling in NEW LONDON – Thanks to the Menasha Bluejays, a late-season slide continued for the New London boys' basketball team.

The Bulldogs hosted the Bluejays Feb. 17 in a match-up of Bay Conference teams, but ended up on the short end of a 60-49 score.

It was the fourth straight loss for New London.

The Bulldogs trailed by as many as 10 points in the first half, but used a 12-0 run that included eight straight points from Michael Helsten to take a 30-26 lead into the locker room.

New London led by as many as seven points in the second half, but Quinn Ludvigsen gave the Bluejays the lead for good at 41-39 and Menasha closed the game with a 14-5 run.

Helsten led the Bulldogs with 11 points while Trayveon Lockridge led Menasha with 15.

The Bulldogs will wrap up the regular season Thursday, Feb. 23, at home against West De Pere before hosting Lakeland Friday, March 3, in a WIAA Division 2 regional semifinal.

Football coach shares message of hope in Manawa

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
 STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA – As a stand-out athlete at an Upper Peninsula high school, Daniel Olson was the real deal.

He was an all-state first-team quarterback at Ishpeming High School, a two-time conference player of the year, UP player of the year and led the Hematites to a state championship game.

He was also a two-time defensive player of the year in basketball and part of an UP championship track relay team.

At the same time, he suffered with anxiety and depression for many years, which ultimately led him to taking his own life on July 19, 2012.

Olson's father, Jeff, told his son's story Feb. 13 during a stop at Little Wolf High School in Manawa.

"It started like a normal day," said Olson, who was not only Daniel's father, but also his coach. "He seemed to be back to himself. We got done with work, got some sandwiches. He spent time with one of his sisters, played with his brother, then went off and did some things on his own. After he came home, my daughter told me that Daniel had locked himself in the laundry room and been there for a long time."

Olson got the key, unlocked the door and found his son dead.

"My whole adult life, I have been working with youth," he said. "Nothing could have prepared me for this."

With three teenagers at home and his wife Sally gone at the time of Daniel's passing, the community took care of Jeff until his wife got home.

"They (the community) had our backs," Olson said. "Suicide was not something people talked about back then. We felt like we were alone on a deserted island. The kindness and compassion shown to our family was amazing."

Two and a half weeks after the loss of his son, Olson returned to the football field to coach his team with the support of his student-athletes and community behind him.

"There was no question in my mind that I had to get back out there," he said. "I wasn't sure if I would be any good, but I had to try."

The Hematites had a winning season, qualified for Michigan's Division 7 state playoffs and defeated Detroit Loyola 21-14 to win a state title.

Olson collapsed on the sideline from all the emotion after fulfilling his ultimate dream.

"From the moment Daniel passed away, it was go, go, go, from taking care of my family, coaching and taking care of myself," he said. "This was Daniel's dream. He wanted to see me win a state title. Once the clock clicked zero, I said he won one for me through these kids. They did it for Daniel.”

Olson has made it his mission to spread awareness of mental health to area students and communities through a documentary, “Do it For Daniel.”

“It is my job to educate people so others don’t have to go through what we went through,” he said. “We have to get past the stigma of mental illness and people thinking you are crazy or weak. Mental health issues are an illness of the brain that are usually very common and treatable.”

There is hope, according to Olson.

“Daniel fought this, but he also fought in silence for five years,” he said. “He needed to do the counseling and he needed to talk about it. Daniel quit talking and wasn’t willing to accept some of the stuff he was supposed to do to help him out.”

There is not always a quick fix, Olson said.

“Don’t give up,” he said. “There is always something that you can try. You are not alone.”

The one takeaway Olson hopes his audiences gain is an understanding of mental illness.

“Be kind,” he said. “You never know what someone is going through. Make it easy for people to come forward if they are struggling. Be compassionate.”

Olson said he is not angry with his son.

“We worked to keep him alive,” he said. “We got to see the struggle that he tried to fight, but he lost his battle. He was hurting so bad and the pain was unbearable. I wish he would not have done it, but this is the choice he made and we have to live with it.”

More information on Daniel's story can be found at doitfordaniel.com or facebook.com/doit4daniel.

Olson said his son's story is not over.

“His story has not ended as long as it's still being told,” he said. “Even though I cannot hug him, Daniel is still here. His story is helping people and it's going to continue.”

Record breaker

Weyauwega-Fremont High school sophomore Olivia Witkowski broke the Warhawks' school record for the most points in a season during a recent game with Menominee Indian. Cindy Wendt, who set the previous record of 396 points in 1991, attended the Warhawks' game Feb. 16 against Wittenberg-Birnamwood. Witkowski added 15 points to her total in the Warhawks' final home game against the Chargers and finished as the leading scorer this season in the Central Wisconsin Conference-East. “Really happy for Olivia,” Weyauwega-Fremont coach Joe Titus said. “I know how much time and effort she puts into basketball, especially outside of the regular season. She will be the first to tell you that it never would have happened without her teammates.”

I-S players receive academic award

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA—Thirteen Iola-Scandinavia High School students have been recognized for their efforts on the basketball court and in the classroom with an academic all-state award from the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association.

In order to receive this award, students must be on the varsity roster and maintain a minimum of a 3.5 grade-point average.

Clara Koles, Lillian Fuhs, Jaelyn Sivertson, Elle Charles, Chloe Timdal, Myah Heschke, Maci Heschke, Mckenzie Bonikowske and Madeline Much of the girls' team received the award, while Charlie Tappa, Ryan Kampert, Carter Melum and Parker Gullixon of the boys' team were also recognized.

“I am extremely proud of these girls and all the work they put into their academics while competing at a high level throughout the season,” girls' coach Joel Biadasz said. “It truly shows how much hard work and dedication they put into everything that they do whether it's in the classroom or on the court.”

“It is wonderful to see the WBCA recognize the work that our student-athletes put forth in the classroom,” boys' coach Sam Bertsch said. “Being the first year for the award, it's great to see a large number of our student-athletes representing Iola-Scandinavia.”

“Receiving academic all-state honors is a great accomplishment for our student-athletes,” Principal Chris Nelson said. “It means the students put a lot of time, effort and dedication into their academic and athletic success. Both require countless hours outside of the school day to hone their skills on and off the court.”

“Iola-Scandinavia High School is proud of these academic all-state student-athletes, their achievements and their dedication to excellence,” he said. “They serve as great role models for our student body and community.”

At 10:30 a.m. Jeff Gagnow will present a keynote address.

Gagnow, a former New London resident, now resides near Fond du Lac where he owns and operates Appraisal Consultants LLC, a career that dates back to 1987.

While still full time in the appraisal business, Gagnow has added a new venture, Turning Point Outdoors, a lifestyle brand still in its early stages of development.

With 40 years of hunting and fishing experience, he's now focused less on his own success having found a passion for motivating others to pursue their own moments and success.

With decades of stories driven by a love of the outdoors, through his faith and his failures, he hopes to inspire others to pursue and enjoy each moment.

The program will end with multiple door prizes for both adults and youths.

Workshops

Four workshops will be presented beginning at 8 a.m. and repeated at 9:45 a.m.

Workshop topics include turkey hunting, an African

In the fourth workshop, Chuck Reetz will discuss solo camping in the wilderness. Reetz is an avid BWCA camper and will talk about his adventures including sub zero camping with minimal supplies.

Ann Yeager of New London received the People's Choice Award for a stunning painting of an Indian woman in a headdress. Yeager is an active member of WRAL, having helped in many areas of the art show and also on the murals throughout New London. She is self-taught, and started painting just a few years ago, which is surprising to most who see her work.

A new photo booklet of the Start Art Mural Project was launched at the show. Booklets are now available at the Chamber of Commerce office. The league is asking for a small donation when picking up a booklet, to cover the cost of printing.

League member and local artist, Jason Hornung of Clintonville was featured artist this year. He demonstrated using markers and pencils.

centerpieces by Events Everlasting, modern and classical music by local pianists, warm food by Crystal Falls, and door prizes including Paine and Bergstrom Mahler gift certificates and art supplies from Richeson and WRAL members.

The Wolf River Art League, a 501(c)(3) non-profit, relies on volunteers and generous donations to make this event happen. The annual Mid-Winter Art Show raises funds to award art scholarships for two graduating seniors advancing in the arts. Look for further beautification projects to be completed by WRAL this spring and summer.

Man charged with threatening officer

Waupaca police find meth in elderly man's apartment

COUNTY – A 73-year-old man is accused of using a shovel to threaten an officer and smash a glass door.

Daniel T. Summers, Waupaca, is charged with felony counts of threatening an officer and possession of methamphetamine, two misdemeanor counts of criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct.

On Tuesday, Feb. 7, Waupaca Police Officer Nicole Hahn responded to a disturbance complaint at an apartment building on the 200 block of North Main Street. She reported seeing an elderly man in front of the building, yelling and swinging a yellow, metal snow shovel.

After Hahn exited her squad car, she reported the man, identified as Summers, "came towards me with the shovel up in the air swinging it like he was going to strike me, and yelled for me to stay away from him."

According to the criminal complaint, Summers walked down the sidewalk and slammed the shovel into the hood of a silver sports utility vehicle.

When Officer Paul Jensen arrived with the lights on his squad car flashing, Summers became distracted long enough for Hahn to grab the shovel.

Summers fell to the ground and the officers handcuffed him. He reportedly refused to stand and the officers struggled to place him in the back of Jensen's squad car.

Summers said "something about find the puppies, they are going to die," the complaint says.

As Hahn entered the building to speak with witnesses, she noticed that the window in the front door had been smashed.

A witness said she was doing laundry when she saw Summers walking up and down the hallway, wearing only one shoe, talking about puppies and appearing agitated.

Later, she saw him upstairs, holding the shovel and the glass in the front door was broken.

When officers went to Summers' apartment to retrieve his missing shoe and a coat before taking him to jail, they reported finding suspected methamphetamine on a plate on the coffee table.

Judge Raymond Huber ordered Summers to undergo a competency examination.

Summers was released after posting a $1,000 cash bond.

National FFA WEEK

FEBRUARY 18-25, 2023

Waupaca FFA celebrates its accomplishments

BY RYLIE NUSZ
WAUPACA FFA REPORTER

FFA is an organization that exists to give opportunity to young people throughout the nation.

Most people think of agriculture when they hear FFA, but that isn't all that FFA stands for.

Our chapter is a great example of everything amazing about FFA. We host and participate in leadership opportunities, reach out in our community, and work closely with our strong and supportive Alumni; who provide monetary support to many members for trips and competitions.

The Waupaca FFA Chapter has celebrated many accomplishments this year, and hopes to do even greater things in the coming months.

The leadership opportunities that the Waupaca FFA offers range from competitions to presentations in other schools.

A great example of the competitive side of our chapter is our members that participate in Leadership Development Events. These members compete in speaking events, and meet with other chapters in the district.

Our middle school quiz bowl team recently won their regional competition and will advance to sectionals in March with hopes of competing in the state contest in June.

The wonderful variety of opportunities our members can participate in are presented to our upcoming freshmen each year on our Eighth-Grade Career Day. This is an annual event that our officers organize to showcase agricultural careers. An upcoming event that our officer team also puts together is Day on the Farm for our elementary students, which takes place each spring. This past spring we were hosted at White Tail Valley Dairy. Our local dairy graciously hosts this event to help educate the younger generation about agriculture in a fun and enriching way.

FFA is a great way for our participants to give back to our community and simultaneously earn community service hours.

Our most popular service event for members is our annual farmers thank you baskets. Each spring FFA members put together care packages for our local farmers as they embark on their annual spring time planting adventures.

Furthermore, the Waupaca FFA seeks to support a wide variety of community organizations and is always looking for new ways to serve.

What's an FFA Chapter without its Alumni? The Waupaca Chapter is blessed to have an amazing group that supports our member's agricultural growth. Our Alumni support has been strong for many years; recently they assisted members in their trip to Indianapolis for the National FFA Convention.

All of our members who attended learned about ways to strengthen and improve our chapter.

The Waupaca Alumni also does a lot for smaller events the Waupaca ffa participates in, our chapter recently thanked our Alumni by throwing a Friends, Family, and Alumni Christmas Party. Both members and Alumni were welcomed and played games and shared a meal that evening.

The Waupaca FFA Alumni 30th annual dinner and dance is fast approaching, with tickets being sold by the chapter officers and alumni members. The event will be held on Saturday, March 4, at Bear Lake Resort in Manawa. Tickets are being sold for $30 and can be obtained by contacting Bobbie Jo Montgomery at bmontgomery@waupacaschools.org.

The Waupaca FFA Chapter has accomplished great things recently, most importantly during the state convention. The members who attended came home with multiple awards. The pride and joy of the Waupaca chapter is the National Chapter Award, which means that we are nationally recognized as a strong chapter.

The Waupaca chapter has always been strong and successful, and over the years we have gained the support and earned the respect of our entire community. We have a lot to be proud of, from our members' involvement to our supportive Alumni. We work with a group of talented, hardworking, and inspiring individuals that make all our hard work worthwhile.

Waupaca FFA holds Day on the Farm annually at White Tail Valley Dairy.

Waupaca FFA won a National Chapter Award.

New London FFA year in review

BY CAROLYNN BACKES
NEW LONDON FFA
REPORTER

New London FFA had an exciting year in 2022-23. Members competed at state conventions for LDEs and CDEs. We were also able to send two of our teams to the National FFA Convention. Members performed community service in many ways like highway clean up and forest clean up.

During the spring and summer members practiced for LDE and CDE competitions. To prepare for state competition and national competition. New London sent their parliamentary procedure team, quiz bowl team, Brooke Casey for discussion, and Becca Tank for extemporaneous speaking. The parliamentary procedure team took third place and the quiz bowl team won.

Claire Duch placed first in her Beef Production Proficiency and Lora Korth placed first in Diversified Crop Production.

During the State Convention Brooke Casey was elected as a state vice president representing Section 8. After almost 60 years, New London has another state officer.

The chapter officer team went to Jag Lake (State FFA Camp) for team bonding and to plan the year's events.

Throughout the fall months, members experienced leadership opportunities in multiple different ways.

New London hosted the Section 8 Fall Leadership Workshop and participated in the "I am" and "Connect" conferences that are led by the State Officers.

Two of our CDE teams competed at the National FFA Convention. Those teams were Farm and Agribusiness Management and Veterinary Science.

Farm and Agribusiness Management received a silver rating and Veterinary Science took 11th gold.

Other members traveled on our local bus to convention to tour agricultural industries and experience sessions, the career fair and workshops while at National Convention.

This winter members did a lot of community service. Members collected hygiene products to give to the elderly that live at St Joseph's Nursing Home. They also made Christmas cards for the elderly. The members participated in a white elephant gift exchange as well as a Christmas party.

Two of our officers, Heidi Weyland and Hanna Gorman went to the Halftime Conference to learn how to have better leadership and ways to make our chapter better.

Currently members are working on completing their proficiency awards. Members are also diligently practicing for their LDE and CDE competitions.

With FFA week quickly approaching everyone is looking forward to activities and dress up days from Feb. 20-24.

On Tuesday the dress up day is Carhartt and Dudes with drive your tractor to school as well as middle school fun night.

Wednesday is Western themed and the members will be tie-dyeing their chapter T-shirts.

Thursday is Camo and Blaze Orange and members will be able to enjoy ice cream during IE.

On Friday the theme is Blue and Gold and if the members wear their official dress the chapter will pay for a free kids meal at Culver's.

The chapter is excited for what is to come of the rest of the 2023 year.

Growing future leaders at Clintonville FFA

BY VICTORIA HAVLIK
CLINTONVILLE FFA
REPORTER

The Clintonville FFA Chapter has planned so many exciting activities for FFA week, and we cannot wait to celebrate.

We have gained a lot of new, active members this year, and we are eager to see all of our members succeed in all of their events and competitions this year.

In the last year, the Clintonville FFA Chapter has increased not only our chapter size, but also our member involvement in Supervised Agricultural Experiences, CDEs, LDEs and more.

At the beginning of the month, members competed in their respective Leadership Development Events.

Jacob Harbaugh advanced to sectionals in Discussion Meet. This years Parliamentary Procedure Team will be returning to sectionals again. The team consists of Abigail Krueger, Arianna Jepson, Nicole Sasse, Jenna Rogers, Logan Harbaugh and Jacob Harbaugh.

This year we have five

Career Development Events competing on March 22. These teams consist of Dairy and Livestock Judging, Milk Quality and Products, Forestry, and Veterinary Science.

Not only does the Clintonville FFA participate in competitions but they also earn awards and get involved in the FFA in other ways.

In June of last year, Logan Harbaugh competed in Creed Speaking at the State Level and placed third. Jacob Harbaugh earned a 3-Star Leadership Award.

We were awarded the P.R.I.D.E Award for our increase in membership. The chapter also earned a blue ribbon on its 2021-2022 scrapbook. In October, while attending the National FFA Convention, the chapter earned its 2-star National Chapter Award.

Not only are they earning awards and becoming leaders, but they are also having fun.

This fall the chapter traveled down to Madison, Wisconsin to participate in the events at the World Dairy Expo. We have also hosted many events such as a Back to School cookout, Pumpkin Carving Contest, and a Holiday Party. Many members and school personnel are awaiting our Annual Drive Your Tractor to School Day

While having fun is always good, a big part of FFA is growing leaders for tomorrow and strengthening your community. The Clintonville FFA has grown leaders through leadership conferences such as the Fall Leadership, the I AM/Connect, and the Half-time Conference. At all of these events, members have gained leadership skills and have gained tips and tricks to improve their chapter.

To strengthen their community the chapter has sponsored plant sales, taught younger students about agriculture, and handed out boxes of donuts to all of the hard-working farmers in our area.

The Clintonville FFA is so excited to be celebrating FFA Week. We are very proud of the things we have accomplished and what is in store for us in the future.

Clintonville FFA had a busy September and October in 2022. Events included a welcome back cookout, Fall Frenzy, a float in the homecoming parade, a pumpkin carving contest and the second annual day of service.

Clintonville Chapter President Jacob Harbaugh and Vice President Ava Jarvais spent attended the Halftime Conference in Stevens Point.

Clintonville FFA members toured Hunter's Honey Farm as part of their trip to the National FFA Convention in Indiana.
