SWAT responds to two homes on Ware, State streets

Criminal charges follow police raid

BY ROBERT CLOUD SENIOR EDITOR

Krisel

WAUPACA – Bad information on a 911 call resulted in a SWAT raid at a home on the 800 block of Ware Street at 2:45 p.m. Friday, Aug. 11.

The 911 caller was screaming and saying that there were “two dead kids” in the house, possibly from an overdose, according to a criminal complaint.

While officers were en route to the scene, they were told there was an armed person in the house and shots may have been fired.

According to Waupaca Police Chief Brian Hoelzel, “There was never a gun involved and nobody ever shot a weapon. But we didn’t know that until Saturday.”

Criminal charges have been filed as a result of the incident.

Austin M. Krisel, 23, Green Bay, is charged with felony child abuse—recklessly causing great harm and obstructing an officer.

Police respond

In response to the perceived threat on Aug. 11, Waupaca police shut down Ware Street, the Waupaca County Sheriff’s Office sent a drone and eventually sent the SWAT team.

Gold Cross Ambulance was also dispatched and set up a staging area.

Waupaca Police Officer Kyle Holden ordered everyone to exit the house.

“A short time later, an adult male exited the upper apartment and stood at the top of the stairway. The male would not comply with our commands at first and told us to shoot him at one point,” the complaint says. “He did finally comply and he was ordered down the stairs to our location.”

The man on the stairs was identified as Andrew Winsor, who lives in the upstairs apartment at the Ware Street address. Winsor is a known drug offender with prior methamphetamine convictions.

Winsor has not been charged in this incident.

When the SWAT team cleared the apartment, they found a 15-year-old boy lying on the floor in Rural schools struggle for funding

Clintonville faces $1.2 million deficit

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – The preliminary 2023-24 budget presented to the Clintonville School board at its July 24 meeting includes a $1.2 million deficit.

In a follow-up interview with the Clintonville Tribune-Gazette, Superintendent Troy Kuhn said the preliminary budget does not include any ESSER funds or COVID relief funds, which the district still has some available.

This is the final year those funds can be used. Kuhn added that the budget that will be presented at the district’s annual meeting in October will be different than this preliminary budget.

“The reason why we proposed that (preliminary budget) is because the board asked that we do this in the summer,” Kuhn said. “One of the things school districts have done is they have moved their annual meeting to October because then we have the third Friday count in and we have some other known numbers.”

He added, “Also included in that $1.2 million we always overbudget for students with special needs because we don’t know exactly who may be open enrolling, who have moved into the district. A lot of that is determined the first two weeks of school of what type of personnel we need.”

The preliminary budget is a “worst case scenario” budget, Kuhn said.

He added that the district has been preparing for two years for this being the final year covid relief funds would be available to schools. He described the end of these funds as a “fiscal cliff” for school districts.

“The best and worst thing that happened in the school districts in the state of Wisconsin is covid,” Kuhn said. “The worst of it is kids got left behind. We understand that. The best part is, we were given money to actually hire the people we needed to move kids forward. So, we know how to be successful. But the problem is, when that money runs out what are we going to do?”

Kuhn said Clintonville spent most of its covid relief funds on hiring more school staff to help students catch up from the loss of learning during the pandemic.

These positions included nurses, interventionists, and teaching coaches. Funds were also spent for professional development.

To prepare for losing these funds, Kuhn said the district eliminated one nurse last year. This year the district eliminated two instructional coaches for teachers, as well as consolidated middle school art and high school food service.

“Counting the numbers in the last two years we have consolidated six positions,” Kuhn said. “Moving forward, as we get into this, do we still have interventionists? Yes. Do we still have some other things we could cut? Yes. But ideally, how can we? Our kids still have not caught up.”

Kuhn acknowledged that the number of employees in the district is slightly more than it was before covid.

“We’ve shifted some administration things around with the consolidation,” Kuhn said. “We now have a true curriculum director, which we feel is very much needed. We now have a full-time activities director. That used to be split between the middle school and high school principals. We’ve shifted a lot of things around, but again, it’s needed.”

“If you want to have the best curriculum so that Clintonville can compete with everybody else, it’s going to cost you. Not just in

Doersch visits White House

BY HOLLY NEUMANN STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – Diane Doersch was recently invited by first lady Jill Biden to attend the “Back to School Safely: Cybersecurity for K-12 Schools.”

The event was held on Aug. 8, at the East Room of the White House in Washington, D.C.

The event was led by Dr. Jill Biden, Secretary of Education Miguel Cardona and Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas. Attendees included education ecology leaders from districts, states, nonprofits, government and the private sector.

“Students across our country deserve to learn in an environment that is not only safe and secure physically, but also digitally. This means that schools need the best tools and information available to protect their networks and systems from the full range of cybersecurity threats,” said Jen Easterly, director of the federal Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, in a press release.

Doersch, who currently lives in Iola, said program was a multi-group approach to find ways to tackle the problems of cyberattacks on schools. The efforts will enhance the protection of school networks and the confidentiality of student and personal data they contain. The federal government, private industry and educational institutions shared their efforts to mitigate risks.

“I served as an enthusiastic supporter and representative of Consortium for School Networking (CoSN),” said Doersch. “I serve as the National Chair of Board of Directors for the organization. CoSN is the premiere association for school district chief technology officers, directors of technology, or other educational technology leaders. Our organization worked to invite superintendents to the convening so they could be part of the conversations to bring back to their school districts.”

Fatal plane crash in Waupaca County

COUNTY – A single-engine airplane crashed shortly before 1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19, at Central County Airport south of State Highway 161 in the town of Helvetia.

The airplane overturned while landing at the airport, causing fatal injuries to the pilot.

The Waupaca County Sheriff’s Office identified the pilot as Bruce Flannery, 78, of Gladstone, Michigan.

The Iola Fire Department, Iola Ambulance, Waupaca County Medical Examiner, Michigan State Police, National Transportation Safety Board and Federal Aviation Administration assisted the Waupaca County Sheriff’s Office.

The crash remains under investigation.

the hallway, near the doorway to the living room.

The teen "was wet from head to toe and he had labored breathing," the complaint says.

Police administered Narcan prior to the arrival of paramedics.

Waupaca Police Officer Matthew Batte reported the bathtub was overflowing onto the floor, about 10 feet from where the teen was lying.

After Gold Cross paramedics arrived, they transported the teen to ThedaCare Waupaca.

A witness told investigators she saw Krisel "hosing down" the boy and two other teens lying on the floor.

She told her friend to call 911, then said Krisel pushed her and her friend out the apartment door.

She reportedly told police that Krisel had a gun.

SWAT responds to State Street

Hoelzel told the Waupaca County Post that Krisel called 911 twice after leaving the house on Ware Street.

"We believed this guy was running around in the community with a gun," Hoelzel said.

Communications officers traced the GPS coordinates of his cellphone to an address in the 500 block of South State Street.

"Officers believed he was inside the house," Hoelzel said.

The State Street resident was terrified when she looked out the window and saw the SWAT team outside her home, Hoelzel said.

She came outside the house and officers went in to see if Krisel was there.

"The cellphone pinged twice at her location," Hoelzel said. "He was there, but he wasn't inside her house."

Krisel arrested

Waupaca County deputies subsequently found Krisel in a vehicle on County Trunk E near Hodgett Court just south of Waupaca and took him into custody.

Detective Sgt. Bret Rodenz and Officer Tom Grant, with the Waupaca Police Department, questioned Krisel at the jail.

He told them he had a Gatorade bottle filled with vodka and shared it with others, including the victim, at Hidden Park.

A witness said Krisel dared the teen to chug it, which he did until it was half gone, according to the complaint.

Krisel reportedly said the victim became extremely drunk and he tried to sober him up by placing him in the shower.

While he was putting the victim into the shower, three females came to the apartment and he chased them down the stairs and threatened to get a firearm if they didn't leave, he said.

Alcohol poisoning

The victim's medical records indicate that he suffered from alcohol poisoning. The complaint quotes a critical care note saying, "Patient demonstrates life-threatening findings with the following organ systems at risk: cardiac, neurologic, metabolic/endocrine, psychiatric, respiratory, and toxic ingestion or exposure."

Krisel remains in custody on a $1,500 cash bond. He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing on Aug. 25.

purchasing the curriculum, but the people to understand how to implement and properly use that."

Kuhn acknowledged that the state budget that was recently signed by Governor Tony Evers includes increased funding for schools, but he said it's not enough.

"We roughly got around $350 per kid," Kuhn said. "Times 1,200 students, that's over $300,000. That doesn't even cover inflation. So, the peanuts we were given doesn't even cover what we're trying to accomplish."

Rural schools hurting

Kuhn said rural school districts like Clintonville are having a difficult time when compared to larger school districts in affluent areas. That is one reason the district is part of the Rural School Alliance.

"What is happening to school districts like us is we don't have these major housing developments. We don't have an influx of people necessarily moving into our rural areas," Kuhn said. "So, where does our money come from? State aid through the state equalized aid formula. Or, we go to get more students because, I hate to say it, every student is worth a certain amount of money. That pays the bills. Knowing that, what is happening, especially to the rural schools, is we're all suffering."

"I'm trying to pull kids from Shawano, from Marion, from New London, and trying to get them to come to Clintonville because I think we offer good programing, but also, it's so we can pay the bills. What does that do to the other rural schools? It hurts them. It really hurts them. How is that fair to Marion and Tigerton and that, when we're essentially open enrolling their kids into our school because now they're losing income. By no means do I want any school district to close, but what would be best for Clintonville? To get more kids here. What would be best for Marion? Get more kids."

"The only way to offset that is to get more state aid to rural schools. The chances of us passing an operational referendum is probably slim to none, especially when we promised the public that we would not adjust the mill rate."

Kuhn said he's not sure how long the district can restrain from increasing the mill rate before it has to consider an operational referendum or cut school programs.

"Where is the limit of reducing teachers and reducing educational programs in Clintonville before we have to go back to that talk of an operational referendum," Kuhn said. "There are school districts around here, if they don't pass operational referendums, they don't know how long they're going to be around."

"It's a dog-eat-dog world. We're all stealing teachers from each other. It's driving up the rate of teacher prices. But who can do the most stealing? The rich schools. If you (teacher) want a raise, the easiest way is to go to an affluent area. They're going to pay you the money, plus, they're going to keep passing operational referendums because they can afford it. Either that, or it's a booming area where there are $300,000 to $400,000 houses being built and the money is flowing in so fast. What does that hurt again? Rural school districts."

Meeting with politicians is something that Kuhn said he's probably going to have to start doing in order to plead the case of rural school districts.

"This isn't a party-line subject," he said.

Clintonville situation

While Clintonville has navigated these financial challenges, Kuhn said the district is still doing a good job in preparing students for careers after high school. This includes apprenticeship jobs, partnering with Fox Valley Technical College, and preparing students for four-year schools and on-the-job training.

Kuhn said he is thankful for the many local businesses that have helped the district through the years.

"What if they say we're done giving to the Clintonville School District," Kuhn asked. "We would not have a tech-ed shop like we have now. We would not have programs like we have now without the businesses. Clintonville is fortunate to have those businesses. If you don't have those businesses and you're a different school district, where do you go (for funds)?"

Clintonville is in a better situation than some area school district, Kuhn said. This is because it has new parking lots and roofs on school buildings. Elementary and middle school students will move into a newly remodeled building this year, and the high school isn't that old.

"We don't have to put that into a long-term planning maintenance budget," Kuhn said.

But Kuhn added that unless politicians in Washington D.C. and Madison figure out the future success of America depends on education, and that school districts need more money, the district will eventually be forced to make cuts or consider an operational referendum.

"It's really frustrating knowing that when it comes to quality education it really is depending on the local taxpayers," Kuhn said. "Do they want to foot the bill or don't they. It was really nice when we had state and federal funds coming in to support services in schools because we could hire the people and provide the services we need to give the kids. Knowing that that money is gone, every school district is making these hard decisions."

PUBLISHER'S LETTERAmity

Dear Reader,

There is a certain amount of joy in reuniting with a group of old friends to reminisce about cherished memories while also creating new ones together. We emphasize the value of friendship, the power of shared experiences, and the warmth of nostalgia.

There is an excitement of gathering with these familiar faces, recounting past adventures, and laughing over shared stories. These encounters, however frequent, provide a sense of comfort and belonging, as they bring back memories from earlier days, reminding everyone of the bonds with the passage of time and the changes that life brings. The connections formed with old friends remain enduring and special and enrich the bond further.

So, cherish your friendships, celebrate the past, and seize opportunities to make new memories with those who have been a part of your lives for a long time. It serves as a heartwarming reminder of the value of friendship and the joy of sharing moments with the people we care about.

Changes to expect when school opens

WHS parking, WLC construction

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

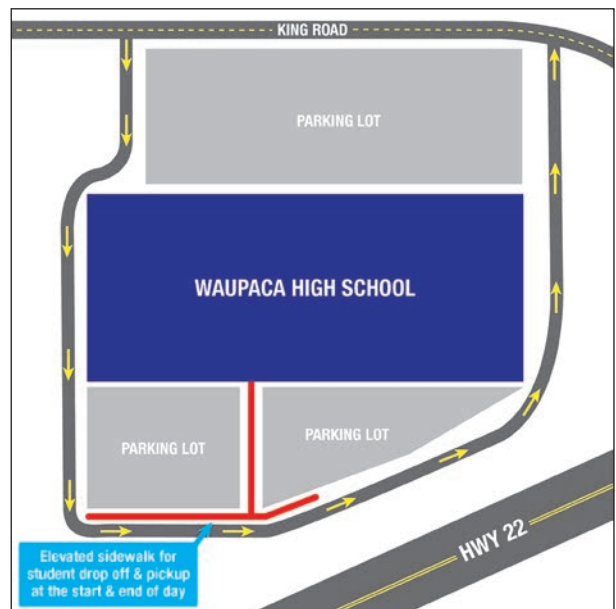

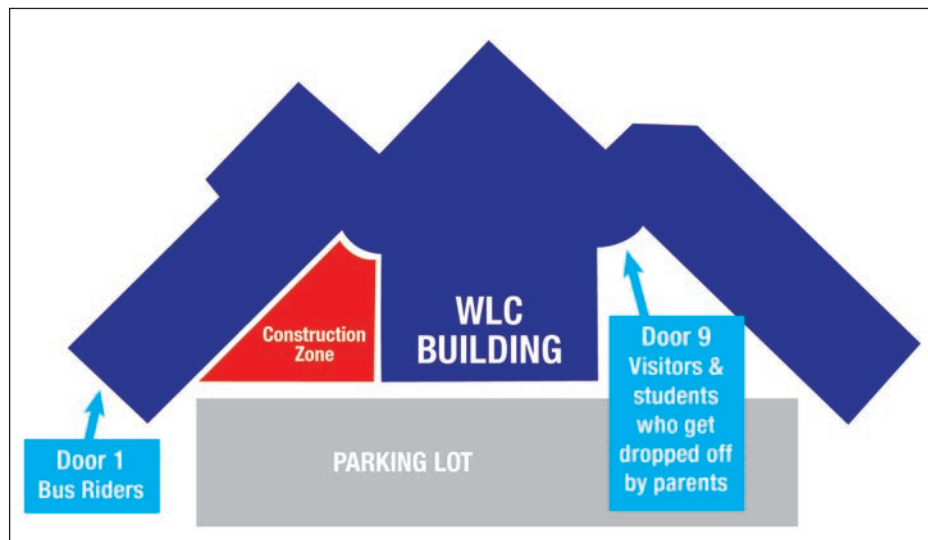

WAUPACA – Parents and students will find major changes when entering Waupaca Learning Center and parking at Waupaca High School this fall.

Construction is still ongoing at WLC, so students who are dropped off must enter through Door 9, the main entrance on the east side of the front of the building.

If parents walk their children from the car to the building, they should park in the parking lot and not in the pick-up lane to avoid traffic congestion and help ensure student safety.

Students will not be allowed to enter the building any earlier than 7:25 a.m. They will be allowed to wait in the commons, library, gym or primary playground until classes start at 7:50 a.m., according to a letter Principal John Erspamer sent to parents in July.

Students who arrive by bus will be dropped in the bus lane, but must use Door 1, located at the end of the west wing and normally used as the fourth-grade door.

At the end of the school day, all students will exit by the same door they entered.

Consulting engineer Bob Brest told the Waupaca School Board at its August meeting that construction at WLC will continue into January 2024.

A new, more secure entrance is being built as part of the 2022 referendum.

WHS parking

Most of the work on the high school's new parking lot has been completed.

"Beginning on Friday, Aug. 25, all parking at WHS will be on the State Highway 22 side of the building," District Administrator Ron Saari told the Waupaca County Post. "Students will enter this parking lot using the entrance they always have. Staff will use the entrance by the tennis courts."

The east side parking lot will be extended toward State 22, toward the Wau-King Trail and includes a one way road for parents who drop off or pick up students.

Instead of parking at an angle, most student parking stalls will be parallel with the building and the majority of staff will park perpendicular to the building. This will allow for 30 to 40 additional parking spaces.

The parking lot nearest to Highway 22 is divided into two areas. Student parking is nearest Comet Field and staff parking is on the opposite side.

These two parking areas are divided by a raised sidewalk that forms a "T." Parent pick-up and drop off will occur at the top of the "T" on the new one way road. Bus pick up and drop off will remain the same.

An elevated sidewalk will run south from the main entrance in between the student and staff parking lots.

It will connect in a T-intersection to another elevated sidewalk that runs along the south edge of the parking lot, where parents may pick up students.

There will be two lanes for traffic at the pick up area: one for stopping and one for passing.

"Parents enter the same entrance as before," Saari said.

They will use the King Road entrance on the west side of the WHS campus, travel around the building, pick up and drop off students along the raised sidewalk on the south side of the parking lot.

They will then exit on the east side, going past the tennis courts, onto King Road.

Students will leave the parking lot on the west side of the building and exit via the west side onto King Road.

Buses will use the east entrance to the parking lot and pick up students on the south side of the building near the staff parking lot. They will turn around in the staff parking lot then use the east exit onto King Road.

Chainopoly invented

Board game based on Chain O'Lakes

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA - It's like Monopoly but on the Chain O' Lakes.

Instead of landing on Marvin Gardens or Park Place, players land on Sunset Lake or Camp Onaway. Instead of collecting easy money from the Community Chest or pulling a Go to Jail card, players find money on the Crystal River (collect $10) or get caught waterskiing after hours (go back three spaces).

The board game is the brainchild of Seth Nelson, a Waupaca native now living in Minneapolis. He spent his boyhood boating, skiing and swimming on the Chain O' Lakes. He is the son of Todd and Sharon Nelson and his family roots date back to the Civil War where his ancestor Isaac Baker is buried in the Central Wisconsin Veterans Memorial Cemetery in King.

Nelson is working out the final details and will be launching a crowdfunding campaign by the end of the month on indiegogo.com to raise $7,200 to print 200 limited edition Chainopoly board games with premium pewter pieces.

"This is a passion project.

Seth Nelson invented Chainopoly, a board game where players land on different lakes of the Chain O' Lakes. He will soon launch a crowdfunding campaign to produce it and proceeds will be donated to the Wisconsin Veterans Home in King. Submitted Photo

I look forward to launching the campaign," said Nelson via email. "The idea is to raise money for the Wisconsin Veterans Home. If we exceed our goal of $7,200, 80% of the remaining proceeds will be donated to the Wisconsin Veterans Home in King. The other 20% will go to the creator and designer to cover labor and design costs. If we don't make our goal we can settle on building 100 games for $6,500. That's the bare minimum. We must get there. If we don't, the money will be reimbursed back to the donors," he said.

Crowdfunding campaigns often offer perks for donors and Nelson has come up with some ideas such as a local business could advertise within the game itself either as a property on the board or on one of the cards.

One example he gave: "Renew subscription with Waupaca County Post. Pay $20." Other donation perks include receiving limited editions of the board game and being credited as a producer on the boxed set.

Neckties find new life

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA - Peg Burington retired as director of the Waupaca Area Public Library in 2022 and a year later she had her own booth during the Arts on the Square festival.

Her new creative venture is Tie One On: Haberdashery Reimagined by Peg.

She repurposes old neckties and transforms them into custom bags. The bags come in different sizes that range from a large messenger bag that could hold a notebook computer to smaller side pouches or purses. The bags can be designed by theme or color scheme. Customers can pick and chose their designs.

"Now I have more time and about a year ago I decided I want start a little hobby that I can make some money. I was just giving them to family and friends. I applied to be an artist on Arts on the Square and I was really excited. This is my debut show," said Burington.

The necktie combinations for her to work with are endless from staid regimental stripes, polka dots, Green Bay Packer logos, Looney Tune characters, food and flowers, and holiday motifs.

Grateful Dead singer Jerry Garcia was an artist who also had a creative side outlet in necktie design. At one time Jerry Garcia ties were the most popular neckties in America.

Former Waupaca Library director Peg Burington held her debut show on Arts on the Square. She repurposes neckties into custom bags. James Card Photo Burington rounded a bunch of them up to make Deadhead-themed bags with names like "China Cat Sunflower." A bag with a Tabasco-themed necktie is named "Some Like it Hot," and a bag named "Born to be Wild" has neckties from the National Wildlife Society and the Humane Society.

"People give me neckties because they know what I do. But I also go to Goodwill and thrift stores and antiques shops. You seem to find them everywhere. I quilt the backs and the gussets are all stitched with a machine so they will be really strong and durable," said Burington.

To inquire about her bags, she can be contacted at pburingt@gmail.com.

CIP funds reallocated

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – The Clintonville Fire Department will be allowed to use $25,000 from the city's 2023 Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) for equipment to be installed on a new aerial apparatus when it is expected to be delivered in September.

The $25,000 being used from the CIP was originally designated in 2023 to be used for the construction of an exterior storage area for the department. Funds for equipment for the new aerial apparatus was designated in the CIP for 2024.

The Clintonville City Council approved reallocating the funds when it met Aug. 8.

In an Aug. 7 memo, Fire Chief Shane Krueger said the funds designated for building an exterior storage area was originally approved by the council in 2021. It was approved based on a quote submitted by a local contractor.

"Concerns with finding a contractor and the increased inflation of building materials continues to make this project difficult to complete in 2023," Krueger said in the memo.

He added that the money approved for the project in the CIP would come from borrowed funds that will expire at the end of 2023. Because of that, and with the anticipated arrival of a new aerial apparatus in September, Krueger requested reallocating the funds for the aerial apparatus equipment.

"The equipment currently in service on the aerial was primarily obtained in 1983 and can no longer be utilized on the new apparatus," Krueger said.

Some of the equipment that needs to be replaced include life safety rope, safety belts, and smoke ejecting fans.

With the request, Krueger said the construction of an exterior storage area is still needed, adding that he would like that project included in the 2024 CIP.

"The (exterior storage) area was requested due to storage concerns of the FD UTV and EMS Vehicle which is currently parked outside," Krueger said in the memo. "The UTV is stored sideways in the bay space behind the aerial truck requiring multiple vehicles to be parked outside and a dolly to pull the tandem trailer to an area for Fire Department deployment, which greatly reduces the response timing and increases the risk of injury deploying the apparatus."

Council discusses CAWS subsidy

Withdrawing from CAWS considered

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – Even though Clintonville Area Waste Services (CAWS) has not officially requested a subsidy from the city of Clintonville for 2024, the city council discussed its options for when that request is made.

The discussion took place at the Aug. 8 council meeting. There was no action taken at the meeting regarding CAWS.

During the discussion

Ald. Brandon Braden, who is also the chair of the Finance Committee, told the council that CAWS is considering imposing a subsidy in 2024 on the governmental entities that utilize CAWS. In addition to the city of Clintonville, the towns of Larrabee and Matteson use CAWS.

Ald. Greg Rose, who is one of the city's representatives on the CAWS Commission, said CAWS began in 1989, and was subsidized by Clintonville, Larrabee and Matteson.

According to information provided to council members by City Administrator Caz Muske, in 2006 action was taken to taper the subsidies to CAWS. This was due to action taken by the city's elected officials in an effort to get CAWS to become self-sufficient. Starting in 2011, CAWS did not require any subsidies.

Rose said the situation has changed since then, with inflation and fuel costs causing financial stress on CAWS.

"What was once a financially sound situation down there (CAWS), is no longer," Rose said. "So, in order to keep CAWS afloat we're looking at reinstating the subsidy on the city and Matteson and Larrabee based on the percentage of use at the facility."

He added that the agreement with CAWS needs to be updated because it hasn't been updated in a long time.

"The percentage of use has changed a lot," Rose said.

Part of the change is due to the city now providing citizens with single hauler service for garbage and recycling. Because of that, city residents don't use CAWS as much as in the past, but the majority of the items that come to CAWS are still from Clintonville, Rose said.

"What we need to do is put in these new percentages so that when the subsidy comes in play it's going to be rightfully balanced to the entities that would be paying," Rose said.

Irish mayor speaks to New London council

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

NEW LONDON – Tony O'Brien spoke to the New London Common Council when it met Tuesday, Aug. 15.

He is the cathairleach (mayor) of County Clare and a resident of the town of Killaloe, New London's sister city in Ireland.

New London signed a charter making it Killaloe's Sister City one year ago.

"I've been coming to New London now for approximately 15 years," O'Brien said, noting that he has made good friends here, including Carie and Larry Katerzynske, who were the 2014 Irish Rose and Irish Man, and other members of the New Dublin Shamrock Club.

"Many of the Barringtons have come on many occasions and all are welcome in Ireland and in Killaloe," O'Brien said. "The purpose of our Sister City relationship is, I suppose, to develop an understanding and a friendship and to see what we can learn from one another."

Noting that he had visited the senior center and the high school, O'Brien said many of the programs in New London are identical to those in Ireland.

"Your geography and to-

pography around here is very similar to what we have," he said. "One of your main factors here is the Wolf River. The River Shannon is our greatest natural resource. We have many, many things in common."

O'Brien said he spoke with Mayor Mark Herter and City Administrator Chad Hoerth.

"I understand your difficulties are similar to mine at home in representing the people who elect you," O'Brien said. "I have to face an election next year, so I have to please everybody for at least the next 12 months."

Later, Herter presented a round plaque commemorating the one-year anniversary of New London and Killaloe's Sister City relationship.

O'Brien gave Herter a framed photo of Killaloe and the River Shannon.

State 15 closure begins Aug. 21

BY JOHN FAUCHER
STAFF REPORTER

HORTONVILLE - The Wisconsin Department of Transportation will close State Highway 15 near Givens Road in Outagamie County beginning Monday, Aug. 21, until early November 2023.

During the closure, connections will be made from the existing State 15 and from County Trunk T to the newly constructed State 15 bypass.

The project is taking place a one-quarter mile west of Givens Road to one-quarter mile east of Givens Road.

County T and Givens Road will also close at State 15 during the project.

WISDOT officials and construction project leaders held a public information meeting at Hortonville High School on Tuesday, Aug. 15.

Emergency personnel and residents in the impacted area attended the meeting.

Officials assured them temporary access will be maintained to all parcels within the closure area. A detour for non-local traffic will be signed.

Impacted businesses were encouraged to visit the WISDOT website at projects.511wi.gov/wis-15expand/ for information on temporary signage regulations and construction updates.

The project has an on-site construction office at 204 W. Main Street, Hortonville. For construction questions while work is taking place, contact the construction project leader Ken Baierl at 920-366-2272 or Kenneth.Baierl@dot.wi.gov.

During the project crews will construct a multi-lane roundabout to the existing County T and existing State 15 (future CTH JJ).

They will also construct a temporary two lane to four-lane transition and remove 1,200 feet of existing State 15 alignment to be replaced by new lanes.

Crews will also install guardrail, signing and markings needed to complete the roadway.

New faces, resignations

E. Main building hangs in balance

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WEYAUWEGA – During the Aug. 21 common council meeting, new part-time police officer Kylie Bachaus took the oath of office and was sworn in by City Clerk Becky Loehrke.

"Kylie is doing a great job and I think she will fit in very well with our community. Our full-time candidate for the vacant full-time position goes in for a psychological exam this Wednesday. His first available date to start training will be Sept. 11. So you will see him coming around," said Police Chief Brandon Leschke.

118 East Main St.

The old building at 118 E. Main St. may or may not be razed.

City Administrator Jeremy Schroeder provided the council with an update.

"There is an individual that is trying very diligently to save the building. He is working with Wendy Bennett [one of the two sibling owners] on it. He's running into a few practical roadblocks but nonetheless he's continuing press on and do the best he can. Last week I met with two contractors to do walk-through to provide estimates for razing the building. There is a third contractor that has come forward and I will try to squeeze him in and get an estimate from that contractor as well. Once the estimates come in, the council will review those and then do a status check on where the individual that is working to save the building," said Schroeder.

Resignations

Council member Tim Litscher put in his resignation. He was not present at the meeting. The council voted to accept his resignation and discussed how to fill the position. They will advertise the position and solicit candidates for Aldermanic District Two.

City Administrator Jeremy Schroeder is resigning. "I did submit my resignation to the council. I have chosen to accept a career path in the private sector. It was a decision that was certainly not easy to do but is one that best fits my future and overall what I need to do," said Schroeder.

"I make a motion to accept his resignation. It's a hard thing to do. There are some big shoes to fill. He's done a good job for the city of Weyauwega," said Ald. Bruce Goetsch.

The council voted to accept Schroeder's resignation.

Carnival returns to Gerold

WEYAUWEGA - The Dead Man's Carnival returns to Weyauwega's historic Gerold Opera House on Saturday, August 26.

The doors open at 6 p.m. and the show begins at 7:30 p.m.

The live music circus variety show features Prof Pinkerton's Irrelevant Orchestra along with world renowned gypsy jazz and Django Reinhardt aficionados Duved Dunayevsky and Daniel Garlitsky as special musical guests from Paris.

The performance includes fire eating, stage illusions, aerial dance, feats of strength, burlesque, human oddities, juggling, comedy and eight musicians on dozens of vintage instruments.

The show is not recommended for those under 18 years old.

The Gerold has a full bar along with light snacks and concessions.

Donation improves district's technology education area

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – The Iola-Scandinavia School District has received a donation of more than $70,000 in technology education shop equipment and supplies from the Krause Foundation and Mark and Terry Doll.

“We feel there is a large need for experienced professionals in the building trades,” Mark Doll told the Iola-Scandinavia School Board at its Aug. 14 meeting. “High school is a great time to introduce young adults to these opportunities.”

Krause Foundation President Dale Bestul agreed.

“The school district just did all these renovations to the technology education area, but there was no money left to get updated equipment,” he said. “We felt that this was a great project to support.”

Bestul credited technology education teacher Dave Juedes for trying to grow the program and make it more modern for what students need.

“Dave had applied for a grant that he did not receive,” Bestul said. “We thought this was a great opportunity to support the school and this program specifically. This program is so important for getting students interested in the field. Now they can have new, safer and updated equipment.”

District Administrator Chris Nelson said the generosity and support of the Krause

Foundation and the Dolls is overwhelming.

“The donation to fund new equipment for the technology education department is a tremendous asset to the students in the Iola-Scandinavia School District,” he said. “It allows us to purchase up-to-date equipment for students to learn with and use on projects. The equipment and supplies will allow them to have access to the new equipment that they may see in current manufacturing jobs.”

The technology education area has had extensive work during the summer, Nelson said.

“Two cinder block walls have been removed that housed the old welding work space and six new welding booths have been built along the east wall,” he said. “These booths each have new tables, lights and exhaust systems.”

The area's entire HVAC system has also been removed and replaced.

“Pumps and piping have been replaced in the boiler room to the technology education area to make the system more efficient,” Nelson said. “There has been a new exhaust hood installed for the new plasma cutter and permanent duct work installed on some machines for the dust collection system.”

The board's next regular meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 11, in the Iola-Scandinavia Elementary School library.

Organizers collected 15 full or nearly full boxes of school supplies in addition to $1,792 in cash and $ 400.50 from a brat fry for a total of $2,192.50. “On behalf to the Iola Lions, I'd like to thank the community for their generous support of this wonderful and needed event,” club member Mark Forseth said. “We thank the Iola Lions for holding the Stuff the Bus and their continued support of the school,” Iola-Scandinavia District Administrator Chris Nelson said.

Village receives anonymous donation

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – An anonymous donation of $25,000 has been made to the village of Iola for Main Street beautification.

“We will be working with the Chamber on a plan for benches, garbage cans, banners, flowers and beatification of the downtown,” village board president Jennifer Schustek told the board at its Aug. 14 meeting.

In other business, the board approved Laura Krogwold as the new village clerk/treasurer. She previously served as deputy clerk.

“That position helped me gain more knowledge about the community,” she said. “The transition to clerk/treasurer has been smooth in large part to my coworkers and board members. Each one of them has the drive to make the community better. This positive momentum and teamwork that goes on here every day makes it such an honor to work with all of them.”

Krogwold and her husband Greg chose to move to Iola 20 years ago because of the school and community's welcoming feeling.

“These are two things that residents should be very proud of,” she said. “I look forward to working here for many years and seeing what changes lie ahead for the village of Iola.”

New school staff members introduced at board meeting

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA – New school district staff members were introduced Aug. 16 at a special meeting of the Manawa School Board.

New hires include Shasta Knorr, secondary special education paraprofessional; Tammy West, food services; Cynthia Spatz, guidance administration/districtwide state reporting; Katie Riehl, eighth-grade volleyball coach; Jill Seka, assistant junior varsity volleyball coach; and Kathryn Sitter, volunteer volleyball coach.

Three foreign exchange students will attend Little Wolf High School for the 2023-24 school year: Ina Luisa Gitzel and Annalena Gietl from Germany and Nalinrumpai Sulanchupa-kor from Thailand. The district has received two alternate open enrollment applications.

“Having reviewed the applications that came in, they are incomplete,” district administrator/business manager Ryan Peterson said. “In essence, they shouldn't qualify for an alternate open enrollment application at this time. There are some key criteria that the state requires in order to approve open enrollment during this alternate period. We don't really have any rationale as to why this is coming to the board at this time.”

One of the students would be in sixth grade, which is already at a maximum for class size.

The application will be sent back to the parent for completion.

Beyer strikes gold at tournament

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA – Brystal Beyer, daughter of Matt and Jennie Beyer of Manawa, recently participated in the Junior Gold bowling tournament and placed overall out of 76 women who participated.

“Junior Gold is a tournament with some of the best bowlers in the nation,” Beyer said. “After 26 games, I qualified fourth for match play. Match play is double elimination, I won my first match but lost the second match, meaning I had to be up extra-early the next day. I won my next matches, making me the third seed for the TV show.”

Obituary Notices

Stauss, Richard

Richard "Dick" Stauss, age 87 of Hortonville, passed away peacefully with the care of his loving wife and Moments Hospice on Sunday, August 20, 2023 at home in a hospital bed for the last 10 months. He had several heart and health problems. Having medical problems is not a license to be ill tempered, so he tried to make worker's lives brighter and to smile and laugh while in/out of the hospital the last few years. Saddened with the death of his daughter-in-law, Jennifer on August 14, 2023. Dick was born on January 15, 1936 in Marshfield, WI to the late Arthur and Regina (Linzmaier) Stauss. At the age of six months the family moved to Butternut, WI, where he thoroughly enjoyed his childhood even though everyone in the northern town was "poor" and kids didn't know it at the time. In September of 1947, at the age of 11 1/2, the family moved to Hampton, South Carolina because of his father's job. Dick had many new kid experiences. In February of 1950, the family moved to Oshkosh, WI. Dick graduated from Oshkosh High School in 1954 with 460 students, when there was only one high school and also attended college in Oshkosh. In March of 1957, he started working at Wisconsin Tissue Mill (WTM) now essity in Neenah/Menasha. Dick was a Charter Member of WTM's Credit Union in 1958. On January 25, 1958, he married Lois Pingel at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oshkosh. After starting at the bottom job, he had a series of promotions and became the Production Manager of WTM Plant #2 and retired after 39 years. His strong work ethic can be traced back to his childhood, when he delivered newspapers in Butternut at age 8. He passed his strong work ethic onto his children, who he was very proud of.

After living in Menasha for 6 years, they moved to a home they built in Neenah near WTM Plant #2. He enjoyed camping with his young family and traveled to many states, national parks and private campgrounds beginning with tenting, a truck camper, a van, a smaller motor home and eventually a larger motor home in retirement. They had a lot of fun camping with a large family group from St. Gabriel's Catholic Church of Neenah. Dick was a Cub Scout Leader. He served on several committees at St. Gabriel and SS Peter & Paul Catholic Church, one of which was parish council president and the committee to build a new church, which was completed in 2004. After living in Menasha and Neenah, Lois and Dick purchased a farm in 1971 and moved to rural Hortonville, where they farmed and raised beef cattle, along with working at WTM. In 1983, they sold their cattle and rented out the land, then purchased a 6-unit apartment building in New London, which they maintained for 30 years. He was a jack of all trades and could build or repair just about anything and also built their Neenah home. Dick possessed great knowledge, did two crossword puzzles per day, had boundless knowledge of ALL sports facts, especially when it came to the Packers, Badgers, baseball and NASCAR. He attended the Ice Bowl on December 31, 1967, where he and his friend helped tear the goal posts down, and was a Packer's shareholder. Dick enjoyed all sports! He enjoyed deer hunting and nature in general. His grandchildren (even the girls) got a deer on the farm. Dick had the pleasure of hunting elk and antelope several times in the 1980's. He loved the sunrise and sunsets - "their paradise on the hill". Dick put on many miles on the snowmobile and bicycle. He was a volunteer firefighter for 14 years with the Hortonville-Hortonia Fire Department and served as chairman of Hortonia Board of Appeals for over 39 years. He and Lois spent a lot of their lives dancing and went to Polka Fests year round (with motor home or motel) and had dancing friends all over the country. Dick learned to dance at an early age, as his brother began playing the accordion at age eight in a small tavern dance hall up north. He could talk to anyone and make friends anywhere they went. Dick retired from WTM in March of 1996 after 39 years. He and Lois traveled extensively afterward, including a three month trip to Alaska in their motor home in 1996, visited 47 states in their lifetime, hiked the Grand Canyon (4 days) from north to south rim, hiked up Mt. Whitney in California, traveled to Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, all Canadian Provinces, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and Fiji. Winters (22) were spent in Mesa, AZ and one year in Florida. Mesa was a mecca area for dancing with many friends, while they wintered in Towerpoint Resort. He did a lot of woodworking in a wood shop fully equipped at the resort, making many sizes of segmented bowls, which were turned on a lathe using wood from black walnut trees that had to be cut down in 1994. After retirement in 1996, they committed nearly every weekday to the New London Pool (when in New London), where they made many new friends. Dick and Lois made an impressive team with their 65 1/2 year love story, which included their family, religion, years of hard work, fun times and many adventures. They loved being together and able to pick-up at a moments notice to go - constantly "on the go". Dick was a loving husband, father and friend. He led by example and was blessed to have such a wonderful family. He had a wonderful; journey down the highway of life with its many wonderful; pleasures in our great country- USA.

After 48 years on the farm in the Township of Hortonia, Dick and Lois sold the farm in March 2020 and moved into the Village of Hortonville to a two bedroom apartment in a 16-unit building after MUCH "downsizing". This was just days before the Covid-19 virus "stay at home" order went into effect.

Dick is survived by his wife, Lois; five children, Randall Stauss, Craig Stauss, Cindy (Jeffery) Abhold, Wendy (Craig) Panos and Tina (Michael) Larsen; grandchildren, Samantha and Tyler (Glory) Stauss, Joe, Josh and Jake (Megan) Abhold, Jessica (Casey) Simonis, Alexi and Demetri Panos and Adrian Larsen; great-grandchildren, Landon, Garrett, Bryleigh Abhold and Rhett and Hazel Simonis, with another coming in September. He is further survived by his brother-in-law, Paul Halverson; nieces and nephews, Steve (Terry) Stauss, Krisan (Bob) Williams, Lisa (Jesse) Gander, and Jeff (Jennifer) Halverson, along with several great-nieces and nephews and other relatives and friends.

Dick was preceded in death by his parents; brother, Daniel Stauss and his wife, Kerene; nephew, David Stauss; father and mother-in-law, Adolph and Theda Pingel; step father-in-law, Julius Wismer; daughter-in-law, Jennifer Stauss and sisters-in-law, Judy (Pingel) Schwander and Pat (Pingel) Halverson.

The Mass of Christian Burial will be at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 26, 2023 at SS Peter & Paul Catholic Church in Hortonville with Fr. Phil Schoofs officiating. Family and friends can visit at the church from 9:00 a.m. until the time of the Mass. Burial will be in Clayton Cemetery (7890 Cty Rd T) Larsen.

The family wishes to thank Dr. Talbot, Dr. Slovick, Lisa Urbaniak APNP, Dr. Varghese, Dr. Enoch, Mistry Johnson, the many hospital doctors and others at Heart & Vascular Institute. A special thank you for the compassionate care from Moment's Hospice, especially Cassie, Malissa, Micki, Sophia and Megan and the wonderful supporting staff at SS Peter & Paul Parish.

Johnson, Diane

Diane Marie (Campbell) Johnson, age 75 of Candon passed away Wednesday morning August 16, 2023.

Mittelstaedt, Stacy

We are heartbroken to announce the passing of our loving and devoted daughter, sister, partner, aunt, mother, and loyal friend—Stacy Helen Mittelstaedt.

On March 29, 1979, Stacy was born the apple of her daddy's eye. He was in awe of her from the moment he laid eyes on her. Her mother remembers her as the happiest baby. She had a childhood filled with wonderful memories of playing on the family farm, and watching over her animals, especially her beloved horse, Smokey. She was the sister brothers dream of—mothering, tender, loving, tough, and cool to top it all off. Brad and Paul have always been and will continue to be smitten with their sister's sweetness forever. She was also her dear mother's best friend and confidant every day of her life. Stacy's love for her family was loyal, true, and unwavering.

Stacy graduated from Waupaca High School in 1997 and continued her education at UW La Crosse, where she received her BBA, and graduated with honors. Following her parents' footsteps, she took over ownership of the family business, Waupaca Pallet, with her brothers, Brad and Paul. Her dedication and intelligence were an impactful part of the company's growth over the last 25 years.

In 2008—Stacy bonded with her partner in life, Shannon, which grew her family by two beautiful bonus daughters, Taylor and Nia. In 2009 Shannon and Stacy welcomed their sweet daughter, Adalyn. We are blessed to see glimpses of our Stacy in her daughter and mini-me.

Stacy adored her family, and many friends who she called family, more than anything. She never left a greeting without excitement, a compliment untold, a hug unattended, a stomach unfulfilled, or an I love you left unsaid. We were truly blessed with every ounce of love and energy she poured into all of us.

She doted upon her daughter, bonus daughters, nieces, and nephews. These kids were her world. She lived for the happiness they all brought to her. Her genuine love and support covered their spirits with a warmth that will forever feel like sunshine, even on the coldest day.

She loved breakfast visits and dinners with her favorite people, watching movies, trips to the dells, hosting countless family events, concerts of every known music genre, hooded sweatshirts, and cooking her grandmothers' recipes. She was a fabulous cook, and we were all spoiled with that gift.

Stacy lived with love and loyalty to all those she cared for. She was fierce. She was beautiful—inside and out. She was stubborn. She was smart. She was kind. She was adorably clumsy. She was loyal. She was cool. She was our Stacy. There is no one that can ever replace the beautiful being she was.

Stacy Helen Mittelstaedt passed peacefully and surrounded by love on August 16, 2023 at 3:38pm. We know she finally found peace in her father's loving arms and our dear Ella's Shine. We take comfort in imagining that sweet embrace.

Rest easy, our sweet Stacy. We will miss you every day of our lives.

Love you to the moon and back, forever.

Stacy is survived by her daughter Adalyn (Ady) Schroeder; her long-time partner and best friend Shannon Schroeder; her two bonus daughters Taylor and Nia Schroeder; her mother Patsy Mittelstaedt; two brothers Brad (Beth) Mittelstaedt and Paul (Missy) Mittelstaedt; nieces and nephews Lexie & Lauren Mittelstaedt and Mack & Pauly Mittelstaedt; parents-in-law Kim and Mary Schroeder; sister-in-law Liz (Brook) Bremmer and their daughters Alex and Harper; brother-in-law Lewis Schroeder and his children Tyler and Kate; and also by numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her father Paul Mittelstaedt; paternal grandparents Robert Sr. and Helen Mittelstaedt; maternal grandparents Tom and Kathryn Lewis; two aunts Carole Lewis and E. Jane Davies; and cousins Tim Bremmer and Ella Lauritzen-Davies.

A Memorial Service for Stacy was on Monday, August 21, 2023 at 6:00 PM at Trinity Lutheran Church in Waupaca. Reverend Andy Behrendt officiated. Family and Friends gathered on Monday from 2:00 PM - 6:00 PM at Trinity Lutheran Church to share special memories and fond moments. Stacy will be laid to rest next to her father in a private family ceremony at Sheridan Village Cemetery in the Town of Farmington at a later date. In lieu of flowers, a memorial(s) is being established in Stacy's name. The Holly Funeral Home of Waupaca is assisting the family with arrangements.

A special thank-you to all of our family and friends for their prayers and thoughts with our family throughout the past few weeks. We would also like to thank her best friends, Erica and Katy, along with her special cousin Kat, the gentle presence of her aunt Mimi, and all of the first responders, nurses, doctors and staff at Theda Care Regional Medical Center in Neenah for all of their help and support. The special care Stacy received will never be forgotten. www.hollyfuneralhome.com

Bigler, Lonny

Lonny J. Bigler, age 84, went to be with Jesus on Friday, August 18, 2023, at his home on Long Lake, Waushara Co. He was born in Sheboygan, WI on March 2, 1939 to John and Carol (Christenson) Bigler. He graduated from Sheboygan Falls High School in 1957, then attended UW-Sheboygan. On July 18, 1959, he was united in marriage to Carol Barts McGlade.

Lonny had a variety of careers including supervisor at Kohler, factory worker at Bemis, he worked at Sheboygan Paint Company, operated a family dairy farm, was a manager at the Fleet Farm service station, and rounded out his working years as a bus driver for the Wisconsin Veterans Home in King. He loved woodworking and spending time with family.

He is survived by his wife, Carol; daughter, Darlene (Paul) Patyk of Eagan, MN and son, Randy (Polly) Bigler of Wild Rose; granddaughters, Ashley and Kayla Patyk; siblings: Jon Bigler of Waldo; Tom (Darlene) Bigler, Ricky (Nancy) Bigler and Carol Ann Whitman, all of Sheboygan Falls.

Lonny was preceded in death by his children: Dan, Scott, Don and Connie as well as his brother, Jerome.

The funeral service was held at 12 p.m. Wednesday, August 23, 2023 at Faith Community Church, N2541 Cty Rd K, Waupaca, with Pastor Josh Nelson officiating. Visitation was held from 10 a.m. until the time of the service at the church. A private burial will take place at Sheboygan Falls Cemetery. The Maple Crest Funeral Home of Waupaca assisted the family with arrangements.

Sockett Sr., Scott

Scott Sockett Sr., age 70 passed away on August 17, 2023 at his home. Scott was born on October 13, 1952, in Milwaukee, WI to Anna and Forrester Sockett.

Scott spent his career as an operator with the New London Public Works Department for 30 plus years.

He loved the outdoors, which drew him to New London as a young man in the 1970's.

He plied the waters of the Wolf River running setlines, fishing cane poles and hunting deer.

Scott was an athlete.

Tall and stout, his reach over home plate baffled many a pitchers in the over under 30, softball championship nights. He was a weapon in the infield too, making doubles regularly left, right, from shortstop and second.

He loved the game.

He was Scott Sockett, an uncle, a dad, a grandpa and more.

"Rocket" they called him at the bait shop.

He had a true rare sense of humor yet he kept his humility free.

Scott had a generous heart.

As he aged, he fished vicariously through others and celebrated their successes as if they were his own. He was a silent supporter of all people, especially the poor.

Scott is preceded in death by his parents Anna and Forrester Sockett, a son, Michael S.Sockett, and brother Robert "Bob" Sockett.

He is survived by his son Scott Michael Sockett II, a grandson Braiden Sockett, brothers and sisters Paul, Carol, Donna and Lynn, as well as numerous friends' nieces and nephews.

Scott will forever be remembered by the 'old timers' on the Wolf River and at the Pantry Café in New London. A celebration of life for Scott will be held at a future date.

Sears, Marie

Marie Agatha Sears passed away Monday evening August 14th in her apartment at Aster Assisted Living in Clintonville.

She was born to Charles and Margaret (McKenzie) Bozile, just outside Clintonville, Wisconsin on March 24 th 1923. She survived ten siblings and lived to over a hundred years old. With the exception of a single Scottish Canadian line, both her maternal and paternal ancestors date back to French Canada in 1613. During the English raids of 1837, both sets of Great-Grandparents fled from Canada to New York and Vermont. Her grandparents moved from New York to Ripon in Wisconsin and later settled in the, since abandoned, village of Little Wolf near Manawa in 1869. During her childhood, Marie moved with her family throughout Northeast Wisconsin as her father pursued his livelihood as a stone mason and brick layer, building stone foundations for the many surviving barns that enrich our landscape today. During the Great Depression, her parents sent Marie--as was common among families in those hard times-- to live with a sister in Milwaukee where she met and later married the brother of her sister's husband, Robert P. Sears in July of 1941. In her 100 plus years, Marie demonstrated a great propensity for creativity; from being a strong seamstress who designed and sewed curtains, costumes and every day clothing for her children, to creating fantastically decorated cakes and cookies. Most notable however was her production of bas-relief carvings. Over many decades, until Robert passed away in 2001, he and Marie each amassed an impressive portfolio of wood carvings. While Robert created birds and waterfowl, Marie carved wildflowers and other natural plants. Marie was unusual as one of those persons who could move tirelessly from one activity to another without a break. She was constant in caring for her four children, always going that extra step by adding interesting touches to their needs when young. As they grew older and showed unique personal interests, she supported them in those interests.

Survivors include her daughters: Marie (Mike) Siegrist of Las Cruces, NM, Lucy (James) Putnam of Clintonville, Eva (former spouse Brian) Burnett of Clintonville; son Geoffrey (long-time significant other, Ann) Sears of Milwaukee; grandchild Brandon (long-time significant other Amanda) Burnett of Beaver Dam; great-grandchildren: Christian (former significant other, Makayla) Hiller of Wausau, Racquel and Evan Burnett of Beaver Dam; three year old great-great-grandson Nikolai of Wausau; numerous nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Preceding her in death were Marie's Spouse, Robert; grandchild Rebecca (former spouse RJ) Hiller; ten siblings: Lucille who died as a 9-year-old in 1926, Harold, Norma, Clifford, Margaret, Leona, Joseph Charles (AKA Bert), Irene, Lorraine and Elaine; her parents Charles and Margaret Bozile; and dozens of ancestors and extended Canadian family members buried at Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Special thanks go to daughter Eva who, for years, provided loving care and companionship for Marie. The director and staff of Aster Assisted Living gave exemplary support during Marie's six years of residence, especially during the last year, as did the hospice nurses. Interment will be at Sacred Heart Cemetery in Manawa at a date to be determined. The Eberhardt-Stevenson Funeral Home & Crematory of Clintonville is assisting her family. www.eberhardstevenson.com

New sign

A new sign in the Waupaca County Forest reminds forest visitors that all-terrain and utility terrain vehicles are not allowed on the property's trail system. "We have not really had much of a problem out there with ATV use, we are just trying to let people know that they are not allowed on the trails there," Waupaca County Parks and Recreation Director John Francis said. "We looked into the idea of opening the property to ATV/UTV use awhile back, but it was determined that the relatively small size of the property and sandy soils would not hold up to motorized use without major damage to the property." The forest is located in the town of Fremont. "The trails are open to equestrians, pedestrians, bicycles and winter silent sports like snowshoeing and cross-country skiing," Francis said. "The property is also open to hunting."

Dozens of guns will be available to win, and door prizes will be given away.

Special items include shotguns, rifles, pistols, special Ducks Unlimited items, and Green Bay Packers memorabilia. Ducks Unlimited has conserved 144,416 acres, provided technical assistance on more than 100,000 acres and spent $44 million on conservation projects.

The cost is $65 per person; a sponsorship opportunity is also available for $275.

Funds from these banquets are used to conserve, restore, and manage wetlands for waterfowl and thousands of other species of wildlife that use the marshes and wetlands as part of their annual life cycle needs.

In addition to providing breeding habitat for waterfowl, these projects provide spawning habitat critical for walleye and sturgeon in the Lake Winnebago and Wolf River systems and act as natural filters for sediment and pollutants that would severely limit the natural productivity of the Wolf River.

"These projects are large scale and expensive, but the benefits are worth the investment" says Ducks Unlimited Regional Director Chris Anderson.

Beyer was happy with her performance and also earned a spot on the Junior Team USA squad.

"At the Junior Gold tournament, the top four get an automatic spot for Junior Team USA 2024," she said. "It's very important to me because I not only get to represent the USA, but I get to represent the small town I grew up in and make everyone there proud."

Beyer has been bowling since age 4.

"Bowling has had such a significant impact on my life," she said. "Without it, I wouldn't be the person I am today. I'm forever grateful for everyone in my life that has made this all possible. The amount of support I have from family and friends makes achieving my goals possible."

Beyer is a junior at Stephen F. Austin State University in Texas, where she is majoring in environmental science. After college, she plans to join the Professional Women's Bowling Association tour.

"Earning my Team USA spot is such a great achievement, but I can't stop there," she said. "I have a lot of work to improve my game and keep getting better."

She feels that this experience helped her to grow her toolkit of cybersecurity resources that she can share with organizations she assists.

The hope is that every school system can plan and prepare for digital risks in their schools and classrooms.

One of those risks is ransomware, which involves malicious software to encrypt the victim's data and systems, and has been on the rise for school districts throughout the country. This can affect bus routes, contact information and anything else done digitally.

Doersch points out that just because something is funded and supported does not mean all threats go away.

"The funds will support more education to parents, students, staff, and communities," she said. "This is crucial for school districts because protecting student data, maintaining operational continuity, building trust, and preparing schools to effectively respond to and mitigate cyber threats. By promoting cybersecurity resilience in K-12 education, the Department contributes to the overall security and well-being of students, schools, and communities."

CAWS

Costs for withdrawing

Rose said it would be "extreme" for the city to back out of the CAWS agreement.

"If we back out of the agreement, we're still going to get the subsidy in the short-term, but the subsidy would go away, of course, when we're no longer a participant in CAWS," Rose said. "If we're no longer a participant in CAWS, then all of the assets of CAWS would go to the remaining individual townships."

It's debatable whether the towns of Larrabee and Marteson could keep CAWS afloat financially without the help of the city, Rose said.

If CAWS were to close, Rose said he had concerns about how residents would dispose of large garbage items and other items that don't fit in the bins of the city's garbage and recycling service offered by Harter's. He added that illegal dumping of garbage would become a concern.

"My philosophy is that we need to keep waste services as efficient and inexpensive as possible, and CAWS kind of is a catch-all for everything that Harter's doesn't cover," Rose said.

Council President Tammy Strey-Hirt asked Rose if the CAWS Commission could provide a list of city businesses that use CAWS. She said it's important to know if its primarily residents or businesses in Clintonville who are using CAWS.

Rose said that would be possible, at least going forward.

Ald. Darrell Hansen said he has heard from residents that CAWS is inconsistent on what it charges to dispose of garbage at the facility, sometimes not charging anything for some people.

"I'll get behind this, I'll support it, but this is taxpayer money," Hansen said. "Like I said last night (at the Clintonville Finance Committee meeting) there needs to be some accountability."

Looking for options

Strey-Hirt told the council that the way the contract with CAWS is written, the city and the other entities have no say as to how much they can be charged for a subsidy. She questioned whether the city could elect to withdraw from CAWS, but still provide funding in the amount that the city deems appropriate.

"Then we wouldn't have to be told this is what we're going to do," Strey-Hirt said. "We could decide on our budget what we can afford and what we can do."

Ald. Mark Zachow, who previously was the CAWS Commission chair, and also voted against eliminating the garbage opt-out for city residents, said the amount of the subsidy for the city was only $5,000 for the year.

"We're spending over $5,000 a month for the maintenance of the cemetery," Zachow said. "This discussion is ridiculous. We've already taken away the option for the people in this town for garbage. And I've gotten a lot of calls, and people are mad. If you think that if we get out of CAWS, this council, and the mayor will be known as the people that got rid of CAWS. And you don't want to go there."

Rose clarified that the subsidy amount is higher than $5,000.

Ald. Brandon Braden said in addition to subsidizing CAWS, the city also provides a subsidy for the Waupaca County Processing Transfer Facility in Manawa.

"If CAWS requires a subsidy going forward into the future, we're essentially subsidizing two identical facilities," Braden said. "The only difference is, one is five minutes down the road and one is 20 minutes down the road."

Braden also said that there may or may not be issues with CAWS being located on airport property.

"It came up in the past, however, there may be an exemption the city can apply for," Braden said.

18-month notice required

He added that $10,000 may not seem like a lot when compared to the entire city budget, but each year city department heads in the city struggle to make the budget balance.

Muske clarified that even if the city withdrew from CAWS now, the city would still be responsible for a subsidy in 2024 and 2025 because there is an 18-month notice to withdraw.

Braden said it was his understanding that the reason didn't think she would ever be able to do in her lifetime," Doersch said. "It was very intriguing to experience all the things that we have seen of the White House like the East Wing Library, hearing the Army band music in the foyer, or walking down the long halls with artwork on them. Being in the White House around the topic of Cybersecurity elevated our collective efforts in working to keep our schools, students, and staff safe."

CAWS is requiring subsidies is because the fees it is being charged to dispose of the garbage it collects increased significantly. Rose confirmed that the disposal fees for CAWS have increased significantly.

Mayor Steve Kettenhoven said he doesn't think anyone wants CAWS to be closed.

"But I think we need to encourage CAWS to either raise their rates to be able to run like a business and self-sustain themselves, so that the city and the townships don't have to put out a subsidy," Kettenhoven said. "Because as long as we continue to do that they don't have to raise their rates and we'll continue to have to pay a subsidy. And I don't think that is a good idea. That's not how you run a business."

See next week's Clintonville Tribune-Gazette for coverage of the Aug. 16 CAWS Commission meeting.

AMHERST – Get the ball and score a touchdown.

It was a game plan that worked to perfection for the Amherst football team in its season opener.

The Falcons scored on eight of their 11 possessions, led 58-19 at halftime and went on to post a 65-19 nonconference win over Clintonville Aug. 18.

Clintonville was able to keep pace with the Falcons early, as the teams combined to score five touchdowns in the first quarter alone.

Amherst quarterback Michael Benjamin scored the first of his five rushing touchdowns from 12 yards out to cap the Falcons' first drive. Clintonville answered on its next drive with Kade Rosenow's 64-yard touchdown pass to Jack Yaeger. Jonathan Scherschel's extra point gave the Truckers their only lead of the game, but it didn't last long, as Benjamin scored from 4 yards out on Amherst's next drive.

Rosenow hooked up with Yaeger on the Truckers' next

REGION – The season got off on the right foot for the Weyauwega-Fremont and Manawa football teams with nonconference wins Aug. 18.

Weyauwega-Fremont handed Belleville a 37-28 loss in Weyauwega, while the Wolves hit the road and knocked off Chetek-Weyerhaeuser 42-7.

W-F 37, Belleville 28

WEYAUWEGA – Kameron Zielke completed 21 of 28 passes for 241 yards and led the Warhawks with 91 rushing yards.

Zielke's 6-yard touchdown run gave the home team a 7-0 lead heading into the second quarter. The Warhawks found the end zone three more times in the second quarter on Chris Gunst's 16-yard interception return and Zielke's scoring passes of 39 yards to Hunter Meisenhelder and 36 yards to Brayden Arndt.

Weyauwega-Fremont added to its 28-7 halftime lead in the third quarter on Meisenhelder's 36-yard touchdown pass to Gunst.

Belleville scored one touchdown in the second and fourth quarters and two in the third.

Weyauwega-Fremont's final two points came on a safety in the fourth quarter.

The Warhawks outgained the Wildcats 411-338. Weyauwega-Fremont had a 277-182 advantage in passing yards, while Belleville outgained the Warhawks 156-134 on the ground.

SHIOCTON – It didn't take long for the Iola-Scandinavia football team to raise some eyebrows in the Central Wisconsin Conference-Small.

The Thunderbirds headed to Shiocton Aug. 18 to face the Chiefs, last year's WIAA Division 7 state runner-up, and returned home with a 32-7 win.

Iola-Scandinavia took a 14-0 lead into the second quarter after Ryan Kampert's 1-yard run and Jensen Rice's 7-yard quarterback keeper.

Shiocton cut the lead in half in the second quarter on Ty Marcks' 25-yard touchdown pass to Gunner Baker, but the T-Birds answered before halftime with Charlie Tappa's 42-yard interception return and Rice's 1-yard run.

Iola-Scandinavia added to its lead in the second half with Kampert's 2-yard run in the third quarter.

Kampert and Rice led the T-Birds with 114 and 80 rushing yards, respectively. Neither team had much success through the air, as Rice and Marcks combined to complete five of 19 passes.

REGION – New London and Waupaca's football teams opened the season Aug. 18 with a nonconference road game against a North Eastern Conference opponent.

New London picked up a 39-15 win at Denmark, while Waupaca fell to Freedom 48-27.

New London 39, Denmark 15

DENMARK – The Bulldogs scored three unanswered touchdowns in the fourth quarter to pull away from the Vikings.

Both teams found the end zone once in the first quarter. Tyler Gerrits opened the scoring with a 10-yard pass to Mike Helsten and Tommy Fields added the first of his four two-point conversion runs.

Denmark answered New London's touchdown with a 3-yard run from Eli Kapinos and the score remained 8-7 until the fourth quarter.

Gerrits and Helsten hooked up for a 30-yard pass, Logan Ten Haken returned one of his two interceptions 42 yards and Fields added a 2-yard run. Denmark's Marco Gomez wrapped up the scoring with a 15-yard run.

Fields led the Bulldogs with 181 rushing yards on 27 carries, while Gerrits completed six of 12 passes for 74 yards.

Freedom 47, Waupaca 28

FREEDOM – Drew Kortz threw for 456 yards and seven touchdowns to lead the Irish over the Comets.

Waupaca trailed the Irish 34-7 heading into the fourth quarter, but cut the lead to two scores twice down the stretch with three touchdowns.

Kortz threw touchdown passes of 22 and 34 yards to Owen Wedin that gave Freedom an early 14-0 lead, but the Comets' Hunter Cunningham recovered Kortz's fumble in the end zone that cut the lead to 14-7 heading into the second quarter.

Freedom added to its lead in the second quarter on Kortz's 8-yard pass to Logan Garvey and the Irish scored twice in the third quarter on passes of 21 yards to Carson Clausen and 38 yards to Wedin.

The Comets and Irish combined for five touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Ethan Harms connected with Henry Mouw for a 38-yard pass and Harms added a 5-yard run to cut the lead to 34-20, but Kortz and Wedin hooked up for their third score of the game, this one from 24 yards.

Harms threw a 62-yard pass to Mouw on Waupaca's next drive before Freedom capped the scoring with Kortz's 6-yard pass to Garvey.

Harms completed 14 of 27 passes for 236 yards, with Mouw catching for passes for 109 yards.

The Irish held the Comets to 36 rushing yards.

HORTONVILLE – West De Pere spoiled the season opener for Hortonville's football team by handing the Polar Bears a 25-14 nonconference loss Aug. 18.

The Phantoms took a 14-0 lead on Duke Shovald's touchdown passes of 6 yards to Joseph Riesenberg in the first quarter and 80 yards to Ben Lemirande in the second quarter.

Hortonville got on the scoreboard in the second quarter on Broden Butzin's 62-yard pass to Seth Valeri, but the Phantoms answered before halftime with Brandon Schaefer's 23-yard field goal.

The Polar Bears cut the Phantoms' lead to 17-

14 in the third quarter on Levi Hebbe's 7-yard fumble return and Brock Wolter's two-point conversion run. Hortonville's Levi Strange caught a pass from Butzin on the play, but fumbled the ball when tackled.

West De Pere then held Hortonville scoreless the rest of the way and the Phantoms added to their lead in the fourth quarter with a safety on a punt snap out of the end zone and Patrick Greisen's 16-yard pass to Langdon Nordgaard.

Butzin completed 15 of 39 passes for 234 yards. Colin Wendt and Strange each caught four passes for 84 and 63 yard, respectively, while Valeri caught two for 61 yards. Strange led the Polar Bears with 46 rushing yards, while Hortonville's defense held the Phantoms to minus-14 rushing yards.

Amherst's Ayden Nerdahl scored the only touchdown of the second half on a 73-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Comets have more experienced players this season

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

WAUPACA – A 3-2 record in the Bay Conference was good enough for the Waupaca Comets to qualify for the WIAA football playoffs.

Although the season ended with a 49-0 opening-round loss to eventual Division 3 state runner-up West Salem, it marked the second straight season the Comets had made the playoffs under coach Bennett Hansen.

The Comets have to replace a number of all-conference players from last year's team, including first-team offensive and defensive lineman Carsten Gile, the Bay Conference's offensive lineman of the year; first-team punter Gavin Taggart; and second-team players Owen Smidt (wide receiver) and Devin Minton (offensive lineman in inside linebacker).

On the other hand, Hansen said team has more experience heading into the 2023 season.

"We have a lot more upperclassmen," he said. "We have team speed and we're a little bigger and faster than we were last year. We're seeing a few guys that maybe we didn't expect show us the ability to play and that's great. It would have been nice the last few years to have more of those guys work their way up from the bottom, but that's part of raising the floor in the weight room. A few more guys are able to contribute because they're strong enough and fast enough and they can surprise you."

Two Waupaca football players participate in a drill at a recent practice at Waupaca High School. The home opener at Comet Field is set for 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 25, against Wrightstown.

Returning players include Xzaver Pittmann, a second-team all-conference running back; and Henry Mouw, a second-team defensive back and kicker.

Ethan Harms will replace the graduated Parker Krcmar at quarterback.

"He did what we asked last year," Hansen said. "He threw a couple of touchdowns, played in more than one game and did a good job of keeping us alive. Krcmar was such a dynamic runner, so we ran him a lot last year. This year, it's going to be a little less than that and more responsibility in the passing game."

The Comets traveled to Port Washington Aug. 10 for a scrimmage with Port Washington and West Allis Nathan Hale.

"We had a bunch of guys out, but we were able to see some guys fighting for spots compete for a longer time," Hansen said. "Getting the reps and live action vs. a real opponent is a little different than practice and that's what some of the guys saw. A lot of them made the correct adjustments."

The Comets will open the season with four crossover games against North Eastern Conference teams Freedom, Wrightstown, Denmark and Little Chute.

The Bay Conference opener is set for Friday, Sept. 15, at Shawano.

"You have to rise to the challenge," Hansen said. "I think the North Eastern has had a little bit of an advantage over the Bay Conference the last couple years and that's been very clear record-wise. I'd rather play a tougher nonconference opponent. They're a little faster, a little bigger. I'm not saying our conference is a letdown, but it prepares you better for higher-level competition."

Xavier won the conference championship last year and should be in the mix for another title, according to Hansen.

"Xavier, Winneconne, Shawano, those are the teams that have been around the top of the pack," he said. "There is no down week. We've been lucky enough to beat some of the other teams in the conference, but they haven't been easy wins."

Former Trucker takes over as Clintonville football coach

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

CLINTONVILLE – Two words come to mind when talking about the Clintonville football team.

Those words? Kade Rosenow.

The honorable mention all-state senior quarterback put up some big numbers for the Trickers in 2022, including nearly 2,400 passing yards and 32 touchdown passes.

First-year coach Nick Raasch, who played high school football in Clintonville and was an assistant the past two seasons under former coach Nick Winkler, expects opponents to try to find a way to keep Rosenow in check.

“Outside of his physical abilities, he’s a great leader,” he said. “He’s a lead-by-example type of guy. He loves showing the younger guys what it’s all about.”

Rosenow’s top receivers last year included the graduated Jordan Wegener, who caught 13 touchdown passes named to the all-state team.

“It’s not often that you graduate an all-state receiver and you think you have a better receiving corps than you did,” Raasch said. “We have some guys – Jack Yaeger and Jonathan Scherschel and Sam Wegener – that we’re confident in.”

Other returning players for the Trickers include seniors Zander Schroeder (defensive end and running back); Kaine Killips (linebacker and offensive lineman); and Peyton Kautz (defensive and offensive lineman).

“We have a couple guys that need to step up that are a little younger,” Raasch said. “Junior Blake LaViolette playing on the offensive and defensive line and sophomore Ryan Gauthier have to take that next step and kind of grow into that role as tackle.”

After opening the season with nonconference games against Amherst and Mosinee, the Trickers will open Northwoods Conference play Friday, Sept. 1, at Crandon.

“I want to show that we can go out there, compete and play hard,” Raasch said. “Amherst is a tough opponent that we’ve played the last two years. Last year, we got a win from them and two years ago, we played them in the playoffs and they took us out in round one. It’s been a nice, competitive rivalry.”

The Trickers finished fourth behind Coleman, Crivitz and Crandon in the Northwoods last season and Raasch expects Coleman to contend for a third straight conference championship.

The Cougars handed the Trickers a 42-16 loss last year and eventually advanced to Level 3 of the WIAA playoffs.

“That was the first time we had played them in this conference,” Raasch said. “They’ve been in the weight room, they know how to run the program and they do it well. That’s a great program up there and we aspire to be like that and compete with them this year.”

Besides, Clintonville, Coleman, Crivitz and Crandon, the Northwoods also includes Tomahawk and Oconto Falls. Menomonee Indian and Northland Pines will not have varsity teams this season.

“I see us right up at the top of the conference,” Raasch said. “The expectation is to make the playoffs, but I think we can really make a push for at least the top two spots.”

The Trickers’ 2022 ended with a 7-6 loss to Chilton in the first round of the playoffs.

Last year’s players remember that game, Raasch said.

“We had a shot late in the game and botched a snap in the red zone,” he said. “It’s tough for it to go that way.”

Raasch said the transition from assistant to head coach was easy for him.

“It means a lot to me and it’s definitely something that I’ve always wanted to do,” he said. “It’s something I’ve tried to prepare myself for the last few years. I have a great staff around me, a great school to support me and the community as well. Having the entire community behind you is a huge thing. They show up on Fridays and even on Mondays with the JV team. That definitely helps.”

Warhawks hope to build on last season's success

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

WEYAUWEGA – It didn't take very long for Colton Zimmerman to make an impact on Weyauwega-Fremont High School's football program.

In his first season as varsity coach last year, he guided the Warhawks to their first winning season since 2010 and first trip to the WIAA playoffs since 2007.

The expectations are even bigger this season, according to Zimmerman.

"Same story, different chapter," he said. "All we're doing is doubling down on how to make great young men and great athletes as well. When we talk, they are listening. That's going to pay dividends for them this season."

The Warhawks won their first four games last year and finished 6-4 overall and 3-4 in the Central Wisconsin Conference-Large.

Although the season ended in the first round of the playoffs with a loss to St. Mary's Springs, Zimmerman and his staff are counting on several returning all-conference players, including Vanden Hoffman (first team offensive lineman and honorable mention defensive lineman); Brayden Arndt (first team wide receiver); Kameron Zielke (honorable mention quarterback); and Hunter Meisenhelder (honorable mention defensive back).

"We're counting on all of them, from freshmen to seniors," Zimmerman said. "All these guys are stepping up to the plate. We have all the talent in the world. I'd take our guys over anyone any day of the week. Our biggest thing is going to be that grit. We need it and that's what we're creating. "In the past, you could ride ebbs and flows of talent. In today's athletic work, that is impossible. There is no shortcut to success now. You can't skip the weight room, you can't skip flexibility, you can't skip anything now. It's all or nothing."

The CWC-Large is an eight-team conference that includes Stratford, last year's Division 6 state champion, and Shiocton, the runner-up in Division 7.

"We have the toughest conference in any division and I'll say that year in and year out," Zimmerman said. "Anyone can go and win, but the difference is going to be who wants it more."

A 4-0 start last year created plenty of excitement in the community last year and Zimmerman wants to see that continue.

"It was awesome to see some success," he said. "Last year was a great year to buy into. This year is a year of commitment. Commitment is forever and that's what we're doing now. We had an off-season with a record number of guys in the weight room and they've been doing all the right things. It will come to fruition."

Bulldogs aiming for improvement this year

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

NEW LONDON – Wins haven't been adding up lately for the New London football team, but coach Kyle Collins believes the Bulldogs can turn the corner in 2023.

The Bulldogs are coming off of a 1-8 season that included a 1-4 record in the Bay Conference.

"There's a desire to get better and a desire to be here," Collins said. "Everyone's working to get better. They're working hard and taking coaching really well. That's been the biggest thing."

New London competes in the Bay Conference with Waupaca, Seymour, Shawano, Winneconne and Xavier, which Collins said is a competitive league.

"We lost 13-0 in a close game to Waupaca, we were beating Shawano at half-time, we beat Seymour, we went through three quarterbacks in one game at Winneconne and only lost by a couple of scores," he said. "I think the guys know that we're a step away, but it's not just going to come to us. We have to earn it."

The Bulldogs' first four games are against North Eastern Conference opponents Denmark, Little Chute, Luxemburg-Casco and Fox Valley Lutheran.

"Those are tough, but I think they're good measuring sticks for us to see where we're at as a program and for our guys to see that this is where we want New London football to get to," Collins said.

New London players work on drills during practice.

As far as returning players, the Bulldogs will count on several juniors and seniors.

"We have some good senior leadership this year," Collins said. "Mike Helsten has been great senior leader for us and Tyler Gerrits took over the quarterback role about halfway during last season. Tyler basically made us keep playing him because every time he went out there, he was doing the right thing and doing well. We have a really good group of juniors on the offensive line. Ira Stein is a captain for us and that's just a product of his offseason work ethic. He just comes and works every day. It was also great to see guys like Tyler, Mike and Jonah (Schlueter) have great success in basketball. You could see their confidence growing and now they see that they can compete with anyone. They're all great athletes."

Several football players were also members of the New London Clippers team that placed second this summer at the American Legion Class AA State Baseball Tournament.

"That's been big for them to realize that, 'Hey, we can play with anyone in the state, we're just as good as those athletes,'" Collins said. "We have four good quarterbacks that we're excited about, basically one at every grade level. For the first time in awhile, we've been able to say, 'OK, this is our quarterback for next year.' Last year, we didn't have a clear backup quarterback. We were in trouble when our quarterback went down."

The Bulldogs will field varsity and JV1 teams this season, Collins said.

"JV1 will probably be 60% freshmen and we'll fill it out with sophomores just to get them reps," he said. "We were able to field three teams last year and our numbers are pretty close to where they were last year. The reason we're only doing JV1 is mainly positional needs. That freshman class has a ton of backs and receivers, we just don't have the numbers for a freshman offensive line. That's where we're at in terms of numbers."

A few things have to fall in place for the Bulldogs to be successful, according to Collins.

"We just need to be resilient and stay healthy," he said. "There are going to be nicks and injuries in high school football. Who can step up and fill that void and which one of these sophomores and juniors can be our X factor? I see it as a coach every year, a kid comes in and surprises you who ends up being a really good varsity contributor you weren't planning on. Who's that going to be?"

Wolves dealing with low football numbers

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

MANAWA – An up-and-down 2022 season for the Manawa football team ended with an early exit from the WIAA playoffs.

If the Wolves want to improve on last year's 5-5 overall record and 3-4 mark in the Central Wisconsin Conference-Large, it'll have to be done with a small group of younger players.

Younger doesn't necessarily mean inexperienced, according to coach Brad Johnson.

"We lost quite a few seniors and small numbers makes it tough, but they're willing to take whatever we bring their way," he said. "They're giving their best effort and that's all we can ask."

All-conference players gone from last year's team include second-teamer Brandon Bierman and honorable mention selection Tanner Nienhaus.

"You never can truly replace them, but looking at that group, that was a lot of wear and tear on their bodies," Johnson said. "To be honest, there were a lot of injuries and a lot of these guys have got a lot of (playing) time. The guy that's staring for us at quarterback started a few games for us and almost led us to a win in week nine. We're happy with the guys that we have back and ready to see what they can do."

Nolan Heise keeps his eye on the ball as he tries to catch a pass.

Brady Zemple practices snapping the ball.

The CWC-Large also includes Amherst, Nekoosa, Shiocton, Spencer/Columbus Catholic, Stratford, Weyauwega-Fremont and Wittenberg-Biramwood. Five of those teams – including Manawa – qualified for the WIAA playoffs last year, Stratford went on to win the Division 6 state championship and Shiocton placed second in Division 7.

"The middle-tier teams in there are pretty even across the board," Johnson said. "We just want to make sure we beat the teams we're supposed to beat and beat one or two that we're not supposed to and see what happens."

Manawa opened the season Aug. 18 on the road with a nonconference game against Chetek-Weyerhaeuser and the home opener against Marshall is set for Friday, Aug. 25.

"(University of Wisconsin football coach) Luke Fickell said it the other day: 'A successful season is when you played better in week nine than you did in week one,'" Johnson said. "If that means making the playoffs, we make the playoffs. If it doesn't, it doesn't. As long as we're getting better every single week, that's all we can ask for."

I-S Thunderbirds to rely on younger players

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

IOLA – Senior leadership often leads to success for a high school football team. That won't be the case this season at Iola-Scandinavia, as the Thunderbirds' 30-player roster includes only two seniors.

Low numbers are nothing new for longtime coach Scott Erickson.

"We have 30 guys overall," he said. "When you only have two seniors, younger guys have to move up and play. Fortunately for us, we have some pretty good athletes coming up. It's a pretty good cohesive group. They get along well and care about each other. That's a big thing."

The T-Birds have a handful of all-conference players from last season to replace, including first-teamers Jackson Frey and Braden Louison; and second-teamers Frey, Parker Gullixon and Mason Kraemer.

The T-Birds will compete

Ryan Kampert tucks the ball under his arm and brings it up the field during a recent Iola-Scandinavia football practice. Kampert is back for another season with the Thunderbirds.

with Assumption, Loyal, Pacelli and Rosholt in the Central Wisconsin Conference-Small and opened the season Aug. 18 in Shiocton.

"We'll end up playing four conference games and four crossover games that matter for the playoffs," Erickson said. "Every one is meaningful. You have to play the teams you're playing to the best of your ability and hopefully, we'll have a chance after week nine to keep moving on."

The T-Birds' 2-7 record last year included a 2-2 mark in the CWC-Small.

"They're pretty dedicated," Erickson said. "I give the guys credit for getting up and playing at 7 in the morning and showing back up at 4. We try to beat the heat as best we can this time of year."

After opening the season

Quarterback Jensen Rice hands the ball off to Billy Myers.

with four nonconference games, Iola-Scandinavia will open CWC-Small play Friday, Sept. 15, against Assumption.

"It's all about fundamentals," Erickson said. "We work on fundamentals now and in the last week of the year, too. It's what you have to do. We're just trying to get a little better every week. Our theme is 1-0 each week. Don't look behind, don't look ahead, just try to take care of what's at hand right now."

The T-Birds' home opener at Thunderbird Field in Scandinavia is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 25, against Wittenberg-Birnamwood.

"It's kind of a family event," Erickson said. "You get aunts, uncles, grandmas, grandpas, neighbors, all kinds of relatives that come. Some of the people that come are former players, so it's a little family reunion on Fridays."

Polar Bears have new varsity football coach

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

HORTONVILLE – A new coach hopes to breathe new life into Hortonville High School's football program.

Nick Reichert, an assistant with the Polar Bears the past two seasons, replaces Ben Stumpf as varsity coach.

Hortonville is in its final season with the Wisconsin Valley Association, a conference that also includes Appleton West, D.C. Everest, Marshfield, Stevens Point, Wausau East, Wausau West and Wisconsin Rapids.

The Polar Bears were 2-5 in the VFA last year and 2-7 overall. The team will return to the Fox Valley Association next season.

Reichert is the first to admit he and his staff won't turn the program around overnight.

"It comes down to trust and believing in each other all the way through from top to bottom," he said. "It starts with focusing on our job. You can't go outside of that. It's often difficult when you are struggling to start worrying about stuff that you can't control. I think it all comes down to that trust factor from player to player and with the coaching staff. We put a lot of pressure on trying to win and that can often make it tough."

Returning players for the Polar Bears this season include four first-team all-conference players: seniors Noah Draeger (offensive lineman), Aiden Roh (defensive lineman) and Smith (inside linebacker); and junior Seth Valeri (defensive back).

"There are almost too many names for me to go through," Reichert said. "The talent is there."

On the other hand, the Polar Bears have to replace several all-conference players from last season, including first-teamers August Maurer and Brett Heinz; second-teamer Luke O'Connor; and honorable mention players Matt Sigl and Tyson Kloehn.

Hortonville had plenty of success in other sports during the 2022-23 school year. The baseball team made it to the WIAA Division 1 championship game, the girls' basketball team advanced to state; and Ben Smith returned from the state track and field meet with an individual championship.

Quarterback Broden Butzin warms up on the sideline Aug. 10 at Hortonville's scrimmage with Ashwaubenon and Oshkosh West.

"There's a lot of success across the whole building," Reichert said. "For us, it's coming together. We were so close so many times last year and just couldn't find a way to get the win. If we continue to fight and play for each other, the ceiling can be the limit."

The Polar Bears opened the season Aug. 18 at home against West De Pere, a team that played for a Division 2 state championship last year.

"I've always wanted to be a head coach," Reichert said.

The Hortonville Polar Bears are competing for the final time this season in the Valley Football Association.
