New downtown mural

BY JAMES CARD STAFF REPORTER WAUPACA - In the small alley next to Shindig, the downtown candy store, Dory Tischendorf sits in a scissor lift and adds to the giant mural that covers the entire side of the building. She started it on the last day of June and she hopes to be done in a couple weeks. "Its way more than I bargained for but I'm very grateful. It's quite an honor," she said. Shindig owner Carolyn Niemuth asked her to paint it the candy-themed mural. "It's my creation but it's her idea," said Tischendorf. Tischendorf, a retired nurse, never studied art but says she was gifted with it. She has created a mural 20 years ago in a basement and it has an outdoor theme with bald eagles soaring over with birch and pine trees. When she was a teenager she painted a mural on her father's garage door. She's using Benjamin Moore exterior paint from The Paint Store which is on the same block. "They've been very good to me," she said. "It will be done when it's done but I want to get it done before the snow flies."

Stabbing suspect charged with intentional homicide

BY ROBERT CLOUD SENIOR EDITOR

COUNTY - Waupaca County District Attorney Kat Turner charged Jordan D. Peters, 19, Clintonville, with first-degree intentional homicide Monday, Sept. 11.

Peters

Peters is accused of stabbing his mother, Angela S. Zahn, 39, Neenah, while she was driving them in Clintonville.

Zahn graduated from Clintonville High School and later moved to the Fox Valley area.

Shortly after 12:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 4, officers were dispatched to an open-line 911 call in Olsen Park. A woman could be heard moaning. She said she had been stabbed.

The Waupaca County Communications could not precisely locate where the caller was located.

Sgt. Matthew Wright with the Clintonville Police Department found a man standing beside a car with its driver's side door open.

The car was on Memorial Circle, which runs on the northwest side of the park.

Zahn was lying in a fetal position down the street from the man, who police identified as Peters.

According to the criminal complaint, Peters told Wright, "I stabbed her."

He then threw a folding knife at Wright's feet.

Clintonville Police Officer Anthony Arrieta began trying to save the Zahn's life.

He turned her over on her back and saw she had sustained a 1-inch stab wound below her sternum.

When Wright asked her who stabbed her, she said it was her son, according to a probable cause court document filed by Wright.

Too much sand on beach

Waupaca struggles with sediment

BY JAMES CARD STAFF REPORTER WAUPACA - A small group of people gathered at South Park on Sept. 8 to solve a mystery.

Why is the channel that connects Mirror and Shadow Lakes filling up with sediment?

City Parks and Recreation Director Laura Colbert organized the filed trip inquiry. She was joined by Dan MacFarlane, with the Waupaca County Land and Water Conservation Department.

The shallow channel is only inches deep in some places and has become overgrown with aquatic vegetation.

Kayaks can pass through but paddleboats cannot pass unless one has strong legs and up for a grueling slog through silt. Fishing boats with trolling motors or small outboards will get bogged down.

The channel connecting Mirror and Shadow Lakes is filling up with silt. The main culprits are hillside erosion and an unnecessary expanse of sand below the beach house. James Card Photo

"We used to run Royal Oaks Lodging and Campground just north of here. Our guests would come to Shadow because of the launch and express disappointment of being unable to connect between the two lakes. You don't realize how many people we are pulling into the area. They are coming here because they want to kayak or to canoe or swim. They are spending money at Scoopers and restaurants and if we don't keep these areas open for those people - and for ourselves - well that's a very important part," said Julie Handy.

The channel was dredged in the early 2000s and it is considered manmade, perhaps over 100 years old.

"When we bought our place, we were told that her [previous lakefront owner] grandfather dug the channel and she was fourth generation," said Handy.

MacFarlane said in his day-to-day work rain events are becoming more extreme. A common 10-year storm event was once 3.6 inches of rain in 24 hours. Now he sees 2 inches of rain in 30 minutes - more intense and damaging bursts of rain in brief episodes.

"That's probably impacting this. By the time you work at the water's edge, it's almost too late. It's already there, what can we do up here to slow it down or

New London mulls raises for officials

BY ROBERT CLOUD SENIOR EDITOR

NEW LONDON - Members of the city's Finance Committee discussed increasing pay for elected officials at a Sept. 6 meeting.

Prior to the meeting, City Administrator Chad Hoerth issued a report on what members of city council and the mayor of area cities were making.

Hoerth reported that New London, with a population of 7,364, paid its council members a base salary of $3,000 annually, plus $30 for each meeting they attend. The committee chair is paid $35 for attending a meeting.

He noted that a council member who attends six meetings per month and chairs a committee has the potential to earn up to $5,220 annually.

The city of Waupaca, with a population of 6,278, pays council members a salary of $4,850 annually with no additional payment for attending meetings, according to Hoerth's report.

Clintonville has 4,589 residents and pays its alderpersons $4,500 per year plus $25 per meeting up to 30 meetings.

New London's mayor is paid $6,400 annually plus the same per meeting stipend as the council members and committee chairs.

Waupaca's mayor is paid $12,250 annually, while Clintonville's mayor is paid $4,500 per year plus $25 per meeting.

Pay set by ordinance

To increase the pay of elected officials, New London must amend Chapter 2 of its Municipal Code. The pay is set by ordinance, which was last amended in May 2018.

Clintonville schools get grant

Funds planned for tech ed

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE - The Clintonville School District was awarded a CTE Technical Incentive Grant in the amount of $19,752 for its technical education program.

The Clintonville School Board was notified about the grant at its Sept. 11 meeting.

Clintonville High School Principal Kelly Zeinert told the board that the previous high school principal never applied for the grant.

"I've written for it (grant) every year since I've been hired, and have gotten it every year," Zeinert said. "It (amount) keeps on going up with the more kids we have in the CTE program. So, thanks to those teachers, we can funnel more kids into those types of jobs. And it really pays off for the district."

Zeinert said last month she submitted the grant application for next year's grant program, adding that the district should find out in August 2024 if it will be awarded the grant again, and how much the district will receive.

"I anticipate it ranging anywhere from $25,000 to $32,000, depending on how much the state has," Zeinert said. "But that money is, you know, free money, as I like to call it, where we can use it to supplement different things that come up throughout the year that we didn't budget for."

The amount the district is receiving this year through the grant is the largest amount the district has ever received through the grant program, Zeinert said.

She told Wright, "He hates me," the complaint says. Paramedics from Clintonville Ambulance arrived and continued treatment. Theda Star then flew the victim to ThedaCare Medical Center in Neenah, where she was pronounced dead at 7:29 p.m. Sept. 4. Wright questioned Peters at the Clintonville police station. "I guess I got really angry and was thinking about the past and got to the breaking point and just stabbed her," Peters told Wright, according to the complaint. Peters reportedly said he brought the knife along because he planned to hurt his mother. He said he had been thinking about it for the past year and planning for it the past week. He is currently in custody on a $1 million cash bond. If convicted, Peters could be sentenced to life in prison.

divert it or put in things to harbor the soil to keep it in place?" said MacFarlane. He pointed out that urban areas are tougher to work with as there are more impervious surfaces such as roofs and pavement that shed water quickly. On the east side of the Shadow Lake beach house is a small hill that drops down into an expanse of sand that connects to the beach. It reaches so far back from the beach that it doesn't serve any purpose for barefoot beach goers. Nobody was sure how much sand got there in the first place. According to Colbert there is no policy or standing order to dump sand there. The hillside near the beach house is eroded of topsoil. Tree roots are exposed and the grass is sparse. As rainwater runs down the slope it meanders to the lowest and nearest place: the channel. MacFarlane advised to fix to the high ground first. Add rain gutters to the beach house and divert the water with underground pipes or French drains. Lessen the erosion on the hillside by adding some native plants to take root and retain what soil is left. Down below near the channel, the quick fix would be to construct a silt fence. Later a permanent mound could be graded into a barrier to further siltation. Fixing this problem comes at a cost and the group discussed getting shoreline restoration grants from the Natural Resources Conservation Service and the state's Healthy Lakes grant program. Dredging was another matter and MacFarlane floated one idea. He works with farmers that have artificial drainage ditches. Once the ditches get clogged with sediment and plants, they get a permit to dig it out. It is a common practice. Since the channel is a manmade waterway, it could potentially be viewed in the same way. MacFarlane was not certain if the Department of Natural Resources would share his point of view.

PUBLISHER'S LETTER
Why Do We Fall in Love?

Dear Reader, Humans fall in love due to a combination of biological, psychological, and social factors. Love is a complex emotion that helps form strong emotional connections, fostering relationships and bonding between individuals. It involves the release of various hormones, such as dopamine, oxytocin, and serotonin, which contribute to feelings of pleasure, attachment, and intimacy. Personal experiences, cultural influences, and shared interests also play a significant role in shaping how and why people fall in love. But falling in love, really, was it the first dance, the first kiss, the first time a glance with a smile went our way? And then what. Does love promise a wonderful world together? Does love promise a beautiful set of children? Does love promise every day together spent as a holiday? Does love promise a together forever and hereafter? These are not promised, only hoped for.

FROM PAGE 1 who chairs Parks and Rec, said when compensation for elected officials was last modified, then Mayor Gary Henke wanted to cut salaries but increase meeting pay to encourage more attendance at meetings. Alderpersons are paid for attending committee meetings whether or not they are members. Ald. John Faucher noted that the previous city attorney discouraged nonmembers from attending committee meetings. "Just about every alderperson makes about every meeting," Mayor Mark Herter said. City Finance Director Judy Radke said the city budgets for all council members attending all committee meetings.

"The chair gets $5 more than just a committee member. I thought that was kind of a joke when I got my first paycheck when I was chair of Economic Development," said Ald. Tim Roberts. "I thought really? You put in so much work to the meeting, I think that's kind of low." "I don't think anybody takes these jobs for the money," Besaw said. Hoerth said committee chairs often come into city hall prior to a meeting and discuss the agenda with staff. They are not compensated for that extra time. Ald. BaLynda Croy asked how much extra time do committee chairs work in a month. "If they're putting in an hour per meeting on average, then $5 per meeting is certainly not enough,"

Croy said. Mayor Mark Herter said it would be fair if a committee chair received an additional $25 per meeting. Roberts said he wanted to see a $1,000 increase in annual salaries for council members and a $2,000 pay raise for the mayor. He also advocated for a $40 per meeting payment to committee members and $60 for the committee chair. "On top of that, I'd like to see a yearly percentage raise to align with what staff is getting," Roberts said. "If staff gets a 2% raise, council would get a 2% raise." "If somebody thinks that's too much money, they can always donate it back or pitch in to a cause," Faucher said. City staff will provide the committee with cost estimates for the proposed increases, as well as information about when they would take effect. Poll workers Finance voted to give poll workers a raise. They currently earn $147 during each election, while the chief inspectors earn $175. They are also paid $10 an hour for training. Hoerth's report noted that a typical election day lasts about 14 hours so the poll workers are earning approximately $10.50 per hour while chief inspectors earn $12.50 per hour. Croy noted that in addition to having to work long days, poll workers are also dealing with negative public opinion and people who smear their integrity. Finance voted to increase their pay by $12 and $15 per election.

Waupaca approves two towers

City plans to network facilities

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

WAUPACA – The city of Waupaca will construct two communications towers to connect the rec center, the police station and the future Public Works facility to the servers at city hall.

The Common Council approved the $189,000 networking plan at its Sept. 5 meeting.

Joshua Werner, the city's IT director, told the council that consolidating all Public Works into a single facility provides an opportunity for the city to connect with all its off-site locations.

"They're stand alone, not tied into any of our systems," he said regarding Public Works' multiple sites. "We've got a lot of duplicate communication expenses."

Werner noted that the city's three main buildings – city hall, the rec center and police station – are currently all tied together on one computer network.

"We share all our different IT resources," Werner said. "It's led to cross savings over the years."

Connecting the Public Works facility into the city's network has proven more challenging and more expensive.

The facility will be located on the city's east side at the former site of Haberkorn Field.

In a report to the council, Werner said, "If the new public works facility operated stand-alone from the main city network, we would have to have a duplicate set of IT systems and monthly telecommunications expenses. By adding this facility to our main network, they can share the same phone system and phone lines we already pay for, same access control system, same security camera system, same file server, same wireless network controller, same internet connection, etc. Our current systems support adding this new facility as-is."

He estimated that installing a stand-alone system at the facility would have up-front costs of just over $20,000, while ongoing costs over the 50-year life expectancy of the system would be nearly $332,000.

Werner researched various methods of connecting the facility to the system.

He looked at installing fiber optics under ground and using utility poles, using the county's fiber optics system and using towers.

While the upfront costs for fiber are $163,275, the ongoing costs are $231,408 over 40 years.

The city can install two towers – one at the Public Works facility and one at city hall – for an initial $189,000 with ongoing costs estimated at $59,000 over 50 years.

Werner received bids from Vinco Inc. and El-exco sent bids for fiber optics and for towers.

Werner recommended awarding the contract to Vinco.

Because his proposal was over the $180,000 that council approved from its capital expenditures budget for the project, Werner also said Waupaca Online could provide $30,000 to the cost.

Werner said the city's online service will benefit from the taller towers.

The council unanimously approved the proposal.

Police K9 honored

WAUPACA – K9 Nova, a black Labrador retriever of the Waupaca County Sheriff Department, recently died and was remembered in a ceremony at Swan Park on Sept. 7.

A week earlier Nova underwent surgery after a tumor ruptured.

After the operation, it was evident the dog would not recover.

"Nova gave her best years to the protection of Waupaca County and has earned her eternal peace," said Sheriff Timothy R. Wilz.

Nova was partnered with Deputy Graham Barden and was part of his family for the past three years and 10 months.

The dog was originally paired with now retired Detective Sgt. Jon Loken in June 2018 until he was promoted in 2019.

During Nova's five years of service, she detected drugs, was along during apprehensions and was trained in tracking.

Her favorite assignment was visiting children in schools.

K9 Nova, a black Labrador retriever, died recently. She served the Waupaca County Sheriff's Office for five years. Her job duties ranged from tracking, drug detection and visiting schools. Her handler was Deputy Graham Barden. Submitted Photo

Speaker examines youth mental health

WAUPACA – Linda Hall will present "The Youth Mental Health Crisis and You" at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 18, at the Waupaca Area Public Library lower-level meeting rooms.

Hosted by Winchester Academy, the program is free and open to the public.

Hall is director of the Office of Children's Health for the state of Wisconsin.

She noted that one in three youth feel sad or hope-

Hall less while one in two are experiencing anxiety. Nearly half of teens feel like they do not belong at their school. Research shows the mental health crisis is impacting young people across the span of childhood, adolescence and young adulthood.

It reaches into communities across the nation, including here in central Wisconsin.

Research also offers insights into practical strategies that families can take to help improve the well-being of children now and to increase the likelihood that they will become healthy adults with productive futures.

Mark and Kate Saunders are this program's sponsors.

MMC acquires Peshtigo Times

GREEN BAY – Multi Media Channels (MMC) has acquired the Peshtigo Times and Times Saver.

"We are excited to assume Chuck Gardon's stewardship of these publications," said MMC CEO Patrick Wood.

"We intend to strengthen and enrich the community by continuing to provide strong reporting on local news and sports and powerful advertising options for retailers and employers. It is our intention to sustain Chuck's family legacy through the years to come by maintaining, and if possible exceeding, the high standards of journalistic integrity and customer service they set during their tenure."

The Peshtigo Times can be traced back to 1867, when it was known as the Peshtigo Herald and was the first weekly newspaper in Peshtigo.

The Herald was succeeded by the Peshtigo Argus, which was then renamed the Peshtigo Times in 1894. The publication was purchased by Leo J. Pesch Sr. in 1929, whose family continued operations through the next two generations.

"I want to thank all of our loyal readers, advertisers and particularly our employees since 1929 who have helped us to this point," Gardon said.

"I am pleased to be turning over this newspaper to the Wood family, which has roots in Marinette County and has built a reputation for printing accurate and unbiased information while building its network of respected local newspapers in various parts of Wisconsin."

MMC began its work in community newspaper publishing in Denmark, Wisconsin, in 1953. Under the leadership of its founder, Frank Wood, the business expanded into other markets.

Today, the company remains in the Wood family, owned and operated by both family members and employees, publishing 33 weekly and four monthly print publications and 27 digital channels that serve the central, northern, and eastern regions of Wisconsin.

Mike Breyer of Hortonville turns over his 1923 Model-T Ford during the Wheels on Werner Allen Car Show held in New London Friday, Sept. 8. Breyer and his family have collected Model-T's for many years. This particular car drove the late Dr. John Monsted through a parade celebrating "Doc Monsted Day" in New London on Oct. 15, 1975. Monsted delivered thousands of babies and served as a general practitioner in town for 50 years. Mayor Herman Gagnow declared Doc Monsted Day by proclamation and thousands attended the celebration. Library receives $20,000 grant

FREMONT - The Neuschafer Community Library was selected to receive $20,000 grant from the Libraries Transforming Communities (LTC): Accessible Small and Rural Communities initiative by the American Library Association (ALA)

The grant aims to support libraries by enhancing their facilities, services and programs to better serve patrons with disabilities.

Library Director Melissa Krause submitted a comprehensive proposal to address these specific needs.

The initial proposal included plans to update the large print book section, introduce dementia-friendly materials, implement specialized programming, and develop a delivery service tailored for those who face challenges accessing library materials in person.

The need for such improvements was highlighted during the library's participation in a strategic planning cohort through Wisconsin Library Services (WiLS).

Survey results indicated 39% of respondents were ages 45 to 75 years and older, marking a considerable portion of the library's demographics.

Krause said she was dedicated to ensuring the library is as user-friendly as possible.

"We have been actively working on programming for our older patrons and updating our media for individuals with physical and cognitive limitations," Krause said. "We are working to draw these individuals back to the library and develop new systems to get the resources to those who cannot make it here in person."

Fremont is among 100 selected libraries representing 43 states that will receive the $20,000 grant.

The ALA has also awarded grants of $10,000 to 140 other libraries. Eligible libraries were limited to communities with populations less than 25,000, located at least five miles from an urbanized area.

Library staff will engage in a community input-gathering session at 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26.

This is to help identify existing resources, needs, gaps, and priorities. Grant funds will then be used to create services or improve facilities based on the needs identified by the community.

"I submitted a proposal with areas that I assessed as needing improvement, but the community may shed light on a need that is entirely different," Krause said. "The best part of this grant is the flexibility to ensure that we can pivot with the funding and use it in response to the community needs."

Power boats race 2nd year

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

FREMONT – On Sept. 9, for the second year in a row, the fastest boats in the state raced a stretch on the Wolf River in downtown Fremont.

They staged near the Bridge Bar and the starting line was in front of the Fremont River Deck. The racers gunned their engines, the boats lifted and they streaked across the water 800 feet upriver to the finish line in front of the Webfooter grandstand.

Last year's race was on a drizzly, cold weekend. This year was sunny, warm and the water was like glass.

Between the stock car-like motor roars, Jimmy Buffett played on the outdoor speakers and the riverfront racing course was packed with people in lawn chairs.

In years past the races used to be a quarter mile. The boats got faster. They dropped the drag to 1,000 feet. The boats got faster. Now they settled at an 800-foot course.

The Wisconsin-based Upper Midwest Power Boat Association hosts four races per year in Stevens Point, Pelican Lake and Fremont.

According to club president Brett Seubert, the racing event is in collaboration with the Webfooters Water Ski Show Team and bringing the races to Fremont was a community-minded move.

The idea was to host a post-Labor Day event that bridges the end of summer and the start of fall weather, one last splash before falling leaves and inevitable snow.

"The river provides a safer venue for us. When you get into windy conditions, you have the natural treeline protection of the waterway. If we were to be on Lake Poygan and it was windy, you would have the waves kicking up and it wouldn't be safe," he said.

Safety is a big concern. A

IOLA – The Iola Car Show office has received approval from its board of directors to proceed with payments to the ancillary and member organizations that supported this year's event.

"We're very excited to share that the board approved significant increases in the payments made to our member and ancillary volunteer groups," said Joe Opperman, the show's executive director.

"Those increases mean we're issuing $70,000 more than we would have been able to just two years ago for the same amount of work. We've been blessed by three consecutive shows of wonderful weather following the 2020 cancellation and we're thrilled that the business is able to support this level of community giving. This year's volunteer organization payments represent the highest amount we've been able to issue in decades." The organization expects to issue more than $275,000 to 122 volunteer groups, which will bring the running total to more than

Bartelt, John

John M. Bartelt, age 94 of Marion passed away on Monday, September 4, 2023 at his home surrounded by his loving family.

To sum up a person's life story in a couple paragraphs is a daunting task; to tell of the legacy left by John Bartelt is near impossible. "Coach" John Bartelt was called up to the major leagues on Monday, September 4.

John Milton Bartelt was born and raised in Marathon, WI. He graduated from Marathon High School and attended UW-Stevens Point where he earned his bachelor's degree. He went on to earn his masters in Mathematics from UW-Madison. After serving in the US Army Professional Support Division, he returned to Marion, WI in 1953. He spent his time teaching math at the local high school and coaching basketball, football, and baseball. Soon after beginning his teaching career, he met the love of his life, Patricia Klopstein, on a school bus. They were married July 21, 1956. Together they raised and loved five children.

During the 70 years of calling Marion his home, John was very involved in his community. He held numerous leadership roles in the Lions Club, Legion, Legion Baseball, Little League and church council. John inspired generations of students and athletes who were lucky enough to have him as a part of their journey. Many of those same individuals became lifelong friends. After teaching, his days were filled with baseball bus trips and other special trips with wife, Pat. He also loved golf and bowling leagues, cards with the guys, and cheering on all the Wisconsin sport teams.

Of all the teams and players John coached over the years, his favorite team was his family. He enjoyed camping and road trips with his children in the growing up years. Those trips evolved into the annual week at the lake where his entire extended family spent time together boating, playing cards, and enjoying late afternoon happy hours. Holidays were joyful events where he shared story after story and had a joke for every situation. The daily cribbage game with his bride kept his competitive streak strong and phone calls, emails, and visits from his family were highlights in his days. He often reminded whoever he was with that they were his favorite. Truth be told, he was ours too.

John Bartelt will be ever missed by many. He was an inspiration to those in his circle and often shared life lessons on and off the field. He valued community and relationships and genuinely invested in both. The way he told the good of groaners with a sparkle in his eye will be a memory kept close. John lived a life of no regrets. He loved hard, lived a life of integrity, and cherished time with those he loved.

As per John's wishes he was surrounded by family in his last days under the care of hospice.

The family would like to extend a special thanks to Dr. Dan Kraeger and ProMedica Hospice as well as Cornerstone Care for loving and caring for John.

He is survived by his "favorites:"

His wife of 67 years, Patricia

Son: Tom (Sandy) Bartelt, Mt. Horeb

Daughters: Beth (Dan) Kraeger, Custer; Karen (Chris) Hanley, Grafton; Mary Bartelt, Fond du Lac; & Diane (Dennis) Federwitz, Clintonville

Grandchildren: Hannah (fiance, Nathan Duplayce) Bartelt; Katie (Eric) MacKay; Kinden (Isaac) Vazquez; Tyler (Callie) Kraeger; Sean (April) Hanley; Ben (Gus Hirschbock) Hanley; Callan Hanley; Nathan Federwitz; & Morgan Federwitz

Great-grandchildren: Ellie, Evan, Asher, & Owen MacKay; and Bo & Kai Vazquez

John was preceded in death by his parents, Gottlieb F. & Ruth M. (Weber) Bartelt; sisters, Joyce Rosso & Mary Butler; and brothers, Jim & George Bartelt.

A memorial service was held at 11AM Friday, September 8, 2023 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Marion, with the Rev. Karen Reimer officiating. Military honors were conducted following the service at the church by members of the American Legion William Bertram Post #198 of Marion, WI.

As per the family's wishes no formal visitation was held prior to the service. Friends gathered at the church just prior to the memorial service on Friday.

A private family interment took place at Greenleaf Cemetery, Marion prior to the memorial service.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to the Bartelt Memorial fund which will be used to invest in the community of Marion.

The Eberhardt-Stevenson Funeral Home & Crematory, Marion is assisting the Bartelt family with arrangements.

Hellweg Jr, John

On September 2, 2023, John Harry Hellweg Jr., of Greenville, WI went to be with the Lord at the age of 90 with his beloved wife Hilde and children at his side.

John was born in 1933 to Sara and John H. Hellweg Sr. in Wauwatosa, WI. In 1955, after John graduated from Georgia Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Chemical Engineering degree, he joined the Air Force and started his training in Wyoming. While in training John met Hilde and instantly fell in love. They were married in February, 1956 and moved to Cocoa Beach, FL where John completed his service with the Air Force and was discharged as a Captain. While in FL their son John Michael was born. After leaving the Air Force, John started working for Kimberly-Clark Corporation and was transferred to New Milford, CT where their daughter Catherine Ann was born. John's career continued to flourish and the family was transferred to Memphis, TN where they had two more children, Stephan Alexander and Susan Evelyn. John's career led them to Aiken, SC and Conway, AR before settling in Wisconsin. Even with a busy career, John found time to volunteer with the Boy Scouts when the kids were younger, and the Knights of Columbus. In 1979, he became a friend of Bill W. and was very devoted to their 12 step program as well as being a sponsor to many.

In 1982, John also started a nonprofit organization called Step Industries. John had been serving on the board of directors for the Mooring House, a nonprofit treatment program in Appleton, WI that helped men with alcohol and drug addictions. He saw how difficult it was for the addict in their early recovery time to find employment. John correctly believed that employment was an essential ingredient to lasting sobriety and he set about to create a nonprofit organization to fulfill this need. Knowing of a recycling project within Kimberly-Clark that required outsourced labor, John put together a board of directors, got nonprofit status, hired a startup team, and secured a bank loan to establish Step Industries. They opened in Neenah, WI in late September, 1982. Now merged with the Mooring House as Apricity, Step Industries has helped thousands of people over the past 41 years thanks to John's compassion and vision.

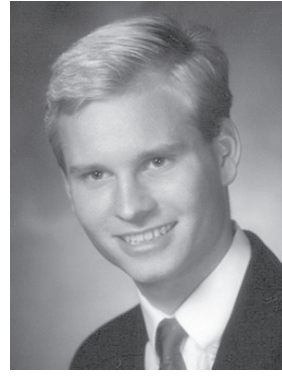

John retired from Kimberly-Clark as Vice President of Manufacturing in May of 1988. After John's retirement, he and Hilde enjoyed their beautiful home in King, WI on 100 acres where John could hunt and fish to his heart's content. They also purchased a motorhome to travel the United States, and later spent wintertime in Green Valley, AZ. Eventually they settled in Greenville, WI in 2008.

Most importantly, John was a devout Catholic and loved sharing his story and how the Lord Jesus Christ saved him. He often said, "God has taken care of me my whole life. I believe He will continue to do that."

John is preceded in death by his parents Sara and John H. Hellweg Sr., his brother-in-law George Moorwessel and his son-in-law Jerry Fronck. John is survived by his wife Hilde, their children Michael (Julie), Cathy, Steve (Lois), and Susan (Brian), and his sister Sally Moorwessel. John is also survived by grandchildren Ben (Patti), Chris (Rebecka), Allison, Alex (Deborah), Jessica (Trevor), Nicole (Jordan), Jennifer (Marcus), Megan (Alex), Heather (Samuel), and Justin, and great-grandchildren Noah, Elizabeth, Lillie, Lucie, Grayden, Caspian, Graham and Lennon. John will be missed by many and his family is comforted that he is now with his Savior Jesus.

In lieu of flowers, financial contributions in memory of John can be made to the Salvation Army.

Oppeneer, Brian

Brian K. Oppeneer, a well known and respected attorney, passed away on July 29, 2023, at the age of 53. Brian was born in Appleton on July 27, 1970, son of Keith and Shirley Oppeneer. He was a graduate of Appleton East High School where he was Class President and still holds records in pole vaulting. He enrolled at Tulane University on a Track and Field Scholarship.

He enjoyed time spent at the lake house on the Chain O' Lakes. Not only did this give him time to become an excellent water skier. This training would serve him well since he translated it into snow skiing where he became quite prolific. Brian finished his undergraduate studies at St. Olaf College in Minnesota. He went on to earn his Juris Doctor degree from Marquette University Law School.

He spent his time practicing law, most recently in Charlotte, North Carolina. During his time in North Carolina, he was also a volunteer fire fighter for Teega Kay. He later moved to Boca Raton, FL. Brian's specialty was Labor and Employment Law. Brian was employed by the National Labor Relations Board as a field attorney but spent the majority of his career working for Fortune 500 companies providing daily guidance to executives, human resources, and operations management. His bar admissions included Wisconsin, Texas, and North Carolina.

Brian is survived by his parents: Keith and Shirley Oppeneer; his son, Scott; former wife: Lauren; brother: Greg (JoAnn) Oppeneer; and an aunt Jean Jacobson.

Funeral liturgy will be held at 11:00 am, on Friday, September 15, 2023, at St. Bernard Catholic Church, 1617 W. Pine St., Appleton. Visitation will be on Friday at the church from 10 am until the time of the Mass.

"We also appreciate the 20 landowners that the trails touch part of their property," Wasrud said. "We remind all our riders to really respect the property because without them, we really could not do this."

Wasrud's hope is that the ride continues for years.

"This group of people is a fun bunch to be around and we have a good time out here," he said. "We hope to get a little more involvement from other outside organizations because we have the potential to keep this event growing in size each year."

Church to hold fall luncheon

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – Our Saviors Lutheran Church will host its annual fall luncheon buffet on Wednesday, Oct. 4.

The luncheon will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the church, located at 395 E. Iola St., Iola.

Menu items include a variety of hot dishes, baked beans, meat, vegetables, seafood, fruit salad, deviled eggs, rolls and desserts.

Guests can eat in or take a meal to go. There will also be an express lane for those in a hurry.

The cost is $10 for adults or $3 for ages 3-12. Kids under age 3 can eat for free.

All proceeds will benefit charity and everyone is welcome.

dive team and an ambulance were on site. Like other motorsports there have been accidents. The last four years have been accident free but the boats keep getting faster and lighter. "As the classes get faster and faster, they get lighter and more powerful which creates not an unsafe condition but it's a very skilled state you have to be in. You start to get canopied boats, lighter boats, you get people using nitrous and different sorts of exotic fuels and that's part of the fun, the progression. It's the creativity and the drive and motivation to better yourself and your boat," said Seubert.

This year there were 50 entries. There were v-bottoms, tunnel-hulled and jet boats. The classes are determined by mile-per-hour speed.

A common misconception is the size of the propellers. Smaller screws can actually work more efficiently. A bigger prop takes longer to get up to speed so a boat will spend more time accelerating the course rather than reaching the top speed and keeping it there. Average top speeds throughout the race are around 108 mph and an average race time would be around 7.5 seconds.

"That's the cool part about our club. There are limited rules. So as long as you stay within the mile-per-hour class that you are in, you could go out there with a quick ski boat or bass boat and have a good time in the 65 mile-per-hour class," said Seubert.

Most of the racers come from Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. In previous races they have had racers coming as far as New York and Canada. Keeping the races in the upper Midwest is also practical: none of this would be possible without volunteer race organizers that travel to the event.

Timm rewrites Comets' record book at night meet

BY GREG SEUBERT
 SPORTS EDITOR

NEENAH – Hard work in practice and on the cross country course has paid off for Waupaca's Sienna Timm.

The junior set a school record Sept. 8 at the Nightfall Classic 920. Her 17th-place time of 20:31.32 in the girls' race topped the Comets' previous 5,000-meter record of 20:35.1 that Michelle Petkovsek set in 2015.

"Anytime an athlete breaks a school record, it's really exciting," coach Jess Bank said. "Sienna's record is particularly special because she bounced back from a tough cross country season last year and had to fight through injuries. Despite not performing as well as she hoped last season, she stayed focused and has so far accomplished great things this season. We're really looking forward to what the rest of the season has in store."

Waupaca and Weyauwega-Fremont joined several other teams at the meet, held under the lights at Winagamie Golf Course.

Waupaca went on to place 14th in the girls' large school standings, while the boys placed eighth. Weyauwega-Fremont's boys' and girls' squads placed sixth and eighth, respectively, among small schools.

Other finishers for the Waupaca girls include Abigail Higginson (122nd, 26:39.29); Ula Rozanska (123rd, 26:45.41); Hailey Allen (132nd, 27:27.9); Mia Koehler (151st, 28:43.26); and Grace Hansen (153rd, 29:17.25).

Owen Lencki had a top-10 finish for the Comets, as he placed 10th in 17:21.18.

Other places and times for the Comets include Ian Sherman (21st, 17:50.21); Gus Olson (36th, 18:23.11); A.J. Nimmer

He later served as the high school's assistant principal from 1994-97 and principal from 1997 to 2005.

According to his obituary, Marsh encouraged students to be involved in extracurricular activities.

"He was a leader of several clubs and had an incredible influence on the lives of students," according to his obituary. "Randy was an extremely dedicated coach in football, boys' basketball, track and field, where he was proud to have coached two state champions in the discus, and wrestling during his tenure at New London High School."

CLINTONVILLE – Waupaca's volleyball team needed five sets to pick up its first North Eastern Conference win over Oconto Falls.

That wasn't the case in the Comets' next match, however, as they needed only three games to defeat Clintonville.

Waupaca opened the match with 25-15 and 25-21 wins and wrapped up the sweep with a 25-20 win in the third game.

Both teams have North Eastern matches at home scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 14. Waupaca will host Little Chute, while Wrightstown will head to Clintonville. Both matches will start at 7 p.m.

“This group, as a whole, has put in a lot of work over the summer and it’s showing,” Bank said. “The team has seen success that just hasn’t been there in recent years. Comparing last year’s times to this year’s times at the Sept. 8 meet, the difference is significant. The team scored 43 fewer points in 2023 and the elapsed time of our top seven runners is 20 minutes faster than last year’s. As a result of this success, the boys’ team continues to stay motivated and has its sights set on greater achievements.”

Melanie Jentsch led the Weyauwega-Fremont girls by placing sixth in 20:34.62, followed by Calla Benjamin (14th, 21:29.64); Emma Epstein (52nd, 24:26.14); Joslynn Clumpner (57th, 25:00.28); Rio Hildebrandt (59th, 25:04.66); Emma Hansen (67th, 25:50.99); Arianna Kneisler (73rd, 26:04.87); and Natalie Moore (82nd, 27:33.36).

Marsh had the opportunity to coach the defensive line at St. Norbert College in De Pere from 2001-04 before being promoted to defensive coordinator, a position he held during the 2005 season.

Health concerns forced him to resign and he returned to New London as an assistant coach from 2006-18.

“He cherished the opportunity to work as an assistant coach in New London while his son, Marc, was the head coach,” according to his obituary. “As a football coach, Randy had the innate ability to get the most out of each and every one of his players, probably a little more than each young man believed he had. Teams and position groups led by him were known for toughness, discipline and being fundamentally sound.”

SPORTS EDITOR

WAUTOMA – Dan Harmon III spent 50 of his 92 years involved in Trout Unlimited's Central Wisconsin Chapter.

The chapter recently returned the favor by dedicating a bench in his honor at Bird Creek Park in Wautoma.

Harmon, who passed away in June in Oshkosh, was one of the first members of the chapter, which formed in the early 1970s and now has more than 400 members in Waushara, Winnebago, Green Lake, Marquette and Fond du Lac counties.

His widow, Judy, and daughter, Amy, attended a dedication ceremony Aug. 19 as part of TU's annual Youth Camp.

TU played a big role in her husband's life, according to Judy.

"It was half his life," she said. "He was driving over (from his Oshkosh home) to chapter meetings, which I believe were monthly. They were held at somebody's house in Wautoma. He loved this group so much."

One of Harmon's major accomplishments with the chapter was establishing a fly fishing school that bears his name and is still going strong after nearly 50 years.

Harmon helped organize the first school, held in 1976 at a former Scout camp near Waupaca. The school has been held at various locations over the years and is now held on the Tomorrow River.

"We had talked about a school, but nothing was done," Harmon said while attending last year's school, which was his last. "When I was president of the chapter, I said, 'We're having a school.' That's how it started. We wanted people to learn about trout fishing and invertebrates in the streams."

The school is held the first week of June at Riverside Bible Camp between Waupaca and Amherst.

"We used to move around to various trout streams in the area," Harmon said. "We settled on this because it gives us everything and we don't have to move to a different location."

Judy said her husband's love of fly fishing and conservation never left after he retired from the family insurance business in Oshkosh.

"He would go out alone and also go out with friends," she said. "For the opening of fishing, he would always go up to his cousin's place, which was way up north. He fly fished for trout and was a catch-and-release guy. He was very concerned about conservation. I think he saw it as almost an art form."

Judy didn't fly fish with her husband much in Wisconsin, but recalled one trip they took to Idaho several years ago.

"I taught school and for four years, we went out West as soon as school ended in June," she said. "The first year, Dan made reservations at a lodge in Idaho. He had taught me how to cast in our backyard. We got to the lodge and there were all men there, all fly fishermen. There was a snowstorm. This was in June, but we were in the mountains.

"Nobody was going out fishing because of the snow and Dan said, 'Do you want to go?'" she said. "I said, 'That's what we came for.' We went out and Dan did no fishing. He was there to help me and take pictures. Fish were biting like crazy and I caught 70-some fish, all catch-and-release. He said, 'Don't think that fly fishing is always like this.' It was a wonderful way to start."

Harmon built the bench, which overlooks Bird Creek, with a neighbor.

"He found such camaraderie and close friends in this group," Judy said. "He loved to share his knowledge and he loved to get people interested in fly fishing. It was a way to share the joy that he found in it. You guys meant an awful lot to him. This is a beautiful memorial."

Trout in Wautoma's Bird Creek received a boost Aug. 19 from Trout Unlimited's annual Youth Camp, held Aug. 17-20 in Waupaca and Waushara counties. Campers, DNR crew and volunteers installed fish habitat in the stream, which includes brook, brown and rainbow trout.

Trout Unlimited holds annual youth camp

BY GREG SEUBERT
SPORTS EDITOR

WAUTOMA – Harlon Meade is only 16 years old, but he already a seasoned veteran when it comes to trout fishing.

The Antigo High School junior attended Trout Unlimited's annual youth camp, held Aug. 17-20 in Waupaca and Waushara counties.

Linn Beck, president of TU's Central Wisconsin Chapter, helped organize this year's event, which was based at Pine Lake Camp near Waupaca.

"Wisconsin Trout Unlimited started the youth camp in 2014," he said. "We try to bring in 20 kids each year, boys and girls ages 12-16. Then, we have our volunteers come in fall all over the state and join us. We pair each youth with an adult mentor and teach them every aspect of fishing: spin fishing, fly fishing, bait fishing. We do knot tying and fly tying. We do safety instruction, like what to do if you fall in the water."

Meade attended the camp four years ago as a 12-year-old and returned this year as a youth mentor.

"This is my third year and I love this camp," he said. "I was starting to get into trout fishing. I knew some of the local TU guys and they were talking about the camp. They said they would sponsor me to go there."

TU chapters around the state sponsor campers, according to Beck.

"Every youth that comes is sponsored by one of our chapters," he said. "Some local chapters don't have enough funding, but we have other chapters that more than happy to pick up the cost of that youth to come to camp."

"I wanted to get into tying flies and there are so many great people here with a bunch of knowledge to talk to," Meade said. "A big thing was I learned about the opportunities of Trout Unlimited and what it has to offer us. There's so much information just waiting for everyone."

Beck said most of the campers have fished before.

"There's usually about 70% that have done at least one type of fishing," he said. "We'll have kids stronger in fly fishing, others stronger in bait fishing. We take the kids and develop what they want to do. We don't force anything on them. We let them which way they want to fish. We make them use the skills we taught them."

Campers fished on the Waupaca River at Riverside Park in Waupaca on Aug. 18 and returned to Waupaca the following day to fish the river at Rotary Riverview Park.

Campers are also matched up with a mentor. This year's group included Levi Traucht, 12, of Jackson. He attended the camp with his dad, Ben, who mentored another angler.

"I've learned a lot about bugs and fly tying," Traucht said. "I didn't know that much to begin with because I just got started. My mentor's name is Bill and he's a really nice guy. He's taught me some techniques about fly casting and fly tying. He's really helpful."

Traucht's biggest trout is a 20-inch rainbow he caught on a family vacation in Missouri.

"I like fishing in general, but trout are high on my list," he said. "They're harder to catch and it's more challenging."

The camp offers more than fishing. The group spent most of Aug. 19 at Bird Creek Park in Wautoma working on a stream restoration project on Bird Creek.

"We have a crew from that DNR that's going to do a stream shocking," Beck said. "They're going to explain why they do it. The DNR has done a lot of work here at this park in the last three or four years making fishing opportunities: cutting down buckthorn and making paths so you can get from one end of the park to the other.

Today, they'll give a lot of tips on the habitat they've created, why they created it. Trout Unlimited's mission is to protect, conserve and reconnect coldwater fisheries. All of this habitat work is really to develop and keep the water cool and fresh for trout because trout need colder water to survive."

"We get to work on streams and get other kids into this," Meade said. "Even though the little kids just want to fish, they really like seeing the shocking. That's important because they get to see the fish and where they're living. Right now, we're faced with an older generation that is part of Trout Unlimited, but we don't have this new generation at all. There has to be someone there."

Beck said the camp is beneficial to participants, mentors and volunteers.

"Too many times, kids go out by themselves and they're not taught the right way," he said. "When we bring everything together on Sunday morning, we take them out, them and their guide. They'll do everything they learned from tying a lure or a fly on the line to learning how to fish that particular bait. It makes their next adventure safe and effective."
