Plane crashes at Waupaca airport

WAUPACA – Two people were injured in a single-engine airplane accident at approximately 2:40 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Waupaca Municipal Airport.

The 69-year-old male pilot and the 68-year-old female passenger, both of Manawa, suffered serious injuries in the accident.

ThedaStar airlifted them to ThedaCare Regional Medical Center in Neenah.

The Beechcraft plane crashed at the end of the runway while attempting to land. It sustained substantial damage.

The Waupaca Police Department was assisted on the scene by the Waupaca County sheriff's Office, Waupaca Fire Department, Weyauwega Fire Department, Gold Cross Ambulance, Waupaca airport staff, the Federal Aviation Administration and the National Transportation Board.

No further information has been released at this time.

Danes Hall Plaza almost ready

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

WAUPACA – Work is nearly complete on Danes Hall Plaza on North Main Street in downtown Waupaca.

"The rocks have been placed," said Aimee Klames Auer, the hall's business manager. "The cement has been poured. We're now filling in with landscaping and smaller rocks and we're shopping for furniture and waiting for asphalt, lighting and railings."

Auer spoke to the Waupaca Common Council when it met Sept. 19.

"One of our major goals was to transition from our historic building into Rasmussen Park," she said.

Built in 1894, Danes Hall is not currently easily accessible to disabled visitors. The new plaza is making the building handicapped accessible.

"I've had people use it already that couldn't access the building before in their scooters," Auer said. "It's also allowing public access to Rasmussen Park."

When finished by the spring of 2024, the plaza will be used for outdoor dining and public events at Danes Hall.

There are also plans to place anchors to erect an artificial Christmas tree in time for Waupaca's Yuletide Trail event this year.

"We're hoping it will be a great addition to such events as Halloween on Main," Auer said, regarding the plaza.

Mayor Brian Smith said he has heard numerous comments about the plaza and how it contributes to the city's ongoing efforts to improve Main Street.

According to City Administrator Aaron Jensen, the project was made possible by a $50,000 Wisconsin Economic Development grant.

Gregory Grohman, the grant writer for the city, school district and Waupaca Area Chamber of Commerce, obtained the grant.

"The city also contributed through a land donation and our street crew's in-kind work in the demolition of the previous road," Jensen said.

New London discusses downtown placemaking

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

NEW LONDON – Members of the New London Economic Development Committee brainstormed several ideas about how to enhance downtown during its Sept. 26 meeting.

Ald. Tim Roberts discussed "placemaking," a concept of planning and creating public spaces that help connect people with their community.

According to Project for Public Spaces, a nonprofit organization that helps cities design and organize public spaces, "Strengthening the connection between people and the places they share, placemaking refers to a collaborative process by which we can shape our public realm in order to maximize shared value."

"In the space between John's Bar and Longevity, we could set up a space with seating areas, tables and a stage area," Roberts said. "In this space anyone would be able to rent the space for a pop-up event such as biergartens, pop-up eatery, food trucks."

Roberts said local artists could display their work and local musicians and writers could perform on the stage as scheduled events or impromptu performances.

Developer proposes school retrofit

Turning Rexford Longfellow into apartments

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE - Impact Seven, a developer in Rice Lake, has been in contact with the city of Clintonville regarding the possibility of retrofitting the old Rexford Longfellow Elementary School into apartments.

Carol Keen, director of asset development for Impact Seven, presented a tentative retrofitting concept to the Clintonville Redevelopment Authority Committee when it met Sept. 19.

It should be noted that what was presented was only a tentative concept, and nothing has been approved yet regarding retrofitting the old elementary school buildings

"Knowing that this is in the school board's realm, this is a decision the school board will have to make," City Administrator Caz Muske told the RDA committee. "Based on our experience in economic development we feel very strongly that the developer is a really good candidate for this project." She added that if there is a recommendation from the Clintonville Redevelopment Authority or the Clintonville City Council, potentially the school board might be more inclined to work with Impact Seven before moving forward with accepting any bids for the property. The hope would be to allow time to work with Impact Seven.

"Rexford Longfellow, the reason why it is a very attractive project is because there is a lot of funding mechanisms that are available," Muske said.

Some of the funding mechanisms include WHEDA loans, housing tax credits and historical tax credits, Muske said.

"That creates equity going into the project, which makes it a more affordable project development to occur," Muske said.

Impact Seven

Keen told the RDA committee that Impact Seven has been in business for 53 years. Even though the business is located in Rice Lake, employees for the company are located throughout Wisconsin.

"We're a non-profit," Keen said. "We're a housing developer, owner and managers. We have just under 2,000 units under ownership, and we also have a small team of management portfolio for select partners."

DOWNTOWN

“People could use it as a place to gather, meet a friend for coffee or just relax and read a book,” Roberts said.

The space between John’s Bar and Longevity Nutrition on South Pearl Street is comprised of three narrow lots. The city owns two of the lots and John’s Bar owns the other.

City Administrator Chad Hoerth said he met with the new owner of John’s Bar and discussed his plans for the adjacent lot.

Committee members noted the city could reach out to New London gardeners and the Wolf River Art League to help develop placemaker space downtown.

PUBLISHER’S LETTER

An open letter to the Senators and Representatives of the United States

Dear Senators and Representatives,

I write to you today as a concerned citizen and a newspaper publisher who believes in the importance of a functioning government that serves the interests of all Americans. It deeply troubles me to witness the recurring threats of government shutdowns due to your inability to reach a consensus and your unwillingness to put aside partisan differences for the greater good.

It is imperative that you remember your duty is to the American people, and this duty should always come before your own political squabbles and differences. Shutting down the government has dire consequences for millions of Americans, causing economic hardships and eroding the credibility of our nation on the world stage. You may not feel the immediate impact of such actions, given your financial security, but it is the ordinary citizens who bear the brunt of this instability.

It is disheartening to observe the radical and often ignorant actions and rhetoric from both sides of the aisle. As the next election approaches, we, the American people, should remember those among you who put your personal agendas before the well-being of our nation. We must exercise our right to vote and elect Senators and Representatives who prioritize the interests of their constituents and the nation as a whole over their own partisan interest.

If you are willing to entertain the notion of a government shutdown, I propose a simple solution: Fine each of you for every day the government remains closed, and suspend your salaries until you do what is right for the American people. Perhaps this financial consequence will serve as a reminder of your responsibility to your constituents.

In closing, I urge you to reflect on your roles as public servants and the trust that the American people have placed in you. It is time to set aside your differences, engage in respectful dialogue, negotiate, and compromise in order to prevent further harm to our great nation. The welfare of America should always come first.

Sincerely,

PATRICK J. WOOD

Donate food, take free flight

Timed for peak fall colors

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA – The Waupaca EAA Chapter 444 just raised the bar for fundraising events, leaving bratwurst cook-outs, bake sales and car washes in the dust and far, far below.

It works like this: donate one full bag of unopened, non-perishable groceries and get a ride in one of the EAA club member’s airplanes for a flight around Waupaca. The groceries will be donated to the Waupaca Area Food Pantry.

The Food for Flight event will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 14, at the Waupaca Municipal Airport.

Participants are urged to bring a camera and take photos of the Chain O’ Lakes, autumn colors, neighborhoods or local landmarks.

“The idea behind this event is to help fill our local food bank and also introduce some of our local residents to aviation. This date will hopefully be in the middle of the color transition, which is already starting to happen,” said chapter president Mike Ryszkiewicz.

The chapter is planning for 15 airplanes ready to fly and will have 20 volunteers on the ground to help collect food, shuffle passengers and get people registered.

Each participating person will be weighed in private.

There is no exception to this rule as pilots must calculate the weight and balance of the aircraft for a safe flight. Passenger medical conditions should be noted when checking in. Refrain from drinking alcohol before flying. Intoxicated people will be denied a flight. The age limit is 8 years and older.

The community food bank needs canned vegetables, cooking oils, spices, pastas, sauces, rice, juices, and canned proteins like fish, ham or chicken.

FVTC offers career workshop

frey Drive, Waupaca.

The workshop helps participants assess their interests, skills, personality, values, and decision-making style.

The workshop will meet for three sessions for a total of six hours and an individual appointment with a career counselor is part of the workshop.

The Career Development workshop is designed to help people navigate postsecondary education and employment.

For more information about FVTC’s Prosperity Center or to register for the Career Development Workshop contact Ray

Family shares legacy with WHS

BY ROBERT CLOUD
SENIOR EDITOR

WAUPACA – Don Danielson has connections to Waupaca High School dating back nearly 150 years.

His ancestors owned the land where the high school is currently located.

A 1955 graduate of Waupaca High School, Danielson attended WHS when it was located on School Street.

He returned to Waupaca Sept. 15-16 for the Grand Reunion, when alumni celebrate the 50th anniversary or more of their graduation.

In addition to memories, Danielson brought a framed montage of his father's high school diploma, two plat maps of the parcel where WHS is located and a history of his family in Waupaca. The plats are from 1874 and 2000.

Danielson's great-grandfather, Peder Jens Danielsen, owned a homestead on Section 36 in the town

In his family history, Danielson explained how the spelling of his surname was changed.

His grandfather, Nels Danielsen, owned a general store with a large plate glass window on Old State 22 and King Road.

"When he was on an errand in Waupaca, the sign painter spelled his name DanielsOn on the window.

Being Danish, his name was supposed to be spelled DanielsEn," Don wrote. "The painter offered to correct the spelling that was in gold leaf, but Grandpa thought it would be easier to change his name."

Danielson worked as a school superintendent prior to his retirement.

He presented the framed collection of documents to the Waupaca School District.

Fifth-graders have field day at park

BY GREG SEUBERT

WAUPACA – What's the difference between a water scorpion and an aquatic sow bug?

Three-hundred local fifth-graders can probably answer that question after attending the annual Waupaca County Conservation Field Day.

The Golden Sands Resource Conservation & Development Council sponsored the annual event, held Sept. 29 at Hartman Creek State Park. The Stevens Point-based council serves Waupaca, Portage, Outagamie, Waushara and eight other counties to protect Wisconsin's natural resources.

Students visited stations that focused on such topics as wildlife, forestry, soils and fire safety.

Grace Hasse, a natural science education major at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, manned one of the stations on the trail between Mid and Hartman lakes and talked about the animals and plants she and Erin McFarlane from UW-Stevens Point's Extension Lakes program found in the lakes.

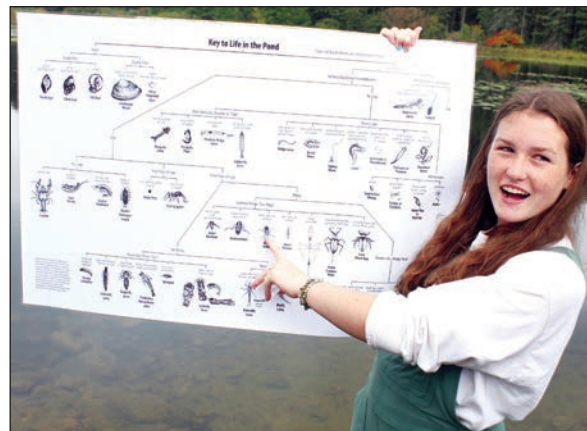

"We got out here at about 8 this morning and got a sweep net," Haase said. "We scoop it up, set it down on the ground and look at all the critters that we caught."

Students were amazed with what Haase and McFarlane came up with. Their jars included fish, crayfish, leeches, bugs and a few plants.

"It's a lot more exciting than watching a video in class or reading it in a textbook," Haase said. "They get really excited when they see all these aquatic inver-

"They love being interactive with all the creatures and holding them," she said. "Once they get this information, they realize how much is in the water that they may not have known about before.

They can really think about how they're impacting the lakes around them and maybe even look at stuff in the water at the lake they have near their house or if they're on vacation somewhere. They can share it with others and really appreciate the lakes we have and all of the life that we have in all those lakes. It's super-important to educate the next generation of people. People need to know that the environment around us is so important. We need clean air, we need clean water."

Amy Thorstenson, the council's advisory director, said the field day hasn't changed much over the years.

"It's pretty much the same," she said. "We always

Waupaca gets Gaga

New game at Swan Park

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA – Eagle Scout candidate Mark Reinke built a Gaga Ball pit at Swan Park as his Eagle Scout service project.

The pit is located near the new splash pad.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, Reinke held sessions teaching others how to play the game.

Gaga Ball is played in the octagonal pit and it is similar to dodge ball. Just about any ball can be used such as a rubber kickball or volleyball. The object of the game is to eliminate other players and be the last person standing.

To knock out another player, a player smacks the ball and it must hit the other player below the waist or knees depending on local rules.

Above-the-waist (or knee) shots do not count and the game continues. Knocked out players must exit the octagon and if a player accidentally hits the ball out of the octagon, they are out of the game. The ball is tossed back into the octagon and must bounce three times (as the player chant "ga" upon each bounce).

After the three bounces, the ball is in play. This is also how the ball is put into play at the start of the game.

The ball cannot be picked up and thrown or scooped. Players cannot hit the ball twice in a row. There are numerous variations of the game. Some allow for catching a ball in midair (like dodgeball) to put another player out.

The origins of the game are unknown other than it has evolved and spread at American summer camps since the 1950s.

Clintonville offered property donation

RDA wants more information

BY BERT LEHMAN
STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE – The Clintonville Redevelopment Authority (RDA) has been offered a donation of property located at 92 7th Street.

However, RDA has requested more information before accepting the donation.

That was the decision the RDA committee made when it met Sept. 19.

According to an email dated Sept. 13, from Magnus Zaunmueller, with the Menn Law Firm in Appleton, to City Administrator Caz Muske, the law firm is assisting with the probate of Earl D. Younk Jr., who owned the property.

“Rather than try to sell the property, the trustees/personal representatives of Earl’s Estate have informed me that they are willing to donate it for charitable purposes,” Zaunmueller stated in the email.

Zaunmueller also asked if the property were donated, if the city would be able to expunge the $3,953 in delinquent real estate taxes that are owed on the property.

RDA discussion

Muske told the RDA committee that the property has not been inspected by the city’s inspector. She said she requested the law firm allow access to the property.

According to 2022 Waupaca County real estate tax records, the total assessed value of the property is $61,300 and the Fair Market Value is $77,200.

“Based on the limited information that we have, my recommendation would be to take no action until we have additional information on the condition of the facility,” Muske said.

Brad Rokus, RDA committee chair, agreed with Muske’s recommendation.

Ald. Darrell Hansen, who was at the RDA meeting, said he has been inside the house in the past, and described the condition was “very rough.”

“So, we’re talking demo, probably,” RDA member Greg Rose said. “What they want to saddle us with is the demo costs.”

Rokus expressed concerns about the property lot being a non-conforming lot, in which case, a house probably could not be rebuilt on it if the current house is razed.

The property at 92 7th Street has been offered as a donation to the Clintonville Redevelopment Authority (RDA). Before accepting the donation, the RDA is requesting more information about the property. Jeff Hoffman Photo occupied, but would need to verify that.

DeWolf questioned whether the city’s building inspector would deem the house uninhabitable if the house were inspected.

“Potentially on the health and sanitation side,” Muske said. “If you saw the memo I had sent out, in 1991 and 1992 there was a case open for health and sanitation concerns, and it was placard at one point during that time-frame, but, I want to reiterate, just because it seems unclear doesn’t mean it’s structurally unsound.”

Rose asked Stacy Sonnenberg, finance director for Clintonville Utility, if the house is connected to the city’s utility and if the electric bills are being paid.

“There is usage, and a lot of usage, so there’s definitely people living there,” Sonnenberg said.

She also said the electric bills for the property are being paid.

RETROFIT

We will handle just the rental of an apartment community for a fee. (This includes) leasing, rent collections, and financial statements.”

Most constructions projects Impact Seven takes on are usually 12-month projects, Keen said.

She said Impact Seven has retrofitted historical buildings into apartments in the past. One example she cited was an old factory building in Manitowoc that was used to manufacture frying pans. Impact Seven retrofitted that factory building into 40-units of one, two, and three-bedroom apartments.

“All of our apartment communities come with a full amenities package, including in-unit washers and dryers, heat and cooling,” Keen said.

She added that there is usually a community room that includes a kitchen and an on-site fitness area. Internet, where it is available, is sometimes included in the rent. Their apartments are also pet friendly, and sometimes include a pet wash.

Tenants wneed an income of 2 1/2 times the rent amount in order to qualify for an apartment, Keen said.

Typically, there is an on-site manager at all Impact Seven properties. The size of the property would determine whether the on-site manager is full-time or part-time.

Keen said Impact Seven is involved in the communities that they have properties in.

“We’re not developers, and then put it for sale and walk away to the next one,” Keen said.

Keen said she has met with Clintonville Superintendent Troy Kuhn regarding the Rexford Longfellow property, as well as with Muske and Emily Grosskreutz, executive director for the Clintonville Area Chamber of Commerce. Both Muske and Grosskreutz have also toured the retrofitted apartments in Manitowoc.

“We talked a lot about the work we do and the work we could envision happening in Clintonville,” Keen said.

She added that Impact Seven is interested in the Rexford Longfellow buildings because it feels it can turn them into a “cool opportunity for the community.”

Impact Seven has the ability to obtain financing to complete a project, Keen said.

The process

Muske told the RDA committee that the school board is currently soliciting bids from those interested in purchasing the old Rexford Longfellow Elementary School buildings.

“I think this is a really good fit for the project,” Muske said. She added there is a “fear” that the school district will receive a bid on the property before Impact Seven can present a formal proposal. Muske said financing must first be determined, which involves applying for housing credits and historical credits.

“The hope is, if there is a strong recommendation from the city’s redevelopment authority and the city council, that potentially the school board might give a little bit more time to have more in-depth conversations with Impact Seven and highly consider them as a good candidate.”

Site plan

Keen presented a tentative site plan for how each building of the old elementary school complex would be retrofitted into apartments.

Between the 1918 building, the Rexford building, and the Longfellow building that comprise the old elementary school complex, the tentative site plan would include a total of 57 apartment units.

The property could also include 10 additional townhouses. The tentative plan does not use any of the gym or cafeteria space in the former elementary school complex. These areas could be used as community space or space for a fitness center.

Parking would stay where its currently located behind the buildings.

The tentative plan would call for the 1918 building retrofitted into a total of 20 units, with the Rexford building being retrofitted into eight units, and the Longfellow building being retrofitted into 29 units.

“In order to know for sure what the demand is and the number of units, we would engage a market study, which we have not engaged a market study at this point,” Keen said.

She added a market study would help determine how many one, two and three-bedroom apartments are needed. It would also help determine what the monthly rent amount would be for each type of apartment.

“At this point, we just spent time with the architect looking at the building and the opportunity to maximize the number of units,” Keen said.

Keen said if this development would eventually move forward, it would probably be around a $15 million development.

RDA reaction

Muske told the RDA committee that another developer, who owns two facilities in the city of Clintonville, had also expressed interest developing the old elementary school buildings.

“Knowing the style that they currently have, I’m not sure it would be a good matched developer for this specific (project),” Muske said. “They were one of the developers that were offered to come tonight and give information, however, they didn’t take the opportunity.”

Muske added that the city has met with 10 developers.

RDA Committee member Jack DeWolf said the retrofit idea presented by Impact Seven looked good, but he said he wouldn’t be comfortable making a recommendation to the school board without knowing all the available options.

RDA committee member Kody Zempel asked if residents of Clintonville would be able to afford the monthly rents that the apartments would require.

Muske said what was presented was just a preliminary concept and a market study still needed to be completed to determine the viability of the retrofit option for the old elementary school complex.

“After a market study is accomplished, that’s when they can zero in. They’re not going to build something that doesn’t lease,” Muske said. “They want to make sure it’s appropriate for the community.”

Zempel said his main concern is that this project would be completed but not enough people would be able to afford the rent of the units, but the rent for other housing in the city would increase because of the project.

“Affordability is my main concern,” Zempel said.

Muske said affordability is one of the requirements for some tax credits.

The RDA committee directed Muske to contact the Clintonville School District to see if it wants to have a joint workshop regarding the old school.

Lockman receives warden award

MADISON – Bryan Lockman has been named the state Department of Natural Resources' conservation warden of the year award for 2022.

The Haskell Noyes Efficiency Award is the highest honor a DNR warden can receive. Recipients demonstrate an ability to lead a quality law enforcement conservation program that excels in balancing enforcement, education and community involvement.

Lockman began his career with the DNR in 2001 and served as a warden in the New London, Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin Rapids and Stevens Point areas. He now leads a team of wardens based out of Wisconsin Rapids.

Lockman's supervisor, Ben Trembl, said community policing is Lockman's foundation.

"Bryan is thorough on investigations related to environmental complaints and violations and his humble and caring demeanor helps him connect with hunters, anglers, trappers and landowners," he said. "That combination allows him to enforce the law while building trust with the public."

Lockman is also held in high regard by his colleagues.

"Bryan's integrity cannot be compromised," Lt. Warden Jon Scharbarth said. "He is a genuine, great person who is not just an incredible teammate and work partner, but an amazing asset and resource. His empathetic communication style and common sense approach puts people at ease. There is no one I would rather have by my side in a tough situation."

Lockman is also known for his local involvement and dedication to providing natural resources and safety education at numerous school and community events.

The award is named after Noyes, the late Milwaukee businessman who created the award 93 years ago as a way to honor those who protect Wisconsin's natural resources.

Fremont's STEM Academy grows

New teacher hired

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

FREMONT – The Fremont STEM Academy started its first year with 12 students under the guidance of teacher Jennifer Steidtmann.

For this school year, the enrollment has almost doubled to 22 students and Brianna Lubbers was hired as another teacher to handle the growing student body.

Last year's class adopted two guinea pigs. During the summer break, students took turns taking care of the fluffy rodents at their homes. They are back this year but their upkeep is minimal as one student invented a school-wide composting project.

The student went to each class in Fremont Elementary School, taught a lesson on composting to the younger students and developed a chart for what lunch scraps should or should not be dumped into the compost bins. The entire school got on board and an outside compost pile grows for future gardening projects. Leftover vegetables are secured for the guinea pigs.

For the first year, fifth and sixth graders were enrolled and this year it was opened to seventh graders.

"We had over 30-some field trips. It was quite a riot. Almost one a week. We went to places as simple in our backyard in Weyauwega to Mosquito Hill, the EAA, the National Train Museum, Hartman Creek State Park, the Waupaca airport, and a lot of places we repeated so we could continue growing our skills. We would do field studies last year, a couple times a week. We went to Partridge Lake where we could access the Wolf River," said Steidtmann.

The outside of the school will continue to be developed. They have a storage shed and a compost bin, and a park shelter-style outdoor classroom is in the planning stage, and a greenhouse will be built.

For Brianna Lubbers, it is her 10th year as a teacher but it's her first in a hands-on charter school geared toward STEM subjects. Previously she was a sixth-grade teacher at Merrill Middle School in Oshkosh.

"I really like the different layout of teaching and the project-based part. Seeing them learn in a different way has been a really good experience," said Lubbers.

They are planning for 30 or more field trips for this school year. A micro prairie will be planted on school grounds and they also got six canoes to further their expeditions afield. During their first test run, Steidtmann said the students showed good teamwork and nobody was swamped. They will continue to use FlashForge 3D printers, GlowForge laser engravers and plasma cutters on various projects. A large fish tank was donated to the school and in November the turtles will join the guinea pigs in the classroom.

Griebonow Eyecare expands clinic

NEW LONDON – Griebonow Eyecare held a groundbreaking ceremony to celebrate the construction of a 2,410-square-foot addition to its New London clinic.

The expansion will add additional examination rooms along with additional diagnostic and treatment rooms and will add additional space to the clinic's optical.

"We have always prided ourselves on providing personalized care that really allows us to provide each patient with the best vision and eye health possible," says Dr. Craig Sylte, one of three optometrists at Griebonow Eyecare. "In the past several years, we have recognized the growing need for advanced eyecare treatments for eye health issues such as dry eyes, glaucoma, and myopia control. Premier to remodel bank

BY JAMES CARD
STAFF REPORTER

WEYAUWEGA – Premier Community Bank will be remodeling their lobby and construction will start Oct. 23.

It is planned to last for six months and they expect there will be minimal disruption to their normal banking services. The drive-through service should be unaffected.

"They [contractors] are planning on doing it in phases and they are anticipating the lobby to be closed for a short time," said Lori Miller, assistant branch manager.

There will be a new foyer and the left-side wall (upon entering) will be pushed back.

Hutchinson Insurance will be on the other side of the wall and they will have a shared street-entrance foyer with public restrooms. Hutchinson Insurance will relocate up front and Premier will take over their former space in back. This area will be converted into restrooms, a break room, supply storage and general office use. There will be space leftover for future office tenants but it is not currently earmarked for any firm.

The position of the tellers will still remain the same. On the right-side of the lobby, three private offices will be converted into four with one of them will be like a hotel conference room. They also closed down their safety deposit box service to make space for a community room for local groups to meet in.

I-S, Rosholt volleyball teams fight cancer together

BY HOLLY NEUMANN
STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – Volleyball programs from Iola-Scandinavia and Rosholt high schools will hold their annual Fight Cancer Night that will include raffle baskets, bake sales, concessions and three volleyball matches.

This year's match between the Thunderbirds and Hornets will be held Thursday, Oct. 12, in Iola. Doors will open at 5 p.m., with junior varsity and JV2 matches at 5:45 p.m. The JV2 match will be held in the Iola-Scandinavia Community Fitness & Aquatic Center, while the JV and varsity matches will take place in the high school gym.

The teams will honor cancer fighters and survivors and remember those that have been taken.

Among the fighters will be former I-S volleyball coach Marie Skowen, who coached the T-Birds from 1994 to 2000 and now has three granddaughters playing on the teams.

She is currently battling ovarian cancer.

"I first got it in 2015," Skowen said. "Then, I got it again in 2017, 2019 and now again in May of 2023. It's hard to relax when in remission not knowing when it could come back or if it will be curable."

The hardest part is knowing how sick she will get from chemotherapy treatment, according to Skowen.

"Now, there is a shortage of the kind of chemo that has worked for me in the past," she said.

Fight Cancer night means a lot, Skowen said.

"It means so much to me knowing that all these people are fighting and praying for you," she said. "I'm hoping someday there will be a cure for this awful disease."

I-S Principal Jan Bue-Wells said having I-S and Rosholt coming together for the cause sends the message that cancer affects everyone and everyone needs to band together in the fight.

"That community doesn't have to be defined by geographic boundaries," she said.

Bue-Wells lost her father, father-in-law, mother-in-law, and husband to cancer.

"My children were 7 and 10 years old when my husband passed away," she said. "I will never forget the outpouring of support given to us during that difficult time. The community rallied and surrounded us with love. Events like this make an incredible difference for families dealing with cancer. It lets them know that they are not alone in their battle and that there are ways to find support."

Skowen reminded others to live each day to the fullest.

"Technology has come a long ways to detect cancer, but there are those silent ones that get you," she said. "Get your yearly examination and most of all, listen to your body. If something doesn't feel right, go in and get it checked out until you are satisfied with the answer. You know your body better than any doctor."

Skowen thanked event organizers who put Fight Cancer Night each year.

"The money stays in our communities and helps cancer victims out," she said. "I think it helps educate the younger generation also."

event. "He with little question has been Iola's all-time most consequential individual. His contributions to the welfare of the local community are unprecedented.

"His support of the hobbies and mankind's social needs were manifold and selfless," he said. "His contributions to broadcasting Iola's existence statewide, nationally and internationally as a consequence of the successes of his publishing ventures and the Iola Old Car Show were priceless."

Six presenters will speak, including Tom Uram, president of the American Numismatic Association; Ken Nimocks of the Society of Automotive Historians; Alan Loux, president of Rawhide Boys Ranch; Terri Wilchek, resource development officer at Marshfield Clinic; Iola Village Board President Jennifer Schustek; and Krause family member Patti Dickhut.

A new statue of Krause will be unveiled during the dedication and Iola Village Board trustee David Harper will read a proclamation of Chester L. Krause Day in the village.

MANAWA – The Manawa FFA Alumni organization will hold the 17th annual Bluegrass Bash.

This year's event will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13-14, at Bear Lake Resort, N4715 state highways 22/110, Manawa.

"The bash started as a one-day dinner event, but now has become an awaited-for music event in our area," said Randy Steingraber, who helps organize the event.

A pre-bash party will be held at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 13 with music by Noah John and Ringing Iron. There is no cover charge.

Music will continue at noon Oct. 14 and continue until midnight. The line-up includes Biscuit Creek, The Mark Hembree Band, Genesee Ridge, Flat Creek Highway and Soggy Prairie.

There event will also include drop bucket raffles, 50/50 raffles and door prizes. Food will be available for purchase.

Tickets are $20 at the door or can be purchased during the pre-bash party.

Funds raised are used to support agricultural education and the local FFA.

"This is our primary fundraiser, along with working the rodeo food stand in conjunction with the Lions Club and our annual nut and bolt sale," Steingraber said. "The bluegrass community, besides enjoying the music, does support causes in the area."

Last year, the event contributed toward the World Dairy Expo bus; the National FFA Convention; offered several scholarships and continuing education scholarships that vary in number and amount each year to graduating seniors that participate in the FFA program in Manawa and a graduate scholarship of up to $2,000 to former FFA or FFA alumni members with a Waupaca County address; and the Sandra Cordes Agricultural Educator Scholarship.

In addition, they group also funds an entrepreneurial grant that FFA members or Manawa FFA alumni members can apply for until age 21 to help pursue the creation and development of economic ventures.

"These contributions will make a positive difference in the development of young people and to the future of agriculture and agricultural education," Steingraber said.

He sponsors, families, businesses and the bluegrass faithful for their support.

"The ag program and FFA has changed a lot in the last 30-plus years from teaching mostly farm kids about production agriculture to educating students about the importance of agriculture in the state as well as our country," Steingraber said. "Ag/FFA programs are truly essential in our schools. Sandra Cordes does an outstanding job, as reflected by the numerous awards received by her students at the local, state and national level."

Ag-related classes at Little Wolf High School include Employability/Financial Skills; Ecology; Animal Science; Food Science; Plants and Animals; Exploratory Agriculture; leadership classes; a work study program and summer independent study classes.

"These programs develop premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education," Steingraber said.

Gary and Sheryl Kaczmarek display one of the tractors that will be raffled off during the 17th annual Bluegrass Bash from noon until midnight Saturday, Oct. 13, at Bear Lake Resort, N4715 state highways 22/110, Manawa.

Ewald, Charlotte

Charlotte Ewald, of Fitchburg, passed away peacefully on Friday, Sept. 22, 2023. She was 97 years old. Her life was a legacy of love, generosity, service and optimism that inspired many.

Born on July 22, 1926, in Waupaca, Wis., Charlotte was the only child of Sherman Salverson and Ina (Horton) Salverson. She attended school in Waupaca and was a member of the First Baptist Church. It was there that she met her future husband, Gale Ewald. After the untimely death of her father in 1942, Charlotte and Mrs. Salverson were left with the responsibility of managing Modern Garage, Sherman's automotive repair service in Waupaca. The experience curated a personality which would define her over her lifetime, one of cheerful extroversion, affability, and resilience.

Charlotte attended Ripon College, where she and a small group of women founded the Pi Tau Pi independent sorority and developed lifelong friendships. After graduating with a bachelor's degree, she went on to teach at St. John's, a military boarding school in Delafield, Wis.

While at Ripon, Charlotte had corresponded with Gale Ewald during his U. S. Army service in the WWII Pacific theater. Their long-distance courtship continued after his return, and in 1949 they were wed at the First Baptist Church in Waupaca. They moved to Madison, where they welcomed their first daughter and moved to Monona. Charlotte resumed her teaching in the Orthopedic School at the University of Wisconsin Hospital. The family moved to Denver in 1960, where they welcomed their second daughter.

After returning to Wisconsin in 1961, Charlotte and Gale settled in Monona. Charlotte became an Assistant Librarian at Frank Allis Elementary School and then Head Librarian at Ray F. Sennett Middle School in Madison. She was passionate about serving on the Book Selection Committee for the Madison school system. During this time, she earned her Master of Library Science degree at the University of Wisconsin.

After her retirement from Sennett, Charlotte and Gale enjoyed attending Elderhostel courses and taking trips to visit friends and family around the country. They were steadfast members of Gale's federal retiree Breakfast Club and devoted patrons of the Madison public libraries. Their days were not complete until they finished the Wisconsin State Journal crossword puzzle. Throughout their lives, Charlotte and Gale were active in their faith, with membership in the First Christian Church, Winnequah Christian Church, Buckeye Evangelical Free Church and Bethany Evangelical Free Church.

Not to enjoy sitting still, Charlotte kept active by baking, taking daily walks, doing yardwork, and enjoying antiquing jaunts with lady friends in a hunt for Depression Glass. She enjoyed knitting and speedily turned out scores of mittens for people in need, as well as sweaters for refugee children.

Charlotte's friends described her as always having "something up her sleeve," as she was the first to propose ideas for social events or initiatives. The primary focus of her energy was always on service and ministry. She assumed a leadership role in Christian Women's Fellowship, often hosting luncheons where she served her trademark lemon meringue pie. She and other volunteers prepared and delivered medical supplies for the international White Cross ministry. Her team delivered more than five miles of rolled cotton bandages to Cameroon! Charlotte also taught English as a Second Language (ESL) to her church's Laotian community and provided education for citizenship preparation. Charlotte will be remembered by many for the gifts she gave of her time and talents.

In 2019, Charlotte and Gale celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary. After Gale's death in 2020, Charlotte and their beloved cat, Sheba, remained in Fitchburg. In her final years, Charlotte maintained her cheerful demeanor and selflessness, always inquiring about others before considering her own needs.

Charlotte is survived by her daughters, Janet Ewald and Carole Ewald (John Elliott); granddaughter, Hannah Sikorski (Ryan Cook); niece, Gayle Davies; and niece-in-law, Charlotte Davies. She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Gale Ewald; beloved in-laws, Jane and Robert Davies; and nephews, Robert Davies, Irvin Davies and Bryce Davies.

The family extends immeasurable gratitude to nurse Kevin Klingmeyer, chaplain Derek Rosenstiel and all Agrace Hospice Care staff. To all the caregivers at Pine Villa, we extend heartfelt appreciation; you have become family and will forever be in our hearts.

A visitation will be held at GUNDERSON EAST FUNERAL AND CREMATION CARE, 5203 Monona Drive, Madison, from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 12, 2023. Funeral services will be held at BETHANY EVANGELICAL FREE CHURCH, 301 Riverside Drive, Madison, at 11 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 13, 2023. At that time, we will also remember Gale Ewald, Charlotte's beloved husband, whose death coincided with the onset of COVID, resulting in cancellation of his funeral. Charlotte's burial will take place at LAKESIDE CEMETERY in Waupaca at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 14, 2023.

In lieu of flowers, donations in Charlotte's name may be made to Agrace Hospice Care or Bethany Evangelical Free Church, Madison, Wis. Online condolences may be extended at www.gundersonfh.com.

PUBLIC NOTICE Reclamation Plan Modification (Thiel Pit) Beneficial Use project

In accordance with Waupaca County Non-Metallic Mining Reclamation Ordinance Chapter 43, we are hereby giving notice that a modification has been made to the Thiel Pit non-metallic mining reclamation plan. American Asphalt of Wisconsin will reclaim part of the pit with geotechnical fill from the Waupaca Foundry. Approximately 74,000 cubic yards of foundry sand will be utilized as geotechnical fill for use in the side-slope reclamation on the east highwall of the pit. The foundry sand will be utilized to reclaim the slopes and will be covered with 24 inches of native soil and topsoil then seeded. The use of the foundry sand will follow the requirements of NR 538, Wis. DNR Adm. Code for Beneficial Use of Industrial Byproducts. Geotechnical fill using foundry sand from the Waupaca Foundry, Inc. foundry is an approved beneficial use under Chapter NR 538, Wis. Adm. Code. This project will require 8 months to complete once construction begins. Construction is anticipated to start in November and continue through July 2024. "Alex would be pleased," Sheryl said. "He would have wanted someone to enjoy them just as much as he did."

try to get more organized so we can have as many kids out here as possible. It's been about hands-on learning and having career professionals out here to teach what they are passionate about. It's meant to be a hands-on day of learning about conservation. The baby dragonflies and water scorpions are fascinating to them because people don't think of bugs living under the water, but they do. They learn about conservation, but they all see a potential career path for themselves. They're starting to think about what they want to be when they grow up. They may discover that they're really interested in soils or fish or wildfires."

The council sends out invitations to all schools in Waupaca County, Thorstenson said.

"It's very important to give that opportunity equally across the county to public and private schools so everybody has the opportunity," she said. "It's first-come, first-served and when we're full, it's because we can only have groups so big. We try to keep the groups to a reasonable size."

Hartman Creek is an ideal place to hold the event, according to Thorstenson.

"This park offers a lot with a very diverse setting," she said. "They're finding out how beautiful it is here. They can get outside, get some exercise and experience nature. They are in a beautiful county where they have woods around them, prairies, lots of lakes. They see it in their daily life and now, they'll understand it a little more."

Short-handed Wega-Fremont drops first game to Falcons

BY GREG SEUBERT
 SPORTS EDITOR

REGION – In a matter of three hours, the race for a Central Wisconsin Conference-Large football championship became a lot more interesting.

The conference's two unbeaten teams – Weyauwega-Fremont and Wittenberg-Birnamwood – hit the road Sept. 29 and returned home with losses to Amherst and Stratford, respectively. Amherst defeated Weyauwega-Fremont 57-36 and Stratford handed Wittenberg-Birnamwood a 34-21 loss.

Meanwhile, Manawa picked up a 22-21 win over Shiocton and Spencer/Columbus Catholic beat Nekosha 29-22.

Amherst 57, W-F 36

AMHERST – Amherst headed into its annual matchup with the Warhawks with a pair of CWC-Large losses to Stratford and Wittenberg-Birnamwood, but stayed in the hunt for a championship after scoring touchdowns on its first eight drives.

The Falcons also faced a Warhawk team without missing for starters. Quarterback Kameron Zielke is out for the season after tearing an ACL Sept. 22 in a 20-14 win over Shiocton, while Vanden Hoffman, Brayden Arndt and Carter McDaniel were injured during the Amherst game and didn't return. "I'll be honest with you, we had tons of guys go down," coach Colton Zimmerman said. "We lost (Zielke), we lost an all-state lineman (Hoffman), we lost one of our captains (McDaniel), we had our all-state receiver blow a hamstring (Arndt) and our kids didn't quit. What they showed tonight is we're not a team of ebbs and flows. We're a program, a culture that plays for each other."

Weyauwega-Fremont almost matched the Falcons drive-for-drive in the first half. Amherst found the end zone on all five of its drives, while the Warhawks scored on three of its five drives.

Nasiah Holland capped the game's opening drive with a 1-yard run for Amherst. The Warhawks answered on their first drive with Carter Birdyshaw's 6-yard pass to Chris Gunst, but the Falcons kept the lead by blocking the extra-point try.

Spencer Cohen returned the kickoff 98 yards for Amherst's second touchdown to give the home team a 15-6 lead heading into the second quarter.

The teams combined for five touchdowns in the second quarter. Michael Benjamin had a 37-yard pass to Cohen and scored on a 1-yard run and Holland added a 2-yard run.

The Warhawks' touchdowns came on Arndt's 40-yard run and Birdyshaw's 30-yarder that cut the Falcons' lead to 36-22 at halftime.

OCONTO FALLS – Kade Rosenow's 432 passing yards helped the Clintonville football team put up 42 points Sept. 29 in a Northwoods Conference matchup with Oconto Falls.

Unfortunately, the Truckers didn't have an answer for Alex Haines, who ran for 429 yards and found the end zone five times in the Panthers' 78-42 win.

Not only did the teams combine for 120 points and more than 1,000 yards of offense, they also scored 16 touchdowns, including 11 in the second and third quarters alone.

Oconto Falls took an 8-6 lead into the second quarter, Haines opened the scoring with a 5-yard run, but Rosenow connected with Samuel Wegener for a 65-yard touchdown pass.

The touchdowns continued in the third quarter. Rosenow scored on a 5-yard run and had touchdown passes of 6 and 67 yards to Wegener and 7 yards to Kaine Killips, but the Panthers answered with Haines' 65-yard run and a 34-yarder from Isaac Bramer.

Rosenow's pass to Killips cut the Panthers' lead to 54-42 heading into the fourth quarter, but Oconto Falls sealed the win with three unanswered touchdowns and three two-point conversions over the final 12 minutes.

Haines scored on runs of 1 and 28 yards and Isaiah Radart wrapped up the scoring with a 6-yard run.

NEW LONDON – A spot in the upcoming WIAA football playoffs is still a possibility for the Waupaca Comets.

The Comets moved one step closer to qualifying for the postseason for the third year in a row Sept. 28 with a 17-14 Bay Conference win over New London.

A pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns turned out to be the difference in the game.

Henry Mouw capped Waupaca's first drive with a 40-yard field goal. The score remained 3-0 until Tyler Gerrits' 24-yard touchdown pass to Hunter Beebe with 3:33 remaining in the first half.

Neither team scored in the third quarter and the score remained 6-3 until Benjamin Becker picked off a Gerrits pass and returned it 46 yards for a touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter.

The 10-6 lead didn't last long, as Gerrits and Beebe hooked up for a 62-yard touchdown pass on the Bulldogs' next drive.

New London turned the ball over twice in the fourth quarter on fumbles and the second set the Comets up at the New London 41-yard line. Austin Adamczak's touchdown pas to Westen Lauritzen on the first play of the drive gave Waupaca a 17-14 lead just under five minutes to go in the game.

Arndt's 58-yard run on the Warhawks' opening drive of the second half made it 36-28, but Weyauwega-Fremont never got any closer, as Amherst added a 6-yard run from Benjamin and a 31-yard run from Holland later in the quarter.

Dawson Lind's 1-yard run and Birdyshaw's pass to Cashten Hoffman on the two-point conversion turned out to be the Warhawks' final points before Holland scored his fourth rushing touchdown on a 49-yard run.

Birdyshaw, a freshman making his first varsity start, completed 14 of 20 passes for 201 yards. Arndt led the Warhawks in rushing with 100 yards on only three carries and caught four passes for 93 yards before leaving the game in the second half.

Holland led all rushers with 235 yards on 27 carries. Benjamin completed five of six passes for 105 yards and also rushed for 80 yards.

The Falcons came into the game with a 4-2 overall record and a 2-2 mark in conference games after falling to Stratford and Wittenberg-Birnawood, the teams that Weyauwega-Fremont will host Oct. 6 and Oct. 13 to wrap up the regular season.

"We always look at the schedule and we said, 'OK, the playoffs started tonight,'" Zimmerman said. "That's how we saw it. We talk all the time about how tough this conference is. You'll see who's who in these last three games and that's what's great about our conference. All we're doing is looking to improve and play together."

"I just want these kids to play for the guy next to them and they're showing up every day," he added. "You could look at this game and look at the score and say, 'Oh man, they quit.' They didn't stop at all. They were ready to fight the entire game and for that I'm beyond proud."

National 4-H Week

October 1-7, 2023

PENNY TANK, 4-H PROGRAM EDUCATOR

National 4-H Week is an excellent time for individuals to learn more about the 4-H youth development program and become involved. Wisconsin 4-H is over 100 years old. 4-H began with the main projects being calves, crops, clothing and canning. There is still an importance placed on agriculture and garden programming; however, 4-H now encompasses over 80 project areas like aerospace, photography, Legos, art, electricity, cake decorating, and woodworking.

In Waupaca County, there are 18 4-H clubs where youth in grades 5K-one year after high school can meet new people, build relationships, develop life skills, help individuals in the community, increase project knowledge, and have opportunities for new experiences. In 4-H, youth are encouraged to find and explore their "sparks". According to the 4-H Thriving Model, a spark is explained as "a passion for a self-identified interest or skill, or a capacity that metaphorically lights a fire in a young person's life, providing energy, joy, purpose, and direction."

In addition to the many opportunities in Waupaca County in 4-H, there are additional ways to be involved at regional, state, national, and even international levels! Just a few examples include: youth in 6-8th grade can experience Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama; a passion for the arts can apply for the WI 4-H Arts Team; three youth from Waupaca County traveled on international exchanges (2 to Japan and 1 to Costa Rica) this summer through 4-H; and 8th-10th graders can experience history and heritage through a 10-day bus journey to the East Coast.

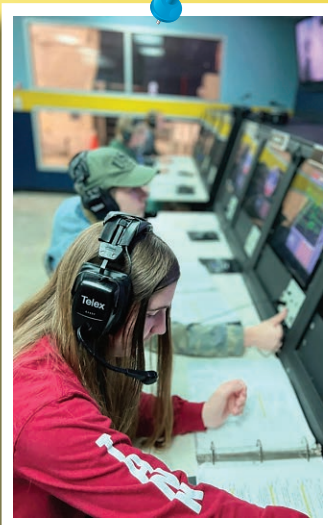

The Wisconsin 4-H program is committed to providing youth development opportunities and promoting positive change for all young people in Wisconsin. The 4-H Movement defines the values of the Wisconsin 4-H program and helps bring together it's mission and vision.

In Wisconsin 4-H we value:

- Being Yourself: Find and share your authentic sparks and interests;
- Belonging Together: Recognize, understand, respect, and appreciate each other;
- Building Connections: Grow positive relationships with peers and adults;
- Discovering Skills: Develop skills through hands-on learning to help you succeed and thrive;
- Exploring New Opportunities: Open the door to new experiences, projects, and places; and
- Giving Back to Your Community: Make meaningful contributions through community service and leadership.

National 4-H Week is October 1-7, 2023. New youth interested in joining 4-H have until February 1, 2024 to enroll in the program and have the opportunity to participate in the Junior Fair next summer as a 4-H member. The re-enroll deadline for current members is November 15th.

For more information on 4-H we invite you to call the Extension Waupaca County Office, (715) 258-6230, email to penny.tank@wisc.edu or check out <https://waupaca.extension.wisc.edu/4-h-youth-development/4-h-program-topics/>.
