Marshfield Columbus Catholic announces fieldhouse project

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

MARSHFIELD -- Marshfield Columbus Catholic Schools (CCS) has announced the public launch of its campaign to build a fieldhouse that will connect Columbus Catholic High/Middle School and Our Lady of Peace Intermediate School.

The $10.5 million facility will include: Four full practice courts with portable bleachers; Four classrooms to accommodate growing enrollment; Fitness Center; Batting cages; Locker rooms; Referee room; Concession stand; Bathrooms; Stage for events/performances; Storage areas.

Anticipated uses for the fieldhouse include: Athletic practices and physical education space for CCS; Hosting tournaments; Events such as Alpine Holiday; Hosting parish and Diocese of La Crosse events.

"As enrollment at CCS has expanded, we've started to experience a shortage of space, both for classrooms and extra-curricular activities," said David Eaton, President of Columbus Catholic Schools. "Being able to add four classrooms, along with facilities that would allow practices to end at 5:00 or 6:00 p.m. instead of 9:00 or 10:00 p.m., would be a huge benefit to our students. The new facility would also ease demand on our high school gym, which houses our stage, thus creating more rehearsal and performance time

Ex-Marshfield Pastor finally wins Navy promotion

Muschinske named Rear Admiral after long Senate holdup

BY THOM GERRETSEN CONTRIBUTING WRITER

MARSHFIELD -- It took over eight-and-a-half months, but former Marshfield pastor Peter Muschinske has finally been given a prestigious promotion in the Navy.

On Dec. 5, the U.S. Senate confirmed over 420 military nominations that were held up since March. Rev. Muschinske, a spiritual leader at Faith Lutheran Church (ELCA) from 2000-07, was a reserve component chaplain for around 30 years in the Navy. He rose in rank to Captain and now to Rear Admiral-Lower Half. President Joe Biden's nomination was given to the Senate March 14: Its Armed Services Committee endorsed it June 13.

The appointment hit a roadblock in the full Senate when Alabama Republican Tommy Tuberville slapped a blanket hold on senior promotions in March. He was protesting the Pentagon's approval of stipends to troops who cross state lines for abortions. As the holdup progressed, lawmakers of both major parties were concerned that lingering vacancies had put national security at risk. According to the Military Times, Tuberville said he gave up his protest because it "achieved all it could at this point."

As of Dec. 8, Tuberville still considered holding up 11 four-star positions still pending. Other media reports said Sen. Eric Schmitt, a Missouri Republican, would hold up five promotions due to those candidates' views on diversity and inclusion.

Muschinske's promotion makes him a one-star flag officer. According to Military-Ranks.org, his new title used to be called Commodore until 1985 - and today, it's considered equal to the Brigadier General's rank in the other armed services. The Beautiful Parallels: Origins of Christmas and the Spirit of Giving

Dear Reader,

As we approach the most wonderful time of the year, it is only fitting to reflect upon the origins of Christmas and the remarkable parallels between the Christian celebration and the beloved traditions of Santa Claus, embodying goodness and giving.

Christmas, at its core, is a celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ. It traces its roots to the Christian faith, where believers commemorate the nativity of the Savior. The story of the Holy Family, a humble birth in a stable, and the adoration of shepherds and magi exemplifies the theme of humility and simplicity that underlies the Christian message. This very essence of Christmas forms the basis for the notion of giving and

The arrival of Santa Claus, a legendary figure inspired by St. Nicholas, further enhances the spirit of giving associated with Christmas. St. Nicholas was a Christian bishop renowned for his acts of charity and kindness, particularly to children and the needy. This spirit of generosity and compassion is embedded in the modern Santa Claus, who symbolizes the joy of giving.

Santa Claus transcends religious boundaries and cultural differences, embodying a universal spirit of goodwill and benevolence. His iconic image-jolly, rosycheeked, and clad in red-conjures a sense of warmth and merriment that resonates with people of all ages. Santa's yearly journey to deliver gifts to children around the world mirrors the Christian belief in the gift of Jesus, the ultimate present to humanity.

Furthermore, the act of gift-giving during Christmas has become a way for people to express their love and affection for one another. It mirrors the selfless love that Christians believe God demonstrated by sending His Son into the world.

The melding of these traditions-from the Christian celebration of Jesus' birth to the universal appeal of Santa Claus-exemplifies the beautiful essence of Christmas. It serves as a reminder that, regardless of one's religious or cultural background, the season fosters an all-encompassing sense of unity and goodwill. The spirit of giving is not confined to material presents alone but extends to acts of kindness, charity, and togetherness.

As we gather with loved ones, decorate our homes, and exchange gifts, let us not forget the profound origins of Christmas and the remarkable parallels that emphasize the values of goodness and giving. This holiday season, may we all be inspired by the enduring message of Christmas and the universal appeal of Santa Claus as we come together to share the love and generosity that define this magical time of year.

Wishing you a blessed and joyous Christmas!

Warmly, PATRICK J. WOOD Publisher

NEILLSVILLE Marshfield-based Bauernfeind Business Technologies (BBT) and Marshfield Insurance have announced the donation of a color copier to the Clark Cultural Arts Center (CART) in Neillsville. This is the third device (valued at more than $3,000) that BBT has helped to donate to CART.

The Konica Minolta bizhub C368 is a state-of-the-art multifunctional printer that combines cutting-edge technology with eco-friendly features, making it an ideal addition to CART's operational resources.

"We're excited to team up with Marshfield Insurance for this donation," said Paul Knoff, Sales Director at BBT. "As a Clark County resident, it's been nice to help an organization that continues to do a lot for the residents of the Neillsville area."

The MFP (multi-functional printer) was part of Marshfield Insurance's fleet, but was no longer needed. The timing couldn't be better, as CART's previous device was ready to retire. It also coincides with Marshfield Insurance opening their new branch at 113 W. Division St., Neillsville in supported communities we serve and we love the arts," said Nick Arnoldy, CEO of Marshfield Insurance. "We hope this donation will help further CART's cause."

"The donation of the copier is of huge benefit to CART and its ability to get the word out on all the community events planned throughout the year," said Chris Keller of CART. "This gift enables us to reach so many more people with print and further helps us communicate our mission--promoting and contributing to the personal, economic, and community development through exhibitions, advocacy and the expressions of art in Clark County," Keller added. "It's invaluable to us to have such a great partnership to make this possible."

The Clark Cultural Arts Center (CART) is a non-profit organization committed to promoting cultural arts and providing platform for artistic expression in Neillsville.

DNR reports successful elk hunting season

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

MADISON Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is celebrating a successful elk hunting season. The state's sixth elk hunting season opened Saturday, Oct. 14 and closed Sunday, Nov. 12, as a result of all four state-licensed hunters their filling harvest authorizations.

The four hunters who participated in this year's hunt were selected at random from a pool of 21,312 Wisconsin resident applicants. One hunter successfully harvested a bull elk in the first weekend of the season. The second was harvested during the first week. The third elk was harvested at the end of October, about two weeks before the end of the first open period. The final harvest occurred on the last day of the first hunting period.

"It's exciting that we have the opportunity in Wisconsin to pursue elk in our home state," said Josh Spiegel, DNR Wildlife Biologist. "Every hunter's experience is unique each year, and this year's hunters definitely lived up to that standard."

MARSHFIELD Honoring Marshfield's 150th

Marshfield 150 for 150: Grace (Ives) Maluge

NOMINATED BY HER GREAT-GRANDDAUGHTER, LYNETTE (WERNER) PUPP

Interested in history and its preservation, (Ives) Maluge Grace recognized the importance of Marshfield having a historical society. Her effort was instrumental in seeing that organization established in 1952 and she continued to actively support its mission during the remainder of her life.

In 1952, with the help of John L. Stauber, thenpresident of Marshfield's Old Settlers Club, and others interested in a local society, Grace arranged a meeting in the Marshfield Free Library on Sept. 19, 1952 to consider options. Acting as chairwoman, she introduced Dr. Wilbur Glover of the State Historical Society who explained the necessary steps for organizing a historical society and the requirements statutory to be affiliated with the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

After John Stauber, speaker for the evening, stressed the need for such a group in this community, attendance those in voted unanimously its organization to be known as the Marshfield Historical Society. Articles Incorporation were approved and certified by the secretary of state, Fred K. Zimmerman, Oct. 17, 1952, and then filed by the Wood County register of deeds. The names of those forming the corporation included Mrs.William A. (Grace Ives) Maluge, Clarence C. Meyers, Mrs. Fred K. (Nellie Bohn) Kamps, Mrs. Caroline Hartl Allen and C. J. Dregne.

first meeting new historical the society was held in the Council Chamber of the Marshfield City Hall on Nov. 7, 1952. In addition to local attendees, there were two staff members of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, Margaret Gleason. reference librarian, and Donald McNeil, field representative also present. Among the first directors elected that evening was Grace Maluge, who has been recognized as the woman who pioneered the area society. Four years later the society changed its name from Marshfield Historical Society to the North Wood County Historical Society, hoping to attract and encourage interest and memberships outside the city of Marshfield.

Grace Elizabeth Ives was born on Aug. 30, 1886, the daughter of George Washington and Fannie Elizabeth Ives. She had seven siblings. A brother, George Smith Ives, served as mayor of Marshfield from 1934-35 and was reelected for the 1936-37 term. Another brother. Walter Ives, was the band leader of Wally Ives and the Jolly Dutchmen band, and still another brother, Lovell Ives, was the music arranger and a member of the band, who also directed the Green Bay Packers Band from 1982 to 1997.

In 1904 Grace married William August Maluge who was a butter maker. Three years later they moved to Marshfield. They established residence at 301 North Peach Avenue where they operated a neighborhood grocery store on the property called Cash Corner Grocery. Later they operated another grocery store at 304 East Tenth Street. That store had been owned by Isadore Seidel.

William and Grace had three daughters, Charolotte, Ruth and Grace, who all graduated from Marshfield High School. In 1926 Will started to spend the summer months in Perkinstown, where he owned and operated a small resort, "Shady Nook," and a small grocery store. In 1932. Grace and her youngest daughter would join him for the summers after a local doctor told her that their youngest daughter's asthma would be relieved with the Northwoods air.

Besides her interest in local history, Grace spent years documenting her ancestry to Richard Warren, 12th signer of the "Mayflower Compact." The Compact, signed Nov. 11, 1620, was important because it was the first document to establish self-government in the Americas. Imagine how painstaking a job it was without the internet to trace that history! In February 1939, she was awarded a fellowship and certificate of merit in genealogy by the Council of the Institute of American Genealogy, Chicago, in recognition of her original research and meritorious contribution to the archives of American Genealogy. She published her findings in a book in 1950. She held membership in the Society of Mayflower Descendants in Wisconsin and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

A lifelong learner, Grace was a charter member and organizer of the Marshfield Women's Study Club, as well as a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Grace was also an artist who enjoyed painting and drawing and making beautiful quilts with panels that included her artwork. One of her favorite hobbies was making historical, scientific and religious scrapbooks and gifting them to adults and children who were patients at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Throughout her life, Grace enjoyed collecting preserving both community and family history, and she relished sharing these with family and friends. In 1972, as the city celebrated its centennial, Grace's efforts were memorialized at the North Wood County Historical Society Museum at Praschak Wayside Park with a portrait, engraved with the title, "Organizer of North Wood County Historical Society 1952."

for music and theater," Eaton added. weekend tournaments we host could expand, helping the Marshfield community by bringing in more people to local restaurants and hotels. Our parishes could benefit by having a place to host large parish events without concern for cost or weather. It's exciting to think just how many people could be helped by this one addition to our schools."

"Our gymnasium was built in 1952, and I firmly believe we've maximized its potential," said Joe Konieczny, Columbus Athletic Director and Boys Head Basketball Coach. "The lights go on at 5:00 a.m. and stay on until 10:00 p.m. It is the home to 18 basketball teams and 9 volleyball teams. We use it for games, tournaments, camps, band concerts, choir concerts, drama productions, and all PE classes in grades 6-12. I love our gym because I know the events it's hosted have drawn people to our school. We tell our students to always do the most with what they have. We've done that with our current facilities, but we need more space," Konieczny added. "I cannot imagine what we will accomplish with this new facility. It will change lives. School enrollment will continue to grow. Students and families will be able to successfully balance the many activities in their lives. We will be able to host even more events and have an even larger impact on the lives of youth in the Marshfield community. I view this as an opportunity to make sure Columbus is here forever. There is no greater gift we can leave those who will follow us."

While the cost of the fieldhouse project is $10.5 million, to date Columbus has received pledges totaling $8 million from 17 local major donors.

"With over 75 percent of our goal already accomplished, we are asking community stakeholders to help us raise the remainder," said Eaton. "There's a variety of naming and recognition opportunities available and the option to pledge your gift over five years. Gifts of $250,000 or more will be able to select from remaining naming opportunities we have; and donors who make a gift of $2,500 or more will be recognized on the Donor Wall, prominently displayed in the new fieldhouse. We anticipate being able to break ground on the project this spring. We also encourage donors to take advantage of endof-year donations for tax

"Lastly, we'd like to thank our major donors who are truly making this project a reality; and our Fieldhouse Committee who has worked tirelessly for the past several years," said Eaton. "Committee members include: Rita Blenker of Century 21 Gold Key Realty; Marty Draxler of Draxler Transportation; Ken Heiman of Nasonville Dairy; Glenn Linzmeier, Luke Hilgemann; Jayme Hilgemann; John Kohlbeck; our Dean, Fr. Douglas Robertson of Our Lady of Peace Church; Fr. Daniel Thelen of St. John the Baptist Parish; Fr. Barry Saylor of Christ the King Parish; our Chaplain Jared Clements; CCS staff Joe Konieczny (Athletic Director), Angie Loucks (Marketing Communications Director) Krisann Mauritz and (Giving & Events Director); our Columbus Education Commission."

To make a donation, contact Krisann Mauritz, Director of Giving & Events, at 715-387-1177 ext. 3314 or mauritz.krisann@ columbusdons.org. can also visit the CCS website to make a donation online. Marauders beat rival Huskies

MARSHFIELD -Dec. 9, the Marauders of Marshfield and Huskies of Wausau squared off in a battle of UW-Stevens Point branch campuses in Marshfield.

Neither team started the game lighting up the scoreboard, but it was the Marauders' defense that was suffocating the Huskies. The Marauders built a 16-6 lead in the first seven minutes. The Huskies were able to find the bottom of the net on a few three pointers over the next six minutes, closing the gap to 22-16, while the Marauders continued to struggle from the field. In what would turn out to be a stretch of runs by both teams, Marshfield's Owen Hanson and Prince Nde were able to get hot, leading the Marauders out to a 35-23 lead with 1:30 left in the first half. A costly turnover at the end of the half and back-to-back three pointers by the Huskies made it a 37-31 game at halftime.

The second continued to see each team make small runs back and forth, but it was the Marauders who made the most of those runs. Hanson was able to continue dominating inside, and when he wasn't scoring he was finding the open teammate. Nde found the bottom of the net on a couple of outside shots. The Huskies made one last effort to get back in the game after again hitting multiple outside shots, but Marshfield's Sam Everson put that fire out quickly with six points on three straight possessions. From there the Marauder defense held the Huskies to just two points, which came from a pair of free throws, over the last 4:30 of the game. The Marauders came away with a huge conference win over the rival Huskies, 77-62. Owen Hanson (Marshfield) led the way with 24 points, 6 rebounds, 5 assists, and 5 steals. Prince Nde (Woodbury, MN) followed that up with a season-high 18 points and 9 rebounds. Sam Everson (Menasha) added 12, while Jake Skroch (Stratford) finished with 9 points, 12 rebounds, and 8 assists.

The Marauders could not carry over the momentum of the win over Wausau in back-to-back losses on the

On Dec. 11, the Marauders traveled to UWP-Baraboo to close out conference play for the first semester. Marshfield suffered a tough 85-74 loss.

The Marauders were back on the road Dec. 13, taking on Gogebic Community College in a non-conference battle to close out the semester. The Samsons handled Marshfield, 101-81.

The Marauders are now 3-5 on the year and 3-2 in conference play. They have three consecutive home games to open the second semester. Marshfield will host Wausau Jan. 3 and Concordia University WI JV on Jan. 4, before a visit by Baraboo on Jan. 8. All games begin at 6:15 p.m.
