Canadians sweep Waupaca

Curling club hosts tour

BY JAMES CARD STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA - The Waupaca Curling Club lost to a Canadian team traveling on the CanAm Cup tour on Monday, Nov. 11.

The tour alternates between countries every five years, therefore this was a once-per-decade international sporting event for Waupaca to be a host.

It was the first competition of the year for the club and they just finished laying down new ice. A Canadian flag hung in the doorway to welcome the visitors. The clubhouse was adorned with strings of the Stars and Stripes and the Maple Leaf.

On display was the CanAm Cup, a sterling silver bowl mounted on a wooden base. An engraved metal plate listed the American 2019 winners and the score from that tour: USA 623, Canada 613. On this year's tour, Canada has the lead.

"This means a lot to us for your guys to come to our town, so welcome and we hope you have a good time. We hear you guys are up by a few points, is that right? Well, there's a bloody Mary bar over here and we have a strong tradition we hope you adhere to where you have to drink a whole pitcher of beer before you go out on the ice," said Neil Wenberg, who recently gave the presentation, "Waupaca Curling Club: Throwing Rocks Through the Ages" for the Waupaca Historical Society.

After some laughter at the attempt to encourage the Canadian team to get loaded, Wenberg clarified the "no-tick rule," a rule that is common for Canadian play but not used in U.S. curling. They would be using that rule for this match-up.

Before play, both teams lined up for a moment of silence. Veteran's Day in the U.S. and Remembrance Day in Canada fall on the same day.

Four teams played at once on the frosty 30-degree rink. The ice is divided into four sheets (think of a sheet as like an individual rectangular court). On Sheet 1, Canada won 9-5. On Sheet 2, Canada won 12-3. On Sheet 3, Canada won 10-4 and on Sheet 4, Canada won 8-5. Lunch and beverages were served in the clubhouse after play.

The Canadian team (made up of 20 curlers from across Canada) is traveling through Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan for three weeks. Their next stop is Madison. They will play a total of 107 games at 28 curling clubs.

The Waupaca Curling Club has a long history and they used to play on local lakes in the winter.

On Jan. 16, 1880, the Waupaca Republican newspaper reported on the formation of a curling club and listed its members. An unknown reporter wrote: "The boys marked out a rink on the lake last Saturday morning and made it lively all day. On Monday they were not so sore with their vigorous exercise but that they renewed their work. It is probable that before the close of winter there will be some lively games. As of yet it has been but mere practice."

Waupaca County OKs 2025 taxes, spending

BY ROBERT CLOUD SENIOR EDITOR

COUNTY – Waupaca County home and business owners could see their property tax rates drop by nearly 50 cents as a result of the proposed 2025 county budget.

The proposed budget, which is scheduled for a vote on Tuesday, Nov. 12, is funded by a $30.44 million total tax levy, which represents an increase of $557,968 (1.86%) over the amended 2024 budget, according to County Finance Director Heidi Dombrowski in a letter to Waupaca County supervisors.

Property tax rates will drop to $4.52 per $1,000 of equalized value, down from the o $5.01 mill rate for the 2024 budget.

Dombrowski noted the median home value in Waupaca County is $178,500. This means the total tax levy on a $178,500 home will drop from $893.46 in the 2024 budget to %857.43 in the 2025 budget.

expenditures have dropped by nearly 9%, from more than $139 million in 2024 to $127 million in 2025.

Of the total tax levy, $4.25 million is for debt service.

Waupaca County has $51.2 million in outstanding debt, which represents about 7.5% of the county's total equalized property values of $6.85 billion.

The county's direct debt burden per capita is $988. Dombrowski told the Waupaca county Board that this amount is "$413 over target."

In 2019, the Waupaca County Debt Management Policy "established a targeted maximum of 1.25% for direct debt burden (as a

Klein Auto celebrates 50 years

Clintonville dealership opened in 1974

Klein was 28 years old at the time and living in Menomonee Falls.

The amount of money I needed was about as much as you would need to buy a decent used car today," Klein said. "Back then it wasn't so small (of an amount)."

Klein Auto celebrated its 50th anniversary this year.

to Clintonville. The dealership sold new and used cars, had a service garage, and a body shop in the basement.

In 1976 the business expanded, as Klein said Chrysler allowed him to start selling Dodge trucks. A big changed came around 1982 when Klein purchased the Chevrolet Oldsmobile dealership in Clintonville, which was located where Kwik Trip is

"I bought him out and I was approved by General Motors to be a dealer," Klein said.

He added, "I locked up the building (of Chrysler Plymouth dealership) and moved everything to the Chevrolet store waiting to get approval."

When U.S. 45 was reconstructed and moved to its current location in the city, Klein purchased a tavern, a sheet metal shop and a Texaco gas station that were located next to his Chevrolet dealership. Also, during this time, he had the parking lot at the dealership reshaped, and added a showroom and offices to the dealership building.

"For that period of time it (dealership) was pretty modern," Klein said. "So, when we got the building done, and the road done, and the parking lot paved, our business doubled. And that was the impetus for moving forward."

Klein eventually purchased the Buick Pontiac dealership in Clintonville that was located next to the Clintonville Post Office, where Clintonville Area Ambulance is now located. Around that time the city was considering construction of a new building in the industrial park for the ambulance service, Klein said. He wound up selling the Buick Pontiac dealership building so it could be renovated for the ambulance service.

"That's how the ambulance got to be there," Klein said. "I engineered that

Portage County Board approves 2025 budget

BY OLIVIA COFFIN CONTRIBUTING WRITER

STEVENS POINT -The Portage County County Board approved its 2025 budget following a public hearing on Nov. 4.

The total $140.66 million budget for 2025 includes a $131.6 million operating budget and a $3.9 million capital budget.

The total Portage County tax levy for 2025 is just over $35.69 million.

The tax rate for 2025 will be $4.12, which is down from $4.30 last year, per $1,000 of equalized value.

The median home value in Portage County is $214,700. The resulting tax on a median home is approximately $884.56.

Due to the increase in property values, taxes will increase by approximately $90 on a median home.

Just under half of the operating budget is dedicated to the areas of public works and health and human services, while 15% of the operating budget is dedicated to public safety.

The capital budget will pay for equipment, roads and facility improvements as well as maintenance of existing assets and infrastructure. The budget also includes funding to maintain County services such as highways, law enforcement, jail, child protective services, and courts.

The 2025 budget, including operating and capital, represents a 13.5% decrease over the 2024 budget.

With a higher cost of health care claims there was a 20% increase in health care premiums for 2025. To lessen the impact, the county used $250,000 of fund balance to ease the burden on department budgets. The county's 2025 debt service expenses are budgeted at

As the years went by, expansion continued. Klein purchased the Dodge trucks dealership in Marion, as well as the used car dealership that was located where the Klein Dodge dealership is now located.

"He had a small showroom in the building he had, and I renovated that and put a new showroom and offices in it," Klein said.

In 1995 the dealership in Marion that Klein had purchased was moved to Clintonville, and the properties in Marion were sold. Around 2000, Klein purchased the Chrysler and Jeep inventory from the dealership in Caroline. That inventory was moved to the Klein Dodge dealership in Clintonville.

Through the years, Klein purchased a feed mill, gas station and another business that were located across the street from his dealerships in Clintonville because he needed more space. In 2008, Walgreens approached Klein to purchase some of that land to build a Walgreens store in Clintonville. Then in 2010, Kwik Trip approached Klein about purchasing some property to build a Kwik Trip gas station. Klein said he initially turned Kwik Trip away, but eventually changed his mind. He sold the property that his Chevrolet dealership was on to Kwik Trip, and purchased the property where Klein Chevrolet is currently located. He said that property was owned by two people who were going to build a grocery store on it, but couldn't because of the wetlands in the area.

Klein said he has been involved in 28 real estate transactions that have been made to reach the point Klein Auto is at now.

"We brought to the community Kwik Trip. We brought to the community Walgreens. We've been a pretty good citizen bringing in tax base for the community," Klein said.

New location

In December 2011, Klein Chrevrolet move to its current location.

"This was the first Chevrolet dealership in the state, from the ground up, built in this new style," said John Klein, Charlie Klein's son. "It was a big deal. That December we had a party. Big wigs from Chevrolet came."

"They came out here and they were just amazed," Charlie Klein said.

Ownership change

In 2014, John and Jason Klein became owners of the Klein dealerships. Charlie Klein still owns the property that houses the dealerships. John and Jason Klein also own Klein Ford in Winneconne.

Both John and Jason Klein said they worked for the dealership as kids, with one of their duties being washing cars.

"I came here after college, which would have been 1989," John Klein said.

"I was gone for a while and I came back in 2005," Jason Klein said.

John Klein said they both wanted to be part of the business when they returned to Clintonville.

"We went on different paths out of high school," John Klein said. "I went to the Coast Guard Academy and I went to be an aerospace engineer. None of those worked out too well. I went to business school and decided this would be a better thing for me. I had a local high school sweetheart. I married her and we wanted to be here.

"Jason went off to be a pro golfer and did that for a number of years. That was a grind for him. That's how we ended up back here. It's a good business. We weren't groomed for it necessarily or encouraged. We weren't discouraged from it."

50 years later

Klein Auto sells new and used cars, provides a full-service garage, as well as a large body shop.

"We're a big collision center that does a lot of business with all the deer," John Klein

Klein Auto currently employs around 60 people, including those at Klein Ford in Winneconne.

"We've had a lot of people that spent the majority of their careers here and retired here," Charlie Klein said. Charlie Klein said the business has changed "dramatically" over the past 50 years.

"The relationship with the factories has changed immensely," Charlie Klein said. "It used to be in the old days, you could call, I had phone numbers of vice presidents of the company. Today, you don't even know who's there. They don't communicate with you."

John Klein added, "Obviously, the technology has changed. The way people buy cars has changed. The

Reflecting on Our Blessings this Thanksgiving

Dear Reader,

As Thanksgiving Day approaches, we are reminded of the many blessings we enjoy as individuals and as a nation. This is a special time of year when we gather with family and friends, sharing a meal and reflecting on all for which we have to be thankful. When you think about it, our country is the greatest in the world, built on the foundations laid by our forefathers and strengthened by each generation, including our own. We have much to celebrate and even more to protect and cherish.

Take a moment to think about the family you have and the family from whence you came. The love and support that surround us during this season are invaluable. Our families are our anchors, providing us with strength and comfort through the highs and lows of life.

Consider, too, the opportunities we have in our work and careers. With unemployment at a low rate, many of us are fortunate to have jobs, and for those seeking employment, opportunities are still out there. It's a time to appreciate the security and stability that employment brings, enabling us to provide for ourselves and our loved ones.

Downtown survey results

BY JAMES CARD STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA - A recently survey indicates that puffing on a Marlboro on the sidewalk, gulping down an open intoxicant outside of a building and driving down Main Street on an ATV is mostly frowned upon – but not by everyone.

Greg Grohman, the city's grant writer and chair of the Public Engagement Committee submitted the results of a public survey into the city council's packet for their Nov. 6 meeting.

A total of 975 surveys were sent out by mail. There was one survey for downtown residents and one for business owners. More surveys were distributed door-to-door.

• 31% of residents and 29% of business owners were definitely or probably in favor of expanding ATV/ UTV use in the downtown area which is currently not allowed Main Street.

• 61% of residents and 65% of business owners were definitely or probably in favor of restricting smoking in the downtown area. Smoking is currently allowed in outdoor areas in public right-of-ways.

• 61% of residents and 71% of business owners were definitely or probably in favor of creating ordinances that allow open intoxicants in designated public spaces downtown under specific circumstances. This is currently allowed by permit during special events such as Halloween on Main. The Public Engagement

Committee also gathered input from the Waupaca Police Department. Their conclusion: allowing ATV/UTVs on Main Street is a potential safety hazard, smoking laws are hard to enforce and not a big priority, and they are not opposed to open intoxicants during events as long as the perimeter is well defined.

Comments from the survey respondents noted that ATV/UTVs are a safety hazard and negatively contribute to the downtown environment. Cigarette butts littering the downtown area is a problem and respondents are not in favor of allowing open intoxicants in the downtown area on a permanent basis but were mostly okay with it for special events.

Grant helps UWSP address forestry needs

STEVENS POINT - A $4 million grant is helping the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point's Wisconsin Institute for Sustainable Technology (WIST) focus on innovations in the forest products sector, an industry central to Wisconsin's economy and environment.

WIST, a center within the College of Natural Resources at UW-Stevens Point, received the grant from the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) in March. Since that time, WIST Executive Director Paul Fowler has led a series of changes and upgrades to the organization's infrastructure.

With an expanded team, including four new staff members and student interns, WIST has enhanced laboratory capabilities, adding equipment to conduct advanced research on compostable materials and plant growth applications.

"With WIST, our Wisconsin Forestry Center and our paper science and chemical engineering program, I am incredibly proud of our college's ongoing investments in this essential sector of Wisconsin's economy," said Brian Sloss, dean of the College of Natural Resources.

The grant aims to address current challenges in the $24.4 billion forest products industry, Wisconsin's fourth-largest manufacturing sector. This sector employs over 61,000 people across the state, making it a crucial component of Wisconsin's economy. As markets for forest and fiber products evolve, WIST's innovations and support for product development can help rejuvenate economic centers around forest products, particularly in underutilized pulp and fiber resources and packaging and tissue production.

"There are markets available for these forest products," said Fowler. "Packaging and tissue production represent potential growth areas in Wisconsin, but many businesses may not know where to begin. WIST can guide them in building a roadmap for success."

The WEDC's grant came after WIST and its partners advanced to the final stage of the Build Back Better (BBB) national program. While WIST did not receive that grant, Gov. Tony Evers and WEDC recognized the importance of WIST's proposal, offering the $4 million grant to support the institute's vision and initiatives.

"As a multi-billion-dollar industry that employs more than 60,000 Wisconsinites, there's no doubt that our paper and forest products sector is a key industry that contributes mightily to our state's economic success," said Gov. Evers. "I'm incredibly proud of our continued efforts to invest in and bolster this critical part of Wisconsin's proud heritage.

"The folks at UW-Stevens Point are doing great work to support the sustainability of Wisconsin's forestry industry, and we're excited to be providing critical funding to the Wisconsin Institute for Sustainable Technology to help ensure the long-term viability of this critical economic driver for our state," Evers said.

Beyond infrastructure upgrades, Fowler's team is bolstering WIST's role as a resource for compostability and recyclability testing in fiber-based products, providing businesses with critical data to make informed decisions on product development and market entry.

"WIST's expertise and industry connections can help businesses fine-tune their strategies or find the right starting point for transformative changes," said Fowler. "Our goal is to help rural forest communities thrive by unlocking this untapped po-

School board OKs balanced budget

Mill rate remains $10.74

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE - The Clintonville School Board o passed a balanced budget for the 2024-25 school year that has the mill rate remaining at $10.74.

The balanced budget was presented at the budget hearing Oct. 28, and approved at the board meeting the same night.

At the district's annual meeting held the same day, the board approved a levy for the General Fund (10) in the amount of $3.48 million, and a levy for the Referendum Debt Service Fund (39) in the amount of $7.17 million. The board also approved a levy of zero dollars for the Non-Referendum Debt Fund (38) and the Community Fund

Prior to the board approving the budget, Superintendent Troy Kuhn explained how the district was able to balance the 2024-25 budget. He said the district cut back on some professional development in curriculum.

The maintenance budget was cut by $30,000 since the district no longer owns the former Rexford Longfellow Elementary School property. Also, a part-time position in the district's office handling human resources and benefits issues was not included in the budget. One final reason is the district moving to manage the retirement funds for district employees, instead of having a third-party do

"If we don't do that, then we have a potential nine retirements next year, we'd have to dip into our fund balance to pay those retirements," Kuhn said.

"By bringing that money back, we won't have to dip into our fund balance that much because we would be managing that instead of having somebody else manage it for us."

During the budget hearing, Nick Curran, a CESA 8 financial advisor contracted by the district s, said Kuhn and school administrators, as well as his team at CESA 8, built a budget on zero-based budgeting philosophy.

"That philosophy is essentially, we start at zero," Curran said. "It's literally what it says in the title. You start at zero from a budgetary standpoint, and you build up from there to establish your budget."

He said it takes two- to three-years to fully implement a zero-based budget process at a school district.

Fund balance

The district ended the 2023-24 school year with a $3.2 million fund balance, which is 17.82% of the district's expenses, Curran said. He added that the district is projected to end the 2024-25 school year with $3.7 million in its fund balance, which is 21.85% of the district's expenses.

Fund 10

Jessica Holtz, director of finance from CESA 8, said the majority of the district's financial transactions take place in Fund 10. This includes activities for regular classroom instruction, maintenance, utilities, insurance and sports.

The primary sources of revenue for Fund 10 are general state aids and property taxes.

For the 2024-25 budget, the district projects Fund 10 revenues to be just over $17.7 million, which is a reduction of $202,000 from the previous year. The reduction is mainly due to the district no longer receiving ESSER funds related to COVID.

Holtz said state aid to the district increased by 8.7%, and property values in the district increased 10.6%.

The expenses for Fund 10 are also just over $17.7 million, making it a balanced budget.

"However, this is the first year the district has used the zero-based budgeting, so we're going to work throughout the year to manage those expenses," Holtz said.

In order to balance the budget, Holtz said the district had to cut $792,822 in expenses from its preliminary budget.

Fund 27

Fund 27, which covers special education, must have a balanced budget, Holtz said.

"In order to achieve that, we have to do a transfer from Fund 10," Holtz said.

The budget for Fund 27 calls for revenues and expenses in the amount of just over $3 million. To balance Fund 27, the 2024-25 budget calls for a transfer of a little more than $1.7 million from Fund 10 to Fund

Fund 39

The district's debt service fund is Fund 39, and is used to track the principal and interest payments for the district's long-term ob-

The 2024-25 budget calls for a principal payment of $1.37 million, and an interest payment totaling $745,381.

Holtz said the budget proposal recommends the district do a debt defeasance.

Debt defeasance

Curran told the board that the recommended debt defeasance would be for the district's recent referendum project.

Debt defeasance is the ability to prepay a borrowed debt in a way that does not require refinancing, Curran said.

He said for the 2024-25 budget, and the recommended $10.74 mill rate, the district could do a debt defeasance in the amount of just over $5 million.

"Doing the defeasance, you're projected to save over the life of the borrowing, $2.5 million," Curran

Doing the debt defeasance also allows the district to receive an additional $1.4 million in aid the following year, Curran said, adding that it also creates the opportunity for the district to do it again next

Fund 80

Fund 80 is the district community service fund, and is used to keep track of activities at the Clintonville Rec Center, Dellwood Childcare Center, Trucker U, and middle school sports.

Holtz said the recommendation is to levy zero dollars for Fund 80.

Curran told the board that Fund 80 had a "significant" balance of $3.3 million at the end of the 202324 school year. He said he is recommending the district use some of those funds for a CD ladder.

"A CD ladder allows us to invest dollars at different periods of time, trying to capitalize and maximize possible interest earnings," Curran said.

A total of $1.1 million would be invested in the first CD for a total of 364 days. This CD would earn $26,000 in interest. A total of $900,000 would be invested in a second CD for a total of 150 days. The second CD would earn $16,000 in interest.

Curran said he is recommending investing only $2 million of the funds in Fund 80, to bring down the Fund 80 balance, and to also levy for zero dollars for Fund 80. This will allow the district to levy more in Fund 39 to further capitalize on the interest savings on the debt.

reliance on financing them, obviously has become a big factor."

Jason Klein added, "It's constantly changing because you either have something going on with the economy nationally, like interest rates. COVID changed everything. But I think people in this business are entrepreneurial, like him (Charlie Klein). They have a way of solving problems."

Adapting to change is what led to the success of the business, Charlie Klein

"I was only in my 20s," Charlie Klein said, about when he purchased the dealership. "I don't think at that point I had the vision that that could happen. I had the vision that I would constantly grow, but I grew in a controlled manner. I didn't go nuts and buy 28 dealerships. It's too hard to get that many good people to work for you. And I wanted to be there so I could see what my people did. Try to train them the way we want them trained."

Over the years, Charlie Klein experienced many triumphs with his business, but some stick out more than others.

"Probably the boys coming in and taking over for me after all my time that I spent getting the thing going," Charlie Klein said.

"I'm proud of the fact that we have a lot of employees that are long-term. I'm proud that we've had so many people retire from here and they're still friends of ours. There's a lot of things to be proud of."

He added, "We've seen a lot of people come and go in these 50 years. We're pretty proud of the fact that we're still here. And we like to think that it's because maybe we treat people properly."

As for the future, John Klein said, "Considering the amount of change we've been through in these 50 years, we'll just keep adapting and changing. Like Jason said, being entrepreneurs and making sure things work."

School board discusses grant writer

Three-way partnership considered

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

NEW LONDON - The New London School District is currently discussing the possibility of working with the city of New London and the New London Area Chamber of Commerce to hire a grant writer who would be shared by all three entities.

Superintendent Scott Bleck presented the idea to the New London School Board at its Oct. 9 meet-Bleck said public entities often seek grant opportunities that may be available to them.

'These are funds that aren't always available, but at times they do become available, which can enhance the direction of the district's vision, what we want to accomplish, and so forth," Bleck said.

He said grant funds can also help create revenue for capital projects.

Bleck cited two examples of different public entities partnering to share a grant writer.

The first example involved the city of Waupaca, the Waupaca School District, and the Waupaca Area Chamber of Commerce. The second example included the villages of Howard and Suamico and the Howard Suamico School District. He said the grant writer works for all entities to research and find relevant grants that would support what is best for all entities in the partnership.

After speaking with the grant writer employed in Waupaca, Bleck said he learned they have found success receiving available grant funds. He said around $6 million were obtained collaboratively for all the entities involved in the Waupaca partner-

Bleck said he was bringing this idea to the board because he feels there is an opportunity for this to work in New London with the school district, chamber of commerce, and the city. He added that the Waupaca Area Chamber of Commerce is interested in such an arrangement, and the city of New London is willing to continue discussing the possibility.

For the arrangement to work, Bleck said each of the three entities would have to provide a monetary contribution to support a grant writer posi-

"Typically, one of the agencies takes on the ownership of the individual that would take on the responsibility," Bleck said.

Board Vice-President John Heideman asked how much it would cost the district.

Bleck said he didn't have an exact figure to share, but that it would be a flat fee the district would have to pay. He added that if the grant writer would be able to secure grants for the district, it would financially benefit school district.

Heideman said he didn't have a problem with the district contributing funds for a grant writer.

'While it's sad, that's where we find ourselves in the world, where you have to pay somebody to jump through just the right hoops to get money out of the DNR or DPI or any of the other organizations, where continually 20-30 years ago it seemed to be way more even-handed," Heideman said.

Board Clerk Katie Batten asked who is currently asked to seek grant opportunities for the district.

Bleck said the district does currently apply for grants, but basically only if it is assured of receiving the grant.

"It's (applying for grants) not part of our make-up," Bleck said.

Batten asked what type of contract and terms would be involved in a partnership with the city and chamber of com-

Bleck said it would be an annual contract, and the grant writing position probably would not be a full-time position.

WEYAUWEGA – As the whitetail rut is peaking, so does the bowhuting action.

Wisconsin's state gun-deer season opens Saturday, Nov. 23. After a successful hunt and the venison is in the freezer, there lingers the question of what to do with the deer hide.

Hides for Heroes is a nonprofit that collects deer hides to sell as a way to raise money. They donate the funds to the veteran's group Wounded Warriors that operates Camp Hackett, a healing retreat in Phillips. The group is composed of volunteers and was founded by local resident Dave Hintz.

Drop-off boxes for Hides for Heroes are now scattered throughout Waupaca County. The hides should be as clean as possible when dropped off for donation. Remove as much meat and fat as possible.

Scandinavian Christmas traditions

Krueger said she started giving away a welcome gift at the door, in order to keep a count of the amount of people who were coming. She discovered that more than 600 people were visiting her home.

She held the sale in her home for 19 years, then moved ilt to Fox Valley Tech in Waupaca.

After that first year in Waupaa, interest in the Christmas boutique kept growing.

Mayor meets with state reps about dam

Mayor MANAWA Mike Frazier, the city's engineer, city officials and representatives from Cedar Corporation met with state Rep. Kevin Peterson and state Sen. Rachael Cabral-Guevara Oct. 30.

Peterson and Cabral-Guevara requested estimates for the total dam replacement project including costs with demolition of the existing dam and construction of a new alternative so they can submit it to the Joint Finance Committee in an attempt to have costs allocated in the state's next budget cycle.

The overall condition of the dam was reviewed, which has been determined by the city's engineer to be severely deteriorated and not structurally sound for long-term operation. Replacing the dam is the city's preferred option over repairs that would only provide temporary solutions.

Cedar Corporation is preparing an analysis for the Manawa Common Council to review the feasibility of replacing the hydroelectric dam with a new dam or a spillway.

City council will review the analysis provided and select their preferred alter-

The estimate for the chosen alternative will then be submitted to the Joint Finance Committee by the end of March 2025.

Under the direction of the Federal Regulatory Commission and Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, the city of Manawa must stabilize eroded streambanks adjacent to the dam and immediately downstream to reduce impacts on water quality caused by erosion, prior to the construction of the dam.

Resulting from collaboration between Cedar Corporation and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), the city is being awarded grant funding through the Emergency Watershed Protection Program that will cover up to 75 percent of the streambank stabilization construction costs that are estimated at $560,000.

Design on the project will begin in 2024 with construction to take place in winter or spring 2025.

Members of Manawa Common Council have been communicating with residents and officials of the town of Little Wolf to discuss potential joint efforts to restore the Manawa Mill Pond where a number of Little Wolf residents reside.

The city of Manawa will continue to update the public when new information becomes available.

Volunteers repair Manawa Trail

BY EMILY DOUD STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA - The Little Wolf River Trail saw a great deal of damage after the flooding that occurred July

The storm resulted in the breaching of the dam and massive flooding in Lindsay Park in Manawa.

Ann Wade, who volunteers with the Little Wolf River Trail Committee, said the trail has been closed since the flooding. A main trail head in Lindsay Park was not accessible to the community.

Wade said last month volunteers shoveled off mud from some of the boardwalks, as well as stomp down overgrown saw grass.

The flooding pushed one of the boardwalks five feet in the air, Wade said, which needed to be pushed back down with heavy equipment.

Ben Hlaban, who is volunteering and assisting in the repairs of the trail, said there was not only the raised boardwalk, but there were also multiple silt deposits on the trail, boardwalks and covered bridge from the high water.

As of right now, Hlaban said, the silt deposits have been removed from wood surfaces on boardwalks and bridges as well as fixing the lifted boardwalk and helping to level three more.

Hlaban said work on the other displaced bridge has started, however the bridge will need to be disassembled and reassembled at the original site.

Wade said there is a new problem that they are starting to worry about moving forward. How will the river be regulated without the dam to manage rain fall.

Wade said there is still more work that will need to be done to get the trail back to its original state.

The only fund raising the Little Wolf Trail Committee does is through the Manawa Stampede during the rodeo, which was cancelled after the flooding.

With the new repairs, Wade said, the trail still needs maintenance. Following the new rainfall over the last two weeks, using the trail would be at ricky and she does not recommend it as of right now.

For more information on the Little Wolf River Trail or to donate to help with the maintenance or rebuilding, visit their Facebook page Little Wolf River Trail Organization or mail in a donation to P.O. Box 121, Manawa, Wisconsin, 54949.

Manawa school board adopts budget

Tax levy remains among lowest

EMILY DOUD

MANAWA - The Manawa School District held its annual meeting, setting the tax levy and mill rate for the school year.

District Administrator Ryan Peterson said there are multiple sources of money that finance the school district. Some grants make up a small portion of the incoming money, however the two largest amounts of money come from state aid and property taxes.

State aid is called equalization aid and that number can change from year to year depending on a number of contributing factors, Peterson said.

Those factors include things like total property values within a district and the property tax revenues, as well as the socioeconomic status of the district, Peterson said.

Once the state figures out the amount of equalization aid the school district gets, which is given to the district Oct. 15 of the school year, then the district has to figure out the tax levy.

The tax levy is the most amount of money that the school district can levy and raise through property taxes, a policy enacted over 30 years ago referred to as revenue limits, Peterson said.

This year the tax levy for the district was decided to be at $2.57 million, which is the amount of money that the school uses to operate on, Peterson said.

Part of that levy will also be used to go to the community for tuition for private school through a voucher program. "Basically that is not money that we as a district pay, but we become the pass through for, the state says as a school district, you either levy this on the community or it's going to have to come out of your general funding to pay for these private school vouchers," Peterson

The amount of money that will go to private school vouchers also comes in Oct. 15, with a recent 406% increase in the amount of money that goes to the voucher program that came during the 2023 to 2024 school year.

There are many contributing factors in determining the tax levy and equalization aid that can change yearly, however Peterson said the school board has continued to be fiscally responsible.

The mill rate for the Manawa School District came in at $7 this year, which means if you own a home worth $100,000 then your yearly taxes would be $700.

Peterson said the tricky part about the mill rate currently is that home values have increased throughout the county and more specifically the state, which means property taxes will be going up for homeowners.

However, the mill rate has

Frailing, Karen

Karen Marie Frailing passed away on Saturday, November 2nd, following a short illness. Karen was born on October 5, 1937, in Brillion, WI, to Robert and Lydia Goldschmidt. In her early days, Karen was a bit of a social butterfly and elite baton twirler; this may have caught the eye of many a beau, but, happily, she landed in the arms of Allen Frailing. They were united in marriage on May 30, 1957 and settled in Appleton to grow their family. In the late 1970's the Frailing family packed up and moved north to Iola. For many years, Karen worked alongside Al as a bookkeeper and secretary for Ted & Al's 76 station. She was an active member of the Iola community, volunteering as a Lioness for years, quilting with the ladies from Our Savior's Lutheran Church and perhaps most importantly - spending mornings with the "kaffeeklatsch" group of friends that have shared so many years of their lives together.

One of Karen's greatest endeavors — which can only be described as of a shabby chic labor of love — was the annual unveiling of the "HUGE SALE!" on one of Iola's main streets. For over 4 decades, Iola old car show attendees, garage sale enthusiasts and antique-geeks were invited onto the Frailing front lawn (and into the tents, barn, and garage) to search for vintage treasures, books, "man stuff!" and everything in between. If you had a question about any obscure antique, Karen had an answer; if you were looking for a specific vintage item to complete a set, she might know where to find it, or would jot your name down and slide a note into the box to keep in mind. (If you looked like you could use a hand with that big banana box of purchases, though, she'd call, "AL!" ... There was a lot of teamwork for those huge sales.)

Karen and Al retired together in 1999 and continued to spend nearly every day with each other, whether traveling to the occasional casino, "enjoying" a ball game on TV, or just puttering around at home. Karen was especially fond of all the right sports teams (that is, the Badgers, Brewers, and Packers), a good Friday night fish fry at the bowling alley, and card games with the family. Together, they built a lifetime worth of memories and love. With that love, Karen is remembered by Al, her husband of 67 years, as well as their children Steve (Kristi) Frailing and Jodi Breitenfeldt (Ken), three grandchildren (Jesse Dumke, Mandi & Victor Murray, Jay Richards), and five great-grandchildren. She is further survived by her sister, Dory Klug, many nieces and nephews, and many lifelong friends. Karen was preceded in death by her parents, younger brother Bobby, son Tom, and grandson Nathan.

We are grateful to each friend and loved one who has called, stopped by, left food or flowers, sent a card filled with caring words, or in any other way blessed Karen and our family with warmth and love during this difficult time. We are especially thankful for the kindness of the staff of The Willows, and to the ThedaCare Hospice nurses and Heather Gruszynski for their support and compassion gifted to Karen over the last several weeks.

'Grief, I've learned, is really just love. It's all the love you want to give but cannot. All that unspent love gathers up in the corner of your eyes, the lump in your throat, and in that hollow part of your chest. Grief is just love with no place to go." (Jamie Anderson)

Please join us to honor Karen's life as we share stories, food, and love with a Celebration of Life on Sunday, November 17th from 11am-3pm at Silver Lake Lanes in Scandinavia

Olkowski, Alan

Alan P. Olkowski, age 80 of Waunaca, nassed away on Friday, November 8, 2024 with his loving family by his side at ThedaCare Medical Center in Waupaca. Alan was born on July 1, 1944; son of the late Andrew and Muriel (Lloyd) Olkowski in Iola, WI. He graduated from Waupaca High School in 1962. On October 24, 1964; he married Suzanne Wright.

Alan was a carpenter all his life, working with his father and later taking over the business. They built many homes in the Waupaca area. He loved living along the Crystal River, tending to his gardens and wintering in Florida and Arizona. His hobbies included woodworking, carving, going to rummage sales and flea markets.

Alan is survived by his loving wife of 60 years; children, Dean (Kelly Ellington) Olkowski and Stacy (Patrick) Jarvis; grandchildren; Stephanie Jarvis, Michael Jarvis, Mazie Olkowski, Emeline Olkowski, nephew; Andrew (Linda) Huntoon, nieces; Dorri Flaata and Diane Scheider, brothers-in-law; Denver (Carole) Wright, Gary (Mary) Wright and Ray Hackbart. Alan was preceded in death by his parents, sister, Ruth Scheider, brother, Larry Olkowski, niece, Connie Pollack, in-laws, Willard and Esther Wright, sister-in-law, LuAnn Hackbart and brother-in-law, Randall Wright.

A Memorial Service will be held at 12:00 PM on Saturday, November 23, 2024 at Parfreyville United Methodist Church. Visitation will be held from 11:00 AM until time of service at the Church. Holly Funeral Home of Waupaca is assisting the family with arrangements. In lieu of flowers, a donation will be made to the Parfreyville United Methodist Church in Alan's name.

Significant Changes: The 2025 budget imposes a decrease ($53,376) in the tax levy from 2024 to 2025 which is in compliance with the State's Levy Limit. There is a minor increase (1.7%) in the Debt Service Levy to ensure the City sticks to the current financial plan by increasing at a rate close to our natural growth number. There are no personnel changes taking effect in 2025. The 2025 budget and services continue to be maintained when compared to 2024, apart from a slight increase of subsidy to the Youth Program and Library Fund in order to support operational expenses. An increase in Intergovernmental Revenues (State Aids) and other revenue sources allowed for a tiered wage increase for City Employees. This will be applied with a 3% increase in January and a 1% increase in July, while other employee benefit costs remain the same or with a slight change with the exception of costs associated with health insurance which rose again by 8%.

facility is up and running. She provided a breakdown of estimated costs in a table that covered heat, electricity, water/sewer, telephone/ internet, equipment and HVAC. Colbert pointed out that these costs can be offset by gymnasium rental and memberships for co-working spaces.

The plan is to build a space that can run efficiently without a consistent staff member on site. Our recreation, library, and senior center staff may all play a role in making sure the center is running smoothly throughout the day," wrote Colbert.

The common council unanimously voted to approve the state municipal agreement, the first step to get the project moving.

Amherst Falcons look to rebound after a 2023-24 season that saw them 11-15 and 4-10 in the Central Wisconsin-East Conference a season ago. The Falcons season came to an end in the WIAA regional against Freedom.

The Falcons will look to replace the productivity of Second-Team All-CWC-East selection Spencer Cohen, who led the team in both points (13.9) and assists (5.3), and Honorable Mention selection Jaren Alfuth, who contributed 13.8 points per game.

Jarrett Davidson will be on the sideline for the first time as head coach for the Falcons. Returning for the Falcons is Sully Perkins, who averaged 8.9 points per game and range as he had an average of .426, and Jack Seeger, who had an average of 5.4 points per game and led the team in rebounding with 5.6 per contest, both players look to take on the bulk of the production this season.

The season opener for the Falcons will be on Dec. 2 against Port Edwards at

NEW LONDON - The New London Bulldogs are in a position to have their third consecutive winning season after making a run to the sectional final in 2022-2023 and finishing the 2023-2024 season 16-9 and 10-4 in the Bay, which tied them with West De Pere for second in the conference and a trip to the regional

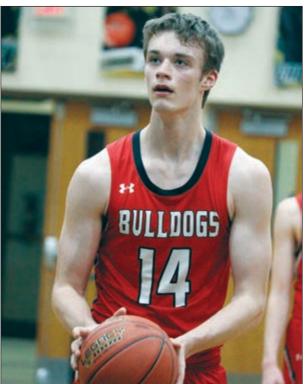

It will be a tough climb without Jonah Schlueter, who was First-Team All-Bay a season ago. Schlueter averaged 12.5 points and 6.6 rebounds and led the conference with 6.6 assists. Also missing after graduation is Bay Conference Honorable Mention Paul Vuillaume, who contributed 10.9 points per game for the Bulldogs.

Zach Molnar is in his fourth season as the head coach of the Bulldogs.

Coach Molnar on how to replace the production from Schlueter and Vuillaume, "It's going to be by committee, we're not going to be able to replace them, they did so much for our team. So we can't just replace them," Coach Molnar went on to say, "We have Brett Marquardt and Joseph (Daly) will help with the ball handling duties, it will be a little bit by committee there."

Senior Spotlight

Ethan Olds-Stevens Point

Three consecutive championships is a rare feat in any sport, and the Stevens Point Panthers accomplished that task on Nov.2 as they took home the 2024 WIAA State Boys Cross Country Championship to add to their trophy case. A factor in all three of those title victories is Ethan Olds.

Ethan helped his team to a state title, posting a time of 15:25.8, which was a team-best and helped propel his team to the top spot on the podium.

Beginning his love of sports through basketball, Ethan began his journey in cross country in the fifth grade and has gained a passion for running: "My teammates are my favorite part. Cross country is one of the most wholesome sports you can be a part of. The environment is just different than other "mainstream" sports. The environment and people helped me love the sport and stick with it throughout high school."

Along with his state championships, Ethan has a list of several accomplishments; highlights in his career include running a 15:15, which placed him 16th at NXR Heartland 2023, and qualifying for Nike Cross Nationals.

Ethan, who plans to attend a four-year university to study data science, has managed his time between his studies and running wisely: "Balancing academics and athletics were never really a problem for me. Using my time wisely in school was always a factor because it gave me time to run.

Keeping his composure has been the key to Ethan's success, "I would say my biggest asset is my calm demeanor. It helps me be a leader for the team and helps relax the younger, more inexperienced guys during stressful races."

Ethan senses his progression from the time he began his freshman season to his senior year," It is interesting to see how I've grown as a person. As a freshman, I was shy and only talked when I needed to. As a senior, I've noticed myself stepping up and being a leader. As an athlete, it is always cool to see the progression of people as they mature as runners."

WAUPACA-The Waupaca Comets will look to build from their winning season in 2023-2024, as they went 15-11 and 10-8 in the North Eastern Conference. The 2023-2024 Comets made the regional final before their season came to an end against Freedom.

Head Coach Matt Resch is at the helm for Waupaca

as he enters his fourth season with the team.

The Comets will look to replace scoring from First-Team All-North Eastern Conference Riley Bechard, who averaged 19.7 points per game to go with 14.7 rebounds, which led the conference and was seventh best in the state. Second-Team All-North Eastern Conference Henry Mouw also graduates after scoring 17.8 points per game.

2023-2024 North Eastern Honorable Mention Aaron Wolff will lead the Comets after averaging 12.4 points and 4.6 rebounds and demonstrating his shooting range with a .390 percent from threepoint range.

Wolff is joined by Austin Adamczak, who averaged 5.4 points and led the team with 4.3 assists a season

The opening game for the Comets will be on Dec. 2 at home against Berlin.

Stevens Point Panthers have plenty of talent coming back from a team that finished 23-4 and 9-3 within the Wisconsin Valley Conference a season ago. The Panthers made a run to the WIAA sectional before being ousted by Neenah.

The Panthers lost Carter

Combs, who averaged eight points, five rebounds, and a conference-leading 7.4 assists while being named First-Team All-Wisconsin Valley Conference. Stevens Point does return Grant Chandonais, who led the team in scoring with 16 points and rebounding with six per game.

Stevens Point is led by Jon Krull, who is in his seventh season as the Panthers head coach.

Wisconsin Valley Honorable Mention members Baraka Makalin, who averaged 10.7 points, and Jerrin Hughes, who averaged 9.6 points, respectively, should see their scoring averages increase this season.

Stevens Point begins its season against Bay Port at home on Nov. 30.

New London adds girls golf

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

NEW LONDON - The School District of New London includes girls golf to its sports offerings starting in the fall of 2025.

The New London Board of Education approved the addition at its Oct. 9 meeting.

Philip Sloma, activities director for the School District of New London, presented information about adding girls' golf to the district's sports offerings to the board when it met Sept. 25.

Boys who participated in the golf program purchased their clubs and golf bags for supplies and equipment. Golf fees during 2024 were $5,561 for the district, with $4,554 of that amount paid to Shamrock Heights Golf Course. Sloma said, the remaining $1,007 was paid to other golf courses to participate in invitationals.

The boys' golf coach received $2,957, with an assistant coach receiving $1,154. Transportation in 2024 was $1,616, compared to $2,201 in 2023.

Athletes purchased their shirts and paid a $60 cocurricular fee, which covered a school year's worth of sports for an athlete.

Funds needed to cover awards, such as numerals and letters amounted to around $150.

If the district adds girls golf, Sloma said high school girls in grades 9-12 would be eligible to participate.

A varsity squad will consist of five athletes. Invites would be just for varsity athletes, while a conference match would include the five varsity members, as well as five junior varsity mem-

"You can't send the entire team out to a golf course to golf," Sloma said.

Sloma told the board that 27 boys participated on the golf team in 2024.

"Not all 27 are going to a match," Sloma said.

The girls' team would not be co-ed only girls would be allowed on the girls' team. Each member would have to follow the code of conduct, Sloma said.

Sloma said Shamrock Heights favors the district, adding a girls' golf team.

State senator to speak at forum

NEW LONDON -State Sen. Rachael Cabral-Guevera, R-SD19, will speak at a forum at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26, at the Washington Center in New London.

Sponsored by the Wolf River Area Patriots, the forum is open to the public.

Due to redistricting, Senate District 19 now includes New London and much of Waupaca County.

Cabral-Guevera led efforts for a tax cut bill in the last senate session, including exempting up to $150,000 of retirement income from state taxes. Gov. Tony Evers vetoed the bill, but she has vowed to bring it back in the next session.

She is a certified nurse practitioner, who authored a bill with Sen. Patrick Testin to allow nurse practitioners to operate independently of physicians. The legislature passed the bill, the governor vetoes it and the legislature overrode the veto in May 2024.

The Washington Center is located at 500 W. Washington. Forum attendees should use the south side entrance off Dickinson Street.

Call Seth Cowan at 920-968-5335 for more information.

Stories from Vietnam veterans

Author speaks at Holly Center

WAUPACA - Over nearly 15 years - from February 1961 through May 1975 - about 2.7 million American men and women served in the Vietnam War. This includes more than 165,000 Wisconsin residents.

Local author Peggy Krause has spent years interviewing Vietnam veterans, including her husband who she met after he was discharged from the Fort Riley, Kansas hospital after recovering from injuries sustained in Vietnam.

Krause will present these veterans' true stories at her upcoming program, "The Men Behind the Scarf: What Vietnam Veterans Don't Talk About."

The program will take place at the Holly History and Genealogy Center at 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14.

Krause, who lives in Waupaca, is a wife, grandmother and great-grandmother. She worked as a nurse for more than 40 years, of which 30 were spent working at the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King. The Vietnam War veterans Krause met at her husband's Charlie Company Reunion touched her heart and inspired her to publish both a novel and an accompanying book, which records the veterans' true stories.

This Waupaca Historical Society program will take place at the Holly Center, 321 S. Main St.

Refreshments will be served.

The program is sponsored by Michelle Peterson, in memory of 1st Lt. David R. Dresia, and Marge Writt, in honor of Merv Heuer.

Suspect faces three felony cases

WAUPACA – A Waupaca man who has been in and out of prison since 2016, currently faces three open felony cases in Waupaca County.

Dylan S. Nyman, 33, is most recently charged with two felony counts of identity theft, four counts of misdemeanor theft and eight counts of felony bail jumping.

He is currently in custody on a $1,500 cash bond.

On Oct. 11, Waupaca Police Officer Jarred Studinski was dispatched to the 1200 block of Crystal Court where he met with a man who reported that $300 in cash had been stolen from his truck.

The man told Studinski that he had been helping his mother with some things around her apartment. He went to his truck and noticed the odor of cigarette smoke even though he does not smoke. He then discovered that $300 was missing from his truck, as well as some credit cards and his driver's license.

On Oct. 27, Stevens Point police informed Waupaca police that a victim who was moving from Waupaca to Stevens Point had reported the theft of a Venmo card, a white iPad Pro valued at $1,500. a Social Security card, $30 in cash and some lottery tickets from her vening loose near roadways.

The Stevens Point victim told Waupaca Police Officer Kyle Holden that someone named Dylan Nyman had attempted unsuccessfully to make transactions using her Venmo card. She did not know anyone by that name.

In two other criminal cases, Nyman is facing charges of six counts of identity theft, three counts of receiving stolen property and one count of obstructing an officer, as well as felony bail jumping and retail theft.

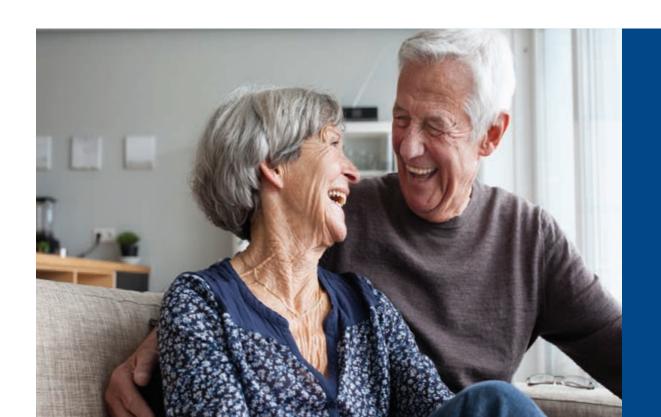

Nyman's prior convictions include three count of misdemeanor theft on March 4, 2023; one felony count of possession of narcotics on Sept. 7, 2021; one felony count of possession of narcotics, and one felony count of burglary on April 7, 2016.
