Unique shopping experience in downtown Eagle River

"There's a lot to see and do in downtown Eagle River this summer," said Kathy Holperin, "and we're so pleased to be right in the middle of all the action."

Holperin owns Grandma's Toy Box and Eagle Craft & Hobby, two of Eagle River's favorite downtown shopping destinations.

"Our emphasis at Grandma's Toy Box has always been on the classics," Holperin said. "Marbles, Duncan yo-yos, metal jacks, Slinky, drinking bird, balancing eagle, parachute man, green army men...we've got 'em all."

A quick walk through the store reveals that they've got all the new stuff, too. Moon balls, Crazy Aaron's Thinking Putty, Pokeman cards, Hatchems, Nee Doh balls and more.

At the back of the store there's a "jungle" of stuffed creatures for sale including a huge assortment of northwoods animals and fish; snakes, birds, sea creatures and animals from around the world; monsters and dinosaurs; and dozens of Folkmanis brand puppets waiting to perform in a puppet show.

"Our game wall right inside the front door won't disappoint," Holperin declared. "Clue, Sorry, Mr. & Mrs. Potato Head, Farkle, dozens of versions of Monopoly, several chess and checker sets. Again, all the classics. But we've got all the new games, too, like Taco Cat Goat, Cheese Pizza, Sleeping Queens, Located at the back of the store, Grandma's Toy Box offers a variety of creatures in their jungle of stuffed animals.

What Do You Meme, New Phone Who Dis, Camp, and the list goes on."

Holperin said she is pretty proud of her puzzle section with hundreds of titles, from wooden sets for preschoolers to 1000 pieces and larger. The store even has its own "house brand" featuring local attractions like the ice castles, Pirate Ship, Hodag, Bond Falls and others.

Shoppers will find a fully stocked baby and toddler section, summer outdoor toys, a complete line of Melissa & Doug educational toys, a wall full of Bruder trucks, sun hats and sunglasses, and dozens of kid-pleasers for under $5.

Right next door to "Grandma's", Eagle Craft & Hobby offers shoppers another store full of variety and delight, according to Holperin's son, Chris, who is the Northwoods exclusive dealer for TRAXXAS- brand radio control cars, trucks and boats.

"We stock everything from the Bandit, Rustler, Stampede and Slash, to TRX-4ms and LaTrax, up to the XRT, eRevo and MAXX series," Chris Holperin said, "along

Hometown Pharmacies provide health and wellness products, prescriptions and gifts

Hometown Pharmacies, with locations in Land O' Lakes and Wall Street in downtown Eagle River, have been providing professional and personal service to the area since 1929.

"The pharmacists' years of experience will help guide you to the proper product choice and usage. They don't hide behind a counter; they are always ready and available to discuss your health needs and questions," said a Hometown Pharmacy spokesperson.

Partnering with the Hometown Pharmacy group of 70 independent pharmacies in Wisconsin a few years ago has allowed the Land O' Lakes Hometown Pharmacy and Wall Street Hometown Pharmacy to better serve the area by expanding services and product lines.

The knowledgeable staff at each location have years of experience and what is needed or can obtain it quickly, helping vacationers tackle most any situation that arises.

"While you are enjoying your vacation and the beautiful outdoor activities our area offers, don't forget to stock up on our special 'Bite and Itch' lotion. This is a must-have product made just for us with a topical anesthetic and antihistamine to help soothe those insect bites," said Larry Thompson, manager of Wall Street Hometown Pharmacy. "This year formulation had been delayed due to an ingredient shortage but should arrive any day now," he added.

"The staff and pharmacists have an emphasis on proactive health. They want to keep you healthy and prevent illness by dispensing products that keep you nutritionally fit and keep your body's defenses strong," said a Hometown Pharmacy spokesperson.

If a visitor has lost or forgotten their prescription, the pharmacist can assist by calling their pharmacy or doctor for a replacement. With prescription inventories of nearly 2,000 items at each location, they likely have what is needed or can obtain it quickly.

Each Hometown Pharmacy has a state-of-the-art computer system and is contracted with almost all insurance plans.

The Wall Street and Land O' Lakes Hometown Pharmacies are fully stocked. In addition to all their pharmaceutical needs, Hometown Pharmacy visitors can find a full line of health and beauty aids, cosmetics, first aid and allergy items, medical equipment, sport aids, vitamins, half-price greeting cards, a large gift department and souvenirs.

Stores have a large variety of gift items as well to meet your needs including baby gifts, picture frames and more. The Wall Street location features a large selection of Green Bay Packers items, while the Land O' Lakes location features a large clothing and candle department.

Both pharmacies also carry pharmaceutical-grade CBD oil from Cranology as well as Ananda Hemp. Both of these are full-spectrum

"For a fun and challenging golf experience, I would like to personally invite you to visit our beautiful golf course in the heart of the Northwoods. Walk or ride, 9 or 18 holes. Rental clubs are available."

—Anthony Sable, PGA Professional

Eagle River Golf Course marks 101st season of operation

Famous for its playing conditions, the Eagle River Golf Course (ERGC), founded in 1923, is set to celebrate its 100th season with residents and visitors spending time in the North Woods this summer.

With a fun and challenging layout filled with beautiful landscapes and active wildlife, the course has something to offer for everyone. ERGC Golf Professional Anthony Sable said that the great thing about golf is, "You don't have to be good at it to have fun."

Sable, who was born in Antigo, is entering his fifth season at the ERGC. He is a PGA member with more than 20 years of experience as a golf professional and said he enjoys being a part of the ERGC staff, as well as giving lessons.

"I love the North Woods," said Sable. "My dad would bring me and my siblings up here to fish as kids, and I always wanted to come back. I hope to retire here; maybe then I'll have some time to golf."

The course offers four different sets of tees for varying skill levels, allowing anyone with any level of experience the opportunity to be successful and have a great time.

Golfers get the chance to meander through the woods and over rolling hills and valleys before ending their rounds on a picturesque par three, which is rare, according to ERGC Superintendent Kyle Anderson of Delafield.

Originally built as a nine-hole track prior to

With scenic views, a challenging 18 hole track and active wildlife throughout the property, the Eagle River Golf Course will celebrate its 100th season in 2023, and staff can't wait for guests to get a glimpse of what the course has to offer.

the incorporation of Eagle River as a city in 1937, the course has stood the test of time.

In 1988, the layout was redesigned for 18 holes by architect Don Herfort of Minneapolis, Minn., and features strategically bunkered greens, narrow forested fairways, and prevalent water hazards.

Recently, a beautification project took place at the golf course, adding new flowers to the scenery. "This is one of the most beautiful courses you will ever play — wooded, watered, carefully groomed, and totally in keeping with the unspoiled beauty of Wisconsin's North Woods," added Sable.

All guests at the ERGC are able to utilize its practice facility that includes a grass tee range, practice green, chipping area, and practice bunker.

Anderson and his crew take great pride in providing optimal playing conditions for guests, from the greens to the practice range.

He has been at Eagle River Golf Course for the last four years; however, he hails from a long career in the industry, previously working for more than 20 years at different golf courses around the country.

Sable has been very pleased with the progress of the ERGC since he took over as the course professional in 2020. He added that dedication from Anderson and his crew is second to none.

He added that the much-improved system is paying off with the utilization of a floating intake system, adding the course is sitting with "good financial footing" as well.

Visitors can also stop by the ERGC Pro Shop for all their golfing needs.

With a bevy of golf bags, gloves, tees and apparel featuring brands such as Adidas and Footjoy, Sable said there's a look for everyone and the shop's knowledgeable staff will happily answer any question guests have.

He also provides club re-gripping services and offers a wide range of sizes and colors for interested golfers to choose from.

Before or after a round, guests are invited to take a load off at Turkey's Clubhouse operated on-site by Wild Turkey. Turkey's Clubhouse offers a full menu including sandwiches, Detroit style pizza, wings, and more.

Daily specials are featured as well, including an all you can eat fish fry.

Those interested in obtaining more information about the golf course, or to book a tee time, can visit eaglerivergolfcourse.com, golfnow.com, the ERGC Facebook Page, or call 715-479-8111.

Scottie's Bait and Tackle carries it all

Scottie's Bait and Tackle in Three Lakes is ready to share and support another summer season in the North Woods, with owner Scott Brandenburg leading the charge heading into the busy season.

In addition to Brandenburg's bait and tackle shop, as well as his Three Lakes Cheese Haus business, he is an avid community supporter of veterans, first responders, and the youth. All military personnel, nurses, doctors, police, fire, and first responders, along with students who attend Three Lakes or Sugar Camp schools, receive a 10% discount every day.

The tackle shop carries several kinds of live bait including leeches, worms, crawlers and baby crawlers, as well as seven kinds of minnows. Bait from the shop can be used to catch muskies, walleyes, and many other kinds of fish found in North Woods lakes.

Scottie's also has an exclusive line of double blade, double hook muskie lures and will be featuring new plastics from Off The Chain, perfect for walleye, bass, and panfish set to arrive mid June.

The shop also has plenty of tackle including reels, lines, lures, bobbers, hooks and sinkers. A variety of fishing rods and children's fishing rods are available for purchase. Nets, life jackets, and children's swim toys are also sold.

Ice fishing supplies for the winter can also be bought at any time.

Brandenburg has been a fisherman for about 45 years, visiting the North Woods for more than 20 years, doing business in the North Woods for six years, and has lived in the North Woods for a little over four.

Before owning Scottie's Bait and Tackle, Brandenburg was known as "the cheese guy." He continues to sell more than 40 different cheeses in his store and out of his truck, which can be found in Eagle River by Nelson's Ace Hardware on Saturdays and the St. Germain Flea Market on Mondays throughout the summer season.

The cheese curds are made fresh and can be bought the same day they are made. Customers can also buy maple syrup, meat jerky, and mushrooms. Types of cheese sold include cheddar, colby, and a horseradish cheese to "open up the sinuses," said Brandenburg.

Arriving sometime in June will be his best-selling seasonal cheese — Sweet Vidalia Onion Colby cheese. Brandenburg said he sold more than 1,000 pounds of that cheese last year alone.

Amish jams, Wichman Farm syrup, Dupont cheeses, Smith's Mushrooms, and Mike's Country Meats are all items Brandenburg carries in an effort to support Wisconsin businesses and, more specifically, from the Marion area where Brandenburg is from.

Additionally, varieties of wild rice from Rice River Farms in Spooner will be available this year at Scottie's as well.

Something potential customers might not know is that in addition to Scottie's selling custom-made sheds and cottages, also available are G-Force steel trailers which can be ordered and custom-made.

The shop is open Sundays through Tuesdays, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays and Thursdays 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Fridays and Saturdays 6:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

For more information call 715-546-3776 or visit Scottie's Bait and Tackle's Facebook page.

Various kinds of live bait can be purchased.

Chanticleer Inn supper club boasts historic setting, modern cuisine

The Chanticleer Inn in Eagle River offers a variety of services right on the Chain of Lakes for visitors and residents to take advantage of year round, from dining to boat rentals to a place to relax near the water.

With a recent exchange of owners, and after celebrating its 100th year in business three years ago, the Chanticleer Inn has been making changes around the grounds.

Jordan Banda, along with four other families, co-own the inn. The owners, along with co-managers Jenni Raatz and Jill Mesun, said they are ecstatic to breathe new life into the inn.

One of the biggest news items is the reopening of its dining room to the public after a short hiatus from Covid. The dining- and bar area is staffed with enthusiastic employees, most of whom returned from last year, ready to greet patrons with a smile.

This year, the kitchen has been newly updated with top-of-the-line equipment, which is fully staffed and ready to serve their guests.

“The Chanticleer Inn

has been and remains a consistent, excellent statement for the North Woods. People can have a fantastic meal and a fun evening,” said Raatz. “The food is great, and we have the most beautiful spot on the Chain.

“It’s awesome to see the enthusiasm and the willingness to learn in the younger workers,” she said. “Everyone here is like family and we work together as a team to provide excellent customer service.”

The Chanticleer Inn also provides quality lodging in the North Woods. It has eight free-standing villas and 17 hotel-style suites. The business is currently working towards updating and renovating many of the rooms.

There is free Wi-Fi available throughout the entire resort, and guests also have access to Dollar Lake, a privately-owned lake off the Chain.

According to Raatz, the Chanticleer Inn is family-oriented. “We have activities for everyone,” she said. “There is a kid’s scavenger hunt with an ice cream reward for the children. Another bonus is that we’re right off the snowmobile and ATV trails.” With the Chanticleer Inn being located directly on the Chain, docking is available, as well as boat and jet ski rentals from Bubba’s Boats. For updated hours, please call the restaurant at 715-479-4486.

with a complete line of parts, accessories, batteries and chargers.”

Holperin said the store’s LEGO-brand wall is always a popular site, along with dozens of plastic models for all skill levels. New this year is the Metal Earth-brand of car and plane models.

“It may rain a couple of days this summer,” Holperin winked, “so you’ll want to be ready with a paint by number set, a latch hook kit, some embroidery, engraving art, a learn to sketch set, or maybe a wood carving project.”

There’s an aisle of books in the store with chapter books for teens, field guides and how-to books for adults, activity books for kids, coloring books for all ages, and brain-teaser books for a rainy day.

At the front of the store is “The Rock Shop”, featuring a nice collection of rocks, minerals, agate book-ends, Michigan copper, crystal growing kits, healing stones, and a variety of rock-related gifts.

“Our sports card and supplies assortment has been really popular, too, along with vintage coins and comics,” added Chris.

Holperin said there’s a lot he hasn’t mentioned, so a trip downtown is essential. Both Grandma’s Toy Box and Eagle Craft & Hobby are open 7 days a week, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and are located right next to Rotary Square.

Tall Pines Gallery adds thousands of new items this tourist season

Al’s Tall Pines Gallery in Land O’ Lakes is ready and excited for the 2024 tourist season.

Visitors can check out Tall Pines to buy and sell antique fishing tackle, or stop in and look around at all the antiques and learn the history behind them.

Owner Al Soczka bought Tall Pines in 1994 and opened in 1999, making this his 26th year of business.

People come into the gallery for a variety of reasons, but the most common types of customers are those who collect old fishing tackle and those interested in the history of fishing.

Thousands of antique lures, rods, reels and more, fill every wall and even part of the ceiling. Visitors will find lures of every shape, size, and color. In addition, there are antique fish decoys, bobbers, tackle boxes, muskie books, and more.

“Anyone can stop in anytime to buy, sell, or get an appraisal,” said Al. He is always looking to buy antique fishing tackle and will tell you what an item is worth.

Everything in the shop is related to fishing, with the oldest merchandise dating back to the 1800s.

“Most people call it a museum, but say it’s even better because you can actually buy the items!” said Al.

Al put together a display case showing everything prior to 1911 in order to honor his father, who was born that year.

“He bought me my first rod and reel, and I’ve been fishing and collecting ever since,” stated Al.

Recently, two rental cabins were converted into shops, giving Tall Pines a total of three cabins and three shops. The two new shops are The Five, where everything is five dollars, and The Dime, where everything is ten dollars.

Al has added sixty more display cases to his shop in the past year, stating that the shop now has around 10,000 lures and hundreds of fish decoys.

Also new for this year, the Muskie Lure Swap Board is returning. Patrons can swap two of their non-fish-catching lures for one of Al’s fish-catching lures.

A large number of lure brands are available for sale, including Heddon, Creek Chub, Shakespeare, South Bend and Pflueger, as well as many other smaller companies.

For people interested in fishing decoys, there are two displays, one filled with locally hand-carved decoys by more than 30 carvers from the Lac du Flambeau tribe and the other filled with decoys carved by about 40 individuals from various northern states.

Not only does Tall Pines have a large selection of antiques, they also have “lots of modern muskie lures, in really good condition, being sold at reasonable prices,” said Al.

Many of the items throughout the store have stories behind it, such as Allen’s first pair of shoes. “I took my first pair of shoes and made them into a muskie lure,” said Al. He has the lure displayed in a case alongside many other items with meaning to him.

The gallery includes a display of almost all fishing regulations in the state of Wisconsin, from 2024 all the way back to the very first book in 1887.

Al has a shelf full of fishing books, including a muskie book he wrote himself.

“Anyone interested in getting into collecting, or has been, stop in!” said Al. A large selection of lure collecting guide books are for sale, helpful for those unsure where to start.

Though Al buys, sells, and trades rods, reels, lures, and out-of-print muskie books, his passion really lies in collecting, selling, and sharing his love for the history of lures.

Al welcomes those interested to visit the Annual Sporting Goods & Collectibles Garage Sale on Aug 2 & 3 at Tall Pines; 15+ vendors, five tents and two buildings filled with antique and modern fishing and hunting items starting at 8 am.

Located at 5799 Highway 45 in Land O’ Lakes, Tall Pines is open seven days a week, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., until mid-October.

Pick-your-own strawberries, 100% grass-fed beef at Clearwater Farms

Fresh strawberries are waiting to be picked at Clearwater Farms.

Clearwater Farms is one of the only pick-your-own strawberry farms in the area, with the closest strawberry farms being in Tomahawk, Merrill and Escanaba, and one of the few to allow children to pick.

“We encourage children to pick,” said Steve Leach, who owns Clearwater Farms along with his wife, Jennie. “Many pick-your-own farms don’t allow children to pick.”

“Our goal behind the farm is to help people reconnect with agriculture, especially children,” Jennie explained. “We think it’s important for families to be aware of where their food comes from, and that it can be a great hands-on learning experience for kids.”

Jennie said that she and Steve had tried to bring their children to farms for strawberry picking in the past, but have found that more often than not, farms don’t allow children to pick.

“It’s unfortunate that that’s the case,” she said. “It can also be easier for farms to manage in terms of pickers and work, when you have families and children coming out to do it. Plus, it’s just really great to see families coming out to do this kind of activity together.”

Steve Leach got his start in farming as a child growing up on an Illinois grain farm. Now he and his family have their own piece of ground and are thrilled to provide family, friends and neighbors with healthy, fresh-from-the-farm goodness.

The farm was established in 2011 on the former site of Soder’s horse farm, and has since grown to possess over 5 acres of strawberries in production, along with 250 honeyberry plants and 60+ head of beef cattle.

Honeyberries, a cold, hardy fruit that’s described as looking like an oblong blueberry, is another staple of Clearwater Farms.

“They are originally from Siberia, so we felt like it would be perfect for Wisconsin,” said Jennie.

She described the flavor as being tart, something that, she said, is something children have expressed a love for.

Along with ripe berries and fresh produce such as sweet corn and pumpkins, Clearwater Farms is also proud to provide 100% grass-fed, rotationally-grazed beef.

“We try to be environmentally mindful with how we care for the cows,” said Jennie.

Classic rooms, traditional dining and recreation at Gateway Lodge

Gateway Lodge in Land O' Lakes offers suites and studios, an indoor pool, hot tub and redwood sauna.

The historic lodge is both a peaceful sanctuary and a convenient gateway to the vast number of area recreational opportunities.

Trap shooting, golfing, waterfall chasing and skiing are all within reach.

Visitors can enjoy Gateway's comfortable atmosphere, reminiscent of a time gone by. The lobby features plenty of North Woods nostalgia, with its massive hand-built fireplace, hand-hewn log construction and impressive animal mounts.

During the summer, there is trap, 5-stand and sporting clays course on site. The gun club is open Wednesday evenings for trap shooting and again Friday through Sunday for trap shooting sporting clays, or 5-stand.

Constructed by Land O' Lakes craftsmen nearly a century ago on the boundary line that separates Wisconsin and Michigan, Gateway Lodge has hosted generations of vacationers from all over.

"When the lodge was originally constructed the guys who built it were paid 37 cents an hour," shared manager Lynn Forry.

The founder of Gateway Lodge, John King, also built a golf course, riding stables, employee housing, a ski hill and an airport all in close proximity to Gateway Lodge, according to Forry.

Hikers and mountain bikers can access more than 10 miles of the nearby Agonikak National Recreation Trail, which has been recently revitalized. As well as the Land O' Lakes pedestrian Bike Trail.

There is plenty of parking for boats and a fish cleaning station for all of the fishermen.

An evening happy hour is available Tuesdays through Thursdays from 4 to 6 p.m. when guests get $1 off each drink.

The Gateway Lodge menu offers a variety of appetizers and entrées, from salads and sandwiches to steaks, fish, broasted chicken, pork chops and homemade soups.

The restaurant also features nightly specials, including a shrimp boil on Wednesdays, a fish fry on Fridays and prime rib on Saturdays.

A banquet facility at Gateway Lodge can accommodate up to 120 people for weddings, banquets, showers, anniversaries and birthdays. A buffet or personalized menu is available for these events.

Every day, cows are rotated between pastures, so that they're able to have a source of fresh grass daily. The feeding pattern is also helpful with grass growth in pastures, Jennie explained.

The cattle of Clearwater Farms are a cross between the standard Hereford breed and the Galloway, a breed originally from Scotland and better suited for colder climates like seen in Wisconsin.

Other produce grown by Clearwater Farms are blueberries, raspberries, rhubarb, sugar snap peas, asparagus, sweet corn, and pumpkins, and the farm occasionally sets up shop at the Eagle River Farmers Market.

Pick-your-own strawberry season generally starts in late June and runs through mid-July.

Jennie said that updates as to when Clearwater Farms is open for picking can be found by calling the farm's Berry Hotline at 855-479-FARM or by visiting the Clearwater Farms Facebook page.

Clearwater Farms is located at 1824 Lighthouse Lodge Road, Eagle River.

More information about the farm and its products can be found at www.clearwaterfarmsthreelakes.com.
