Send requests for 2024 press cards

From Missouri Press Staff

Submit requests for 2024 press cards and 2024-2025 MPA auto stickers today by going online or emailing staffers' names to Kristie Fortier at kfortier@mopress.com

There is no charge for press cards or auto stickers for MPA members; please include a total number of stickers needed for your organization. In all requests, please include mailing information for your newspaper.

Because staffing changes occur throughout the year, MPA does not keep a list of cards previously issued.

Members can also request copies of the 2024 MPA sticker calendar.

Email distribution list

Are all your staff who should be receiving Missouri Press emails signed up? Much of the Association's communication with our members is through email, and we want to ensure everyone stays informed. We also distribute statewide ads via email.

If someone needs to be added, please send the names, job titles and email addresses to Matthew Barba at mbarba@mopress.com

From Missouri Press Staff

Would your newspaper be interested in having available Spanish-language content, including Newspaper in Education serial stories and features?

Missouri Press is gauging member interest in making content available in Spanish for newspapers to republish online or even in print.

Let us know if this is something you'd be interested in for your newspaper by emailing mbarba@mopress.com.

MPA offering free poetry-focused column for you to republish

From Missouri Press Staff

Missouri Press, on behalf of the Springfield News-Leader, is making available a column focused on poetry. The columns are available for newspapers to republish online or in print at no charge.

A running list of previous installments of the column is available on Missouri Press' website. Click here to see the list of previously released columns.

Below is an excerpt from the News-Leader's introduction of the column:

By David L. Harrison

As Missouri's 7th Poet Laureate, I asked Springfield News-Leader Editor-in-Chief Amos Bridges what he thought about establishing a regular weekly column about poetry. He liked the idea, suggested the title, and here we are, launching the new column.

The purpose for this unique new adventure is to remind us all, no matter our age, work, religion, politics, interests, ethnicities, or gender, that poetry is part of our lives. We read it, hear it, sing it, paint it, dance it, act it, and write it.

David L. Harrison is the Missouri Poet Laureate and Drury University Poet Laureate. He has published more than 100 books for young people and educators. You can find a link to Harrison's full introduction on the MPA website.

Missouri Press will continue to distribute new columns via email and update the running list linking to downloadable files on its website, www.mopress.com.

If you are using the column, please let Missouri Press know by sending an acknowledgement to mbarba@mopress.com. Your feedback for this and other programs and services is very much appreciated.

Scholarship applications open

From Missouri Press Staff

Missouri students can again apply for the Rural Missouri Newspaper Scholarship, a need-based award for up to $40,000 for a qualifying student attending the Missouri School of Journalism for four years (eight semesters).

Students chosen for the program must be pursuing a degree in journalism or strategic communication, and upon graduation students receiving the scholarship will be expected to work for a rural Missouri newspaper for at least two years.

The deadline to apply for the scholarship for the 2024-25 academic year is Jan. 31, 2024. Qualification for need is determined through the federal FAFSA program. Students will also receive an additional $5,000 summer fellowship funded by the Reynolds Journalism Institute (RJI) and can apply for a further $1,200 from RJI's Potter Digital Ambassador program.

An application for the scholarship is available on Missouri Press' website, www.mopress.com.

2024 Newspapers in Education Series Now Available

The Missouri Press Foundation and National Newspaper Association Foundation are offering a new original free series to newspapers across the country for publication.

This year, readers will enjoy an 8-chapter series that features science, art, language arts and history about solar eclipses. The solar eclipse will occur on April 8 with the path of totality crossing the country from Texas to Maine, including across the southeastern part of Missouri.

A wide swath of totality across the country and that viewers outside the path of totality will still be able to view a partial solar eclipse will ensure newspapers and readers will be drawn to this content. Dr. Linda Maxine Godwin wrote the features with science slants. She is an American scientist and retired NASA astronaut.

Godwin joined NASA in 1980 and became an astronaut in July 1986. She retired in 2010. During her career, Godwin completed four space flights and logged more than 38 days in space. Dr. Godwin is a Professor Emeritus at the Department of Physics and Astronomy of the University of Missouri. The series is illustrated by Philip Goudeau.

This series will be offered free of charge to newspapers for publication until June 30, 2024. Visit mo-nie.com and use the code: eclipse24 to download the entire series.

Missouri Press News

As a local newspaper, nobody knows your community like you do because it's YOUR beat. But what about statewide coverage, or business news, or the ongoing effects of policies long-since signed into law?

Much commentary has been written in recent years about the collaborative future of journalism, but in many ways local newspapers have always relied on collaboration to keep the community informed. Remember country correspondents? Or how about running photos a parent took at the game your staff couldn't attend?

That's how you get the job done for your local community, but what if you want to expand your coverage beyond the city, county or region?

There are several statewide and even national services your newspaper can take advantage of and, in some cases, even help contribute to the stories being produced.

Missouri Independent

The Missouri Independent is a nonpartisan, nonprofit news organization covering state government, politics and policy. It is staffed by veteran Missouri reporters and is dedicated to investigative journalism that sheds light on how decisions in Jefferson City are made and their impact across the Show-Me State.

Missouri Independent's work is free for other news outlets to republish. Requirements for republishing include only editing for style or to shorten a story's length, provide proper attribution and a link to the Missouri Independent website, <https://missouriindependent.com>.

Contributed Content Connection

A service for articles written by subject-matter experts with free and paid options available. The no-cost media outlet version limits you to two requests per month.

You can establish guidelines for submissions, including that the expert's work is not self-promotional, hasn't been published elsewhere and isn't AI-generated content. You can also specify word count minimum and maximums, as well as requests experts from specific geographic areas.

Learn more at <https://contributedcontentconnection.com/>.

Missouri Business Alert

A digital newsroom providing business news from across the state while training University of Missouri students in new technology and methods, giving them hands-on experience in business reporting, marketing and other skills.

Sign up for the Morning Minutes newsletter to get a rundown of statewide business news. Content from the Missouri Business Alert newsroom is available for republication with attribution, similar to other Missouri School of Journalism projects.

Visit missouribusinessalert.com to subscribe to the newsletter or contact Managing Editor Michael Stacy at stacyjm@missouri.edu with questions about content.

Capitol Report

Each legislative session the Missouri School of Journalism sends reporters to Jefferson City for the State Government Reporting Project.

The Capitol Report is available to all MPA members for republishing. A weekly recap of the stories produced by reporters in the Capitol is distributed to MPA members by Missouri Press staff and stories of particular note are sometimes distributed separately to allow members to use them more quickly.

Newspapers wanting a more localized approach to statehouse reporting are encouraged to contact Mark Horvit with story ideas or requests for comment from legislators in response to specific legislation or state policy. Horvit can be contacted by email at horvitm@missouri.edu.

To receive the Capitol Report weekly emails, email Matthew Barba at mbarba@mopress.com.

The Conversation

Faculty from research universities throughout the U.S. contribute articles on pressing news topics, which are available for free republication by news outlets and organizations at theconversation.com.

Stories are published from editorial areas that include politics, economy/business, education, environment and energy, health, science and technology.

Republishing guidelines for online and in print are available at <https://theconversation.com/us/republishing-guidelines>.
