Zamboni back online in Potsdam

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — Public skating reopened at Pine Street Arena Monday, Jan. 9 after a Zamboni breakdown last week shut down ice time for a few days.

“As of 6:00 PM Friday evening, the Zamboni was once again operational and running as it should. However, without being able to do the ice for almost 10 days, we soon discovered some low spots on the ice surface,” said a post on the Village of Potsdam Recreation Facebook page Sunday, Jan. 8.

“We took all of yesterday to put more water down and build up over those areas and officially reopened this morning,” the post said.

The Recreation Department posted an updated schedule on its Facebook page and held its first public skating starting at 11 a.m. Monday.

The updated schedule can be viewed online at <https://bit.ly/3GPltY2>.

The rink has been closed since Dec. 27 when three of the Zamboni's 16 battery cells failed to hold charge and staffers had to push the vehicle off the ice.

“Last Tuesday, before our scheduled Raquette River Lions Club Free Skate, one of our drivers attempted to do the ice when the Zamboni died at center ice before any maintenance could be performed,” Village Recreation Director Trey Smutz, told North Country This Week. “At that time, we had to manually push the machine off the ice. The Zamboni would still at that time power on, but the sound it was making was not up to par with the way it normally runs and we could quickly tell that it wasn't operating with full power.”

CANTON — With about 500 hockey players from around the world, joined by coaches, officials and volunteers, coming to Canton and Potsdam Jan. 11-19 for the FISU World University Games, the economic impact to the area could be substantial.

But according to the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce, the five major hotels in Canton and Potsdam will be busy.

“There are approximately 90 rooms booked per night in Potsdam at the two major hotels and approximately 140 rooms booked per night in Canton at the three major hotels,” said the County Chamber's Director of Tourism Brooke

Rouse. “These are direct contracts with FISU vendors.”

Rouse said it's difficult to document at this point how many fans or others who may be coming for the games as spectators. The athletes will be housed and fed on the SUNY Potsdam campus.

“Approximately 500 athletes and

Potsdam Fire Department answers 600 service calls in 2022

POTSDAM — The Potsdam Fire Department answered more than 600 calls for service in 2022.

Engine 49, which is operated by the four paid fire drivers, was the busiest apparatus in the fleet answering 446 of those 620 calls, according to Jerry Robar, driver at the department.

The department answered 492 calls in the Village of Potsdam, 98 calls in the fire protection area outside the village, and 30 mutual aid calls.

In other news, long-time fire truck driver Robert Pierce retired after 33 years of service. Fire Driver Matthew Kroeger was hired.

The department was able to secure new equipment including battery powered Hurst extrication tools, as well as battery operated power equipment such as saws, and lighting.

Members completed numerous hours of training, both in-house and state fire classes.

The fire department also placed an order for a new heavy rescue truck to replace their current rescue which is a 1994 vehicle. The new unit should be in service by the end of 2023.

The department placed second in the annual “Run to the River” event held at Summer Fest. Members attended the 2022 Northern NY fire convention held in Morristown along with parades throughout the

Supreme Court orders state to justify stay order in gun case

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

The Second Circuit Court’s decision to issue a stay order in a long ongoing gun control case has now drawn the attention of the U.S. Supreme Court after a gun rights organization petitioned to the high court.

The petition to the high court from Gun Owners of America elicited a response, with the Supreme Court ordering New York State to respond by Jan. 3 as to why an order allowing Judge Suddaby’s decision should not be issued.

St. Lawrence County Attorney Steve Button is assisting on the case and is acting “of counsel” with approval from the St. Lawrence County Legislature.

No response from the state has been heard as of yet.

The calls from the Supreme Court come in a tit-for-tat back and forth between both parties, as well as multiple courts that have had varying opinions.

On multiple occasions, Judge Suddaby ruled that multiple provisions of the new Concealed Carry Improvement Act were, by and large, unconstitutional and in line with the Supreme Court’s ruling in NYSRPA v. Bruen last June.

Suddaby argued that the requirements to prove “good moral character” was far too ambiguous and afforded licensing officers too much discretion to deny an applicant.

Suddaby also said the requirement to disclose co-habitants, existing firearms in the home, as well as social media profiles was an infringement on an individual’s Fourth, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment rights.

In one ruling, Suddaby also pared down the list of “sensitive spaces” that would restrict a lawful gun owner’s right to carry concealed, removing many public parks, private businesses and a dearth of other locations.

Private businesses would also no longer be required to post a sign stating that lawfully concealed carry was permitted on the premises, removing the onus from business owners in one of the more controversial measures passed last year.

Following Suddaby’s decision, state officials appealed the injunction to the Second Circuit, who in turn put a stay on the injunction. As a result, all laws passed last June in direct opposition to the Bruen ruling remain enforceable by agents of the state, according to County Attorney Steve Button.

New York State Attorney General

Letitia James has argued the underlying analysis put forth by Judge Suddaby was “deeply flawed,” in particular on the issue of standing.

James argued in court documents that Suddaby erred in multiple cases, including the historical context applied, which Suddaby said fell directly in line with the standard set by the Bruen ruling.

James argued Suddaby also erred in potentially allowing a person who has never applied for a concealed carry license to challenge the CCIA to allow a church drug counselor to challenge the restrictions of guns in drug treatment clinics, according to a report posted on lawandcrime.com.

Button said the appeal was expected and the decision by the Second Circuit was not entirely surprising.

The Second Circuit has since ordered expedited consideration of the ongoing case, with a Jan. 9, 2023 deadline for briefs, court documents show.

The three judge panel, which consists of appointees by former Presidents Bill Clinton, George W. Bush and Donald Trump, is the same trio that issued a stay order for another court order from Judge Suddaby in a separate challenge to the CCIA last month.

North Country financial services firm offering insurance locally

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON – A long-time North Country financial services firm can now take care of your insurance needs.

Niles Asset Management, Inc., with offices in Canton, Brushton and Plattsburgh, has launched a new company, Niles Insurance Agency. The company will offer both personal and commercial insurance lines and the main office will be located 2 East Main St., Canton.

“We are very excited to offer the North Country another financial service. Our primary goal is to provide a personalized service for the insurance needs of the public, consistent with the same service clients have come to expect at Niles Asset Management,” said owner Terry Niles.

Niles explained his long-term goal has been to create several companies along with his two sons, Ryan and Graham, that come under “Niles Financial Group.” Niles and Sons Real Property Holdings, LLC, represents the third company that is part of this group.

Niles, who has been in the financial business for more than 40 years, said Niles Insurance Agency will be able to shop the insurance marketplace by pursuing quotes from several different companies, ensuring clients the best coverage at the best price.

“My sons and I have lived in the North Country all our lives. We understand the people of the area and can relate to their needs,” Niles remarked. “Consequently, we feel that we are better equipped to assist clients and potential clients in understanding their current insurance coverage and assisting them in making sure their present coverage fits their needs and their budget.”

“Being part of a satellite agency allows us to get the lowest rates,” said Ryan.

Ryan reported the Niles Financial Group has plans to open an office in Potsdam in the near future.

“The Potsdam business will offer both wealth management and insurance services,” said Ryan.

The insurance service will also be offered in the Brushton and Plattsburgh offices. For questions or more information, visit niles-agency.com or call (315) 714-1038, (518) 529-7832 or (518) 825-0763.

Man accused of abandoning dog after move

NORWOOD — A St. Lawrence County man was accused of abandoning an animal after moving to a new residence.

Norwood Police arrested 48 year-old Christopher M. Brooks on a warrant for animal in violation of the agricultural and markets law abandonment, officers said.

The arrest came after an investigation of an abandoned dog reported to police on Oct. 5, police said.

Officers allege that Brooks moved to Raymondville, vacating his house on Ridge Street, but he left behind his pet dog.

The animal was found to be in need of food and medical care, and was removed to the Potsdam Animal Shelter, police said.

Brooks was cited and released on his own recognizance and will answer the charges later this month in Town of Potsdam court.

The Potsdam Animal Shelter was able to bring the dog back to good health.

The shelter is always in need of community assistance, and gladly accepts donations of new, unopened dog and cat food, in both cans and bagged varieties.

Outreach to community on electricity buying program planned in Canton

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON — A community outreach to inform residents what community choice aggregation has to offer is expected to be held this month.

At the monthly meeting of the village board on Dec. 21, trustee Klaus Proemm updated the board on the status of community power program, citing the importance of community engagement.

“The reason that public outreach is so important is that we want Canton residents to be fully aware of the options before us, and to know the reasons why Community Choice aggregation will benefit village residents,” stated Proemm.

The village has been approached by Joule Community Power, a firm which administers a large number of community choice aggregation power arrangements for municipalities throughout the state.

Proemm provided a brief summary of the Joule program.

“By sourcing all renewable energy, we’ll both save money for residents, or we won’t do it) and lessen the burning of fossil fuels, thereby lowering our carbon footprint, minimizing climate impacts,” he said. “To clarify the actual energy purchase scenario, the decision on whether to go ahead with an energy “buy” will be made well after extensive public outreach/education, and after we’ve carefully examined the rates and conditions of the energy purchase, and we’re convinced it is a good rate and is secure.”

“All residents will have the ability to opt out, both at the start, and at any time after. A letter will go out to all Village residents explaining options before the purchase happens,” Proemm continued.

The contract that the Village of Canton (and the Town of Potsdam) has with Joule Community Power is for them to be our CCA administrator. The power purchase contract will potentially come much later, probably in the fall, after the public outreach and thorough review, Proemm remarked. To date, there is no contract in place.

“This community choice aggregation program would enable the village of Canton to provide eligible residents and small businesses with the benefits of renewable electricity supply,” a release on the village website reads.

The release explains a timeline.

“More municipalities are joining the upcoming bid. In spring 2023, the Village will be presented with prices and the option to select between a fixed-rate or a variable-rate offer. Market conditions, including price volatility and the need to maximize the availability of renewable electricity supply may lead to the variable-rate offer providing the best value to residents and small businesses.”

“If the Village selects a supplier and offering, all eligible residents and small businesses will be notified by letter in spring/summer 2023 of the details, their choices and how to opt-out. Participants can opt-out or opt back into the program at any time with no penalty by phone or online form. By participating in the program, residents and small businesses can access competitively priced electricity supply with no individual contract.”

“Additional public information sessions will be scheduled over the next two months. These sessions will provide general information, explain the benefits of participation by our residents and small businesses, and answer your questions.”

Additional information sessions will occur in 2023 if the Village signs a contract for CCA electricity supply. Information on upcoming information sessions can be found here: www.joulecommunitypower.com/events

For more information about the Village of Canton Community Power program, please visit www.joulecommunitypower.com/cantonvillage, call the helpline at (888) 985-2211 or email the program administrator, Joule, at solutions@joulecommunitypower.com.

The Town of Potsdam approved a contract with Joule at its Dec. 13 meeting. The terms of that contract sees the contract lasting 18 months and then auto renewed for 18 more months unless it is terminated in writing 30 days prior to the renewal.

Joule will essentially serve as a middle man, brokering sources of renewable energy from producers at a fixed rate on behalf of residents. Joule will be responsible for the CCA organization, administration, procurement, communications and implementation. Joule will also be responsible for managing the opt out process.

Marijuana dispensary eyed at former Olympia Sports

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — A state authority is interested in setting up in the former Olympia Sports store off Route 11 as a marijuana dispensary to be run by a cannabis business licensee.

The attention has town officials moving quickly to draft a new code to manage the local permitting process for legal pot shops.

At the town board meeting Tuesday, Jan. 10, Town Supervisor Ann Carvill told board members that the town code enforcement officer, Jeff Murray, had received a letter from an architect working for the Dormitory Authority State of New York (DASNY), expressing interest in setting up the site, located in the Tractor Supply plaza, across the highway from Walmart, as dispensary.

The architect asks if there are any municipal zoning steps taken or meetings required with the Potsdam town planning board, Carvill read from the letter. In the letter, the DASNY representative said the size of the store would not change and the maximum occupancy would be less than 50 people.

“We’re not alone in thinking that New York State has kind of gotten ahead of local municipalities in keeping us apprised of where we should be,” Carvill told the board. “At this point, it looks like we need a law.”

“And the law, to our understanding at this point, simply states that for someone requesting a dispensary that it would have to go... that it would have to be on a case by case basis, it goes to the planning board and then it would come to us for discussion,” she said.

DASNY, a “public benefit corporation” of the state, provides design and project management services, and issues bonds, notes and other obligations, for a wide variety of public purposes. The authority, and its subsidiary the Social Equity Servicing Corporation (SESC), was recently charged with providing agency services, design, construction and other services to the state’s Cannabis Control Board, Office of Cannabis Management, and the New York Social Equity Cannabis Investment Fund. The Fund, a $200 million fund established by Gov. Hochul in her budget in March 2022, provides start-up cash, other financial assistance, and support to “equity entrepreneurs at the forefront of the adult-use cannabis market.”

The Fund establishes conditional adult-use cannabis retail dispensaries and then offers them, in a sublease arrangement, to those chosen to hold Conditional Adult-Use Retail Dispensary (CAURD) Licenses.

CAURD licenses are the first cannabis licenses being issued by New York State. To be eligible, at least 30 percent of the business must be owned by an individual previously convicted of a marijuana offense before March 31, 2021 and who has qualifying business experience.

This last part seems to be raising some eyebrows at the town level.

“The state also is selecting sites, like they have here with this, where they will permit it,” Carvill said. “Apparently... there is going to be a lottery of former inmates who were put in prison for pot use. There is going to be a lottery and one of them will be selected to run this business. They will have 10 years to pay back the money that the state spent setting it up.”

“We need to get a law in order, because its starting,” the supervisor said.

According to DASNY, if a CAURD licensee does accept the offer of a state-setup pot shop, the licensee will then be obligated to enter into a repayment arrangement for the costs incurred by the fund, and will have 10 years to pay back the money spent.

According to a DASNY fact sheet, the authority has spent several months searching for and identifying potential dispensary locations for CAURD licensees around the state. According to the agency, more than 10,000 properties have been screened statewide as of December 22, 2022, with 2,300 getting a more detailed look. Of those, 350 locations have been short listed as potential sites, DASNY states. The next step is reaching out to local municipalities to confirm the locations meet local zoning requirements. Following that SESC will then start negotiating with landlords on a rental agreement, while the Fund secures insurance.

Once all of those ducks are in a row, the site is then offered to a CAURD licensee. If they choose to accept, they sign on the dotted line with the state for the 10-year payback obligation. If not, then they go back into a location assignment queue and wait for another spot to open in their region, and the first location is offered to another licensee.

To read more about DASNY’s role in citing cannabis dispensaries around the state visit <https://bit.ly/3IF9fm3>.

To read more about how various retail sites are being identified and set up for approved licensees, visit <https://bit.ly/3vRvmhE>.

Carvill said the documents supplied to the town regarding the process are also available for the public to view at the town offices.

Contract extension will bring $848,652 to SLC emergency services office

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — St. Lawrence County has extended a contract under the statewide Interoperable Communications Grant.

The move came during legislator’s

Dec. 12 Operations Committee meeting.

The contract will bring $848,652 to the county’s Office of Emergency Services to improve “interoperability and operability of communication systems in New York state,” according to officials.

The contract is set to expire on Dec. 31, 2023.

Legislators also approved signing a contract extension for the FY21 Public Safety Answering Points Grant.

That grant is administered through the New York State Office of Homeland Security and the Office of Emergency Services.

The grant will be for $207,504 to “concentrate on the purchase of equipment to enhance dispatching and 911 call taking,” officials say.

The one-year extension will run through Dec. 31, 2023.

CANTON – Visitors to the Canton Historian’s Office can now simply walk through the front door to view a roomful of rich Canton history.

An open house to celebrate the opening of the new historian’s complex, 7 Main St., will be held Tuesday, Jan. 17, from 4 to 6 p.m. Light refreshments, including Town Hall cookies, will be offered.

“It’s unreal. There is a research room created by Renice Bisnett who is 90 years young, adult and children’s libraries, a kitchen and a display of model ships donated by Frank White who is 104,” said Canton Historian Linda Casserly. “There are no stairs so people can just walk in and see all the history of Canton that was previously stored in one room.”

The 1858 hand drawn map of the Town of Canton is hung in the entrance hallway, photos of the township made available by Dennis Barr will be on display and a video comprised of 350 photos will be available for viewing at the open house, said Casserly.

There is also a photo room of the townships of Morley, Pyrites, Village of Rensselaer Falls, hamlet of Brick Chapel and Crary Mills Cemetery. “I want to thank everyone that helped make this move of the historical collection a reality,” she stated. “The community has been stopping by and enjoying the access to the history of Canton.”

Since 1994, the historian’s office has been located in a one-office space room on the second floor of the Canton Municipal Building.

In August, members of the Canton Town Board unanimously agreed to enter into a two-year lease with building owner Allison Burris of Allivid Corp., Oswego. The agreement calls for a monthly rent of $1,150 the first year and $1,200 the second year. The payment includes utilities.

The 7 Main Street space formerly housed the Church & Community Program headquarters and decades ago was Kaplan’s store.

OBITUARIES

Helen Martin Mitras
Waddington

On December 28th 2022, Helen Martin Mitras circle of life was complete. Left to cherish her memories are sons Gibson (Deborah), Kerry (JoAnn), 7 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and 5 great, great-grandchildren, many nieces, nephews, and in-laws.

Helen was born in Waddington on October 13th, 1934 to Seymour Martin and Mae (Barkley) Martin. She attended Waddington schools and graduated valedictorian in 1951. She went on to business school in Massena and after worked at Alcoa. While working in Massena she met her future husband Paul Mitras and was married by Reverend Harold Skelly on March 28th, 1953. They moved to camp Gordon Georgia, where Paul was stationed in the Army. Gibson was born there.

After Paul's tour, they moved back to Waddington, where they built their first home. Paul went to Clarkson while Helen maintained their home. Son Kerry was born in Massena at this time. After Paul graduated, they sold their home and moved to Falls Church Virginia. Paul then got a job at G.E. and they moved to Marcy, N.Y. Daughter Valerie was born at this time. The family then moved to Bowie, Maryland, for Paul's work. The North Country called the family back in 1971 when they built their last home. Their daughter Valerie died in a tragic accident in 1972. Helen went to work for a customs broker while the boys finished school. Helen then helped run the family restaurant for 18 years and retired as a teacher's aide, a job she dearly loved.

Helen's interests were knitting, baking attending sporting events, concerts, plays, and taking the grandkids to Music theater north which they remember fondly. She also attended many American legion functions with Paul. Helen was a member of the United Methodist Church in Waddington, Post 420 auxiliary, eastern star, grange, and tops. Preceding Helen in death is her husband Paul, daughter Valerie, Brothers Donald Martin, and Gerald Henry, and sister Doris Mackey. A celebration of life and service will be held in the spring at the convenience of the family.

Arrangements are with The Phillips Memorial Home, 28 Clinton Street, Waddington, NY.

St. Lawrence County officials take state to task over pistol permits

BY JIMMY LAWTON
North Country This Week

CANTON — St. Lawrence County officials are taking the state to task after they say up to 200 conceal carry pistol license applicants were returned incomplete by state police. The county sheriff hopes to rectify the problem.

The problem officials say is that the state is requiring training that requires a pistol, but don't allow the applicants to use a pistol prior to the issuance of the license making it impossible to complete the training.

Officials say that because they can't use a pistol for the training which requires using a pistol, the training has not been completed.

Officials say that roughly 70 applicants received letters from the state notifying them that their applications were incomplete while more than 100 or so were notified by phone.

St. Lawrence County Sheriff Brooks Bigwarfe has agreed to step in to complete the application background investigations.

"Law abiding citizens seeking to exercise their Second Amendment rights should not be penalized because of the State of New York's refusal to abide by the US Supreme Court's decision. We will complete the pending background investigations to assist the citizens in moving forward with the exercise of their rights," he said.

In a press release issued Tuesday St. Lawrence County officials uniformly denounced the actions of the state. St. Lawrence County officials taking issue with the problem include Bigwarfe, St. Lawrence County Board of Legislators Chairman Dave Forsythe and St. Lawrence County Clerk Sandy Santamour.

"County officials were recently informed that the State of New York had decided that it would not proceed forward with pending pistol applications, leaving many applicants in a state of legal limbo," the release says.

According to the release as many as 200 pistol license applicants in St. Lawrence County were recently informed by the New York State Police that their applications, some of which had been pending since the beginning of 2022, would be denied. The state police denials of conceal carry licenses are due to what they say are incomplete background checks. Other applicants would only be permitted to receive a "premises-only" license, permitting the applicant permission only to possess their firearm in their homes and for travel to and from a gun range. Officials say that at the heart of the matter are changes made to the pistol licensing scheme employed by New York State known as the "Conceal Carry Improvement Act."

On June 23, 2022, the United States Supreme Court issued a decision in NYSRPA v. Bruen, striking down the New York State 'proper cause' requirements for the issuance of a pistol license.

Building upon District of Columbia v. Heller and the decision in McDonald v. City of Chicago, Illinois, the United States Supreme Court ruled in Bruen that the Second Amendment's protection of "the right to keep and bear arms" extends to individual self-defense outside the home. In response to the Bruen decision, the New York State Legislature and Governor Kathy Hochul concluded a two-day extraordinary session on July 1, 2022 that led to Governor Hochul signing the "Concealed Carry Improvement Act" so titled by its proponents. The Concealed Carry Improvement Act moved to circumvent the decision, depriving New York State citizens of any effective right to self-defense in public in one major way; by exponentially expanding the places ["Sensitive places"] in which a person with a valid license cannot carry a firearm for self-defense.

In addition the Concealed Carry Improvement Act included what officials say were alarming provisions that flouted the Bruen precedent by requiring concealed carry permit applicants to: display 'good moral character'; subject their social media accounts for review; submit to in-person interviews with law enforcement; provide four character references; undergo 18 hours of combined training (an increase from the existing four-hour requirement); and recertify every three years instead of the prior recertification period of every five years.

According to the release the 18 hours of combined instruction includes a two-hour component requiring applicants to complete in-person range training.

However, applicants, unlicensed to possess firearms, would be performing an illegal act under most scenarios, were they to possess and discharge a pistol as a part of that training. It was this quandary that led state officials to notify pistol license applicants that their requests for carry conceal licenses would be denied. St. Lawrence

County Board of Legislators Chairman David Forsythe (R-District 2) identified the State's actions as 'unlawful.' "St. Lawrence County has been a leader in New York State, on behalf of all state citizens, in challenging the unlawful restrictions placed upon citizens seeking to merely exercise their constitutional rights. We will continue to dedicate our efforts and resources towards supporting our citizens' rights and holding those who would seek to deny those rights accountable."

Assemblyman Gray sworn in; announces new staff, SLC office location

North Country Assemblyman Scott Gray, R-Watertown, announced his new staff and office locations as he begins his first session in Albany. Assemblyman Gray represents St. Lawrence County residents in the 116th Assembly District, the so-called River District.

Gray has appointed James Uhlinger, a Carthage resident and member of the Champion Town Council, to be his chief of staff. Uhlinger completed his undergraduate education at SUNY Cortland. In addition, Ilando Capolino will serve as legislative director. Capolino graduated from St. Bonaventure University with a political science degree and has prior political experience working for Congresswoman Elise Stefanik and Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro. Tanner Richards will also serve the office as constituent services manager. Richards is a Carthage resident who has prior experience working on campaigns for Congresswomen Elise Stefanik and Claudia Tenney. Benjamin Rathburn will serve as a legislative aid to the Assemblyman. Rathburn is a graduate of Watertown High School and then went on to receive an associate's degree from SUNY Jefferson. He has experience working as an intern with Congresswoman Elise Stefanik. Gray and his staff can be reached at the following offices and contacts:

Grasseroots Fund contributes $15,000 to ‘Sled Shed’ in Colton

COLTON — The Grasseroots Fund, recently contributed $15,000 to the Friends of Higley Flow State Park, Inc., for their “Sled Shed,” more than doubling the amount raised and coupled with in-kind donations, completing the capital campaign goal.

The fund is a donor advised fund established by Peter and Kathy Wyckoff of Canton through the Northern New York Community Foundation.

The Friends, a volunteer-based, 501(c)(3) charitable organization, groom over 10 miles of trails for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing during the winter months.

The Sled Shed will allow for year-round storage and easier maintenance of equipment used by volunteers to groom the trails and solidify the sustainability of winter recreation at the Park.

In addition to support from the Grasseroots Fund, major contributors to the Sled Shed include the Sweetgrass Foundation, NuMED for Children, Brookfield Renewables, St. Lawrence Health, SeaComm Federal Credit Union, and Frazer Software and Motors.

Major in-kind support was also provided by FCS Engineering and Development, PLLC; S&L Electric; Catamount Ridge Quarry; JC Meriman’s; and Witherbee & Whalen.

Work on the Sled Shed began this summer with NYS Parks providing labor and was recently completed.

An official ribbon cutting is planned for the weekend of January 27th as part of the Friend’s Family Weekend.

Donations will still be accepted to offset additional expenses such as equipping the shed with basic tools and maintenance supplies.

St. Lawrence County extends NTS contract

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — The St. Lawrence County Legislature has extended a contract with NTS Data services for one year, but hope to see a larger pool of service providers get certified in before the next renewal.

During the legislature’s Dec. 12 Operations Committee meeting, officials agreed to a contract with NTS Data Services.

With the agreement in place, barring a veto by the full board, NTS Data Services will work with the Board of Elections to proceed with a voter registration database conversion.

The term of the contract with NTS is for a one-year extension as we look for other providers who are certified with the state to provide these services, Republican Elections Commissioner Tom Nichols.

According to officials, the Board of Elections will “continue maintenance and support services related to voter registration, signature digitization, full document imaging, election report and interface messaging with NTS Data Services.

Legislators also approved a budget modification for the Board of Elections for poll worker training and voter education.

The Board of Elections is set to receive $42,694, which will be used for computer hardware upgrades, printing expenses, temporary and part-time worker salaries, as well as other fees as required, social security and worker’s compensation expenses.

Museum board appointment
POTSDAM — The village board of trustees unanimously approved the appointment of Liz Bollt of Spring Street to the museum board for a three-year term starting Jan. 1 and lasting until Jan. 1, 2026. The board made the appointment at its Jan. 3 board meeting.

Burglary arrest
NORFOLK -- A Norwood woman was charged with burglary Sunday on North Main Street, according to St. Lawrence County sheriff’s deputies. Patience A. Dissottle, 30, was charged with third-degree burglary, felony, and fifth-degree criminal possession of stolen property, officers said. She was arraigned in Norfolk court and released under the supervision of probation, deputies said.

NCNOW SURVEY

The Question:

Do you support the new natural organic reduction law?

Cathy Whalen | NCTW

A NEW STATE LAW signed Jan. 2 by Governor Kathy Hochul makes New York the sixth state to legalize human composting. A person can now have their body turned into soil after their death - which is seen as an environmentally friendly alternative to a burial or cremation. A dead body is placed into a reusable vessel along with other plant materials. The organic mix creates a habitat for natural decay which takes about a month. The new process may be more eco-friendly, but will initially be more expensive than other ways of handling a body following death. Do you support the new natural organic reduction law?

HERE ARE COMMENTS from some survey participants:

‘A good way to encourage eco-friendly behavior.’

‘We are organic and should return to earth as we decompose. This is a good way to do that.’
‘Not if it’s more expensive.’

‘Just what we need. Throw you in a hole and use you for compose. What is this state doing under Hochul?’

‘Why not? When you’re dead, you can still do some good!’
‘No, not if it costs people more in the long run. We should not have to spend thousands to “compost” our bodies.’

‘People should not have to use an undertaker. What a racket that is.’

‘Very disrespectful to the deceased and I can’t imagine composting my loved ones. It is insane and disgusting.’

THIS WEEK’S QUESTION: How often does your household recycle items like paper, cardboard, aluminum and tin cans, and plastic and glass bottles and jars?

Music Friends says thank you

This year PCS Music Friends has been able to purchase a new flute, clarinet and double bass for the Potsdam Central Schools.

PCS Music Friends received generous donations from Sea-Comm Federal Credit Union (flute and clarinet), St Lawrence Federal Credit Union, and Northern Credit Union (both double bass). The remainder of the double bass was supported by the Dr. D. Susan Baden Legacy Fund 2022 of the Northern NY Community Fund.

An additional donation from Stewart’s Shops to cover the cost of recorders for the entire third grade has been pledged and is on the way.

We thank these wonderful Northern NY businesses, Brick and Mortar Music for providing discounted prices for instruments.

PCS Music Friends is also conducting an ongoing musical instrument drive. Instruments can be donated to any of the Potsdam Schools’ main offices.

Thank you on behalf of the Potsdam student musicians who will benefit from these donations.

Senator Stec outlines priorities

A recent poll from Siena College showed that a majority of New Yorkers believe our state is heading in the wrong direction. From public safety to economic issues, it’s clear that the status quo just isn’t working. The 2023 Legislative Session offers an opportunity to address these concerns and more, and offer a better path forward for the North Country, Adirondacks and entire state. To that end, I’m putting forward a robust agenda and set of priorities that will improve the quality of life for all of us.

Reining in our out-of-control state spending (New York spends more than Florida and Texas combined) and providing substantive tax relief is also essential. In the short-term, I’m calling for the state to continue the gas tax holiday to help keep down prices at the pump. Over the long term, we must remove the mandates, taxes and fees that drive up the cost of living and working in our state. This year, I will be co-sponsoring a series of bills that would remove many of these financial hurdles and make it more affordable to be a New Yorker.

Last year, the state Comptroller released an audit on the Department of Labor’s unemployment insurance assessment surcharge. It revealed that billions in improper payments from businesses and overpayments to New Yorkers were issued, due to poor oversight and an antiquated system. This is deeply troubling, and I’m looking to remedy this situation moving forward. First, we must take steps to shore up the infrastructure and operations at the DOL to ensure further waste and fraud is prevented. Offering financial remuneration to small business owners for their overpayments, which only exacerbated the economic difficulties they faced during the pandemic and its aftermath, is also essential.

Public safety and protection remains of vital importance. To protect law-abiding residents from violent and repeat offenders, I remain committed to backing a full repeal of the state’s bail and discovery reform laws and engaging law enforcement on a series of common sense reforms. Fully addressing public safety doesn’t end with repealing bail reform, however. The 45th District is home to several correctional facilities and in the wake of the state’s HALT Act severely curtailing the use of special housing units, corrections officers and civilian staff have been targeted by violent and disruptive incarcerates at an alarming rate. Let’s put the safety of these men and women first, provide them with the resources they need and repeal HALT.

One of the most controversial (and likely unconstitutional) measures to pass last year was a gun control law concerning concealed carry permits that essentially made it illegal for people in the Adirondack Park to exercise their second amendment right. In its wake, we’ve seen chaos and confusion and the cancellation of several historic re-enactments. This has had a serious impact on our local economy and our way of life. Last year, I authored legislation to exempt the Adirondack Park from this nonsensical gun control law, so residents and visitors alike can fully exercise their constitutional rights and take part in the traditions that make our region unique.

While bail reform and the state gun control law are among the highest profile issues affecting our region, there’s also a host of locally specific matters I’m seeking to take up and remedy this year. Rural health care is a major issue, and to that end I have two major focal points. Last year, I sponsored legislation allowing the creation of local EMS districts in the Adirondacks. This measure would help improve response times and service to residents in times of crisis. I plan on re-introducing this bill, and continuing to work with community stakeholders on measures to provide swifter EMS services and improve volunteer recruitment efforts.

Our nursing homes are currently severely distressed. Between state-imposed staffing and financial difficulties, it’s become extremely difficult for these facilities to stay open and offer essential care. To remedy this, I’m calling on the state to take action. There must be no further state cuts to the nursing home industry. Instead, there needs to be a substantive investment. I’ll be calling for a significant increase in the state Medicaid reimbursement rate and for a new formula for rebasing Medicaid nursing home reimbursement rates. By doing this, we can ensure our most vulnerable residents receive the compassionate care from dedicated nursing staff.

Affordable housing and economic development must also be taken up this year. Recently, the state released a report on closed correctional facilities and their reuse. I will be pushing to ensure that the closed Moriah Shock facility is put into reuse sooner than later. From commercial space to apartments, there are numerous possibilities for the site and it is crucial that we make use of these opportunities and ensure the former Moriah Shock benefits our residents.

I will also continue carrying constitutional amendments for Camp Gabriels and Debar Pond Lodge. Much like Moriah Shock, the Camp Gabriels site offers great economic potential and allowing the state to sell it would create a needed economic boost for the region. Offering a land exchange with the Debar Pond Institute would enhance the size and beauty of the forest preserve in the Adirondacks. Additionally, ensuring affordable broadband access for everyone remains a focus. We took steps toward making it a reality last year by eliminating the costly fiber-optic tax. I will be using my role as Ranking Minority Member on the Senate Internet and Technology Committee to ensure we meet that important goal.

Given the economic and social uncertainty a majority of New Yorkers are feeling, we must use this year’s Legislative Session to meet the challenges ahead. I’m confident we can and I look forward to working with my colleagues and all our residents to ensure we achieve smart, proactive solutions to the issues we face.

Senator Daniel Stec
45th Senate District

Views expressed on suicide awareness

On the morning of January 8th, 2021, a young man just shy of his 27th birthday, died an unexpected death in my hometown. An autopsy was performed that afternoon. Three days later, more than two weeks prior to knowing toxicology testing results, the manner of death was certified by a county coroner as suicide with four chemicals listed under the cause of lethal intoxication.

Suicide is a tragedy that touches too many. Community awareness of the issue relies on the accuracy of mortality statistics to develop effective prevention strategies. Death certificates are the primary source of these statistics and their accuracy is based entirely on the integrity and thoroughness of death investigations.

Operational criteria for determining suicide provided by the CDC requires evidence of two things: that the causative injury was self-inflicted and that it was intentional. The difficulty of evidencing intentionality makes suicide particularly susceptible to inaccurate determination.

On the date that the cause and manner of this young man’s death were certified, no compelling evidence was present to support either determination. The resident of the house in which the injury occurred (“friend’s apartment” on the death certificate) is the singular source of information regarding the circumstances of the incident. This person, who is of material witness interest to the case, remarkably appears (with an alternate surname than that identified in first responder notes) as “next of kin” and “life partner” on a hospital document for the decedent, with an address listed that is, in fact, the address of the young man’s mother.

The county sheriff’s office was responsible for the investigation of the young man’s death two years ago. The detective claims to have viewed a suicide note in the form of a final social media post that the non credible witness alleges to have been made by the young man. That report also describes the uncooperative nature of this witness in refusing to turn over any belongings, wallet, identification or phone of the young man. The alleged “suicide note” has never been documented or verified.

One need not be Nancy Drew to suspect the true manner of death in this case is more sinister than the tragic one officially ruled. And one need not be the Hardy Boys to recognize the egregious incompetence displayed by law enforcement is not like the bumbling antics of TV’s fictional Hazzard County, but terrifyingly like the real life story of Mississippi Burning.

FISU games continue in Potsdam, Canton

The action continues this week, as some of the world's top collegiate hockey players — from as far away as Japan and Korea — compete in Potsdam and Canton until Jan. 19.

The International University Sports Federation (FISU) is hosting most 2023 Winter World University Games in Lake Placid, but all preliminary hockey games will take place at Clarkson University, SUNY Potsdam and SUNY Canton.

The FISU games are the largest multi-sport winter event in the world, after the Winter Olympics, with university students age 17 to 25 participating.

In Potsdam and Canton, teams from Hungary, Slovakia, Japan, Latvia, Great Britain, Czech Republic, Canada, Sweden, Ukraine, Korea, Kazakhstan, Slovakia and the U.S. will compete.

The men's FISU hockey tournament will include 12 teams, with the preliminary round featuring two pools of six teams, with the top two finishers in each pool advancing to the playoffs. The women's FISU tournament will have eight teams competing in a round robin to advance four teams to the playoffs.

Locally, the 44 preliminary hockey games will take place at SUNY Canton's Roo House, SUNY Pots-

- Science of sleep
POTSDAM — Clarkson University’s Science Café will feature Zooming to a Good Night’s Sleep on Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 7:15 p.m. at the Potsdam Civic Center, Community Room, 2 Park St., with St. Lawrence University psychology professor Serge Onyper. Humans spend nearly 33 years of their lives in bed, with 26 of those years actually sleeping, but how much sleep do we actually need for adequate

- functioning? Additionally, what determines when we sleep, how does sleep change with age and what can we do to improve our sleep? Onyper will deliver an interactive presentation examining these questions. He will also address briefly the issue of how behaviors adopted during the COVID-19 pandemic, such as video conference calls, are associated with changes in sleep. Info: Clarkson.edu/sciencecafe.

Water bath canning workshop planned in Morristown

Prepare for the upcoming growing season at Extension's Water Bath Canning class on January 22nd from 1-3pm at the Morristown Fire Hall. In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn how to use the water bath canning methods to preserve food. Every class participant will have a chance to work in a small group to make a pickled vegetable recipe, as well as take home a jar and recipe resources. The workshop includes background information about food safety.

The class is taught by Harvest Kitchen Manager Flip Filippi, along with Master Food Preserver volunteers, and will take place at the Morristown Fire Hall's kitchen and meeting space. Keep an eye out for future food preservation classes located at convenient places throughout St. Lawrence County.

The North Country is full of seasonal foods and water bath canning is a flexible technique that once it is learned, it can be used to preserve our region's diverse and abundant produce. Fruit, such as blueberries and strawberries, can be made into jams and jellies, tomatoes can be processed into sauce and canned, and variations of pickled vegetables, including cucumbers, green beans, and beets, are numerous.

Registration fee is on a sliding scale of $10-$40 and space is limited. Registration is required. For additional information or to register for this opportunity, visit the event page at <http://stlawrence.cce.cornell.edu/>. Contact the Local Food Program Leader M. "Flip" Filippi with questions at (315) 379-9192, ext. 229 or mpf65@cornell.edu.

Agritourism course opportunity for farms and food businesses

Registration is open for the course Building an Agritourism Experience on Your Farm. This hybrid course is open to existing as well as planning stages farms or food businesses. The Agritourism course is the second of three offerings as part of the 2023 Ag and Food Producers Academy organized by Cornell Cooperative Extension of St. Lawrence County. The course format combines the convenience of three online evening classes on February 1st, 8th, 15th, along with a Saturday field trip to regional businesses on Feb. 18.

Whether its tours, farmstays, you pick or something else, agritourism experiences are wonderful strategies to welcome community members and visitors into the world of agriculture. Many benefits associated with agritourism include increased revenue and awareness of your business, diversifying your operation through slow seasons, and improving agricultural literacy through youth education. In this course, you will learn how to design a memorable experience, use marketing and promotion to reach your target audiences, and prepare your farm to welcome visitors with considerations for staffing, safety, insurance, liability, and accessibility.

The instructor for the course is Mary Godnick, the Communication Coordinator for Adirondack Harvest, a program of Cornell Cooperative Extension of Essex County. Mary states, "I look forward to sharing with farmers the tools they need to consider integrating agritourism into their farm operations. By the end of the course, participants will have a clear plan for how to implement or grow agritourism activities on their farm."

There's also space in the next course, Planning and Maintaining a Greenhouse or High Tunnel, which will be held online March 2, 9, 16 with a field trip on March 18. Whether individuals are in the planning stages or an existing business owner eager to gain new skills, all backgrounds and skill levels are welcome.

Participants can sign up for 1 or both of the remaining courses. Registration fee is $50 per course and class sizes are limited to 15 businesses per course. Registration is required along with payment received before the start of each session. If you are a veteran or active military, the full registration fee for one or more

Cheesy potato pancakes

A super simple and great side dish, this recipe is suitable for wintertime local food eating as onions, potatoes, garlic, milk and cheese produced in northern New York can all be found.

Contributed by Harvest Kitchen at the Extension Learning Farm
Method used: Stove top pan
Yield: 6-8 potato pancakes
Time: 45 minutes

Ingredients

4 potatoes, shredded
2 eggs, whisked until smooth
1/2 cup milk
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 medium onion, chopped
3 garlic cloves, minced
1 tsp dried parsley or 1 TBSP

fresh parsley
1 tsp baking powder
1 tsp salt
1/2 tsp ground black pepper
2 Tbsp butter or high heat oil

Instructions

Mix together potatoes, eggs, and milk in a large bowl.
Stir flour, cheese, onion, garlic, baking powder, salt, and pepper into potato mixture.
Heat butter in a large skillet over medium heat.
Spoon 2-3 TBSP batter onto the skillet for one pancake. Cook until golden brown, about 4 minutes per side.
Add more butter or oil as needed in the pan for future batches.
Eat immediately and store leftovers in an airtight container in the refrigerator for 7 days.

Notes

Alternative spices and flavorings can be used, such as a 1 tsp curry powder, 1 tsp garlic powder, 2 Tbsp lemon juice, 1/4 cup cooked bacon bits, etc.

Depending on skillet size, you can cook multiple pancakes at once, however, be careful not to overcrowd the pan.

Butter can burn easily, adjust heat levels accordingly. You can also use a higher-heat oil, such as canola oil or avocado oil.

Try serving with toppings such as sour cream, minced chives, sauerkraut, or as sides to sausages, quiche, etc.

Brookfield Renewable Power helps out Potsdam Snack Pack Program

POTSDAM – The Potsdam Snack Pack Program received a $2,500 donation from Brookfield Renewable Power to help the program get off to a solid start in the new year.

The funds were raised by eight members of the Potsdam Power Walkers Team in a nationwide step competition. The Brookfield team received $5,000 for their second-place finish, and the members Andy Bracy, Kim Deshane, Cheryl Cole, Tim Parker, Zach Chapman, Kris Jordan, Jake Wheeler, and Joe Hazelton, decided to split the prize between two local programs.

Christopher Johnson, the A.A.K. Middle School counselor, was on hand for the presentation by several members of the team, including Mark Luciano, from the Brookfield regional office in Queensbury, New York.

Johnson stated that “the funds will help purchase food items for more than 125 middle school students enrolled in the program. Our students look forward to getting their snack packs and we’re grateful that this program exists in our community.”

Program director Laurell Brault noted that the donation was a first from Brookfield, but she hopes to build on the relationship and partner with the company on other activities to support local students.

The snack pack program was launched in November 2016 and initially served only 40 elementary students. At the time, almost 40 percent of the students were eligible for free or reduced lunch. Over the years the program has expanded and currently serves more than 325 students across the school district. Each week eligible students receive a snack pack with a minimum of eight items, including a lunch meal such as macaroni and cheese, tuna and crackers, Chef Boyardee microwaveable meals, soup, and chicken or tuna in the pouch. During calendar year 2022 volunteers prepared 13,027 snack packs for Potsdam Central School District students.

If you would like to help prepare snack packs, donate funds, or support the program in other ways, visit their website, www.potsdamssnackpack.org, or Facebook page for more information.

Here, hockey players from the men’s Czech Republic stock up on food and supplies at the Potsdam IGA Monday morning.

SUNY Canton maintains prestigious esports reputation

CANTON -- SUNY Canton is continuing its exceptional reputation as a leader in esports.

The National Collegiate Scouting Association (NCSA) recently noted SUNY Canton in its Best Colleges for Esports list. The college was 33 on the public list of 100 entries and boasted the lowest tuition of any university. The organization analyzed more than 250 colleges with esports programs from across the country to develop a list designed to help prospective students and student-athletes.

“It’s an honor to be grouped with so many prestigious colleges and universities on the top 100 esports list,” said SUNY Canton Athletic Director Randy B. Sieminski. “SUNY Canton has been a leader in all aspects of esports and its growth, adding an esports major and a new esports residence hall wing. We take great pride in being the top-ranked SUNY school and among the best in the nation.”

The college currently offers intercollegiate gameplay for 100 students in 13 titles. The most popular games currently are, Nintendo’s Super Smash Bros. Ultimate, Riot Games’ Valorant, Riot Games’ League of Legends, and Blizzard Entertainment’s Overwatch. According to SUNY Canton Esports Coordinator Charles W. Murray, six teams have made it to the semifinals in either the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) or the SUNY Esports league.

“We are continuing to hold our own against our peer colleges and much larger universities,” Murray said. “Our most recent wins come just a year after our League of Legends team took home second place in the ECAC, and just a handful of years after our first and second place season wins in Overwatch.”

Murray also serves as the commissioner of SUNY Esports, which began in the fall of 2020 with 600 students from 45 campuses. It has since grown to approximately 2,900 students from 54 campuses. “SUNY Esports was founded and is operated by SUNY Canton,” Murray said. “As a frontrunner and a lead innovator, we have been able to help other colleges start programs of their own.”

SUNY Canton launched its varsity esports program in the spring of 2018 to complement its new four-year Game Design and Development program. At the time, it was the first college in SUNY with a varsity esports program and among a select few in the state to compete nationally. The following fall, the college unveiled a brand-new Esports Arena and partnered with Extreme Networks and Alienware to outfit the 1,800-square-foot dedicated gaming space.

In 2019, the college announced a new four-year program in Esports Management to prepare students to join the fast-growing industry of competitive video games. In 2020, the college helped orchestrate a SUNY-wide Tournament during pandemic-related shutdowns, which was a precursor to SUNY Esports. SUNY Canton created an Esports Residence Hall Wing in 2021, offering video game enthusiasts an immersive on-campus experience.

Northern Lights Home Health Care honored

CANTON – For the third consecutive year Northern Lights Home Health Care has been honored with a Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems Award of Distinction (CAHPS).

The Award of Distinction comes after once again being a National Best Practice Agency by WellSky.

In a letter announcing both honors, CAHPS Project Manager Jennifer Ittner wrote, “Agencies named as National Best Practice Agencies are proven leaders and have excelled in one of the most important measures of an agency’s quality program – patient experience. This is a significant accomplishment that you, your employees, and board should be incredibly proud of.”

Northern Lights Vice President of Operations Katherine Race said she was excited to see Northern Lights once again recognized.

Ittner said organizations receiving these honors are ranked in the top 25% of WellSky’s National Home Health Care database. Awards presented in 2022 are based on service provided during the 2021 calendar year.

For more information on Northern Lights Home Health Care, please call (315) 714-3135 or visit www.mynorthernlights.org. Northern Lights offers skilled nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and assistance from personal care aides.

Northern Lights is owned and operated through a partnership that includes United Helpers, Canton-Potsdam Hospital, and Claxton-Hepburn Medical Center.

December recognized students who were INSPIRING to staff and students alike. They are Ellie Thivierge, Addison Cardinell, Charlotte Montroy, Emma Coleman, Charley Hewer, Lily Prescott, Bailey Benson, Jaxon Brown, Logan Bradish, Layne Benson, Aleea Baker, Jazlynn Kulhanek, Aiden Dalton, Desiree Chamberlain, Dakota Brossoit, Ridge Planty, Liam LaMora and Brooklynn O'Riley.

Colton-Pierrepont students seen as 'Inspiring'

COLTON — Colton-Pierrepont Central School celebrated its C.A.P.E awards in the month of December. C.A.P.E. is a monthly Leadership Award that is given out during Friday Forum. C.A.P.E. stands for "Colts Acting with Perseverance and Effort." Each month has a different leadership trait.

The goal of C.A.P.E. Awards are to shine a light on kids setting a good example for their peers. December recognized students who were INSPIRING to staff and students alike. They are Ellie Thivierge, Addison Cardinell, Charlotte Montroy, Emma Coleman, Charley Hewer, Lily Prescott, Bailey Benson, Jaxon Brown, Logan Bradish, Layne Benson, Aleea Baker, Jazlynn Kulhanek, Aiden Dalton, Desiree Chamberlain, Dakota Brossoit, Ridge Planty, Liam LaMora and Brooklynn O'Riley were all great examples of what it means to inspire. CPCS could not be more proud of its future leaders.

In addition to the annual C.A.P.E. award announcements, CPCS also celebrated their student leaders for helping to research, propose and purchase new sleds for student use as well as performances led by Braighan McGrath and the high school emerging Ensemble, all to inspire younger students to strive for excellence.

SRO gets to know Hermon-DeKalb students

St. Lawrence County Sheriff's Deputy Patrick Chapman is serving as School Resource Deputy in the district. He has enjoyed getting to know our students over the past several months and is looking forward to building relationships with them for many more to come. Deputy Chapman has worked in law enforcement for approximately two years. Deputy Chapman's assignment includes the responsibility of being the first line of defense in the event of an emergency at the school. In addition to emergency preparedness, Deputy Chapman is also focused on forming positive relationships with students, serving as a mentor to many of them. 'We are thrilled to welcome Deputy Chapman to Hermon-DeKalb this school year,' said Superintendent Mark White. 'He is a valuable asset, and we are grateful for his presence in our school community.'

NNY Community Foundation offering scholarships

The Northern New York Community Foundation is now accepting scholarship applications from students in Jefferson, Lewis, and St. Lawrence counties who plan to enroll in post-secondary educational programs in the fall of 2023.

An online application streamlines the process for most scholarships. Students may access the portal, create a user account, and begin an online application by clicking on "2023-2024 Scholarship Application" found at the top of nnycf.org/scholarships/scholarship-overview.

With few exceptions, all Community Foundation scholarship applications are due Wednesday, March 15, through the online portal.

Scholarships with different deadlines — some after March 15 — are noted on the same web page.

Applications cannot be accepted after the published deadline.

High school seniors who plan to enroll as full-time undergraduates next fall may apply for a one-year, Community Foundation Freshman Scholarship. Students pursuing technical, trade or vocational school may also apply and should complete the same application.

Students may now apply online using the same 2023-2024 Scholarship Application for several scholarships that previously required unique applications, including: 10th Mountain Division (Light) Scholarship; George C. Boldt Scholarship; Vici and Steve Diehl Foundation Graduate Scholarships; Frances Anderson Luck Foundation Scholarship; North Country Goes Green Irish Festival Scholarship; North Pleasant Street (Watertown) Scholarship; Northpole Fire Company Inc. Scholarship; North Side Legacy Fund Scholarship; Rotary Purple Heart Scholarship; Michelle D. Salisbury Scholarship; Shaw Harbor Foundation Scholarship; and all Thousand Islands Foundation scholarships.

The Retired Educators of New York North Central Zone scholarship requires students to complete an application packet that can be downloaded and printed from the Community Foundation's website at nnycf.org/scholarships/applications.

The deadline to apply for that scholarship is Wednesday, March 15.

Completed packets must be returned or postmarked by the deadline to the address specified in the application.

Additional programs, opportunities

The Community Foundation also administers the following scholarship funds and programs for which students may apply using the same online 2023-2024 Scholarship Application:

- Nontraditional Student Scholarship — Awarded to applicants who live in Jefferson, Lewis, or St. Lawrence counties. Eligible applicants may be enrolled full- or part-time in college or a technical, trade, or vocational school. Applications for this program are due by Thursday, June 1, 2023.
  - Evergreen STEM Scholarship — (High school class of 2024) Awards ten, $3,000 scholarships annually to St. Lawrence County high school juniors who plan to pursue studies in STEM-related fields — science, technology, engineering, and math. Applications for this program are due by Thursday, June 1, 2023.
  - Herring College Memorial Scholarship — Awarded to students in engineering, sciences, mathematics, and related fields, as well as the Visiting Nurses Association Scholarship for students pursuing continued education in nursing or health-related fields.
  - Rotary Purple Heart Scholarship — Available to residents of Jefferson, Lewis, or St. Lawrence County who were awarded a Purple Heart by the U.S. armed forces or are a dependent — spouse or child — of a U.S. military member or veteran who was awarded the Purple Heart. Purple Heart Scholarship applications are reviewed throughout the year until all available funds for the academic year are awarded.
  - 10th Mountain Division (Light) Scholarship — Awarded to active or former 10th Mountain Division (Light Infantry) members or family members — spouse or child — of an active or former 10th Mountain Division soldier. The applicant or their military sponsor must also be a member of the National Association of the 10th Mountain Division. Scholarship applicants may live anywhere and be in any year of full-time undergraduate study.
  - George C. Boldt Scholarship — Awarded to three Jefferson County residents for full-time undergraduate study. Graduate study is not funded. Students who will be attending technical, trade or vocational schools are eligible to apply. Applications are accepted from high school seniors or nontraditional students who have had a break in their studies.
  - Russell I. Wilcox Thousand Islands Bridge Authority Scholarship — Awarded to two students for undergraduate study. Applicants must be current full-time Thousand Islands Bridge Authority employees, retirees, or the children or grandchildren of the same.

coaches are staying and eating at SUNY Potsdam. “It’s likely they will venture into town on off days,” Rouse remarked.

On Monday morning, hockey players from Slovakia, Czech Republic, and South Korea did some shopping at the Potsdam IGA.

Lake Placid is serving as host of the FISU games. Because of the extensive field of hockey teams, 45 preliminary games had to be scheduled at SUNY Potsdam and Clarkson University’s Cheel Arena in Potsdam, and SUNY Canton’s Roos House.

From Jan. 12 to 22, New York State will host 1,500 elite college athletes from 600 universities and 50 nations as they compete across 12 winter sports and 86 medal events. The majority of events will take place at the newly-renovated Lake Placid Olympic facilities and other ORDA venues including Mt. Van Hoevenberg, Gore, and Whiteface Mountain.

All the women’s hockey games will be played at Maxcy Hall. The men’s action will be split between Cheel Arena and the Roos House.

ZAMBONI...

The Zamboni is new, having been purchased by the village last year for $153,000.

A technician from the company traveled to Potsdam late last week to work on the machine and fix the battery issue.

Village Administrator Greg Thompson told the newspaper last week that he was confident the company would be covering the cost of the repair given it was less than a year old.

The village Recreation Department said it would be substituting some of the free public skating donated by Raquette River Lions Club that was lost during the shutdown. Free skating will be offered during the following dates to the public, thanks to the Lions Club: Friday, Jan. 13, from 4:30-5:30 p.m. and Sunday, Jan. 15, from 1:30-2:30 p.m.

Raises money for meal program

Jace Hendricks, 7, son of Michael and Krista Hendricks and a 2nd grader from Canton School, was inspired by the Canton United Methodist Church's Free Will Meals Program recently. He decided to save his allowance and purchase canned goods to help assist with a food donation. The Free Will Program assists with providing more than 130 delicious and nutritious meals to the community every week. To volunteer in this program or give a financial donation, stop by the church at 41 Court St. on a Wednesday afternoon for more information.

Grant awarded to Potsdam Holiday Fund

POTSDAM — The Northern New York Community Foundation's LEAD Council will award $2,000 to the Potsdam Holiday Fund.

The Potsdam Holiday Fund was one of three programs that received the money from the council's Holiday Giving Fund.

Potsdam Holiday Fund is a nonprofit which provides annual support to St. Lawrence County individuals and families in need with gifts, food baskets, and winter clothing.

Funding from the LEAD Council's matching challenge will strengthen the Potsdam Holiday Fund's voucher program this year.

The advisory committee of young professionals established the LEAD Holiday Giving Fund at the Community Foundation in 2020 to help brighten the season for tri-county residents in need.

"The LEAD Council's work helps support our region broadly and has been a powerful way to extend community engagement and stewardship across the generations," said Rande Richardson, Community Foundation executive director. "The members of the Council are deeply committed to the betterment of communities broadly across the North Country and each grant touches lives in meaningful ways in the true spirit of the season."

Tim Sweeney, TUNES 92.5 & 104.5 FM vice president, said support from the LEAD Holiday Giving Fund is the "cherry on top" for the Christmas Crusade for Kids and will extend its giving to dozens more local families.

"North Country residents came through in a special way to support the 15th Annual 'Christmas Crusade for Kids.' The gracious generosity of so many will help bring joy to more than 1,000 local families," Mr. Sweeney said. "We are grateful for the warm-hearted compassion of all who remembered their neighbors this time of year as well as the leadership of the Community Foundation and its LEAD Council. Together, we are NNY."

As pandemic-related challenges evolve, LEAD members continue to prioritize additional support to help vulnerable individuals, children, and families through these well-established initiatives.

The Community Foundation's LEAD Council is comprised of 18 young professionals who live and work in Northern New York. LEAD was created to engage and empower the next generation of community leaders in meaningful and strategic work in collaboration with the Northern New York Community Foundation.

Pelky receives fellowship

POTSDAM -- The National Endowment for the Arts announced that Rebecca Pelky is one of 36 writers selected to receive an FY 2023 Creative Writing Fellowship of $25,000.

This year's fellowships are in poetry and enable the recipients to set aside time for writing, research, travel, and general career development.

Fellows are selected through an anonymous review process and are judged on the basis of artistic excellence of the work sample they provided.

These fellowships are highly competitive, with nearly 1,900 eligible applications received for FY 2023.

Pelky is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at Clarkson University and a member of the Brotherhood Indian Nation of Wisconsin.

This award recognizes ACI members under 35 who have attained outstanding achievements including active participation at the national/international level, service to the advancement of the concrete industry, mentorship of students and young professionals, and other evidence of merit that advances the Institute's objectives.

GoFundMe campaign aims to help with expenses for woman battling brain tumor

POTSDAM — The partner of a St. Lawrence County woman has started a Gofundme campaign to help pay for her medical expenses.

Brandon Wright created the "Help Hallie Beat a Brain Tumor and Narcolepsy" fundraiser following the recent discovery of a large brain tumor in local resident Hallie Boyer. Boyer has lived in the Ogdensburg and Potsdam areas.

"Unfortunately Hallie's conditions (Narcolepsy, cataplexy, hallucinations, seizures, chronic migraine, EDS, MCAS, POTS, PTSD) have recently gotten worse due to discovering a large brain tumor, and will be leaving her job soon for disability," Wright said.

Hallie was born with many of these conditions that are untreatable due to allergic reactions or body insufficiencies, and have only gotten worse by the year.

"Hallie is one of the most inspiring, amazing, caring, and most honest people I've ever known. Not only am I honored to be her best friend but I'm also lucky to be her life partner," Wright said.

She was granted The Commendable Service Award at Clarkson University, an award given to those who help the community.

"Any amount of money you can donate to help her get better and get back to school, and help pay for medical expenses and rent and student loans, would be so incredibly appreciated as we go on this journey together," Wright wrote on the GoFundMe page. "Let's help Hallie get her life back."

To donate, visit bit.ly/3Cj1y0T

A total of $150 has been raised toward a $20,000 goal.

Grants available to St. Lawrence nonprofits

The Northern New York Community Foundation's Youth Philanthropy Council welcomes grant requests from nonprofit organizations of all types for programs, projects, or initiatives that strengthen the quality of life in St. Lawrence, Jefferson and Lewis counties.

The council will evaluate each proposal for up to $20,000 in available grant funding.

For consideration, completed grant applications must be submitted no later than Jan. 27, 2023.

Council members will notify finalists selected to present proposals. The Council will recommend grants for funding to the Community Foundation's board of directors. This past round, the Youth Philanthropy Council awarded five grants totaling $20,000 in support to nonprofit organizations that serve tri-county residents.

The Youth Philanthropy Council grant application may be completed online through the Foundation's Grant Lifecycle Manager (GLM) portal at nnycf.org/grants. All 501(c)(3) nonprofits are invited to apply.

Organizations should register as a user in GLM before applying. Nonprofits already registered with a GLM account should use existing login information to access and start the application.

Contact Kraig Everard, Community Foundation director of stewardship and programs, kraig@nnycf.org, or 315-782-7110, with questions or to learn more.

In addition to the competitive grant opportunity, the Youth Philanthropy Council is collaborating this year with the Jefferson Leadership Institute Class of 2017 to make available up to another $20,000 to support anti-poverty initiatives, including the "Getting Ahead" and "Bridges Out of Poverty" programs.

Eligible nonprofits can apply for support for anti-poverty initiatives using the same application on the Foundation's grant portal.

Scenic travels in Pierrepont

This photo was taken on a recent beautiful winter morning in Pierrepont. The snow on the ground was from the Christmas weekend blizzard that covered much of the North Country, including St. Lawrence County, in a blanket of white. Most of the snowfall has since melted, but here is a reminder of its beauty.

UH joins coalition fighting for seniors

CANTON – United Helpers Rehabilitation and Senior Care in Canton is one of 26 non-profit skilled nursing facilities from across Upstate New York taking part in a coalition aimed at delivering the message to Albany that they can no longer continue to ignore senior citizens and their families who rely on these facilities for care.

As part of this effort the United Helpers Management Company Board of Directors, as well as the Society of the United Helpers Board is asking members of the public to reach out to Gov. Kathy Hochul through this link, which will generate a message on your behalf, <https://p2a.co/Q2wLwJZ>.

“Skilled nursing facilities all across New York have not seen an operating rate inflation adjustment in their Medicaid reimbursement rates for 15 years, going back to 2007,” said United Helpers Chief Operating Officer Stacey Cannizzo. “These stagnant rates have led to operating losses, not only for United Helpers, but for facilities all across the state.”

According to data compiled by the coalition, the 26 facilities have a census capacity of 4,631 beds with an average financial loss per bed of $25,384 per year.

Over the past several years these losses have led to the closure of more than a dozen senior care facilities in the region, including United Helpers Rehabilitation and Senior Care in Ogdensburg in 2021.

Using data provided by coalition members, there is a combined loss of $81.6 million for its 26 members in 2022. That’s an average of almost $3.14 million per facility.

“It’s almost as if the people responsible for making these funding decisions do not have parents, grandparents, or other loved ones who receive or could potentially one day receive skilled nursing care,” Mrs. Cannizzo said. “It’s disheartening to constantly read in the newspaper or see on TV about the tens or hundreds of thousands of dollars available to other types of health care providers, but when it comes to folks in facilities such as ours, there is seldom any money available.”

With nearly 80% of the people receiving care through United Helpers relying on Medicaid and/or Medicare to pay for the services they receive, Mrs. Cannizzo said reimbursement rates from the government only provide enough funds to pay for roughly 50% of that care.

“The bottom line is New York State needs to do better for our seniors,” she said. “Along those lines we are compelling the state to provide skilled nursing facilities with a 20% increase to their reimbursement rate. We recognize that a 20% increase may sound like a lot, but if the state had not gone 15 years without an increase, we would not be in the situation where their lack of action has led to the closure of facilities such as ours.”

Mrs. Cannizzo said she would like to reassure both United Helpers employees, as well as family members for those receiving care in Canton that United Helpers Rehabilitation and Senior Care is not in danger of closing at this time, but without some changes to the state’s funding structure each year that passes puts us closer to that point.

“For many of us our parents and grandparents are among the most important people in our lives. They deserve the same level of love and care in their golden years that they provided to us as children and young adults growing up” Mrs. Cannizzo said.

United Helpers Management Company Board of Directors President Dr. Galen Pletcher said the time for people to act is now.

Considerations for retirees thinking of working part-time

Retirement is an opportunity to wave goodbye to the daily grind. Retirees may focus on rest and relaxation, and many make travel a major component of their life-style.

According to a 2022 Gallup poll, Americans expect to retire at an average age of 66, up from 62 in 2022.

However, most do not hold out that long; the average actual retirement age is 61. Canada used to have a mandatory retirement age of 65, but that mandate was overturned in 2009. Today, the average retirement age for Canadians is 64.4 for men and 63.8 for women, according to Statistics Canada.

Upon retiring, many retirees discover that they sorely miss getting out of the house and being productive through some sort of employment. Others may find it necessary to supplement their retirement incomes. There are a few things to know about working during retirement, particularly if a person is collecting government benefits.

According to the Social Security Administration, those falling under full retirement age for the entire year (which was raised to age 67 for those born in 1960 or later) will be subjected to an SSA deduction of $1 from your benefit payments for every $2 you earn above the annual limit. For 2022, that limit is $19,560. In the year you reach full retirement age, SSA deducts $1 in benefits for every $3 you earn above a different limit, but they only count earnings before the month you reach your full retirement age. For full retirement age reached in 2022 your limit on earnings for the months before full retirement age is $51,960. After full retirement age, there is no limit on earnings.

The Financial Consumer Agency of Canada reports that individuals between the ages of 60 and 65 who continue to work while receiving a Canadian Pension Plan (CPP) retirement benefit must still contribute to the CPP. Your CPP contributions will go toward post-retirement benefits. These benefits increase your retirement income when you stop working. However, if you continue to work while getting a CPP retirement pension and are between the ages of 65 and 70 years old, you can choose not to make any more CPP contributions.

Keep in mind that if you are on Medicare, extra income could potentially trigger surcharges for parts B and D. It’s beneficial to speak with a financial consultant to weigh the pros and cons of part-time work during retirement.

Part-time work does not need to be daily work. Many retirees work according to how they feel. Some options include seasonal jobs, such as driving shuttles in national parks or working during the holidays in retail stores. Or you may use your expertise to consult or start a business.

A number of people work part-time during retirement simply to get out of the house. Jobs that help you interact with a number of people can be beneficial, as socialization has been shown to benefit the mental health of seniors.

Working during retirement can supplement savings and provide structure that some retirees may be missing.

Safety tips for heating in St. Lawrence County this winter season

This winter is projected to be a cold and bitter one in New York State, with many regions already experiencing record chills and snowfall. The Firefighters Association of the State of New York (FASNY) reminds New Yorkers to follow some essential safety tips when heating their homes this winter.

Fire departments usually see an uptick in home fires during the winter, with nearly half of all home heating equipment fires occurring during December, January and February. Carbon monoxide (CO) exposure and poisonings also increase during these months.

According to the National Fire Prevention Association, heating equipment is the second leading cause of US home fires and the third leading cause of home fire deaths. Space heaters are the type of equipment most often involved in home heating equipment fires, accounting for more than two of every five fires (44%), as well as the vast majority of deaths and injuries in home fires caused by heating equipment.

American hearts much older than they should be

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the average adult in the United States has a heart that is seven years older than it should be.

“Heart age” is a metric used by the CDC to determine if an individual is at greater risk for heart disease than they should be at any given point during their adults lives.

Factors such as body mass index (BMI), blood pressure, whether or not a person smokes or has smoked in the past, and if that person has diabetes all help to determine heart age.

The CDC indicates that millions of people in their 40s and 50s who live in the United States have high blood pressure and more than 35 million U.S. adults are current smokers. Those variables increase heart age, making individuals more vulnerable to heart disease even in middle-age.

Individuals interested in getting an estimate of their heart age can visit the Heart Foundation at heartfoundation.org.au/heart-age-calculator.

Adults also are urged to speak with their physicians about their risk for heart disease and what they can do to lower that risk.

Homeowners should keep space heaters a safe distance from combustible materials, such as curtains, bedding, and upholstered furniture. To prevent CO exposure and poisoning, avoid the indoor use of unvented gas-burning appliances, unvented gas or wood-burning stoves, and unvented fireplaces.

Governor Kathy Hochul recently signed legislation to help curb the preventable deaths caused by space heater fires. Legislation (S.7863A/A.9181B) requires that space heaters sold in New York State have a thermostat, automatic shut off, and be certified by a testing and certification body recognized and approved by the United States Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Here are some home heating tips from FASNY and the NFPA:

Keep anything that can burn at least three feet away from heating equipment.

Have a three-foot “kid-free zone” around open fires and space heaters.

Never use your oven to heat your home.

Have a qualified professional in Have heating equipment and chimneys cleaned and inspected every year by a qualified professional.

Remember to turn portable heaters off when leaving the room or going to bed.

Always use the right kind of fuel specified by the manufacturer, for fuel-burning space heaters.

All fuel-burning equipment should be vented to the outside to avoid carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning.

Make sure the fireplace has a sturdy screen to stop sparks from flying into the room. Ashes should be cool before putting them in a metal container. Keep the container a safe distance away from your home.

Test smoke alarms once a month.

PRE-PLANNING...

The MOST important thing you can do for YOUR FAMILY.

WHY PLAN AHEAD

There's a lot that goes into planning a funeral, but making those arrangements beforehand gives you time to consider all of your options and make sure that you're covering all of the necessary details.

IT'S EASY

Fill out a form or meet with a member of our staff to put your plan in place. Anyone can create a plan, at any stage in their life, and you always can make changes if you wish.

YOU DECIDE

Preplanning lets you create your own unique life celebration. Including your family in the planning process can help them feel connected to you both in life and in death, knowing that your arrangements reflect your desires.

RELIEVE YOUR FAMILY'S BURDEN

Preplanning relieves your family of that burden and gives them more time and energy to focus on healing and remembrance.

YOU CAN PREPAY

Prepayment generally means that you save money by being protected from inflation and price changes. We deposit all prepayments into a trust fund where it remains until needed. Prepaying also provides peace of mind for your family, who won't have to figure out your funeral expenses when the time comes.

What seniors can do to safeguard their mental health

No one is immune to issues that can adversely affect their mental health, including men and women nearing retirement age and those who are already retired. Though the term “golden years” suggests life in retirement is one sunny day after another, many individuals 60 and older are dealing with mental health issues.

According to the World Health Organization, approximately 15 percent of the world’s adults aged 60 and over suffer from a mental disorder. What makes that statistic even more troubling is that the WHO acknowledges it likely doesn’t paint the most accurate picture of seniors and mental health, as depression is often undiagnosed among older men and women and untreated because it co-occurs with other issues affecting seniors.

In the past, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has acknowledged that late-life anxiety was not readily understood. However, much progress has been made in recent years thanks to a heightened awareness of the problem of seniors and mental health. That means seniors now have ample resources they can look to as they seek to learn what they can do to safeguard their mental health.

Recognizing warning signs

The National Institute of Mental Health notes that recognizing the signs of mental health issues is the first step to getting treatment. Mental health issues vary, and individuals with anxiety will likely experience different symptoms than those with depression. But the NIMH notes that the following are some of the warning signs of mental health issues.

- Noticeable changes in mood, energy level, or appetite
- Feeling flat or having trouble feeling positive emotions
- Difficulty sleeping or sleeping too much
- Difficulty concentrating, feeling restless, or on edge
- Increased worry or feeling stressed
- Anger, irritability, or aggressive-ness
- Ongoing headaches, digestive issues, or pain
- Misuse of alcohol or drugs
- Sadness or hopelessness
- Suicidal thoughts
- Engaging in high-risk activities
- Obsessive thinking or compulsive behavior
- Thoughts or behaviors that interfere with work, family, or social life
- Engaging in thinking or behavior that is concerning to others
- Seeing, hearing, and feeling things that other people do not see, hear, or feel

Seeking help

As noted, a growing awareness of mental health issues and how they affect seniors has translated to more available resources for aging men and women who need help. Within the United States, seniors can visit the NIMH Help for Mental Illnesses webpage (<https://www.nimh.nih.gov/health/find-help>) to access contact information for various groups that help people in times of mental health crises. In Canada, individuals can visit the Canadian Mental Health Association at <https://cmha.ca/find-help/find-cmha-in-your-area/> for contact information for various groups across the country.

Behaviors that can be beneficial

The National Institute on Aging notes that most cases of depression cannot be prevented. However, the NIA also notes that healthy lifestyle changes can have long-term benefits of seniors’ mental health. Such changes include:

- Being physically active
- Eating a healthy diet that can reduce risk for diseases that can bring on disability and depression

- Getting adequate sleep, which for seniors is between seven to nine hours per night
- Remaining socially active, including regular contact with friends and family
- Participating in activities you

- Sharing mental issues or concerns with friends, family members and your physician

Research indicates that seniors are vulnerable to mental health issues. More information about how to combat and overcome such issues is available at nimh.nih.gov.

Former athletes honored at Edwards-Knox Central

EDWARDS — Edwards-Knox Central School District will unveil new 1,000-point banners in the school gym on Saturday, Jan. 14.

The public is invited to come to the Edwards-Knox Central School Gym to help recognize 14 people for their accomplishments during their high school basketball careers at Edwards Central, Knox Memorial and/or Edwards-Knox Central School.

The following 1,000-point scorers will have their names displayed on a banner that will be hung on the gym wall: Chrissy Bullock, Karen Burns, Kaden Dandrow, Ken Davison, Lucy Frary, Bryan Harmer, Abby Hart, Jon Hogle, Amy Perkins, Rebecca Sykes, Pam White, Ryan White, Sarah White and Jamie Wood.

The unveiling ceremony will take place in-between two basketball games at approximately 3:15 p.m. on Saturday.

The Edwards-Knox Girls Varsity Basketball team will play Heuvelton starting at 2 p.m. and the Edwards-Knox Boys Varsity Basketball team will play Morristown at 4 p.m.

During the ceremony, the school district’s updated official cougar mascot and logos will also be unveiled to the public. Both students and staff had an opportunity to help select the updated mascot and new logos earlier this school year.

OGDENSBURG
LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that public hearings were held on Monday, January 9, 2023 at 6:00 PM, in the City Council Chambers, 330 Ford Street, Ogdensburg, NY 13669, and the following ordinances were passed:

1) ORDINANCE #2 of 2023

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 149 ENTITLED "PARKS" OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF OGDENSBURG

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF OGDENSBURG, NEW YORK, AS FOLLOWS:

ITEM ONE:

That Chapter 149 entitled "Parks", §149-2 entitled "Definitions", subsection entitled "GREENBELT" is hereby amended to eliminate Library Park.

2) ORDINANCE #3 OF 2023

ORDINANCE TO AMEND ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

ARTICLE IV, EXPENSES; CITY-OWNED VEHICLES

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF OGDENSBURG, NEWYORK, AS FOLLOWS:

ITEM ONE:

That Article IV, Section AR-28 is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

A) Policy. City employees shall be reimbursed for approved travel expenses in a fair and equitable manner, and City taxpayers shall not be burdened by excessive travel expenses.

B) Procedure.

1) Prior to incurring any travel expense totaling over $50, a travel request form (see Appendix A)32 shall be completed by the employee and approved by the City Manager.

2) An approved advance payment of the estimated total travel expense may be requisitioned and obtained from the City Comptroller no earlier than one workday prior to the first travel day.

3) Employees should take care to obtain receipts for all travel-related expenses. It is recognized, however, that there will be times when it will be difficult, if not impossible, to obtain receipts (e.g., some taxi trips, group meals, etc.). In such cases the expense should be explained in detail on the voucher. Under no circumstances will alcohol be reimbursed. Each meal will be reimbursed based on the published Federal Travel Regulation for government travel. Rates for subsequent years will be established under the Federal Travel Regulations and dictated by the City Comptroller. The website to find the per diem rates is <https://www.gsa.gov/travel/plan-book/per-diem-rates>.

4) The travel rates are issued to coincide with the federal government's fiscal year of October – September. The City Comptroller is authorized to adjust the rates in accordance with this schedule.

5) Employees shall be expected to use the least expensive means of travel available, consistent with the need to minimize non-productive travel time.

6) A mileage allowance for the use of privately owned automobiles will be paid at the per mile rate equal to the rate used by the Internal Revenue Service. City-owned cars should be used whenever possible. Rates for subsequent years will be established by the Internal Revenue Service and dictated by the City Comptroller.

ITEM TWO:

This ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days after publication of a notice which shall give the title and describe same in summary form.

Responsibilities include supporting company operations by maintaining office systems and supervising staff including, but not limited to Home Health Aides and Personal Care Aides.

Applicants must have a minimum of five years experience in a business office setting or three years of experience if they have a Associate's Degree or higher in Business Administration.

Candidates must be able to work with all levels of management and employees, and have the ability to work with confidential materials while maintaining confidentiality.

Attention to detail and organization skills are essential, as is the ability to work with little direct supervision and juggle multiple tasks.

Applicants must be able to pass a physical, which includes lifting up to 50 pounds. There is some risk for exposure to communicable disease and/or bodily fluids. PPE will be provided.

Meet Our Agent...Janet Brown

Janet is a resident of Hannawa Falls and has lived in the area her whole life. She has spent 27 years loving her job in the SLC Real Estate industry and has been Vice President and a three-year President of the local Board of Realtors plus volunteering for various committees over her years of being a Realtor.

From her start as a new agent at Century 21 in the early 90's, to being a franchise Broker/owner in 10 years to her favored position, now as an Associate Broker, collaborating with a great team at Plumley Real Estate. She feels that her work life has been more than rewarding.

Her other great reward has been to become a volunteer in her community as a firefighter, EMS provider, and a County Recovery Team member. She has always been ready and willing to serve wherever she might be needed. Now her time is spent serving real estate clients providing a seamless and smooth transaction as possible in preparing for the sale or the purchase of your new and possibly forever home.

She is proud to be a member of the friendly and efficient team of Plumley Real Estate. When you think home buying or selling, think of Plumley Real Estate.
