Registry for landlords in Massena

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — Massena village trustees are considering the creation of a registry of landlords and rented properties in light of a fire in an apartment building that claimed three lives last month.

According to Trustee Ken McGowan, the move would make it much easier and safer for fire department members who are responding to a fire, while also assisting the code enforcement office handle any complaints they may receive.

"I think it's a great idea. It's very challenging to get a hold of some of these out of town landlords," Code Enforcement Officer Aaron Hardy told trustees.

If the registry were created, Hardy said it would make it easier for his office to have yearly communications with landlords. In the event of an emergency, the code office would also have a primary point of contact to handle such situations as well.

Hardy also told trustees that the fire department already carries out yearly inspections of businesses, through which his department has been able to gather a great deal of information including building owners, business owners and their contact information.

Ogdensburg fails to name new councilor

BY JIMMY LAWTON
North Country This Week

OGDENSBURG — After 20 consecutive votes and one candidate withdrawing his name in the interest of time, Ogdensburg still has only six members on council.

Ogdensburg City Council was set to name one of three candidates to fill a vacancy on city council.

The candidates were put forward by the vacancy committee and included Michael Weaver, Michael Tooley and Robert Edie.

The council eliminated Michael Weaver and then in secret ballot eight times, voted 3-3 votes for Tooley and Edie.

After concerns raised regarding open meetings law by Councilor John Rishe, votes were then cast publicly.

Mayor Jeffrey M. Skelly, Deputy Mayor Steven Fisher and Councilor Bill Dillabough voted for Edie, while councilors Rishe, Michael Powers and Dan Skamperle voted for Tooley for an additional 12 votes for a total of 20 votes.

Supporters of Tooley said they were voting for him, because he was essentially guaranteed a spot on council as he was running unopposed and that it would be beneficial to have him involved in the budgeting process.

Supporters of Edie noted that he had run in previous elections and secured a large number of votes. They said Edie had put in the work and deserved the appointment.

Edie, who was present at the meeting, asked that he be removed from the process in the interest of moving things forward.

He received praise from Councilors Rishe, Skamperle and Retirees raise concerns over insurance changes

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — Town board members say they want to contact the entire list of town retirees who will be affected by a change in health insurance coverage but many retirees say they want the change completed now.

Over a dozen retirees were in attendance at a recent town board meeting, voicing their displeasure with the process to board members.

As it stands, town board officials say they are waiting on Zachary Zuckerman to contact the entire list of retirees to inform them of the policy change.

Zuckerman is a group benefits consultant at USI Insurance Services who is assisting the town with the change.

"I don't know why we have to keep waiting until you contact every single individual. I think the board should be able to move ahead," Georgette Davis told board members.

Davis is one of the retirees who will be affected by the change.

According to Town Supervisor Sue Bellor, eight retirees still need to be contacted, however she is unaware if any effort has been made because Zuckerman has not responded to an email sent earlier this month by Bellor.

Regardless of when the plan will be voted on and approved, Bellor told retirees the change would not go into effect until mid-October.

Bellor said she wants to ensure every retiree is afforded the opportunity to speak with Zuckerman to ask questions about the policy and to voice concerns.

Convicted neck shooter on the lam

BY JIMMY LAWTON
North Country This Week

CANTON — A Canton man is on the lam after skipping his sentencing for the crime of shooting a female victim in the neck in March of 2022.

Shawn Sheridan, 8 Mechanic St., Canton, was charged with first-degree assault and second-degree criminal possession of a weapon.

Sheridan pled guilty to the first-degree assault charge, but failed to show up at his July 18 sentencing.

Despite his failure to appear, the judge sentenced Sheridan to 12.5 years in prison and issued a warrant for his arrest.

St. Lawrence County District Attorney Gary Pasqua said Sheridan had already had a warrant out for failing to abide by terms of his supervised bail release.

Pasqua said that he believes the sentencing is appropriate. He said he had several conversations with the victim who was hoping Sheridan would be sentenced to at least 10 years.

He said the plea agreement saved the victim from having to relive the trauma in the courtroom

Pasqua said Sheridan has proven himself dangerous, but he's uncertain if he poses any immediate danger to the public. However, he expressed concerns that he could pose a serious threat to officers or deputies attempting to apprehend him.

"We believe him to be a dangerous individual based on his conduct and what he was convicted of, but I don't know at this point if he is a danger to anyone aside from law enforcement," he said.

Pasqua is urging anyone with information regarding Sheridan's whereabouts to contact the St. Lawrence County Sheriff's Department at 315-379-2222.

"We have an individual who has shown a propensity for violence. We want to see that he's brought in as quickly and peacefully as possible," he said.

St. Lawrence County Undersheriff Sean O'Brien confirmed that a warrant was issued for Sheridan's arrest and that law enforcement is working to locate him.

The crime

On the morning of March 9 2022, at approximately 1:42 a.m., St. Lawrence County Sheriff's Deputies responded to a reported domestic incident at 49 South Woods Road in Rossie.

Upon their arrival, it was determined that a victim had been shot in the neck during the reported domestic incident.

The victim sustained serious injuries and was transported by Medivac to Upstate Hospital in Syracuse for treatment

Over the initial course of this incident, Deputy Sheriff Matthew Merria arrested Sheridan, who was armed with a long gun and a knife, by himself, reports the sheriff's office.

Deputy Merria also had an intern riding with him at the time of this call, and they were both able to render aid to the female victim until rescue could respond to the scene.

The St. Lawrence County Sheriff's office has issued a warrant for his arrest.

2020 and 2021.

In the end, Jody White won with a three-day total of 71 pounds, 15 ounces to win the St. Croix Bassmaster Open at St. Lawrence River.

White, hailing from Shaftsbury, Vt, won his first Bassmaster professional tournament, winning $49,700

Anglers fished from Waddington down to Clayton, which was near the western boundary of the tournament, Bassmaster said. The tournament was hosted by the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce in partnership with the Village of Waddington. It is part of a series of tournaments and is supported by a Market New York grant from I LOVE NY/New York State's Division of Tourism through the Regional Economic Development Council initiative.

Facing 46 years to life for raping child multiple times

CANTON – A Lisbon man is now facing 46 years to life in state prison after a St. Lawrence County jury handed down a guilty verdict on Friday. Douglas M. Monroe, 37, of Lisbon, was found guilty following a week-long trial on charges of predatory sexual assault upon a child, first-degree sexual abuse, and two counts of second-degree rape.

Evidence at trial established that between 2020 and 2022, the defendant committed multiple acts of rape and sexual abuse against a child, according to St. Lawrence County District Attorney Gary M. Pasqua.

The defendant is scheduled to be sentenced on Sept. 25. “Thanks to the fortitude and bravery of the young survivor, the horrific acts of this defendant have been brought to light and he now faces the justice he deserves. I want to commend the courage of the victim that came forward in this case. My office will continue to be dedicated to the prosecution of these cases and will continue to strive to help bring justice to child victims of sexual abuse,” Pasqua said.

D.A. Pasqua commends Assistant District Attorney Matthew Peabody and Assistant District Attorney Dominik Maida for their hard work and dedication to ensuring justice for the survivor of these crimes. Pasqua also thanked the St. Lawrence County Sheriff’s Office and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security for their assistance with the prosecution.

‘Rockin’ the Beach’ lineup announced in Massena

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — The Massena beach is going to be rocking on Aug. 19 with Aerosmith tribute band Draw the Line set to perform.

According to Jason Hendricks, Massena’s digital brand manager, Beachapalooza “Rockin’ the River” now has a complete musical lineup with local and regional acts set to perform.

Starting off the day will be Tap to Toe Studio of Dance at 2 p.m., with Chris Cole set to perform an acoustic set at 3 p.m. and Atom Ghost at 5 p.m.

Draw the Line, the only tribute band endorsed by Aerosmith, will take the stage at 7 p.m.

“Rockin’ the River” was first held last year, with a fishing derby at Wilson Hill, as well as music, food, vendors and fireworks.

All events were free to attend. Food and drinks are also set, with food trucks signed up to serve, as well as local breweries bringing beer for the event.

“Food trucks are set. We’ve issued all of the alcohol information that the vendors will need for the event,” Hendricks said.

Wristbands have been ordered as well to identify those over 21 who can purchase alcohol.

An email has also been sent to vendors, which includes relevant information for them for the event.

Fundraising has been going well, according to Hendricks, who said the organization has raised $8,100 with sponsorships from Arconic, Liberty Utilities Massena Savings and Loan, North Country Colocation Services, Northern Credit Union, Seacomm, St. Lawrence Health, Patriot Paving and H3 Designs.

Work with Massena Electric has also gone smooth, with MED assisting with electrical drops at the beach.

Hendricks told trustees that Highway Superintendent Dylan Caselman has arranged to use a band shell and light towers from the town of Waddington as well, saving money on the event.

Massena approves new hires

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — Massena Village Trustees took action on a number of appointments and resignations during the board’s July 18 meeting.

The following were approved during the meeting:

- Appointed Jordan Dishaw as a motor equipment operator
- Appointed Daniel Ware as a motor equipment operator

DPW Superintendent Marty Miller was recently approved by the state to begin training employees to obtain a CDL license, a prerequisite to being hired by the village.

Now with that hurdle cleared, the village will not only be able to more easily hire motor equipment operators but they will also be able to save around $7,000 in training expenses as well.

“So what we can do now is hire people without a CDL. I would like them to get just a permit, which is about $40, then we can train them in-house, get them ready for their road test at zero cost. We just have to pay for the road test, whatever it is,” Miller said in a previous meeting.

Also approved during the meeting were the following:

- Appointed Kelly Zakaruskas as senior account clerk
- Accepted the resignation of Edward John Roder from the Village Zoning Board of Appeals
- Appointed Nathan Lashomb to the Village Zoning Board of Appeals

Trustees also took action to accept the independent accountants report from Seyfarth and Seyfarth for village justice court records for the fiscal year ending May 31, 2022.

of speed, slightly striking the victim.

Police say Peets then exited the vehicle and ran after the victim.

According to police, Peets could not catch the victim but took the victim’s bike and threw it into a fire, causing damage.

Peets left the scene prior to law enforcement arriving, police say.

The victim did not sustain injuries from being struck by the vehicle, according to police.

He was released on appearance tickets returnable to the Massena Town Court for a later date in July.

OGDENSBURG — City Council will help At the Docks, LLC apply for a $500,000 grant to renovate historic stone mill buildings on the city's waterfront. At the Docks, LLC is owned by Chris Frary who also owns the Corner Deli, Tiki Bar and the At the Docks Marina. The buildings are located on River Street near the former Ramada Inn, which is also owned by Frary. At a special meeting Monday, council endorsed a plan to seek a Consolidated Funding Application under the New York Main Street Downtown Anchor program. The application proposes funding to assist property owners to renovate façade masonry, replace the roofs, and complete interior renovations to the historic stone mill buildings for residential and commercial reuse at 119 W. River Street.

The proposed funding will contribute to ongoing community revitalization efforts, a resolution from the city said. The grant application required city approval. Ogdensburg businesses were hit particularly hard by the pandemic due to the proximity of the Ogdensburg International Bridge. The majority of Canadian traffic had been all but halted due to COVID restrictions. Despite the challenges development on River Street has fared well. In March, Ogdensburg City Council approved the sale of a portion of 17 Main Street to William Hosmer, owner of Homer's Marina and Smuggler's Cafe. The brewery was being developed under River Street Brewing Company LLC. Hosmer is also seeking approval to put up an ice cream stand. Meanwhile, At the Docks LLC has expressed interest in another portion of the 17 Main Street location. Also located in the city's marina district is the former cheese plant, which the city recently secured funding to demolish.

Shareholders approve sale of Arconic hedge fund Apollo Global Management

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — Shareholders have approved the sale of Arconic to hedge fund Apollo Global Management, Inc. Apollo Global Management, Inc. provides asset management services. According to the Wall Street Journal, Apollo "offers its clients excess return at every point along the risk-reward spectrum from investment grade to private equity with a focus on three business strategies: yield, hybrid, and equity." The company was founded by Marc Rowan in 1990 and is headquartered in New York, NY. Shareholders approved the sale with 99% of shareholders voting to approve the merger. In a press release issued by Arconic on July 25, officials say the vote took place during a special meeting on June 12. "This transaction represents a realization of value for Arconic shareholders at a meaningful premium and enables the Company to execute its long-term strategic vision. We are pleased to reach this agreement with Apollo," Chairman of the Arconic Board of Directors Fritz Henderson said. The deal was first announced on May 4, with an approximate sale value of $5.2 billion. The transaction, which will be an all cash sale, includes minority investment from funds managed by Irenic Capital Management, officials say. Strategic investment in infrastructure like machinery is expected with the completion of the sale, with hopes of maximizing the full potential of the company's "unique production capabilities," officials say. Upgrades are expected to bring the facilities and processes up to state-of-the-art standards, with investment also expected in cleaner processes to benefit local communities, according to officials. There has been no word on how the Massena plant will be affected, if at all, with the sale now expected to go through. A total of 125 employees are currently employed by Arconic in Massena. The sale comes a year after United Steelworkers members approved a four-year contract that runs through May 15, 2026. "We have been assured that the contract will remain in place. All of the negotiated benefits will continue, with no changes," United Steelworkers Local 420-A President Mark Goodfellow said. Alcoa will be unaffected by the sale with Arconic having split from Alcoa previously. Alcoa currently has a seven-year contract that will ensure operations continue in Massena until at least 2026. With the split from Alcoa in 2016, Arconic became a second, publicly traded company, with primary focuses on engineered products for the automotive and aerospace industries. Arconic officials say the sale should be completed in the third quarter of 2023, making Arconic a private entity.

McNAMARA - Joyce (née Emmick) died on July 11, 2023, at the Beechwood Rehabilitation Center in Getzville, NY after a brief hospitalization. She was 86 years old.

Joyce was born in Elmira, NY in 1936 and grew up in Elmira Heights, NY. She was the youngest child of Charles and Hilda Emmick, and had five older brothers: Roland, Robert, Richard, Charles, and Jack.

In her childhood, she was closest to Jack, and had many fond memories of playing piano in small groups with him on trombone and clarinet.

Her older four brothers served in the U.S. military in World War II, and she recalled the family's joy when they all returned home safely in 1945.

Joyce was a gifted musician, playing piano and pipe organ at church and school. She was also a bright student, graduating second in her class at Thomas Edison High School in Elmira Heights.

She then attended Alfred University in Alfred, NY on a scholarship, studying nursing. There she met her future husband Edward P. McNamara, whom she married in 1957.

After university, they moved to Shrewsbury, Massachusetts where Joyce worked as a registered nurse while Ed began his career in the ceramics industry. Their first three sons, John, Paul, and James, were born in Massachusetts.

After a brief time in Middletown, NJ they moved to Williamsville, NY in 1968.

Their twin boys, Steven and David were born there in 1969.

Joyce was a generous and loving wife, mother, and homemaker, and her house was filled with music, activity, and delicious homemade food. Like her mother, she was an excellent baker and was known for her mouthwatering fruit pies, cookies, cakes, and other treats.

In their years in Williamsville they were faithful members of Randall Memorial Baptist Church, where Joyce sang in the church choir and Ed served as a deacon.

In 1987, Joyce and Ed moved to northern New York when Ed assumed the position of Deputy Director at Center for Advanced Materials Processing at Clarkson University in Potsdam, NY.

They lived in a beautiful home overlooking Norwood Lake and frequently hosted family and friends.

Immunization month proclaimed

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — St. Lawrence County legislators are proclaiming August as National Immunization Awareness Month.

Legislators passed a resolution acknowledging the proclamation during a services committee meeting on July 17.

The Public Health Department is observing National Immunization Awareness Month in an effort to raise awareness about the importance of vaccinations for people of all ages.

Officials say the Center for Disease Control recommends providing children with vaccines before their second birthday, saying it is the best way to protect children against 14 serious and potentially deadly diseases.

Public Health officials also say vaccines are recommended for individuals “based on age, health conditions, job, lifestyle and travel habits.”

Winthrop equipment rental expands

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

WINTHROP — North Country Equipment Rental continues to expand on their services and has now stepped into heavy equipment sales and power sport sales.

Owners Jedidiah Arquitt and his brother Jordan first began renting equipment in the spring of 2022 but decided in recent months to expand further.

“We had talked about doing it from the beginning when we started renting equipment but we’ve had so many people asking to buy equipment too that we decided to jump in,” Arquitt said.

With an even larger rental fleet available, Arquitt said business keeps picking up every week.

“We’re already selling a number of machines and we have a bunch on order right now. We’re constantly looking to add more for sale, both new and used machines,” he said.

Equipment ranges from John Deere, Kubota and Case tractors to Sany excavators, Kubota and Cat skid steers, zero turn mowers and every attachment imaginable, from blades and buckets to backhoes, he said.

“If we don’t have something on the lot that someone is looking for, we can track it down one way or another. We have a bunch of great resources to get equipment from,” he said.

Arquitt said anything within the rental fleet would also be for sale if someone were in need.

“We can always replace it, so if it’s the right fit for someone we can always work out a deal,” he said.

When used equipment is purchased, Arquitt said each one is given a thorough inspection and has parts and fluids replaced if needed.

“If we see something is worn out or fluids need to be replaced, we go right through them all and take care of it. We’ve replaced bearings, all fluids, batteries and other parts on multiple pieces of equipment. We want to ensure they leave here 100% ready to go,” he said.

In many cases, much of the equipment has low hours and is in like new condition.

“We’ve had a bunch come through that had 30 or less hours on them. We’ve found some great deals and we want to pass that along to our customers,” he said.

That’s how North Country Equipment rental keeps their prices down, he said, by shopping for the best deals through multiple sources.

“We put the time and research in to find the best deals for everyone. We want to take care of our customers the best we can,” he said.

Arquitt also mentioned that North Country Equipment Rental now has a relationship in place with Kato for brand new excavator purchases.

“We can get anything from them directly, from the smaller homeowner models to the biggest ones that would fill up a dump truck with ease. Folks just have to let us know what they need and we can get it in for them,” he said.

For those looking to purchase equipment but don’t have an existing relationship with a local banking institution, Arquitt said outside financing is available through two sources that have also helped them expand their business.

“We have two great companies that we’ve partnered with ourselves and are great to work with, they’ve helped us out many times and are now helping our customers,” he said.

With the addition of sales, Arquitt said North Country Equipment Rental has also branched out into power sports.

For those looking to start their children out on mini bikes or four wheelers, North Country Equipment Rental may be a great fit, Arquitt said.

“We have Coolster and Tao motorcycles, four wheelers and even gas powered jeeps. We can get anything from 70cc bikes for young kids up to 125cc medium size dirt bikes,” he said.

Dirt bikes cost up to roughly $1,200 each for larger models, a fraction of what many larger brands cost, Arquitt said.

“If you’re new to it or don’t know if your kids will stick with it, going this route can save a lot of money. We also warranty all of the dirt bikes, four wheelers and mini jeeps, so if there is an issue we can help. Parts are very reasonable if replacements are needed too,” he said.

But it’s not just about sales, Arquitt said he himself is riding one of the dirt bikes.

North Country Equipment Rental is located at 51 Crane Road, Winthrop, NY 13687.

Hours of operation are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturdays.

For more information, visit www.ncountryequipmentrental.com or call (315) 322-6100 to book a rental or to make a purchase.

A report of Unclaimed Property will be made to the Comptroller of the State of New York, pursuant to Article III of the Abandoned Property Law. A list of the names contained in such notice is on file and open to public inspection at the principal office of the bank, located at [address of bank], where such abandoned property is payable. Such abandoned property will be paid on or before October 31 next to persons establishing to its satisfaction their right to receive the same. In the succeeding November, and on or before the tenth day thereof, such unclaimed property will be paid to the Comptroller of the State of New York, and shall thereupon cease to be liable therefore.

REGISTRY...

The registry, if created, will be kept at Massena Town Hall to "make things a lot easier and quicker."

Trustees also took action to board up a number of properties on Sycamore Street and at the corner of Sycamore St. and Woodlawn Ave.

Hardy said in those cases, the code enforcement department has reached out to landlords without any success.

"We've reached out to one owner multiple times and haven't been able to make contact since the first week of COVID, so you're talking about the first or second week of March 2020," he told trustees.

Those properties are all in desperate need of repair, he said.

In many cases, power and water have been shut off to the buildings and vagrants have inhabited the spaces, making it difficult for the village to take proper action.

Hardy said members of his department would be going over to secure the properties in the next week or so.

"Please, make sure you contact the police department and have an officer with your staff. We want to make sure no one gets hurt," Mayor Greg Paquin suggested to Hardy.

"We already planned on it. We're going to take every precaution when we do," he said.

Paquin also spoke to the registry, saying it was time to take action to create one but said he would allow the code enforcement office to take the lead on the initiative.

Though village officials seem poised to take action, McGowan said it would not be an easy process, noting there were "a bunch of concerns we have to figure out."

No fee is expected for landlords to be listed, however officials did say they would make a requirement that the code enforcement office have information regarding the buildings.

"If you own a bunch of apartments on Sycamore, we need to know who you are. The fire department needs to know who the contacts are, who the tenants are," McGowan said.

VACANCY...

Powers.

Fisher said that Edie should not be punished for doing the right thing.

More than one hour into the meeting and with just one candidate left, a resolution was brought forward to appoint Tooley to council, but Skelly and Fisher abstained from the vote, and Dillabough voted no.

Councilors Powers, Skamperle and Rishe voted in favor of the appointment, but since there was no quorum he was not officially appointed.

That led to legal questions, regarding whether or not Tooley had in fact been appointed.

There was a request for legal review made by councilors, but there did not appear to be consensus for the appointment or the review.

During public comment, Tooley explained that while he did not run in the last election, that it was due to work commitments and a lack of time, but now retired, he has chosen to seek the position.

RETIREES...

"As far as I know we've had no negatives in regards to this," Deputy Town Supervisor Pat Facticeau told attendees.

Bellor said another concern is that some people covered by the policy may lose prescription coverage if they change their plan.

Facticeau then suggested putting the policy change to a vote at the next meeting in August, saying that to delay to vote could push things to "the eleventh hour," a situation both he and Board Member Francis Carvel say they want to avoid.

"I think we have to move with this in a reasonable amount of time. The next board meeting would be reasonable," Carvel said.

"I don't see where the waiting is going to do us any good. We've waited long enough. It's always nice to not wait until the 11th hour. If you get it a couple months early, it allows everybody a lot more time for the plan to contact these people."

Bellor said she didn't feel it was fair to those who have not yet been contacted, saying a vote right now was not necessary. But Davis said she disagreed and wanted a vote soon because "many retirees go south for the winter," with some leaving as early as October or November. Despite opposing the idea of a vote in August, Bellor asked Facticeau to push Zuckerman to make contact with the remaining retirees so a vote could be had.

"We just want to have a conversation with each person. I think that's fair to each individual," she said.

Carvel suggested that a vote would be more than fair now, since the majority of those affected by the change have already been contacted and voiced support for the policy.

Facticeau agreed, saying they have done the best they can to make contact and the majority have agreed to the change.

Another retiree, Nancy Fregoe, also voiced concern over a delayed vote. Fregoe addressed the board, saying a letter they received previously essentially told retirees the decision was made already and they could "come and listen to the program" at a previous presentation from Zuckerman and board members. Bellor refuted the idea, saying the letter told retirees what plan was proposed and that input was requested before any final authorization would be given.

"It didn't sound like it, it said come to the meeting because we're going to explain your new insurance. Had we all not showed up en masse, it was going to get voted on. That's why we actually come to the meetings. It sounds like it would have gotten approved if we hadn't been here, and now you want to contact every single person," Fregoe said.

Bellor took a moment to reiterate her concern that some retirees might lose prescription drug insurance and should be afforded an opportunity to speak with Zuckerman. The town of Massena is part of the Broome County Healthcare Alliance, a plan that sees major medical bills paid in full with zero co-payments required by members.

As part of the plan, insurance plans are negotiated as a consortium to save money for municipalities and enrollees alike.

Under the plan, prescription drugs have a co-payment of $0, while preferred brand name drugs have a $5 co-payment and non-preferred brand name drugs have a $20 co-payment.

Canoe racers are artists on the water Rip Friot canoe race taught me how little I know about paddling

A good friend of mine, who I don't get to spend enough time with, recently asked me to join him in the Rip Friot Canoe Race last weekend on the Oswegatchie River, which benefits the Frederic Remington Museum and is hosted by the St. Lawrence Valley Paddlers.

Editor's Notebook

Jimmy Lawton

I've spent a lot of time in canoes over the years and have paddled many miles in a single day along the St. Lawrence River and Cranberry Lake. I've paddled canoes loaded with coolers and camping supplies well past recommended weight capacity short distances to campsites.

My old adventure canoe is beat up, built for neither speed nor comfort, but has served me well. It was a substantial upgrade from my previous canoe which had a sponge plugging a small hole and required a bit of bailing now and then.

When we arrived at the Rip Friot race, more than an hour early, I realized our only real goal would be to finish within the time allotted. I knew that wouldn't be easy since the current wouldn't be helping us thanks to a strong headwind.

As experienced paddlers were waxing their canoes, most of which looked like they probably weren't bought second-hand for $200, I was working on a playlist of music to listen to for the ride, which I knew at this point would not be leisurely.

The participants we talked to during the pre-race were friendly and many had traveled several hours just to compete in the race.

I knew there was a big difference between a canoe run and a canoe race, but what I didn't realize is just how bad at paddling I really was.

When we finally got on the water, we quickly fell behind as the experienced paddlers used their energy with grace and precision. We shoveled water with about as much grace as we'd shoveled manure on the farm in our youth.

We were fortunate enough to start in the recreation line, which gave us a solid headstart from some of the others.

But not long before we hit the portage around the dam, we were well behind even the second line of paddlers, though there was a rumor that perhaps one person was still behind us. I had a feeling the friendly gentleman who said that was just trying to make us feel better.

As the folks I can only describe as professionals passed us, we laughed and joked with them, some even offered advice.

There was a group in a four-person canoe who were so in sync it was like watching a machine. Their paddles hit the water in unison, their heads turned in unison and I don't think they wasted any oxygen or calories on anything but their goal.

We were quite mindful that we were playing a different game than the others in the race at this point. We pushed on enjoying the music and the beautiful weather. We didn't push ourselves as hard as we could have, but we certainly were giving a solid 75%, which is still a lot over the course of a 10-mile paddle.

Despite our clear lack of paddling knowledge, improper equipment and any sort of real preparation we finished the race.

We were greeted by the friendly paddlers, who were well rested and recovered when we arrived. They clapped and celebrated our finish I'm sure as much as they did from everyone else.

As we packed up the canoe tired, sore and hungry, I couldn't help but be amazed by the skill and dedication of this community of paddlers. It's pretty amazing what they are able to do.

I probably won't enter another canoe race, out of respect for the sport, which I clearly have no business being in. But I'm glad we tried it. I learned that there is truly an art to paddling. I also learned that I'm more of a "canoe run" guy than a "canoe race" guy.

NCNOW SURVEY

The Question:

Do you support St. Lawrence County schools using electric buses?

BY 2035, ALL New York State school districts must be fully converted to electric buses. That reality has many local districts working on studies to address potential issues such as costs and logistics. The bus mandate was pushed out by Gov. Kathy Hochul in 2022 and since then St. Lawrence County school districts have already begun working to meet that goal. Do you support St. Lawrence County schools using electric buses?

HERE ARE COMMENTS from some survey participants:

'Many rural communities do not have the infrastructure to support charging the buses. I would also like to see the bus garages redesigned with advanced fire suppression systems to mitigate the dangers specific to the batteries.'

'I hope the extreme heat and wild-fire smoke are finally persuading people of the need to take every step necessary to combat climate change.'

'This should be a gradual process. The taxpayers have to foot the cost for this transformation.'

'The electric bus will not work well in the winter, with long routes out on the back roads and with the heat on. I am fearful kids will be stuck on buses out in the cold.'

'Green initiatives could bring jobs, prosperity, and cleaner living to an impoverished area. Fear of change will stifle that. It's really sad.'

'Gas is bad for the environment. Also the fumes are bad for children and adolescents.'

Dragon Boat Festival thanks

On Sunday July 16th, the students of the Lewis School of Health Sciences held their 2nd Annual Raquette River Dragon Boat festival. With the help of generous sponsors, we were able to provide this event free of charge to anyone wanting to participate in the races. Participants were then encouraged to raise pledges in their name which would go back into the community in the form of health initiatives, and to improve health care access. This year we raised $16,000 in pledges, which superseded our anticipated goal. We are so grateful for this outpouring of community support. Thank you.

Dynamic Dragon Boat, the company who brings the boats to our venue from Knoxville, TN, made many comments about what an amazing community we do live in. One of the trainers, in fact, stated that they felt that they would consider this their #1 North American event because of the beauty of the venue and the graciousness of the people. This is something that we should all be proud of.

I wanted to take this opportunity to thank all of the people involved in making the 2nd Annual Dragon Boat Festival a great success, which will only continue to grow.

First and foremost, the community of Hannawa Falls along with Michelle Garrow and her crew at Postwood Park. Hannawa Falls Fire Department, Chris Towler (EMT), and Todd Truax (DJ/MC). Special thanks to the Founding Dean Lenn Johns, the Town of Potsdam, and the Chamber of Commerce for their ongoing support, collaboration, and vision.

All of our sponsors: 1/2 Tons Bar and Grill, AAC, Barstow Motors, Brookfield Power, Claxton-Hepburn Medical Center, DeFelsko, Donaldson-Seymour Funeral Home, Ferrell Gas, Great Northern Printing, Ichor Life Sciences, Jakes on the Water, Jreck Subs, J.E. Bashes Majority City Council

What a dysfunctional, vindictive bunch this majority on Ogdensburg city council proves to be, at every single meeting since January 1 of 2020.

Tonight (July 24) was no exception to the gutter-like, irresponsible behavior and precedents set by these men of the 'majority' council - especially Skelly, Fisher and Dillabough tonight. A total public embarrassment and disgrace to elected officials everywhere. Not just locally, but throughout NYS. They are well known as a collection of know nothing, bumbling clowns. They should heartily congratulate themselves for that accomplishment.

I will give credit where credit is due, this time. Mr. Rishe voted for Mr. Tooley multiple times. But why wouldn't he agree to the vetting of this vote by our elusive city attorney, Scott Goldie, as multiple people requested? Makes no sense. Mr. Rishe seemed to be doing the sensible thing, until he didn't. We have seen that a few times before, unfortunately. I guess he's been consistent about that anyway.

It's pretty obvious that Skelly and his cohorts do not want solutions at all, with their endless games. Not filling Councillor Kennedy's seat this evening with a very qualified candidate like Mr. Michael Tooley, who had to further explain that he now has the time and attention to give to our city, is just another thick layer of incompetence and personal vindictive behavior by four worst councilors this city has ever seen. Or was Mr. Tooley voted in? After the first of many votes, Mr. Weaver was eliminated, Mr. Edie withdrew during the chaotic process, leaving Mr. Tooley as the last recommended candidate by the vacancy committee. So, why not vote for Mr. Tooley unanimously at this point? Why would Skelly and Fisher abstain all of a sudden, without a stated reason? There was a majority vote left to appoint Mr. Tooley. Why would they not concede to have our already paid city attorney to weigh in on their obvious antics? They have used him endlessly for their own failed agenda. He has never been at a meeting, that I can recall. They do not want him there, for quite obvious reasons. Apparently, Mr. Tooley is not part of their plan to destroy our city from within, for nothing more than personal schoolboy vindictiveness.

In my opinion, it seems rather obvious that they do not want someone with immense financial, government and community knowledge to question their self-serving motives and decisions. From the outside looking in, it seems that they are trying very rigorously and obviously to obstruct and hide something from Mr. Tooley and the taxpayers, especially about our finances. Once again my question is...what exactly are they hiding?? Absolutely disgusting and reckless behavior by these supposed government officials, once again.

A resounding thank you to Councilman Powers, Skamperle and Council Candidate Jennifer Stevenson for questioning the legality of the vote, per charter, and asking for a legal review of that ridiculous voting fiasco. Due diligence and knowledge is what this city will need after this bunch finally exits city hall. Good riddance to the four that will go down as the absolute worst councilors in Ogdensburg history, despite any perceived good they claim to have done. We all know the truth, we see it quite clearly at every council meeting.

November is coming....tick tock.

More than meets the eye

Sean Myers defended Murray Armstrong's contention that the Supreme Court is "out of control". Mr. Myers stated;

"In 1973, the Supreme Court ruled that abortion access was a right enshrined in the Constitution, so a state's law banning abortion was not "in accord with the Constitution."

Nowhere in the Constitution is the term "Abortion access" specifically stated as a "right". The Roe vs. Wade decision was based on a tenuous interpretation of a violation of a citizen's right to privacy based on Section One of the 14th amendment, not abortion itself. Ruth Ginsberg, an ardent liberal judge and feminist icon, did not think privacy was a viable reason for establishing abortion rights. Ginsberg believed the matter should have been framed as one of equal protection under the law rather than a case of privacy. She thought Roe vs. Wade decision was hastily made and would polarize the nation. She was correct.

The Court's decision never established abortion as an unlimited civil right. It allowed government to regulate or restrict abortion access based on the stage of pregnancy. As it is, six states, and Washington, D.C., do not impose any term restrictions abortion, allowing a baby to be terminated in the ninth month of pregnancy.

Norma McCorvey, AKA "Jane Roe", had lived a long troubled life of bad choices before the decision. She lied being gang raped to justify having an abortion. She admitted after the decision was passed that she had an unplanned pregnancy instead. The Roe vs.

Wade case was founded on a fabrication that should have resulted in the case thrown out prior to the vote. Ironically, Ms. McCorvey later became a Roman Catholic, a Pro-life advocate, and sought to have Roe vs. Wade overturned.

Mr. Myers wrote: "The Supreme Court is political, and it is now legislating for all right-wing causes, not just abortion."

One can say the same concerning the infamous 1857 Dredd Scott decision, of whom 7 of the 9 judges were Democrats ruled that citizenship and constitutional rights did not extend to those of Black descent.

Political liberal support of Roe vs. Wade resulted in Black women leading the nation with the greatest number of abortions, freezing the Black community at 13% of the US population for decades. Coincidence? I think not. Margret Sanger would have been pleased that Roe vs. Wade legalized her racist agenda to prevent the growth of minorities.

I'm not a legal expert. Only an ordinary citizen whose research discovered there is more to the issue than meets the eye.

Town of Lawrence history realized

I want to send a big Thank you to a group who helped bring a part of the Town Of Lawrence home.

Last spring I received a call from Dale Burnett about some post office boxes they had in Hopkinton. Alice, the historian before me, was to take care of them but did not get to it. So it fell on me. Mr. Burnett picked me up so I could see them. At first look I made up my mind, they were coming home.

It took a bit to get all the ideas to come together. First, how to get them down three flights of stairs and where to put them once they were back in the Town of Lawrence. So each step was worked on.

Thanks to the towns of Hopkinton and Lawrence workers from their town barns. Thanks to Justin Puffer. The stand to put them on was taken care of and he did a very nice job on it. I had to take some things up to the museum just before Christmas and had not heard about them. So I put some things in the building and started out and something did not look right so I turned and in the corner they were on the stand looking so wonderful.

I was so happy I went to the car and made my nephew come in and see them. Before I left, I went to the Town Barn and thanked the two men and felt like a kid who got her wish come through. They were in a store in Nicholville that Shorty Jenkins worked in. If anyone has information on this it would be nice to have. As said this should have been done before now. But life gets in the way. So it may be late but the words are meant. Thank you for bringing them home.

Town of Norfolk geared up for bicentennial celebration

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

NORFOLK — After nearly two years of planning, the town of Norfolk is set to kick off bicentennial celebrations on Aug. 4.

Town Clerk Jill Molnar said the 11 member committee that organized the events are continuing to finish up preparations but noted that all events are just about ready to go.

“We have one last meeting on Thursday to finish our preparations and then we will be ready to go,” she said.

Theresa Dumas, town historian, was the ringleader behind the committee, brainstorming and organizing many events.

“Theresa did so much work. The committee as a whole did so much but Theresa really was the ringleader behind it all,” Molnar said.

A number of local non-profit organizations also played a key role in preparations, including the Hepburn Library of Norfolk, Norfolk Volunteer Rescue Squad, Norfolk American Legion and Norfolk Volunteer Fire Department.

“We can’t thank Laurel (Murphy) enough. She and her staff have done a lot to help us and Laurel herself created our brochures,” Molnar said.

Murphy serves as the director of the Hepburn Library of Norfolk.

Events planned throughout the weekend will largely be held at the Dominic Zappia Arena and the baseball field next to it, Molnar said.

“A lot of what is happening will take place there. There are other events downtown as well, including the parade and events at the library as well. We also will have events at Coach Tavern and the American Legion,” Molnar said.

For those with young children, many events will be available each day to entertain children of all ages.

A Kid’s Entrepreneurial Fair will be held at the library from 4-6 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 4, with opening ceremonies planned from 6-7 p.m. at the arena.

“The Norwood Brass Firemen will be playing at the opening ceremony, which is always a great show,” Molnar said.

A family friendly barn dance will also be held on Aug. 4, beginning at 7 p.m. at the arena as well, she said.

“That will be a family friendly dance, it should be a lot of fun with Playback playing,” she said.

Saturday will see events beginning with a town wide garage sale at 8 a.m. and the parade set to beginning at 9 a.m.

A vendor fair will also be held beginning at 10 a.m. at the arena, with multiple types of vendors set to attend.

Carnival rides, face painting, balloon animals and inflatables, along with food trucks are scheduled from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the arena.

“It is sure to be a good time for everyone. We will have a lot going on each day, especially at the arena.

Fireworks will go off at 9 p.m. at the Raquette River Golf Course, with a rain date of Sunday night if weather does not allow.

On Sunday, closing ceremonies will be held with a breakfast planned from 8-11 a.m. at the American Legion and a raffle drawing and scavenger hunt set to follow right after.

“We’re very excited about how things have turned out and we hope everyone comes out and has a good time,” Molnar said.

Tribal Broadband Bootcamp slated

AKWESASNE — Over 50 people representing various Tribes and First Nations communities from across North America are slated to attend a free Tribal Broadband Bootcamp from July 31 to Aug. 2.

Hosted by Mohawk Networks in Akwesasne, this will be the seventh bootcamp that brings together Indigenous high-speed Internet advocates to explore how Tribal Nations can bring ubiquitous broadband access to one of the least connected parts of the country.

Participants do not need previous experience as everyone from broadband beginners to the more tech savvy are welcome.

While the bootcamp is rapidly approaching and available spots are filling up fast, there is still time for members of the community of Akwesasne and those who live near to attend.

Interested would-be participants can register to attend at Tribal-BroadbandBootcamp.com.
