POTSDAM — A new technology company with Department of Defense contracts and ties to Clarkson University has opened offices in Potsdam.

State and village officials, along with representatives from the Potsdam Chamber of Commerce and Clarkson University, joined representatives from the firm Ombra at an official ribbon cutting ceremony at their new offices at 19 Market St. recently.

The firm, which maintains its headquarters offices in Tampa, Fla., develops technology products in the areas of biometrics, space technologies, AI, machine learning, power and energy, chemical detection, undersea and more.

“Ombra’s tagline is everything between underwater adhesives and space,” Ombra president and founder Michael Fieldson told North Country This Week. “Our engineers have led or supported product development across this vast spectrum with a focus on biometrics, space technology, artificial intelligence and machine learning, power and energy and undersea technology. We also have achieved success in Chemical Engineering through our Chemical Detection Testing Technology (CDTT), and Advanced Water Testing Technology (AWTT). CDTT was delivered to the Air Force this month to finalize our contract and bring new technology to the battlefield.”

The company has secured several prime and subcontracts with the U.S. Department of Defense, but are not limited to military contract work.

“Ombra is very flexible in terms of our technological capabilities and is supported by a team of diverse engineers across multiple disciplines,” Fieldson said.

The company has collaborated with Clarkson University students and professors to support many of its ongoing projects.

“We have used them as subject matter experts in many engineering fields, especially chemistry. Several of our current interns are Clarkson students and moreover, a few of our full-time employees have converted from our Clarkson

County trash costs pile up as haulers fall behind

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI

North Country This Week

CANTON — Expenses continue to rise for the county Solid Waste Department, stemming from equipment repairs, recycling tipping fees, building and property maintenance and staff turnover.

St. Lawrence County Legislators approved a budget modification during the finance committee meeting on Sept. 25 to cover the expenses that are projected to exceed the 2023 budget but not without a few questions.

According to County Highway Superintendent Don Chambers, the modification will allow him to move funds within his department budget to cover the expenses.

With the budget modifications, Chambers said he can stay within the existing budget.

In particular, Chambers said high turnover among mechanics has led to outsourcing for repairs, driving up costs significantly in recent months.

Another added expense that was not originally planned was the rising costs associated with the new guard shack at the Ogdensburg transfer station.

Though staffing proved to be an issue earlier this year in the Solid Waste Department, Chambers said staffing has stabilized and should not be an issue moving forward.

Though the budget modifications were approved, Legislator David Forsythe questioned the need after legislators previously approved a similar resolution earlier this summer that totaled around $400,000.

Forsythe pointed to multiple overdue bills from multiple haulers around the county, saying that the two largest outstanding bills would move than cover the budget modifications approved.

“One of the largest...is making payments on the principal every Canton Democrats finalized their slate of candidates Friday morning outside the Canton Municipal Building.

Election Day is Nov. 7. Early voting will begin Oct. 28.

As executive director of both the Canton Housing Authority and Potsdam Housing Authority, Santmoor brings a strong financial background, along with organizational skills, to town government.

Brown, who currently sits on the town board as a replacement for Bob Washo who resigned his town board seat in December, and Wayne Cuthbert, a newcomer to Canton politics, are seeking two town council seats up for grabs this November.

SLC Arts renovation project progressing in Potsdam

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — With the asbestos cleared from the floors, walls and ceiling at the Creative Spirit Art Center at 6 and 8 Raymond Street, SLC Arts expects the center's renovation project to move to the next phase.

That work could be finished after the first part of next year allowing the organization to move back in.

However, projected costs of the renovation have exceeded initial estimates due to the climb in the cost of materials and construction over the last couple years. SLC Arts needs to raise an additional $200,000 to cover the cost of the work.

"We are so fortunate here at SLC Arts to have an enthusiastic team working with us to make this dream a reality. Our board of directors, staff, and the capital campaign team we've been building are excited to get the last bit of funding to move forward," said Maggie McKenna, SLC Arts co-executive director.

"This project is vital to our community and to our organization. We have a plan to cover the budget increases, but we could always use the support of community members who are dedicated to the potential of this great North Country community and our Potsdam-based center," McKenna told North Country This Week.

The most recent cost estimate for the project is $778,000. St Lawrence County Arts Council, Inc., also known as SLC Arts, received a state grant of $578,000 by way of the Village of Potsdam's Downtown Revitalization Initiative for the center.

However, SLC Arts officials say that since applying for the grant in Sept. 2022, costs of construction and materials have climbed, leaving $200,000 for the organization to raise from other sources.

"At this point, nearly every portion of the Creative Spirit renovation project has doubled in cost from the initial projection, which is in line with what many others across the country are experiencing. Due to these significant cost increases, our next phase of renovations, which is DRI-funded, has been scaled down," SLC Arts said in a project update circulated via email.

Earlier this year, the organization moved out of the Creative Spirit center to its current temporary location at 45 Market St. so the renovation at Creative Spirit could begin.

The project work thus far has included extensive asbestos removal from both 6 and 8 Raymond St.

SLC Arts has signed a contract with Northern Tier Contracting to take on the next phase of renovations starting Sept. 25.

The firm is currently handling the second floor expansion project at the North Country Children's Museum next door to the center.

The organization anticipates this phase to be complete by January 2024 and they hope to move back in to house their offices, meeting space, gallery, retail space and programs there.

This next phase of work will include the construction of two new restrooms, an elevator, and new electrical, heating and cooling equipment, plumbing and insulation.

The total $778,000 cost breakdown of the project includes: $530,000 for construction costs, $105,000 for asbestos abatement and environmental testing, $75,000 for elevator purchase and installation, $35,000 for architecture and design services and $33,000 for administration.

SLC Arts is working from a building loan to fund the upfront project costs but needs to pay that off, as well as raise the extra $200,000 they didn't expect.

To make up the additional, unanticipated $200,000 cost overage, SLC Arts is trying to raise funds from corporations, foundations and donors.

To help with the project and donate to the cost, individuals and organizations can contact McKenna at maggie@slcartcouncil.org.

Domestic violence awareness

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month in St. Lawrence County.

Legislators passed a resolution approving the proclamation during the Operations Committee meeting on Sept. 18.

Officials say the St. Lawrence County Violence Task Force has been working to bring about changes "in community norms which support the development of healthy relationships and families in our communities."

The task force offers a number of services, which are continually being built upon, that include prevention, crisis intervention and counseling through shelter, advocacy and legal intervention.

"As the lead agency of the task force, Renewal House has planned activities throughout the county to raise awareness about domestic violence," officials say.

The theme this year is #Every1KnowsSome1, officials say.

"Domestic violence is more than physical violence and we should all strive to show support to survivors, help to prevent domestic violence in the future, understand what it is, who it impacts and why everyone should care," officials say.

Lead poisoning awareness week in SLC

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — The week of Oct. 22-29 has been proclaimed as National Lead Poisoning Prevention Week in St. Lawrence County. Legislators approved a resolution for the proclamation during the Sept. 18 Services Committee meeting.

According to the Public Health Department, even low levels of lead exposure have been shown to affect the developing brains of children, causing health problems by elevating blood lead levels that are often invisible and irreversible in children.

Public Health officials say they have worked to encourage parents to have young children screened for elevated blood lead levels at one and two years of age.

State officials have also stepped up to address blood lead levels in children as well, passing a new public health law in Oct. 2019 that lowered the definition of an elevated blood lead level by half. As a result, the number of children in St. Lawrence County being monitored for EBLs increased.

As of Sept. 2023, the Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program through the Department of Public Health is currently monitoring 81 children with elevated blood levels, officials say.

At the national level, over half a million children in the U.S. have lead levels high enough to cause learning disabilities, behavioral problems, developmental delays and, at very high levels, seizures, coma and even death, according to the resolution.

"The Public Health Department recognizes the importance of educating parents and communities about the sources of lead exposure and the Public Health Department joins the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in encouraging parents to learn more about lead exposure and prevention," officials say.

Department of Health officials say increasing awareness of childhood lead exposure "is critically important so that parents, health care providers, housing authorities, building and construction interests, educators and others can work together to prevent children from being exposed to lead in the environment."

Bridge, highway project funding coming

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — St. Lawrence County is moving forward with two major bridge and highway projects after receiving significant funding through the 2022 Bridge NY Project.

According to County Highway Superintendent Don Chambers, two projects were recently approved for funding that will see 95% of project costs covered through federal funding that will pass through the state.

The remaining 5% of project costs will come from the county, he said.

The bridge on County Route 35 that spans Trout Brook will be completely replaced under the project, along with significant safety work.

Chambers said the intersection of Potsdam/Morley Road and CR 35 will be completely reconstructed to improve safety, along with the replacement of the bridge.

"It will be a totally new intersection once it's done," he said.

A second project was also awarded funding under the Bridge NY Project, covering a bridge replacement for the Lazy River Road, which crosses the Grasse River.

Funding will be the same for that project as well, with 95% of project costs covered through federal funding that will pass through the state.

The remaining 5% of project costs will come from the county.

That project will also be a full bridge replacement with safety enhancements that will be "quite substantial," according to Chambers.

"This location, a short time ago, unfortunately had a fatality," he said.

Chambers said everything in the area will be upgraded, with a significantly better bridge set to be installed following a realignment.

Both projects are set to go out to bid at the end of October, with bid awards expected to be announced in a future board meeting in November.

Chambers said if either project exceeds the allocated funding from the federal government, the county will be on the hook for the remaining balance.

"These are huge improvement projects, I'm glad to see these projects moving forward. They've been signed for a few years, we were just waiting for the funding to align," Chambers said.

Chambers and the highway department were also given praise from Legislator Joseph Lightfoot who complimented the work completed on Black Lake Road.

Lightfoot said he has received numerous compliments from constituents who said the project has been transformational for the area.

"It's been a complete 180 since it was nearly finished," he said.

Lightfoot said the road is "like driving on a runway" now.

"This board ought to extend their thanks and good wishes to your people who did the work out there. They did an excellent job," Lightfoot said.

Gray says SUNY Potsdam fiscal plan shows determination

POTSDAM — Assemblyman Scott Gray (R-Watertown), who represents Potsdam in District 116, said SUNY Potsdam's plan to recover from its $9 million deficit shows determination to find sustainable solutions for the future.

The university plans to dissolve 14 programs but cannot yet confirm how many staff positions would be cut.

Gray issued the following statement on the issue Thursday afternoon (Sept. 21):

"This past Tuesday, I attended the announcement of a plan to ensure SUNY Potsdam's future. SUNY Potsdam is a valuable institution that has provided high-quality education and played a significant role in the community for many years. Despite the financial challenges it currently faces, SUNY Potsdam remains committed to the success of its students and the betterment of the region.

"The proposed measures to address the budget deficit, such as program recalibration and potential building closures, demonstrate the university's determination to find sustainable solutions for the future. The support and collaboration of all stakeholders, including faculty, staff and the community, will be instrumental in navigating these challenging times and ensuring SUNY Potsdam's continued excellence. SUNY Potsdam is not unique in these circumstances, as campuses across the state and country continue to experience declining enrollment. I completely understand the need to right-size campuses based on historical enrollment data.

"I will also continue to advocate for equitable funding and an inventory and review of excess building assets across the SUNY system with the potential to relieve the burden on the individual institutions. We must all stand together and prepare to assist for long-term viability," Gray concluded.

Unemployment rate steady at 4.5%

The unemployment rate in St. Lawrence County currently stands at 4.5%, without seasonal adjustment, 0.6 percent higher than the New York state seasonally adjusted rate.

According to a state Department of Labor report issued this week, the county's unemployment rate decreased 0.3 percent when comparing Aug. 2022 to Aug. 2023.

The state unemployment rate is 3.9 percent.

In neighboring counties, the unemployment in Jefferson County is 3.8 percent, down 0.2 percent from 4.0 percent in Aug. 2023.

Franklin County's unemployment rate is 3.6 percent, a drop of 0.1 percent from 3.7 percent in Aug. 2022.

Rates are calculated using methods prescribed by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The State's area unemployment rates rely in part on the results of the Current Population Survey, which contacts approximately 3,100 households in New York State each month.

Potsdam Town Board begins budget process

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — Budget work has begun and the town board is hashing out the numbers for next year's salaries for the clerk, supervisor and other town officials.

The board is also reviewing funding requests for the coming year for the fire departments and various community groups.

Town board members held a special meeting to discuss some pay and funding requests on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The numbers are far from being finalized. The board is expected to deliberate more before approving a tentative budget for the coming year. That tentative budget will then be approved and subjected to a public comment period before adoption in the coming weeks.

At the Tuesday meeting the board narrowed down a few salaries for town officials for the coming year.

Current Supervisor Ann Carvill, who is not expected to run for the spot this fall, argued for an increase to the town supervisor's salary.

She told the board that the job has become more involved with greater and greater responsibilities.

"When things go wrong they come knocking at the supervisor's door," Carvill said. She said the job logs in easily 30 hours a week or more and that as supervisor she is often on call to handle issues that arise.

She asked for board member opinions on what the new salary should be.

Deputy Supervisor Marty Miller, who is expected to run for the position on the November ballot, said that no matter who is elected to the position, that he would be more comfortable setting the salary at $30,000. "And it could go lower than $30,000," Miller said. T

The current supervisor salary for 2023 is set at $40,250.

Town Board Member Lynn Hall said $40,000 was respectable for the workload, but agreed to $35,000, an amount also supported by Town Board Member Toni Kennedy.

The board also discussed an increase to $62,000 from $57,000 annual salary for the town clerk's position. An increase to $60,000 was agreed to after some review by the board.

Other salaries discussed included town highway supervisor, town justices, confidential secretary, town assessor and tax collector.

The following funding requests were among some of those discussed at the Sept. 26 meeting and penciled in for the coming year's budget:

- The town's independent auditor requested $16,250, down from the current year's amount of $17,000.

- The Chamber of Commerce requested an increase of $5,200 to $7,000. The board honed the number down to $6,000.

- Norwood Golden Agers, who received no funding in the current year, asked the town council to suggest an amount. The board agreed to $1,000 for the coming year.

- Norwood Beach Recreation asked for a $3,000 increase to its funding, up from $18,000. The board agreed that they needed more clarity on the funding needs at the beach before committing to an increase.

- Crary Mills Playground's requested amount was less than they currently receive.

- Norwood Museum is requesting an increase from $4,700 to $7,500. "What caught my attention on this particular thing is that it appears to be an enterprise in great fiscal distress," said Carvill of the museum. The supervisor said she had some real concerns about giving money to the organization that is having trouble paying its bills. The board opted to hold off action on the request until a future budget session.

- Potsdam Fire asked for an increase from $135,400 to $155,000. The board agreed to support $145,000.

- West Potsdam Fire is requesting an increase from around $112,000 to about $121,000. The board agreed on $120,000.

Frank Barkley American Legion, Sandstoner Seniors, Potsdam Active Senior Citizens, Norwood Village Green, Potsdam Museum, Potsdam Rescue and Norwood Fire Department all requested the same funding allotment as the current year. Also staying the same will be the $6,000 allotted to the cemeteries.

Several organizations traditionally funded by the town, including Potsdam Amvets and Hannawa Fire Department, have yet to submit any funding requests even though they were prompted to do so by the town earlier this summer.

"Those sheets went out in early August so people had a month to respond and now it's the end of September," said Carvill, expressing some frustration.

Teen accused of punching police officer in face

POTSDAM -- A teen was charged after allegedly punching a police officer in the face following a disorderly male complaint Sept. 19, according to village police.

Zaedyn A. Carpenter, 18, Champlain, was charged with third-degree attempted assault and resisting arrest at 6:21 a.m. on Leroy Street, police said.

Carpenter became non-complaint during the investigation and allegedly struck an officer in the face with a closed fist and then resisted arrest.

He was cited and released.

Synthetic marijuana warning

New York State Dept of Health officials are issuing a warning about synthetic cannabinoids that have been solid in the Mohawk Valley.

Officials say the samples contained synthetic opioids that can create a deadly cocktail when ingested.

Two samples taken of the cannabinoids, often known as K2 and Spice among other names, were purchased at local convenience stores and contained five Novel Psychoactive Substances (NPS), including two potent novel synthetic opioids.

"Synthetic cannabinoids should never be confused for legally sold cannabis," New York State Health Commissioner Dr. James McDonald said. "These synthetic cannabinoids often contain harmful substances that have a range of effects from euphoria to causing extreme anxiety, disorientation, hallucinations, and psychosis. However, it is rare to find opioids in the product and this new addition can cause overdose or even death. If you witness someone experiencing an overdose, treat it as an opioid overdose and administer naloxone as soon as possible."

Officials say synthetic cannabinoids are not natural products but rather chemical mixtures created in a laboratory to mimic THC, which is the main psychoactive ingredient in marijuana.

Over the years, hundreds of different synthetic cannabinoid chemicals are manufactured and sold, with new ones appearing each year, state officials say.

According to state officials, the synthetic marijuana is then sold in convenience stores, gas stations, head shops, and bodegas, as well as by individuals to users who often believe they are legal and safe.

In some cases synthetic marijuana can have unpredictable and harmful effects, officials say.

"The Department reminds New Yorkers that naloxone can be an effective antidote for opioid overdose including synthetic opioids and should be used for any suspected overdose including incidents where it is reported the individual only used a synthetic cannabinoid, like K2 or Spice, or other pills or drugs including stimulants such as cocaine and methamphetamine," officials said in a press release.

Raquette Lions Club donates $10,000 to NCCM

POTSDAM -- The Raquette Lion's Club recently made a $10,000 donation toward the North Country Children's Museum's second floor expansion project.

"We are pleased to present a check for $10,000 toward the North Country Children's Museum Expansion Project," said Laura Gregory, treasurer of Raquette River Lions Club. "This is a combination of funds from the local Raquette River Lions Club, a grant from the Brandel-Murphy Youth Foundation of Lions, and a matching grant from the New York State and Bermuda Lions Foundation. We appreciate the museum's efforts to provide a fun and safe environment for youth to learn in our community."

This donation brings the museum closer to its $3,500,000 fundraising goal.

The Children's Museum has raised $3,060,000 including this donation and renovation of the building is in progress.

They anticipate an opening in the summer of 2024 if all fundraising goals are met.

"We are really excited about the new exhibits coming to the second floor and we're so grateful to the Lion's Club members for supporting the museum's expansion with this generous gift," said Sharon Vegh Williams, executive director of the museum.

Madrid-Waddington Central plans $15.2M capital project

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

MADRID – Residents in the Madrid-Waddington School District will be going to the polls Oct. 18 to vote on a $15.2 million capital improvement project and two propositions involving capital reserve funds.

The first proposition will be the capital improvement project with an aggregate cost of $15,200,000 and a net zero increase to the tax levy by an appropriation of up to $1,700,000 of excess, unallocated funds held by the District for capital improvements.

“Our building projects are aidable at 90% so the $1.7M offsets the remaining 10%. The complete scope of the work will be shared over the next several weeks, however some of the primary improvements will address reconstruction needs in the parking lot, loading dock, high school kitchen, elementary cafeteria, roofing in select area, basement concrete in select area, HS gymnasium exterior, building envelope foundation masonry, floor tiles in select areas, elementary lockers, HVAC in select areas, windows and doors in select areas, athletic track and bus garage heating system,” a press release from the district superintendent’s office states.

The project also includes an additional bus garage bay with a bus wash system pending state approval for aide.

“As we utilize funds the district has set aside over the past several years to offset the cost of this project we will need to look ahead to begin saving for a future project, thus the need to establish new reserve funds. The district has historically held funds for capital improvements and transportation purchases in one category, however as we have discussed with our auditors and fiscal advisors we believe we can improve transparency by maintaining two separate reserve funds,” the release notes.

An informational public hearing will be held Wednesday, Oct. 4 at 6 p.m. when district officials will be sharing complete details on the project scope using multiple media platforms. The district will also host a walking tour Wednesday, Oct. 11 at 6 p.m. at the high school vestibule.

The second proposition will seek voter approval to establish a reserve fund which will be known as the “2023 Capital Improvements Reserve Fund,” with the purpose of the fund being to finance construction, reconstruction, improvement and equipping of school buildings and facilities. The maximum aggregate of this fund would be $3,000,000 with a probable term of the fund to be 10 years.

“This would allow the district to save up to this amount to offset a project that would be voted upon sometime before the expiration of the 10-year term,” the release reads.

The third proposition will seek to establish a reserve fund which will be known as the “2023 Transportation/Equipment Reserve Fund,” with the purpose of the fund being to finance the purchase of school buses, vehicles and equipment. The maximum aggregate of this fund would be $2,000,000 with a probable term of the fund to be 10 years.

“Our new diesel buses are currently costing approximately $185,000 so as we factor in inflation we believe that this reserve fund would allow us to build up savings that could fund our bus rotation for 5 years,” the release explains.

internship program. We value this connection and see it as a prime location for recruiting talented employees," Fieldson said.

Currently the firm employs over 30 people between its two locations and has partnered with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce program Hiring Our Heroes to bolster its workforce with veterans transitioning from military service into the private sector.

Ombra is currently recruiting several positions in mechanical, electrical, software and chemical engineering.

The company has experienced consistent growth and expansion into new markets and expects to expand with a larger footprint in 2024. "Ombra is currently determining how to split the projected growth between the two offices and the possibility of future locations," Fieldson said. "Ombra is always looking for new opportunities for growth. We have recently signed reseller agreements for data encryption software and look to broaden our business into government services over the next year."

"Ombra is committed to supporting the community of Potsdam and is proud of our personal and business relationships that have been built over the last year. We plan to continue our support of Clarkson University and to rely upon their raw talent to join us in providing the highest quality products to the US Military. We recognize that the support that the people of Potsdam give to Ombra is equally important to Ombra's business position in town," the president said.

"We are glad to join with the Chamber and other local businesses to do our part in lifting the proud people of Potsdam to new heights.

We wish to thank the Chamber and the local population for their support and providing us with this great opportunity to further our service to the nation," said Fieldson.

DEMS...

Brown says he's eager to continue to serve Canton.

"With his teaching and coaching background, Brown brings a high sense of organization, leadership, and Collaboration to the board and is enthusiastic about continuing to serve," said Julie Parkman, Town of Canton Democratic chair in a news release.

Cuthbert is a 30-year member and current president of the IBEW Local 910 union, and a farmer.

"Having held leadership positions in the construction industry, Cuthbert is uniquely positioned to offer practical experience and a fresh perspective on many challenges facing local government," the release stated.

Sorensen will be seeking her second term as a village trustee. Sorensen is committed to prioritizing economic development and infrastructure improvements, supporting municipal staff and working effectively across party lines, the Town and community partners, the release said.

"Beekman promises to remain a responsible steward of public funds and is committed to collaborative governance with a focus on balancing community needs with fiscal reality," the release stated.

month," Chambers responded.

Chambers said the hauler, who was not named in public session, has been paying a few thousand dollars over the interest that accrues each month and has been paying with cash for each transaction.

"They're making payments on the interest and also the debt that has accrued," Chambers said.

According to the resolution, recycling tipping fees exceeded the 2023 budget due to fees increasing from $13.27/ton in 2022 to $104.82/ton in 2023. Fees for tires increased from $168/ton to $193.20/ton as well.

Forsythe went on further, questioning if a written agreement were in place with the company to ensure payments will be made.

Chambers said that a formal payment arrangement has not been established, however a verbal agreement is in place with the hauler.

"I guess I don't know how we got to this so substantial...it keeps going on and on," Forsythe said.

Forsythe also pointed to modifications that have moved over $650,000 around in the Solid Waste Department budget this year, saying such moves would eventually lead to taxpayers being on the hook for outstanding debt.

"The people using it are eventually going to pay for it. It's going to be pushed to the taxpayers utilizing it," he said.

Chambers said a strict policy would soon be established to keep bills from getting out of control with haulers.

That action could come during a committee meeting in the near future, he said.

Chambers also spoke to the Ogdensburg guard shack project and related expenses, saying that the project should have been in a capital account so the project funds could be encumbered to roll over from one budget to the next if necessary. The resolution passed included line items to offset the project, he said.

In total, revenue increased $177,700 with the modifications, while appropriations in two accounts decreased $47,500. Building improvements, equipment repair, heating purchases and tipping fee appropriations all were increased $225,200 from the budget modifications.

"I hope you hear my concerns because this is very concerning to me," Forsythe said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Questions leadership at SUNY Potsdam

Recently, SUNY Potsdam announced the reduction of some of its majors and the closing of some buildings in an effort to close a $9 million deficit. I know only what I have read in the newspaper. So, my comments may not be fully informed.

The decline in enrollment between 2012 and the current year has been dramatic. Where was the school leadership doing during that period of decline? If interest in a commercial product is declining, most manufacturers would try to remediate the product or maybe just stop producing. Why has the leadership of SUNY Potsdam waited this long to react much less respond?

SUNY Potsdam serves many from the North Country. Wasn't the leadership of SUNY Potsdam not aware of the dwindling school age population in many of the North Country school districts. A school cannot enroll students who are not there.

During this decline in enrollment, some public school districts have increased administrators. Increasing administrators with decreasing student population does not make sense. Has SUNY Potsdam done the same?

Has SUNY Potsdam faced the reality that fewer students are equipped to go to college? What about the reality that renewed interest in the trades and in skill jobs is attracting more young people? A college education is wonderful and can open many doors for young adults. However, more young adults are pursuing other avenues and forging different paths to provide for themselves and their future families.

A plan to close some buildings may provide immediate financial relief. However, unused buildings eventually become a liability rather than an asset.

Pouring more money into any institution so that the institution can continue doing what has not worked is not a solution. Renewal that comes from within will provide a strength greater than a mere infusion of cash.

Drop speed limit to 30 mph

I've lived here on outer Elm Street and 11B for 40 years. The speed limit should be changed to 30 miles an hour because there have been so many accidents on our property and surrounding properties over the years.

We live in the village where we also have to pay village taxes so changing the speed limit has many benefits for all of us who live in the village limits.

Enforcing the current speed limit will not change anything. They have tried that since I was a child and were not successful. So changing the speed limit will be better all the way around.

Questions masking of children

A friend of mine brought her two small children to the doctor recently. She was told they would be denied treatment unless she agreed to make them wear masks.

My question is why? Does anyone seriously believe those children posed a threat to the adults working at the doctor's office? Does anyone remember when all unvaccinated Hospital employees were threatened with termination? Most of them caved to keep their jobs. Hospitals are the most highly vaccinated places on earth and you're telling me it's still not safe to let children smile?

What was the point of 2020-2022?

Why did we spend trillions of dollars, destroy futures with lockdown depression/suicides, and force billions of human beings to take new drugs against their will? Drugs that were advertised as being a replacement for masking!

What was the point if in 2023 we still have to act like two small children walking into a doctor's office are somehow a threat?

Depending on which estimate you trust around 60% of communication is nonverbal. I have to ask the older generation, what are you thinking? Are you prepared to sell off the future of your grandchildren? To let them inherit a world where they can't clearly communicate with their friends, their lovers, or neighbors on the street?

This March was the 20th anniversary of the Iraq war, a senseless horror that claimed hundreds of thousands of lives and displaced millions of people. It took countless courageous Americans that wanted justice for 9/11 and sent them into a conflict that had nothing to do with 9/11.

I believe the war was created by government experts who read scientific evidence of nukes that in the end didn't exist to the American people on Television. Does that sound at all familiar? Government Experts advocating for wrong things with scientific evidence on Television?

I hope masking doesn't come back in full force along with all the other Covid Lockdown brutalities, but they may do very well if you let them. If this generation is truly willing to throw away the beauty and wonders that are the human experience, trillions of smiles, of chance encounters, of hugs, of tearful embraces, of frowns, of laughing children, all because they are afraid of dying from sickness, I have very bad news for you.

Someday everyone reading this will die of sickness. The only question is if you are going to live between now and then.

Back to School program a success

We at Church & Community Program are happy to report that thanks to the help and generosity of our volunteers and donors, hundreds of students are off to a smooth start with new backpacks stuffed with essential supplies. They also have fresh haircuts, and stylish, high-quality new sneakers. This year, our program served 103 families with 260 students in the Canton Central, Hermon-Dekalb and Edwards-Knox school districts.

Thank you to Stewart's Shops and all the shoppers who donated to the annual Holiday Match. Those coins really add up, and the Church & Community Program in Canton was the happy recipient of a $1,500 grant that helps make this program possible.

Retired teacher Pat Sibbitts has headed the program for years, while longtime CCP Board member and volunteer Cheryl Glidden introduced the sneaker part three years ago to allow students to put their best foot forward. Thank you to both women and their dedicated volunteers for their hard work and fundraising.

Thank you also to the Salvation Army for donating sturdy backpacks and to the youngsters of the Calvary Baptist Vacation Bible School who chose to donate $500 to CCP's program. Leigh Stark of MVP in Potsdam also has our deep thanks for all her help in obtaining all of these sneakers on time, in the right size and color.

We now pass the fundraising and organizing baton to the Giving Tree Committee. More news on that will be coming soon.

Transparency for Travis in supervisor's race

Getting the information out to the people of Norfolk will be a major focal point when I am elected Norfolk Town Supervisor.

According to NYS FOIL and Open Government Law, public board meetings should be available to all. Currently, the only minutes provided to the people are on the Town of Norfolk's website and include only the Town Board meetings. (Zoning and Planning board meetings are not available)

Providing taxpayers with all information removes any suspicion of deception, thus promoting a mutual respect and trust between government and constituents.

Secondly, upon election I will immediately begin live-streaming all board meetings (as is done in almost all other towns and villages across the state/country.) Folks raising families don't always have time to attend board meetings. Others have no means of transportation. Work schedules can also interfere, etc., etc. My plan will give all the opportunity to observe meetings online, at a time that best fits their busy schedules.

Thirdly, people must be allowed to speak during the "public comments" portion of the meeting agenda. When elected, I will never cut off any of my constituents during public comments, as long as those comments are offered in a respectful and non-threatening fashion. Public comments offer residents an opportunity to voice questions or concerns about their town. It is imperative that people have the opportunity to speak to their elected officials.

Fourth, Board members will be provided with an agenda at least 5 days before any scheduled meeting. (This is SOP for most towns and villages). Handing out agendas at the beginning of the meeting (as is done now) gives board members no chance to prepare or educate themselves on the upcoming issues.

Fifth, positions on any Norfolk Board will be made with public awareness beforehand, in an effort to find the best-qualified candidate.

There will be no backdoor-appointed officials.

Finally, I will not be the first one to leave at meetings' end. I am interested in what my constituents have to say and believe that forging a relationship with them is the only way forward for the revitalization of our town.

for Norfolk Town Supervisor

Pay attention: you just might learn something Every day's a school day, but you have to retain the lessons

Every day is a school day, or at least it should be.

It's easy to forget how much we learn, or could learn on any given day. It's easy to miss out on things that sit right in front of us.

Our office is located on Clarkson Avenue in Potsdam and has been since 2018. Previously it was located on Depot Street.

Editor's Notebook

Jimmy Lawton

The old building was so cramped we practically sat on each other's laps, but it was a nice location for lunch break walks.

It was near many restaurants and businesses. One year I was even able to grab garbage plates on a near daily basis -- if you know, you know -- and while I'm sad it closed, it's probably been beneficial to my health.

There are still many businesses and eateries worth popping into along the strip but in those days I'd stroll up Market Street trying any restaurant I'd never eaten at before and I'd also make a habit of popping into the nearby thrift stores at least twice a week and the consignment shops every other week.

I've found some pretty fun stuff there over the years, from a decent bass guitar to an old steel Swingline stapler. I've lived my life with few, if any regrets, but I really wish I'd pulled the trigger on some lawn darts I saw there as a reminder of America's better days.

But I digress. When we moved into the new building I found myself taking fewer strolls downtown. We still aren't located very far from Potsdam's retail and restaurant area, but it's just far enough to make it tricky to fit in the lunch break window.

In recent weeks I discovered that a shortcut to the Munter Trail is right behind my office. So I decided to take a stroll and it was a nice change of pace. The stupidity I'd felt from missing it literally for years was similar to the time I misread the word orangutan out loud as orange-uh-tan in front of my kids. They laughed, but I simply wondered how it'd happened.

On any given day, I speak with dozens of people. And while I do listen and react at the time, I often fail to follow up on suggestions given to me.

At this point, you're wondering where I'm going with this ramble. Well, I'm encouraging you to learn from my mistakes.

I'm reminding you to pay a little more attention to your surroundings and recommendations of others. If every day's a school day, it's probably a good idea to start taking notes. That's something I've been trying to do lately.

I'm reminding you to pay a little more attention to your surroundings and recommendations from others.

I'm sure many of you discovered this long ago, but outside of work, I've never been a big notetaker.

I'd like to miss out on fewer things, like that taco truck that's been spotted in Potsdam.

For years I missed out on a trail that's only a few hundred feet from my office, because I wasn't really paying attention. I'm sure more than once someone probably told me about it.

One nice thing about the North Country is there are usually a lot of different routes we can take to get to the same place with only a slight difference in time.

I've found over the years that one of the best ways to find new things is by simply taking a different route to a familiar place.

There is also more than one way to experience a drive or ride and while it's nice to blast your favorite song or podcast, it's worth taking the occasional drive without that noise and looking at those things we pass all the time but never noticed.

Pay attention. Take a note. You just might learn something.

NCNOW SURVEY

The Question: Do you plan to visit a St. Lawrence County apple orchard this year?

APPLE ORCHARDS across St. Lawrence County are open offering bagged apples, U-pick, and other apple-related treats. Do you plan to visit a St. Lawrence County apple orchard this year?

HERE ARE COMMENTS from some survey participants:

'Better than supermarket. Not stored so long.'

'No apples for me. I'm allergic to apples! This time of year is the worst!'

'Gonna make apple pie, apple crisp, apple dumplings, apple sauce, fried apples, apple fritters, apple juice, apple cider, apple jelly, apple cake and apple jam. I think that's about it Forrest.'

'I have my own trees and we had a record crop'

'An apple-a-day!'

'Apple a day keeps the doctor away!. Fiber is so important. So healthy but can cause cramps.'

'Not only do we visit and purchase from multiple apple orchards and stands each year, but we purchase and preserve apples to last through the following year. With food quality going down and prices rising, it is comforting to know that what you get by purchasing from local orchards is well worth the investment. We would love to see an expansion to include other viable fruits such as pears, peaches, plums.'

'Can't afford the gas to get there.'

'The only thing you get from apple orchards are multiple trips to the bathroom. Apples and cider: mother's nature's ExLax.'

'I buy lots of apples to freeze for the cold winter months.'

'Counting the 2 crab apple trees, we have 9. I'll pass. We give them to our neighbors whom have horses. Also to the Amish who give us pies etc.'

I plan on being a regular at Kaneb's!

No, I have my own tree and it is loaded.

Better than super market not stored so long.

We get ours at North Raquette most times

Love them!

I have a BIG apple tree in my yard, so probably not.

NO, I grow my own.

I have my own trees and we had a record crop

Fresh apples are great

Stand at Canton Apples for cider and bagged apples!

Small Business Expo set Oct. 7 at Hermon-DeKalb Central School

DEKALB JUNCTION — The DeKalb Revitalization Committee will hold its first annual Small Business Expo Saturday, Oct. 7 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. at Hermon-DeKalb Central School, 709 E. DeKalb Rd.

Participation in the Expo is free for Hermon and DeKalb entrepreneurs thanks to a donation from an anonymous DeKalb resident.

Interested businesses should visit www.IBelieveinDeKalb.com to complete an application.

They may also request a printed application via mail at DRC PO Box 244 DeKalb Junction NY 13630. Space is limited.

It is open to all businesses, vendors, crafters, musicians, and artists that either have a physical footprint in Hermon, DeKalb, or Richville or are residents who operate online or out of their homes. Participants are welcome to sell their wares, hand out free samples, or set up information booths. They can also leave literature for the public to take home.

Public admission is also free. This event is part of the DRC's continued efforts to support and promote the town's economy. The committee has been compiling and verifying information about the entrepreneurs in the community with the aim to publish a business directory that will be available on Hermon and DeKalb's Town websites, the DRC site, and later as a hard copy booklet that will be distributed to the public.

This directory will be part of a larger marketing and rebranding effort for the Town of DeKalb. The DRC plans to create a "Welcome (Back) to DeKalb" community guide that will provide free or low cost advertising for small businesses, a vital information resource for residents, and will serve to promote DeKalb as a destination for visitors, new residents, and new commercial investment. Businesses who have not already been contacted by the committee should email info@IBelieveinDeKalb.com to ensure they are included.

Thus far, nearly two hundred businesses, farms, artisans, and "side hustles" are on the registry, including many "mom and pop" establishments that may not otherwise have the budget for advertising. Beyond providing an opportunity for sales and promotion, the DRC hopes that the expo serves as a networking event for entrepreneurs - possibly one that could lead to the formation of a joint Towns of Hermon and DeKalb Chamber of Commerce.

‘BlackBerry’ movie featured at Cinema 10

POTSDAM — Cinema 10 continues the Fall 2023 season on Monday, Oct. 2 with a screening of BlackBerry, a 2023 film from Canada directed by Matt Johnson, at 7:15 p.m. in the Roxy Theater in Potsdam.

Tickets are $5.50 general/$45 season or $4.50 student/senior/$35 season (season tickets are sharable).

The BlackBerry phone isn’t even on a blip on the social radar in 2023.

But 20 years ago it was the prognosticator of the world to come, a culture in which interconnectivity is everything.

BlackBerry tells the somewhat true story of the unlikely partnership between a tech innovator and a ruthless investor and their meteoric rise - and cataclysmic failure.

Featuring blistering performances by Jay Baruchel (This is the End) and Glenn Howerton (It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia), BlackBerry is “one of those whip-smart, character- and story-driven gems that grabs you from the start and never lets go,” writers Richard Roeper, Chicago Sun-Times.

BlackBerry runs 120 minutes and is rated R for language throughout.
