CANTON — A 32-year-old Canton man was charged with intentionally lighting a vehicle on fire on Nov. 21 near the entrance to the Mountain Mart convenience store, 103 East Main St., Canton.

Brian Bellinger, 32, of 224 State Hwy 310, was charged with a felony count of fourth-degree arson and a misdemeanor count of fourth-degree criminal mischief. Bellinger was released on appearance tickets to reappear in Canton Town Court on Jan. 8.

"The resulting investigation led to the arrest of one individual, who was an occupant in the vehicle when it arrived at Mountain Mart. Once the vehicle was parked and the driver entered the convenience store, the front seat passenger was observed to exit the vehicle and stay outside near the car. The passenger then lit an object on fire and then placed it in the back seat area of the vehicle. The suspect then walked away from the vehicle and into the store as smoke appeared from the vehicle, which then became engulfed in flames," said Canton Police Chief James Santimaw in a press release.

A window of the convenience store was damaged due to the heat from the fire, he said.

Longtime Potsdam Mayor adjourns his final meeting

BY ADAM ATKINSON
 North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The longtime village mayor here presided over his last board of trustees meeting Nov. 20.

Mayor Ron Tischler is stepping down after decades of service to the village as a trustee, mayor, trustee and then mayor again.

Both he and Trustee Abby Lee, who is also finishing her service, were given well wishes and appreciation from other board members at the meeting.

"I just want to publicly acknowledge the village of Potsdam of course, the village board members, Abby Lee. We worked a number of years together. Thank you for everything you've done to help make the job easier. And of course you folks as well," Tischler said to the board during his comments at the start of the meeting.

Tischler, who announced in May he would not seek the mayoral seat again this year, is a facet in local government having served as village mayor (and also a trustee) two separate times. A trustee from 1989 to 2005, he was then elected mayor and served until 2011, when he then decided to run as trustee again. He was elected and served the board in that capacity until 2015 when he was elected to a second tenure as mayor.

As mayor he has presided over the village being named the recipient of the state's $10 million Downtown Revitalization Initiative grant in 2019 which is funding multiple business and public works projects, the ongoing rebuilding and renovation of the village's hydro electric system over the years, and the construction of Garner Park, named for former mayor Ruth Garner.

Lee also has extensive public service on the board of trustees,

More sculptures planned in Canton village

BY PAUL MITCHELL
 North Country This Week

CANTON — Since the fall of 2016, Grasse River Heritage's Sculpture Garden has treated people to an innovative and unique venue at the entrance to Willow Island.

The non-profit organization has now issued a call for large-scale sculptures for a temporary installation at the Sculpture Garden.

"We are now seeking proposals for the fourth group of sculptures. We haven't formally assessed visitor use but we know that the art is being noticed," said Tom Greene, a member of the Grasse River Heritage Sculpture Committee. "Many tell us they love having work by respected artists so accessible."

Phase 1 of a Willow Island project that includes a trail on the island is underway; a project that Grasse River Heritage representatives have immersed themselves in.

"Grasse River Heritage was involved from the very beginning in conceiving and planning the cooperative Willow island project. As land owners, we are committed to fostering the public use of the entire island, including spaces for recreation, concerts or theatrical performances, and the sculpture garden," stated Greene. "So, our goal is to support the varied opportunities afforded by the island, but of course we would love to see more people enjoying the sculptures. The Willow Island project should certainly increase traffic and the project may result in additional space for

Potsdam pickleball court upgrades planned

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The village is beefing up its pickleball infrastructure with several planned expenditures. At its meeting Nov. 20, the board of trustees approved spending more than $15,000 on enhancements to its facility at Sandstoner Park.

Trustees and the mayor voted unanimously to spend $10,460.74 from its fund balance to purchase six heavy duty pickleball net systems from a bid from Spartan Athletic Company. The nets feature moveable stands with cranks that weigh about 240 pounds.

The purchase will allow the village recreation department to theoretically expand its pickleball capacity to allow more courts to be set up for the popular sport.

The board also voted to use recreation reserve funds to buy a 10-by-12-foot storage shed for $4,100 and a leaf blower for $729.98 for the pickleball courts. The total cost of those expenditures is $4,829.98.

The village constructed six regulation size pickleball courts in the summer of 2022 and the facility has gotten extensive use from local pickleball enthusiasts and from players outside of the area who travel to play on the courts, which are also lighted for night use.

Initial funding for the courts construction came from the sale of a section of Cottage Street to the St. Lawrence Health system for the expansion project at Canton-Potsdam Hospital.

Potsdam's so-called "Pickleplex" is funded and maintained by the village, but the town also contributes $12,500 a year to the effort.

Additional pickleball courts are set up inside Pine Street Arena after the winter skating ice is gone for the warm weather season.

The game is known for being accessible to all ages and ability levels, which is part of the attraction for municipal recreation programs looking to engage with a broader sweep of local populations and provide programming for multiple demographics.

Local enthusiasm for the game and for the village courts has been high since the courts were opened in 2022. Tournaments organized by the North Country Pickleball Club at the courts this summer drew players from all over the state.

There is a lifetime membership fee to use the village courts of $60 for village and town players and $125 for those who reside outside of the municipalities.

The courts' play schedule is managed through a website called Play-Time Scheduler.

To set up a time to play at the "Pickleplex" or at other pickleball courts in St. Lawrence County visit the play scheduling website at <https://bit.ly/3Dp8eMu>.

To schedule court time at Sandstoner Park, players need to register for a free account on the website.

Giving Trees visible in Canton

CANTON – All over the Canton area, little pine trees decorated with donation envelopes for the Church & Community Giving Tree are appearing, just waiting for generous local folks to make a child's holiday brighter again this year. For the third year, community members will also be helping provide gift boxes for senior citizens who are alone for the holiday season. The envelopes can be found in Canton and surrounding villages at local businesses, schools, and churches.

The program will provide local children from families in need with clothing and toy/gift vouchers, as well as a pair of new PJs and a hand-knitted hat made by a local group who knit through the year to make this happen.

Each family will also receive a Save-A-Lot food voucher to add some sparkle to the holiday meal.

Once again this year, SUNY Canton's women's lacrosse team is pitching in to help local children in need by raising money to help buy new PJs for each child in the program.

Team members, led by head coach Adam Todd, are going door to door, meeting community members and asking them to help provide new winter PJs for children who otherwise might not have them.

As in many past years, local Girl Scouts have also organized ways to help. To assist parents with their wrapping, 100 gift bags and big stacks of tissue paper were collected during a multicultural event by Girl Scouts from many areas of the North Country: the International Rapids, Oswegatchie, Piquet, Raquette Valley, and Nikentsiaki Service Units.

"We are always overwhelmed by how generous people are in our area!" says Cheryl Glidden, Giving Tree Co-Director. "The children who participate in our program are able to have a special Christmas morning when they receive their warm pajamas, a cozy hand-knit hat, and the toys and clothing their parents will purchase with the gift cards they receive. It's heart-warming to know that the parents are able to choose gifts that their children need and will enjoy!"

"Parents know their child's preferences and truly appreciate being able to choose the perfect toy and clothing item for their children," Thadine Wight, Giving Tree Board Member, adds.

A first in 2021 was the addition of a senior gifting component to the program. In 2022, sixty senior citizens joined 384 children in receiving gifts, thanks to the generosity of many local business and individual donors. Again in 2023, Giving Tree will provide a box of gifts for each senior served by the Food Pantry

Senior Squad, which delivers food biweekly to seniors who qualify for food assistance, but who are unable to pick up their groceries in person. Gift bags are also distributed to seniors who lack family and reside in local nursing homes.

"We all think of children when we approach the holidays, and rightly so," says Fran Bailey, Co-Director of Giving Tree. "But there are so many older people who are all alone in our community and we are committed to making their holidays brighter as well."

Gifts and vouchers will be distributed to parents on December 2.

People who want to give to Giving Tree 2023 have many ways to do it. They may take a donation envelope from one of the many trees around town and send a donation to Church & Community Giving Tree at PO Box 55, Canton, or drop off their donation at the Second Chance Thrift Shop, 30 Court Street, Canton.

Those who prefer to give online may go to cepcanton.org, click the "Donate" button and pay with PayPal. The first page has a drop down menu to allow donors to choose "Giving Tree," and then enter the amount.

SLC legislators authorize bridge work, inspection services

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON — County legislators have approved a supplemental agreement with Barton and Loguidice D.P.C. for additional work on the Lazy River Road bridge in the Town of Russell that spans the Grasse River.

The additional agreement was passed during the finance committee meeting on Nov. 27.

Barton and Loguidice are currently providing consulting services for the project after legislators previously approved a resolution for the county to enter into an agreement with the firm earlier this year.

According to officials, the supplemental agreement is required for Barton and Loguidice to provide construction inspection services for the project.

The construction inspection fee will cost $381,500.

In a separate resolution, legislators approved another supplemental agreement with Stantec Consulting Services Inc. for construction inspection services for the County Route 35 bridge project that spans Trout Brook.

The project, which was awarded through the 2022 Bridge NY Project program, will require the firm's services for construction inspection now, according to Highway Department Superintendent Don Chambers.

The contract for the inspection fee is not to exceed $358,000, per the terms of the agreement.

In separate action, legislators approved entering into a project with Barton and Loguidice for bidding, construction and inspection services for the Gouverneur Transfer Station Improvement Project.

With the resolution, legislators agreed to modify the 2024 budget for the Solid Waste Department.

Barton and Loguidice have prepared a supplemental proposal to provide bidding assistant, construction administration and general engineering services associated with the construction of the transfer station improvement project. The fee for that supplemental proposal is not to exceed $40,900, according to the resolution.

Budget modifications from the resolution include decreasing a retained earnings account of $440,900 and increasing the appropriated fund balance $440,900.

A subcontractors account will be increased $400,000 while an engineering design account was increased $40,900, according to the resolution.

Legislators also approved a resolution to sign a contract with Karol L. Houle-Marolf for cleaning services at the Department of Highways Lisbon outpost.

Houle-Marolf will clean the site, located at 554 County Route 28A in Lisbon, at a rate of $74.30 per week on a one-year contract beginning on the award date.

In a separate resolution, legislators approved entering into a one-year contract with Meola Enterprise for cleaning services at the department of highways outposts in Potsdam and Russell.

Under the contract, Meola Enterprise will be paid $70.50 per week for cleaning the Potsdam location and $57.50 per week for cleaning the Russell Outpost.

Legislators also signed an agreement with C&S Engineering Inc. for preliminary plans and cost estimates for potential upgrades to the center for maintenance and administration operations building.

The facilities, located on Park Street, are in need of review and future recommendations, according to the resolution.

New Highway Department outposts in Russell, Lisbon and Potsdam are nearing completion and projected to come in under budget, creating the opportunity to assess the Park St. facilities, officials say.

As part of the agreement, officials hope to determine if relocating the maintenance operations and administration function would be appropriate at this time.

The agreement for preliminary plans and cost estimates is not to exceed $12,500, per the agreement.

Each action will now go before the full board of legislators for final approval during the Dec. 4 meeting.

CANTON — Canton's newest place to eat opened for business on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at 11 Main Street.

Wimpy's Inn features its signature Wimpy burgers and Texas Hots from the downtown location.

Julia Henry told North Country This Week earlier that the business had been looking to expand and Canton was always in her sights.

"This is a huge deal for Wimpy's and our family."

Business hours will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. To order ahead, call (315) 714-1066.

Henry said the Canton eatery will feature the same classics served for decades in Ogdensburg. Food choices, listed on their website, include the Wimpy burger, Texas Hots (hot dog with wimpy sauce, raw onions and mustard), fish burgers topped with cabbage salad, French fries, macaroni and cheese, fish and shrimp dinners. Customers can also order plain hamburgers, cheeseburgers and hot dogs.

Possible new items on the Canton menu will include chicken, poutine and garbage plates, she said.

"I'm excited for them. It's always nice to welcome new business and I think Wimpy's will complement what we already have downtown," stated Mayor Michael Dalton. "It's something different that adds some variety to downtown and an alternate dining choice."

Town okays labor agreement with highway workers union

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The town board has come to terms on a labor agreement with its town highway workers union.

The board voted unanimously at its November meeting to ratify the tentative collective bargaining agreement for the coming year with the Teamsters Local 687 which represents the highway workers.

The current agreement is set to expire on Dec. 31.

The Teamsters ratified the agreement on Nov. 7.

Under the terms of the agreement, 2023 wages will increase by $1.75 per hour effective Jan. 1, 2024.

Wages for 2024 will increase by $1.75 per hour effective Jan. 1, 2025, and 2025 wages will increase by $1.50 effective Jan. 1, 2026.

Also under the wages portion of the contract, all new employees will have a probationary period of 90 days and will receive 90% of their classifications hourly rate.

The town will pay up to three employees with CDL A endorsements (chosen by the Highway Superintendent) an annual stipend of $1,000.

Under the agreement's health and hospital insurance section, all employees must enroll in the Teamsters Composite HRA Plan and the town will contribute $3,600 for single coverage and $7,200 for two person or family coverage.

The contract also includes stipulations for holidays, vacations and sick leave.

Under the contract, the town will contribute 65% of premium cost for individual health insurance coverage in retirement.

The agreement also stipulates that the town will contribute 65% of premium costs for two person or family coverage but the employee must turn in 150 sick days in order to access dependent coverage.

Senior holiday gift drive underway

CANTON — The St. Lawrence County Office for the Aging is sponsoring the 10th Annual Holiday Gift Drive for Senior Citizens to benefit older adults enrolled in the home delivered meal program.

Last year, over 300 gift cards and gifts were distributed to senior citizens in St. Lawrence County. From now until mid-December, the office will be collecting financial contributions to purchase gift cards and/or gift items for clients who are most in need.

The holidays can be a very lonely time for seniors in the County. Many of them do not have family or friends nearby to celebrate the holidays with.

Contributions can be mailed to: St. Lawrence County Office for the Aging, Attention: Holiday Gift Drive, 80 State Highway 310, Suite 7, Canton, NY 13617. For more information, contact (315) 386-4730 or email: amontgomery@stlawco.gov.

Stop sign code amendments planned

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The village plans to amend its code to install stop signs at the intersections of Grove and Waverly and Grove and Leroy streets.

However, one village board member wants to rescind the requirement that the board of trustees hold a public hearing and approve a local law to amend village code, and then submit the change to the state for approval, every time they wish to install a stop sign to try to control high speed traffic issues.

The village board of trustees held the required public hearing Nov. 20 on its proposed amendments to Chapter 168, Vehicles and Traffic, Article X, Schedules, Section 168-66, Schedule VIII: Stop Intersections of the Village of Potsdam Municipal Code. The amendments would change the intersections to full stops and the municipality plans to install stop signs at those locations.

During the hearing, the only member of the public to speak about the changes, Larry Zuckerman of Grove Street, thanked the board for taking up the issue to install stop signs at the intersections.

"I live on Grove Street and I walk my dog at different hours and it's crazy. And, it's not just one person," Zuckerman said. "Hopefully the stop sign will help, the enforcement of the stop sign will help."

During the hearing, Trustee Steve Warr questioned the need to go through what he called a "convoluted" process involving the state just to allow the village to install stop signs on its own streets.

"To me it's common sense. Why do we need a local law to decide where we want to put stop signs?" asked Warr during the hearing.

Mayor Ron Tischler said he thought that the requirement was in place to provide a record. Warr suggested that a resolution by the board without a local law would also provide a record.

"Why do we have to have a local law, and pay all the money to the state to update the local law to revise the local law?" Warr said. The trustee said the village could rescind the local law requirement which would allow the board to approve and install stop signs more efficiently.

Warr said he was in favor of the stop signs considered at the public hearing, but raised the issue that there were other intersections on Leroy and elsewhere where high rates of speeding were chronic. He specifically mentioned the need for a four-way stop at the intersection of Leroy and Bradley. Warr said the people who live near those locations may also want stop signs installed to slow traffic speeds and the village would have to go through the lengthy process yet again. "All of a sudden we are going to get all the people up the other side of Leroy Street going 'They're going 55 miles per hour across Leroy Street,'" he said.

"We have kids coming over the hill and all four tires are off the ground," Warr said.

"The easiest way to slow people down is stop signs, but if we have to do this every time? It's such a convoluted process, that I don't think we need it. It's a stop sign," he said.

Tischler suggested the board look into whether or not the village could drop the local law requirement with the state.

The board is expected to approve the amendments for full stop intersections at Grove and Waverly and Grove and Leroy streets at a future meeting.

State funds to pay for paving on state routes 812, 11B

Paving of sections of state routes 812 and 11B in St. Lawrence County will be paid for by part of state funding release of $100 million in taxpayer dollars to support the renewal of state roadways impacted by extreme weather, the governor's office announced Nov. 27.

The funding supports repaving projects at 66 locations, totaling almost 568 lane miles of pavement, and complements a record level of investment by the Governor in infrastructure across New York State.

The two state-funded paving projects in St. Lawrence County to begin next spring include:

- $915,025 to resurface Route 812 from Heuvelton to McIntyre Road in the Town of Oswegatchie, St. Lawrence County.

- $398,000 to resurface Route 11B from Nicholville to Fisk Road in the Town of Lawrence, St. Lawrence County.

Funding for the local projects is part of $8.8 million doled out to the North Country in total.

Village secures $50,000 for park

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The village hopes to secure a $50,000 grant to refurbish a pocket park.

The board of trustees voted unanimously at its meeting Nov. 20 to authorize the submission of an application for the grant which could bring up to $50,000 to the municipality from the National Grid “Adopt A Park” Program.

The money would be used to refurbish Cubley Park at the intersection of LeRoy Street and Lawrence Avenue.

The village owns the tiny space, essentially a pocket park at about 0.18 acres, but prominently located at the corner of the two streets, directly across from the First Presbyterian Church.

The space was traditionally maintained by the Potsdam Kiwanis Club, however that organization disbanded in 2022.

At the Nov. 20 meeting the village trustees briefly mentioned a recent clean-up done at the park. “And it looks beautiful,” said Trustee Abby Lee.

“It already looks so much better,” agreed Trustee Alexandra Jacobs Wilke.

“Stunning,” said Lee.

Potsdam man charged with DWI following crash

Gonyou refused to provide a breath sample.

Gonyou was arraigned before Judge Grubee, Town of Norfolk, and released to answer charges in Town of Potsdam Court on Dec. 6.

County prepping for solar eclipse crowd

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON -- St. Lawrence County legislators are moving forward with a Planning and Emergency Management Ad Hoc Committee in preparation for the 2024 solar eclipse.

Officials say St. Lawrence County has been identified as one of the “premier locations to observe the total solar eclipse in the United States” but that notoriety may bring a number of unique challenges.

This will be the last total solar eclipse until 2144, 120 years away, he said.

According to multiple resources, including NASA and the American Astronomical Society Solar Eclipse Task Force, the path of the total eclipse will cross through St. Lawrence County, with the very middle of the eclipse crossing the bottom third of the county.

That will occur between 3:20 p.m. to roughly 3:26 p.m. and will last for two and a half to three and a half minutes.

County officials say they expect anywhere from 50,000 to 150,000 visitors to the county, which will “significantly contribute to the local tourism economy and marketing of the county.”

Despite the positives that will come with enhanced tourism, officials say the influx of visitors will contribute to a “short, although tremendous impact on resources available in the county.”

That impact could greatly and negatively affect emergency services and response times, officials say.

In the best interest of public safety, officials opted to organize a local planning effort and committee to advise and make recommendations to the board of legislators on a formal safety plan.

The committee will advise legislators policies related to public safety, public health, traffic control, community events, marketing and emergency planning sufficient to address the crowds expected in St. Lawrence County.

According to Emergency Services Director Matt Denner, Emergency Services has been drafting an emergency management plan for the event and has distributed it to legislators for consideration.

Denner said some of the unique challenges the county will face include transportation, with limited highways in the central zone of the eclipse.

Some areas may face mass congestion, especially with viewers pulling off to the side of the highway or other public highways for viewing.

That mass congestion will also potentially cause issues with cell phone coverage, with thousands of extra devices taking up the already limited bandwidth in many areas.

The inability to make calls in the event of a medical emergency are a concern, especially now that land lines are no longer prevalent, Denner previously told legislators.

Denner said the influx of tourists will also provide Emergency Services with an opportunity to exercise multiple plans and annexes that typically are only simulated as well.

One concern many at the state and county level have raised is the potential for cell coverage to be limited as a result of the influx of people.

Denner said cell phone coverage is a primary concern that has already been identified by the state, noting that the possibility of adding temporary cell towers has been raised to mitigate those concerns.

For more information about the total eclipse, visit solarsystem.nasa.gov/eclipses/2024/apr-8-total/overview/.

CARES funding deadline nears for businesses

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON — Small businesses have less than a month to take advantage of what the Canton CARES Small Business Grant Program (CCSBGP) has to offer.

Canton Director of Economic Development Leigh Rodriguez said her office will be accepting applications through Dec. 20 at 4 p.m.

“The CCSBGP has been established to provide grants to microenterprises and small businesses with less than 25 employees in the Village that have been impacted by the pandemic,” said Rodriguez in a release to North Country This Week. “As such, the primary goal of the program is to address improvements that support customer and staff safety and improve business resiliency related to future occurrences of the virus or other disasters; allowing businesses to prepare for, prevent, or respond to impacts of the pandemic.”

Rodriguez pointed out that all types of microenterprises and small businesses within the Village of Canton will be eligible for consideration, with the exception of not-for-profits. Businesses must commit to demonstrating job retention or creation with at least 51% of jobs taken by or made available to low-moderate income persons. A microenterprise owner can also qualify by meeting the definition of a low-moderate income person.

“All applicants must demonstrate how the proposed use of funds will enable the business to prepare for, prevent, or respond to impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic,” she explained.

“Prospective applicants should contact the Office of Economic Development for application information. The OED will screen applicants for program eligibility, and provide materials to those interested,” Rodriguez stated.

For more information please contact Rodriguez at (315) 386-2871 #5, or lrodriguez@cantontny.gov.

Man charged after crashing into Canton Village Park

CANTON — A Utica man who drove his vehicle into the Canton Village Park and fled early this morning, Nov. 27, has been charged by St. Lawrence County Sheriff's deputies.

Diquan B. Spain, 29, faces multiple misdemeanor charges stemming from a motor vehicle accident in the Village of Canton. Spain was charged with unlawfully fleeing a police officer in a motor vehicle, two counts of criminal mischief: reckless damage to property, reckless driving, operating while registration suspended, aggravated unlicensed operation, and several traffic violations.

Spain found to be the operator of a vehicle that fled from deputies on a traffic stop in the Town of Potsdam, ultimately losing control of the vehicle in the Canton Village Park. Spain fled the scene on foot and was located a short time later.

Spain was issued appearance tickets and is scheduled to appear in Potsdam and Canton Town Court at a later date. Deputies were assisted on scene by the Canton Police Department and New York State Police.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Potsdam mayor says farewell

The end of my time on the village board of Potsdam has arrived. It's been a very interesting ride to say the least. 20 years as a trustee, and 14 years as your Mayor. What a learning experience.

I would like to start out with thanking my lovely wife Maryann, and my three wonderful children – Kaeley, Alissa, Brendan, along with their spouses. (Who, by the way have blessed us with four precious grandchildren in the last 15 months.) A huge thank you also to my parents, my siblings, and my in-laws. Without their love and support, I would not have been able to fulfill my obligations to the residents of this great village.

I have always strived to do what is best for the majority of our citizens. This I could not have done alone – I have so many people to thank for their support, assistance, and guidance throughout my tenure on this board. I will name a few – and I apologize to those who I may have forgotten. Mayors Bill Lawson, Steve Yurgartis, and Ruth Garner, who was absolutely my mentor. So many trustees throughout the years have played a major role in my time here – I cannot even begin to name them all.

Village Administrators Bob Burns, Mike Weil, Dave Fenton, Everett Basford, and currently Greg Thompson. Village treasurers and clerks Beverly Brownell, Margaret Robinson, Cara Adams, and Lori Queor. Our current treasurer Isabelle Gates-Shult, and current village clerk Georgine Scott. Also Police Chiefs Clint Mattot, Terry McKendree, John Kaplan, Ed Tischler, Kevin Bates, Mark Murray, and currently Mike Ames. From the DPW - Howard Chambers, Tom MacGregor, Bob Meashaw, Bruce Henderson, Jim Corbett, Audie Jerome, and Ken Clemons.

Other past and current department heads include Planning Directors Paul Stevenson and Fred Hanss, Code Enforcement Directors Herb Crump, John Hill, and Lisa Thompson, Recreation Directors Tim Carey and Trey Smutz, water/wastewater department heads Bob Henninger, James Blackmore, and Brian Paige, Museum Directors Mimi Van Deusen and Trevor Blank, and all of our public Library Directors. I do not want to exclude the chiefs and volunteers of the Potsdam Fire Department, as well as the chiefs and volunteers of the Potsdam Rescue Squad. To you leaders, along with each and everyone of your team members, I say thank you, thank you, thank you for being a very important part of my life these last 34 years. You have made my job much easier and more enjoyable. And to my current board members – Trustee and Deputy Mayor Steve Warr, Trustee Abby Lee, Trustee and Mayor elect Alexandra Jacobs-Wilke, and Trustee Monique Tirion - thanks for what you have done to help make the Village of Potsdam a much better place to work, play, learn, and live. To Trustee elects Lynzie Schulte and Sharon Williams - I wish you nothing but success in your future endeavors. In closing, I just want to say that I am very proud and honored to have been associated with this outstanding group of individuals. I will not forget you or your contributions to this extraordinary village.

Reinhold J Tischler

Colton woman is thankful

When told that my three minutes for Courtesy of the Floor were used up, I was speaking of reasons to be thankful this Thanksgiving. I have expanded 'thank-you' to share with readers. Colton is the largest Town (254 square miles) in St. Lawrence County and provides many attractions and amenities. The forests and rivers of the Town are key to shaping this rural town.

God and faith, support of family, friends, and neighbors provide strength to weather the woes of our world. For a rural Town, we are fortunate to have four local churches. I have been blessed with the fellowship and dedication of the caring Colton Community Church after a long hiatus after teaching Sunday School there. I am thankful for a son who supports my staying in my home.

Be thankful for our school and libraries. Colton-Pierrepont Central School is a small school but with outstanding opportunities and success. We have the school library as well as the first Hepburn Library.

Help at Hepburn is outstanding. Friends of the Library expand access to book sales and pursue grant writing for improvements like a child's book displayed outside. Colton Museum is expanding activities with repairs completed. The Colton Historical Society and Library are hosting a Holiday celebration in December. The Power and Equipment Museum recently acquired tools used in a Stark blacksmith shop.

Higley Flow State Park, one of the best in the region, has year-round access. Friends of Higley Flow found funding for the Lodge/Nature Center and Sled Shed that support winter activities. Folks enjoy campsites in summer. Stone Valley Trail allows hikers to commune with nature and see testimony to early history. Colton has State Forest lands and multiple easement lands for recreational opportunities.

We have an active Planning Board and ZBA. The first land-use plan, implemented in 1981, was revised once. A new plan with updates like a Solar law is being written.

Colton has senior housing at Hilltop Manor. SENIORS SUPPORT SENIORS through the Senior Raquetters with monthly meetings and activities. A local medical center is available. We have fire and rescue squad protection. Have faith, we will find funding for a new ambulance.

Offer thanks for fifteen years of volunteers who served a delicious community Christmas dinner. As this has ended, workers have this holiday with their families.

The core of these blessings are the citizens who live here, may work here, and above all, volunteer to make life better. For them we can be thankful.

Questions onslaught of parking tickets

If you've visited the village of Potsdam in recent weeks, you have probably been thanked by being fined for contributing to the economy of our community—sending you home with a parking ticket.

I personally have witnessed the escalation in ticketing, passing dozens of cars in the past few weeks adorned with the "thank you for visiting Potsdam" parking ticket.

You may have noticed that Potsdam's downtown streets are now being roamed with yellow-vested ticketing agents. As a life-long resident, I was curious by this new sight. Upon some investigation, I discovered that these "parking enforcement officers" were a very recent addition to the village payroll—being generously compensated with your tax dollars at $21.85 an hour.

I must say, the commitment and relentlessness exhibited by these officers in handing out tickets is indeed commendable in a day and age where few actually want to work. The Deputy Clerk's desk—adorned with rows upon rows of parking tickets and an unnaturally large stack of them piled high waiting to be sorted—is a testament to the commitment these enforcement officers exude.

And while they are simply doing what they were hired to do, they work at the behest of our Village Trustees. Trustees who were elected by the residents and taxpayers of Potsdam. Trustees who were elected to make the village of Potsdam better for the residents and taxpayers.

Per the Nov. 6 village board meeting, they approved a $5,717 study to "analyze downtown parking." While I assume the study could potentially be useful, what would truly inform our community is a comprehensive report outlining the annual expenses tied to the current meters—including the wages, taxes, and payroll costs associated with the parking enforcement officers—juxtaposed against the yearly revenue generated from the existing meters.

I advocate that such a study also takes into account the economic contribution of the demographic our village claims to want to attract—students and young professionals. These individuals play a vital role in our community's growth, and they should not be marginalized by anti-community parking policies that hinder their participation in our local economy.

If you, like me, care about our community, or are just tired of being

'We are staying home and having friends and family over to eat a delicious Thanksgiving dinner. A tradition for over 30 years. It's the one time of year that we all get to eat reminisce and when our stomachs settle play some cards. Truly something to be thankful for. Happy Thanksgiving everyone you.'

'Eat turkey, have pumpkin pie and football!'

'Everyone is coming here for dinner, so staying home to cook.'

'Wake up in our cold house and say goodbye to my two teenage kids as I trudge off to work. Complete a 12 hour shift without any pay differential, so we can survive another week living paycheck to paycheck. There will be no Thanksgiving dinner for my family. There will be no "time off to give thanks", because there is no time for that. There will be no Holiday Season. There will be stress and sadness of more hardships.'

'We host at our home with family and friends - it's really a great holiday.'

'Having 12 family members for dinner. Lucky us!'

'If you are the person who rants about politics at Thanksgiving you are the reason others dread the holiday.'

'A Celtic Christmas' to bring Irish dance, music to Ogdensburg

OGDENSBURG – The Christmas season will be celebrated Irish-style when the professional touring company "A Taste of Ireland" brings "A Celtic Christmas" to George Hall Auditorium on Dec. 15.

The special holiday north country performance is part of the Ogdensburg Command Performances

The 7 p.m. staging will bring together the best musicians and Irish dancers from Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom for an artistic celebration that director and producer Brent Pace says captures the very essence of the show's title – "A Celtic Christmas."

"In our Christmas show we've curated a spectacular line-up, featuring unparalleled talents from across the globe," Mr. Pace said in a recent interview. "From world-class musicians to the most skilled Irish dancers, our stage is graced by the very best in the industry."

But beyond the technical brilliance, what sets this show apart from other Celtic music and dance performances is the heart-warming spirit of the Christmas season infused in every note played and every step danced, according to the director.

"It's a production that embodies the essence of the holidays. A feel-good extravaganza filled with laughter, Christmas cheer, and the pure joy of the festive season," Mr. Pace said.

Following a series of shows in Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom, 'A Celtic Christmas' is now embarking on a coast-to-coast tour of the United States. The family-friendly performance follows the story of two star-crossed lovers as their lives twirl beneath the mistletoe with the help of a troupe of award-winning Irish musicians and dancers.

The show has been described by reviewers in Australia as a powerful mix of traditional Irish tunes, heartfelt ballads and favorite carols, while the stage settings, costuming and dance routines have been called "nothing short of spectacular."

Tickets for the 7 p.m. Dec. 15 performance of "A Celtic Christmas" at George Hall Auditorium in Ogdensburg can be purchased by calling 315-393-2625 or by emailing ocp@ogdensburgk12.org.

More information can also be obtained by visiting www.ILoveTheatre.org or www.Facebook.com/OgdensburgCommandPerformances.

The latest Ogdensburg show comes on the heels of a recent announcement from the New York State Council of the Arts that Ogdensburg Command Performances was awarded a $30,000 grant to further the organization's mission of bringing live professional theater to St. Lawrence County and Northern New York at an affordable price.

Governor Kathy Hochul and NYSCA Executive Director Mara Manus both said such funding, totaling $240 million statewide this year, is instrumental in supporting the arts.

Likewise, NYSCA Chair Katherine Nicholls said Ogdensburg Command Performances has a proven track record when it comes to promoting individual and community growth through access to artistic expression in the region.

"On behalf of the entire Council, I congratulate Ogdensburg Command Performances on this grant award," Ms. Nicholls said in a release. "Their creative work provides the benefits of the arts to both their community and all of New York. Arts organizations are essential, leading our tourism economy and fueling sectors such as hospitality, transit, and Main Streets across our state."

Crane Candlelight Concert to bring holiday music to Potsdam

POTSDAM — Nearly 300 student and faculty musicians from SUNY Potsdam's Crane School of Music will take the stage on Sunday, Dec. 3, in celebration of the holiday season, with the 2023 Crane Candlelight Concert.

Crane will welcome guest conductor Mark Kligman and present a world premiere by alumnus Shavon Lloyd '19 during the free performance, which will be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 3 in the Helen M. Hosmer Concert Hall. The performance will also stream live online.

"The Crane Candlelight Concert is a tradition that asks us to slow down and look for the light in the darkness. We hope this year's performance brings you a sense of peace and possibility as we look to the New Year," said Crane School of Music Dean Dr. William Gibbons.

This year's program will welcome an array of ensembles onto the Hosmer stage, starting with the Giroux Honors Jazz Combo performing an arrangement of "Christmas Time is Here/O Christmas Tree," followed by the Crane Handbell Quartet with a rendition of "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen." The Crane Opera Ensemble will present three arias from "The Christmas Coin," a contemporary opera by Keith Gates.

A world-renowned scholar in Jewish music, Dr. Mark Kligman will conduct two major works in honor of Hanukkah. Mark Kligman is the Mickey Katz Endowed Chair in Jewish Music at the UCLA Herb Alpert School of Music, where he is a professor of ethnomusicology and musicology, and director of the Lowell Milken Center for Music of American Jewish Experience.

Led by Kligman, the Crane Wind Ensemble will perform "To Celebrate a Miracle," which incorporates the melodies of some of the best known Hanukkah-related songs and hymns. The Crane Symphony Orchestra and Crane Chorus will present part one of Herman Berlinski's "Avodat Shabbat."

Rounding out the end of the program, saxophonist Dr. Casey Grev will join the Crane Chorus for a special arrangement of "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," before the symphony and chorus join forces to present the world premiere of "The Night Before Christmas," a new work by Crane School of Music alumnus Shavon Lloyd.

"The text is the famous Clement Clarke Moore poem, 'A Visit from St. Nicholas.' I started writing this piece my junior year at Crane and am so glad it's coming to life!" Lloyd said.

The annual holiday concert tradition began in the 1930s, at what was then the Crane Institute of Music at Potsdam Normal School, and has continued to grow in prominence ever since.

SUNY Potsdam and The Crane School of Music invite you to join us for this free family-friendly event. Audience members are invited to bring a donation of canned goods or non-perishable items to benefit local food pantries.

The Crane Candlelight Concert will be broadcast live on YouTube. Visit www.potsdam.edu/cranelive for more information.

'Dr. Jim's Chemistry Magic Show' Dec. 9

POTSDAM — Clarkson University Professor Jim Peploski will again bring his exciting experiments, known as "Dr. Jim's Chemistry Magic Show," to the community on Saturday, Dec. 9, at 11 a.m. in Room 360 of Clarkson's Science Center.

The show, targeted to children and great fun for all ages, will benefit the Potsdam Holiday Fund.

Each family or individual attending is asked to bring one new, unwrapped toy or gift to donate to the fund, which provides new toys, clothing, boots and food to families and senior citizens in need in Potsdam, Madrid, Hopkinton, Nicholville, Brasher Falls, Chase Mills, Fort Jackson, West Stockholm and Winthrop, N.Y.

Monetary contributions are also welcome in lieu of a purchased gift.

Peploski's "Miracles, Magic and Mayhem" show will feature 10 to 15 demonstrations, including a free sample of ice cream made by using liquid nitrogen.

Peploski, an associate professor and director of freshman chemistry, first began showcasing his experiments in front of his students more than two decades ago and gradually began entertaining other on-campus groups. His show is an attraction at family and alumni weekends and at the University's open house events. The annual Potsdam Holiday Fund show allows him to bring the experiments to the greater Potsdam community.

"I like to see the people that are completely awed by the science -- the fun," says Peploski. "People are fascinated by reactions that go 'boom.' I try to work in as many of those as I can."

Peploski is happy that his December show will benefit a charitable cause. "It's a small effort on my part. It's a way to give back to the community and to promote a truly outstanding program"

The event is sponsored by Peploski and the Clarkson University Department of Chemistry & Biomolecular Science.

'Scrapper' screening Monday at Cinema 10

POTSDAM — Cinema 10 concludes the Fall 2023 season on Monday, Dec. 4 with a screening of Scrapper, a 2023 film from the United Kingdom directed by Charlotte Regan, at 7:15 p.m. in the Roxy Theater in Potsdam. Tickets are $5.50 general / $45 season or $4.50 student/senior / $35 season (season tickets are sharable).

After 12-year-old Georgie's mother dies, she spends her days alone in London, living in a world of whimsy. That is, until her estranged father suddenly shows up and throws her magical world into upheaval.

Critics praised newcomers Lola Campbell for her portrayal as the spunky Georgie, and director Charlotte Regan, for whom Scrapper is a directorial first.

"Watching these two mutually suspicious strangers stumble toward forming a family makes Scrapper an invigorating treat, like finding wild flowers bursting out of broken pavement." (Kyle Smith, Wall Street Journal).

Scrapper runs 84 minutes and is not rated.

'Detective' approach to patient ailments

CANTON – With the COVID pandemic out of the limelight, many people are not giving a second thought as to how an Infectious Diseases (ID) specialist may be able to assist them with their healthcare. The ID team with St. Lawrence Health (SLH) has office hours at its Medical Campus at 6119 US Route 11 in Canton, and are regularly seen tending to patients at Canton-Potsdam Hospital.

Daniel Soule, DO; and Jamie Gibson, FNP-C, are the two main providers in the ID team. They have expertise in anti-infectives, with a foundation in Internal Medicine. They are sometimes asked by colleagues to provide their skills by working up a patient's symptoms and using a "detective" approach in discovering the patient's ailment.

"Infectious Diseases is a specialty in medicine that does not necessarily focus on an organ system and its pathology, like cardiology and the heart, or pulmonology with the lung, but instead focuses on outside factors that can impact an organ system's function," Dr. Soule said. "This allows us to encounter pathology across all different organ systems, across a wide range of ages. Often, if we can identify an infection, there may be a cure or treatment that will help our patients feel better after only a short period of time.

Some common health concerns patients turn to Dr. Soule and Ms. Gibson for include:

- Recurrent fevers without explanation

- Concerns for an undiagnosed infection that may be causing symptoms or lab abnormalities that have not yet been explained or diagnosed

- Management of chronic viral illnesses, like HIV or Hepatitis B

- Management of infections that can be regulated by a Primary Care Provider, but are either difficult to treat or the provider requests assistance in overseeing treatment (such as HIV, Hepatitis C, Lyme Disease, recurrent skin and soft tissue infections)

Infections of prosthetic materials Sexually transmitted infections (STIs) are diagnosed on a regular basis, and while HIV is no longer a front page news article, it is still a global and local health concern, and can affect any person, regardless of age, gender, or sexual orientation. With the four colleges in our area, Ms. Gibson finds herself educating patients on a regular basis about STIs, viral hepatitis, and HIV.

PREP can benefit the community by decreasing the transmission of HIV. Furthermore, part of PREP management is as-needed screening for non-HIV sexually transmitted infections (STIs), as well as routine quarterly screening for other STIs.

St. Lawrence Health pays tribute to EMS and rural health

Most Northern New Yorkers don't give much thought about the fact that when they need to go to the Emergency Department or visit a friend at Canton-Potsdam, Gouverneur, or Massena hospital, they are walking into a rural hospital.

North Country residents simply know they are going to the local hospital. Rural healthcare is an actual category among NY State institutions, and the three hospitals operated under the umbrella of St. Lawrence Health (SLH) are being recognized throughout November as being a strong backbone in Rural Health.

Also of special note this month is that Patient Transport Week is being observed, and SLH is proud to be the owning organization of Seaway Valley Ambulance in Massena. SLH Regional Director of Planning Albert Hanson pointed out rural hospitals are critical institutions for our regional communities.

"Our hospitals are where our neighbors come to receive high quality care without having to travel several hours to receive it," he said. "Rural hospitals historically have had to care for a generally older population with multiple comorbidities, such as diabetes, cancer, and other diseases, which has made it imperative that we provide quality care, right here at home."

SLH's hospitals have to be more agile and creative in their approach to offering excellent care and being a member of their communities.

To provide more advanced care to their patients, Canton-Potsdam Hospital (CPH) is in the middle of a multi-million dollar Regional Care Pavilion expansion project; Massena Hospital (MH) is preparing for the opening of a Wound Care Center; and Gouverneur Hospital (GH) is advancing with new equipment and technology.

SLH President Donna McGregor stated the Regional Care Pavilion is more than a construction project.

"It's not only the bricks and mortar that go into a project like this, but it's the soul of the community. This building will be around for generations, and what we are doing today is really laying the groundwork for health care in the future for the North Country," she noted. SLH, its hospitals, and its affiliation with Rochester Regional Health make it a very unique organization.

"SLH is special due to its story. From its inception with CPH and GH, to adding MH in 2020, and our affiliation with Rochester Regional at the beginning of this year, SLH has a focus on ensuring community members will have access to healthcare in their own towns. SLH is committed to bringing skilled specialists to each of its hospitals for the benefit and convenience of their patients," Mr. Hanson said.

SLH has made great strides in working with neighboring institutions, such as Clarkson University, to provide the opportunity to train and hire emergency management services personnel. Clarkson has established a nine-month Paramedic Program that has its students job-ready upon completion.

SLH Director of Emergency Medical Services Mark Deavers pointed out they are currently hiring drivers, paramedics, and emergency medical technicians.

"We complete approximately 40 transports between hospitals each week, but that is dependent upon the availability we have of personnel," he said. "With more trained team members, we would be able to take on more transports, which would significantly reduce the wait time for patients who need to be moved to another hospital."

The majority of SVA's transports are within St. Lawrence County, yet many are also transferred to outlying hospitals in Rochester, Syracuse, or Vermont. As the entire North Country is facing a shortage of rescue squad personnel, SLH is taking steps to increase the availability of these trained professionals.

ADVANCING MEDICINE THROUGH CLINICAL TRIALS

St. Lawrence Health's Clinical and Rural Health Research program is one of the few non-academic health centers offering clinical trials in rural America. Our mission is to connect members of the North Country to innovative and modern medical treatment options in a safe and trusted way.

Participation in a clinical trial allows patients to advocate for their own care, while contributing to the advancement of research and medicine.

having served as a trustee since 2017.

"I would like to be the first to say thank you to both Ron and Abby," said Trustee Steve Warr. "Ron's been on the board for a long time. So having said that, not many people are civic minded to serve to begin with. So to do it for that length of time is remarkable. Also for Abby to do it once and then get called back and agree to do it again. I don't think I've ever seen that happen. So in that respect you are my hero, I say that from the bottom of my hear. Both of you. Thank you. Thank you for serving, it's been a pleasure to be on the board with you."

"I couldn't agree more," said Trustee Alexandra Jacobs Wilke, who was elected to the mayoral post earlier this month. "Abby and I had the pleasure of being at the Chamber meeting annual dinner on Friday night and we got to honor the honorable Ron Tischler as he prepares to retire with the Commitment to Community Award from the Potsdam Chamber with a special toast. And, it was beautiful."

"Your record of service is something to be commended and we will never forget it. Thank you," Wilke said. "And we're going to be calling you guys for your thoughts."

"You both have such strength of character and really keen judgment and you listen to the people, to your neighbors and you listen very closely. And people don't always see that but that's really what I've learned a lot about and you don't take anything lightly. You really think through decisions and I really appreciated that, learning from you all," Wilke said.

"Sayonara," Trustee Abby Lee said with a laugh. "It's been, you know, mixed feelings but wonderful. We've worked together through fluoride, but we've seen Snell renovated by the Vinchino Group. We've seen plan upgrades, We've seen the DRI. We've seen a new museum director, um, wise I think. And then, you know, two union contracts, pickle ball courts, rec, and then the darn dams, the damn dams."

"Thank you for all you've done and your continued for what you've done over the years," Lee said to Tischler.

"Alex, congratulations, I can't think of a better leader for Potsdam now and Steve, your continued service of keeping us all on our toes, whether we agree to disagree, I'll miss battling with you," Lee said.

The new board members will take the reins at the annual board of trustees meeting scheduled for Dec. 4. Newly elected trustees Lynzie Schulte and Sharon Williams will join Warr, Trustee Monique Tirion and Mayor Wilke on the new board.

Schulte is a licensed physical therapist and local entrepreneur. She and her husband, Scott, run Foster the Plant, a vegan, plant based cafe at 55 Market St.

Williams is an author, educator and the founding director of the North Country Children's Museum located at 10 Raymond St.

At the close of the Nov. 20 meeting Tischler read a statement regarding his time in public service and his retirement.

"The end of my time on the village board of Potsdam has arrived. It's been a very interesting ride to say the least. 20 years as a trustee, and 14 years as your Mayor. What a learning experience! I would like to start out with thanking my lovely wife Maryann, and my three wonderful children – Kaeley, Alissa, Brendan, along with their spouses. (Who, by the way have blessed us with four precious grandchildren in the last 15 months.) A huge thank you also to my parents, my siblings, and my in-laws. Without their love and support, I would not have been able to fulfill my obligations to the residents of this great village," Tischler said.

"I have always strived to do what is best for the majority of our citizens. This I could not have done alone – I have so many people to thank for their support, assistance, and guidance throughout my tenure on this board," the mayor said, then individually thanking multiple people for their help and contributions during his service over the years.

Over the garden's seven-year history, sculptures have been displayed at intervals of about two years. The call out to artists will continue that tradition and hopefully attract a host of artists interested in having their work on display.

"The first group of artists was assembled by word of mouth. The garden has matured and we believe a more formal approach will improve our ability to mount future installations. The plan is to establish a growing database of interested and talented artists. Presently we only have room for about four new sculptures at intervals of about two years," noted Greene.

The deadline to apply is Friday, Dec. 1.

The Sculpture Garden is just one facet of what the Grasse River Heritage organization has accomplished at Willow Island, the neighboring Dwight Church Park and across the street at Heritage Park.

"Grasse River Heritage originally took ownership of this portion of Willow Island when it was undesirable because of contamination left by commercial users. We have worked to make it not just safe, but an important part of the recreational and artistic opportunities that will result from the larger Willow Island project. It will also complement Heritage Park across Main Street, another holding of our charity," said Greene.

Additional information about Willow Island Sculpture Garden (including photos and information about some current and past sculptures) can be found at <https://www.grasseriverheritage.org/parks-projects/willow-island-sculpture-garden>.

According to the website, sculptures to be displayed in the sculpture garden must meet the following requirements:

- Must be able to be displayed outdoors.
- Must remain on view for the 2 year exhibition.
- Must be retrieved by the artist at the end of the installation period.
- Transportation to and from the site must be arranged by the artist.
- Members of our volunteer sculpture committee will provide assistance for the installation and deinstallation of the work.

In addition to insurance, a one-time payment of $2,500 to each selected artist will be offered, which will be disbursed to the artist upon delivery of the artwork.

Artists should include in their proposal a detailed description of their sculpture including formal elements such size, color, and materials as well as information about process, inspiration, etc., an artist's statement, a short statement of interest describing why you are interested in this project, a concept drawing of a planned sculpture and/or photo of the completed sculpture, a more detailed drawing may be requested if your sculpture is selected, - 2-4 photos of past work samples, contact information (email, phone number, and address), and resume (optional).

The website has a project timeline. Selected artists will be notified by Jan. 26, 2024, installation completed by June 15, 2024, sculptures will be on view to the public through June 15, 2026, with deinstallation no later than June 30, 2026

For more information and/or to submit your proposal, please contact Willow Island Sculpture Garden committee member Rachel Tengowski at willowIslandSculptureGarden@gmail.com.

responded to the Mountain Mart convenience store, for a reported vehicle fire. Upon arrival at the scene, patrols observed the vehicle, parked in front of the store, fully engulfed in flames. Officers attempted to extinguish the fire with fire extinguishers until Canton Fire Department arrived on scene and put the fire out.

Captain Dan Holcomb was on scene within two minutes reporting a fully involved car fire parked in front of the Mountain Mart threatening the building, said Canton Fire Chief Robert Crowe.

Assistant Chief Shawn McGregor and Chief Crowe arrived right after Captain Holcomb and deployed the four fire extinguishers from the fuel island in an effort to knock the fire down and lessen the exposure to the building.

SLC youth Jiu Jitsu team successful in Syracuse

NORFOLK — Several North Country Martial Arts Academy members traveled to Syracuse to compete in a Jiu-Jitsu tournament at the OnCenter in Syracuse.

From five years to fifty-five years of age, the north-country natives were organized into divisions based on age, weight, sex, and skill to test their grappling abilities. Participants are set up in a bracket and have 4-6 matches per division.

“While securing a submission like an armbar or triangle is the ultimate goal, it’s difficult versus an evenly matched opponent,” said Coach Spencer Paige. “There is also a points-scoring system.”

Competitors score two points for a takedown, three points for passing the guard, and four points for mount control, Paige said.

Throughout the match, a referee issues points as they are earned while another referee keeps score. If no submission has happened by the end of the match, the competitor with the most points gets the win.

“This was a very special tournament because it was the first competition the academy’s youth team had entered, he said.

There were over 700 registered competitors and teams from around the Northeast in attendance.

“It wasn’t all sunshine and rainbows, there were some tears shed and some lessons learned the hard way. However, learning to persevere through these struggles and not quitting helps them to develop character and a type of resilience that they will carry with them throughout their lives. This is one of the major benefits of participating in martial arts,” Paige said.

The group is already back to training for the next tournament in January!

DEC warns hunters not to use drones to recover game

The Department of Environmental Conservation is reminding St. Lawrence County hunters that drones are not allowed to be used to assist in the recovery of hunter-harvested game such as deer or bear.

“Recently, DEC has received inquiries about the potential use of unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs or drones) to assist with the recovery of hunter-harvested deer or bear,” a press release from DEC said.

Tracking and recovery of a deer or bear are part of the hunt, and New York laws do not allow drones to be used in this way.

Drones are defined and regulated as aircraft by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), and aircraft may not be used to aid deer or bear hunters. This applies to both hobby/recreational drone pilots and drone pilots flying under FAA commercial regulations.

“Confusion comes because the same section of law that prohibits use of aircraft also prohibits use of dogs to aid in hunting deer or bear,” DEC said. “However, a separate section of law authorizes DEC to regulate and license the use of leashed tracking dogs specifically to aid in the recovery of deer and bear. The law does not make a similar provision for aircraft, including drones, and DEC cannot regulate or license the use of drones without authorizing statute.

Local hunters seeking assistance to locate dead or wounded deer or bear may contact The following teams are serving the area for tracking needs:
