Kid's museum wrapping up major renovations

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — Renovations and repairs on the second floor of the Red Barn housing the North Country Children's Museum at 10 Raymond St. are expected to be complete sometime this month.

The next stage of the project will be exhibit construction and installation, however the museum still needs to raise about $300,000 to meet the cost. About $3.4 million has been raised so far from donations and grants for the expansion project.

The second floor of the building, what was once storage space for a former tile company before NCCM moved into the building in 2018, is now clean, bright and spacious, with large windows facing towards the NCCM mural outside and Garner Park.

Museum Executive Director Sharon Vegh Williams says the space will be ready for exhibits once the last of the funding is raised.

The work on the second floor has been extensive thus far, with major infrastructure rebuilding required.

"We had this part of the building, but this was like an add-on in the 1840s," Williams

The other side of the building's second floor, built in the 1820s, now housing a huge exhibit space, was constructed with post and beam and is "rock solid," the director said. Then in the 1840s they ran out of space and added on.

"So it was kind of a little slopped together. So when we wanted to put a floor up here, the architect was like 'You kind

Canton urging public to take survey

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON — A continuance of an open house to provide input on what to do with $4.5 million in NY Forward funding is an online survey.

Both Canton's Office of Economic Development and MJ Engineering & Land Surveying, Clifton Park, are encouraging the public to take the 13-question community survey.

"The survey is just to get more community input to inform the vision for the plan that is being developed," said Leigh Rodriguez,

Director of Economic Development.

"The Canton NY Forward Local Planning Committee is seeking public input that will help inform an overall downtown vision for the NY Forward Strategic Investment Plan. The process used in developing the Canton NY Forward Strategic Investment Plan must involve a broad section of the community in creating the concepts that will guide the process," an email reads.

The survey can be found at <https://www.research.net/r/CantonNYForward>.

For more information about the NY Forward program, visit <https://www.cantonyforward.com/>.

"Your thoughts and ideas are critical to the NY Forward process. Please continue to share your thoughts and ideas about Canton's downtown through the community survey," stated Daniel Madigan, planner for MJ Engineering in an email. "We look forward to your continued input throughout the NY Forward process and hope to see you at future NY Forward public engagement events."

Mother who lost son says new law puts guard rails on 'big social'

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON — The passage of two nation-leading bills on Friday to protect kids online was applauded by a Canton advocate who has worked tirelessly to create such legislation on both the state and national levels.

The Stop Addictive Feeds Exploitation (SAFE) for Kids Act will restrict a child's access to addictive feeds on social media, and the New York Child Data Protection Act will keep children's personal data safe.

"It is great news and I'm proud that our NYS legislators realize the importance of putting some guard rails on big social," said Mary C. Rodee. "Finally some acknowledgement from elected reps that social media platforms are purposefully putting profits over people."

She lost her 15-year-old son Riley K. Basford, a sophomore at Potsdam Central School, in 2021 to suicide after the teenager was targeted online.

"The evidence is clear and Common Sense Media led the movement in Albany to get this done. Big Tech is throwing more money than ever into lobbying efforts in Albany and I am grateful that we were able to overpower this," Rodee added. "Currently constant notifications and algorithmic feeds are linked in study after study to the sharp decline in mental health."

Gov. Kathy Hochul was pleased with the new legislation.

SUNY officials push back on UUP's criticism of chancellor

BY JIMMY LAWTON
North Country This Week

SUNY officials are pushing back against recent statements from the United University Professions and New York State United Teachers that were critical of SUNY Chancellor John King Jr.'s leadership.

At a recent press conference in Albany, UUP representatives discussed perceived problems with the SUNY budget distribution.

"It is disheartening to see that SUNY Trustees continue to support Chancellor John King Jr., despite his unwillingness to keep all of our SUNY campuses fairly funded," said UUP President Frederick E. Kowal, who leads the nation's largest higher education union. "Since arriving, the Chancellor's reign has decimated the SUNY system by steering the majority of state funding to a select few campuses, while at the same time fiscally neglecting campuses that continue to suffer budget deficits, program closures and layoffs. Bottom line, SUNY is under siege, and we will not stand by while our campuses are starved of available resources."

A press release from the UUP noted SUNY Buffalo State University, SUNY Fredonia and SUNY Potsdam have announced program and staff cuts to reduce deficits of $16 million, $17 million and $9 million, respectively.

But a spokesperson for the chancellor said the blame does not belong to SUNY officials and says that funding for all SUNY schools, including those facing economic hardships, has increased.

"The assertion that SUNY and Chancellor John King are "fiscally neglecting campuses that continue to suffer budget deficits, program closures and layoffs" is blatantly inaccurate. In truth, at the three campuses indicated, the increases in state aid approved by the Board of Trustees at Chancellor King's recommendation are unprecedented in their size. The past two budgets have included funding increases totaling $10.9 million at Buffalo State, a 39% increase; $4.7 million at Potsdam, a 33.4% increase; and $5.6 million at Fredonia, a 37% increase," SUNY Spokesman Lane Filler said in a prepared statement.

"What's more, the lion's share of the $114 million increase for all state-operated campuses this year was allocated according to how much money the raises negotiated by the 'Bottom line, SUNY is under seige, and we will not stand by while our campuses are starved of available resources.'

Frederick E. Kowal
UUP President

UUP last year will cost those campuses, meeting most but not all of that need at those campuses. To the extent that some campuses received more than others, it was driven by the well-deserved raises that UUP and the State had agreed to," Filler's statement said.

UUP said that speakers at a recent conference noted that "decades of neglect and disinvestment by the state have threatened several SUNY campuses."

But the SUNY Chancellor's office challenged those notions as well.

"While UUP's statement pointed out that Buffalo State University recently announced cuts to 37 programs to shrink their deficits, it omitted the size of those programs: a total of 34 students currently enrolled in those programs (all of whom will be able to complete their degree as planned)," Filler's statement said.

The chancellor's office says the UUP has failed to explain what it would have cut at other SUNY campuses to continue funding programs that students are "choosing not to pursue, at campuses that are realigning offerings to meet student desires and needs. Would UUP eliminate faculty at fast-growing campuses or in fast-growing programs?"

Would UUP cut recent investments in mental health supports, services for students with disabilities and paid internships?" Filler asked.

"SUNY is proud to have secured the largest systemwide increases in state aid in at least 50 years. It is proud to have distributed the public's money equitably and prudently."

1861 Crazy Quilt coming to Canton

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON – An 1861 Crazy Quilt donated by the Southworth family will be featured at an open house on Saturday, June 15, at the Canton Historian's building, 7 Main St.

The event will take place from noon to 4 p.m. and will include a book signing by Roxanne Bocock on the history of Pyrites.

"The Southworth family came on the Mayflower and eventually settled in the north country. Thus Canton loses another among those fine old first families, one who held fast the friendships won over a long and lovely life," said Canton Historian Linda Casserly.

Mrs. Southworth descended from one of the pioneer families of this section. Her grandfather, Henry Mead, was among the first settlers in that South Canton Brick Chapel section from which those families also include the Wallaces, Sandersons, Heatons, Judds. Henry Southworth and his wife lived to an old age, residing on the old home farm which he had settled and which descended to his son, Orville, and is now the property of Stanley Southworth, Casserly noted.

Bocock's book, Catherine's Dream, is a testament to the power and possibility of nurturing one's ambitions against all odds, and overcoming fear and doubt with faith and determination.

"This book has already been read by local people from Pyrites and feel the author has captured the truth about small town Pyrites," Casserly stated.

Check out 7 Main St.

Casserly was appointed Canton Historian in 1995, working out of a one-room office on the second floor of the Canton Municipal Building. On Oct. 4, 2022, the office and collection was relocated to its current space at 7 Main St.

"The collection began to grow when the Historian's Office and collection was moved to 7 Main St. with no stairs and on the corner. The collection and donations just keep growing," said Casserly.

Today, there are five rooms - a library, a resource room, a photo room with four archival boxes of photos, maps and newspapers back to the early 1800s.

"This place is a treasure for Canton's life photos, yearbooks, students graduation certificates back to 1889 and Canton keeps on growing for the local community," she said.

Casserly thanked Canton Town Supervisor Mary Ann Ashley and Mayor Mike Dalton for allocating funding for the 7 Main Street space.

"Thankfully, Paul Mitchell, Renice Bisnett, 92 years old, Rachael Towne, Greg Howe and photographer Dennis Barr, and others, gave their time to make a showcase for all to see," Casserly remarked. "So many people never forgot the importance of being the St. Lawrence County Seat. We are so proud of our history."

Casserly also applauded the work of volunteer Steven Sauter who knew more history and loved his work.

"I hope to see many visitors on Saturday," she said.

Students help with municipal building quandary

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON – A capstone project by a group of Clarkson University students focused on plans for a new municipal building in the Village of Canton.

Under the tutelage of Professor Erik Backus, the team of eight seniors presented their findings through a slide show presentation to elected leaders at a joint meeting in April. The cost of the new building would be $13,105,310, a little over one half of a projected cost of $25 million presented to village and town board members in March 2023 by BCA Architects and Engineers, Watertown.

Since last March, a joint building committee has met numerous times to discuss municipal building issues.

The plans then and now involved tearing down the McDonald's Restaurant at 64 Main St. and building a new building on the footprint, leaving the old building in use during construction. The old building footprint would then become part of the parking lot and green-space. The building would have a backward "J" layout with Main Street on the bottom of the J.

The eight students, all seniors, are Jacob Vaccaro, Claudia Scala, Chessney Buell, Caleb Gardner, Addison Wallace, Shazoi Hall, Jeffrey Lavair and John Dundon.

The students designed the building with courtroom and court offices on both the first and second floors. The student design did not include the historian's office and police department.

The configuration of the building would allow for 54 parking spaces with four handicapped spaces.

The Clarkson students' study included a breakdown of costs - $201,000 for demolition, $10.5 million to construct a new building, $1 million for site work, and $1.3 million for soft costs.

The presentation also cited hurdles and risks associated with the project and proposed action. They include:

- A clock tower – it was determined that the clock tower is not necessary if it does not align with the current design scope

- Existing utilities – the team needs to meet with relevant personnel to request a site plan that includes the existing on-site utilities.

- HVAC and plumbing systems – The design team adjusted the original design to efficiently incorporate HVAC and plumbing systems while maintaining consistency with the original design.

- The original design concept did not take into account accurate site dimensions; the original design concept did not fit on the site blueprint – the design team took a site visit to the existing municipality building and conducted measurements to adequately size the building design. The original design shape, shell and model were kept the same, however, the overall dimensions of the building had to be shortened.

Seaway Visitor Center closed due to storm damage

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

MASSENA — Though a grand opening was held just last month, the St. Lawrence Seaway Visitor Center at Eisenhower Lock is closed until further notice, officials say.

According to a press release from Seaway officials, the visitor center is temporarily closed, effective June 7, for a safety assessment and necessary repairs.

Officials say the facility sustained water damage to the building interior, which was caused by a severe storm that hit the North Country on June 6.

"Since reopening last month, the Seaway Visitor Center has been busy with families and children, tourists and residents alike, who are fascinated by the contemporary operations of the St. Lawrence Seaway and of Eisenhower Lock," said Adam Tindall-Schlicht, Administrator of the GLS.

"I thank the amazing team of GLS employees in Massena for beautifully realizing the new Visitor Center and for aptly responding to yesterday's storm," he said.

Though the facility is closed, seaway officials say it will only be temporary.

First opening in 1961, just two years after the seaway officially opened, the visitor center has served as a major tourist attraction for the region, officials said.

"Contract teams are already on-site at the Visitor Center and needed remediation efforts are already underway," Visitor Center Director Amy Stark said.

"We are undertaking every effort to reopen this fabulous tourism amenity to the public soon," she said.

Vessel traffic through the locks were unaffected by the storm and continue as normal.

Viewing opportunities are still available via north overlook parking lot, officials said.

The new visitor center was opened to much fanfare, with state and federal officials on hand for the grand unveiling.

A ribbon cutting was held on May 13.

In his address, Tindall-Schlicht praised the efforts of the many parties involved in bringing the vision of a new visitor center to life, from the federal officials that assisted, to the contractors who completed the work, to the staff who will operate the center and lead tours.

"The creation of this visitor center is a testament to the strong bipartisan support it has received since inception," he said.

In particular, Tindall-Schlicht praised Senators Chuck Schumer and Kirsten Gillibrand, along with Congresswoman Elise Stefanik and former US Department of Transportation Secretary Elaine Chao for their bipartisan efforts to fast track the project.

First proposed in 2018 by Sen. Schumer, the visitor center saw officials on site in 2022 to break ground. Just two years, the public will be able to witness what it has to offer.

"The vision and the care and the investments made by the Biden-Harris administration are truly historic. The new visitor center at Eisenhower Locke and the future of shipping on the Great Lakes Seaway is secure because of once in a generation leadership that is exemplified by you, ma'am," Tindall-Schlicht said in reference to Trottenberg.

Legislature passes additional regulations for gun dealers at end of legislative session

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

Gun dealers in New York State will have to post more warning signs in their shops after the New York Senate and Assembly passed new legislation as the legislative session ended.

Under the legislation, which is just pending a final signature from Governor Kathy Hochul, dealer must post a sign that details "how firearms significantly increases the risk of suicide, lethal domestic violence, or deadly accident to children.

According to the legislation, the sign must read "Access to a weapon or firearm in the home significantly increases the risk of suicide, death during domestic disputes, and/or unintentional deaths to children, household members and others. If you or a loved one is experiencing distress and/or depression, call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 988."

According to the legislation, the signs must be posted by each entrance, by the point of sale where the transactions take place, as well as "at least one more in an additional area" by licensed dealers or gunsmiths.

Dealers must also go a step further, ensuring a copy of the warning is "displayed or delivered" to the buyer as well, the legislation reads.

If a dealer fails to post or provide warnings, fines of up to $1,000 can be issued along with a maximum of 15 days in jail.

Village board agrees to obtain a $2.42M bond toward sewer line reroute

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM - The village has approved a $2.42 million bond resolution to be able to apply for a state grant to reroute a sewer line crossing the Raquette on the river's bottom, to over the river along a new footbridge.

The village board agreed to the five-year bond resolution at their meeting May 28. The resolution allows the village to move forward with applying for a state Water Infrastructure Improvement (WIIA) program grant to help pay for building the bridge and raising the sewer line.

The project will involve raising the sewer line and attaching it to a footbridge the village wants to build between Fall Island and Garner Park.

The water line, currently passing along the bottom of the river, was identified by Clarkson University civil engineering students as a project in need of remediation at a presentation to the village last year.

"Our current estimate for that pedestrian bridge is just over 2.4 million, so the bond resolution included in front of you is two million, four-hundred twenty thousand," said David Powers of engineering firm Barton & Loguidice to the village board. The village is contracting with B&L for the project.

"In order to apply for a WIIA grant, which is one of the prime sources of funding that we're tar-getting for this project, a bond resolution is required," Powers said.

Powers said to the village board however, that on the $2.4 million project the village will likely have to borrow some funds to pay for what the grant doesn't cover. "We hope we can get it fully grant funded, but it's unlikely," Powers said. He said if borrowing is required for the project after the grant is received the village will have to "revisit" the bond resolution, revise it and institute a permissive referendum period before approval of any borrowing to cover a shortfall in project funding.

"But at this point it's just checking the box so we can apply for that WIIA grant which is due on June 14," Powers told the board.

City endorses Breeze Air flights to DC

BY JIMMY LAWTON
North Country This Week

OGDENSBURG -- Ogdensburg City Council is endorsing Breeze Air as the airline they'd like to see receive the Essential Air Service Subsidy.

Breeze Air is one of three airlines vying for the federal subsidy that helps offset costs for air service in rural communities.

Last week the airline was one of three that shared their proposals with the public.

Breeze operates 137 passenger jets with wifi and three seating classes.

Their proposal includes flights to Washington D.C., once per day.

Mayor Michael Tooley spoke about the pros and cons of each airline proposal. And while Breeze had pluses in the above mentioned categories, the biggest drawback is the lack of interline connections.

What that essentially means is that passengers can't book connecting flights, instead they would need to book a separate flight. That means they would need to reclaim and check their baggage.

Tooley noted that the airline is hoping to solve that issue before October, when they would begin providing service to the city if awarded the contract.

Tooley said the 137 passenger planes are in line with the Ogdensburg Bridge and Port Authority's goal of making the local airport a hub and would likely be more attractive to Canadian flyers.

Deputy Mayor Dan Skamperle also offered strong support for Breeze Air. He noted that the airline also expressed strong interest in adding non-subsidized flights to Florida, that's something Breeze is already doing from Plattsburgh.

He noted that the airline was following a model similar to Allegiant Air, which once provided service to the local airport, but discontinued it following the pandemic which made turning a profit exceedingly difficult. Although not present at the meeting City Councilor Jennifer Stevenson, expressed support for Contour Air, which is the current provider.

Contour Air provides flights twice daily to Philadelphia and has interline agreements with American and Alaskan Air. She said as someone who flies out of the airport three times a month, that Contour's service and ability to connect with other flights is very convenient. Contour offers 30 passenger jets. Contour's biggest weakness was a poor track record of flights out of Ogdensburg over the last two years.

However, recently that problem has decreased. That's largely due to a partnership with Skywest, which provided Contour with significant access to back up planes, parts and maintenance crews.

The third airline in the running was Boutique, which operates an 8-passenger plane. Although the airline has an immaculate record and offered a wide variety of flight options as well as interline connectivity, council seemed to agree that a smaller airplane would not have the same appeal to travelers as the larger jets. City council voted 5-0 to support Breeze Air. Councilors Michael Powers and Stevenson were not present, though Powers shared a statement of support for Breeze Air. The recommendation will be passed on to the OBPA who will make their own recommendation soon. A public meeting will be held Thursday where they are expected to discuss the matter.

The public is also encouraged to provide comment on the proposals and can do so by visiting www.regulations.gov/document/DOT-OST-1997-2842-0456/comment

Input can also be sent to Michael Martin at the Department of Transportation at Michael.F.Martin@dot.gov before June 19.

New Potsdam hydropower enrollment campaign

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

POTSDAM -- Town and Village of Potsdam officials were on hand with Northern Power & Light representatives, along with Boralex officials, to announce a new community campaign to enroll town and village residents and businesses to receive clean, local and renewable hydroelectricity.

Based in Saranac Lake, NP&L specializes in offering community hydropower for National Grid customers, serving residents and businesses throughout the region.

Officials say NP&L uses a share-based model, meaning each customer receives a share of electricity from a hydro facility, with the power produced being credited on their National Grid bills each month.

According to Mayor Alexandra Jacobs-Wilke, both the town and village of Potsdam now source 100% of their electricity from local hydropower through NP&L, saving thousands of dollars each year on electricity costs, respectively.

Phase one of the project will include enrolling 10 town and village residents and businesses in the program, earning both the town and village grants from New York State projected to be $5,000.

Phase two seeks to enroll an additional 50 residential and business accounts. If successful, each municipality would have access to an additional $10,000 grant for sustainability projects.

The action would also earn the municipalities points towards both Climate Smart Communities Silver Designation and the Clean Energy Communities Program, officials say.

Both municipal officials and NP&L officials agreed that the program is a win-win for everyone involved.

While addressing attendees along the banks of the Raquette River in Ives Park, Jacobs-Wilke noted the history of Potsdam's use of hydropower since its founding.

Now with the entire village sourcing hydropower for daily operations, she said the new program is a "win-win-win" for everyone involved.

"We're going to be able to harness local, clean hydropower for the rest of our operations. Local customers, of which I am one, my family is one already, they can switch for free to ensure that they have local clean hydropower for their own power as well. For us, we get a discount on our municipal bill, saving taxpayer dollars. And we're going to get points for sustainability grants," she said.

Those points will enable the town and village to apply for larger grants for sustainable power in the future.

According to Kate Glenn, community outreach coordinator for NP & L, with enough points and customers enrolled the town and village will be eligible for future grants that can reach $100,000.

"We can direct those funds towards fantastic projects in the future," Jacobs-Wilke said.

"It's really such an easy yes...we will be taking full advantage of this incredible resource that we have right on our shores right next to us, that flows right through our village," she said.

Miller also offered his thanks to the Climate Smart Communities Task Force, who have been an invaluable partner to the town and village, he said.

"Through the committee's hard work and perseverance you have accomplished something that will benefit the village and town of Potsdam. It will also open the doors to the future for this community by being a climate smart community," he said.

Miller offered his thanks to NP&L for their efforts, saying they played a crucial role in helping the community reach their goals in implementing sustainable, renewable energy.

"The committee has brought together the village and town governments in working towards realizing the task of local hydropower for our residents. That will save taxpayers money, which will be available to all that switch at no additional cost," Miller said.

CSC Task Force Co-Chair Rose Rivezzi also touched on the program benefits, saying the involvement in NP&L in Potsdam shows both municipalities' commitment to clean energy and saving taxpayer dollars.

Erik Bergman, Hydro Operations Manager for Boralex, said the north country's local energy source can play a key role in a sustainable future for Potsdam.

SUV crashes through fence, gets stuck in field

POTSDAM — An SUV crashed through a fence and stopped in a muddy field on County Route 59 last week, according to Potsdam Fire.

The accident took place on Thursday, June 6, and was reported at 6:29 a.m., Fire Drive Mark Maroney said in an online statement.

Potsdam Fire, Potsdam Rescue, and County Car 10 responded near 469 CR 59 to assist on scene, he said.

The vehicle allegedly left the roadway and then drove through a fence.

Firefighters on scene provided traffic control while the vehicle was removed, Maroney said.

New York State Police also responded to the accident.

Potsdam Rescue reportedly responded as well, but the driver was not taken to the hospital.

Potsdam Fire was in service at 8:05 a.m.

Last week's question
What level swimmer would you consider yourself?

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS encourages families to be "water smart" this summer before heading out to pools, beaches and other swimming locations. Remember these water safety tips. Nobody should ever swim alone. Designate a "water watcher" who will keep a close eye and constant attention on children and weaker swimmers in, on and around water until the next water watcher takes over. Have young children or inexperienced swimmers wear properly fitted U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jackets around water, but don't rely on life jackets alone. Reach or throw, don't go. In the event of an emergency, reach or throw an object to the person in trouble and tell them to grab on. Don't go in. You could be in danger of drowning yourself. What level swimmer would you consider yourself?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: Ogdensburg City Council is endorsing Breeze Air as the airline they'd like to see receive the Essential Air Service Subsidy. Breeze Air is one of three airlines vying for the federal subsidy that helps offset costs for air service in rural communities. Have you ever flown out of, or into a St. Lawrence County airport?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gratitude for a Canton gardener

The first occurrence of each and every weekday is my alarm clock going off in Norwood at 6:35am. My commute to Canton, as the crow flies, lasts 28 minutes. As I am not a crow, I might stop for breakfast, dining on a bright green lawn beside a gas station. Work then starts at my accountant's desk.

For the next three and a half hours, the repetitions and tasks of modern office work occupy my thoughts. Those 210 minutes of life are ruled by photocopies, emails, excel-spreadsheets, meetings, phone calls, and pdf documents.

But then it's time to take lunch. And during those sacred 60 minutes of leisure in a day of labor, I make a point of stepping outside for some much-needed fresh air and exercise.

To start lunch, I launch out the back door of the office like a ship leaving port, checking before departure whether or not I ought bring a coat for warmth or an umbrella for dryness on my voyage.

Then I walk the pleasurable walk I have walked hundreds of times on hundreds of lunch breaks, winding my way towards Canton's restaurant district. On this well-trod path, I round the corner of Chapel and Court street, and there I encounter a treasure.

12 Chapel Street. A gorgeous residence, a welcome sight, an oasis, a work of art. The bright red door stands out like a crimson firework complimenting the cool grey of the house's walls. Six well painted white framed windows surround the red door, like soldiers escorting their monarch. But the real crowning glory is the garden. A veritable Eden of flowers, bushes, and assorted lawn-work surround this castle with a moat of botanical beauty.

On first pass, this home's beauty looks effortless. But I know better. On my hundreds of walks over the past two years I have watched the resident gardener, a cheerful and distinguished looking lady, cultivate this beauty through diligence.

I've seen her mow grass and water flowers in Spring. Seen her shovel snow and salt ice in Winter.

Though I don't know her name, her talent for creating beauty has become a life-giving constant in my life. The Sun may light the day, and the moon the night, but 12 Chapel Street shines the light of joy on my lunch breaks.

Canton should give this Gardener of Gardeners a medal. I give her my sincere thanks.

Thanks for the load of stone

I needed some stone to level a spot to put a shed. I called Jim Gibson and he told me we are very busy but would work me in.

On Sunday, June 2, his father's 91st birthday he delivered the stone and asked me how I was going to move it. I answered with my shovel.

On Monday morning, he called to tell me he would be there Monday night to level it. He did not want me to do it manually,"you are not a young man."

I do not have the proper words to thank him.

So much appreciated Jim.

On Father's Day, remember the lessons we learn and keep him with us forever

Spend some time with the one you can count on

There are very few things you can count on in this world, but for as long as I can remember my father's been one of them.

As a young child growing up in Spokane, Washington, my father always seemed to be working. He worked at a factory during the day,

Editor's Notebook

laid carpet in the evenings and spent his time at home perpetually remodeling.

If you wanted to hang out with dad, you were probably working. My older brother and I would accompany him on carpet jobs and assist with various projects, though admittedly in those days I was much more interested in Nintendo than carpentry or fixing lawnmowers.

Over the years my parents scraped up enough money to purchase a mosquito-infested property on a river small enough you could throw a stone across it. It was there my father helped us carve out a tree into some semblance of a canoe over the course of a summer. I learned how to set up a tent. How to start a fire and how to cook over it.

It was there I learned to ride a three-wheeler and a dirt bike and how to change spark plugs and chains. I learned how to drive a boat, and tried my hand at water skiing.

When I was 11, my parents decided to move back home to Lisbon. My grandfather on my father's side had fallen ill and my father came back to help run the farm with his brother Steve, who has since passed.

Although moving to rural farm life was a dramatic change for my brothers and I, one thing remained the same.

If you wanted to spend time with dad, you'd be working. Despite my fierce resistance to learn anything farm related, I spent the next seven years learning to farm.

And while it was certainly not my calling and I wanted nothing to do with it, I lack room in this column to even begin listing the things I learned in those seven years. Some were practical things, like driving a tractor, milking cows or backing up four-wheeled wagons and how to saddle a horse, fix a fence or change tires.

Other lessons were deeper, like the importance of facing the day, regardless of what you did the night before. The ability to keep pushing on when you feel like you've got nothing left and the realities of life and death that come with being around livestock.

Over the years things have changed. The farm's sold and I'm now a father myself. My dad's now a grandfather and for the first time he's getting some well deserved rest. He gets to spend time with my kids that he didn't have when I was young and they are fortunate to be learning from him just like I did.

If you wanted to hang out with dad, you were probably working.

The amount of knowledge my father's passed on to me over the years is incomprehensible. It's part of who I am and how I see the world and sadly it's probably less one-one thousandth of what he tried to teach me.

On Sunday I'll be fortunate enough to spend some time with my dad on Father's Day and if I listen I'll probably learn something useful. If being a dad has taught me anything, it is that life moves faster once you have kids. I know that someday I won't be lucky enough to spend the holiday with my dad anymore.

For many people that's already a reality that can make it hard to enjoy. But, I also know that the gifts my father's given me are mine to keep forever. I know that I'm already passing them down to my children and that's something I don't take for granted.

So this Sunday if you can make it work, spend some time with that person who has been a father to you; that person who you've been able to count on always.

And if you can't do that, it's worth taking a minute to appreciate all they've given you and try to understand in passing down those lessons, they are in many ways still right there with you when it counts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To our Crime fighting chiroptera

Dear The Batman,
I am writing to tell you how much I enjoyed the latest installment of your ongoing adventures. Once again you demonstrate a singular focus on rounding up villains to make Gotham safer.

I have a suggestion that I think could have a significant positive impact on your exploits. Make the Bat Mobile electric. The rumble and roar of the present combustion model, not to mention the toxic emissions, are really out of character with that of our winged mammalian cousins. Bats are quiet. Stealthy even. Your present machine enters the crime scene with all the stealth of a chorus of air horns at a hockey game. The emissions from the clearly excessive engine appear to be on the order of a diesel dump truck rolling coal. It simply won't do.

While I appreciate your attempt at making an impression on arch villains, subtlety, I think, would be much more effective. Imagine appearing at a crime scene unheard, seemingly out of nowhere. This is your typical approach when on foot. And it works. Why should the Bat Mobile be any different? And frankly the pollution from the current abomination is a crime against humanity.

I have followed your career for over 50 years and trust you are always trying to do good for the people of Gotham. In that spirit it is clear to me that the death gas spewing Bat Mobile has got to go. Perhaps you could sell it to one of your arch enemies?

The scarecrow is particularly fond of poisoning victims. You could then blow it up in a future encounter. Now that's cinematic.

I realize I have never donned a cape, a rubber suit, or a mask to fight crime. And consequently, my understanding of what it takes to bring super villains to justice is limited. But I do know something about energy, pollution, and EVs. And as such I feel confident an EV would only enhance your efforts to improve the quality of life for the people of Gotham.

By powering the Bat Cave via solar you could further reduce your caped crusading crime fighting carbon footprint. Add an electric Bat Cycle and Bat Plane and just count the strikes against evil.

The spiritual side of pets

O! The Goodness of having a dog. The responsibility to live in a way that makes for my Little Bush-Dog's happiness.

There are so many positive motivations involved with having the responsibility to be a good influence on my dog's life.

As with so many other parts of our lives. Our spirituality is a factor here. We can all instinctively sense how good responsibility is for our Soul.

My heart is telling me that this is one of the very best things in life. It feels wonderful to realize how deeply the spiritual side of things is involved in our living moments.

Moment by moment.
Heartbeat by heartbeat.
With every act of good care that we give to our pets.

O! Hearts' Hurrah! For spirit in all things.

Colton Town Supervisor report

We are now ready to open the Transfer Station by next week. Almost everything is done. Thank you to the Highway Department for doing the blacktopping. Super job and thanks to Kevin and the crew.

We now have a very workable building. The stonework on the outside was done to save money and aesthetics as well. If the building was hit and dented, the repair would be much cheaper by replacing one or two stones instead of the whole area of siding.

Pride Festival performance

Seth Bacher, Watertown, performs at the Potsdam Pride Festival's drag show Saturday, June 8. The event had six performers who entertained the crowd at Ives Park, Potsdam.

The library is looking great and was very well done. This building is a major historical landmark in our town and looks very stately. We should always keep this building looking in top shape inside and out. This is the town of Colton's responsibility, and we need to thank Heart Cabinetry, Bonno Builders and the Library Board for doing a very professional job. It is great to work with people that truly care.

As Supervisor of Colton, I would like to congratulate the graduating seniors for a job well done and wish you good luck in your future endeavors.

The Town Board and I are very proud of the Senior Class 2024.

Lazy Hazy Days of Colton will be the weekend of July 27th-28th. The parade begins at 10 a.m. on July 27th beginning at Cold Brook Drive. I'm hoping everyone can be there and possibly participate in some way.

We are also going to host an ATV Side by Side ride on Saturday, June 15, to be sponsored by the Colton-Pierrepont Amvets Post 262 and Camp Serenity for Wounded Warriors. Registration will be from 8:30-10 a.m. at the Amvets.

The ride will begin at Amvets, continue to Camp Serenity and then on to Parishville Amvets and back to Colton-Pierrepont Amvets at around 4 p.m.

This ride is open to anyone, providing they have the required insurance and trail pass.

After the ride, the Amvets will be sponsoring a pig roast, along with raffles, auctions and live music by Ed McCarthy. All proceeds will go to Wounded Warrior/Camp Serenity. Hope to see everyone there.

I wish everyone a fun and safe summer.

Village of Potsdam searching for new economic developer

BY ADAM ATKINSON

North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The village is advertising for a new economic developer.

Potsdam Village Mayor Alexandra Jacobs Wilke said the new hire is in preparation for current Economic Developer Fred Hanss' anticipated retirement next spring.

"This is part of our succession planning for this important part of our operations, to bring someone in now, while Fred is in his final year before retirement," Wilke told North Country This Week.

"Fred is a valued part of our team and this will allow him to focus on all our big ongoing grant projects and his other duties, while we bring in someone new to take on economic development projects and plan for the future," Wilke said.

"So this new position is one with potential for further growth," said the mayor.

The person hired for the position will be responsible for "assisting in the planning, initiation, implementation and administration of programs to attract industries to locate within the municipality and to promote expansion of existing industries. The incumbent is required to work in a number of project areas, including but not limited to the preparation of grant applications, loan fund management, financial package development and the preparation of marketing plans," according to the job description on the village website.

According to the job description, the economic developer will manage and market the village's revolving loan fund and help businesses develop financial packages, as well as monitor grants awarded to the village.

NOTICE OF PROPOSITION TO FUND A SCHOOL DISTRICT LIBRARY AND ANNOUNCE TRUSTEE ELECTIONS OF THE LIBRARY CHARTERED TO SERVE THE POTSDAM CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT, TOWNS OF CANTON, PARISHVILLE, PIERREPOINT, POTSDAM, AND STOCKHOLM, COUNTY OF ST. LAWRENCE, NEW YORK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing of the qualified voters of the Potsdam Central School District, St. Lawrence County, Potsdam, New York, will be held in the Community Room of the Potsdam Village Civic Center on Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 6:00 PM (Eastern Daylight Time), for the presentation of the budget for the proposed funding of the School District Library.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the Board of Education of the Potsdam Central School District that a special meeting of the qualified voters of the School District will be held at the Potsdam Civic Center, 2 Park Street, Potsdam, New York; on Wednesday, June 26, 2024 between the hours of 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., prevailing time when the polls will be open to vote by ballot or machine upon the following items:

PROPOSITION

1. It is proposed that pursuant to Education Law, Section 259, the Board of Education of the Potsdam Central School District is authorized to levy and collect an annual tax, year after year, separate and apart from the annual school district budget to be paid to Potsdam Public Library for its support and maintenance. "Shall the tax levy be increased $14,113 over the current annual appropriation of $606,664 which was approved by the voters in 2022 with this appropriated amount of $620,777 to be an annual appropriation until thereafter modified by a future vote of the electors of the Potsdam Central School District?"

2. To elect (3) three persons to the Library Board of Trustees to serve for terms of (3) three years commencing July 1, 2024 and ending June 30, 2027 to succeed Mary Cabral, Abby DeCastro, and Tamara Madeja, whose terms expire June 30, 2024, and to elect (1) one person to the Library Board of Trustees to serve for a term of (2) two years, ending June 30, 2026, filling the remainder of a vacant position.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that copies of the proposed Library Budget including a statement of estimated expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025, may be obtained by any taxpayer of said School District beginning May 10, 2025 at the Potsdam Public Library during library hours.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that petitions nominating candidates for the office of Trustee of the Public Library must be filed with the Clerk of the Board of the Potsdam Public Library, Potsdam, New York, by no later than 5:00 p.m. on Monday, May 20, 2024. All petitions must be signed by a minimum of 25 qualified voters of the School District. Petitions may be obtained at the Potsdam Library, 2 Park Street, Potsdam, New York.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that applications for absentee ballots will be obtainable between the hours of 9:00 AM and 5:00 PM Monday through Friday, except holidays, from the Potsdam Public Library Clerk of the Board. Completed applications must be received by the Potsdam Public Library Clerk of the Board at least seven (7) days before the election if the ballot is to be mailed to the voter, or the day before the election, if the ballot is to be delivered personally to the voter. Absentee ballots must be received by the Potsdam Public Library Clerk of the Board no later than 5:00 PM, prevailing time, on Wednesday, June 26, 2024.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the qualified voters of the School District shall be entitled to vote at said vote and election. A qualified voter is one who is (1) a citizen of the United States of America, (2) eighteen years of age or older, and (3) resident within the School District for a period of thirty (30) days preceding the vote and the election. The School District may require all persons offering to vote at the budget vote and election to provide one form of proof of residency pursuant to Education Law 2018-c. Such form may include a driver's license, a non-driver identification card, a utility bill, or a voter registration card. Upon offer of proof of residency, the School District may also require all persons offering to vote to provide their signature, printed name and address.

APPLICATION OF NIAGARA MOHAWK POWER CORPORATION D/B/A NATIONAL GRID FOR A CERTIFICATE OF ENVIRONMENTAL COMPATIBILITY AND PUBLIC NEED FOR THE REBUILD OF AN EXISTING 115KV TRANSMISSION LINE RUNNING FROM THE COLTON SUBSTATION IN THE TOWN OF PIERREPONT, ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY, THROUGH THE TOWNS OF PARISHVILLE AND HOPKINTON, ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY, TO THE NICHOLVILLE SUBSTATION IN THE TOWN OF LAWRENCE, ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation d/b/a National Grid ("National Grid" or the "Applicant"), on or about June 21, 2024, will file an application (the "Application") in the above-entitled matter with the Public Service Commission ("Commission") for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need pursuant to Article VII of the Public Service Law. The Application will propose a project to rebuild the existing 115KV transmission line from the Colton Substation in the Town of Pierrepont, St. Lawrence County, through the Towns of Parishville and Hopkinton, St. Lawrence County, to the Nicholville Substation in the Town of Lawrence, St. Lawrence County, New York.

During the course of the proceedings, alternate routes not included in the Application filing or affected by the proposed primary route may be offered without further notice by publication. In addition, the Commission may, without further notice by publication, approve a route for the line that traverses municipalities not presently affected by the proposed primary route.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT

National Grid proposes to rebuild and reconduct a portion of the existing 115KV T3170 Colton-Malone 3 transmission line for approximately 18.3 miles between the Colton Substation in the Town of Pierrepont and the Nicholville Substation in the Town of Lawrence (to be known as the "Colton-Nicholville 3 Project", or the "Project"). The Project is located in the Towns of Pierrepont, Parishville, Hopkinton, and Lawrence in St. Lawrence County. The Project is being undertaken to replace deteriorated structures, conductors, and shield wires in order to maintain reliable transmission service. The line utilizes primarily wood single circuit H-frame structures and is approximately 18.3 miles long.

The proposed line between Colton Substation and structure 3 will be rebuilt on horizontally configured H-frame type, single circuit, galvanized steel pole structures located on the existing centerline. The line between Structures 4 and 6 will be rebuilt on delta davit arm deadend, single circuit, single-pole (i.e., monopoles), galvanized steel pole structures located on the existing centerline. The remainder of the line between Structure 6 and the Nicholville Substation will be rebuilt on horizontally configured H-frame type, single circuit, galvanized steel pole structures located on the existing centerline with the exception of the portion of the line between structures 67 and 71. This portion of the line will be rebuilt adjacent to the existing centerline on new 100-foot-wide right-of-way.

The Project proposes to reconduct the existing line, which primarily features 336.4 kcmil 26/7 Aluminum Conductor Steel Reinforced "Linnet" conductor with double bundled 636 kcmil 26/7 Aluminum Conductor Steel Supported "Grosbeak" conductor. The existing 3/8" Extra High Strength 7-strand steel shield wire will be replaced with a single 3/8" EHS 7-strand steel shield wire and a 48-count Fiber Optic Ground Wire. In locations where only one aerial ground wire is installed, the 3/8" 7-strand steel shield wire may be terminated at structures on either end of the single aerial ground wire segment.

PROPOSED ROUTE

In general terms, the proposed route of the Project will traverse the Town of Pierrepont, Town of Parishville, Town of Hopkinton, and Town of Lawrence, all within St. Lawrence County. The proposed route will traverse approximately four miles within the Adirondack State Park. The precise route can be found in figures in Exhibit 2 of the Applicant's filing, which will be available for public inspection as described below.

DATE OF FILING

National Grid expects to file the Article VII Application with the Commission on or about June 21, 2024.

AVAILABILITY OF APPLICATION

A copy of the Application filed with the Commission will be served upon the chief executive officers of the municipalities traversed by the proposed route and by alternative routes discussed in Exhibit 3 of the Application (which are St. Lawrence County and the Towns of Lawrence, Pierrepont, Parishville, and Hopkinton). On or about the date the Application is filed with the Commission, copies of the Application will be available for public inspection in local public libraries in or closest to each of the above communities: specifically, at Hepburn Library (84 Main Street, Colton, New York 13625), Hopkinton Reading Center (7 Church Street, Hopkinton, NY 12965), Waverly Free Library (5 North Main Street, St. Regis Falls, NY 12980), and Potsdam Public Library (2 Park Street, Potsdam, NY 13676). In addition, copies will be available for public inspection at the Department of Public Service Offices in Albany (Office of Central Files, 14th Floor, Three Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12223) and will be posted on the Commission's website (www.dps.ny.gov). A link to the PSC website page(s) that contain the Application will be provided on National Grid's website (<https://natgrid.com/coltonnicholvilleNY>) for this Project.

Gem, Mineral and Jewelry Show in Canton

BY PAUL MITCHELL
North Country This Week

CANTON – The 57th edition of the St. Lawrence County Rock & Mineral Club's Gem, Mineral & Jewelry Show will be held Aug. 23-25 at the Canton Pavilion, 90 Lincoln St.

"Last year we had over 1300 people attend the show," said Club Secretary Joanna deLorraine.

Weekend activities kick off Friday with the fluorescent mineral hunt at 8 p.m. at the pavilion.

"On Friday night we have a free children's fluorescent mineral hunt which is guided with black lights provided so children can collect their own glow in the dark minerals," deLorraine added.

Admission to the hunt is free and each child (age 12 or under) will be able to borrow a portable black light to use in the search. Kids get to keep all the minerals that they find.

Certain minerals fluoresce (glow) when exposed to ultraviolet (UV) or "black" light. For example, some of the white calcite from the Balmat Mines near Gouverneur fluoresces red when viewed under black light. Other minerals glow red too, or green, blue, purple, or yellow, and some rocks glow with

Bassmaster returning to Waddington

WADDINGTON - The St. Lawrence County Chamber, in collaboration with the Village of Waddington, announces the much-anticipated 2024 Hummingbird Bassmaster Elite Tournament, set to take place in Waddington from Aug. 15 to 18.

The event will not only showcase top-tier bass fishing talent but will also serve as the backdrop for the inaugural Outdoor Sports Showcase at Whitaker Park on Aug. 17 and 18.

The Bassmaster Elite Series is the pinnacle of professional bass fishing tournaments, featuring competitors who must qualify through rigorous competitions.

The event will host 103 professional anglers competing along the St. Lawrence River for the final tournament of the series season and will be nationally recognized, highlighting the 2024 Bassmaster Series Champion, Rookie of the Year, and Angler of the Year awarded in Waddington's Whitaker Park.

Bassmaster will feature a series sponsors, fishing demos and more for all four days of the tournament. The local festival component, hosted by the STLC Chamber, will be held on the weekend, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Outdoor Sports Showcase will feature a diverse array of regional outdoor sports, experiences, recreational activities, and more leading up the outdoor resources and activities to local residents and tourists," said Kathryn Puleo, Tourism & Events Manager of the STLC Chamber.

Puleo stated that the STLC Chamber is seeking to showcase and share information on area opportunities for outdoor enthusiasts such as fishing guides, hunting, golf, ATV, snowmobile and paddling clubs, hiking groups, outfitters, local sporting apparel and sports shops, and more. Select local vendors will also be featured and welcomed to apply to the showcase.

Businesses in the Village of Waddington are also expected to be featured. "Though the festival component is set in the park leading up to the top 50 and top 10 angler weigh-ins on the weekend of the tournament, we are looking to partner and highlight businesses throughout the Village of Waddington. Organizations such as the Waddington Concert Series have established programming to offer during the tournament, and we are looking to support, and highlight festivities taking place throughout the village during the entire series" stated Puleo. Businesses in the Village of Waddington can also submit sales, discounts and special activities taking place at their location to be featured within local marketing efforts.

Those looking to participate in The Outdoor Sports Showcase or be featured within downtown Waddington promotions can apply under the events listing on Visit-STLC.com or reach out to Tourism & Events Manager, Kathryn Puleo at kathryn@SLCchamber.org.

public as well," a press release states.

Admission is $4 for adults; children 12 and under: free.

A special mineral identification table is staffed by experts from SUNY Potsdam and St. Lawrence University on Saturday for those bringing unknown rock or mineral specimens along with them.

Dozens of collectors and vendors will be set up displaying and selling their extensive collections on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"The purpose of this activity is to have lots of fun experiencing whole new, brightly colored worlds, found in simple rocks and minerals, many available locally and to develop kids' interest in rocks and minerals," the release states.

A special treat will feature wire-wrapping lessons by Dave Millis from Pennsylvania. He is well known for his gem trees and wire-wrapped jewelry and he's giving free demonstrations Sunday to anyone who wants to learn his craft.

There will be a silent auction on both days of the show. Everyone in attendance will have the opportunity to look over, inspect, and bid on mineral specimens, crystals, jewelry, and other items of interest throughout the day.

A guided field trip will depart to the Power's farm, a renowned location for black tourmaline and quartz crystals, on Saturday at 9 a.m. The donation for collecting there is $5 per day.

Also, each year the St. Lawrence County Rock & Mineral Club offers a large amethyst cathedral as the prize in their fundraiser. An amethyst cathedral is a natural mineral formation, similar to a geode - a very large one. It gets the name "cathedral" from its shape; tall and pointed, somewhat resembling a gothic arch or a church window. It has been cut open, revealing that its inside is completely lined with purple amethyst crystals. It stands on a stable base of rock material. Its retail value is over $600.

"It would be a conversation piece in any room, as it is a work of art, as well as an item of scientific interest and an example of nature's natural beauty."

This unique item will be on display at the show and tickets for a chance to win it may be purchased at any time during the show. The winning ticket is drawn at 2 p.m. on Sunday. No pets are allowed inside the pavilion. Parking is free and expansive. Refreshments and snacks available throughout the day by Morgan's of Canton.

Info: club President William deLorraine at (315) 287-2560, or wdellie@gmail.com.

Proceeds from this event help sponsor mineralogy scholarships at SUNY Potsdam and St. Lawrence University as well as fund the "Mineral Kits for Kids" and the "Kids' Fluorescent Mineral Hunt" events.

Extension offers meat smoking workshop

CANTON – Cornell Cooperative Extension of St Lawrence County, 2043B State Highway 68, is hosting the first annual Reggie Sapp Memorial Meat Smoking and BBQ Workshop on Sunday, June 23 from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

The late Reggie Sapp served on the St Lawrence County Cornell Cooperative Extension Board of Directors for 6 years, said a press release from the Extension. He was a proud supporter of agriculture, a restaurant owner, and was passionate about cooking, specifically BBQ and smoked meats. Reggie's house was always open, and his kitchen was in operation. His pride and joy were his cookhouse with its many grills and cooktops, the Extension said.

Mike Morgan from the mobile food business Morgan's Munchies will instruct the workshop.

Mike will have his meat smoking set up on hand and participants will get to observe the process of preparing meat for smoking as well as witness components of the smoking process.

They will get to learn about different smoking techniques and supplies as well as watch a meat trimming demo.

This workshop will also have a hands-on component where participants will break down a whole chicken from Tucker's Black Angus Ranch, season it, and store it in a vacuum sealed bag to take home.

A lunch of smoked meat and sides will be provided and those registered will have a chance to win apple wood chips donated from Canton Apples and a smoker grill donated from Walmart in Massena.

Extension is offering this workshop to celebrate the life of Reggie Sapp, support local food entrepreneurs, and connect the community with local meat producers.

Registration is open and can be found at the CCE St Lawrence County website at stlawrence.cce.cornell.edu.

Enchanted garden opens

COLTON -- The Enchanted Story Garden Spring Opening will be held June 15, from 10 a.m.-noon.

Mark Manske with his ADK Raptors will present his birds of prey on the green between the library hedge and the Town Hall.

Bring a blanket or chair and enjoy his fascinating program.

Following his presentation, the audience can visit the Enchanted Story Garden to read the story, enjoy ice cream from Boycen's General Store Ice Cream truck and receive a gift bag compliments of Friends of Hepburn Library Colton.

In case of rain, the event will be held in the Colton Fire Department Community Room. The Enchanted Story Garden was funded by a grant awarded by Grassroots Fund.

There is no cost at all to attend the event, but a Go Fund Me page for donations has been set up at the webpage bit.ly/JuneteenthDonation.

Volunteers to help that day are also welcome and can sign up at the webpage bit.ly/June22Volunteer.

Juneteenth is Freedom Day for African-Americans, a celebration to mark the day when the last remaining American slaves learned they were finally free from bondage in Galveston, Texas on June 19, 1865, nearly two years after President Lincoln had signed the Emancipation Proclamation.

Sponsors for the event include Clarkson University, SEIU 1199, Price Chopper/Market 32, SLC Arts Council, Adirondack Diversity Initiative, Potsdam Food Co-op, First Presbyterian of Potsdam, Potsdam United Methodist, Poor People's Campaign of the North Country, ASync Arts, Great Northern Printing, Trinity Episcopal Church, and the Potsdam Church of Latter Day Saints. Fiscal Sponsors are the Potsdam Public Library and Local Living Venture, with media sponsors North Country Public Radio.

The public is invited to learn about Juneteenth, African-American culture, and local history through entertainment, exhibitors, displays and brief historical presentations.

There will be music with DJ Fresh1 and the headliners are Trumptyt315, an R&B Funk band with a twist.

All are welcome to bring a lawn chair or picnic blanket and enjoy good food, entertainment and presentations.

Antique tractors, horse rides, clock repair shop take visitors back in time

MADRID — A new church, Clock and Watch Repair Shop, and a Civil War-era field hospital and ambulance were some of the newest additions to the ever-expanding museum seen by hundreds of visitors Saturday.

Over 20 buildings and exhibits were on view at the St. Lawrence Power and Equipment Museum's Tractor and Spring Exhibition Show that continues on Sunday.

Antique tractors, an operating sawmill, horse pulls, and operating old engines are also being featured during the annual event.

Also new to the annual spring exhibition show was a petting zoo, horse and pony rides, and face painting for children.

The historic Nevin Memorial Church, originally built in Lisbon in 1855, is now relocated and restored at the museum. The church features 12 restored stained glass windows created by the renowned Harwood family's stained glass artists of Ogdensburg.

DEC reminds SLC residents to be 'bear-wise' this spring

St. Lawrence County residents are being advised by the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) to remove or secure outdoor food sources that may attract black bears.

Throughout the spring and early summer months, black bears have depleted fat reserves and will search extensively for easily obtainable, calorie-dense foods, which can lead to an increase in the potential for human-bear conflicts near homes and residential areas, DEC officials said. This happens especially before the spring green-up when natural food sources for bears are scarce.

"Across New York, black bears are emerging from their winter dens and may seek out human-created food sources," DEC Commissioner Basil Seggos said. "Repeat access to these food sources can make bears bolder, so I encourage New Yorkers to practice the BearWise basics to help keep bears wild and prevent the potential for human-bear conflicts."

Those who maintain bird feeders should begin emptying and cleaning spilled seed from feeders, and let nature feed the birds from spring through fall. Garbage and recycling cans should be secured or stored in a sturdy building.

This is also a good time to clean or remove all residual grease and food from grills and smokers. Pet and livestock food should be kept indoors and those with chicken coops or apiaries should consider installing an electric fence to protect flocks and hives. Lastly, neighbors should alert neighbors to any bear activity so they can take these same precautions.

New Yorkers are advised to never feed or approach bears. Feeding bears intentionally is dangerous and illegal. Bears that become habituated to being fed can become a threat to people and property.

By taking some time to practice the basics New Yorkers are helping keep bears away from people, homes, and neighborhoods, and that helps keep bears healthy, wild, and safe by removing any unnatural food attractants and encouraging neighbors to do the same.

For more information on how to live responsibly with black bears, please visit DEC's website and Bearwise.org.

Village, school join for Arbor Day tree planting

CANTON – The Village of Canton recently celebrated both Arbor Day and Earth Day with a Blaze Maple Tree planted at Canton Central School.

That tree replaced a Memorial Tree (in honor of Peter Van de Water) planted there along with five others but which died.

Canton Village Mayor Michael Dalton made a brief statement of support for the days and for the celebration followed by a presentation from a Middle School student.

About 20 student members of the Green Team from CCS Middle School with advisors Megan Scott and Kirsten Newman assisted with hole digging, site preparation and planting.

The Green team is a highly active group for environmental concerns. The tree has a life expectancy of 100 years plus which means they all can show their kids and grandchildren the "tree they planted!"

Also present was the High School Envirothon Team with advisor Jim Burdick, recent winners of this year's SLC Envirothon.

Also present were members of the Canton Village Tree Committee with Chairman Lance W. Rudiger, Secretary Herb Bullock, John Casserly and Ben Budelman. Steve Sherwood represented the NYS DEC and helped direct the planting.

Canton Village was just awarded a $75,000 tree maintenance grant from NYSDEC.

Community-wide garage sales planned in Massena, Canton

The St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce Community Garage Sale Weekends in the village and townships of Massena and Canton.

Massena's Garage Sale Weekend will take place on Saturday, June 22 and Sunday, June 23.

Canton's Garage Sale Weekend will take place on Friday, August 2 through Sunday, August 4.

Massena and Canton residents are welcomed to host a garage/yard sale and be included within promotions through the STLC Chamber.

Residents who submit their sale will be included within the community specific map at <https://bit.ly/MassenaGarageSales> or <https://bit.ly/CantonGarageSales>.

To be included, submit your full address of where the sale will take place and which day(s) and time(s) your sale will occur to: Communications Specialist, Katie Berry at Katie@SLCchamber.org.

The important role played by bees in lawns, gardens

A colorful garden in full bloom is an aesthetically appealing sight each spring and summer. The pleasant aromas emanating from such spaces only add to their appeal.

Many variables contribute to a thriving garden, and perhaps none is more important than bees. North America is home to thousands of species of bees, but many of those species are experiencing dwindling populations.

According to Scott McArt, an assistant professor of pollinator health in the Department of Entomology at Cornell University, 53 bee species have experienced population declines or range contractions over the last several decades. Individuals accustomed to seeing bees as unwanted guests may wonder why that's a problem. Though declining bee populations pose a number of problems, perhaps none is more relatable than the link between bees and food production. A recent study published in the journal Proceedings of the Royal Society B: Biological Sciences noted that declines in both managed and wild bee populations raise significant concerns about long-term food security. Authors of the study noted that crop production would be higher if crop flowers received more pollination. That's a significant benefit as the global population continues to increase, but it's also a notable benefit in the present-day from both a food security and economic perspective. In fact, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration reports that commercial production of more than 90 crops relies on roughly 3,600 bee species. Declining bee populations could put that production in serious jeopardy and create a domino effect that impacts food security and individuals' livelihoods.

But all is not lost in the fight to restore bee populations. In fact, McArt indicated in a 2019 report that bee populations are thriving in agricultural and natural areas. But bee populations also must thrive in suburban and urban areas. Planting a pollinator-friendly garden is one step McArt suggested gardening hobbyists can take to help restore bee populations. When planting to combat declining bee populations, homeowners should always look for native plants, as they are well-adapted to local climates and unlikely to upset local ecosystems. Local garden centers can be great resources for anyone looking to plant native species.

SURVEY...

The process used in developing the Canton NY Forward Strategic Investment Plan must involve a broad section of the community in creating the concepts that will help guide the process. Please help the Local Planning Committee and the project team through this community-informed process by taking this short survey (about 5 minutes). Responses will be anonymous and confidential," the email states.

NY Forward was launched in 2022 and serves as a central component of the State's economic development efforts, working together with the Downtown Revitalization Initiative (DRI), to accelerate and expand the revitalization of New York's downtowns. NY Forward supports smaller communities with historic character that distinguishes them from the larger, more urban central business districts typically funded through DRI.

NY Forward communities are walkable, less dense areas that serve the immediate local community, and are more local in nature - focusing on the immediately surrounding residential or rural agricultural-centric development. Through the NY Forward program, these smaller downtowns will receive planning and project implementation support needed to attract more businesses, residents, and visitors, while also providing a higher quality of life for all residents.

The NYS Department of State (DOS) administers the NY Forward program in close coordination with Empire State Development (ESD), NYS Homes & Community Renewal (HCR), and New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA).

In the second year of the NY Forward program, each of the State's 10 Regional Economic Development Councils had the option of nominating two communities for $4.5 million NY Forward awards or three communities, one receiving $4.5 million and two receiving $2.25 million. NY Forward funds are also used to provide robust capacity-building and technical assistance directly to communities throughout each phase of the program.

LAW...

"New York is leading the nation to protect our kids from addictive social media feeds and shield their personal data from predatory companies," Governor Hochul said. "Together, we've taken a historic step forward in our efforts to address the youth mental health crisis and create a safer digital environment for young people. I am grateful to Attorney General James, Majority Leader Stewart-Cousins and Speaker Heastie, and bill sponsors Senator Gounardes and Assemblymember Rozic for their vital partnership in advancing this transformative legislation."

The SAFE for Kids Act will require social media companies to restrict addictive feeds on their platforms for users under 18. Unless parental consent is granted, users under 18 will not receive addictive feeds. Users may still search for specific topics of interest. It will also prohibit social media platforms from sending notifications regarding addictive feeds to minors from 12:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. without parental consent. The legislation will authorize the Office of the Attorney General (OAG) to bring an action to enjoin violations of the new law as well as seek civil penalties of up to $5,000 per violation, among other remedies. And finally, it calls for the establishment of acceptable age verification and parent consent methods, to be determined by the OAG as part of a rulemaking process once the legislation is enacted, according to the nysenate.gov website.

The New York Child Data Protection Act will prohibit online sites from collecting, using, sharing or selling personal data of anyone under the age of 18, unless they receive informed consent or unless doing so is strictly necessary for the purpose of the website. It also authorizes the OAG to enforce the law and enjoin and seek damages or civil penalties of up to $5,000 per violation.

of have to rebuild this side of the building," she said.

Builders rebuilt the building back stronger, reconfiguring the classroom, spaces and elevator on the first floor as well.

Williams said the Red Barn building was renovated on the first floor's southside when NCCM bought the property in 2018, after being a traveling museum for 7 years before that. The north end was then redone and while it was "functional" it just couldn't support a second floor, Williams said.

But, the museum board members and Williams knew they would eventually expand upward into the second floor.

"We always knew we were going to open up here it was just a matter of when and how," Williams said. The advent of $1.4 million in DRI funding through the village of Potsdam for an expansion project in late 2018 helped make the goal achievable.

Northern Tier Contracting, the firm in charge of the reconstruction of the second floor, will wrap up the final renovations of the second floor exhibit space by the end of June, Williams said.

However, the classroom and office space on the second floor is being utilized already. "The upstairs, classroom, office, storage, bathrooms, elevator, stairs... that's all fully renovated and ready to go," said Williams.

The second floor also features a family resource/infant room.

Once the final funding amount has been raised, the nearly renovated exhibit space will eventually feature a physics and science section with a mural of Stone Valley painted along the wall. A 2/3-sized Amish homestead will occupy the opposite side of the vaulted room. In the middle will be a maple tree climber with science activities and at the other end of the space will be a performance space called Addie's Opera House, based on the Edwards Opera House and named for the late Addie Green, a local girl who was involved in theater and who passed away from cancer. The theater space will feature much of what happens behind the scenes in stage productions.

The science exhibits on the second floor will include a cloud maker and a rainmaker.

A music and sound lab will occupy another section, where youngsters can experiment with sonic creation.

Above, at the top of the climber will eventually be a glass lookout at the peak of the building where youngsters can get a bird's eye look at the town.

The second floor exhibits are "weighted" for the 8-12 age group, the director said.

The exhibits are being developed by Blue Rhino Designs in Toronto, except for the Amish Homestead which is being constructed by local Amish builders.

All of the exhibits will have a local connection. The Blue Rhino designers visited the region and toured local destinations to base exhibits on regional features and locations.

"We want it to feel like this place," Williams said.

About 100 to 150 people from the area, and a children's focus group, helped to develop ideas for the different interactive portions of the museum.

The museum is working with Karen Johnson Weiner, a well known scholar on Amish life, who is serving as a liaison between NCCM and the local Amish community to install the Amish homestead where children will learn about authentic Amish culture. "We are working with the community to tell a story about this group that lives in the North Country," Williams said.

Fundraising and cost

"The project originally, the budget pre-COVID, was 1.9 (million dollars) for everything. (Now) It's 3.7," the director said.

Ninety-two percent of that total has been raised through state Downtown Revitalization Initiative money, grants, grassroots fundraising efforts and donations.

Some of those pledges will pay out after the project is done, Williams said.

"We are hoping to open in the summer of 2025," she said. "So we are in the home stretch."

"Because of... after COVID and everything, us and every project around the world doubled, we phased the project. So phase one was our exhibit design, so that's done," Williams said. "Phase 2 was the building renovation that will be done in June."

"So now we are raising for the rest of the exhibit build," Williams said.

The museum has seen 22,000 visitors through its doors over the last year and Williams said projections are for 45,000 once the expansion is complete.

"We will enter a whole different phase," she said.

Summer Skin Care Tips from the Experts: Samaritan Dermatology & Mohs Surgery

June is here, and with it come the first days of summer.

This long-awaited season is a welcome change in the North Country, offering a break from the dark, chilly and wet conditions that begin our year.

While it can be tempting to spend all day outdoors enjoying the warm weather, your skin will thank you — for years to come — if you take precautions in the summer sun.

When enjoyed responsibly, sunshine can benefit our health in ways we might not even realize. Sunny days lure us outside, often for physical or social activities such as walking, swimming, gardening or meeting friends — all of which benefit our general well-being.

While we are out, exposure to sunlight prompts our skin to produce vitamin D, which is vital for bone health and immune function.

Sunlight also stimulates the brain to produce serotonin, a chemical that naturally balances mood, sleep, digestion and other bodily functions.

Too much exposure to sunlight, however, comes with risks, especially when sun protection is not used.

The sun's ultraviolet (UV) radiation can damage skin cells, leading to sunburn, premature aging, and an increased risk of skin cancer. Surprisingly, this damage can occur faster than you might expect.

"For many people, 30 minutes of direct sun exposure will cause a sunburn," says Samaritan Dermatologist and Mohs Surgeon Dr. Nathaniel R. Miletta.

"And, those with very light skin may experience a sunburn in as little as 10 to 15 minutes. Not only is a sunburn uncomfortable, but it's a sign that your skin cells and their DNA have been damaged. Repeated sunburns cause your skin to age prematurely and can eventually lead to skin cancer."

Skin Cancer: Common but Curable

Skin cancer is the most common form of cancer in the United States, and its prevalence continues to rise. In fact, current estimates show that one in five Americans will be diagnosed with skin cancer in their lifetime.

While family history, race and age play some role in skin cancer risk, sun exposure is the dominant risk factor, causing more than 90 percent of skin cancers.

Fortunately, skin cancer can be cured when it is discovered in its early stages. State-of-the-art skin cancer treatment is available in the North Country at Samaritan Dermatology.

"Samaritan Dermatology is proud to offer our patients Mohs micrographic surgery for skin cancer, which has the highest tumor clearance rate and the smallest incisions," Dr. Miletta said. "We are the only facility in the region to offer this method, which is 99% successful and leaves patients with the smallest possible scars."

A Mohs surgery is typically performed while the patient is awake and uses local anesthesia to numb the tumor and surrounding skin.

During the procedure, all visible parts of the tumor are removed, sent to an on-site laboratory, and sliced into thin sections for careful analysis.

Using a microscope, the Mohs surgeon looks for cancer cells on the edges of the removed skin sections. If cancer cells are found near any edges, additional skin is removed and analyzed until no cancerous cells remain. Most Mohs surgery patients go home the same day as the procedure.

Being Safe in the Sun, and Still Having Fun

"Protecting your skin from overexposure is so important, not just during summer but all year long," says Samaritan Dermatology Physician Assistant Erin Bryant. "With some simple precautions, you can still enjoy the outdoors — go to the beach, take a hike, garden and barbecue — without causing irreversible and life-threatening damage to your skin."

Practicing sun safety does not mean hiding away indoors and avoiding your favorite outdoor activities.

It involves knowing your risk, limiting your exposure and protecting your skin.

Follow these guidelines from the American Academy of Dermatology to keep safe while you have fun in the sun:

- Apply sunscreen to all exposed skin. Use sunscreen that is water resistant, has an SPF (Sun Protection Factor) of at least 30, and is broad spectrum — meaning it protects you from both UVA and UVB rays. Reapply sunscreen every two hours or immediately after swimming.

- Wear protective clothing such as a long-sleeved shirt, pants, a wide-brimmed hat, and sunglasses, whenever possible. Look for clothing with a UV protection factor (UPF) or made of a tightly woven fabric.

- Seek shade when appropriate, remembering that the sun's rays are the strongest between 10am and 2pm. Any time your shadow is shorter than you, seek shade.

- Protect your lips by using lip balm with at least SPF 15.

It's also important to know your risk. Keeping track of the UV index, which forecasts the strength of UV rays each day, can help you plan the best times to be outside and the best times to stay out of the sun.

"When the UV index is between zero and two, you can enjoy being outside with little to no exposure risk," Dr. Miletta said. "On days where the UV index is between three and seven, be sure to use sunscreen and seek shade during the middle of the day. And, on any day with a UV index of eight or above, it's best to stay in the shade as much as possible. Sunscreen, protective clothing and a hat are especially necessary on these high-UV index days."

Checking Your Skin for Warning Signs

Finding skin cancer early is one of the best ways to ensure it can be treated successfully, and you can perform skin exams in your own home.

As you examine moles and marks on your skin, consider the ABCDEs of melanoma:

A stands for Asymmetry: does the shape of one side match the other?

B stands for Border: does the mole have uneven or irregular borders?

C stands for Color: has the color of the mole changed, or does it appear varied?

D stands for Diameter: is the mole larger than 1/4" in diameter?

E stands for Evolution: have you noticed changes in size, shape or color?

Contact your doctor or a dermatologist for further examination if you notice any of these symptoms. If you receive a skin cancer diagnosis, trust the experts at Samaritan Dermatology & Mohs Surgery to give you peace of mind about your treatment.

"We encourage anyone who has a diagnosed melanoma or other form of skin cancer to come see us and learn about Mohs micrographic surgery," says Samaritan Dermatology Physician Assistant Amy Werchinski. "Our staff can provide care you won't find anywhere else in the North Country."

Samaritan Dermatology is located in the Samaritan Medical Office Building at 830 Washington Street in Watertown, NY. Satellite dermatology services are also offered at Samaritan's LeRay and Adams Family Health Centers.

ATTENTION OUT-OF-STATE BIDDERS

Please pay particular attention to the Form of Proposal and its related forms in the project manual. Out-of-State Bidders are required to complete the "Statement Concerning Authority to do Business in the State of New York for non-New York State Companies" located in the Form of Proposal package. There are three sections that must be completed. You must also have the Non-Collusion Certificate completed and signed and if you are a corporation, you must have the Resolution completed and signed.

No bid will be considered when opened unless accompanied by a certified copy of your Authority to do Business in New York State. This is not to be confused with a sales tax certificate. The Authority can be obtained by contacting:

New York State Department of State
Division of Corporations
162 Washington Avenue
Albany, NY 12231
(518) 473-2492

If the Certificate does not accompany the bid, the bid is not valid.

In the event you are of the opinion that you are not required to obtain the Authority To Do Business in New York state, and you are not a New York State Corporation, then you should complete the Statement Concerning Authority to do Business. You must complete two out of three sections. The top portion must be completed by all vendors needed to complete this document and then either the Individual Acknowledgment or the Corporate Acknowledgment, depending on the status of your business.

ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF LOCAL LAW ADOPTING LOCAL LAW E (NO.) FOR THE YEAR 2024, "AMENDING LOCAL LAW 2 FOR THE YEAR 2023, SETTING POLICY ON ACQUISITION AND SALE OF TAX DELINQUENT PROPERTY IN ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY"

BE IT ENACTED by the Board of Legislators of St. Lawrence County as follows:

Section 1. This local law shall supersede and repeal all prior local laws regarding real property tax foreclosure proceedings.

Section 2. Pursuant to Article 11 of the Real Property Tax Law, the St. Lawrence County Legislature hereby exercises the following options for the collection of delinquent taxes in St. Lawrence County.

Section 3. A charge of up to either $250 on each parcel with delinquent taxes, or two percent of the sum of the taxes, interest and penalties due on the parcel, whichever is greater, shall be deemed reasonable and necessary to cover allowable administrative costs in tax foreclosure. This charge will be applied on June 1st of the year following the tax bill.

Section 4. The Tax Enforcement Officer is hereby empowered to take installment payments of delinquent taxes. Said installment payments shall have a payment term of 24 months with payments due every three months. The Tax Enforcement Officer shall add $2 to all delinquent tax bills to cover the cost of notifying the taxpayer of this right. All Installment Agreements shall be entered into on or before September 30 of the year in which the tax becomes a lien. The Tax Enforcement Officer shall collect 25% of the tax due at the time the taxpayer signs the Installment Payment Agreement. The remaining seven installments are payable every quarter, with the first one due on December 1, following the Installment Agreement.

Section 5. The Tax Enforcement Officer, who is the County Treasurer, is hereby authorized to accept a deed in lieu of enforcement of collection of delinquent taxes under Article 11.

Section 6. All property acquired by the County pursuant to Article 11, shall be sold in one of the following manners: a) at a public auction held on the second Saturday in September of the auction year, b.) at a properly advertised private sale subject to approval by the St. Lawrence County Board of Legislators, or c.) at such date and in such manner as established by a validly issued Administrative Order, a validly issued Executive Order, subsequent superseding State Statute, or valid order of a Court with jurisdiction over the matter. Such sales may also be held online if deemed necessary by the County Treasurer.

Section 7. The County sells only its lien and interest, does not warrant title, and will convey only by quitclaim deed. No abstracts will be provided.

Section 8. Any fees associated with the auction and conveyance of properties sold at public auction, to include auctioneer fees, buyer's premium, advertising fees, and recording fees will be the responsibility of the bidder.

Section 9. At a public auction, the highest bidder must tender twenty percent (20%) of the bid or a fifty dollar ($50.00) deposit, whichever is greater. In addition, the highest bidder is responsible for any buyer's premium, auctioneer fees, and possible advertising fees payable by certified check, money order, cash or credit card. The balance is due within thirty (30) days, also payable by certified check, money order or cash. Confirmation of the sale by the St. Lawrence County Board of Legislators is unnecessary for Article 11 properties sold at public auction. The County must sell to the highest bidder unless the highest bidder defaults. Upon default of the highest bidder, the deposit will be forfeited, and the County reserves the right to accept the bid of the second highest bidder.

Section 10. The former owner, and any other person who may be acting as an agent of the former owner, whether disclosed or undisclosed, is strictly prohibited from bidding at the auction.

Section 11. Any bidder who owns property in St. Lawrence County and is delinquent in their taxes shall be prohibited from bidding at the auction. The term delinquent is defined as prior year tax delinquency. No other person who may be acting as an agent of this bidder shall be allowed to bid at the auction.

Section 12. For properties with actual or suspected environmental contamination, application may be made to the Court in an effort to gain "Temporary Incidence of Ownership", granting St. Lawrence County the legal authority to enter such property and conduct an environmental investigation to determine the nature and extent of any environmental contamination which may exist at the property and the cost for addressing such contamination.

Section 13. The costs to St. Lawrence County associated with addressing actual or suspected environmental contamination of a property, including investigative, cleanup and legal costs, may be charged to the assessed owner and included on the tax assessment roll subject to recovery pursuant to the provisions of the Real Property Tax Law.

Section 14. The costs to St. Lawrence County associated with addressing actual or suspected contaminated, condemned, abandoned, and/or blighted property, including investigative, demolition and legal costs, may be charged to the assessed owner and included on the tax assessment roll subject to recovery pursuant to the provisions of the Real Property Tax Law.

Section 15. This local law shall take effect upon filing with the Secretary of State.

Find a Better Job! B10 - B16

Hometown Summer Fun!

JUNE 14-20, 2024 | NORTH COUNTRY THIS WEEK

| B1

Instead of traveling, enjoy a Staycation in St. Law. County

With the increased cost of gas, lodging and travel, sometimes the best way to spend some time off is with a Staycation, and St. Lawrence County offers some of the best options for entertainment, food, adventure and relaxation in the Northeast.

The region produces some of the best concert series and stage entertainment for the summer. Norwood Village Green Concert Series, the Waddington Concert Series, and the summer performance series at the Edwards Opera House are just a few of the many options for professional level music performances.

The North Country is the proud home of world class museums like the North Country Children's Museum and the Frederick Remington Art Museum as well.

If outdoor recreation is your thing, the region's canoeing and kayaking routes give you some of the best water experiences. To the north the St. Lawrence River gives you world class fishing experiences, and to the south the Adirondack foothills give you trail routes. Finally, if you want to spend a week on a beach, the county has some of the best at Postwood, Norwood and Lisbon and other spots.

Village Green Concert Series' 51st annual season

NORWOOD — The Norwood Village Green Concert Series is in the midst of its 51st annual season.

The Village Green series, founded in 1974, is considered the most diverse outdoor concert series in Northern New York State and has presented performers from every continent and 26 foreign countries over its long and storied history, along with many forms of dance, children's programming, magic shows, puppetry, and many other arts genres, said organizers in a press release.

The series will open with its traditional collaboration with the St. Lawrence County Music Educators Association with performing groups from Lisbon, Canton, Potsdam, and Norwood-Norfolk Central Schools participating.

In 2024, the village green series will present Grammy recipients Cathy Fink and March Marxe, master fiddler and Grammy recipient Michael Cleveland (also the series' fifth National Endowment for the Arts National Heritage Medalist) and The Gibson Brothers with Grammy winner Frank Solivan.

award recipient Jay Ashby who will join his wife Kim Nazarian (a Grammy nominated singer with the group New York Voices) as they guest with the All Star Big Band under the direction of Wally Siebel.

Jay Ashby is credited with several arrangements for Paul Simon and accompanied Simon on several tours.

The series will also present two world renowned Bluegrass groups, Michael Cleveland and Flamekeeper (the series' fifth National Endowment for the Arts National Heritage Medalist) and The Gibson Brothers with Grammy winner Frank Solivan.

Eight local and regional groups will also perform — The All Star Big Band, Foolish Pride, Northern Symphonic Winds, String Solstice, Shimul Zaman, The Dave North Trio, and of course the Brass Firemen plus all of the local Norwoodstock performers.

All concerts begin at 7 pm except Thursday, May 30 when the performance is scheduled for 4-9 p.m.

- Thursday, June 20 — Northern Symphonic Winds. Northern New York's only professional wind ensemble.
- Sunday, June 23 — Seo Jungmin, a Korean Gayageum artist and composer who pushes the boundaries between traditional and contemporary music with her exceptional skills on the 25-string Gayageum. As a member of the renowned Korean traditional music duo Su:m, Seo has earned global recognition through performances at major festivals such as WOMEX, WOMAD, and SXSW.
- Thursday, June 27 — The Gibson Brothers, the North Country's gift to the world of bluegrass.
- Sunday, June 30 — The Ronnie Leigh Quintet. Vocal soul and jazz music from this master craftsman.
- Sunday, July 7 — The All Star Big Band under the direction of Wally Siebel with guest artists Kim Nazarian, lead vocalist NY Voices, her husband Jay Ashby, a five-time Grammy winner as arranger, producer, and chairman of jazz department at Oberlin Conservatory on trombone, and their son Ian Ashby on bass. Jay and Ian will play with the All Star Big Band.
- Sunday, July 14 — Michael Cleveland and Flamekeeper. Born blind and almost deaf in one ear, Michael Cleveland has attained legendary status as one of the greatest fiddlers of his or any other generation. The Grammy Award recipient has been nominated for his 2nd Grammy in 2024. He has also been awarded the National Endowment For the Arts National Heritage Medal.
- Thursday, July 18 — String Solstice. Local musicians Mike Welsh, Jennifer Hubbard Kessler, Chip Lamson, Chris Hosmer, and Larry Bayeura offer a unique blend of contemporary folk-like song.
- Sunday, July 21 — Pasquala ILabaca and Fauna. This Santiago band performs original and folk-rock music of the Andes and Chile. There will be a participatory demonstration of Chilean rhythms at 5 p.m.

• Thursday, July 25 — Norwoodstock with Northbound. A Star-studded cast of several dozen local musicians performing for the benefit of the Norwood-Norfolk-Raymondville Outreach Program. Northbound will be the house band.

• Sunday, July 28 — Jordon Davidson/Toni Zyglado/Maria Tartaglia/Jeffrey Hinkle. A Vocal concert with music from Broadway to contemporary gems.

• Thursday, Aug. 1 — Shimul Zaman and Clove and Chai of Bangladesh. Music from India and Bangladesh led by Norwood resident and Bangladesh native Shimul Zaman and friends.

• Sunday, Aug. 4 — The Dave North Trio Music from the English and Irish pub scene. Diane Murray Warburton, a native of Norwood, is part of the group.

• Thursday, Aug. 8 — The Brass Firemen Norwood's own Fire Department Band.

The series is supported in part by the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of the New York State Legislature and the Office Of Governor Kathy Hochel.

Its International performers are supported by the National Endowment for the Arts through its partnership with the Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation and the Iber Exchange.

Local municipal support comes from the Town of Potsdam, and the Village of Norwood.

The Sweetgrass and Corning Incorporated Foundations as well as many local businesses, organizations, and individuals also support it.

Subway supplies its workers with meals and Lobster House, Norwood provides its performers with dinners.

For further information about performers, the series, and donation opportunities peruse the series web site: nvgs.org.

The series is a 501-C3 organization and can take donations online through the web site (nvgs.org) or directly by mail: Norwood Village Green Concert Series, 3 Bicknell St., Norwood, NY 13668.

Waddington Summer Concert Series returns for another year

WADDINGTON -- After 15 years and more than 15,000 attendees, the Waddington Summer Concert Series returns for another year.

Music on the Shore-2024 begins July 5, with the Annual Alice Carr Memorial Dedication Concert honoring the memory of beloved "Waddingtonions" lost since the last dedication concert in July 2023. All concerts are free.

Concerts are every Friday, 6:30-8:30 (except for 3 concerts with extended hours), in the pavilion at Island View Park overlooking the St. Lawrence River, at the end of Main St., rain or shine.

The WCS team will present a variety of "new to our stage" acts as well as the return of some of the most sought after North Country musicians.

The following acts are scheduled:

- July 5th, Mark Rust will kick off the annual Alice Carr Memorial Dedication concert.

Rust, a multi-talented musician from Woodstock, will perform favorite songs to memorialize friends and family lost to our community in the past year. Send your memorial song requests to make this event very special.

The show is sponsored by the Alice Carr Memorial Fund, AC Bistro, Arts Used Cars, the Carr/Reimer Family, and Judy Jones - in memory of Larry Jones.

- New to the Pavilion Stage, Leave Those Kids Alone from Ontario, Canada, will perform July 12 from 6:30-9:30 p.m.

The 'Kids' will entertain with a mix of classic rock covers and original tunes.

The show is sponsored by Massena Savings & Loan, Sandstone Family & Cosmetic Dentistry, MX Petroleum, Seaway Valley Lawn Care, Town of Waddington, Village of Waddington, and Main Street Perc/Inn.

- Back by popular demand on July 19 will be everyone's favorite group Double Axel from 6:30-9:30 p.m.

Alex, Rob and Frank have been making music together since 1971.

The show is sponsored by Seaway Trail Auto Sales/Car Wash, and Premier Self Storage.

- Singer, songwriter, guitarist, vocalist and bassist Phil Hurley will return to the Waddington stage July 26. This talented musician does it all. Hurley has played with many bands you would recognize and has written songs for films and TV shows.

Sponsored by BorderLife Liquor/Retreat/Apparel Service, Waddington Hardware and Building Supply, and Putney's Tree Service.

- SFW will perform Aug. 2, 6:30-10:30 p.m. in conjunction with Waddington Homecoming.

The Waddington Concert Series is an annual stop for these talented musicians and they never disappoint.

Sponsored by Dan Rose Memorial Golf Tournament, St. Lawrence Recreation, and The Waddington Homecoming Committee.

- Tas Cru returns this year on Aug. 9 to share his own unique brand of blues. Cru is a prolific singer, songwriter, and guitarist who has recorded 5 albums in the last 7 years. He performs a mix of original songs along with crowd pleasing classics, again all with his own twist and unique style.

Sponsored by Laneuville's Orvis Street Discount Wine and Liquor Store.

- Aug. 16, Chris Taylor and the Custom Taylor Band will take the stage for the first time during the Bassmasters Elite event. Hailing from central NY, Chris and his band are NY's premiere Top 40 Country Music band. The band has opened for many country music recording artists and are definitely on their way up.

Sponsored by Phillip's Memorial Home, Seacomm Federal Credit Union, and T&T House (Tim and Tina Curran).

- Northbound will bring a mix of pop, folk and rock on Aug. 23. The group is tight and in-tune, with a relaxed interaction on stage that is sure to charm and entertain.

Sponsored by The Badlam Family, Waddington Blooms, and American Legion Auxiliary Post 420.

The ever-growing community enthusiasm for these events has allowed Waddington Concert Series to present the concerts with no charge for admission, organizers said.

To sponsor a future show or consider becoming a patron, contact waddingtonconcertseries@gmail.com or Waddington Concert Series, PO Box 732, Waddington, NY 13694.

St. Lawrence County's diverse geography offers great cycling

From the St. Lawrence County
Chamber of Commerce

Whether you are a leisure rider looking for a nice country road to explore, a hard-core biker looking for a challenging day-long trip, or someone hoping to get into the woods and play in the dirt - St. Lawrence County has it all.

Visit www.visitstlc.com/cycle-mountain-bike for more details on the following bike routes.

For detailed trail maps, visit www.stlctrails.com/trails?activity=Mountain Biking&view=map

Easy Rides to Get You Started

• St. Lawrence Seaway Ride (52 miles, rated 1). This ride starts from Canton and proceeds through Madrid to Waddington then follows the Seaway Trail (State Highway 37) to Massena. Only two of the St. Lawrence Seaway's seven canals are located on the U.S. side of the River, and this ride takes you to the Dwight D. Eisenhower Lock. You will be able to view the lock from the Observation Deck, and then ride underneath it on your way to the St. Lawrence-FDR Power Project and Robert Moses Power Dam, which transformed the River's International Rapids to Lake St. Lawrence, a power pool almost as large as the District of Columbia. The Admission to the Lock and the Hawkins Point Visitor Center is free. The return route is on the same road just with a different view, and extra chances to view oceangoing ships.

• Pleasant Valley Ride (16 miles, rated 2). Lightly rolling terrain and sparsely traveled back roads have made this ride popular with the locals and visitors alike.

Morley-Bucks Bridge-West Potsdam Loop (23 miles, rated 2). This undulating ride takes you along the Grasse River through Morley to Bucks Bridge, then to West Potsdam and back to Canton through prime farmland. In Morley if you turn left at the intersection of County Route 27 and County Route 14, a short detour will take you to an interesting old Episcopal church and graveyard. Some stretches of this route can be windy but it is still a good route for a laid back rider. Click here for route map.

• Indian Creek Tour (24 miles, rated 2). This scenic tour takes the rider along the flat to gently rolling country roads between, Canton, Morley and Rensselaer Falls and completely around the Indian Creek Nature Center. Points of interest include one of the few grist mill ruins still standing in the County. You will also see Trinity Chapel, constructed in 1871 in Morley. There are several Amish farms along this route, and deer and waterfowl abound in the woods and marshes. Road surfaces are generally good to excellent with little traffic. Click here for route map.

• Frederic Remington Ride (57 miles, rated 2). The famed Western century artist Frederic Remington was a native of Canton and is buried in the local Evergreen Cemetery. This ride passes the Indian River Wildlife Refuge, through the hamlets of Rensselaer Falls and Heuvelton and along parts of the Oswegatchie River to Ogdensburg. Here you can tour the Frederic Remington Art Museum, located in the Parish Mansion where his widow Eva (Kid) lived until her death. In addition to exhibits relating to Remington himself, the Museum houses one of the world's finest collections of his works including paintings, sketches and sculptures. Food and water are not allowed in the museum, and please no cleated bike shoes. The return trip to Canton takes you along the St. Lawrence River past Red Mills, home to the River Myst Winery, turning East through some of St. Lawrence County's prime farmland. Click here for route map.

• Pyrites-Old Dekalb Road (17 miles, rated 2+). This short tour takes the rider into a series of scenic hills south and west of Canton. At the edge of village you will cross over the Little River on a wooden bridge. About 3/4 of a mile beyond that bridge on the right you will see the Meadows restaurant. After that point there are no more services on this tour until you return to Canton via the Old Dekalb Road, so take plenty of water.

• Church Ride (47 miles, rated 2+). This ride tours a series of historic churches and churchyards between Canton and Waddington on the St. Lawrence River. The ride passes sites at Morley, Bucks Bridge, Waddington and Chipman. In Morley, view both the Trinity Chapel, constructed in 1871 and one of the few grist mills remains left in the County. Road surface conditions along this flat to rolling tour are generally good to excellent. This ride has been featured in the book, "Best Rides in the Mid Atlantic," by Trudy E. Bell. Click here for route map.

Moderate to Difficult Rides

• Canton Pyrites Loop (14 miles, rated 3). This scenic ride takes the rider along the flat to gently rolling county and town roads between Canton and Pyrites, bypassing the hamlet of Pyrites. Road surface conditions along this tour are generally good to excellent with little traffic.

• Crary Mills Loop (20 miles, rated 3). There are some rolling hills on part of this route with plenty of flat portions in between. Roads are good to excellent.

• Foothills Loop (27 miles, rated 3). Rolling all the way, this takes you along the edge of the foothills of the Adirondacks. There is an elevation gain of around 500 feet, but you'll climb a total of 700 to reach that.

• Old Mill Town Loop (32 Miles, rated 3). The real hills start around the 9 mile point and continue off and on until the return to Canton. Take plenty of water as there are no services on this route. Though you can hardly tell it today, the little hamlet of Pyrites was a bustling paper mill town until the mill closed in the late 1920s. Hidden behind vegetation, the mill ruins are still visible between mile 23.6 and 23.8. Among the thriving businesses was Dominic Benedetto's grocery store. Dominic's young nephew, Antonio Benedetto went on to achieve fame as singer Tony Bennett.

• Raquette River Loop (34 miles, rated 3). This loop takes the rider over the hills from the Grasse River valley to the Raquette River valley at Hannawa Falls and back by way of the crossroads community of Pierrepont. It is one of the more challenging middle distance rides. None of the hills is really formidable but several are more than gentle rises. After you cross the river in the hamlet of Hannawa Falls there are a couple of stores as you leave the village you will come to the entrance of Postwood Park, a good place for a picnic lunch or a swim.

• Lampson Falls Loop (48 miles, rated 3+). After a good climb out of Russell, there are a couple of options for breaks at either Poor Ol' Satch's or the Bear Paw at Whippoorwill Corners. About 10 miles beyond is the stopover at Lampson Falls, with a short walk into the falls. This series of falls features a basic camping and picnic area, and is unusual in that you can stand or sit at the very edge of the falls.

• Whippoorwill Metric Century (63 miles, rated 3+). This ride, though outside of the Adirondack Park itself, gives you the full North Country and Adirondack treatment, with winding and twisting hilly back roads weaving through farmland and wooded areas.

CYCLING . . .

• Tooley Pond Loop (44 miles, rated 3, and 84 miles rated 4). This loop is actually two separate rides. Leaving from Canton is the total 86 miles, while a report start from Degrasse results in a 44-mile total. In either case, this is one of the beautiful wilderness trips for which the Adirondack Park is known. Part of both rides follows the Oswegatchie River. Along the Tooley Pond Road, you will either see deer or be seen by them – count on it! You'll pass logging roads, as well, and stay alert for herons, hawks and other birds. THIS IS NOT A RIDE FOR BEGINNERS. There may be some sections of the road that are dirt, and some steep downhill sections with rough pavement, check your brakes before the ride.

• South Colton Loop (41 miles, rated 4). This ride ascends into the Adirondack foothills, making a loop through South Colton and Colton, which lie just outside the Adirondack State Park. The terrain is mostly hilly with a few challenging longer climbs. A stopping point at mile 32.3 (after that surprise climb you'll deserve a break) provides a long view across the St. Lawrence River Valley atop the hills in Pierrepont. From there the descent into Canton on State Highway 68 is enjoyable and fast, but requires caution because of hills, curves and narrow shoulders. Along this route is the picturesque hamlet of Colton, with White's General Store at the top of the hill, with the Sandstone Zion Church across from the Heburn Library at the bottom. As you enter South Colton, you will pass Sunday Rock, the legend is in the lumbering days this was the divide between civilization and the lawless. There was no law south of the Rock, and no Sunday recognized, as the days all flowed together as they worked 24/7.

• Joe Indian Loop (72 miles, rated 4+). This is a truly challenging ride, climbing a total of over 2,600 feet with some steep grades. It has many beautiful vistas typical of the Adirondack Park and a spectacular view from White Hill of the St. Lawrence River Valley and over into Canada on a very clear day. There are no services between South Colton and Parishville, so a good supply of water is necessary.

• Adirondack Century (103 miles, rated 4). A scenic trip from rolling farmland to hilly sections of the Adirondack Park. From a beginning elevation of about 300 feet, you'll gradually reach a maximum elevation of 1,600 feet, climbing over 2,800 feet in the process. Watch for deer, hawks, and herons. There are few places for water or provisions along the route, so stock up when you can.

• Adirondack Overnight (approximately 100 miles in 2 days, rated 4). This is essentially the Adirondack Century broken up into two days. Over the years this has ranked with the Kingston Overnight as one of the club's favorite rides. An overnight stay can be arranged, please see lodging for details.
