Hundreds protest Trump policies in Potsdam, Massena

For the second time in two weeks, large crowds in Potsdam and Massena Saturday protested what they say are the current administration's anti-democratic policies.

The most recent rallies marked at least the fourth and the fifth political protests in the region in the last several weeks, a few of which have been connected to national protest movements around the country. The first in St. Lawrence County was held in Ogdensburg a about a month ago.

Other communities have held similar events as well, joining a national trend.

Despite a brief downpour, about 375 people rallied along Main Street in Potsdam from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, April 19.

They carried signs that read "No Fascist Regime,"

Potsdam revaluation complete

Property owners urged to use grievance process

BY ADAM ATKINSON
North Country This Week

POTSDAM — A partner in the firm which recently completed town wide revaluation in Potsdam says there is still time for property owners with assessment increases to lobby for reductions.

The town supervisor agrees and says while he feels bad for those with higher assessments (he himself is seeing an increase), a town wide revaluation needed to be done for a fair, up-to-date and equitable tax roll.

The town of Potsdam contracted with the Clifton Park-based firm GAR Associates last year for $385,000 to do a town-wide revaluation of all assessed properties. Such an assessment had not been done in 12 years and town officials hoped a revaluation would balance the scales on the tax valuations and bring everything up-to-date. And, the move to 100 percent valuation instead of the 69 percent equalization rate was also a goal.

However, when the property valuations went out at the beginning of March a percentage of property owners whose valuations went up received a sticker shock with some assessments clocking in at 50 to 100 percent more than what they were.

However, David Barnett, a partner with GAR, urges property owners to follow the process to contest the figures and says there are several opportunities for those with higher assessments to seek changes where appropriate, including working the town assessor, Grievance Day with the board of assessment review and even litigation should it come to that.

"We were tasked to create a fair and equitable assessment," Barnett said. "As much as we try to get people to focus on the value, they tend to gravitate towards the tax liability."

"But nothing is set in stone," he said, adding that reductions will be

Illegal cannabis shops a conundrum in Canton

BY JOSH DAVIS
North Country This Week

CANTON — Canton officials are moving closer to enacting a law that could curtail the operation of unlicensed cannabis businesses in the village.

Officials began considering the measure following reports of public complaints of unlicensed businesses selling cannabis in the village, allegedly circumventing the required taxes and age verification present in licensed dispensaries.

Village Police Chief Ryan Cole reported at the April 16 meeting of the village board that he has sent a copy of a sample local law to the village attorney for review. Board members are currently reviewing legislation passed by other municipalities in New York State to develop a framework for their own potential smoke shop resolution.

A law enacted in 2023 by the city of Syracuse established zoning regulations for the placement of smoke shops and restricted the number of new tobacco licenses that can be issued while grandfathering existing merchants.

While the sale of marijuana is regulated by the state Office of Cannabis Management, the village has encountered difficulty with unregulated shops, including one shop that has repeatedly reopened after being raided and shut down by authorities.

The board has taken no official action on the matter and is continuing to consult with the village attorney before taking further steps.

Tax levy, water and sewer up; tax rate down slightly

$8.1 million village budget passes in Canton

BY JOSH DAVIS

North Country This Week

CANTON—A municipal budget with a slightly lower tax rate and increased tax levy was passed April 17 at the monthly meeting of the Canton village board.

The total tax levy for the 2025-2026 fiscal year rose to $1,912,854 from $1,899,885 by about .66 percent.

Overall spending appropriations total $8,163,445.00, up $713,347.50 from last year's $7,450,097.

The preliminary budget was reviewed Wednesday night by village board members, who passed the spending plan following a public hearing that drew no comments from local residents.

The tax rate for the village of Canton will decrease slightly for the fiscal year beginning June 1, with taxpayers paying $.004 less per $1,000 of assessed value compared with the previous year. Of note is that the village budget deals in numbers using four decimal places.

Village Mayor Michael Dalton noted that the village used $119,734 of its fund balance to achieve these numbers.

The budget plan also includes raises in water and sewer rates, which Mayor Dalton described as necessary due to "substantial" upgrades being made to the village's "aged infrastructure."

Dalton stated that although grant opportunities are being explored to fund the project, "all users will need to fund the necessary upgrades." The board is also reviewing different cost models and looking to "find ways to reward conservation."

Taxable assessments in the village rose 0.72 percent, or $1,279,885 over the previous year.

Dalton noted that a total of 59 percent of the village's total spending plan is dedicated to compensating municipal employees. Of that number, payroll accounts for 37 percent, with the remaining 22 percent funding benefits for the village's workforce.

Healthcare costs were reported to have risen 4.9 percent, with another increase due in January 2026.

Similarly, the budget also accounts for state-mandated minimum wage increases, which saw a $0.50 hike in January, with another $0.50 scheduled for this coming January.

Dalton stated that some funding sources, including New York State highway funds, will not be finalized until the statewide budget is approved in Albany. That budget was meant to be passed April 1, but has faced roadblocks in the state legislature.

The village board was ahead of schedule by accepting the budget Wednesday night, eliminating the need for an additional budget work session scheduled before the May 1 deadline.

New downtown street moves forward

POTSDAM — The Village of Potsdam is moving forward with the construction of a new two-way roadway known as Brooks Street, which will connect Raymond and Depot Streets in downtown Potsdam.

"This exciting infrastructure project will contribute to the Village's broader Downtown Revitalization Initiative (DRI) and is aimed at improving traffic circulation, enhancing pedestrian safety, and supporting new economic development in a key commercial district," a press release from the village planning office said.

Brooks Street will feature new sidewalks, LED streetlighting, and street trees - creating a more walkable, welcoming, and connected environment for residents, visitors, and local businesses, say village officials.

The new roadway will support a number of ongoing and planned investments in the Raymond-Depot Street district, including the expansion of the North Country Children's Museum, expansion of the Creative Spirit Community Arts Center by the St. Lawrence County Arts Council, the redevelopment of the Market Square Mall, and the Six Depot Street Redevelopment Project.

"This project is an important step in our work to reconnect and revitalize a key part of downtown Potsdam," said Mayor Alexandra Jacobs Wilke. "Brooks Street will not only improve circulation and safety but also help create the kind of vibrant, people-friendly spaces that make our community stronger and more resilient."

The Brooks Street project is supported through a combination of local funding and grant support from the Northern Border Regional Commission (NBRC) and the St. Lawrence River Valley Redevelopment Agency.

By improving access and infrastructure in this targeted area, the project will help attract new visitors and businesses, reduce commercial vacancy, and eliminate longstanding issues related to traffic flow and blight.

In addition to village staff, the project's development team includes LaBella Associates, Maine Land Surveying, and T.J. Fiacco Construction.

Construction is expected to begin immediately and be completed this summer.

SLC proclaims April as 'Fair Housing Month'

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI

North Country This Week

CANTON -- April is fair housing month in St. Lawrence County.

County officials made the proclamation during the April 7 Full Board meeting, noting the signing of the Fair Housing Act into law on April 11, 1968.

That legislation set a national policy of equal housing opportunity for all citizens without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status or disability, officials said.

"Since the Board of Legislators established the St. Lawrence County Fair Housing Task Force in 1991, the Task Force implemented a variety of activities to promote equal access to housing for all persons without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, familial status, disability (physical or mental), creed, age, sexual orientation, marital status, or military status," legislators said.

In July 2024, legislators adopted the St. Lawrence County Assessment of Fair Housing, which identifies strategies to educate the public about housing discrimination, and short and long-term strategies to improve equal opportunity for affordable housing in the county, officials said.

As part of the initiative, the task force co-sponsored two Fair Housing workshops with CNY Fair Housing on March 18 to raise public awareness about fair housing requirements for landlords, property managers and tenants alike.

Potsdam school proposes $43M budget

BY ADAM ATKINSON

North Country This Week

POTSDAM — The Potsdam Central School's $43 million budget for the coming year will keep spending and taxes close to 2024-2025 if approved by voters. Like many districts, the lateness of the state budget has presented some unknowns in the budget for the school's funding from Albany, leading Potsdam school officials to keep any changes conservative.

District residents will vote on the budget on Tuesday, May 20, 2025, in the High School Auditorium.

Voters will also vote in new three board members and decide on a proposition to acquire two new school buses at a maximum cost of $367,500.

The Potsdam Board of Education approved the proposed budget for the coming year at their meeting April 15. The public hearing on the budget will be May 13.

The proposed budget for 2025-2026 shows a total of $43,229,127 compared to $41,163,611 in 2024-2025.

The $43,229,127 budget spending features three parts:

- $3,987,002 (9 percent) for administrative expenditures for clerical staff and administrative salaries and benefits for staff and curriculum development.

- $32,475,365 (75 percent), for program costs which includes salaries for teachers and staff, textbooks, instructional materials and equipment.

- $6,766,760 (16 percent) for capital costs like salaries and benefits for maintenance and custodial staff, debt service, bus purchases, utilities, insurance and other costs.

Revenues for the coming year show slight increases in proposed tax levy, a small bump in state and federal aid projections and a strategic use of fund balance to balance the bottom line.

Tax levy for the coming year is estimated at $15,908,859 versus the current year's $15,436,444, an increase of $472,415, or a 3.06 percent increase.

With a late state budget, school officials are keeping their expectations for state and federal aid conservative. With aid for the current year at $22,455,505, the projections for 2025-2026 aid streams are set at $22,920,000.

The 2025-2026 budget will use $4,000,268 in appropriated fund balance versus the $2,871,662 used for the current year.

Copies of the proposed Potsdam school budget for 2025-2026 can be viewed online at https://drive.google.com/file/d/1U_pvy-WUdz5niFXNgbw6TBWQM-85l6L2B2/view.

The school's budget presentation powerpoint can be viewed at <https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1Xy24uMK5PJOqzwB7N-KxQrAoR3O41IHC/edit#slide=id.p1>.

An official budget document will go out to voters in early May.

School board candidates

Six candidates have submitted petitions to run for the three open seats on the Potsdam Board of Education. Those running in alphabetical order are Molly Andrasik, (Sara) Rivka Eckert, incumbent Ralph Fuller, Scott R. Quinell, and incumbents J. Patrick Turbett and Rachel M. H. Wallace.

Name placement for candidates on the ballot was to be drawn at 9 a.m. on April 22, in the superintendent's office, is open to the public.

Superintendent's comments

"The board adopted our budget. $43.2 million," said Potsdam School Superintendent Jerry Griffin. "

"I walked through how there's no major initiatives or programs or staffing added, actually no new programs. It's just a roll over budget."

"New York State still hasn't passed their budget, which makes it difficult for us, even frustrating I would say," Griffin said.

"We take our responsibility seriously in terms of educating and caring for these kids every day and doing everything we can to make sure our schools are safe and our schools are engaging. And, that parents feel comfortable with their kids being here. We appreciate the community's support as always and want to thank our staff here for their hard work in developing a budget that delivers on all those things," said Griffin.

Legislators proclaim Sexual Assault Awareness Month

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

CANTON -- April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month in the United States.

St. Lawrence County legislators made a proclamation as well during the April 7 Full Board meeting, seeking to raise awareness about sexual violence and educational opportunities for communities and individuals alike.

Officials say it is their hope to prevent sexual violence through education.

"The 2025 Sexual Assault Awareness Month Campaign theme, 'Together We Act, United We Change,' emphasizes the importance of collective action in addressing and preventing sexual abuse, assault, and harassment," officials said.

Officials said community creates a "sense of belonging and reminds us of how our beliefs, choices, and actions impact one another."

Legislators emphasized creating spaces where people can come together as a community, in neighborhoods, workplaces, campuses, organizations, or even online spaces, in order to feel connected.

They said through creating community bonds, safe, inclusive and equitable spaces can contribute to a decline in such incidents.

"We must address all abuses of power and other forms of oppression to prevent sexual violence in our relationships, communities, and society," legislators said.

Speaking out about sexual violence can have significant impacts on survivors, their families, as well as communities and society, which is why legislators say it is important that individuals be mindful of how they are speaking about such incidents.

"We also understand that our voices have power and that when one of us does not feel safe or respected, we are all affected, as such, we must strive to create strong, connected communities that take care of one another and make decisions to ensure the safety and well-being of others, to end sexual violence," legislators said.

St. Lawrence Valley Renewal House provides the county with services to care for survivors of sexual violence, as well as those in danger of abuse, ranging prevention, crisis intervention, counseling, and advocacy, including a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner Program.

Hochul says taxpayers don't care that budget's late, but local schools impacted

BY JEFF CHUDZINSKI
North Country This Week

New York State residents can expect to see white smoke from the Vatican before a state budget is passed, according to Ways and Means Chair J. Gary Pretlow.

New York State's budget is late once again, forcing lawmakers to pass five extenders bills since missing the April 1 deadline to ensure state employees and essential programs are still funded.

According to Assemblyman Scott Gray, legislators were called back to the capital to pass a budget extender on Tuesday, April 22.

He said a second extender is likely to be required on Thursday, April 24 as lawmakers continue to work on the now $262 billion proposed budget.

Voting could begin next week, he said, but legislative leaders appear to be losing hope as Governor Kathy Hochul and legislators continue to battle over policy matters.

According to Pretlow, fiscal matters have taken a back seat to policy demands.

"Policy issues like a mask ban and involuntary commitment continue to be discussed. The fiscal part of the budget has not even been addressed yet," he said.

Hochul is pressing for changes to the state's discovery laws, which would loosen restrictions and make it easier for district attorneys to secure evidence in cases.

Anti-domestic violence advocates have pressed the governor to include the language in the budget bill with support from DAs across the state, however legislative leaders are not keen to make changes that would

Manure pit rescue training for Canton fire

CANTON — Canton Fire Department members recently undertook a training exercise that simulated rescue techniques in the confined space of a manure pit.

Former Canton Fire Chief Robert Crowe reported that the training used a "confined space manure pit simulator" to enhance the department's readiness in the event of an emergency involving a manure pit.

The exercise was presented through an effort of the Cornell Cooperative Extension of St. Lawrence County in cooperation with the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety (NECAS), which provides emergency responders with the basic knowledge needed to respond to emergencies on farms.

The training saw fire personnel confined in a training simulator brought in on a trailer.

impact 2019 reforms.

Hochul said the language would not "undue and unwind all the 2019 changes to public safety criminal justice laws" but rather would ensure that evidence was "swiftly turned over" so individuals were not "languishing in jails for an indefinite amount of time."

Hochul said she also is seeking changes to requirements for involuntary mental health in a move she says will ensure public safety for all New Yorkers.

Under the governor's proposal, Hochul wants to expand a hospital's ability to involuntarily hold individuals who are perceived to be a threat to themselves or the public.

She said the measure comes after numerous incidents on the New York City subway lead to many injuries and deaths due to untreated mental health issues. In a recent press conference in Manhattan, Hochul drew criticism for comments about the late budget when she said "regular New Yorkers" don't care about a late budget. "I have yet to be asked by a regular New Yorker, who's not a member of the press corps, why the budget is taking so long...They don't care," she said when asked by a reporter.

One big question mark in budget negotiations stems from concerns that critical federal aid could be withheld as Hochul battles with President Donald Trump.

Hochul and Trump have battled in recent weeks over a number of matters, ranging from the state's sanitary status for migrants, as well as congestion fees in New York City.

Until those funds are finalized, state officials cannot definitively say what cuts must be made.

That also leaves St. Lawrence County school districts in limbo as well, just weeks before they all present budgets to voters.

Votes occur in May, with school officials currently presenting proposals despite not knowing if any changes will be made to state aid based on budget changes.

Massena Superintendent Ron Burke recently said the district will continue to move forward with a $79.8 million capital project proposal, which should receive 97% funding through state aid.

He said the remaining balance would come from the district's capital reserve fund, over $6 million, to cover the remaining expense at no impact to taxpayers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hypocrisy is the terror within, Potsdam resident says

Is The Pope Catholic? The ultimate rhetorical question holds new meaning for me this Lenten Season 2025.

There is a large faction of self-identified Catholics within the United States of America that are at odds with Pope Francis and with the clear meaning of the teachings of Jesus.

As the pall of the anti-Christian dictates of President Donald Trump continues to spread over this land, this gruesome schism is on stark display in the human beings who politically support this man while also, quite hypocritically, declaring their Catholicism.

The story of Jesus is the story of humanity. Son of Man is what Jesus calls Himself throughout the gospels. As one does unto others, one does unto Him. Love thy neighbor as thyself for the love of God.

Social capital is not the realm of this God of love, for the least of these are most prominently associated with Christ's divine message of how to enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus was executed at the behest of an angry mob. He was mocked and ridiculed, cruelly tortured and murdered. He was bullied to death.

Truth by bully is the way of the supporters of President Trump. There are no standards, no laws by which to abide.

There is absolutely no mercy. Rather, performative cruelty is the delight of this mob. World Wrestling Entertainment has become quite literally the ministry of this man's menace.

As I recall my upbringing in the Catholic faith through my mother's loving example, I am horrified to witness my dearest loved ones become those that play the part of "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"

To me, there is no more explicit blasphemy than making a grand show of one's prayers, taking front seats at church, while at the same time empowering the egregious false witness of the man Donald Trump.

As the Feast of the Resurrection has become known by the name of a pagan fertility goddess, Easter, so it is that the two thousand year old story of Jesus, Son of Man, repeats itself now.

Falling on deaf ears to the most boisterous of fake Catholic hypocrites is God's message.

April 22 is Girl Scout Leader Day

April 22 is designated as National Girl Scout Leader's Day. Girl Scout volunteer leaders have been positively impacting girl's lives since the beginning of Girl Scouting in 1912 when Juliette Gordon Low organized the first Girl Scout Troop in Savannah, Georgia.

These leaders are often mentors for girls as they approach womanhood. They provide a foundation of confidence, experience, respect and courage that stays with a young woman throughout her lifetime.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hypocrisy is the terror within, Potsdam resident says

Is The Pope Catholic? The ultimate rhetorical question holds new meaning for me this Lenten Season 2025.

There is a large faction of self-identified Catholics within the United States of America that are at odds with Pope Francis and with the clear meaning of the teachings of Jesus.

As the pall of the anti-Christian dictates of President Donald Trump continues to spread over this land, this gruesome schism is on stark display in the human beings who politically support this man while also, quite hypocritically, declaring their Catholicism.

The story of Jesus is the story of humanity. Son of Man is what Jesus calls Himself throughout the gospels. As one does unto others, one does unto Him. Love thy neighbor as thyself for the love of God.

Social capital is not the realm of this God of love, for the least of these are most prominently associated with Christ's divine message of how to enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus was executed at the behest of an angry mob. He was mocked and ridiculed, cruelly tortured and murdered. He was bullied to death.

Truth by bully is the way of the supporters of President Trump. There are no standards, no laws by which to abide.

There is absolutely no mercy. Rather, performative cruelty is the delight of this mob. World Wrestling Entertainment has become quite literally the ministry of this man's menace.

As I recall my upbringing in the Catholic faith through my mother's loving example, I am horrified to witness my dearest loved ones become those that play the part of "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"

These leaders are often mentors for girls as they approach womanhood. They provide a foundation of confidence, experience, respect and courage that stays with a young woman throughout her lifetime.

Girl Scout volunteers have been going strong to see that the girls stay safe and still can experience activities, events, and badge work to keep them involved with the Girl Scout program.

Here in St. Lawrence County we are but a small part of the larger picture of Girl Scouting.

Our area known as Raquette Valley Service Unit is a part of the Girl Scouts of NYPENN Pathways Council which consist of 26 counties.

As a result of these adult volunteers in our area giving of their time, talent and support, the Girl Scout program is being made available to over 100 girls ages 5-17 in the Raquette Valley Girl Scout Neighborhood which takes in five area school districts: Colton-Pierrepont, Parishville-Hopkinton, Madrid-Waddington, Norwood-Norfolk, and Potsdam.

A special thank you to the following people who are making it possible for the Girl Scout activities happening as part of the Raquette Valley Neighborhood: Marilyn Paradis, Katie LaShomb, Crystal Moore, Kayla Grant, Sue Scott, Julianne Doyle, Jamie Fairchild, Sara Schulz, Katrina Bailey, Molly Finnegan, Megan Haught, Jessica Hargrave, Nikita Goliber, Jan Slate, Genevieve Fuller, Megan Riedl, Marijo Haggett, Emmaleigh Fregoe, Ashley Lottie Morgan Cornell Elizabeth Tyler, Kimberly Smith, and all the other troop committee members and parent volunteers who also assist with the troops.

The Girl Scout organization is a world wide group and for these girls to be able to take advantage of the Girl Scout program opportunities and in fulfilling the Girl Scout mission, that girls lead with courage, confidence and character, is a definite plus to their future.

Girl Scout program makes it possible for girls to build character and skills for success in the real world. Again, thank you adult volunteers for all your help.

If you happen to see any of these people, please express a "Thank you" for all their dedication in helping to make Girl Scouting available to the girls in our area.

Also, we would like to take time to thank all the parents/guardians who support the Girl Scout troops in our area and allow their daughters to participate in the program and the different communities who allow the troops to hold their meetings at various locations and for their support.

Anyone needing more information regarding the Girl Scout program or interested in volunteering the number to call is 1-800-943-4414 or checkout the gsnyppenn.org website. Happy National Leaders Day!

Potsdam student grateful after toy drive

Over the past few months I have been collecting stuffed animals for children and teens battling cancer.

Now that this service project has come to an end, I want to give a huge heartfelt thank you to everyone who made it possible.

With an incredible total of 350 stuffed animals collected from our community and 400 heartfelt letters written by the students of Lawrence Ave Elementary and AAK Middle School, your contributions have truly made a difference. You all are the ones that made this possible and I know that smiles were brought to many faces!

The places that received these donations were incredibly grateful and touched by this.

All these donations were separated and delivered between multiple places including University of Vermont Medical, The Dreaming Tree Lodge, and Canton-Potsdam Hospital. They all expressed their heartfelt appreciation and shared how much joy and comfort these gifts brought to those in need.

Your support has proven to be so many that they will never be alone. This project has shown me how much the community will come together, and if it has taught me anything, it's that we can unite even for something small and create a big impact on others.

Thank you to everyone for the amazing support!

LETTERS TO THE EDITORBrake for turtles, Canton resident implores

As May emerges, it is necessary to recognize the issue of protecting turtles traveling to and from nesting grounds.

Specifically, the Blanding's Turtle, which is listed as an endangered species in New York State.

Two major threats to Blanding's Turtle population are the destruction of wetlands for development and fatalities from vehicle strikes.

This species has a small number of isolated populations, one being in the St. Lawrence Valley.

They are typically found in shrubby wetlands.

Females are known to travel up to half a mile from where they hibernated to nesting grounds.

This often means crossing roads.

With a lifespan of 83 years and a breeding period of 18-20 years old female turtles are vital to the population's survival.

Even one fatality can have detrimental impacts on the species.

Reducing fatalities from vehicles is the responsibility of all residents. Slowing down while driving, especially when near possible wetland habitats, is one way to recognize turtles before a collision.

If you see a turtle and are in a safe area, you can stop to scoot it off the road.

Blanding's Turtles tend to be skittish and will likely move quickly out of the way if they sense a person's presence.

These turtles are best recognized by a bright, solid yellow chin and throat and measure 7-9 inches long.

It is necessary for all counties that contain Blanding's Turtle habitats to protect habitats and prevent fragmentation of hibernation and nesting grounds.

Additionally, they should provide signage to teach residents about turtle protection.

By simply slowing down and spreading awareness of Blanding's Turtle protection, it is possible to save the life of an animal that we are lucky to host in the North Country.

Real Property Department highlights role in SLC

April is National County Government Month, which is a time to recognize the vital role counties play in our everyday lives.

One of the 26 departments in St. Lawrence County Government is the Real Property Office. The Real Property Office is located at 48 Court St., Canton on the second floor of the County Courthouse.

As stated on our county webpage, our office educates, advises and assists county government, local governments, property owners and the public in general in the area of real property assessment administration.

The three primary functions of our office are to maintain records of property ownership, print assessment rolls and process all property tax bills. This office serves an important role in helping to fund local government since property tax bills and school tax bills raise much of the revenue needed to run local county, town, city, school and village governments.

Our office publishes updates and prints tax maps on an annual basis for all 32 towns and the City of Ogdensburg. Our department trains and assists local assessors in the annual preparation of municipal assessment rolls. Annual Board of Assessment Review Training is also provided by our office.

If you are building a home or otherwise need a 911 address, call one of our map techs and they can assign a number to your parcel.

If there is a correction of an error on a tax bill, those are also handled within our office in coordination with the assessor.

We provide guidance on property exemptions to property owners. Exemptions help reduce the overall tax burden on a parcel.

Property owners need to first apply with their town assessor for an exemption to qualify. Some exemptions can include the STAR Exemption, Senior, Veterans, Ag Land and Solar Exemptions along with many others.

The St. Lawrence County Website at <https://stlawco.gov/departments/realproperty> has many resources available such as monthly sales reports, assessment rolls, tax rolls, tax maps, exemption forms and information on county foreclosure annual auction information which takes place in September each year.

You can look up property information and print tax bills at our website by clicking on SDG – Image mate Online which allows you to look up parcels in St. Lawrence County.

Feel free to reach out to your local assessor on specific parcel data or exemption questions or give the Real Property Department a call at 315-379-2272.

Enough Already

If this was Fall, I'd be excited,
Now that it's Spring, I'm not delighted.

We've had feet of this pretty

And now that it's Spring we've had enough.

I can even handle April showers
As long as they lead to pretty Spring flowers.

If you like me were praying for

It's time to relax and let that of Signal chat leak

Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth, National Security Adviser Michael Waltz, Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard, and CIA Director John Ratcliffe need to resign or be fired by President Trump immediately!

Their sharing of specific types of military aircraft/drones and timing of airstrikes and participation in communication of at least highly sensitive, if not classified information, on the commercial app Signal, prior to the actual air-strike, put our military at risk.

It undermined military rules and standards and communicates to our allies how untrustworthy of classified information our national security/intelligence leaders are.

It is also a risk to our foreign intelligence service as well as national security.

This does not make America great again!

David was a motorcyclist and an aviation and skydiving enthusiast, with many hours and jumps in his log books.

He enjoyed learning about military history and was proud of his

Mock DWI crash to be held at Canton Central

CANTON — A simulated car crash will be staged April 30 to remind students at Hugh C. Williams Senior High School about the dangers of drunk driving.

The program is being organized in cooperation with the Canton Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Canton Police Department, and the St. Lawrence County STOP-DWI Program, and will take place Wednesday, April 30 at 12:30 p.m. in the school's side parking lot. The rain date for the event is May 1.

A press release from Canton Central Schools states that the highly realistic simulation brings to life the serious consequences of impaired and distracted driving, and aims to deliver a strong "safe and sober" message to students.

The event is staged during prom and graduation season, when the risk of alcohol-related incidents among teens rises.

The event is intended to raise awareness and encourage thoughtful decision-making by illustrating how quickly lives can be changed by one poor choice.

The demonstration will include live action from fire and rescue teams, emergency medical personnel, and law enforcement officers performing field sobriety tests and arrest procedures.

Art in the Quad will return to SUNY Potsdam's LoKo Arts Festival, with numerous free activities planned in the Academic Quad on Saturday, May 3, from noon to 3 p.m.

Arts for All Ages: LoKo Arts Festival returns to SUNY Potsdam

SUNY Potsdam welcomes community to festival April 30 to May 4

POTSDAM — SUNY Potsdam is thrilled to bring together campus and community with its annual celebration of creativity -- the LoKo Arts Festival.

The 2025 LoKo Arts Festival will feature a range of free events highlighting the beauty and complexity of the visual, language and performing arts. The festival will run from Wednesday, April 30 to Sunday, May 4.

As always, the talent and creativity of SUNY Potsdam students will be on full display throughout the LoKo Festival -- from choreography to poetry to artwork. All are welcome to enjoy the arts, and experience the joy and creativity of the SUNY Potsdam campus at the height of the spring semester.

To check out all the events and the downloadable schedule, visit www.potsdam.edu/loko.

The festival kicks off on Wednesday, April 30, at 3:30 p.m., with a talk by guest author and illustrator Jason Chin, held in the Rebecca V. Sheard Literacy Center. Chin is the author and illustrator of many acclaimed books, including "Grand Canyon," "Redwoods" and "Your Place in the Universe." He received the 2022 Caldecott Medal for "Watercress" by Andrea Wang, and a Caldecott Honor, Sibert Honor and the NCTE Orbis Pictus Award for "Grand Canyon."

Dr. Page Quinton will open a new exhibition, "Rocks Revealed: Nature's Hidden Beauty," from 5 to 6 p.m., in the Timerman Hall Commons. This exhibition is a fusion of art and science, featuring 7-foot-tall towering illuminated displays that showcase the hidden beauty of rocks and the stories they tell. These glowing panels reveal the intricate details of minerals, textures and fossils that geologists use to decode the environments of the past. "Rocks Revealed" will open throughout the festival in Timerman Hall for all to see.

That evening, The Crane School of Music will host the traveling trio Verismo, as they present an interactive free improvisation workshop, titled "Construction and Creation." The workshop will be offered at 7:30 p.m. in Crane Rehearsal Room C119, located in Bishop Hall. The session will begin with building simple instruments using everyday objects, and discovering the relationship between sound and movement by improvising to a silent film.

The traveling educational and creative program BIG INK will return to campus to bring people together to collaborate on creating original prints using large-scale woodblock printmaking techniques. BIG INK will set up shop in the Performing Arts Center lobby from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Thursday, May 1 and Friday, May 2. The group will work with guest artists, students and faculty to turn the lobby into a print shop, featuring "The Big Tuna," a custom-designed giant mobile press. Large-scale woodblock prints will be pulled on the press both days, and kids can watch and try their hand on "The Anchovy," a miniature press, as well.

The LoKo Festival will welcome the writer, poet and academic researcher Matthew Carey Salyer, to lead a reading from his most recent collection of poetry, titled "Probation," on Thursday, May 1 at 4 p.m., in the Fireside Lounge, located in the Barrington Student Union.

The Spring Dance Concert will debut the same evening, at 7:30 p.m. in the Proscenium Theater in the Performing Arts Center. Evening performances will be offered at 7:30 p.m. from Thursday, May 1, to Saturday, May 3, ending the run with a matinee at 2 p.m. on Sunday, May 4.

The traditional Spring Festival Concert at SUNY Potsdam's Crane School of Music will be presented on Friday, May 2 at 7:30 p.m., in the Helen M. Hosmer Concert Hall. The Crane Chorus and Crane Symphony Orchestra will perform "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," a cantata by Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, with guest artist and Crane alumnus Noah Unser '24, tenor soloist. The free concert will also stream live on YouTube at the concert time. For a livestream link, visit www.potsdam.edu/cranelive.

Art in the Quad will return to the Academic Quad on Saturday, May 3, from noon to 3 p.m.

Madstop Records will host Madfest, the annual music festival celebrating the talent of student musicians and artists from across New York State, on Saturday, May 3 from 4 to 10 p.m., in the Marshall Park Bandshell. Madfest will feature high-energy performances, and live music.

Throughout the festival, all are welcome to contribute to a Community Coloring Book project in the Maxcy Hall Athletic Complex. The college and local community will create a paint-by-number style mural alongside professional artist Liza LaBarge '12. The mural's design was inspired by the history of the mascot Max C. Bear.

D. Filing a Public Health Nuisance Complaint

1. The St. Lawrence County Public Health Department will make every effort to resolve public health complaints and Public Health Nuisances that fall within its authority. The Board of Health needs citizen participation to assist in the prevention and elimination of hazards to the public health. Both St. Lawrence County Board of Health and citizens have a responsibility in this effort to maintain a healthy environment. The Public Health Nuisance complaint process can be a vital part of this effort when it is used appropriately.

2. A concerned citizen should take the following two steps prior to filing a formal complaint with the Public Health Department:

i. Ask if the complaint condition is health related. The enforcement ability of Public Health is limited to conditions which threaten the public health. A condition may certainly be a nuisance to you, but it may not be a public health nuisance. See further articles to determine if the condition is covered under the county regulation.

ii. Address your concerns to the offending party, and try to work out a solution directly. If you attempt to resolve the problem this way, but are unsuccessful, then it may be appropriate to file a complaint using the appropriate complaint form.

3. A complaint must be submitted in writing in the manner and form as prescribed by the public health department, unless it is deemed appropriate by the Director of Public Health that a circumstance warrants accepting a submission other than in writing.

4. The complaint form, established and approved by the Public Health Director, should be filled out in full with directions to the property and the details of the complaint conditions. The complaint must be signed, and an address and daytime phone number provided. It is important that the inspecting sanitarian be able to contact the complainant if more information is needed. Signed complaints will be given priority. Anonymous complaints will be investigated when time is available. Please complete, sign, date and mail to the Public Health Department at the noted address.

5. If you have concerns about signing the form, or becoming identified by a public records request honorable by law, contact a trustee in your township to file the complaint. Options to investigate, legally enter property and fully resolve are severely limited by anonymous complaints. Contact information must be provided to actively investigate actionable complaints.

6. Complaints are generally investigated in the order in which they are received. Turnaround time is usually a week to ten days, but may be less, depending on the number of complaints received.

7. Once a Public Health Nuisance complaint is filed with our office it becomes a public record. Anyone may obtain a copy of a complaint file upon request.

E. Inspections; General

1. During their regular business hours, the Director may inspect any premises, matter, or thing, subject to the provisions of this Sanitary Code and the State Sanitary Code.
2. The authorized representatives of the Department may, during their business hours, inspect any record required to be kept pursuant to the Public Health Law, State Sanitary Code, or the Sanitary Code.

F. Inspections; Interference

1. No person shall interfere with, obstruct or refuse to allow an employee or authorized representative of the Department to enter upon and inspect any premises, place or thing within the jurisdiction of the Department, in the discharge of his/her official duties or Department business.
2. No person shall interfere with, obstruct, harass, molest, resist, or refuse to cooperate with any representative of the Department in the discharge of his/her official duties.

G. Inspection; Taking Samples

1. The Director may take and remove any substance or thing or any necessary part or portion thereof from any premise or place as a sample for investigation or evidence when in the opinion of such representative such substance or thing may be dangerous or detrimental to public health.

H. Notices; Postings

1. Notices shall be in the English Language, provided, however, if the Department is of the opinion that the person or persons to whom a required warning, notice or instructional sign is addressed may not understand the English Language, the Department may require that such warning, notice or sign shall appear legibly both in English and other designated languages.
2. No person shall remove, mutilate, conceal, obstruct or tear down any notice or placard of the Department posted in or on any premises or public place without written permission of the Director or his/her designee.

I. Service of Notice

1. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Public Health Law, by any other provision of this Sanitary Code, or by the State Sanitary Code, service of Notice of Hearings shall be made in the manner prescribed for personal service of a summons as set forth in the New York State Civil Practice Law and Rules or by registered or certified mail. If service is to be made upon an infant, incompetent, partnership, corporation, governmental subdivision, board or commission, it shall be made upon the person or persons designated to receive personal service pursuant to Article Three of the New York State Civil Practice Law and Rules.

J. Enforcement Office Conferences

1. The Director or his/her designee may conduct an office conference to address, rectify, and/or correct any application, complaint, circumstance or alleged violation of this Sanitary Code or the State Sanitary Code.

Five Dots to perform benefit concert

CANTON — The popular Five Dots will perform a benefit concert to support people with autism and their families on May 3 at 7 p.m. at the Best Western University, 90 East Main St.

Five Dots have developed a strong following. Lead singer Hailey Hodge is a 2010 graduate of Canton High School and is also known by North Country audiences for her frequent performances in local musicals.

Greg Littell of Malone attended a recent performance of the Five Dots and said, "You enter expecting a good local concert; you leave wondering when this Canton-based band will be discovered nationally. They play everything from Duke Ellington to the Beatles and Amy Winehouse."

Susan Herman of Potsdam has also seen the group in concert.

"Hailey Hodge could be on a stage with Linda Ronstadt and Lady Gaga, yet she has her own distinctive vocal style," she observed.

Don Mesibov, Director of the Institute for Learning Centered Education Autism Initiative, is hoping for community support. "We are a nonprofit, all-volunteer organization," he said, and we do not charge for our services. We are dependent on fundraising events such as this to be able to continue our work."

Admission can be reserved by sending an email to institutelce@gmail.com or by giving your name to any member of the Five Dots and indicating the number of seats you want to reserve.

Anyone unable to attend, but wanting to contribute will find a donation page at www.learningcentered.org

"Donations from people unable to attend the concert will be used to provide free admission to people with autism and their families," Mesibov said.

In addition to Ms Hodge, band members include Ben Richey, James Galasinski, Tim Savage, and John Danis.

UU Canton hosts conference: 'Building Beloved Community Beyond the Binary'

CANTON — The Unitarian Universalist Church of Canton, 3½ E Main St., will host a full-day conference titled Building Beloved Community Beyond the Binary on Saturday, April 26.

Designed as a space for transgender and nonbinary individuals and their allies to gather, learn, and grow, the event will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The conference, which includes live-streamed sessions, networking opportunities, and community engagement, invites attendees to participate in a variety of workshops and discussions that explore gender diversity, allyship, and inclusive community-building. Whether attending for a single session or the entire day, participants are encouraged to stay for lunch and connect with others on-site or at a nearby eatery.

There will be a keynote address by Spencer Bergstedt, a nationally recognized consultant, public speaker, and educator specializing in LGBTQ inclusion in workplaces, healthcare, and education from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Childcare is available upon request.

For more information, email socialaction@uucanttonny.org.

Directions and additional details about the Unitarian Universalist Church of Canton can be found at www.uucanttonny.org or by contacting office@uucanttonny.org.

Over 150 volunteers help with Clean Up Day

POTSDAM — Over 150 volunteers raked leaves and sticks, picked up garbage and planted trees as part of the Potsdam Chamber of Commerce's Annual Clean-Up Day Saturday, April 12.

The many volunteers were a mix of individuals, families, organizations, and businesses, including the Rotary Club of Potsdam, Potsdam High School baseball team, four Clarkson athletic teams, and a Potsdam sorority. Among the businesses that participated were LaBella Associates and Casella Waste Systems.

"We are incredibly thankful to be part of a community that works together to ensure our public spaces look their best for both our residents and those who visit, shop, and dine here. Your collective efforts truly make a difference," said Melanie Flack, Potsdam Chamber of Commerce Director.

Community Band looking for new members

POTSDAM — The Potsdam Community Band is inviting local musicians to get involved in the long-running musical ensemble as band leaders prepare for the upcoming summer PCB session.

Since the summer of 2010, PCB has delighted audiences with outdoor concert performances in July at Ives Park during the Potsdam Summer Festival and in Madrid during the Madrid Dam Concert Series. The band wrapped up its winter session on January 19 with a concert at the Crane School of Music's Hosmer Hall. In the 25 years since its founding (following a two-decade hiatus), the band has performed over 380 works in 38 concerts.

Anyone who is able to play a standard wind or percussion instrument and can read music at a high school level or above is welcome to join PCB. There is no audition, although school-aged musicians are required to obtain a recommendation from their school band director.

The summer 2025 session of the Potsdam Community Band begins on May 12, with additional rehearsals scheduled for May 19, June 2, 9, 23, and 30, and July 2 and 7. Rehearsals begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Crane School of Music. Concerts are slated for Wednesday, July 9 in Madrid and Friday, July 11 in Potsdam under the baton of music director Theresa Witmer.

PROTESTS...

"Democracy not Monarchy," Protect Democracy, "America Rejects Kings and Dictators," "Hands off our Constitution," "No ICE Gestapo," and "250 Years No Kings."

In Massena, more than 100 protesters lined Main Street at the intersection of NYS Hwy. 37 and Main St., in front of Kinney Drugs and Walgreens between 5 and 7 p.m.

Signs held by the Massena protesters included "Democracy not Autocracy," "No Kings in America," "Protect the Constitution," "Stop Trump" and "Stop the Foolish Tariff, Canada is Our Ally, Not Russia."

Cars honked frequently as they passed by.

The events were among many anti-Trump rallies held throughout the U.S. on Saturday. The rallies are part of the growing 50501 movement: 50 states 50 protests 1 country.

In Potsdam, many passing drivers also honked as they drove by along Main Street from the Clarkson Inn to North Country Savings Bank.

"As Americans, we need to speak up for democracy and call out the move toward autocracy," Ginger Storey-Welch told the crowd as the rally began. She helped organize the rally held April 19 near Ives Park.

Storey-Welch called attention to several people she said "have been harmed by this administration using the playbook of dictators and authoritarian governments," including Kilmar Abrego Garcia, Mahmoud Khalil, Rumeysa Ozturk, Merrill Gutierrez, Becky Burke, and Jasmine Mooney.

Kilmar Abrego Garcia who as a teen left El Salvador to flee a gang threatening him because he would not join. El Salvador was the one place a judge ruled in 2019 he could not be deported to and where ICE deported him anyway without due process the Constitution guarantees all persons, not just citizens," she said.

Graduate students Mahmoud Khalil and Rumeysa Ozturk were abducted by ICE for "exercising the constitutionally guaranteed right to free speech," she said.

Mooney, a Canadian businesswoman working in the US, was abducted when she went to reapply for a visa, said Storey-Welch. "She was detained in a cold cell with only a mat and aluminum foil for bedding. At times she was in chains," she said.

"These are stories that would have seemed unimaginable for Americans ten years ago. We are realizing that democracy is much more fragile than we ever previously understood. We are relearning and newly appreciating our U.S. Constitution that we have taken somewhat for granted in the past. Things like 'due process' and 'balance of power' and 'freedom of speech' are hanging in the balance, they hang by a thread, and it is our hands that are going to catch them.

"It is our voices together that are going to speak out and say no to autocracy, no to dictatorship, no to billionaires running our nation," she said.

Storey-Welch also read a statement from Ethan Flamand, a Clarkson student organizer who was unable to attend.

"My friends - those of you who call yourselves an American before you call yourself a Republican, a Democrat, black or white, man or woman - join me in spreading this message. Times like this - when the very fabric of democracy is hung in the balance - must unite us across party lines. Times like this must instill in us the courage to abandon our old labels, if but for a few elections, and to become, for the most important moment in history, solely and completely American," said Flamand.

Flamand noted the American Revolution began exactly 250 years ago, declaring independence from the tyrannical rule of the British Crown.

"As Ethan Flamand urged us, let's lay down our tribal labels and as Americans, let's go out there and show our signs for all to see. Let's show them that George Washington had it right when he said no to being king. But even more importantly, let us show them America and democracy and the Constitution are worth standing up for," said Storey-Welch.

granted before the assessment roll is approved. "We want to create an element of transparency. I think one thing we try to stress is 'Don't panic.' You have opportunities. It's not the final say."

After the new valuations were sent to property owners at the beginning of March, those contesting the amounts were initially directed to contact GAR and fill out a form asking for a review and possible adjustment. While that time window for the initial review is now closed there are still several steps property owners can go through to seek reductions.

Barnett said this revaluation followed an expected change to the tax valuations of one third of the assessments increasing, one third decreasing and about a third staying the same.

However, he did say everyone's valuation will be going up because the new revaluations are done at 100 percent of market value not at the previous equalization rate of .69.

Equalization rates are based on a sampling of properties in a jurisdiction and are the "ratio of the municipality's total assessed value to the municipality's total market value. The municipality determines the assessed value and the market value is determined by the state. The formula is Total Assessed Value divided by Total Market Value equals Equalization Rate."

"There is nothing mandating jurisdictions to carry their assessment at 100 percent," Barnett said. "But the problem with EQ rates is not every property appreciates or depreciates at the same level."

Barnett said the new assessment roll will be reviewed and reductions applied where approved and he also wanted to remind property owners that the town board will be setting the budget, tax rate and tax levy. The assessments done by GAR, like those done by the town assessor normally, are just the value of the property; the tax collected will be determined by the town budget.

He said a recent town meeting which saw several town property owners speak to protest the new amounts, saw one speaker mistakenly quote a tax law which indicates that increases in valuations should be set at 6 percent annually. Barnett said that law only applies to New York City, not the state as a whole. "That's caused some confusion among property owners," Barnett said.

He also said that representatives from GAR have spoken to many of the property owners who are protesting the amounts.

"We've talked to them at length, probably more than any other property owners, that's the truth," Barnett said. "We had a toll free number that was certainly utilized."

The company has done 815 informal reviews of assessments thus far, about 14 percent of the total parcels in the town, Barnett said. "That's typical for us," he said.

Barnett said GAR works to provide a transparent service to municipalities and tax payers.

"That's something we take great pride in. It's sort of a calling card. This is something we are certainly prepared for," he said.

He said the company wants to help guide property owners through the process if they are seeking changes to the revaluations.

"I recognize there is a sticker shock," he said. "Is your value equitable to the market? If not, you can challenge it."

Barnett said the role of GAR and the role of the assessor is "to establish a fair and equitable value."

He said one of the inherent benefits to doing a reassessment town wide is that some property owners will not be carrying another property owner's tax burden unfairly."

Barnett said that ultimately a revaluation is revenue neutral for the town, and that its the levy amount set on the valuations that will dictate what the taxes are.

"It is a courageous decision by the board to undertake a project like this but it is the right thing to do," Barnett said.

He said once the new assessment roll is finalized in July, it will be up to the town to maintain it annually.

"I think we've maintained and ensured a transparent process. We have been readily available through a bunch of different avenues," Barnett said.

Town Supervisor Marty Miller told North Country This Week in a separate interview that he supported the revaluation because it had been so many years since the town conducted a town-wide reassessment. He said he supported contracting with GAR because having an outside firm conduct the reassessment, with no familial ties or other contacts to the area, would be theoretically more fair and objective.

"Unfortunately, obviously, there's been a lot of unhappy property owners," Miller said, but he said there were previously property owners who were over assessed and carrying more tax liability than they should have as well.

"You know, at the end of the day there's no winners here. We are trying to make it equal so everybody is paying their fair share," he said. "It's been awhile since this has been tackled."

Miller agreed that at the end of the day the burden of setting the tax amounts and collection falls to the taxing jurisdictions — town, school, county and village.

"And everything is going to be looked at very, very carefully this budget season," Miller said, speaking for the town. The supervisor said he wants to start crafting the town budget two months earlier this year to be more diligent in how they set the tax levy.

"I feel like crap about it," Miller said, speaking about those property owners with higher assessments (in some cases 50 percent or more over last year). "You think I feel good about that. I've had hundreds and hundreds of calls."

"But I think we've been transparent. There's only so much you can do until people get the actual number," the supervisor said.

Miller said the state office of taxation's analysis of the GAR revaluation follows the expectations that one third of the valuations stay neutral, one third go up and one third go down.

He urged town property owners who want to contest the amounts to continue to follow the process and take advantage of the opportunities to seek changes where appropriate. He also encouraged property owners to share information they have about their property that might differ from what is on the assessment that could change things.

"I don't want to see people get out of their home and not be able to afford it," Miller said.

The tentative tax roll will be filed on May 1.

The final assessment roll is available for viewing on the town website at <https://tinyurl.com/3w894px9>.

The town's board of assessment review will meet on or around May 27 to hear any grievances from property owners who could not previously resolve their assessment disputes through stipulations with the assessor's office. On July 21 the town's final assessment roll is to be submitted.

Potsdam town assessor Danielle Mitchell's office hours at 18 Elm St. are 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday. The number for the town assessor is 315-265-2810.

North Star Health Alliance (NSHA) -- a health system that includes Carthage Area Hospital, Claxton-Hepburn Medical Center, Claxton-Hepburn Medical Campus, North Country Orthopaedic Group, and Meadowbrook Terrace -- is spearheading innovation in rural healthcare with its groundbreaking Operations Center.

As the region's first facility of its kind, the center -- launched in April 2024 -- redefines patient care through the integration of advanced technology and data-driven decision-making.

The Heart of the Ops Center

At its core, the Operations Center (Ops Center) is an informational hub that collects, processes, and analyzes real-time data.

This innovative approach means that NSHA's healthcare teams can quickly assess patient needs, manage hospital resources efficiently, and streamline operations across multiple campuses.

Using advanced bed management systems and predictive analytics, the center works to reduce emergency department wait times and patient boarding, ensuring every patient receives the right care at the right time.

Unique Regional Role and Connectivity

What sets the NSHA Operations Center apart is its unique role in the region.

healthcare.

With hubs located at both Carthage Area Hospital in Carthage and Claxton-Hepburn Medical Campus in Ogdensburg, the Ops Center combines data dashboards, sophisticated communications systems, and emergency response tools to keep staff connected and informed—even in crisis situations.

It also enables real-time communication with other hospitals, the Department of Health, emergency response teams, and more, ensuring the swift sharing of critical information and coordinated resource management during emergencies.

A Real-Time Test of Preparedness

A recent example of the Ops Center's capabilities was demonstrated during an early-morning incident at a nearby correctional facility.

When reports of unrest and potential injuries surfaced, NSHA quickly activated its Hospital Incident Command System (HICS).

Within minutes, leadership from across NSHA -- including medical directors, nursing staff, and emergency response teams -- mobilized to ensure that every possible measure was in place.

This rapid, coordinated response not only underscored the center's operational readiness but also highlighted its critical role in managing public health emergencies.

"Our Operations Center is a game-changer for rural healthcare," said Robert R. DeBlois, Operations Manager at NSHA.

"It represents our unwavering commitment to innovation and patient care, ensuring that even in the most challenging situations, every patient receives the highest quality of care."

Enhancing Everyday Care and Future Innovations

In addition to its emergency response functions, the Ops Center supports ongoing improvements in everyday patient care.

Through continuous monitoring and collaborative problem-solving, NSHA is setting new standards for efficiency and effectiveness across its medical campuses and rural clinics.

The center also recently received a federal grant of $727,658 to further boost its technological upgrades, training, and staffing efforts, cementing its role as a leader in healthcare innovation.

For the residents of the North Country and the broader New York region, the NSHA Ops Center offers more than just cutting-edge technology -- it represents a commitment to community well-being.

By integrating advanced data analytics with proactive, coordinated care, NSHA is ensuring that every patient benefits from faster treatments, better resource management, and an overall enhanced healthcare experience.

The Operations Center is a testament to NSHA's unwavering commitment to raising the standard of rural healthcare—a dedication that distinguishes us as we continue to enhance patient-centered care and support the well-being of our communities throughout the region.
