COMMUNITY

New Susan Rice community award announced

SPECIAL TO THE FORUM

special committee in the West End has formed and established a new award.

"In celebration of her years of service at the Naturita Community Library, it is my great honor to announce the founding of the Susan Rice Community Compassion Award," said Brock Benson in a news release over the weekend.

The award seeks to "acknowledge and appreciate members of West End communities who exhibit an extraordinary amount of compassion toward their community through service, sacrifice and good will toward those who would benefit greatly from kindness and empathy," Benson added.

He said the new honor seeks to uplift an "often overlooked person" in the community, one who dedicates much of their time and energy for the betterment of local society.

Now, a board comprised of Benson, Jack Lee, Bryan Keeton, Allie Sutherland and new library director Leslie Ament will oversee the nominations and decision-making process for the first recipient.

"If there is someone in our community whom you think fits the purpose of our mission, and you want them to be recognized for their compassion, please feel free to pick up a nomination form," Benson said.

Applications are available at the Naturita Community Library, as well as other places, including both the Nucla and Naturita town halls, the WEEDC space at the Collective Mine, Nucla Public Library, the community center in Paradox and Paradox Cycle in Naturita, as well as online via Facebook.

The recipient of the first-ever Susan Rice Community Compassion Award will receive $500 to disperse to a local nonprofit of their choice, as well as a plaque that commemorates their service to the West End community. Updates and details will be shared via Facebook on the Susan Rice Community Compassion Award page. Nominations will be open until 4 p.m on Dec. 31. The board will review applications and make its decision by the end of January.

Benson said the award honors others, as well as Rice.

"For those unaware, Susan Rice recently retired from a long and successful career as the library manager in Naturita, where she used her position to care for and lift up so many members of our community with her deeply rooted sense of kindness and empathy Cont. on Pg. 2

Gravel Rush bike race is Sept. 16 starting in Nucla

By REGAN TUTTLE, Editor

he second-annual West End Gravel Rush bicycle race happens this weekend, Sept. 16, and starts in Nucla Town Park. An off-road bicycling event, it utilizes a network of dirt roads in western Montrose County.

The Gravel Rush has two course options available for riders, a 50-mile ride and also a 73-mile ride. Participants will leave Nucla Town Park at 9 a.m. and ride through Second and then Third Park, heading into Uravan. The event finishes back in Nucla Town Park.

"We do basically all of Long Park to Coke Ovens and a short stint of Naturita," said organizer Tim Tait.

There are 160 riders this year, up 60 percent from last year. Eight individuals from the West End are participating. Many locals are also volunteering for the event, manning different stations and intersections.

Tait said locally there seems to be more interest in bicycling, and there are more resources, too, with the establishment of Paradox Cycle and also the new Naturita Bicycle Company. He added not everyone seems to be mountain biking. Some people are enjoying bikes for commuting or just running errands.

With the work Brock Benson is doing with apprenticeships and supporting local youth through bike programming, Tait said young people are bound to take interest. He said a young person who went through a youth bicycle development program in Durango, Sepp Kuss, is leading prestigious bicycling events globally. He won't be surprised if West End kids go on to do big things too, considering the resources available.

For Saturday's event, Walk-In Coffee will be serving complimentary coffee to anyone - not just event participants — that morning. Tait said he's grateful for owner Laura Sherman's support, as well as other business owners, for the Gravel Rush. He wants to work with different businesses for the event, and there will be an economic benefit from riders who will end the day hungry, thirsty and needing a place to sleep.

The night before, on Sept. 15, there is a "block party" scheduled at Flying Bear Pizzeria (inside Naturita Bicycle Company). That celebration also includes Paradox

Commissioners dedicate property to West End Family Link

SPECIAL TO THE FORUM

→ he Montrose Board of County Commissioners voted to invest in the West End community, as the board donated a 0.427-acre lot and building to the West End Family Link Center at last week's regularly scheduled board meeting.

For years, Montrose County has leased the property and building, located at 853 Main Street in Nucla, to West End Family Link Center, a community-based nonprofit that provides low-to-no cost supportive services. These services include referrals, education towards self-management, evidence-based programs (parenting and nutrition classes) and emergency assistance services, such as heating assistance and food bank services.

"Five years ago, the West End Family Link board began a strategic plan with big goals — to purchase a van, create stability in staffing, and find a permanent home," said West End Family Link Board President Doris Van Ness. "Today, the final piece of the dream is a reality. We have a home for the West End Family Link. Thank you to the board and County Manager Jon Waschbusch for this idea and believing in our services and mission."

In the process of working on long-term capital plans, County Manager Jon Waschbusch put forth the idea to dedicate the property to the Family Link. The commissioners' unanimous support of the donation culminated in last week's vote. Commissioners expressed their support.

"This is about doing what is in the best interest of our community," said Commissioner Roger Rash. "Growing up in the West End, my family relied on these services, and I know how critical they can be for a family's well being and a community's success. West End Family Link is important to the West End

M₂D fundraiser happens on Sept. 23

By REGAN TUTTLE, Editor

t's that time of year again, and the Mountains to Desert Classic bike ride happens on Sept. 23, next weekend. A fundraiser for the Just for Kids (JFK) Foundation, representatives said the event helps support local youth in the region, and specifically in the west ends of both San Miguel and Montrose counties.

This marks the 20th anniversary of the bike ride tour, and organizers are hoping to raise $200,000 that will be funneled back into local communities. Anyone is welcome to make a donation, and those participating in the ride are also fundraising, with sponsors backing them on the tour.

The ride begins in Telluride, though some will start in Norwood. The route goes through Naturita and runs all the way to Gateway, where a dance party has been planned. At the finish line, Disco Fuego will perform, and food will be provided by La Cocina de Luz, of Telluride.

There are riders from the West End participating, and anyone under 21 years of age gets a 50 percent discount on their registration, even if they start the tour from Norwood. So far listed in the top fundraisers (as of press time) were Paul Koski, of Nucla, and also the Daranyi family, of Norwood.

Some in West End communities are also volunteering for the event. Various volunteer positions still exist, from bag organizing to running a station, and those types of duties can be claimed by visiting runsignup.com/Race/Volunteer/ CO/Telluride/m2dclassic.

Some organizations that are benefitted by the JFK Mountains to Desert Classic, specifically in the West End, are One to One Mentoring, Naturita Early Learning Center, Norwood Public School, Wright's Stuff Community Foundation, Bright Futures, Lone Cone Library, Montrose West Recreation, Juvenile Services, the Pinhead Institute, True North Youth Program and others.

A 501(c)(3) established in 1999 and based in Telluride, the Just For Kids Foundation serves the San Miguel Watershed region and "provides essential scholarships, operating grants, program support, capital and start-up funding, and equipment to deserving youth and youth organizations," the website says.

Mountains to Desert Classic bike ride is the foundation's only funding event, and, thanks to the donations and fundraising efforts

Bri Bonacquista's vegetable-beef soup

By KEIRAN BRAY

Bri Bonacquista's grandma used to make this on the ranch for her when she was a kid. She said her grandma never measured anything, so just add a dash or two of the seasonings.

Vegetable Beef Soup

Ingredients

Steak or hamburger, browned Beef bouillon Potatoes, chopped Any vegetables, like carrots, celery, onion 1 can tomatoes Thyme

Marajorm Salt and Pepper Celery seed

Directions

Mix all ingredients together. Add water if it's too thick. Heat until hot and bubbly. But, a must-have to go with the soup is baking powder biscuits.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Ingredients

2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
4 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
(Optional) (She never adds cream of tartar, and the biscuits turn out great.)
1/2 cup lard
2/3 cups milk

Directions

Mix dry ingredients together and cut in the lard. Add milk. Roll out about ½" thick and cut into biscuits. Melt butter on a cookie sheet and place biscuits in butter on the sheet. Cook at 425 for 15 minutes.

to those in need," he said. "Susan Rice is a pillar in our community who represents the true compassionate spirit of the pioneers who settled the West End, and serves as an inspiration to us all in living a life of purpose and service to our fellow man."

Rice worked 17 years in her role, helped facilitate the new library construction, was instrumental in the forming of youth programming and more. She served on the Just For Kids Foundation board of directors, and the West End Pay it Forward Trust's board, too. A recipient of the Telluride Foundation's Citizen of the Year Award in 2018, the foundation reported that she's often cared for the homeless and the hungry.

"It is our great pleasure to honor Susan in this way," Benson said, "and we hope you will join us in continuing the spirit of compassion and kindness that her life's purpose helped to cultivate. Please don't hesitate to take this opportunity to lift up that person in our community who deserves this thoughtful recognition."

History: Rimrocker Historical Society

A trip to Naturita

By JANE THOMPSON, Rimrocker Historical Society

This circa 1900 image shows the Rockwood Blake family outside their adobe house in Naturita, built in 1888. (Image courtesy of Rimrocker Historical Society)

his article from The Altrurian of May 1, 1896, tells of another group of folks thinking about joining up with the Colorado Cooperative Company and their trip to Naturita to check out the prospects. The Altrurian newspaper was the paper that the CC Company started in January of 1895 to get the word out around the country about this new cooperative, utopian community. The Altrurian was very successful, and this group of Kansas folks decided to run on over to Naturita and check out the "promised land." I always enjoy these stories about the trips that people made to our neck of the woods back in the "old days."

Remember, there was no town of Nucla yet. The company headquarters was still in Naturita, where they leased property from Rockwood Blake to feed and house the few families who had come to start this endeavor of building a ditch to bring water to what would later become Nucla. I love how it says the ladies chose to walk up the big hill, rather than ride in the wagon. We think Norwood Hill is bad now; I can't imagine taking a chance in a wagon going up that hill. I probably would have gotten out and walked too! I hope you enjoy this letter from Mr. Ruggles, of Kansas.

"My trip to Naturita

Editor Altrurian,

Thinking it might be of interest to the readers of the Altrurian, I will give a brief sketch of my trip.

We had the usual experience of travelers who take the D. & R. G. R. R.

winding our way over the mountains. The ever-varying scenery along that route makes one nearly break his neck looking up. Twenty-one hours after leaving Denver, we rolled into Placerville. The accommodations here are limited, and only the ladies in our company had beds. We men had to share the office floor with Jim "the pusher." Jim don't think much of "them Kansas fellows," they cannot do anything without his light and they want his place on the floor.

Next morning, we started for the "promised land." The teamsters are jovial fellows, but as they had lady passengers, we men walked, as we could see the scenery better; and I noticed that when they came to the big hill 1 and a half miles long that takes you on top of the mountains, the ladies walked also. We stopped for dinner at C. C. Conklins' ranch, a whole-souled old settler who made us welcome.

After gaining the mountain top, we strike a regular Kansas road, straight for several miles. Arrived in Norwood at early supper time and was made welcome by Mr. and Mrs. Davis at their hotel. We had struck a Christian land again, for they only charged us $1 a day. They are warm friends of the C. C. Co. The next day, the teamsters were a little more merciful and let us ride most of the way on the down-hill pull.

The next town of interest was Shenandoah, a new town building on a high plateau of land just being watered. We rolled into Naturita about 5 o'clock, some stopping at Mr. Bremmer's, some at Mrs. Blake's, and the rest at Mrs. Chatfield's. All were strangers here, but Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, whom I had met in Mexico, but it did not take us long to get acquainted as we were made welcome, and the next day as we were all anxious to see the park that is to be the future homes, we were asked by President Brown to accompany him on a tour of inspection, and were all pleased at the look of the park, and so reported on our return.

We were shown over the line of the little ditch built last summer to water the Blake ranch, then up the mountain and saw the Indian engraving on the big rock, and then went to Cottonwood to visit the big ditch line and camp. We found them nicely situated in the buildings of an old gold mining camp. About 20 hardworking young men were plowing, scraping, blasting rock and shoveling a ditch along the mountain side, and one would not want to advocate that it could not be built if he did not want to get their opinion of him. After two weeks of pleasant stay, we joined ourselves with them and returned home to assist them at their work and provide ourselves with a future home.

Geo. B. Ruggles — Osborn City, Kansas."

What a trip! Who knows if any of those Kansas folks ever came back to live in the "promised land," but they enjoyed their two-week vacation enough to sign on with the dream of utopia.

residents, and I am proud to be able to make this happen today."

Commissioner Keith Caddy agreed.

"I think this will give you the opportunity to take this to the next level. You guys do great work down there, and this is an essential community service," he said.

Last Friday, on Sept. 8, a small gathering took place at the site to honor the building's transition.

Now, the county is also completing design of a new facility for the Sheriff's Office in the West End, which will also include space for Health and Human Services staff. For more information on Montrose County, and to watch last week's meeting, the public is invited to visit montrosecounty.net.

According to its website, West End Family Link Center is a community-based nonprofit, founded in 1993, and one of the original family resource center members of the Family Resource Center Association. West End Family Link Center serves an area of 2,069 square miles, which includes the west ends of both Montrose and San Miguel counties. Both west ends are geographically and financially isolated from the eastern portion of both respective counties. From the Family Link office in Nucla, it's at least a 90-minute to two-hour drive one-way to hospitals, shopping centers, entertainment, other social services and more.

Cycle, located across the street.

The Gravel Rush is competitive to a degree — but not as serious as other bicycling events in the region. Tait said there will be a wide range of riders. Some will ride the course very hard; others will take more time and enjoy the day with friends.

Tait said he acknowledges the West End Sheriff's Posse and local EMS for playing a key support role the day of Gravel Rush, going "above and beyond" to help. In what can be challenging terrain, he said the event can't happen without them. Riders had the option to make donations to the sheriff's posse and EMS when they entered, and the event did raise $1,200 for those organizations.

He asks all in local communities to take care on Saturday as riders navigate roads. He said Gravel Rush participants will be focused on being safe and abiding by traffic laws, but he requests patience from motorists.

A single-day event, the Gravel Rush will be complete by evening. That's because the fastest riders will be finishing the 50-mile portion in about three hours. The 73-mile riders will be done in roughly 5 and one half hours. Tait expects people to begin rolling back into Nucla in the 2 to 4 p.m. timeframe.

At the finish line, Benson is set to play music in the town park, and everyone is welcome to come out and see the riders complete the Gravel Rush. Tait said all are invited, the event is not exclusive, and he did rent the park pavilion, too.

Terri Lamers NORWOOD

A decision based solely on reason

Dear Editor,

There is a new (2022) movie out called "Nuclear Now" that has just recently filtered down and caught the attention of Uranium producers, nuclear power advocates and the general public. Actually, it is a documentary that was directed and co-written by Hollywood icon Oliver Stone. He makes a couple good points in that nuclear energy does not deserve the demonization that it's been given, nor can renewable power technology of today generate enough future energy to sustain our current way of life. Mr. Stone hammers the point that there is going to be a reckoning if we continue following the energy path we are on.

However, and that is a big however, he advocates reviving the nuclear power industry at the expense of fossil fuels. He falls into the proverbial "Chicken Little" trap. If we continue to use coal, crude oil and natural gas, then the sky will fall and the Earth will be destroyed in the process. Horse feathers!

Come on, Oliver, we don't need Hollywood hysteria to determine our energy policies. All we need are the facts stated clearly and rationally, so we can make a decision based solely on reason and not hysteria.

It follows that a uranium fuel pellet, which weights 6 grams and when incorporated into a fuel rod in a nuclear power plant, can produce 5 megawatts of power. Converting grams into pounds, we can then compare different forms of energy.

One pound of uranium 235 can produce 377 megawatts of power.

That's energy equivalent of:

1 pound of U235 = 45 tons of coal.

1 pound of U235 = 223 barrels of crude oil.

1 pound of U235 = 1,286,324cubic feet of natural gas.

1 pound of U235 = 359commercial wind turbines.

1 pound of U235 = 1.6 square miles of solar panels.

When I was younger, when coal was king, the coal companies were catching a lot of flak for stripping mountain tops in Appalachia to get at the coal underneath. Knowing what I know now, I could give them some good advice. I would tell them to just cover the area with solar panels to make the mountain beautiful again. They could, therefore, silence all their critics, at least the highly educated ones that think only they know what is good for Mother Earth. Thus, the reformed critics would applaud. Not only that, the federal government would pay for the panels, and then, in turn, the coal companies could sell the power generated by the panels to the companies that manage the grid in that area. Win-win.

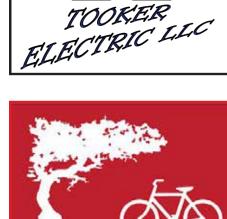

(The wind turbine data comes from the U.S. Department of Energy, and solar data comes from National Renewable Energy Laboratory. Both are best-case scenarios and are state-of-the-art technology. In real life, the number of wind turbines should probably be doubled, and the area of solar panels probably should probably be tripled.)

OBITUARIES

Kathleen Ann Weimer

Oct. 6, 1946 — Sept. 5, 2023

Kathleen Ann O'Neill Weimer, our sweet wife and mother, peacefully passed away at the age of 76 on Sept. 5 surrounded by her family after a valiant battle with cancer.

She was born on Oct. 6, 1946, in Provo, Utah, as the oldest child of her loving parents, Thomas Ivan O'Neill and Afton Shirlene Thompson. Kathy grew up in Orem, Utah, and graduated Orem High School, where she enjoyed all outdoor sports.

She met and married the love of her life, Zene J. Weimer, Aug. 19, 1967, in Orem, Utah. They lived in California while Zene was in the military until Sept. 30, 1969. While there, Kathy worked for Hughes Aircraft. They moved to Nucla after military life, where they raised three sons and built a wonderful life together.

Kathy's unconditional love for her children was surpassed only by her love for her grandchildren. There was nothing she enjoyed more than spending time with her family. Her home was open for her extended family to come and share treasured memories of ranch life. Kathy spent many happy hours around the table playing games with loved ones. Family baseball games, traveling to Ouray to swim, and picnics were always a must when family gathered. Kathy loved to snow and water ski, play softball, attend school events, work in her yard and enjoyed traveling and dancing. She was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, where she worked in the library for many years when her health allowed.

Kathy is survived by her husband, Zene; children, Ryan (Darcy) and Matthew (Catorina) of Nucla, and Aaron (Stacey), of Surprise, AZ. Grandchildren are Madalyn, Gabreal, Wyatt, Aiden and Kyndle. She also leaves her sister, Peggy (Ted) Lockhart, of St. George, UT, and many extended family members.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Thomas and Shirlene; grandson, Nathaniel Zene Weimer; and her brother, Kelly O'Neill.

Though she has passed, her warmth and love will remain. The happy memories we have of good times spent with her will live on. The funeral service will be held on Saturday, Sept. 16, at 11 a.m. at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter- Day Saints chapel, located at 31473 CO-141, Naturita, CO 81422.

Prior to the funeral service, there will be a viewing from 10 to 11 a.m. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Weimer scholarship fund at Berks County Community Foundation. Call 610-685-2223 for more information.

Sandra Marie Williams

Feb. 2, 1942 — Sept. 8, 2023

Lifetime resident of the Norwood area, Sandra Marie Williams, passed away on Friday, Sept. 8, at Hope West Ferris Hospice in Grand Junction, following an accident at their ranch on Coventry Hill. She and her husband Leonard "Willie" Williams had just celebrated their 63rd wedding anniver-

Sandy was a ranch wife and mom in the fullest sense of the word. She and Willie have developed a herd of crossbred beef cattle over the years, as well as raised four children who brought them much joy.

Sandy was born Feb. 2, 1942, in Telluride, Colorado. Her parents were Boyd and Bertha Oliver. A horse lover all her life, she was San Miguel Basin Rodeo Queen at age 15, and a competitive barrel racer. She was a graduate of Norwood High School, where she played flute in the band and was a majorette and a cheerleader. She married her high school sweetheart the following September.

She is survived by her husband, Leonard; her children, Keith (Sue), Allen "Doc" (Jackie) and Hank (Stephanie) Williams, all of Norwood, and Cindy (Jann) Gillen, of Farmington, New Mexico. Grandchildren are Ty (Jayde) Williams, Jeff (Julia) Williams, Harlie (Sterling) Zehnder and Jordan Williams — and Joseph, Jacob, Ali and Slade Gillen. Great-grandchildren are Lincoln and Kase Williams.

She is survived by siblings Judy Skalla (Dean), of Ridgway, and Bert Oliver, of Redvale.

Services will be held Saturday, Sept. 16, at 11 a.m. at the Norwood Christian Church with internment in the

Let's hear it for the girls!

The Mustangs were invited to face the Mavericks for the Norwood homecoming.

In a competitive set of matches, the teams had to play five games.

The girls kept tying it up.

The final score was 23-21 in Norwood's favo

 $\label{thm:continuous} \mbox{Volleyball mom Sara Bray said both teams played well.}$

While Bray cheered for the Mustangs, she said both teams should be proud.

Kyle Dinsmore, of Norwood, called it a "barn burner."
