Our youngest artists

Colorful, fanciful artwork by Storm Lake Early Elementary, Storm Lake Elementary and Storm Lake Middle School are on display at Witter Gallery. Instructors are Cindy Barahona Roth at the early elementary, Andrea Urban at the elementary and Rachael Sitzman at the middle school.

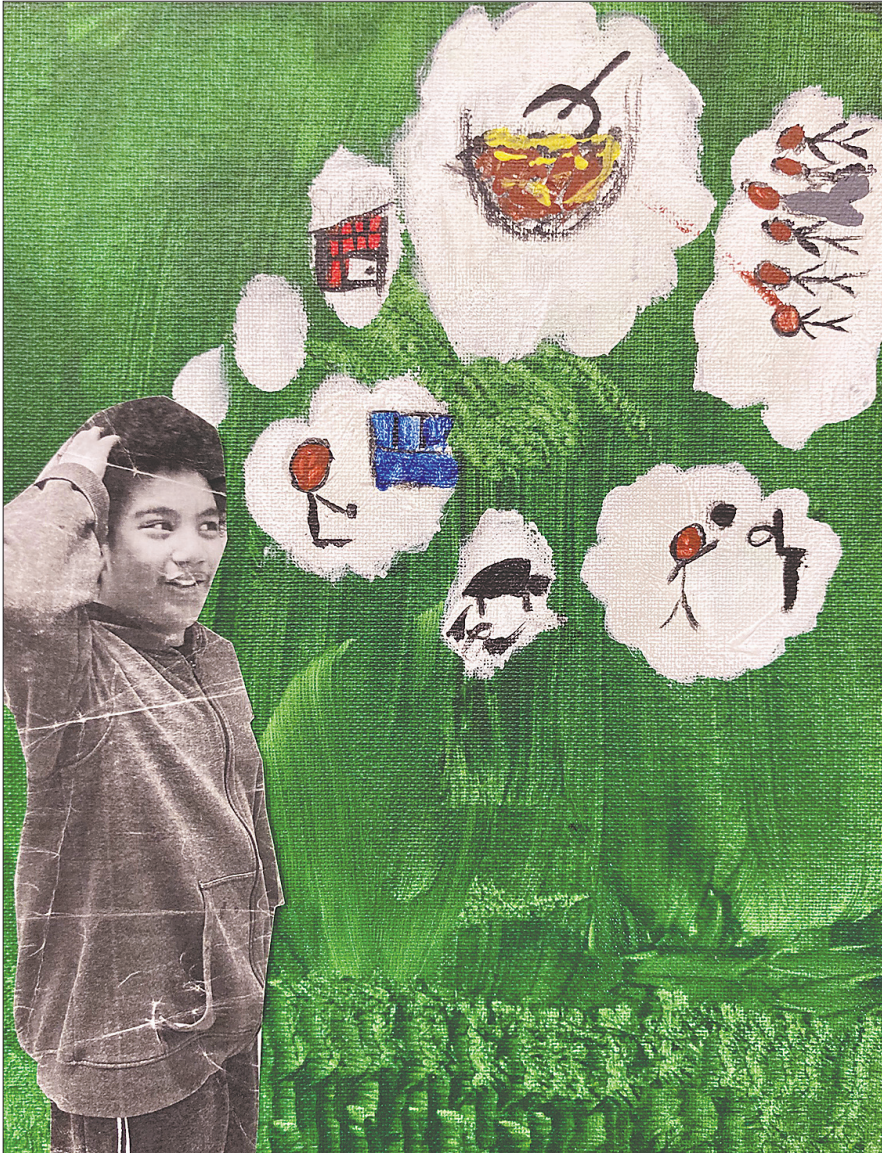

Elementary and early elementary artwork is displayed on panels and from the ceiling.

In this sixth-grade unit about symmetry was an exploration of mirrored symmetry. Students used paint blobs arranged however felt right to them, and then folded the paper. They used at least three different paint colors and arranged blobs one color at a time. When they were finished, they created a custom mat to showcase their work. Angel Garcia from Mrs. Miller's homeroom created this intriguing image.

Below: Seventh-grade students explored their interests with this acrylic painting project. After striking a "thinking pose" for the camera, they used basic collage techniques to combine their photo with a painting of the things they think about. The student whose artwork is pictured is Melfredson Herman from Mr. Wilson's homeroom.

Above left: This eighth-grade project is based on traditional Mexican folk art which originated in Mexico City in the 1930s. Artist Pedro Linares had fallen ill and was having fever dreams. In the dreams he saw creatures that had mixed forms, such as a donkey with butterfly wings. These creatures acted as a spirit guide for Linares and helped bring him back from his illness. When he awoke and was well he began creating alebrijes and sharing the idea of them with the public. Dante in the Disney movie Coco, becomes Miguel's alebrije. This project was created using foam core, plaster, and paint. Center piece by Dayna Morales Lopez from Mrs. Daniel-Voortmann's homeroom.

Alta-Aurelia High School presents 'Finding Corey Taylor'

Alta-Aurelia High School is proud to present their spring play, "Finding Corey Taylor" by Tracy Wells, presented by special arrangement with Stage Partners. Performances are March 14 and 15 at 7 p.m. and March 16 at 2 p.m. at the Roxy Theatre in Alta. Tickets are $5 each and are available at the door.

The show is led by Emma Wilkinson and Nia Hamilton sharing the role of Corey Taylor, and Jenna Galvin and Lainey Buckendahl sharing the role of Corey's best friend Reese. The cast also includes Kaylee Mattson, Caden Rydstrom, Shaela Graham, Delilah Boelter, Bryndalyn Brock, Meleigha Buckendahl, Jamie Buddenhagen, Naveyah Mason and Izaak Poller, who together bring 35 other characters to life on the Roxy stage.

Corey is lost. It's the day of her high school graduation and her unsigned yearbook confirms what she already suspects... no one knows who Corey Taylor is. And how can she blame them when Corey hardly knows herself? When her best friend, Reese, suggests a road trip across America to meet other people named Corey Taylor, Corey reluctantly agrees, and embarks on the trip of a lifetime, hoping that in finding other Corey Taylors, she'll also find herself. Each scene takes Corey to a new part of America, from a rustic home in Possum Trot, Ky., to backstage at a cabaret theater in New York City, to the home of a reclusive author in Lebanon, Kan., to a bohemian colony in Austin, Texas,

International Women's Day to be celebrated this Saturday

The public is invited to the third annual International Women's Day to be held March 8 from noon to around 4 p.m. in the Family Life Center at Storm Lake United Methodist Church.

Preceding the event are health information stations and prizes in the church basement.

Lead organizer Selynna Butler, who represents the local Micronesian community, said this year's event will include a program celebrating women, Pacific Islander Dancers and dancers and songs representing various cultures.

Butler adds that men are welcome. "International Women's Day is more than just a celebration," says Butler, "it's a reminder of the ongoing struggle for gender equality and the achievements of women worldwide. We will bring attention to issues facing women locally and globally, promote gender equality and celebrate the achievements and contributions of women in the community."

From last year's International Women's Days a traditional dance in grass skirts worn by Jenisa Helgenberger, Hernishda Victor, Tash Victor, Victoria Victor and Emily Pelep.

The hope is to empower women to pursue their goals and aspirations.
