Say 'I love you' with Valentine's Day gifts

Valentine's Day provides a beacon of light in the middle of winter. Each February, stores and homes are decked out in red and pink hearts, and florists wait in the wings to prepare sweet-smelling bouquets for the bevy of buyers eager to bring bountiful blooms into their living spaces.

Gift-giving is an integral component of Valentine's Day. That means the search may be on to find items that will give voice to feelings of love and affection in tangible ways. These gifts are perfect for anyone on your list.

Fragrance: Although purchasing fragrances can be tricky, if your special someone provides hints of a scent or brand they prefer, it can make buying perfume or cologne easier. However, there is also the option of going with trends. Market experts believe vanilla is set to be a stand-out aroma in 2024, and aromatherapy and feel-good fragrances are trending this year.

Cozy clothes: Snuggling together in front of the fire may be an appealing prospect for lovebirds. Cozy gifts can include matching loungewear or pajama sets, or ultra-soft sweatpants and hoodies for chasing away the chill.

Personalized prints: Companies offer custom song lyric posters or framed artwork so that a special song, whether it was heard during a first date or danced to during a couple's wedding, can be memorialized. Other personalized prints can include images of the sky on a key date to commemorate a special moment in time.

Jewelry offerings: Jewelry is a go-to Valentine's Day gift. Vogue says that there is a strong likelihood that boho jewelry trends are making a comeback this year. Pendants, beads and multi-strand necklaces are sure to be a must-have look.

Travel treats: Couples who love to travel can gift travel-related items to their special someone. A high-end brand of luggage, tickets to a cruise or another destination, or an excursion upgrade on a planned getaway may fit the bill.

Gourmet eats: Foodies often find enjoyment sampling the fare at top-notch restaurants. While Valentine's Day tends to be quite busy at most restaurants, a gift of a night out for dinner at another time may be the way to tug on the heartstrings while nurturing the palate.

Valentine's Day is here before people know it, so it is key to have gift ideas at the ready.

Questions to ask when vetting wedding vendors

The process of planning a wedding involves the coordination of many different components, including people. It can be stressful and it can be exciting. Chances are the couple-to-be will be handling conversations with vendors they may have never worked with before.

It may be tempting to simply sign on the dotted line when hiring wedding vendors and hope for the best. But the process can prove more fruitful when couples prepare for it by compiling a list of questions designed to ensure they know what they are getting before they enter into a contract.

Is the date available?

The most important question to ask is whether the vendor is available on the day you have chosen to get married. The house of worship or place where you will be exchanging vows should be set first, and then additional vendors can be interviewed to confirm their availability and the scope of their services.

How long have you been in business?

How long a company has been in business, and more importantly how much experience they have with weddings, can be a telling detail. Experience is not always indicative of ability, but vendors with long track records of success may prove easy to work with.

Are you insured?

Check if the vendor is insured. It can be a risky proposition to work with vendors who are not insured.

Will you be on site to oversee things?

From florists to private caterers to specialty performers, it is acceptable to ask vendors if they will be there the day of the wedding to manage things or if it will be a third party or another representative. Confirm all pertinent details, including who will be there on the day of the wedding, in advance.

What is your payment schedule and cancellation policy?

Understand how the vendor expects to be paid. Many businesses require a deposit up front to book the date. Some may want payment in full a week or so before the wedding day. Others may enable you to make monthly payments for a set period of time. Ask how the vendor handles cancellations, and whether any deposit or portion of the money already paid will be refunded.

When is the last possible date for making changes?

Know how long you have to make any changes to your plans, colors, music choices or other details.

Are there any additional fees?

It is important to determine if gratuity, travel, overtime charges, cleaning fees or any other charges are included in the contract or if it leaves room for additional expenses.

Is mine your only wedding that day? How do you handle conflicts?

Figure out if the vendor handles just one wedding per day or if they have staff to cover multiple weddings on a given date.

Do prices differ depending on time of day, month or year?

Certain dates are busier than others. Find out if the vendor charges a premium for holidays or particular times of the year.

Couples are urged to exercise due diligence and ensure contracts with vendors specify all details before signing on the dotted line.

Clever ways to invite people to be in your wedding party

Plenty of love and effort goes into coordinating a dream wedding. Although the happy couple garners most of the spotlight on such momentous occasions, they are not the only ones who will feature prominently in the wedding.

The wedding party is made up of bridesmaids, groomsmen, a ring bearer, a flower girl, ushers and other guests of honor, such as a couple's parents. The wedding resource The Knot reports that old school etiquette once indicated there should be one groomsman and one corresponding bridesmaid for every 50 guests, although four bridesmaids and four groomsmen tends to be the average nowadays.

Choosing who will be included in the wedding party requires forethought and should not be rushed. The rule of thumb is to ask roughly a year to eight months before the wedding so those asked have time to prepare. When that time comes, these fun ideas can help couples invite loved ones to be in the wedding party with style.

- Say it with a treat. Remember those heart-shaped candies that come out at Valentine's Day that are printed with various sentiments, like "Be mine"? Replicate the idea by giving prospective wedding party members cookies iced to look like tuxedos and bridesmaid gowns with a phrase like "Will you?"

- Give personalized drinkware. Whether it is wine glasses or flasks, have drinkware engraved with the names of who is being asked so that everyone can toast when they say yes. In the event that someone declines, that person will still have a thoughtful memento.

- Make custom scratch-off cards. This is one gamble that is likely to pay off when you present loved ones and friends with scratch-off tickets that reveal the question, "Will you be my bridesmaid/groomsman?"

- Put together swag bags. Take a page out of fashion shows or celebrity parties and package some luxury items into gift bags for those special people you want to stand by your side on your wedding day. High-end grooming products, jewelry, electronics accessories, and more can be great gifts for those who are likely to be in your wedding party.

- Gift robes or T-shirts: Plan ahead for staged and coordinated photos by purchasing matching robes or T-shirts for all the besties in the wedding party. Those who are up for having a good time will have no problem wearing the matching outfits when out for wedding-related events.

- Fill balloons with confetti and messages. Ask friends and loved ones to pop balloons to reveal your request that they be in the wedding party.

Engaged couples may have many close friends and loved ones they want to stand by their side during the wedding. There are plenty of fun ways to ask them to be part of the celebration.

Listing the most popular honeymoon destinations

Couples have different ideas regarding what makes a great honeymoon destination. Some couples may want to spend their trips with toes in the sand as they relax on a secluded beach, while others might want to traverse rapids in a tandem kayak. There are simply no rules when it comes to choosing a honeymoon destination other than picking a place each person will enjoy. With that in mind, couples looking for inspiration can consider the most popular honeymoon locales as determined by a recent survey from Expedia.com.

1. United Kingdom: This might come as a surprise, but the most common honeymoon destination in 2022 was actually multiple destinations across the United Kingdom. A multi-city train trip through various parts of England and Scotland was the most popular honeymoon trip.

2. Dubai, United Arab Emirates: Honeymooners looking for something upscale can consider Dubai, which combines sun and sand with unrivaled luxury.

3. Paris, France: Little needs to be said about this European city considered one of the most romantic locales in the world.

4. Florida: Pristine beaches, awe-inspiring sunsets and seemingly endless sun and warmth made Florida the fourth most popular honeymoon destination in 2022.

5. Los Angeles: Los Angeles truly has it all, with sun-soaked beaches, world-renowned restaurants and, of course, Hollywood.

6. Madrid to Seville, Spain: Couples who want to make multiple stops can consider this popular option, which takes visitors from Spain's capital and most populous city to one of its most historic and unique destinations.

7. Rome, Naples and Amalfi Coast, Italy: A tour of three of Italy's most wondrous locales needs no introduction, which is undoubtedly why these three places were a must-visit for many honeymooning couples in 2022.

8. St. Lucia: An idyllic island country in the eastern Caribbean, St. Lucia was recently named as one of the best places to visit in 2023 by Tripadvisor.

9. Iceland: Iceland has experienced a tourism boom in recent years as more and more people have discovered the unique beauty and extraordinary culture of this island nation in the North Atlantic.

Students of the MONTH

Callan Sims is a fifth grader at Wayne Elementary School. He is the son of Nate & Emily Sims and was nominated by Mrs. Oltjenbruns. Callan came into the library to check out a book while I was teaching kindergarten. He saw I didn't have any other adult help, and many kindergartners needed one-on-one support with a new computer activity. Callan volunteered to stay and help, and after getting permission from his classroom teacher, he returned to the library and helped for the rest of their class.

Ellise Niemann is a seventh grader at Allen Consolidated Schools. She is the daughter of Matt & Laura Niemann and was nominated by Amber Horton & Callie Anderson. Ellise is always participating & asking how she can help out. She is known for helping clean up/make copies/update boards, etc. Ellise also uses her time wisely to complete all of her classwork. Ellise is involved in cross country, FFA, track, band, 4H and confirmation.

Landyn Colfack is a ninth grader at Winside Public Schools. Landyn is such a kind and caring kid. This week when it was icy he made it a point to wait for and ask one of our other kid's moms if they needed help on the ice. Even when he was slipping himself, he thought of her. He was nominated by the Winside staff. Landyn is the son of Brandon Colfack and Kristin Barg.

Kali Janke is a second grader at Winside Public School. She is the daughter of Michael and Cammy Janke and nominated by the staff at Winside. Kali is a respectful and responsible student. She shows kindness to her peers and has a good attitude about her schoolwork.

Ava Christiansen is an eighth grader at LLC Middle School. She is the daughter of Aaron & Katie Christiansen and was nominated by Jennifer Van Meter. Ava is an exemplary 8th grader! She is respectful, kind, responsible and always willing to help someone who needs a hand. She works hard in the classroom and in sports. Ava is a joy to have as a leader at middle school!

Belva Gubbels is a first grader at St. Mary's Catholic School. She is a hard working student. She loves to volunteer to help anyone.

Christian Staples is a ninth grader at LCC High School. He is the son of Michael and Debra Staples and was nominated by Mrs. Diane Hanel. Christian has great character! He is always willing to help others and shows kindness and respect in and out of the classroom. He is willing to try new things, share his ideas and listen to others. Christian is the first to say "hello!" and is welcoming to all. What a great role model for us all!

We are never prepared for the loss of a loved one. During this difficult time, our family has felt an outpouring of caring, sympathy and comfort. We wish to thank all our family and friends for their cards, calls, visits, memorials, flowers, food and especially their prayers at the time of the death of Arvilla "Babs" Middleton, our mother, grandmother and great grandmother. Special thanks to Pastor Bartlett and Scott Hasemann of Hasemann Funeral Home for their words of comfort and being so flexible with the weather delays. Also, thank you to Vel's Bakery and Catering for providing and serving the lunch. We are blessed to be part of such a great community.
 God's blessings to all of you!

WEST POINT LIVESTOCK AUCTION
 "Eastern Nebraska's newest and most modern Livestock Market"
Thursday, February 1 - Weekly/Special All Class Feeders
Market Report: January 25, 2024:
 Had some good sets of fats in town for our Thursday January 25th auction, gathering good activity, sending those top fats out at 180.00. We followed with a good run of weigh cows and bulls, also finding a market that was fully steady to higher in certain areas. We finished the afternoon with a short run of feeders and some awful good sets of bred heifers and cows. If you want to move any stock, please give us a call and we would be more than happy to stop out and visit with you about our upcoming specials. Watch our website www.westpointlivestock.com for all our auctions and listings.
